Toronto, March 14.—The Provincial Health Department was to-day notified of a case of smallpox in South Marysburgh, Prince Edward County. The local authorities have taken all precaution to deal with the case.

DEATH OCCURRED IN TORONTO

Demise of Katherine Strickland of Lakefield on March 12th.

The death occurred in Toronto on Sunday, March 12th, of Katharine Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. J. P. Strickland, of Lakefield.

The deceased was 35 years of age, and had been in poor health for some time previous to her demise. Her mother, who was a Miss Sherwood, predeceased her by about two years. Two sisters of the deceased survive her, Mrs. Peck, of Vancouver, and one sister at home; and three brothers, Walter, Toronto; D'Eyncourt in Eastern Ontario, and Alexander, formerly of Peterborough, but now resident in Fernie, B.C.

The funeral took place at Lakefield on Tuesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence.

MR. R. GLIDDON THE NEW LEADER

Will Have Charge of George St. Choir

Last night the Trustee Board of George Street Church met to appoint a choir leader and Mr. R. Gliddon, Director of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, was chosen for that position from a number of applicants.

Mr. Gliddon will take charge of the choir on April 1st, and Mr. Milner, the present organist, will be retained in that position.

Mr. Gliddon's work with the choir at St. John's has been most satisfactory and the Board considered that he was fully competent to take charge of the George Street choir.

MANY PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH

New York Five Story Tenement House Destroyed.

Fire Was Attended with Great Loss of Life—Many Fatally Injured.

Special to the Examiner.

New York, March 14. — At least a score of people were burned to death, several were so badly burned that they may die, and forty others received slight hurts in a fire which destroyed a five story tenement house in Allen street early to-day. Thrilling rescues and daring leaps for life marked the fire. Scores were carried from the burning building. Firemen climbed the walls on their scaling ladders, braved the flames and reached the imperilled tenants. Of the badly injured several may die, as they are in a terrible condition from burns. The tenement house was occupied principally by Hebrew families.

OUR ADVANTAGES.

The condition of Peterborough in many respects is far in advance of other towns, and most cities. While Brantford is agitating for a public park, and private citizens are thinking of contributing to buy one, Peterborough has half a dozen splendid parks, not to speak of several smaller park spots. We don't all appreciate the advantages we possess in this regard, and in others. We have a splendid system of parks, in connection with which is the only drawback of their being at one side of the town. We have a splendid water works system, wanting only a new dam to make it, humanly, perfect. We have the cheapest electric light and power in the province. We have an excellent street railway system, and easy access to the best zone of summer resorts available to any town in Ontario. We shall soon have a splendid armouries, and fine Collegiate Institute, and new Separate school building. An opera house is one of our wants, and that will, it is hoped, soon come. Altogether we are, as far as public utilities and conveniences are concerned, rather happily situated, especially in comparison with other places.

PREACHING AND PRACTICE.

There is an instance in Toronto of a man pawning the family Bible. There will be a cry of protest and horror from thousands who wouldn't pawn a Bible on any consideration, but who pawn or disregard its teachings outrageously in their daily lives. There are persons who shout for the open Bible, who perhaps open it themselves once a year; there are persons who rave and foam at the mouth over dangers which they think threaten our religion and religious liberty, which is the only religion or religious liberty they practice in their daily lives. The world would be infinitely better if people preached their religious, political and moral principles by their lives and actions rather than by their mouths. Perhaps the poor man who pawned the family Bible in Toronto has more respect for the teachings of the Bible than many who are shocked at the idea of his pawning it. Perhaps his children were hungry for bread, and if his family Bible were like the ordinary volume of that name its absence from the house-hold would not be noticed only in the way of the vacant space providing a new spot for the dust to gather upon. We learn how sacred the average family volume is held, by the religious care taken to preserve it in good order—not to desecrate it by use. Reverence for sacred things is at the bottom of all true religious life. Reverence for the mere printed page of the Bible is an idle sentiment only, unless the spirit of its teachings are imprinted on the heart and made the motive influence of life and action.

THE CHURCHES.

Sunday night in St. John's Church the choir sang an adaptation of the "Lost Chord" by Stainer. Mrs. Seward sang the solo in excellent voice.

PARK STREET.

Both services at the Park Street Baptist Church Sunday were attended by large congregations. Special sermons being delivered by the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace. At the morning service the subject was "The Spiritual Athlete" and in the evening, "The Arena and the conditions of the Contest". At Sunday night's service the Ordinance of Baptism was administered to two candidates.

Baptismal services are arranged for Sunday week at the Park Street Baptist Church, when an Ordinance will be administered to many who are in waiting.

Great preparations are being made for the Sunday School Anniversary for Thursday, week, March 23rd. An interesting programme is in course of preparation. This will include three very taking drills in addition dialogues, recitations and choruses, and it is stated that the school has a surprise in store for the Trustees for their Building Fund.

* * *

At the Park Street Baptist Church Home Mission Day was duly observed on Sunday last when the offering presented at both services amounted to $2 with more to come in.

ST. LUKE'S.

In St. Luke's Sunday night the "Story of the Cross" was sung and the solo was taken by Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr. The rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, preached his first sermon in the series on "Some Actors in the Passion", and Judas was the first character dealt with. This series will be continued during Lent.

The annual meeting of the Mission Band and election of officers was held on Saturday, March 11th. The election of officers resulted as follows :—

Superintendent—Mrs. A. O. Sawyer.

Assistant Superintendents—Mrs. L. Gaskins and Mrs. C. R. Browning.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Ethel Pakenham.

Recording Secretary—Miss Lulu Scott

Treasurer—Miss Mabel Sawyer.

The members presented the rector with a white stole. It is intended to hold a tea-sale in May.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was present and gave an address on "Missions". After the meeting refreshments were served.

SNAKE FOR HAND PRY

Logger Used a Frozen Blacksnake and Thought it a Pole.

While hauling logs in the Sinnemahoning logging district, Clinty county, Pa., Winslow Eastlake needed a lever and secured what appeared to be a piece of springy wood. He made use his lead and used the lever for a twister fastening it with chains. When he arrived at the saw mill he took it off and flung it into the yard. As he was about to return home he noticed a peculiar bulge on the stick and decided to saw it in two on the shingle saw. It was then discovered that the supposed stick was a blacksnake, 7 feet 4 inches long, frozen stiff and so covered with mud as to disguise its real nature. The bulge proved to be Eastlake's pocket-book containing $11, lost near the spot where he loaded the logs last fall. The money was in good condition.

THE WAR OF 1885 VINGT ANS APRES

A Reminiscence of the Rising of 1885

An Examiner "Extra" Telling of the Capture of Battoch.

While Mr. J. E Belcher was this morning going through his domestic arcana, he came upon a copy of an Examiner "Extra," containing a despatch detailing the capture of Batoche. The "extra" is set in leaded type, with no fewer than six heavy display heading lines. It will perhaps be interesting to reproduce the text of the despatch relating to an event which has now passed into history. The Capt. Brown whose death is recorded in the following despatch was a native of Peterborough, and a monument, in the form of the drinking fountain, in Central Park, was erected to his memory.

Examiner Extra

Decisive Dash by Gen. Middleton.

Battoche Captured and Rebels Routed.

All Prisoners Held by Them Released.

The Northcote Cuts off Rebels Retreat.

Five Canadians Killed and Ten Wounded

The Rebel Losses are Heavy.

(Special Telegram to the Examiner.)

Humboldt, May 13th, 1885.

Battoche was taken at 4 p.m. yesterday. The prisoners are released and the rebels are in full flight. This afternoon the troops made a rapid advance down into Batoche,

CAPTURING THE RIFLE PITS AND RAVINE, and driving the rebels before them. The fight was desperate, many of our brave fellows biting the dust. With a tremendous cheer our gallant volunteers dashed down on Batoche, capturing the horses and seven in number, named McDonnell, Thompson Brothers. Ross, Ashley, Jack and Jackson brothers, and Albert Monkman. Our loss is, 90th battalion:

Private Alex. Young, slight flesh wound in the thigh; Sergt. Jukes, in the head, slightly; Corporal J. McGilles, wound on calf of leg.

Sergeant-Major Watson, slight wound in head. All doing well.

The Grenadiers — killed, Lieutenant Fitch,

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART, and killed instantly.

Lieut. Laidlaw, wounded slightly.

Major Dawson, slight wound in the ankle.

R. Cook, in arm.

Bugler Gaughan, shot in the finger.

Private George Harbour, slight scratch on the head.

Private G. W. Quigley, flesh wound in the arm.

Private Jas. Marshall, in the calf.

Private Hamilton.

Slight wound across the back.

Surveyor W. N. Kippen of Perth, Ont., shot through the head and the ball entering his mouth.

KILLED INSTANTLY,

Midland Battalion. — Private Barron, wounded in the thigh and groin.

Corporal Helliwell, in the face and arm, slightly.

Lieut. Helliwell, brother to the above in the shoulder.

Capt. French of the Scouts' force, was shot dead while

GALLANTLY LEADING ON HIS MEN.

Our total loss is now five killed and ten wounded. The Northcote and another steamer are coming down, and these with "C" School of Infantry and some mounted police will

CUT OFF THE REBELS' RETREAT.

Private Fraser of the 90th was killed, and Captain Brown, of Boulton's Scouts, was shot through the heart.

A mounted half breed has just been brought in.

During the heat of the engagement the following correspondence passed between Middleton and Riel. First carried by a messenger named Ashley: "If you don't cease firing on women, thereby injuring our families, we will massacre prisoners, commencing with Indian Agent Lash."

General Middleton answered: — Let me know where your women and children are, and we will not fire on them." Riel replied thanking him for the courtesy, but subsequently as our troops rushed forward to the attack he pencilled on an envelop, "As I don't like war, I have resolved to massacre the prisoners if the same." Before he had time to go through with the programme our boys were on them and the prisoners were released. The advance was a gallant affair.

THE REBEL LOSS

must be very heavy. Twelve breeds have been seen dead already.

The wounded breed brought in just now is Ambroise Judin, a member of Riel's council.

JAS. STEVENSON IS INTERESTED

In the Famous Standford Poisoning Case

Peterborough Gentleman now in San Francisco Sends Some Interesting Facts.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, who left here some weeks ago for California where he intended to spend the winter, visiting friends, has arrived at his destination, and in a letter to the Examiner Mr. Stevenson states that he is quite well, and that he is enjoying the "June" weather of the "Golden Gate" very much. He is in San Francisco and sends a copy of the San Francisco Call, in which the latest developments in the now famous Stanford case are reported. A portion of the report in which some startling developments are made is as follows :—

Confusing cablegrams came from Honolulu yesterday and last night as to the result of the chemists' analysis of the stomach of Mrs. Stanford and when the police closed their labours at a late hour they were very much in the air as to the mystery.

One message read that High Sheriff Henry had questioned the chemists and they had answered that they were unable to find a trace of the poison. Another report, from a trustworthy authority, set forth that poison had been found, but that the quality was so small that it was difficult of trace it. The day before the chemists gave out positive information that there was poison in Mrs. Stanford's stomach, and this fact was communicated as positive to those in San Francisco who have charge of the investigation at this end.

It is not believed by the detectives working on the case in this city that the chemists have found no strychnine. Even though no poison is detected, the circumstances attending death justify the rigid investigation that is being made. The strychnine may have been assimilated in the system, and while it is possible that an important piece of evidence is lost the theory of murder is by no means destroyed.

Mountford S. Wilson, attorney for the Stanford estate and in charge of the investigation that is being prosecuted with so much vigor, would express no opinion last night. He declared himself day before yesterday that murder had been done, and he could see no reason why the investigation should be abandoned if it proves true that no poison can be discovered.

SOME ESTABLISHED FACTS.

It has been established beyond question that an attempt was made to poison Mrs. Stanford in this city in January. Strychnine was found in large quantity in the bicarbonate of soda from which she partook just before she retired the fatal night in Honolulu. The attending physicians pronounced the case one of poison to all appearances, and other facts still make it certain that the good woman fell victim to the sly hand of a murderer.

The former household employees are still under surveillance. Ah Wing, the suspected cook, continues to be a prisoner at the Nob Hill mansion. The bottle of strychnine found on Friday in the residence is still the biggest card the detectives have drawn. They have not been able to connect it with any person as yet. In the searching for the buyer it must be taken into account that Mrs. Stanford herself may have purchased this strychnine, although it is very improbable that she would keep such a supply of the deadly drug on hand.

Local interest is added when it is stated that Rev. W. R. Tandy, the coming Curate of St. John's, took the college session of the Luland-Stanford University, endowed by the deceased Mrs. Stanford.

Marmora Herald: Mr. E. J. Cowain and son, Richard, are in town. Mr. Cowain says the new stamp mill, of the Star of the East gold mine is turning out some handsome gold bricks.

Forced to Suspend Business

Many business and working men neglect the first slight attacks of Rheumatism and Neuralgia and let it gradually develop until they are forced to suspend business and lie home ill. The same case is found with neglectful women who are absorbed with their house duties and other matters and totally blind as to their own condition and needs. The great can do more for such cases than twenty physicians. It gives immediate relief and cures completely after two or three days treatment. It has saved many men and women from years of agony and suffering.

Mrs. Bates, Toronto, writes—"I was a great sufferer from rheumatism, all remedies failed to cure me until I tried your South American Rheumatic cure. It worked a great cure and I trust other sufferers may follow my example with as satisfactory results."

If you have any form of Kidney disease then secure South American Kidney Cure. It relieves hopelessly and permanently cures.

FULL PARTNERSHIP

Col. Sam Hughes' Motion For An Imperial Union.

SOME BREEZY SPEECHES

Liberals Resent Reflections on Their Loyalty—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden in Sympathy With Idea of Resolution—Alleged Double Game by Quebec Conservatives.

Ottawa, March 14.—Imperial relations formed the basis of a discussion in the House yesterday, which, with several side issues, made one of the most brisk debates of the session. Col. Sam Hughes introduced a resolution favoring "a full partnership union" between Great Britain and her colonies, with an Imperial Parliament for Imperial matters and local Parliament for local matters. He supported this in a hour and a half's speech, in which he mildly impugned the loyalty of a section of the Canadian people. For this he was warmly taken to task by Mr. R. G. Macpherson of Vancouver, who, in breezy western style, said the loyalty of Canadians was taken for granted. This evening Mr. Bruneau, one of the French Liberals, spoke eloquently in favor of Canada remaining as it is, a great member of the English sisterhood of nations.

English Slow to Change.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in a five-minute address, said the English race was very slow to make a change without a grievance. At present Canada's relations with the Mother Country were entirely satisfactory, and it was desirous to go on as we were for the time being. The Imperial Federation League had been dissolved because Lord Rosebery found the problem could not be solved. Mr. R. L. Borden, while not subscribing in toto to the motion, still upheld the doctrine of mutual preferential trade. Mr. Jacques Bureau made an astonishing revelation when he produced petitions being sent through Quebec by the Jacques Cartier Club, the big Conservative organization in Montreal, praying Parliament to establish Separate Schools in the Northwest, thus showing the double game of the opposition. Col. Worthington presented a petition from the County of Sherbrooke, Que., asking that the autonomy bills be passed as introduced, and afterwards explained that the envelope containing the petitions was posted at Ottawa and bore the frank of the Premier.

Col. Hughes' Motion.

"That in opinion of this House, the best interests of Canada and the Empire at large would be advanced, and the peace, progress and prosperity of humanity be assured, by a full partnership union of Great Britain and her colonies, wherein there would be a united Imperial Parliament, empowered to deal with inter-Imperial, international, commercial, financial and other necessary national problems; but leaving to the existing Parliaments their present powers, functions, control of tariff, and other matters necessary for their own purpose."

Col. Hughes reflected sadly on the circumstance that E. F. Clarke was to have seconded the resolution. He said he was no pioneer in the movement for a full partnership union of Great Britain and her colonies. As early as 1846 a great Nova Scotian, Hon. Joseph Howe, took a strong stand on the question, and predicted a day when the British Empire would be a united whole.

It had been said that Britain and her colonies were divided by great stretches of ocean. The ocean, he argued, was really a bond of union. What was needed was a high tone in the national life of the country. A continent which begets pride in the country's flag. A closer union was essential in the interest of the Mother Country. Britain had reached the climax of her greatness.

It was in the interest of the colonies also to enter a closer union. The colonies were loyal to the core, they were growing to manhood, and it was absurd to say that they must remain as they are to-day. If there was no union it would not be the fault of the colonies but of the Motherland. Of the various courses open to Canada, including independence and annexation, Col. Hughes' preference was strongly for a full partnership union.

Discussing annexation, Col. Hughes said it was commonly supposed that Canada would have to bear less war tax as a portion of the United States than as part of the British Empire. This was a mistake. In the last hundred years the United States had spent for the purposes of war four billion dollars more than Great Britain. Canada was now paying $3,500,000 a year for defence. As a portion of the United States we would have to pay $30,000,000 annually. Canada would be in a position to protect herself. It was an insult to say that the United States would protect us against invasion. The spirit of Canadians would not tolerate such a thing.

Col. Hughes thought the full partnership union scheme would do away with racial and creed differences all over the Empire, would reduce freight rates and promote immigration to Canada from the British Isles, and promote also the importation of colonial products to take the place of articles now purchased by Great Britain from foreign countries.

As to how this Imperial Federation would be brought about was not for him to say. There was to be an Imperial Conference, which he hoped the Prime Minister would attend, and from which he hoped Sir Wilfrid would return in better health than from the last conference. Doubtless plans and proposals would be submitted there from which the most practical methods would be selected.

Men of the Northern Zone.

Robert McPherson of Vancouver made a vigorous attack upon those who, he said, were given to proclaim their own loyalty at the expense of that of their neighbors. He accused Colonel Hughes of indulging in the inuendo that there were annexationists and independents in Canada, declared that the worst rebels were those who threatened to take up arms to coerce their fellow-citizens of other races or religion, and proclaimed his own loyal sentiments by reciting one stanza of "Men of the Northern Zone."

Mr. Cockshutt, Brantford, in the course of a lengthy argument, emphasized the fact that Canada was not contributing a cent toward the maintenance of the British navy. Such conditions, he said, could not exist long. Some day Canada might have to shoulder responsibility for her own protection.

Mr. Burneau of Richelieu criticised the resolution and summoned history to support his argument. He declared in favor of the Nationalist policy, which was not Britain first, Britain afterwards and Britain always, but Canada first, Canada afterwards and Canada always.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the question introduced by Col. Hughes had engaged the minds of some of the best men of the Empire. So far no solution of the problem had been reached. The Imperial Federation League, which took up the question, finally agreed that there were no practical means of realizing its objects. He would say to Col. Hughes that there was no solution of the question on the four corners of his resolution. He did not see how we could have complete partnership in the union of the Empire and at the same time leave the Colonial Parliaments with the powers which they already enjoy. In this respect the resolution was contradictory. Sir Wilfrid said he did not think any of the self-governing colonies would be willing to part with any of the powers which they now possess. He was proud to say that the relations between Britain and the colonies were satisfactory. While they remained satisfactory it was idle to suppose that any changes would be made.

It was only when a grievance was found to exist that the British people made the necessary changes. If present conditions no longer answered the purposes of the British Empire, no doubt means would be found to remedy these deficiencies.

No Change Expected.

"But," said Sir Wilfrid in conclusion, "so long as they are found satisfactory, so long as there is contentment in every part of the Empire, as there is to-day, I am sure that all efforts to change these relations will be futile. The British Empire to-day is composed of nations; it is an aggregation of nations all bearing allegiance to the same Sovereign, and there is this difference between the British Empire of the present day and the Empire which has been seen in the past, namely, that whereas the Empires of the past rested on force, the Empire of to-day, so far at least as the great colonies are concerned, rests altogether on the will of the colonists themselves."

Sir Wilfrid asked that, while the question was one which could always be treated advantageously even though at the present time it seems premature, the resolution be withdrawn.

The Conservative Leader.

"I am very glad," observed R. L. Borden in reply, "that the Right Hon. gentleman regards the relations of Canada with the Empire as so entirely satisfactory, for it is not more than 18 months ago that he himself announced in this House that they were absolutely unsatisfactory, that we must attain to a greater share of the treaty-making powers." (Hear, Hear.)

Continuing, Mr. Borden said that it was time development of relations with the rest of the Empire came around by a process of gradual evolution. It was also true that in respect of all these matters the initiative had been taken by the people of Canada through the public men of Canada. It was, therefore, an interesting question, and one well worth deliberating upon, that Col. Hughes had brought to the attention of the House.

As to the financial features of the resolution, Mr. Borden said that he for one had been of opinion for a number of years that the material prosperity of the Empire and the ties which bind its different portions together might be improved and strengthened by a system of mutual trade preferences within the Empire. That policy for Canada he had advocated in the House and on the platform. Mr. Chamberlain's movement, which was bound to come, so far as it touched the material welfare of the people of the British Isles, was entirely a matter for the British people.

In Sympathy With Chamberlain.

"But," continued Mr. Borden, "speaking for myself as a Canadian, I am heartily in sympathy with the movement, and I believe that the people of Great Britain, the people of Canada and the people of dependencies of the British Empire could come together upon a business basis and make an arrangement by which each would give certain advantages in trade matters which they do not extend to other countries. If this could be accomplished, it does not seem to me there is room for doubt that it would result in great benefits, not only to Canada, but to all portions of the Empire. I for one sincerely hope that many who are now within the sound of my voice may live to see that great project an accomplished fact. (Cheers.)"

Col. Hughes expressed his gratification at the Prime Minister's and Mr. Borden's expression of opinion, and withdrew his motion.

After some cross-firing over the Separate School petitions, the House adjourned at 11.30 p. m.

Dr. Thompson, M. P., Takes Seat.

Big Robbery in Montreal.

Montreal, March 14.—When Mr. Larose, foreman with L. T. Michaelson & Son, jewelers and diamond importers, entered the workroom at 411 St. James Street, yesterday morning, he found the door of the large safe amidst a heap of refuse on the office floor, and all the valuable contents gone, the loss being estimated at something between $3,000 and $4,000. The detective force is on the track of the robbers.

To Succeed Mr. Jardine.

Ottawa, March 14.—Charles M. Kittson of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, Montreal, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Jardine as Canadian Commercial Agent in South Africa. Mr. Jardine resigned a few weeks ago on account of ill-health.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work well and strong. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

KENNEDY'S LAST MESSAGE.

That Is a Practical Admission of His Having Done Deed.

London, March 14.—The remains of Joseph Kennedy, who committed suicide in Brantford Jail, after being sentenced to life imprisonment and 75 lashes for assaulting little Irene Cole, were turned over to the London Medical College by the order of the Provincial authorities, and when the clothing of the dead man was searched yesterday morning a note written by Kennedy was found.

In it Kennedy does not deny having committed the crime, but devotes himself to a contradiction of some details of the evidence given against him. He claimed that he did not have a chicken on the day that Irene Cole met her death in the "Willows," but admits that he made a purchase of a chicken the preceding day and disposed of the meal by 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

He says also that it is untrue that he was in a lumber yard near the "Willows," and that it was there he secured the poultry on the day the girl met her death. He says further that he had no idea at the time of his first arrest that he was charged with the murder of Irene Cole, the police of Brantford leading him to believe that he was wanted merely for sleeping in a barn.

VERY PRETTY WEEK-END WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss Alice Hubbard and James H. Hargreaves on Saturday.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Park street Baptist parsonage on Saturday evening, March 11th, at 7.30 o'clock, when Miss Alice Hubbard, of town, became the bride of James Herbert Hargreaves, of Leeds, Yorkshire, Eng.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Brace, after which the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's mother, Harvey street, where a bountiful of invited guests who were received by the bride's little niece, awaited their coming.

The bride was charmingly attired in a white tucked silk waist, with blue lustre skirt and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Rose Stevenson, wore a beautiful dress of blue material and carried carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Walter Nash.

The numerous beautiful presents received by the contracting parties testify to the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. Among others were several beautiful gifts from Brockville, Gananoque and Kingston.

The happy couple will reside on Harvey street.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Mrs. J. R. Stratton
Mrs. D. Hughes Charles
Mrs. R. M. Donaldson
Mrs. H. D. Burnett
Mrs. G. Dunsford
Miss J. Bertram
Miss A. E. Bennett

We are accustomed to look to woman for the most refining and elevating influences in the home, and society, and in all the relations of life. It is, therefore, no surprise to find the ladies of the town at the head of an organization such as that which promises to exercise so important an influence in the domain of aesthetics in Peterborough. The reference is, of course, to the Peterborough Woman's Art Association, whose first exhibition opened most auspiciously last night at the Y.M.C.A. Hall. The Association, which has but recently been organized, now boasts of a membership of sixty, and from the enthusiasm of its members, and the success with which its efforts have been attended since its inception, it will undoubtedly wield an aesthetic and refining influence in the social life of all classes of the community, even to "the man with the red tie," whose omnipresence forms a stock subject of comment in artistic coteries.

The opening last night, which took the form of a pleasing social function was attended in large numbers by the honorary members and their escorts.

Miss Charles, Miss Hazel Dean and Miss Edith Aylmer, by the charming manner in which they disposed of the catalogues, robbed this necessary feature of the exhibition of the sordid character which commercialism gives to art.

The general excellence of the canvasses on view and their diversified charms, which appealed to every taste, formed the leading topic of conversation. Delightful refreshments were served during the evening from an improvised buffet.

The exhibition opened to the public this morning and will doubtless be awarded the large patronage which it deserves. It will remain open until Friday at six o'clock, during the afternoon and evening of each day.

The exhibit of old laces is one of the leading features of the exhibition, and will form a subject of future reference.

The Arts and Crafts also have some beautiful examples of work on view. The Dutch water-colours, which have been sent from the exhibition recently held in the Confederation Life Building, by the Toronto Branch of the Canadian Woman's Art Association, include some noted works of art from picturesque Holland, the paradise of the water-colourist.

Mrs. Lignam, president of the Toronto Women's Art Association, and who has ever worked so energetically in its interests, addressed the Association this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

The Hanging Committee is indeed to be congratulated upon the result of its efforts, the ensemble effect being especially harmonious and pleasing. The arrangement is all that may be desired—no pictures being thrust forward too conspicuously, to the detriment of others, while the arrangement as to character, harmony of colour and lighting, shows the result of much artistic taste and discrimination.

The local artists are represented to a surprisingly large extent, and the general excellence of their canvases leads one to wonder at the absence hitherto of organized effort, which is such an essential feature in the world of art, and the holding of regular exhibitions.

Miss Bennett is well represented, her most noticeable exhibit being probably her "Italian Girl," which is an exquisite bit of colouring, the contrasts being extremely well-conceived and delicate, and a good breadth of treatment observed. The draughtsmanship is also excellent.

Miss Hutton has several dainty water colours. In her "Birch Trees" a splendid atmospheric effect has been attained, and the texture well rendered, though, as a composition, her "Sketch: Jackson Park," offers more difficulties, which have been handled in a manner displaying good balance and unity.

Miss Bertram, who also has a special exhibit of china, has an outdoor study, which is treated in a broad and pleasing manner. The shadows are particularly well rendered, and fairly radiate with sunlight.

An exhibitor whose work affords a bright promise for a successful future in artistic circles, is Miss Mary Sheffield. Her exhibits are principally "still lifes," though she also has a figure study which bears the hall-mark of an accurate eye for form as well as colour.

Mrs. Dignam's "Boat in the North Sea," is broad and truthful in handling and is also extremely pleasing in composition, its main lines gracefully melting into one harmonious whole. It is also attractive and pleasing in its colour scheme — the atmospheric effects being particularly good. One of the most extensively admired pictures is "Flowers," by Baroness Van Hogensdorp. It is a most exquisite study.

Mrs. Emily Elliott of Toronto, is well represented, her most striking exhibit probably being "Old Age and Poverty," which displays a good draughtsmanship, and vigorous handling. Two water colours by this artist were the subject of much admiring comment. One of these — an evening scene on Toronto Bay — is especially good in colouring and in atmospheric effect.

The miniature water-colours, "Pink Roses" and "Petunias," shown by Miss Clara E. Galbraith, are dainty specimens of this art. Miss Anna Gormley's "Trees" and "Poppies," show much delicacy in conception and treatment.

Miss McCurdy has two impressionistic landscapes, which are vigorous in treatment and display much breadth of effect. She is also represented by several pastels.

Two Dutch water-colours by Mrs. Grothe, Jansen, Holland, "Dutch Dolls" and "Giant's Staircase" are beautiful conceptions, the latter being especially good in composition, the subject though one of much complexity in this respect, is handled with much fine regard for detail, and at the same time a perfect balance is attained. Another Dutch artist whose exhibits have been the subject of much admiration is Mevrow J. Van Huemskerk. The "Dutch Vrouw" is characterized by great power of draughtsmanship and breadth of handling. Mrs. Julia A. Burdoin, a former Toronto lady, now resident in Cleveland, is a leading exhibitor. Her still-life studies are excellent, though her most prominent piece of work is probably "Katatjke" which is charming in colouring and composition while the soft atmospheric effect is especially pleasing. Miss Emily Patterson's treatment of her Dutch landscape, "After Rain, Holland," displays much technical skill. Another by this artist is "Edinburgh." "White Roses," by Miss Caroline Sinclair, Toronto, is handled in a dainty manner.

The exhibits in black and white are not numerous, the only mediums being charcoal, and monochrome. Van Heemskerk's "Old Man" in charcoal is a character study of rare excellence, and displays a marvellous power in draughtsmanship. A Dutch interior by the same artist is worthy of the most careful study. In the small charcoal by Miss Cleland of Montreal, "Head of Dutch Baby," an excellent effect of light has been preserved and the treatment and modelling are perfect. "In Pensive Mood," by Miss Elliott displays considerable ability in the illustrator's art.

In the wood carving section some most beautifully executed examples of this art were observed. Amongst others are a panel in relief by Miss Cameron Edwards, of Toronto, who also has several exhibits of chip-carving. Miss Aldridge has some splendid work in deep carving. Miss Hatton is well represented in a number of beautifully executed examples of the art. These include two trays in chip carving, black walnut frame in Swedish carving, and a red-cedar clock case in chip carving.

The exhibits in decorated china are fully up to the general standard of excellence in the other departments. The exhibitors are Miss Bertram, Vase, Belique jug and under-glazed blue plates. Miss Davidson's jardinere and vase with yellow roses, is artistic in design and treatment, a reference which also applies to Miss E. Morrow's chop-tray and dessert plates.

Some excellent modelling was observed in the Arts and Crafts section. Noticeable amongst these was the work of Miss Cameron Edwards of Toronto, whose exhibits included:—Ash tray, chestnut design; spoon, poppy design; candlestick, tulip design. The only exhibits of miniature modelling were by Miss Robinson, who had some excellent examples.

The bust "Mignon" by Miss K. E. Wallis, the talented Peterborough sculptor, who is earning such well-deserved laurels in artistic circles in Paris, occupies a prominent place, and is, of course, the object of much attention. Her "La Toilette" in bronze, and "Dachshund" are also much admired.

PATRIOTIC NIGHT AT THE Y. M. C. A.

"Early Canada" Will Be the Subject of 4th Pop

An exception will be made in running the Y.M.C.A. "Pops," and one will be held each week from now until the close of the season.

On Saturday night, March 18th an interesting programme will be presented.

The main feature of the evening will be a stereopticon entertainment on "Early Canada," being a description of a trip by trolly and wheel to historic spots in York county to the home of the Children of peace.

An interesting series of slides will be presented by the lecturer, Mr. E. C. Sarigley, commercial master of the Collegiate Institute. The programme will also include musical selections and other interesting features. The public is cordially invited.

—To-night the Legal Committee of the town council will meet at the Town Clerk's office.

—Be sure and attend the Shamrock entertainment, in the lecture room of the George street church, on St. Patrick's Day. A most interesting programme has been arranged. Admission only 15 cents. 1

—At the semi-annual ready-to-wear opening of the Turnbull Co., on Wednesday, March 15th, all the latest desirable styles in ladies' and misses' suits, separate coats and skirts, blouses, hats, etc., will be shown. 2d

—W. J. O'Brien's tobacco store, on George street is where those who want a good smoke go for their supplies of tobacco, pipes, etc., and the reason they patronize that store is because they know that only the best goods are sold, and no better bargains can be secured anywhere in town.

—To-night the members of Dan Spence Council, R.T. of T., will hold an open meeting in their hall, George street. In addition to a good programme Rev. F. J. Scott, of Murray street church will give an address. Refreshments will be served at the close. A report of the work for the year.

—Mr. H. R. H. Keaner will deliver an address, "A Ramble Through the City of the Seven Hills," at the meeting of St. Paul's Young Men's guild to-night. This meeting is open to all the members of the congregation, and the lecture will be well worth hearing. An excellent musical programme has also been provided.

T. A. S. ANNUAL CONCERT

The Rochester N. Y. Democrat has the following to say of Mr. J. E. Fax, humourist, who appears on the programme with Mr. H. Ruthven McDonald, Friday night in the Opera House, "The appearance of Mr. Fax was a pleasant surprise, the audience was fairly enraptured." Mr. McDonald was in Peterborough last season and is always a favourite. Plan open at Lynch's Drug Store.

Many New Extensions Under Contemplation by the Bell Telephone Co.

In addition to the new local lines to be added to the Bell Telephone Company's system, which were spoken of in a recent issue of the Examiner, several other important extensions are at present under contemplation and in course of construction by this company. The success which has attended the recently constructed line to Springville has evidently induced the Company to extend its lines in other directions.

In an interview given The Examiner this morning by the Company's local Manager, Mr. Deane, the latter stated that one which is certain of construction at an early date will connect with Hall's Glen and Stony Lake. This will join the Company's present line at Warsaw. The construction of the new line to Emily-more, reference to which was made in Saturday's Examiner, will also be proceeded with without delay. The poles for a new line to Douro have already been placed on the ground and the construction of the line will, it is understood, be completed at as early a date as possible. This will connect with Peterborough via Nassau.

Mr. Deane was somewhat reticent regarding several other extensions preliminery arrangements for which, he believed, would be completed in the course of a few days.

New York Millinery Parlours 431 George Street.

The fashionable millinery establishment to be opened by Miss Costello, late of New York, in the north store now occupied by E. F. Mason & Co., will have one of the most complete stocks of stylish millinery that has been shown in Peterborough. The fact that Easter comes so late this year is making it possible that only the very latest and most varied styles will be placed in stock. Miss Costello's experience and training in some of the largest American cities is a guarantee of her thoroughness in this department of work. Opening announcement later.

DEATH RESULTED FROM CANCER

Mrs. Richard Mullen Died in Smith at the Age of Sixty-one Years

The death occurred in Smith township on Saturday, of Isabella Mahood, wife of Richard Mullen, at the age of 61 years.

Deceased was a sufferer from cancer, which malady was responsible for her death. Four sons remain to mourn her loss, all of whom reside in Smith township.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, March 14th, at two o'clock, from the family residence, lot 22, 5th concession of Smith township, and proceeded to the Little Lake cemetery for interment.

DEATH OCCURRED MONDAY MORNING

Samuel McCabe Passed Away at His Residence—Funeral Wednesday

After a gradual decline from kidney trouble, the death occurred on Monday morning, about 9 o'clock, at his residence, corner Lock and Lansdowne stree., of Samuel McCabe, at the age of 70 years. Deceased leaves a wife to mourn his loss; a brother predeceased him by several months. Messrs. James, John and Daniel McCabe of town, are nephews of the deceased gentleman.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, and proceed to St. Peter's cathedral, where requiem mass will be sung, thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

JACOBITE EVENING MUCH ENJOYED

St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild Held Their Meeting.

There was a pleasant time in St. Andrews last night when a large attendance of the Young Men's Guild enjoyed an evening with the Jacolites. After routine of business the Rev. J. G. Potter was called upon to take charge of the programme. This consisted of a number of selections of Scottish songs, and a lecture on the Jacolites by the pastor. The lecture was most inspiringly punctuated by songs from Scotchmen, rendered at different stages of the lecture, whoreever suitable to the story. Mr. T. C. Elliott in "Braid Scotch" moved and eloquently supported a motion of thanks to the singers, the accompanists and the lecturer, this was seconded by Mr. P. Kerr and carried by a standing vote.

The following is the programme:—

"The Auld Scotch Songs" ...Mr. A. W. Archibald
"My Mami's Awa'" ...Mr. Jas. W. Lang
"Cam ye by Athole" Mr. Gilbert Scott
The Lecture, ...Rev. J. G. Potter
"Standard o' the braes o' Mar" Mr. Jas. Dawson
"Loch Lomond" ... ... Mr. Gilbertt Scott
"Lament of Flora McDonald" Rev. J. G. Potter
"Afton Water" ..... Mr. Geo. Dicks a
"Will ye no cam back again" Mr. Geo. Dawson
"Annie Laurie" ... ...Mr. John Wilson

By special request Mr. Geo. Dickson sang the charming Scotch song "My Mary".

Mrs. Peter Kerr presided at the piano and her assistance was greatly appreciated by the Guild.

Light refreshments were then served and the happy company were dismissed with the benediction by the ministers.

SHORT SESSION OF CHARITY BOARD

Only Routine Business was Transacted Last Night.

A twenty-minute meeting of the Central Charity Board was held last night in the Town Clerk's office, but nothing of any particular importance was transacted.

Those present were, Mr. H. Bush, chairman; Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. G. Lewis, B. Yelland, F. W. Miller, R. C. Branad, J. D. Collins.

It was decided that the next meeting of the Board should be held on March 27th.

SCHOOL ROOM WAS CROWDED

Very Enjoyable Concert at St. Paul's Last Evening.

Programme of addresses and Music Was Highly Appreciated

St. Paul's school house was crowded to overflowing last night on the occasion of the concert under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Society of that church, and if last night's entertainment can be taken as any criterion of the interest taken in the society, a splendid work is being done amongst the young people of the church. The programme was of an educative and most interesting nature and of such a character as to meet with the hearty approval of all present. Whether in speech or song the numbers were enjoyed heartily and the society is to be congratulated on the general success of the affair.

The chairman for the evening was Rev. Dr. Torrance, who made a few opening remarks, in which he expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large number present, and referred briefly to the work of the society.

A flag drill by ten little boys was quite unique and was well executed.

Rev. G. A. McLennan of Norwood, was the first speaker, his subject be-"Physical Recreations." He pointed out the necessity for plenty of sound physical exercise, which was a strong factor in promoting good health.

The Charlotte street male quartette, Messrs. Mitchell, Browne, Jolliffe and Jones, sang "Sweet and Low," the blending of the voices and expression being well marked. The quartette was heard later in the evening in three other numbers, "Juanita," "Fishing," and "When Jock Proposed," each selection being heartily received.

Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot's solo, "Dear Heart," was sung in a most expressive manner and was highly appreciated.

A solo, "Death of Napoleon," was sung in good voice by Rev. Mr. Mr. McLennan and was followed by an address by Rev. Mr Ketchen on "Mental Recreation." The necessity for good pure reading for all was one which should not be overlooked. There should be much discretion made use of in the choosing of literature and books and our reading should be done intelligently so as to derive the best benefit therefrom. Mr. Ketchen's address contained many points worthy of much consideration.

A recitation by Mrs. Dr. Morgan was followed by a pantomime by ten little girls. This number was given while the quartette sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and was quite impressive. Rev. Mr. McLennan sang "Standard o' the Braes o' Mars" and was encored.

Rev. Geo. Yule, of Springville gave the concluding address on "Spiritual Recreation." The physical and the mental recreations were essential for the full development of mankind, but the spiritual recreation was of the greatest importance for this it was which prepared us for the life which would have no ending. We should be careful as to the nature of our pleasures and abstain from those which would interfere with our progress spiritually.

The programme which throughout was most attractive closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The marriage is announced of Miss Dollie Irwin, daughter of Mr. Thos. C. Irwin, Stewart street, particulars of which appear in another part of to-day's issue. Miss Irwin has been successful in pursuing her duties as professional nurse in Chicago and vicinity for several years past. Peterborough friends will congratulate her on her new alliance which she has formed with a well-to-do resident physician of large experience in Manteno, near Chicago.

THE CONTEST HAS BEEN EXTENDED

Great Interest in the Y.M.C.A. Membership Contest

By consent of the leaders of the Reds and Blues the Y.M.C.A. membership contest has been extended to Monday evening, March 3rd. On that evening the question will be decided which side will eat the bread and red herrings and drink water and which will sit down to the sumptuous repast.

The blue flag is again in the ascendant to-day that side leading by 51-2 points.

The Blues held another very enthusiastic rally again last night and a new programme of work outlined. The younger boys particularly Shook and Lane are "diggin in" as the former puts it. The others are helping well too. The next fifteen days will be lively ones.

CUPIDO STABBING CASE IN COURT

Menzi is Acquitted on Charge of Aiding in Marfeso's Escape

Some Conflicting and Complicating Evidence—The Facts of the Case.

A stage in the famous Olivero Cupido stabbing case was reached this morning when the long-drawn-out case of Alphonse Menzi, who was charged with having aided in the escape of Pamphilio Marfeso, who is the man who stabbed Cupido on the night of January 31st, and afterwards left town. Menzi has been remanded from time to time on this charge. After some evidence had been taken, to-day Fabrizzi Marfeso, who was up as a witness eight days ago, and at that time refused to speak on the case, gave testimony, and his evidence closed the case, which was dismissed, and Menzi was acquitted. He and Fabrizzi Marfeso have been confined to the County jail for some weeks awaiting the preliminary hearing, and were released to-day upon judgment being given by the Police Magistrate, who found that the Crown had not substantiated their case.

The one weak point was the fact that it had not been proven that Menzi was aware that Cupido had been stabbed by Marfeso, and lacking this connecting evidence the Magistrate held that there was nothing left for him to do but dismiss the case.

Fabrizzi Marfeso, who bears the same name as the man who did the stabbing, but who claims that he is not related to him, was the only witness examined to-day, but he did not throw any material light on the subject and Mr. Dumble was not backward in expressing the opinion that while the evidence was given under oath, he did not believe a word he said." He admitted that he was at the station on the night of the stabbing, when Pamphillio Marfeso intended to leave on the train with a ticket for Montreal, purchased with money supplied by Menzi.

"Charlie" McGinty appeared on the scene, however, and the Italian changed his mind about going away, and disappeared from the station before the train arrived. Later he went to Philadelphia by another train. The witness could not give a very accurate account of his actions during the next two days. He said that he went over to the Oxford House and got two or three drinks, and spent the night at one of his friends, preferring not to go to his home, and during the next day he went the rounds of the hotel bars, and, according to his admission, he became intoxicated, and the next night he spent at a Simcoe street house. The next day he plucked up enough courage to go home.

The Crown Attorney admitted that this was the weak point in his case, pointed out by the Magistrate, but stated that these stabbing affrays had become so common that some steps should be taken to punish those of their countrymen who tried to shield the guilty ones, as he felt satisfied Menzi had done.

In dismissing the case Mr. Dumble headed out some good advice to the Italians on the use of knives, which he said, the law would not tolerate. He advised them to throw away their knives, and not use them on every little provocation.

CHARLES KANE DIES IN ORILLIA

Was Born in Peterborough 54 Years ago—Funeral Wednesday in Orillia

The death occurred in Orillia Sunday at 4 o'clock p.m. of Charles Kane, of pneumonia, after an illness of only three or four days duration.

Deceased was born in Peterborough 54 years ago, and the many friends of his early years here will be pained to learn of his demise.

After leaving here about 25 years ago, the late Mr. Kane was engaged for some years with a lumber company in the vicinity of Gravenhurst, after which he removed to Orillia where he has since conducted a general store in partnership with his brother, William. Three brothers survive the deceased. These are Thomas, of Rochester; William, of Orillia, and John, who resides in the Western States. Many relatives of the deceased gentleman reside in Peterborough.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning in Orillia.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Hogs and Cattle Easier at Chicago.

London, March 13.—Live cattle are quoted at 10¾c to 12¼c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8c to 8¾c per lb.; sheep, 12c to 13c per lb.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 57 car loads, composed of 1186 cattle, 95 sheep and lambs, 29 hogs and 8 calves.

Prices for exporters ranged from $4.85 to $5 per cwt., the bulk going at $4.90 to $4.85. Export bulls sold from $3.25 to $4, with a few extra choice quality at a trifle more.

The bulk of the butchers' cattle offered were not of good quality. More choice heifers would have found ready sale. Choice picked lots, of which there was a limited supply, sold at $4.75 to $4.80; loads of good, and there were few of these, also sold at $4.12½ to $4.25; medium cattle, the bulk being of this class, sold at $3.75 to $4; common mixed loads, cows, steers and heifers, sold at $3.40 to $3.60; inferior at $3 to $3.35; good cows at $3.40 to $3.75; common cows, $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt.

About half a dozen milch cows sold from $35 to $54 each.

Robert Winters had the best bunch of yearling lambs that has been delivered at this market this season. W. B. Levack bought them at $7.25 per cwt. Mr. Levack also bought the sheep at $5 per cwt. for the ewes and $4 per cwt. for bucks.

A limited number of calves sold at $8.00 per cwt. also to W. B. Levack.

Prices on this market have been advanced 25c per cwt. since last week. Selects sold at $5 per cwt. and lights and fats at $4.75 per cwt. The receipts were light, only 20, but this is largely on account of the lower. H. P. Kennedy, discouraging drovers from marketing their hogs on a Monday.

BUFFALO MAN SHOT

Fatal Accident At Niagara-On-the-Lake On Saturday.

Gun Was Accidentally Discharged While Two Young Men Were Firing at a Mark—Horrible Wound Inflicted in Haskell's Leg Above the Knee—He Died Shortly After.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, March 13.—A fatal shooting accident occurred here about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in which a young man named Haskell, about 19 years of age, son of Dr. Haskell of Buffalo, lost his life.

Haskell, in company with a young man named Shoemaker of Youngstown, N. Y., had been on the river duck shooting. They afterward pulled into McIntyre's dock, near the waterworks pumping station, and were firing at a tin can on the end of the wharf.

Shoemaker was holding the gun with the hammer up, when his foot slipped, the jar discharging the weapon, the charge entering Haskell's leg above the knee, inflicting a horrible wound. The unfortunate man was taken to the pumping station and medical aid summoned, but he died 30 minutes later.

The coroner decided an inquest unnecessary.

Alex Nairn Killed.

Galt, March 13.—The inquest into the fatal accident which occurred at the western station of the G. T. R. at 9 o'clock on Saturday, will be resumed to-day. The victim was Alexander Nairn of Palmerston, 23 years old. He was a fireman on the 8.30 accommodation train from the south. While shunting in the yard he is supposed to have climbed up on the tender to ascertain if there was sufficient water in the tank with which to run to Guelph. The engine was backing up at the time, and Nairn fell off the tender under the cars. He must have been dragged 100 feet, for it was some time before he was missed by the engineer. The train was stopped and the body of the fireman taken from under the tender. He was then lying parallel with the rails. He was quite dead. His head was crushed and torn. On examination, Dr. Vardon found that the spine was also broken and his right foot crushed. The body was taken Saturday night to Palmerston by Louis Nairn, the father, who is a farmer near that town.

Trolley Kills Little Boy.

Toronto, March 13.—While having a game of tag with several of his little playmates, Charles Harold Beasley, 5 years old, was struck and instantly killed by a south-bound trolley car within a few yards of his home, 240 Church Street, shortly after 6 p. m. Saturday. The body of the little victim was found stretched across the track, between the fender and the front trucks. Dr. J. M. Johnston, who was one of the passengers, pronounced the little fellow to have been killed instantly. The head was badly crushed, the brains oozing out. A particularly sad feature was the circumstance that Saturday was the birthday of the little fellow's three-year-old sister, and a few little friends had been called in to the birthday party. It was while enjoying play afterwards that the sad happening occurred. The father, William Beasley, is a candy manufacturer.

Dynamite Thawer Killed.

Winnipeg, March 13.—While thawing some dynamite at Dunn's quarry at Stony Mountain, Saturday morning, William Smith, an employe, was instantly killed in an explosion that followed. The tragedy occurred at 10 o'clock. Smith was a well-known resident of Stony Mountain. He was 40 years of age and leaves a family of eight children and a widow.

Broke Leg at Paris.

Toronto, March 13.—William Wallace, machinist, who boards at the Neelon House, while stepping from one car to another at Paris Station, fell and broke his leg. On his arrival in Toronto he was taken in an ambulance to St. Michael's Hospital.

BAD RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

One Man Dead, 9 Hurt, and Many Cars Badly Wrecked.

Butler, Pa., March 12.—The south-bound express on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railway, was wrecked Saturday night near McCalmont Station three miles south of Butler. One man was killed and nine injured. Engineer Edward Wilkes of Dubois, Pa., was killed, his body being buried under his engine.

The express had just crossed a bridge over Connoquenissing Creek, when the pony trucks of the engine left the rails, causing an axle to break. The engine plunged into the bank at the right of the track and the express car which followed toppled over into the creek. The other cars were derailed, the car platforms were broken and the second passenger coach was telescoped six feet into the front car.

A spreading rail is blamed.

26 Welsh Colliers Killed.

Cardiff, Wales, March 13.—Twenty-six lives were lost as a result of the explosion which occurred Friday in the Cambrian colliery at Clydach Vale, in the Rhondda Valley.

Frightened to Death.

Severn, March 13.—Mrs. Cunningham, wife of George Cunninghom of Severn Bridge, dropped dead Saturday afternoon about 6 o'clock. The chimney caught fire, and the excitement incident therewith evidently was the cause of her death, as she had not before complained of feeling unwell.

Chadwick Verdict.

Cleveland, O., March 11.—The Chadwick case will be given to the jury some time to-day. It has not been the custom of the Federal Court to hold regular sessions on Saturday, but Judge Taylor said yesterday afternoon that if the case was not finished yesterday he would hold court for it on Saturday.

Kaiser's Son to Wed.

Berlin, March 11.—According to a semi-official statement given out at Schwerin, the marriage of Crown Prince Frederick William and Duchess Cecilia will take place in Berlin on June 6.

Three Killed by Explosion.

Johnstown, Pa., March 11.—As the result of a furnace explosion at the Cambria Steel Company's works yesterday, three men, foreigners, were killed.

DARING JAIL BREAKER.

Dan Forsythe Breaks Officer's Rib and Bruises His Head.

Chatham, March 13.—Dan Forsythe, grain stealer, who the other day pleaded guilty to several charges of theft before P. M. McKinlay of Ridgetown, and was confined in the County Jail here, made a dash for liberty Saturday night about 10 o'clock. Calling the turnkey on the pretence of wanting a drink, he overcame him, locked him in his cell, and after striking down a pal, Charles Benjamin, who was in another cell, because he refused to run for it also, made his escape by way of a window overlooking the porch. Benjamin released the officer, whom Dr. Charteris, jail surgeon, found had received a broken rib and injuries about the head.

British Government Appointments.

London, March 13.—Official announcement is made of the appointment of Walter Hume Long, President of the Local Government Board, to succeed Mr. Wyndham as Chief Secretary for Ireland. Gerald Balfour, President of the Board of Trade, succeeds Mr. Long; the Marquis of Salisbury, Lord of the Privy Seal, becomes President of the Board of Trade, retaining his former office, and Allwyn Fellowes, Junior Lord of the Treasury, is appointed President of the Board of Agriculture, succeeding the Earl of Onslow, who recently was appointed Chairman of Committees in the House of Lords.

Oil Octopus Restrained.

Monmouth, Ill., March 13.—An injunction Saturday was issued by Master-in-Chancery J. B. Brown, restraining the Standard Oil Company and the Prairie State Oil and Gas Company from laying a pipe line through this county. For some weeks the Standard Oil Company has been working on a pipe line to connect the southwestern oil fields with the refineries in Indiana.

You Must Look To the Liver

If You Would Have Good Digestion and Good Health. It is Kept Alive by

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Bile in the blood is poison.

Bile in the intestines is necessary to digestion and the healthful action of the bowels.

Bile in the blood causes biliousness, headache, jaundice, muddy complexion and is the source of innumerable pains and aches.

The lack of bile in the intestines brings on indigestion, constipation, kidney derangements and a clogging of the whole digestive and excretory systems.

The liver separates bile from the blood, where it is poison, and pours it into the intestines, where it is of inestimable worth.

For this reason the health of the body is dependent on the health and activity of the liver.

By making the liver active when it becomes torpid and sluggish, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills insure a healthful flow of bile into the intestines and the cure of all ailments arising from "bile poison," indigestion and constipation.

Set the Kidneys right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you will remove the cause of many pains and aches, of many annoying symptoms, of irritable temper and depressed spirits.

There is no liver regulator so certain of action, so quick to relieve, so lastingly beneficial.

"I was a sufferer for years with stomach trouble and terrible headaches, and spent a good many dollars in medicine without receiving any benefit. Hearing Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills highly recommended I determined to give them a trial and did so with most satisfactory results as I was very greatly benefitted and do not hesitate to recommend this treatment as the best obtainable for such ailments."—Mrs. Thomas Calvert, Highland Grove, Peterborough, Co., Ont.

ENTANGLED IN A COG

Robert Moore of Millbrook Loses An Arm Thereby.

SMOTHERED BY STRAW STACK

Whole Weight of the Stack, Covered With Snow and Ice, Fell on Mrs. George Lowry, Wife of a Young Farmer Near Port Dover, and She Died Instantly.

Millbrook, March 14.—Yesterday morning Robert Moore, late of Minden, and now in the employ of Needlers Mills, met with a serious accident. He was oiling the machinery, when in some manner the back of his sleeve became entangled in a cog, which wrenched his arm and mutilated the upper part so badly near the shoulder that he was unable to extricate himself.

It was a long time before his cries for assistance were heard. The mill was going. When the employes on the ground floor heard his cries and realised what was wrong, the mill was immediately closed down. The unfortunate man was released. Dr. Turner was quickly on the spot. Amputation was found to be necessary. The young man is doing as well as can be expected.

STRAW STACK FELL ON HER.

Mrs. George Lowry, Near Port Dover, Meets Death Strangely.

St. Thomas, March 14.—A strange death was that of Mrs. George Lowry, wife of a young farmer near Port Dover. On returning from church on Sunday evening, she went with her husband to the barn, and while he was throwing the hay she went to the straw stack to get out the bedding for the horses.

Just how it happened is not known, but in some manner the straw stack toppled over and the whole weight fell on the young woman. There was considerable snow and ice on the top of the stack, which, added to the weight and rendered the woman's fate a terrible one. When her husband reached her only her feet were visible, and despite all his efforts, he could not release her. He was alone on the farm and had to saddle a horse and ride half a mile before he could get help.

When at Length Mrs. Lowry was released she was quite dead. It is thought that she was suffocated almost instantly, her body being a mass of bruises from the terrible weight that had fallen on her. Mrs. Lowry had been married only a year. Her maiden name was Steele.

REASON No 19

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because of its Flavor.

Why do you buy certain varieties of fruit and vegetables? Is it not because you like the flavor of some better than others?

Flavor is the special quality which stamps one brand of food product as superior to another, and is the quality that always commands the highest price.

The delicate, fragrant flavor of Red Rose Tea is the result of scientific study and methods on the tea plantations, and in the tea testing and blending rooms.

It has what might be called a fruity taste—a rich, ripe flavor that is very pleasing to the palate—a taste you won't forget.

The Blue Label is recommended.

Correcting Bad Habits Not Enough.

NATURE NEEDS ASSISTANCE.

To cure a torpid and inactive liver, more is required than the mere correction of bad habits. You change your diet, reform your manners of living, but unless you assist Nature your efforts won't be a success.

When the liver and bowels are acting improperly, something must be done to put them in condition again. There is lack of tone in the liver action as well as in the bowels. You feel depressed and unfitted for work, endurance or responsibility. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills impart tone to a tired liver, give the push-from-behind strength to torpid muscles. They stimulate the circulation, and make the liver active and the bowels regular.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation, biliousness, headache in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

All genuine signed W. F. Smith.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower

GREW THIS HAIR

68 Brock Ave., Toronto.

Seven Sutherland Sisters:—

Dear Ladies,—Having used your Hair Grower and Hair and Scalp Cleaner for the last two years with very satisfactory results, I can recommend the same to anyone desirous of growing and preserving a fine growth of hair. I find your Hair Grower stops the hair from falling and makes a rapid growth.

The Scalp Cleaner removes the dandruff and leaves the scalp clean and the hair soft and silken. My hair is now over four feet in length and very heavy as my photo will show. I give you the right to use my letter and photo for advertising in any way you desire.

Yours respectfully,

MAY WALLACE

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS

Mr. Haultain Raises Question in Letter to Sir Wilfrid.

STATES CASE OF THE WEST

Rights of the Dominion Do Not, He Says, Include the Modelling of the School Law of the New Provinces—Criticizes the Land Clauses of Autonomy Bills Also.

Ottawa, March 13.—Hon. F. W. Haultain, Premier of the Northwest Territories, gave out to the press Saturday night an important letter addressed by him in his official capacity as head of the Northwest delegation called to Ottawa to consider the autonomy question to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is observed that the letter deals in the main with the school issue, and that Mr. Haultain, on behalf of those he represents, takes the ground that the Dominion has no constitutional authority to say how the new Provinces shall conduct their schools. He claims for the Provinces to be created the same rights as Prince Edward Island and British Columbia enjoyed on becoming Provinces. The letter seems to indicate that, no matter what may be done at Ottawa, Mr. Haultain will endeavor to secure from the Imperial Privy Council a decision as to the respective rights of the Dominion and Provincial authorities in regard to education, the control of the public domain and other questions at issue.

THE TEMISKAMING COMMISSION.

Appointment of Men Who Will Finish Construction.

Toronto, March 13.—Saturday's issue of The Ontario Gazette announced the new Temiskaming Railway Board as follows:

Cecil B. Smith, engineer, Toronto.
Dennis Murphy, ex-M. P. P., Ottawa.
Jacob Englehart, Petrolea.

The old board consisted of five members—Robert Jaffray, Toronto; E. C. Gurney, Toronto; M. J. O'Brien, Renfrew; F. E. Leonard, London, and B. W. Folger, Kingston, all of whom, except Mr. Folger, have resigned at the request of the Government.

Six Protests In All In.

Toronto, March 13.—Saturday was the last day for filing protests against elected members of the Legislature, and three more were put in. Dr. Snider challenges the election of Col. Atkinson in North Norfolk, and W. A. Charlton will endeavor to show why C. A. Platt should not hold the seat he won in South Norfolk. Charles Calder, who defeated John Dryden in South Ontario, has a petition against his election also. These make six protests in all—Kingston, Port Arthur, Sault Ste. Marie, North Norfolk, South Norfolk and South Ontario.

WIFE DROPS DEAD.

On Hearing Husband Shot Dead After Killing Three and Wounding Two.

Denver, Colo., March 13.—George Schistler shot and killed Mr. and Mrs. K. Fill and their son in their home yesterday. He then set fire to the house. When attempting to arrest Schistler, Police Captain William Bohana and Police Surgeon Frank Dulin were shot by him and seriously wounded. Schistler barricaded himself and held a large force of officers at bay for several hours, many shots being exchanged. The man was finally killed by Under Sheriff Felix O'Neill. Mrs. Schistler dropped dead when she heard of the tragedy. There had been trouble between Schistler and the Fills over a law suit.

Indian Given Seven Years.

Ottawa, March 13.—Isaac Lottridge, the Indian, arrested at Niagara by Chief Hamilton for horse stealing, was tried before Magistrate Smith and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. The offence was committed in Carleton County several months ago, and Lottridge was caught after a chase of three months.

Mr. Sutherland in Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, March 13.—The Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Public Works in Canada, is here for his health, but he has not found the climate as invigorating as he hoped.

A NIGHTMARE

Gives point to the fact that excessive or irregular eating disturbs the digestion. Nightmare or night hag has its day time correspondence in the undue fullness after eating, with the belchings and sour or bitter rising so often experienced after too hasty or too hearty eating.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia or bad stomach. When the weak stomach is strengthened and invigorated the whole body shares in the increased strength derived from food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.

"I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness induced by chronic indigestion and I felt heavy, tired and worn out continually," writes Miss Mary Smith, of 1620 No. Wahsatch Street, Colorado Springs, Colo. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was the only medicine which relieved me. Within a week after I began using it that heavy oppressed feeling after meals had left me, and I found that I was able to sleep better than for months previously. My appetite was gradually restored, general system was toned up, nervousness became a thing of the past and I have now been in splendid health for over nine months."

Sometimes a selfish dealer tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It may be better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or direct by mail.

CAUGHT RUSSIANS AT PU.

Kuropatkin Admits that Japs Made a Capture.

St. Petersburg, March 13.—Gen. Kuropatkin has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas as follows, under date of March 11, 10.40 p.m.

"To-day the enemy's attack was confined to the rearguard of three Siberian corps.

"The first army echeloned in front of the other armies, continues to retreat toward positions indicated for all the other armies.

"According to a report from the commander of the third army, received today, his rearguard occupied a position on the Mandarin Road, 16½ miles from Tie Pass. Only a small detachment of the Japanese, mainly cavalry, confronted this rearguard.

"On Feb. 28 to March 11, inclusive of 1,190 officers and 46,391 men are missing from roll call. The wounded have been sent north.

"The Japanese casualties have been estimated at 41,000.

"The Japanese captured a retreating Russian column at the Pu River."

PURSUING JAPANESE.

Hotly After Enemy, Inflicting Considerable Damage Upon Him.

Washington, March 13.—Yesterday morning the Japanese Legation received the following cablegram from Tokio:

The report received in the afternoon of March 11 says: "Our various detachments hotly pursuing enemy from all directions and inflicting considerable damage upon him everywhere. Occupied on the afternoon of March 10 a line extending 13 miles to the north of Hunho, and are still continuing the pursuit on March 11.

One detachment, which proceeded northwards on the morning of March 11 from the neighborhood of Puho, met a large column of the enemy retreating northwards, and after a hand to hand fight we enveloped the column, which finally surrendered.

Near Mukden we are now engaged in clearing remnants of the routed enemy, some of whom still continue resistance, while the others come to surrender.

Heaps of Russian corpses are found everywhere.

RETREAT FROM MUKDEN.

Kuropatkin Takes Charge and Disputes Every Inch of Ground With the Japs.

Tie Pass, March 13.—For many versts all the approaches to Tie Pass are covered with troops, artillery and baggage transport pressing northward, and 25 miles away the strong rearguard of troops, which is commanded personally by Gen. Kuropatkin, is retiring slowly, doggedly disputing with the pursuing enemy every foot of ground in order to cover the retreat of the remainder of the army.

The order to abandon Mukden and retreat to the Tie Pass position was given at 9 o'clock on the evening of March 9. It was realised if any point of the Russian line gave way all would be lost. The position in the most extreme danger appeared to be north of Mukden Station, where it seemed for a time the Japanese might break through and entirely cut the lines of retreat. Gen. Kuropatkin concentrated heavy columns there, took command himself.

Before beginning the retreat all the depots, stores and military buildings and everything that would be of service to the Japanese was set on fire. A large amount of baggage and many guns were abandoned. All rolling stock belonging to the main railroad was brought away and not a single car or locomotive was left at Mukden, though some cars belonging to the military roads behind the Shakhe River positions were abandoned.

About 10,000 severely wounded Russians and several hundred Japanese were left at Mukden hospitals, together with a complete Russian medical staff, which was entrusted to the care of the chivalrous Japanese. The remainder of the wounded in hospitals were sent northward and a railroad train remained behind almost with the rearguard, and brought off a train load of those wounded in the retreat, many of them reaching Tie Pass without their injuries being bandaged. Mukden Station was abandoned at 7 o'clock Friday morning.

Bombarded on Both Sides.

The retreating columns were bombarded on both flanks by batteries, which it was impossible to silence, the shells reaching the Mandarin Road from the east with especial frequency from the Villages of Tawan, eight miles north of Mukden and Pu, five miles further north. Under these circumstances retreat was conducted with great precision, which was largely due to the personal efforts of Gen. Kuropatkin, who, with haggard face and uniform yellow with dust, was everywhere when needed.

In ordering a retreat, Gen. Kuropatkin is said to have declared it was done in order to satisfy protesting opinion, and whatever the blame he would take it, which in the light of events seems to show that he best knew the capacity of the soldiers.

For ten hours not a man nor a horse rested, while the wounded were being gathered up on the topsides, i. the rear, and often in the centre, and every energy was bent towards getting out of a trap, the jaws of which were almost upon the Russians. The forty miles of retreat was accomplished in seventeen hours. It was virtually through plowed fields, with enormous dust clouds, which made it impossible to see any distance.

Attempted Assassination.

St. Petersburg, March 11.—Col. Prougolbitsky, Governor of the Province of Kutais, has been the object of an attempted assassination by two men at Sukhumb. The would-be murderers fired six shots from revolvers at the Governor, but he was not struck.

One of the Assistant Commissioners of Police at Warsaw was fatally shot at 7 o'clock last evening by an unknown assailant, who escaped.

Finds Hay Fever Germ.

Berlin, March 11.—Prof. William Dunbar, Director of the Hamburg Hygienical Institute, has succeeded in finding the germ of hay fever in the pollen of rye, maize and certain grasses, and has treated horses with those germs and secured a serum called pollatin, which has been used with good effect, entirely curing many cases.

Healthy and Vigorous.

Mr. John Shelton, the well-known bridge builder, of 101 Sherwood street, Ottawa, states: — "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for Kidney and liver derangements brought on by exposure, and find them better than any pill or medicine I ever used. They cleansed my system and made me feel healthy and vigorous, and better in every way."

To Hide the Disgrace.

Hamilton, March 13.—An inquest was opened by Coroner Ross Saturday morning on the body of the infant found buried under the barn of John Adams, Milligrove, who is generally known as William Marshall. The inquest was adjourned till next Thursday. In the meantime a post-mortem examination will be held with a view to finding out how the child died. The prisoner told the police the child was born on Feb. 23, and died two days later. He says the body was concealed to hide the disgrace.

Parent Will Not Resign.

Montreal, March 13.—"There is not the slightest question of my resignation at present," declared Premier Parent at the Place Viger Saturday morning. "All I want is British fair play," concluded Mr. Parent, "and I think no faction in the Legislature should desire to deprive me of that. My honor has been impugned. I cannot leave office while such a condition exists. I demand that the whole matter be cleaned up, and then I shall be more than glad to fulfil my long desire to resign."

Hanged to Bedpost.

Montreal, March 13.—Sick, penniless, without a friend in the city, and oppressed by a strange dread of having to go into a hospital, Pierre Trudel, a widower, 55, employed as a cook by Mrs. Bissonnette, St. Paul Street, after having gone to confession, hanged himself to the bedpost yesterday afternoon in a room of his lodging house.

Sick Woman's Narrow Escape.

Cornwall, March 11.—The dwelling of Levi Gokey, near Dunbar, was burned to the ground with contents this week. Mr. Gokey had just arrived home with his wife, who is in a precarious state of health, having just returned from Cornwall Hospital, where she underwent an operation for cancer. While Mr. Gokey was putting his horse away the fire broke out. Neighbors saw the flames, and rushing to the house removed Mrs. Gokey before her husband had returned from the stable.

Canadian Nominations Confirmed.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—The Senate in executive session confirmed a number of nominations, including: Robert S. Chilton, Jr., District of Columbia, to be Consul at Toronto, Ont., and Robert Brent Mosher, District of Columbia, Consul at Collingwood, Ont.

Coalition in Norway.

OUR PERMANENT FORCE.

Increase From 2,000 to 4,000 for All Arms in Canada.

Ottawa, March 14.—(Globe Special.)—Owing to the assumption of the fortifications at Halifax and Esquimalt by the Dominion, the permanent force will be increased from 2,000 to 4,000 of all arms. An amendment to the Militia Act will be required this session to permit of the augmentation. Of the additions to the force, at least 1,000 men will need to be infantry.

Sir Charles Parsons will shortly come to Ottawa from Halifax to talk over the matter of the transfer with Sir Frederick Borden. It will then be settled how many Canadian troops will be needed for the two places by July 1.

In anticipation of the demand for garrison purposes upon the permanent corps, recruiting is now going on actively. There is considerable speculation as to the officers to be selected to command at Halifax and Esquimalt.

ONTARIO FRUIT GROWERS.

Hon. Mr. Monteith Promises Consideration—Succession Duties Increase.

Toronto, March 14.—The Co-operative Committee of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association asked the Minister of Agriculture yesterday afternoon for a grant to aid in establishing a system of co-operation in packing and shipping fruit, four new power spraying machines and the appointment of an expert to assist packers and shippers. Hon. Mr. Monteith promised them consideration.

The succession duties for the past two months amounted to $177,000, an increase of $129,000 over the corresponding period last year.

Eight Seats Protested.

Toronto, March 14.—Dudley Holmes has protested the election of M. G. Cameron in West Huron, and F. R. Latchford, Attorney-General, has entered a protest against the election of T. McGarry in South Renfrew. This makes a total of eight protests, the others being Port Arthur, Kingston, North and South Norfolk, South Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie. The petitioners against the election of C. N. Smith of the Soo are Thomas Johnson, contractor; Alex Hand, merchant, and Edgar Brown, broker. The gentlemen who protest against the return of Charles Calder in South Ontario are Robert Myers, David E. Pugh and Samuel Stocks.

GOOD GAME WITH FENELON FALLS

Score was 6-5 in Favor of the Home Team in an Exhibition Game Last Night.

Prospective Trent Valley League Champions Gave Local Intermediates a Close Run.

Left the Ice with Two Minutes to Play and the Score One Against Them.

With the score 6—5 against them and two minutes to play, the Fenelon Falls team left the ice last night for their game with the Peterboroughs. The game was advertised as a Trent Valley League series game, and later an arrangement was affected by which the game was to go to the Fenelon Falls town, and the Peterborough Intermediates were to place their team on the ice, the object being to give the spectators a better game, than would be possible with the T.A.S. City League team, which this season went into the Trent Valley League.

The fact that the Fenelon Falls team defeated Victoria Harbour on the latter's own ice a short time ago lent additional interest to the game of last night, and as a result there was a good crowd on hand to witness it, and they saw a contest between two pretty evenly matched aggregations. The visitors are a fast combination of good skaters and splendid stick-handlers, and are able to give the majority of the teams in the Intermediate O.H.A. a hard game, as was demonstrated when they defeated Victoria Harbour and again last night when they almost tied the Peterboroughs.

The fact that there was practically nothing at stake, since it was an exhibition game, may have influenced the local team in its playing, for they did not play up to their usual standard, and were inclined to mix it up too much, which accounts partly for the closeness of the score, for, when the home team played hockey, as they can play it, they outclassed the visitors, but there were periods in last night's game when they did not play as they are capable of doing, and as a result the Falls bunch who were on the game all the time outplayed them.

The half time score was 6—4 in favour of the visitors, the last two goals being scored in within two minutes of the call of half time.

During the second half, however, they failed to score while the home team notched two, making the final score 6—5. In the second period the home team used their superior weight to advantage and the pace told upon the visitors, with the result as stated.

Irving, of Lindsay, who referred the game came in for some criticism from the spectators, many of whom allowed their zeal to get the better of their judgment, and he was biased, when as a matter of fact he did not deserve it. He was frequently out on his off-sides, and when there was any doubt he gave the benefit to the visitors, for which he cannot be very much blamed, but as far as his decisions on the play were concerned, he cannot be severely criticized. When he penalized a man it was not without some cause, and while there were offences on the part of the visitors which should have been punished, and which were not, on the whole his work was conscientious.

The spectators last night were as impartial as Peterborough hockey patrons usually are.

The visiting team presented a well balanced aggregation, and should have little difficulty in leading the League championship. Their forward line is light but fast, and succeeded in getting through the opposing defence on different occasions when there was no one between the man with the puck and Wasson. The latter distinguished himself time and again by brilliant stops. Oulette and Dayman were the pick of the visitors' forwards, and shared the honours in scoring the goals. "Dodger" Dayman is supposed to be the best man on the team, and his work last night would seem to indicate that he deserves the title.

The teams were:

PETERBOROUGH.

	Wasson.
	Meagher.
	Crowley
	Cavanah.
Parnell.	Morgan.	Graham
Oulette.	Sanford.	Boyce.
	Dayman.
	Burgess.
	Davey.
	Gould.

FENELON FALLS.

The visitors got busy in the early part of the game and scored a lead of two goals. Oulette made a pretty run and succeeded in getting in close to the goal, making a fine shot which Wasson stopped nicely. Boyce got the first goal and Oulette followed in a few minutes with a nice shot. This made the score 2—0, but Cavanah and Morgan indulged in a pretty rush and the latter passed to Cavanah who scored. The next went to the visitors, being scored by Oulette, making the figures 3—1.

One of the nicest pieces of combination of the whole night was when the local forward line went up for a rush, resulting in a score, Cavanah locating the net. The next also went to the home team, Cavanah again doing the trick in 30 seconds. This made the score a tie, three all. Morgan and Parnell went down for a rush and it looked like a score, but Gould stopped a nice shot. Morgan, however, got one in on the nets on a pass from Graham, and just before half time was called the visitors secured two in succession, Davey and Sandford making the scores.

Only two goals were scored in the second half, and these were credited to the home team, Morgan and Cavanah doing the trick. In this half a number of the home players were ruled off. At one time, Graham, Morgan and Crowley were off at once, they were playing four men to seven.

Two minutes before time was up, one of the visiting players was hurt, and retired from the game, and the whole team went off with him, and the game ended with the score 6—5.

Fenelon Falls and Cobourg are now tied for the championship, and the game will probably be played off in Port Hope.

"SKATERS" PLAINT IS REPLIED TO

Mr. E. G. Poole Tells why All Saint's Rink was Closed.

Mr. E. G. Poole, President of the All Saints' Young Men's Guild has sent the following letter in reply to that signed "Skaters" in yesterday's Examiner:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I notice in yesterday's issue of your paper a letter from "Skaters" regarding "All Saints' Rink" and think an explanation is necessary to set ourselves right in the eyes of the public.

In the first place the Church of England's teaching is against all amusements during Lent, which is sufficient reason for closing as we did; secondly, the rink was opened for the purpose of providing a handy place of recreation for our own young people, but as our tickets were so reasonable (the highest being $1.50) a large number of outsiders patronized us, which we are deeply grately for, and if any of them feel they have not had their money's worth, we will readily refund them their money.

The authors of the letter signed "Skaters" are young fellows in the Canadian General Electric Company who should not be taken notice of as they tried to get a number to sign the same and could not, so trusting the foregoing will set us right in the eyes of our patrons, and thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,
E. G. POOLE.

VALUABLE ACQUISITION IN HORSE-FLESH

Recent Purchase by Mr. George Lipsett of Speedy Mare.

Mr. H. A. Cook has disposed of his good mare, Miss Paisley, by Montrose, together with her year-old filly by Direct Hal, 2.04¾ to Mr. Geo. Lipsett, the price being it is said in the neighborhood of $500.00. Mr. Lipsett is now the proud possessor of what he considers the fastest horse in Peterborough bar none and if breeding counts for anything he thinks the filly will be heard from in the near future.

HOCKEY

The Toronto Star says:—"The Rat style of hockey. They have practically six forwards and a goal-keeper. The point and cover-point seldom lift the puck. When the rubber disc reaches their territory away they go on a rush, and instead of merely feeding the forwards, keep right on towards the visitors' goal. They have the same speed and skill as the forwards. When the forwards are conducting an attack by themselves, the point man slips into goal alongside of Eddie Giroux, and the cover-point stands about 30 feet out. This is doubtful wisdom. It has two drawbacks. In the first place, the goal-keeper does not get a fair chance to show his ability; and, secondly, it makes it easy for an attacking forward line if they escape their checks to get right in on the goal with any kind of combination play at all.

But the Rat Portage players have speed of the hair-raising variety. They all are equipped with Winnipeg tube racing skates, and their long, sweeping stroke is the admiration of all beholders. They dodge magnificently, and handle their sticks superbly. Griffis is the wonder of the lot, while the others are as good as Phillips, and everybody knows what that means.

On Thursday night at the Brock street rink the annual hockey game between the All Stars Inside Firemen and the All Stars Outside men. This is an event which is looked forward to with great interest and there will no doubt be a great crowd on hand to see the firemen disport themselves on ice.

The Port Hope Guide says:—Mr. R. A. Mulholland, President of the Port Hope Skating and Curling Rink Co., has received word from Mr. H. S. Clarry, Secretary of the Trent Valley League, that the final game between Cobourg and Fenelon Falls will be played here some night next week. This will be the closing game of the season and will be a handy. See large posters for further particulars.

The Toronto News of Saturday said:—"Harold Armstrong, the cover point of the Marlboros, is, perhaps, the only player in the O.H.A. to-day, who has won three championships. He was on the Peterborough teams which won the junior and intermediate honours, and this season he helped to carry off the honours of the senior series. Armstrong is one of the most consistent players in the Association at the present time, and has few superiors in his position.

Adam Hall's "Souvenirs" were looking forward to play a match last night with the Lead Pipe Cinch Hockey Club, but at noon yesterday Capt. A. Moroney received word that the plumbers could not get a team to play. Several rumors were afloat—some say they were scared to play—some were afraid of being beaten and others say the price of the rink did the trick, but whatever the cause, the plumbers called the match off. The Souvenirs have played two matches this season, both resulting in a tie. The first was two each, and the second one each. So after this treatment Adam Hall's Unsmiths claim the match.—Com.

To-night in the Brock street rink the final game in the Guild League will be played between George street and All Saints' team. Both of these teams have had a good season's record and the final game should be an interesting one. The game will be played between 7 and 8 o'clock, and all ticket holders of the rink may see the contest free, while the price of admission to skaters will also entitle those paying it to see the game.

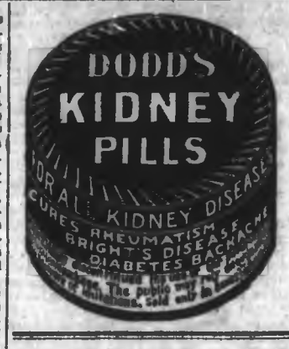
The T. A. S. will play their return match with Cobourg in that town on Thursday night. A strong team will,



it is understood, represent the Abstainers.

George Street and All Saints' Guild League teams will meet to-night to decide the championship of the Guild League.

BASEBALL.

The annual meeting of the Young Quakers will be held on Monday, March 20th, in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

One of the surest signs of spring is the arrival of the advance copy of Reach's Baseball Guide, which came to hand to-day. It contains almost everything in the way of baseball news.

BASKET-BALL.

On March 24th two good basketball games will be played. The Port Hope seniors as well as a junior team from the same town will be here and will play the local teams.

LACROSSE.

On Wednesday night at 8.30 a meeting of all lacrosse players will be held at the Oriental Hotel to consider the proposal to place a lacrosse game on skates at the rink in the near future.

GOOD PROGRAMME WAS RENDERED

At the Third Saturday Night Y M C A "Pop."

The splendid entertainment at the Y. M.C.A. on Saturday night was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number in attendance. Mr. Williamson presided. Mrs. Torrance gave a well executed piano solo, "A Medley of National Airs" which was loudly applauded. Miss Helen Davies sustained her high reputation as a soloist in the singing of an Irish selection. The feature of the evening was the lecture on, "English, Irish and Scotch wit and humour" by Mr. J. H. Burnham. The speaker made some very strong contrasts at the start in setting forth the merits of the humour side of English, Irish and Scotch character. His interpretation of the same as shown in his readings from different authors, was almost perfect. Mr. Burnham succeeded equally well in the brogue of the countries. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the lecture and the chairman tendered their thanks to the talented speaker of the evening.

CONGRESS WILL BE REVIEWED

By Speakers at the S. A. Barracks on Wednesday.

A very interesting service will be given in the Salvation Army Hall Wednesday night, when Adjutant Jennings and Sergt.-Major Braund will speak on their trip to the great International Congress, held by the Salvation Army in London, England last July. Adjt. Jennings will speak of the great anniversary held at the Crystal Palace on July 5th. Sergt.-Major Braund will speak of his trip to the Continent; his visit to the historic battleground of Waterloo. He will give a discription on the blackboard of the battle, showing the positions of the armys engaged, and will show some pictures of farm houses that now stand on the old battleground. There will be other speakers if time permits. The speakers will be dressed in the uniform worn by the Canadian contingent attending the Congress. All are invited. Admission free.

TO-DAY'S MARKET

The following has been received from N. B. Darrell, 337 Water street:—

March 14th.—The fact that the stocks are going into strong hands and that a five per cent. dividend payer is being put on a higher price level indicates that something out of the ordinary is in progress and while we expect some irregularity to-day and a reaction of moderate proportions, we believe that the market will shortly recover and that higher prices will prevail before the end of the week. Nothing has developed that can be considered as disturbing while conditions in the iron and steel industry certainly warrant higher prices for those stocks.—Topics.

MEAT MARKET IN PETERBOROUGH

Lindsay Post Says it is Lower Than in Lindsay.

Evidently the butchers of Lindsay are making good money, as compared with Peterborough butchers, their prices being higher and the license lower, says the Lindsay Post. Following are a few quotations:—A butcher's license in Peterborough costs $10, in Lindsay $5; the highest price for steak in Peterborough is 18c, or 2 lbs. for 25c in Lindsay the best beef sells at 15c per lb straight; best beef roasts in Peterborough 10c to 12c., in Lindsay, 15c; boiling piece in Peterborough, 8c per lb., in Lindsay 8c.; Peterborough shoulder steak, 10c lb., Lindsay shoulder steak, 15c. At last Saturday's market in Peterborough beef was 8c per lb. for fronts and 6c for rumps on Lindsay market beef sold for 6 1-2c and 6 1-2c, and some at 7c. Pork at Peterborough market last Saturday sold at 8c and 9c, at Lindsay it sold at 8c, 9cand 10c.

LOCAL STOCK MARKETS.

The following is from N. B. Darrell, 337 Water street:—

Japanese bonds strong in London. M.O.P. suffered severely from weather in Feb. making further heavy loss in earnings. Outlook for winter wheat considered promising. Stocks plentiful in loan crowd. 54 roads for Jany. show average net increase 12.70 p. c. and for 7 months 8.14 p. c. 15 roads for first week in March show average gross increase of 12.53 p. c. Banks gained from sub-treasury since Friday $01,000. London fortnightly settlement began to-day. Transactions there are now for new accounts.—Dow Jones.

Douglas Shoe Store

At no time in the history of the shoe trade of Peterborough have the buying public been offered such a chance for money saving and worthful merchandise for the season as this opportunity presents. We well know that in order to reduce this mammoth stock to the minimum point just before inventory, cost cannot be taken into consideration and nothing will so quickly convert merchandise into cash as decimated prices. You and I have often read newspaper advertisements announcing great things, but when the searchlight of investigation has been turned on the facts of these so-called great bargain sales, have any of us ever found them to be true in detail? We say no, most decidedly no. It may be they will show you a certain line at a bargain, but if you desire to buy, it will just be discovered, and with much sorrow expressed, that they are out of the size wanted.

RUSSIAN ARMY STILL UNSAFE

Fear Jap Turning Move Which is Now in Progress—May Refuse Russia Money—France Will Not Loan Czar's Financiers More Money Until it Knows More About Russia's Position and Intentions in the Far East—Move Tends to Early Peace.

Tie Pass, March 14.—As after the battle of Liaoyang, the advance of the Japanese army against the new positions of the Russians at Tie Pass is slow. The leading columns are eight or ten miles southward, and in touch with the Russian van posts, but the operations at present are not serious. Field Marshal Oyama shows slight intentions of pressing his advantage in an immediate attack on Tie Pass.

It is possible, however, that a wide turning movement, of which reports are current, is in progress. In such operations the Japanese have the immense advantage of several bases and lines of supply, to which is now added the Sinmintin road, while the Russian army necessarily is dependent on one base and one line of communication, and, therefore, may be outflanked easily.

In the grand army, order is being brought out of chaos with remarkable celerity. The plain in front of Tie Pass, which, on March 11, seethed like a nest of ants with the dense and confused mass of transport, artillery and troops, corps, divisions and regiments being scattered and parties inextricably mingled, has been cleared and the regiments reorganised.

The struggle for the possession of Mukden cost both sides close upon 200,000 men. The Russian loss of officers includes a large proportion of the regimental commanders and field officers.

All the newspaper correspondents, with the exception of three or four, have left for the north, because there is beer nowhere to live and nothing to eat.

It is possible now to give a general view of the battle, the connected story emerging out of the confusion incident to the evacuation of Mukden and the forced retreat to Tie Pass.

On the night of March 9 came the order to evacuate Mukden station and city, with directions that the movement of trains northward must be completed by 5 a.m. The enormous task was completed in nine hours, including the hasty embarkation of wounded, who crowded the station platform and occupied the hospitals. Many had already left in the morning, when the private trains of Kuropatkin, Kaulbars, Sakharoff, Bilderling and Seabelin departed, but thousands remained. At 9.40 p.m. eight trains were despatched and a call was sent to Tie Pass for thirteen locomotives. At 3 a.m. the second string was started northward and at 9.45 a.m. the last train of the third string of sixteen departed. All the trains had from fifty-two to fifty-five cars.

RUSSIANS AT TIE PASS.

Fighting With Rear Guard Continues—Russians Must Take Stores.

General Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, Monday, March 14.—(Via Fusan, March 15.)—The greater part of the retreating Russians are supposed to have reached Tie Pass. The pursuing Japanese have frequent encounters with the rear guard. Gen. Kuropatkin must remove the supplies from Tie Pass if he plans a retirement to Harbin, as they will be necessary to maintain the army during their march The Russians have no stores between Tie Pass and Harbin.

Russian General Hurt.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—General Kuropatkin, in a despatch dated March 14, says he has received no further report of any fighting between organized bodies of troops, and announces that the Japanese are making reconnaissances. In a despatch filed the previous day the Russian Commander-in-Chief notified the Emperor that General Meyendorff fell from his horse on March 10 and fractured his collar bone.

Can Russia Raise Men?

New York, March 15.—A Berlin despatch to The Herald says: The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Cologne Gazette declares that further mobilization is impossible in Russia at present if the mass of people should declare itself against the continuance of the war.

MAY REFUSE RUSSIA MONEY.

French Banks Postpone the Issue—Financiers Are Afraid.

Paris, March 15.—Enquiry yesterday at three banks, principally interested in the proposed new Russian loan, brought the response that it had been decided to postpone the issue. A representative of one of the banks said the postponement was for such an indefinite period that it was not likely the issuance would occur for some time to come. The postponement was attributed to the uncertainties of the war situation.

The Temps says: "It was quite natural that the Paris bankers should refuse to sign a contract in view of the conditions in Manchuria, and the entire ignorance of the financiers concerning the real intentions of the Russian Government."

The paper declares the postponement will continue until Russia's intentions become clear.

The Journal De Debate, in its financial article, says: "Many people consider the adjournment to be evidence that Russian has reached the end of her resources.

DECISION FOR WAR.

Russian War Council to Continue the Struggle With Japan.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—The War Council held at Tsarkoe-Selo yesterday, at which War Minister Sakharoff, General Dragomiroff and others were present, is understood to have decided the question of continuing the war in the affirmative.

Can't Raise New Army.

London, March 15.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of The Daily Telegraph predicts that the Russian authorities will have to battle with an angry sea of troubles in connection with the mobilization of a new army.

The correspondent relates as an example that a few days ago an attempt to mobilize Cossacks in the Kuban district of the Caucasus met with flat disobedience, and that the employment of force led to serious bloodshed.

The Times correspondent at Tokio reports that a conspiracy has been discovered at Seoul to induce the Emperor of Korea to repudiate the Japanese convention and seek refuge in a foreign legation. The conspirators, it is added, have been arrested.

The correspondent at St. Petersburg of The Petit Parisienne reports that Gen. Kuropatkin's resignation has been accepted, and that Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch has consented to take chief command in Manchuria.

Foreign Attaches Captured.

General Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, March 15.—The country is swarming with hungry, disheartened Russians, who are surrendering in squads to any pursuing Japanese they meet. Leading Japanese officers have refused to criticise the lack of mobility displayed while driving the Russians beyond Tie Pass. Most of the foreign attaches with the Russian army, including two American and British officers, were captured at Mukden.

Youth Asphyxiated.

Toronto, March 15.—Eugene Cadieux, aged 17, a student at the Canadian Horological Institute, was found dead in his room at 32 Wilton yesterday morning. Death was due to asphyxiation. The young man's home was Plantagenet, Ont.

British Shippers Complain.

London, March 15.—(C. A. P.)—The recent rise of freights on the C. P. R. and G. T. R. to inland points in Canada is being unfavorably commented on by British merchants and manufacturers.

New Dress Materials

That Fashion Demands for Spring 1905

A perfection of details along specific, well defined lines gives us first place in the import trade. Our prices are not below the values of the goods, but they are lower than you would expect such qualities to be.

Mohairs All The Go

These practical, dust-shedding, yet dainty and stylish fabrics are just the thing for Spring wear. You'll be surprised at the beautiful and striking designs in which the manufacturers have produced them this season. We have them in stripes and checks in the small unobtrusive patterns that fashion dictates in the new colourings.

Tweed Suitings

The new mixtures and coarse weaves in Knotted Tweeds for jaunty street costumes in grey, brown, blue and black mixtures are being greatly admired for early Spring wear. They are unsurpassed for wear and comfort. We are showing an excellent range at 50c, 75c and 85c

Unshrinkable Suitings

The Pirle Finished Blenheim Suiting is one of the most attractive dress materials made, does not spot with rain and will not shrink, and has a beautiful Venetian finish. We are showing it in the new shades of brown, blue, green, pearl grey and black.

Fine Amazons

In plain cloths the Amazons are particularly fascinating, having such a fine, rich finish. We have been most fortunate in our selection of this material and can offer you an ideal quality that is excellent value at $1.25, for $1.00

This particular line is 46 inches wide and comes in the darker shades only.

Cord-De-Chene

has a hard finish and always looks bright, in fact it cleans itself in wear, and makes a very dressy and durable shirt waist suit. We are showing a full range of colourings at 50c

Wool Voiles

Dainty Wool Voiles loosely woven but firm and hard finished, in black, cream and colours

50c, 75c and $1.00

JAPANESE HAVE 40,000 PRISONERS

But the Number will be Increased.

Kuropatkins Generalship Severely Criticized—How he Blundered.

(Special to the Examiner)

With General Oku's Headquarters, March 12th, via Fusan. — Delayed. —Reports received up to last night show that over 40,000 Russian prisoners have been captured by all the Japanese armies, and that over 50 Russian guns have been taken. There are many villages within the Japanese lines yet unoccupied, and it is probable that they contain many more prisoners. In the last stages of the battle General Linevitch's army became completely separated from the remainder of the forces. Captured prisoners report that Gen. Kuropatkin believed he was winning the battle up to March 7th, when Gen. Nogi pressed him strongly on the Northwest. Gen. Kuropatkin ordered the troops on the Shakhe to fall back and defend Mukden thus forfeiting an opportunity to utilize the Hun River, which affords a stronger and more natural line of resistance than the Shakhe. Some of the foreign military observers criticize Gen. Kuropatkin's generalship severely. Field Marshal Oyama's original plan seems to have been to hold the Russians along the Shakhe while working around them with both wings, but the Japanese right was fought to a standstill.

FIERCE HURRICANE ON BRITISH COAST

Australian Ship Totally Wrecked off Cornish Coast—The Queen and Party Storm Bound.

Special to the Examiner

London, March 15th. — A storm of hurricane force burst over the Irish and English coasts during the night. The British ship Khyber, from Australia, has been totally wrecked off the Cornish coast; 23 of her crew were drowned. The departure of Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria, and other members of the Royal family from Portsmouth for Lisbon, which was to have occurred yesterday, has been postponed until to-morrow.

CAMPBELLFORD MAN'S SUICIDE

Thomas Blute Shot Himself Yesterday Afternoon.

Was Discovered by His Daughter—Had Been Unwell for Some Time.

Campbellford, March 15.—Thomas Blute, a well-known resident of this village, and former proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, shot himself yesterday afternoon at his residence. He was discovered by his daughter, lying in the woodshed with a double-barrelled shotgun lying beside him. One barrel had been discharged, the shot entering the lower part of his body.

From all appearance the unfortunate man had placed the stock of the gun on the ground and the muzzle against his body, and, leaning over, had pulled the trigger. Mr. Blute was a man about 55 years of age, and had not been feeling well for some time.

DEATH IN APSLEY OF THOMAS EASTLAND

One of Burleigh's Oldest and Most Esteemed Residents Passes Away.

The death occurred in Apsley on Friday last of Thomas Eastland, one of oldest and most respected residents of Burleigh township at the age of eighty-five years.

The late Mr. Eastland before his removal to Apsley in the sixties, resided in Peterborough, being at that time one of its foremost business men. He was engaged in the livery business on Hunter street, removing later to George street, entering into partnership with the late Robert White, who upon his retirement from that business purchased the stock. He was also the owner of considerable estate in town.

The many old friends of the deceased in town were deeply grieved to learn of his demise. Mr. T. G. Eastland ex-County Councillor and Postmaster of Apsley is a son of the deceased, and Mrs. Peyton W. C. Shewen, who also resides in Apsley, a daughter. One son, Henry, passed away about 20 years ago. The interment took place in Apsley, the funeral being attended in large numbers by friends and sorrowing sympathizers.

RATES QUESTION TO BE DISCUSSED

At Annual Meeting of Ancient Order United Workmen.

Mr. J. J. Turner Sr. Attending the Grand Lodge From Peterborough.

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., is in Toronto attending the 27th annual meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of the Grand Lodge of Ontario. The meeting will be attended by 600 officers and members of the Order, and five of the delegates will be ladies, this being the first appearance of women at the Grand Lodge.

C. E. Cameron, Iroquois, Grand Foreman, presided over the meeting of the Executive Committee at the Temple building yesterday afternoon, when over 50 Grand Officers and other members of the Executive were present. The Grand Officers' reports were presented and referred to the Standing Committees.

The question under discussion by the Executive, and which will be the feature of the Grand Lodge is the question of insurance rates. The Canadian Grand Lodge separated from the American Grand Lodge and instituted an assessment rate according to the age of the member at the time of his initiation. This, in some cases was higher than the former rate and in others lower; but it was hoped that by a fixed rate there would be no extra assessments. The Order has found itself unable to meet the death claims without extra assessments, and there is little doubt but that the executive will recommend an increased rate.

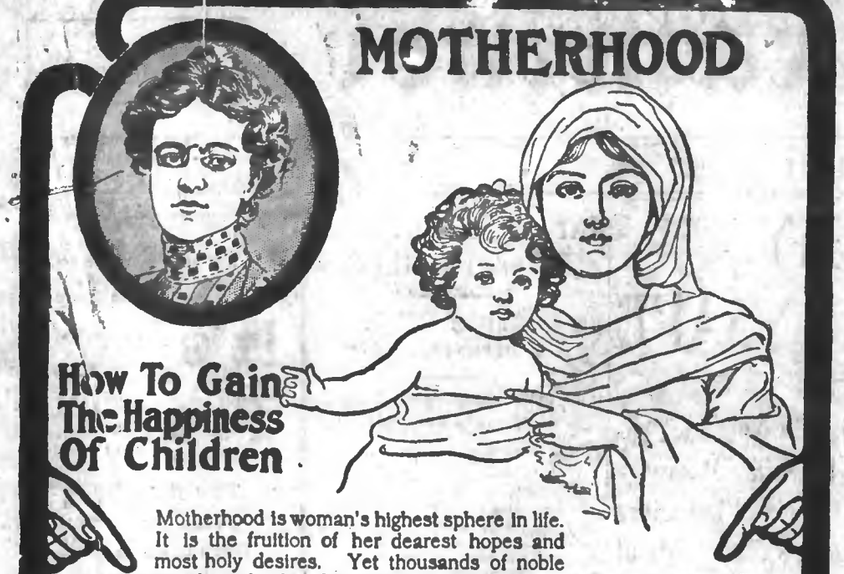
A Special Committee of five is giving this question their consideration, and they will report to-day. To-morrow the result of their deliberations, as presented by the executive, will be the first order paper for Grand Lodge to discuss.

MR. C. E. FROST BUYS BUSINESS

Jewellery Firm Changes Hands—The New Proprietor.

Attention is directed to the change of firm name in Frost's advertisement in the usual place on the 8th page of this issue. Mr. Chas. E. Frost, who has taken over this business, is an expert workman on watches and jewellry, and has a thorough knowledge of the trade in all its practical and business connections. He has been a resident of Orillia until recently, and represented one of the leading wholesale jewellry establishments for a number of years. He has already become well known to many in Peterborough, who will wish him success in his new business career. The new spring novelties which are being opened out, together with the well selected lines of high-grade watches and jewellry in stock, should make this handsome store a favourite shopping place for ladies and gentlemen.

MOTHERHOOD



How To Gain The Happiness Of Children

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and most holy desires. Yet thousands of noble women, through the derangement of the female generative organs brought on by female weakness and disease, are unable to produce children!

Ninety-nine times out of every one hundred Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will so restore and strengthen the female organism as to make child bearing possible, easy, and safe.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

with its record of thousands of cures, is the remedy for women. Thousands of women are happy mothers of beautiful children to-day because in time of need they took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No matter what your female weakness or disease, it will afford you speedy relief and cure. Every woman who desires to become a mother should read these letters:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I had been married seven years and had no children, owing to a female weakness and womb trouble, which caused me severe suffering each month. A lady advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did so, and now I have no more pains and am perfectly well, besides having a fine baby boy. MRS. ROSA F. KABEL, Ravenna, Neb.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Before my baby was born I was in very poor health, and life did not seem worth living. As soon as I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to get better; in fact, I feel that this medicine really saved my life and the life of my child, for it not only helped me during child-birth, but made me well and strong after the child came. I wish every expectant mother would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. MRS. M. KEENER, Hebron, Yarmouth, N. S.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., whose advice is given free to all would-be and expectant mothers. Her letter will give you valuable information.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Theoretical declarations of abstract policy are all very well at election times, but in face of responsibility, and practical considerations, they are afterwards relegated to a subordinate position. During the last Dominion elections the Conservative platform included public ownership and operation of railways. When Mr. Whitney came into power, with a majority large enough to carry out any policy, the Conservative journals hinted that he would be consistent, and take the work of completing the construction of the railway, originated and partially completed by the late Ross Government, out of the hands of the Commission, the Government to build the line. He has not had the courage of his policy, and the policy of his party. He has practically discharged the Railway Commission, charged with the building of the railway, and constituted it anew, with gentlemen belonging to his own party. This is not reprehensible, if a good choice has been made. It is only wrong if the new Commissioners are not as capable as their predecessors. If they will be better, all the better for the interests of the province. The railway must be completed as speedily as possible, for important settlement interests depend upon it.

SUCCESSION DUTIES.

Hon. Mr. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, has announced that the revenue from succession duties for January and February of this year amounted to the large sum of $172,000, an increase of $120,000 over the corresponding period of last year. It must be painful for the Hon. Mr. Matheson to make such a statement. When he was in Opposition for the sake of making political capital, he moved that the rate of duties be reduced by one-half. If his motion had passed the revenue receipts for January and February of this year would have amounted to only $86,000, and the loss to the province since he made the motion would have been nearly a million dollars. Mr. Matheson is in office now and he will better appreciate the importance of keeping all the revenue possible. We shall probably hear no more of the proposal to abolish or reduce succession duties. They are an important source of provincial income paid by the states of very rich persons, not like an ordinary tax falling alike on rich and poor. This revenue is devoted to the maintenance of the Asylums and charitable institutes of the province, and every cent paid in succession duties by a deceased millionaire's estate represents the relief to the provincial revenue of a proportionate expenditure.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The proverb says that all things come to the man who waits. Kuropatkin waited—Oyama came.

Mr. Whitney will make his bow to the legislature on Wednesday, 22nd March, as Premier of Ontario. It is to be hoped, charitably suggests the Bobcaygeon Independent that a mug of water will be convenient for when he bows to the Opposition he may take a fit.

There seems to be no limit to the raids of the United States trusts upon the purses, not to speak of the rights and liberties, comfort and luxuries of the people. We have all heard of beef trusts, food trusts of various kinds, divers sorts of metallic trusts. These have been oppressive enough, but the acme of tyranny is reached when unholy hands are laid upon a popular necessity like golf balls. A golf ball trust has been organized and this iniquitous conspiracy has driven up the price of these essentials of the game to $9 per dozen for the best, and $6 per dozen for the ordinary quality. What next in the way of crushing the poor?

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years or more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." For sale by all druggists.

ENGLISH EXPERIENCE IN MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

A Comparison of the Result of Municipal Ownership in 299 Boroughs is Given.

Shows That "Profit" is Less Than a Third of One Per Cent.—Results Not Satisfactory.

Capital Invested is $605,805,000, and Allowing for Depreciation, Loss is $27,434,725.

Some time ago Sir Henry Fowler prepared a memorandum dealing with 299 boroughs in England and Wales that are operating public utilities, by way of ascertaining what results were being obtained. The population of the 299 boroughs under consideration in 1901 exceeded 13,000,000, and the assessable value $775,000,000. The extent of these business ventures, including waterworks, gas works, electrical supply, tramways, markets, harbours, and such other undertakings classified as productive, may best be realized by the following table:—

Capital outstanding	$466,932,494
Annual payments of principal	4,322,720
Annual payments of interest	14,879,510
Income	$5,202,355
Expenditure	$3,112,150
Net profit	1,891,405

It was at once assumed by many advocates of municipal socialism that this meant success. But before judgment can be found it is necessary to know what sum is provided for renewal of plant and whether adequate sinking funds are set aside. It is found on inquiry that the "profit" is less than a third of one per cent.; that less than $1,000,000 is set aside for depreciation on a capital outlay exceeding $605,000,000, while the danger of thirty and fifty year sinking funds for business ventures which may require complete renewal of plant in twenty and even ten years cannot but be obvious.

In the Windsor Magazine for January J. H. Schooling, in an exhaustive article on Local Rates and Taxes, based upon Sir Henry Fowler's second Return of Reproductive Undertakings carried on by municipal boroughs in England and Wales for the period of four years to March, 1902, deals with the question of depreciation. He points out that the following amounts per $500 of capital were set aside for depreciation:—Waterworks, 23 cents; gas works, 16 cents; electricity, 77 cents; tramways, $2.46. He states in regard to the 1,029 reproductive undertakings given in the return:—"I suggest that, looking at the nature of the undertakings and at the fact that by far the largest amounts of capital are invested in undertakings that involve great wear and tear to machinery, a yearly allowance of 5 per cent. on the capital invested would be a most moderate allowance. Upon this basis I proceed to rectify the nominal profit and loss account as follows:—

Capital invested	$605,850,000
Five per cent. on this for yearly depreciation is	30,292,500
Yearly allowance for depreciation by corporation is	966,870
Extra for depreciation which should be set aside yearly is	$29,325,130
Deduct net profit stated by corporation, which now vanishes	1,891,405
Making the net loss yearly	$ 27,434,725

Thus, after making a most moderate yearly allowance for depreciation, in place of the trivial amount set apart by corporations for this purpose, we see that these 1,029 reproductive undertakings have been worked at a net yearly loss of $27,434,725, instead of (what yearly (nominal) profit of $1,891,405. This means a net yearly loss in the actual workings of these various trading concerns undertaken by the local spending authorities of England and Wales (excluding London) of nearly 5 per cent. per annum—a figure that is, approximately, what their profit ought to be—instead of being a loss, if these 1,029 undertakings were properly conducted.

Evidently there are two sides to the question of socialistic operation of public utilities. There is still room in the world of industry for the expert individual, and brains and capacity are not given to aldermen by popular vote.

THE DAISY D. CHEESE FACTORY

The Annual Meeting Was Held Recently.

The Late News from Norwood—Mrs. Griffin's Funeral—New Wharf at Crowe's Landing

(From our own Correspondent)

Norwood, March 14th. — Mr. Percy Grover of Toronto, is home for the holidays.

Miss Howson and Miss Eason of Keene, were guests at the home of Mrs. A. S. Harrison, last week.

Mr. Stewart Scott is visiting with friends in town.

Messrs. Buck and Walsh shipped this week one car of pigs to Lynn. Price paid, $5.40.

Messrs. Roxburg & Son shipped this week, one car load of peas to Pontypool.

Mr. Arthur Wigmore, who has been head salesman of the firm of Kirkpatrick & Buck, for the last three years, left on Monday for Belleville, where he is taking a commercial course at the Belleville Business College.

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Daisy D. factory of Asphodel, was held on Saturday, Feb. 25. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mr. W. H. Comstock.
Treasurer—Mr. A. A. Fife.
Secretary—Mr. Chas. McNulty.
Auditor—Mr. J. P. Powell.

The directors are to be the same as last year.

Salesman—Mr. Wm. T. Buck.

Mr. D. A. Oakley, the proprietor, and Mr. Wm. Martin, with an assistant, are to be the manufacturers of the cheese for 1905. Mr. D. Hurley purchased the whey for 40 cents per standard. Mr. Chas. King is to draw the cheese at $1.25 per ton. The The prospect for 1905 is very bright, owing to everything proving so satisfactory in the year just past.

Miss Susan Farrell of Madoc, who has been staying with her sister, Miss H. Farrell, left for home on Thursday.

Mr. John Lang, ex-M.P., and Mr. Andrew Shearer of Lang, were in town on Monday on business.

The death occurred on Wednesday, March 8th, at the family residence, lot 14, concession 3, Asphodel, of Mr Michael English, at the age of 76 years, after a lingering illness. The deceased was born in county Tipperary, Ireland, and came to Canada with his father and mother, in 1847. He was the second oldest of a family of eight, of whom two brothers and three sisters survive him, together with a family of ten, Patrick, of Percy; J. J. and William, of Hastings; Michael and Edward, of Asphodel; Mrs. M. Hefferman, Mrs. J. Gallogher, of Percy; Mrs. C. McCarthy, of Norwood; Mrs. E. Fitzpatrick, of Otonabee. The funeral took place on Friday, March 10th, the place of interment being the Roman Catholic cemtery. Requiem high mass was said by Rev. Father Conway. The bearers were Messrs. Wm. Garvey, Wm. Heffernan, M. Garvey, Thos. Hefferman, M. Walsh, P. Heffernan. His brother, Mr. John English, Chicago, and Mrs. Burns, of Buffalo, attended the funeral.

The death of Flora and Lulu, the infant daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rathwell, occurred in Havelock on Monday, the 13th inst, at the age of 8 months and three days. Only three hours elapsed between the two deaths. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, from the family residence, Havelock, the place of interment being the Norwood cemetery. Mr. Rathwell formerly resided in Norwood.

Assistant Engineer, Mr. Fuller, for the Dominion Government was in Norwood to-day getting plans of Crow's Landing, with a view of having a steamboat wharf there. He seems well satisfied that the Government should build one, as it is a necessity, and will report favourably.

The funeral of the late Mrs. S. J. Griffin, Sr., took place from the C. P. R. station on Monday on the arrival of the 12.8 train. The deceased died at her residence 238 Dublin street, Peterborough, on Friday last, and was brought here for burial. Rev. C. Parker, Methodist minister, conducted the funeral. The bearers were Messrs. Thos. Fraser, J. W. McMillan, James Raddon, W. A. Richardson, Sr., W. H. Tucker, John Knox. Those who accompanied the remains were.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Griffin, Jr., Mr. Clayton Griffin, Detroit; Mr. Richard Clark, Millbrook; Mr. Robt. Eason, Mr. and Mrs. John Callan, Jermyn; Mrs. Ottis O'Brien, Wapton, North Dakota.

The young people of the Norwood Methodist Epworth League, drove over to Hastings on Friday night to pay a return visit. Unfortunately the roads were in a very bad condition which made the drive over rather exciting. The pitch-holes being so varied and numerous one would almost think they were on the ocean with a heavy sea running. The Norwood Leaguers had charge of the meet. The principal items on the programme were two papers, "Christ-Likeness," by Miss G. Squires, and another entitled "Our Bible," given by Miss Jenn Fraser. After the programme, refreshments were served in the basement of the church.

It must have been a very enthusiastic mathametician who gave us in fact and figures to-day that for two miles and a half north of the village he counted one hundred and sixty-three pitch-holes. Surely nature is very capricious.

Mr. John Elliott was in the city on business last week.

Mr. Archie Fraser, who has been in the employe of Mr. A. B. Greenbank for the last four years, left on Tuesday for Russell, Man., where he intends to enter into business with his brother, Mr. John Fraser, who is conducting a hardware business in that place.

Mrs. C. J. Searight returned on Monday, after a visit with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. D. A. Fraser was in Peterborough last week.

The Sunday School of the Methodist church has placed a new Gerrard-Heintzman piano in the Sunday School. The officers and scholars of the school have been instrumental in the installation, they being responsible for two-thirds of the price, the congregation pays the other third.

WHAT IS ANTI-PILL?

A Somewhat Peculiar Name Explained —How Dr. Leonhardt Came to Call His Famous Prescription "Anti-Pill."

Dr. Leonhardt found in his practice that chronic constipation and its kindred complaints were the result of a dried-up condition of the mucous membrane lining of the stomach and bowels. He investigated further and found that this condition was invariably brought about by the use of cathartics, which all contain a certain amount of resinous matter.

After the first action of such medicines a resinous residue remains behind and this has a drying effect on the lining of the stomach and bowels.

He made up his mind to produce a medicine for all stomach and bowel derangements which would be entirely free from all resinous matter.

After much experiment he succeeded, and to emphasize the difference between this treatment and the old-fashioned treatments, he gave it the name "Anti-Pill."

Anti-Pill will cure dyspepsia, biliousness, or constipation perfectly and for ever—cure to stay cured—with no pill habit left to be overcome later.

THE HOUSE ACCEPTS

Principle of Hon. Mr. Fisher's Standard Size Apple Boxes.

ASKED FOR BY THE GROWERS

Work of Improving the Channel of the St. Lawrence River—A Safe Waterway From Montreal to the Ocean—Success of the Ice-Breaker — Autonomy Bill Petitions.

Ottawa, March 14.—(Special)—A large number of petitions protesting against saddling the new provinces of the northwest with a separate school system were presented at the opening of the house to-day.

Mr. Fisher varied the performance by presenting two petitions praying that in granting autonomy to the northwest territories a clause should be inserted prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of liquor in the new provinces.

The house went into committee on Mr. Fraser's resolution providing for uniformity in size of boxes in which apples are packed for export trade.

Mr. Fisher added some explanations of the bill. The only change which has been made in the resolution is one providing that uniformity in the size of boxes shall be required only for the export trade. Mr. Fisher said many apple growers were in favor of uniform boxes for the internal as well as the export trade, but it had been decided to take one step at a time.

There was very little hostile criticism of the general principle of the resolution, but objection was taken to some of its details.

R. L. Borden submitted for the consideration of the minister a letter, in which the suggestion was made that the size of the box should be 20x12x8 1-4, which would give a box of 2220 cubic inches. The imperial bushel contained 2,218 inches, and the box proposed would allow for paper and still give our British customers an honest British bushel.

The minister of agriculture said the box proposed in the bill was a compromise arrived at for the sake of giving dimensions without fractions, and was only 18 inches short of the imperial bushel.

The resolution was then adopted and the bill founded upon it introduced and read a first time.

After recess, the vote of $588,000 for the St. Lawrence ship channel was discussed in supply and Mr. Prefontaine explained the contemplated improvements, including the construction of a supply boat at a cost of $160,000, to be used in winter as an ice-breaker. He claimed that the ice-breaker Montcalm had been successful in breaking the ice jam above Quebec, so that navigation would be open three weeks earlier in the spring.

The item, after debate, was passed, and the house adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Suggested Phone Legislation.

Sir William Mulock gave notice that he will move the following resolution:

"That a select committee, composed of Messrs. Burrows, Smith of Nanaimo, Johnston of Cape Breton, Grant, Demers of St. John-Iberville, W. F. Maclean, Sir William Mulock, Boyce and Roche of Marquette, be appointed to enquire into and report regarding the various public telephone systems in operation in Canada and elsewhere, as the committee shall determine, and to consider and report what changes, if any, are advisable in respect of the methods at present in force for furnishing telephone service to the public, such committee to have power to send for persons and papers, to examine persons under oath, and to engage stenographers, clerical and other assistance."

BEHRING SEA FISHERIES.

United States Makes an Offer for Canadian Rights.

Ottawa, March 15.—It is learned that the United States Government have made an offer of between two and three millions for the purchase of Canadian rights in the Behring Sea fisheries. The offer will come before the Government, but it is thought will not be entertained.

The Marine Department has purchased a number of quick-firing Nordenfelts from the British naval stores at Halifax and Esquimalt. The price paid was a nominal one, as the Imperial authorities were desirous of getting rid of them for more modern guns.

Reception to the Canada.

Ottawa, March 15.—The new cruiser, the Canada, has been splendidly received by the British authorities at her various ports of call in the West Indies. At Barbados, on arriving, the Canada fired a salute, when the Governor sent out two A. D. C.'s to call upon her commander. Capt. Knowlton was invited to luncheon at Government House and royally treated. The Canada is allowed to coal from the depots in the port she enters just as though she were a vessel of the royal navy.

Doctors Said That Lumps and External Swellings Would Turn to Running Sores.

Mrs. Jacob Kaehler, Zurich, Ont., says that Burdock Blood Bitters Saved Her from Many Years of Suffering.

She writes:—"Now imagine how joyous and great was my surprise when a friend of mine told me that Burdock Blood Bitters would cure me, so that the lumps and external swellings, which the doctors told me would turn to running sores, would disappear. I took her advice, and can say that I have no doubt but that Burdock Blood Bitters has saved me from years of suffering. It is with the greatest of pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Burdock Blood Bitters has done so much for me, and you are at perfect liberty to use this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

Burdock Blood Bitters is the best blood medicine on the market to-day, and is composed entirely of roots, herbs, barks and berries.

THE STRIKERS CRUSHED.

Interborough Employes Take Old Job at Reduced Wages.

New York, March 15.—The traffic conditions on the elevated railroads and subway yesterday were slightly improved over those of yesterday. All the employes of the Interborough Company who went on strike, and whose wages had been previously advanced because of the length of their services, secured re-employment only at the sacrifice of whatever advance in wages they had obtained.

Experienced motormen were reduced from $3.50 to $3 a day; gatemen from $1.55 to $1.40; guards from $1.90 to $1.55, and conductors from $2.40 to $1.10. So crushed was the strike spirit that the men accepted the reductions without protest.

BLOOD WILL TELL.

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive out the Most Obstinate Case of Rheumatism

Growing pains, aching joints, stiffened muscles, tender, swollen limbs—that's rheumatism—a blood disease that causes ceaseless agony and cripples thousands. It is said in the blood that causes rheumatism. Liniments may ease the pain temporarily—but they never cure. To cure rheumatism you must remove the acid in the impure blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills positively cure rheumatism, acute or chronic. They act directly on the blood, driving the acid out. They make new, warm, pure blood and send it throbbing through the heart, and lungs and limbs. This new blood banishes every ache and pain—brings good health and full activity. Mr. T. H. Smith, Caledonia, Ont., says:—"For a number of years I was badly troubled with rheumatism, and was so crippled up I could scarcely do any work. I tried quite a number of medicines, but they did not help me. Then I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised for this trouble, and I got a number of boxes. Before the third box was used, I found myself improving. I continued to use the pills throughout the winter and they have completely cured me. I got so that I could work on the coldest day without a coat and not feel a twinge of the trouble. I have told quite a few of my neighbours about the pills, and they are a popular medicine here."

It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, pure, warm blood that they have such great power to cure disease. They positively cure rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, partial paralysis, kidney and liver troubles, anaemia, and the ailments which women alone suffer from. The purchaser must be careful to see that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IN TERROR FROM REVOLT.

General Rising in Central Russia is Threatened—Not Directed Against Czar—Landlords Slain.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—Nine proprietors have been slaughtered in the Province of Kursk. A mob of 8,000 surrounded the country seat at Vitovsky, half killed the inmates, and sacked and burned the house. An official was beaten and imprisoned in the local jail. The alarm has even reached Moscow and Nijni Novgorod.

The threatened cities propose to form town guards, fearing that the police and soldiers will not protect them. The movement is becoming a general rising against landlords and officials, but it is not directed against the autocracy. The peasants think that the Czar is the victim of foreigners, as the manufacturers are mostly foreigners. The recent imperial manifesto, which was read in the churches, impressed the villagers with the idea that the Czar wants help against internal as well as external enemies.

The Government has notified the reservists among the striking employes of the state factories that they would be immediately sent to Manchuria if they did not remain at work. The result was that these men at once returned to work. The Government will hereafter regard all striking employes of works executing state orders as reservists, and will act accordingly.

Half Million Loss.

Kharkoff, Russia, March 15.—A fire Monday night, supposed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed shops to the value of $400,000. Nine persons were severely injured.

Wheat in Farmers' Hands.

Winnipeg, March 15.—The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. have just compiled a careful estimate of the wheat remaining in farmers' hands in the country tributary to their 95 elevators, situated all over the wheat belt. After making allowances for seed requirements the percentage is less than 6 per cent. of the whole crop, or equivalent to reserves of under three and a half million bushels which is considerably lower than expected.

Bandits Garroted.

Santiago, Cuba, March 15.—Three bandits—Chacon, Ortiz and Zulueta—convicted of murder, were garroted here yesterday.

Keene Hockeists Won a Game From Campbellford—Other News.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Keene, March 13.—Mr. Wm. Walters, of Courtice, Ont., is visiting his uncle, Mr. Wm. Kemp.

Miss Aggie Doris was the guest of Peterborough friends during the past week.

Miss Helen Beavis of Asphodel, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. (Rev.) Socombe.

Mrs. Geo. Carey, of Midland, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. D. Wedlock.

The Campbellford junior hockey team came up to Keene on Thursday evening and played a friendly game with the local juniors. The ice was in splendid shape and each team played a good game, but the Keene boys were a little the faster, and at full time the score stood 9-6 in Keene's favour. The return match will be played some day this week.

Mrs. Brough, of Lang, has purchased a house in the village and will move here in a short time.

Mr. Matthew Staples has sold his 200 acre farm to Mr. Joseph Manley, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $7,000.

The deputation from the Keene Gun Club which went to Toronto on Tuesday last to interview the Government with regard to the fishing and shooting concession granted to some wealthy Toronto gentlemen in portions of Rice Lake, met with encouraging success. They were informed by members of the Government, that nothing would be done until a rigid enquiry was made into the matter. The views expressed by the deputation with regard to the equal right of all to enjoy the fishing and shooting would receive the earnest consideration of the Government. Hon. J. J. Foy, promised that steps would be taken immediately to see that the law in regard to illegal fishing and shooting was strictly enforced. The deputation returned home on Thursday.

Mrs. J. R. McIntyre, was the hostess at a most delightful euchre party on Friday evening last. After the game refreshments were served. A most enjoyable time was spent by all the guests.

GREAT RECORD OF CANADIAN WEST

Seeding in Assiniboia in February—Grass is Green.

The Medicine Hat News has the following:—

Ploughing has begun all through the Medicine Hat district and some of the farmers have been able to get a certain amount of seeding done. Seeding in February means harvesting in May—surely a world's record and a great feather in the cap of the Canadian Banana Belt. With the temperature hovering around fifty degrees for the last two weeks it is small wonder that old Mother Earth, in this vicinity, is taking on the habiliments of spring—that the grass is coming out bright and green and that Michael Quesnello was able to bring a bottle of grasshoppers into the News office last Thursday.

M. A. Zahniser has the honour of being the first to put in wheat this season—on the 23rd ult. This is no doubt a record for the Canadian West.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Bensfort, March 14. — The seeding demand will be less this year for what are known as fancy peas than usual, owing to rather slow movement of last year's crop.

Although the snow has made the roads bad for travel, the present is the month of the season for real business.

Mr. S. Higgins, who has been living near Orillia for some time, removed with his family on Wednesday to reside by the Bensfort Bridge.

On Sunday morning, the 12th inst., there passed into rest, Mr. John Thorn, sr., who has been a life-long resident of lot 16, in the 4th concession of South Monaghan. Deceased who had reached the ripe age of 80 years, was highly respected and was always known as an obliging and kind neighbour. He leaves to mourn his loss a family of five sons and three daughters, and his widow, all well provided for and residing in Otonabee and Monaghan respectively, except the fourth, William, who resides in Ops. The funeral procession was a very large one. The interment took place at Zion cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work well and strong. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Kingston Man Killed.

Syracuse, March 15.—The Empire State Express, westbound, killed two men at Dewitt, five miles east of this city, to-day. They had stepped from an accommodation train to cross the station, and walked in front of the Empire. They were instantly killed. The dead men were later identified as Brockter Pinan of Kingston, Ont., and R. W. Smith, home not known.

Old Man Frozen Dead.

Syracuse, March 15.—An unknown man about 80 years old was found dead in a standing position near a straw-stack on a farm near Syracuse yesterday. The body was frozen stiff, and the feet were so imbedded in the frozen ground that the body had to be chopped out.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Brock's Age is 115 Years.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1793.

His age is 115 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme old age to the use of Peruna."

Born before the United States was formed
Saw 22 Presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Shod a horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Peruna.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years.
Believes Peruna the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan county, Texas, has lived for 115 years. For many years he resided at Bosque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 115 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 115 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1898. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1898, and also the Chicago-Times Herald of same date. This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years.

In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have found—

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for all men to do that are due directly to the climate at the climate. For 115 years, I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States.

"I have always been a very healthy man, but of course subject to the little affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds and diarrhoea.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy Peruna, I have found it to be the best, if not the only, reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy.

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine.

"When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease.

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Peruna was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh, I tried Peruna for la grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a later letter dated January 31, 1900, Mr. Brock writes:

"I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. The only thing that bothers me is my sight. If I could see better I could walk all over the farm and it would do me good. I would not be without Peruna."

Yours truly,

Isaac Brock,

WERE MARRIED IN TORONTO

Mr. H. H. Grey and Miss Edith Potter Wedded.

A wedding of considerable interest in Peterborough was celebrated last night in Toronto, at the residence of Mrs. Elsley Woodburn, cousin of the bride, when Mr. Herman H. Grey, eldest son of Mr. Wm. Grey, of town, and Miss Edith Potter, also well known here, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate friends of the contracting parties being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Grey, after a short honeymoon trip, will reside in Orillia, where the former occupies the position of District Manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Among the many presents which they received was a handsome remembrance from the B.A.C. Club, of which Mr. Grey was a member until his departure from town.

New York Millinery Parlours 431 George Street.

The fashionable millinery establishment to be opened by Miss Costello, late of New York, in the north store now occupied by E. F. The address delivered at the Y.M.C.A. Hall to the Woman's Art Association, of Peterborough, by Mrs. Dignam, president of the Toronto branch of the Association, was largely attended. The speaker's remarks upon artistic subjects, particularly those pertaining to the work of the Association, contained much information, and were listened to with close attention. The chair was occupied by Mr. D. Hughes Charles, who, in a brief opening address, complimented the members of the Association upon the splendid result of their efforts, and referred to the excellence of the work on exhibition by local artists. The townspeople generally would appreciate what has been done and its influence would be widely felt.

Mrs. Dignam in her opening remarks, referred to the organization of the Woman's Art Association of Canada, it being the first organization of this nature in the history of art. The artistic impulse expands, and to-day woman, owing to organized effort, has her share in every art movement. Mention was made of the various decorative crazes which have swept over the country, and the pernicious influences accompanying them. These had been short lived, however, owing to the campaign of education resulting from united effort.

The aim of the Association, and the various branches of art included in its work, were explained. Good results had been attained in Toronto by the inauguration of open-studio days.

The instruction in various handicrafts, such as Ceramics and Bookbinding, had met with much success. Some interesting remarks were added with reference to the textile branches of the art, and the beautiful work of this nature, in the manufacture of ecclesiastical vestments in medieval days in the monasteries, spoken of. True art has a spiritual significance and does not indulge in crazes without raison d'etre.

The Association's work of organization will soon be complete from extreme east to extreme west, branches having been established in leading centres of the country.

The speaker then gave a description of the incidents connected with her removal to Toronto from New York, and the formation there of the Woman's Art Association. Special courses of lectures were arranged, and the Association gradually expanded, branch after branch being added, till it now covers the whole Dominion. The work has proceeded harmoniously and successfully. A federation was later arranged with the International Congress of Women, and resulted in much broader work. An alliance was also formed with the society in Rome and Women's Institute of Great Britain. The society is also in close personal touch with the societies in Berlin and Holland. The success scored by the Canadians in Arts and Crafts Exhibitions at the St. Louis Exposition, was also commented upon. A few remarks were then addressed to students with regard to courses of study. In addition to practical work from models the stimulus given by regular sketch classes was mentioned. As much out-of-door work as is practicable should be proceeded with. The advantages afforded by the Association in the transfer of pictures from point to point, and the opportunities for study rendered possible in this way were spoken of.

A few remarks addressed to honourary members were also added, and number of interesting and instructive courses of study suggested. A brief sketch of course of study which had been inaugurated about three years ago by the Association in Toronto was given. This commenced with a conscientous study of the Old Masters of the Italian Renaissance period.

The "Virgin" in art was next taken up and given systematic and regular study. Many of the other courses of instructive and profitable study were mentioned. Great works of art are frequently inconsistent with nature, the speaker observed. True art must rise above the world—nature being the vehicle through which the representation of spiritual conception is presented. The restraints of academic technicalities were commented upon. It is for higher things that the Art Association must stand, not for trivialities.

The achievements of the Society through their organized efforts throughout the world for the same purposes and end were spoken of. This was followed by some comments upon the success of the French-Canadian craftsmen in the manufacture of homespuns, their productions of this kind ranking higher than those of any other country. The work done by Indians in many lines of art, had been encouraged, and in some sections much benefit had resulted. The establishment of art potteries in Canada is a feature of artistic effort along new lines, the accomplishment of which is to be desired. Our great natural advantages in this respect afford splendid possibilities for future development.

The crafts movement was a necessity in order to prevent the deterioration of machine-manufactured articles, as well as for the intrinsic beauty of the work, the expression of the artist's individuality lending an added charm to the production. It assists in the formation of an artistic impulse and by no means conflicts with the commercial world. In short, the speaker summarized it means study of everything individual and everything accomplished must be the result of serious effort.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot, seconded by Mrs. J. R. Stratton.

DURING THE DAY.

The exhibition was visited during the day by many admiring callers, and expressions off delight at its excellence were heard on every side. The exhibits of old laces formed a subject of much comment.

Amongst other exhibitors are: — Miss Tucker, lace d'oylles, manufactured from the Peruvian lace tree, the edge being fringed from the natural wood.

Mrs. Dignan, Milanese lace, 18th century, needle-point Milanese lace. Veil Valenciennes, Russian pillow lace.

Miss Cameron Edwards, lace worn at a ball given by the Princess of Wales, (now Queen.)

Mrs. Jas. Dunsford, christening robe worn 100 years ago; hand made embroidery and turned lace, Irish point lace, date about 1700.

Mrs. Fairbairn, lace worked previous to 1833.

Miss Barlee, Veil, Carrickmackross lace, 100 years old; Honiton lace, Irish crochet lace.

Miss Gardiner, old Limerick lace, Carrickmackross lace collar.

Lace collar formerly the property of Miss Agnes Strickland, author of "Queens of England."

Miss Prowse, Honiton lace handkerchief, date 1770.

Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Irish embroidery Limerick lace, Maltese lace fichu; Spanish lace scarf; Maltese lace bride's cap, worn 70 years ago; Swiss embroidery.

Miss Barnet, Renfrew, hand embroidery.

Miss Laura J. Davidson, lace cap.

Robert Fair, Rose point lace, Brussels lace.

An interesting exhibit of textile work from the Arts and Crafts shops, Montreal, is also on view.

ST. THOMAS' FINE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

An Educational Building Which is a Credit to That City.

In view of the fact that Peterborough is soon to have a new Collegiate Institute, the accompanying cut of the St. Thomas Collegiate may be of interest to Peterborough citizens. The building is an imposing structure, as all the public buildings in that city are, and is a credit to the citizens.

The fact that other places, where the population is not as large as that of Peterborough have splendidly equipped educational institutions, should prove an incentive to Peterborough citizens to not be satisfied with anything less than the best.

Education is the one item of expenditure in which we cannot afford to practice false economy.

When the new building, work upon which will be commenced in the early spring, has been completed, Peterborough will have a Collegiate Institute of which it may well be proud.

The accompanying cut is loaned the Examiner by the St. Thomas Journal.

"CITY OF THE SEVEN HILLS"

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner Gave an Interesting Lecture Last Night.

Under the Auspices of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild—A Delightful Evening.

Last night the Sunday school room of St. Paul's was crowded on the occasion of the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild, and not only were the young men in attendance but there were very many ladies.

The programme for the evening was a lecture by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, on "The City of the Seven Hills," and it was a most enjoyable one. Mr. Kenner spoke for over an hour on Rome, and its many interesting features, and his lecture was illustrated with a large number of views of the most prominent features of the city, shown by Mr. J. A. Fife, B.A., of the Collegiate Institute staff, and constituted one of the enjoyable features of the evening's programme.

The chair was taken by Mr. P. McLean, president of the Guild, and after devotional exercises by Rev. Dr. Torrance, Mr. John Crane favoured the audience with a spirited rendition of "Long Live the King," sung in splendid style and heartily encored. Miss Lillian Moore followed with a beautifully rendered home song to which she also was obliged to respond with a recall selection. Miss Helen Davies also sang to the great delight of the audience, and her first selection was also enthusiastically encored. The accompanists to the soloists were Miss Davies and Mr. Crane.

Mr. Kenner's lecture was the next and most important number on a most delightful programme, and for more than an hour the lecturer kept his audience enwrapt with his beautiful word picture of the ancient city of Rome, and its attractions for the traveller.

In introducing his lecture, Mr. Kenner said:

While it may be true that the Old World looks rather towards the past, while the New World is gazing towards the the future. We must not forget, however, that we are the descendants of the ages, and that, as Lowell admirably says, "Ride fast and far as we may, we carry the past on our crupper as immovably seated there as the black care of the Roman poet."

A justifiable and even praiseworthy motive for a foreign tour is the wish to see with our own eyes, and to tread with our own feet, places which make the great events of history, the heroes of biography, and the masterpieces of art more vivid to our consciousness than they can ever be while a great ocean intervenes and they are merely read of and imagined. Hence all who visit the Old World with true, appreciative interest, are really pilgrims to the homes of genius, shrines of art, scenes of epoch-making action, and tombs of the illustrious dead. Moreover, this desire, though naturally strongest amongst us of the New World, is shared by lovers of the historic and beautiful in every land. Whatever be their language, nationality, or faith, all students of the past are heirs together in the heritages of history; and under the broad dome of heaven the homes of noble minds and the scenes of heroic action become our universal sanctuaries.

One of the most important of these sanctuaries is the City of the Seven Hills. Why should this ruined city of the past prove more attractive than any other capital? The cause is doubtless this:—That more than any other spot on earth, Rome centres in itself the history of the race for seventy centuries. Absorbing by its universal conquests the fruits of all preceding civilizations and the treasures of all lands, it is historically, the intellectual capital of the world. The current of continuous historic life flows through it now as surely and inevitably as the Tiber. Its modes of Government, politics, art, jurisprudence, military science, and church history have traveled farther even than the Roman legions till they have reached the confines of the globe. We are in many ways Rome's offspring. In every sentence that we speak, we use perhaps unconsciously, some relics of her glorious language; much of our varied culture has come direct from her literature; and many of the laws which keep our social framework from disintegration were first promulgated beneath the arches of the Forum. Nor is this strange, for Rome was what no other place has ever been, the one administrative centre of the world. All other capitals, however great, were in comparison petty and provincial.

The secret is not merely its antiquity. Athens is still more ancient, yet it possesses no such charms. It is not solely its relation to Christianity. Constantinople was for centuries the Eastern Capital of the Christian church, in some respects more striking and magnificent than Rome; and yet how small is the attraction of the Bosphorus compared to that which lures us to the Tiber?

Its massive ruins, shattered gray, gnawed by the slow tooth of time, have in their decay a gloomy majesty and nobility such as no brand new creations of to-day, no Washington Monument, no Eiffel Tower, no just finished Cathedral, no Hydraulic Lift Look can hope to rival. There still clings about those ponderous masses of honest brick-work and squared stone something of the indomitable will, the proud self-sufficiency, the calm endurance of their builders of twenty- centuries ago.

The pictures shown by Mr. Fife with his stereopticon electric lantern were:

The Tiber.
Piazza del Popolo with obelisk.
Square of the capitol.
Equestrian statue of Marcus Aurelius.
The Dying Gladiator.
The Resting Satyr of Praxiteles, or Marble Faun.

At the conclusion of the lecture, a vote of thanks to Mr. Kenner and those who had assisted in the programme, was moved by Mr. J. H. Connal and seconded by Rev. H. B. A. Ketchen, and unanimously carried by the audience. The meeting was closed by the benediction pronounced by Mr. Ketchen.

THE ODDFELLOWS VISIT MILLBROOK

Degree Team of Otonabee of Confer Degrees.

Pleasant Evening was Spent Last Nigh —A Special Oddfellow Train.

Last night about sixty members of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F., visited Millbrook Lodge, No. 309, going by specail train. The object of the visit was to confer the three degrees upon nine candidates for membership in Millbrook Lodge.

The first, second and third degrees were conferred by the visiting team, and were carried through in good style and called forth many expressions of commendation from the members of the local Lodge.

A vote of thanks was passed to the visiting brethren for their kindness in going to Millbrook, and conferring the degrees, moved by Dr. Kinnon, and seconded by Rev. W. J. Johnston.

Lieut.-Col. Miller responded on behalf of Otonabee Lodge and expressed the pleasure which the members of that Lodge felt in visiting their Millbrook friends. They had enjoyed the visit very much.

After the business had been transacted supper was served in the Sons of England Hall, and about two o'clock the visiting Oddfellows started for home, after having spent a very pleasant evening.

Millbrook Lodge is in a very flourishing condition, the present membership being 92, and the Lodge has been instituted eleven years. The members are progressive and make excellent entertainers.

Everyone is cordially invited to see this lovely room.

TEAMSTERS PETITION FOR $3.50 PER DAY

The Council Asked to Fix That Sum as a Rate for Teams on Corporation Work.

At the next meeting of the council a petition will be presented from the teamsters of the town asking that the rate of payment for teams be fixed at $3.50 per day for wagons containing a cubic yard and a half of gravel, sand, earth or stone. If the teamsters have enough pull they may get their petition through successfully. The same movement was made last year but began too late in the season.

ADDRESSES TO-NIGHT AT THE BARRACKS

Adjutant Jennings and Mr. R. C. Braund Will Speak on European Experiences

Two interesting addresses will be delivered to-night at the Salvation Army Barracks. Adjutant Jennings will speak on the Crystal Palace Demonstration in London, giving a description as well of many of the sights and places of interest in that city. Mr. R. C. Braund will give an address on his trip to the continent, a particular feature of which will be a descriptive sketch of the field of battle of Waterloo as it appears to-day. The speaker's remarks will be illustrated by a diagram of the field. Both speakers will be dressed in Canadian contingent uniform. Everyone is invited. Admission free.

To-night the 57th Regt. Band will be at the Brock street rink. The ice is as hard as it has been all season. Go to the Brock street rink to-night.

THE CONSPIRACY CASES.

His Lordship Judge McMahon, in Charging the Grand Jury at Belleville, Reviews the Evidence.

Belleville, March 15.—The ballot box cases are on again in this city. The Assizes opened at 2.30 yesterday afternoon, and Judge McMahon, in his charge to the grand jury, directed most of his remarks to the conspiracy case, which, he said, from the number of accused persons, and the large amount of territory covered, was evidently one of large dimensions. The false ballots and false ballot boxes were only the means to an end. The principal parties who had conspired to use them were candidates for Parliamentary honors and it was charged that the boxes were to be used to defeat the candidates opposed to W. J. Shibley and Byron O. Lott. Neither of the former candidates were now in the country, and could not be tried, yet it was necessary that the witnesses should appear in the indictment. The judge then reviewed the evidence given at the preliminary trial.

It was not apparent from the evidence at the preliminary examination, the judge said, that the Hastings County plotters had been able to secure any ballots. The charge against the accused, the judge said, was a very serious one. The attempt to steal an election was an attempt to do a great wrong and deprive the people of their legal rights. The crime of conspiracy was then described to the jury, it being, the judge said, a case when two or more persons conspired together to do an unlawful act by unlawful means. Conspiracy was the essence of the charge; if that were proved, whether the object were attained on not, the accused ought to be convicted. There were some persons accused who were not connected with the case when it first started, but if it was proven that they were brought into the case before it ended, that would be sufficient, and they were equally guilty of conspiracy with those who started it.

There was also on the docket a charge of criminal libel, Porter v. Carman, but His Lordship said he would wait till the conspiracy matter had been deliberated upon before he charged them in connection with the criminal libel case.

The grand jury then retired, but the evidence in the conspiracy case will not be presented to them till this morning at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Hellmuth, the Crown Prosecutor, is quoted as saying that he will require all day to present his case. The conspiracy cases will be tried separately, that of F. J. Reilly of Kingston being taken up first. He will be defended by E. F. B. Johnston, K. C., of Toronto, who will also defend ex-Magistrate Harryett. Whelan will be defended by Mr. O'Flynn of this city, who will be associated with W. R. Riddell, K. C., in the defence of Ruttan.

DEFENCE IS INSANITY.

Mrs. Dee on Trial for the Murder of Her Husband.

Woodstock, March 15.—In the Dee murder trial here yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, a neighbor of the Dee family, swore that Mrs. Dee, the accused, on one occasion, when complaining of her unhappiness and her husband's ill-treatment, and referring to Dee, had declared: "Oh, I'd kill him if I could!"

Mrs. Kennedy related that Mrs. Dee had at various times stated that she couldn't get along with her husband, and that her life was most unhappy. She frequently expressed the wish to get away from all her trouble. Mrs. Kennedy believed Mrs. Dee to be of sane mind and responsible for her actions.

Jones Kennedy, another neighbor, also considered the accused of sound mind. He had known her for seven years, and personally he knew that Dee and his wife did not get along well together.

Matthew Wilson, K.C., crown prosecutor, in his preliminary address to the jury, stated that evidence would be produced to show that Mrs. Dee purchased poison in Ingersoll two months before Dee's death.

He said that strychnine was found in the stomach of the deceased, and in the cake he had eaten for breakfast.

The plea of the defence is insanity.

The case will be continued to-morrow.

London, March 13.—Live cattle are quoted at 10¾c to 12¼c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8c to 8¾c per lb.; sheep, 12c to 13c per lb.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market since Friday last were 48 car loads, composed of 938 cattle, 700 hogs, 374 sheep and lambs and 72 calves.

About five loads all told, the bulk of which were picked up in small lots out of mixed loads of butchers, sold all the way from $4.50 to $4.90 per cwt., the bulk going at $4.60 to $4.75 per cwt. Export bulls sold from $3.25 to $3.75 per cwt.

Too many half fat butchers' cattle are being marketed. The same complaint is common on all the leading live stock markets, according to the reports in the United States papers. Grain is selling at too high a price to feed, and farmers are not finishing their cattle. If drovers keep on losing money as they say they are doing they will soon learn to discriminate between finished and unfinished cattle. A few prime and choice cattle of quality good enough to export sold as high as $4.90 to $4.90 per cwt.; choice picked lots at $4.15 to $4.30; loads of good, of which there were few sold, at $3.90 to $4.05; medium, $3.50 to $3.75; common, $3 to $3.40; cows at $2.25 to $2.85; canners at $1.25 to $2 per cwt.

Several loads of feeders, principally short-keeps, changed hands at firm prices, as there was a good demand from farmers and dealers that had orders from the country to fill. Feeders, 1,100 to 1200 lbs., sold from $4.15 to $4.50, those at the latter price having been brought in as shippers; feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, $3.90 to $4 per cwt.; those 800 to 900 at $3.40 to $3.60. These quotations and weights are for cattle of fair to good quality as regards breeding.

About 25 milch cows and springers, of which the bulk were of common to medium quality, with few choice, sold at $30 to $50 each.

The season of the year has come when too many young calves are rushed on the market. Butter, milk and cream being in demand at high prices, farmers are anxious to get rid of their calves at any price. The market was as usual again overstocked with inferior calves. Prices ranged from $3.40 to $6 per cwt. or $2 to $10 each. Few brought the latter prices.

Deliveries of sheep and lambs amounted to 374. All of good quality sold readily at a little firmer prices. Wesley Dunn, who is generally the heaviest dealer, reports as follows: Export ewes at $4.50 to $5.12½ per cwt.; bucks, $3.50 to $4.25 per cwt.; mixed common lots at $3.50 to $4.00 per cwt.; grain-fed yearling lambs at $6.50 to $7.12½ per cwt.; barnyard or common rough lambs, $5.50 to $6.50 per cwt.; spring lambs at $4 to $8 each.

Mr. Harris bought about 700 at an advance of 15 cents per cwt. over Friday's prices, or 25 cents per cwt. more than he paid one week ago. Selects sold at $7 and lights and fats at $6.75 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

Royalty's Visit to Lisbon.

London, March 15.—Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria and Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark started yesterday to visit the King and Queen of Portugal. The trip is largely for the benefit of the health of Princess Victoria, who recently was operated upon for appendicitis. Sir Frederick Treves, surgeon-in-ordinary to the King, accompanied the party.

Given Eight Years.

Cobourg, March 15.—George Collins and Arthur Morrison were sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary yesterday for a brutal assault at Colborne last fall.

Has Reached $14,373.

Toronto, March 15.—Up to late last night, E. B. Osler, M. P., acknowledged the receipt of $14,373 for the E. F. Clarke testimonial fund.

BALFOUR ON GARRISONS.

But Canada's Offer to Provide Garrisons Will Soon Be Ready.

London, March 14.—(C. A. P.)—In the course of the debate on the army estimates in the House of Commons, the Secretary of State said the Dominion Government had offered to assume at an early date the entire responsibility for garrisoning Halifax and Esquimalt, providing Canadian troops for the purpose, and until those troops were ready, paying the cost of the Imperial troops retained at those stations.

"Arrangements for this are not yet complete, but I have no doubt a satisfactory conclusion will soon be reached."

For British Postage Reduction.

London, March 14.—(C. A. P.)—Sir Gilbert Parker will on Thursday present a deputation of Members of Parliament, from both sides of politics, to the Postmaster-General, and place before him the case for the reduction of rates on British magazines and weekly papers to Canada. Sir Gilbert Parker will also hand to the Postmaster-General the petition signed by the President of the Canadian Press Association and other heads of important public bodies in Canada, praying for a reduction of the magazine rate from fourpence to a penny.

True Bill Against Mrs. Dee.

Woodstock, March 14.—At the Assize Court here yesterday afternoon the Grand Jury returned a true bill against Mrs. William Dee, on a charge of murdering her husband last October. The case continues before Chief Justice Falconbridge this morning. It is alleged that Mrs. Dee poisoned her husband. The latter died suddenly immediately after his breakfast on Monday, Oct. 21. Poison was found in his stomach, and before the inquest his wife was arrested. It is claimed that the couple frequently quarrelled. Both are about 35 years of age.

Sunday Cars Ran.

Port Arthur, March 14.—Port Arthur operated its street cars through Fort William Sunday, despite the objection of Mayor Rutledge of that town, who stated that he would not sanction the operation of the cars through the town on the Sabbath. The action of Port Arthur is the result of the recent decision of the Supreme Court. Superintendent McGayley informed Mayor Rutledge that Sunday cars would be operated through Fort William. The Council will take action to stop the service.

Heavy Sentences Imposed.

Winnipeg, March 14.—A sensation was caused yesterday by the heavy sentences meted out by Judge Richards to two highwaymen convicted before the Grand Jury, and who, for some time, terrorized the city. John Sanderson was given fifteen years and seventy-five lashes, and William Macdonald ten years and seventy-five lashes. The severity of the sentences is due to the brutality of the men to the victims they held up. They kicked one man in the face after robbing him.

Fatality at an Election.

Madrid, March 14.—Disturbances have occurred here, at Barcelona and at Valencia, on the occasion of the Provincial elections. At Valencia revolvers were fired and swords were used. One man was killed and many wounded.

DR. MACAKY'S SPECIFIC

For the Treatment of

Alcoholism

Used in Connection with the Province of Quebec Probation System with Unvarying Success.

The City Council of Montreal has endorsed this marvellous discovery. The Finance Committee of Montreal recently voted $500 to defray the expense of placing the medicine in each of the city Police Stations, as prompt application of the Treatment to bad cases will prevent the fatalities continually occurring in the cells.

No Sanitarium is required. The treatment can be taken at home. No special diet required. The desire to reform is simply necessary and spirits avoided for a few days.

This medicine is now within the reach of all, the price having been reduced. The wonderful results obtained with the worst cases of drunkards coming before the Judges of the Recorders' Courts in Quebec and Montreal warrants the statement that the disease of Drunkenness can be cured—readily and surely—under ordinary circumstances and with the reasonable desire upon the part of an inebriate.

This treatment is simply the medicine of the medical profession—the only secret is as to its administration.

Dr. Macky's discovery is the result of 25 years of practice as a specialist and expert. He is a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec.

The Government of Quebec through the Judges ordered over 500 cases of the medicine for prisoners appearing in the Courts in 1904—Official Reports establish 80 per cent. of cures with these cases.

With the public and official endorsation and the record of results published it is unnecessary to waste money experimenting further. All communications private.

IN PEACE'S DIRECTION.

Change Noticed in Japanese and Russian Embassies in London.

London, March 14.—While reports of peace negotiations are not confirmed at the Foreign Office or the Russian or Japanese Embassies, a distinct change of opinion obtains in diplomatic circles. Where heretofore talk of propositions for peace always have been minimized, now peace evidently is expected. This change particularly is noticeable at the Russian Embassy, where it was stated yesterday that it was probable, however, that Emperor Nicholas, influenced by public sentiment, might consent to negotiations. The Embassy said the St. Petersburg despatches yesterday summed up the situation correctly. It was said at the Embassy that certainly no negotiations had hitherto been attempted by either of the belligerents, but, "when negotiations commence it will not be through another power, but direct with Japan." At a neutral Embassy, however, the opinion was expressed yesterday that the German Emperor would be the peacemaker for Russia.

Britain's Army Estimates.

London, March 14.—The army estimates for 1905-06, issued yesterday afternoon, total $149,065,000, an increase of $4,915,000 over the last estimates. The increase is due to the provision of $6,665,000 for the re-armament of the artillery. Otherwise there would have been a decrease. The estimates provide for a total force, home and colonial and exclusive of India, of 221,300 men. The expenditure for the North American and West Indian stations is estimated at $3,125,810.

Iron Ring From Human Blood.

"Iron in the blood" expresses no doubt a chemical fact as well as a figure of speech, but probably not one in a thousand even among chemists ever saw ferrum sanguinis materialized to visible metal. This feat, however, has been performed by M. Barruel, head of the chemical laboratories of Paris. M. Barruel, who has in his time practiced much phlebotomy on the human subject, has systematically extracted chemically the ferrum from the other constituents. This he transformed into minute globules or "pearls" of iron. At last the idea occurred to him to have them all welded together, and the result is an iron ring made from human blood, which he wears on his finger.

Curious Leaseholds.

Some of the English tenures are exceedingly curious. A farm near Broadhouse, in Yorkshire, pays annually to the landlord a snowball in midsummer and a red rose at Christmas. The manor of Foston is held by a rental of two arrows and a loaf of bread. An estate in the north of England is held by the exhibition before a court every seven years of a certain vase owned by the family, another in Suffolk by an annual rental of two white doves. The British Government holds land in Chatham by paying the heirs of the man from whom it was bought two peppercorns. The man's descendants now live in Holland, and the peppercorns are annually sent thither in a gold box.

Why An Emulsion?

Because an emulsion (Scott's) of cod liver oil is agreeable to the taste, while the plain oil is repulsive. Because Scott's Emulsion is easily digested, while the plain oil is not. Because Scott's Emulsion enters the system quickly and without effort, while the plain oil is a burden and a tax on the stomach. Because Scott's Emulsion remains sweet after entering the system, while the plain oil is likely to ferment because of its slow action. Because contains not only the best of the pure oil but other valuable properties, while the plain oil offers nothing but the crude properties of the raw oil. Because Scott's Emulsion is always the same in purity, strength and composition, while the plain oil is apt to vary in all three of these particulars. Because Scott's Emulsion is a hundred times more beneficial and desirable than any plain oil could be.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

BY CANOE AND DOGS.

Long Trip to Hold Inquest—Canada's Magnificent Distances.

A journey of 1,750 miles, partly by canoe and partly by dog train, to investigate a supposed case of murder, is a rather uncommon achievement. Members of the Mounted Police recently made this trip, and regard it as nothing unusual. The party consisted of Inspector Genereux and Constable Walker of the Mounted Police, and Dr. Bourgesult of Prince Albert, accompanied by half-breed canoemen. The inspector and his companions left Prince Albert on August 27, 1904, and reached home again on January 1, 1905, so that they were absent altogether 184 days. The route pursued was:

	Miles.
Prince Albert to Cumberland....	290
Cumberland to Pelican Narrows..	160
Pelican Narrows to south end of....
Reindeer Lake	175
Across the lake	350
Total	875

An Alleged Murder.

Duplicating the above, it gives a total mileage covered of 1,750 miles. The object of the long and arduous journey was to investigate the alleged murder of Roderick Thomas, who came to his death in Hatchet Lake, which is over 500 miles from the south end of Reindeer Lake, Athabasca, where the investigation took place. Thomas was in the employ of a trader named Macauley, and on the morning of September 25, 1903, went to look after some nets.

He was never again seen alive. Six weeks later his employer found Thomas' dead body under the ice. On April 9, 1904, the remains were brought to the Hudson Bay post at Lac du Brochet, and held there for investigation. Inspector Genereux was given commissions as Justice of the Peace and Coroner and detailed to conduct an enquiry.

A Long Canoe Trip.

With Constable Walker and Dr. Bourgeault, he left Prince Albert on August 27, 1904, and proceeded down the Saskatchewan to Cumberland. From there the three men went north by canoe, and had to pass 26 portages. Great difficulty was experienced in getting boatmen all the Indians being away at their hunting grounds, and much delay was caused. It was not until September 26 that the investigating party arrived at Lac du Brochet. There a jury was empanelled on September 30, consisting of two white men and four half-breeds. The inquest had to be adjourned, owing to the absence of necessary witnesses, and could not be resumed until December 9. The witnesses were nearly all half-breeds or Indians, and interpreters were necessary. Rev. Father Turquetil was Chipweyan interpreter, and Mr. A. M. McDermott of the Hudson's Bay Company, Cree interpreter.

Accidental Death.

Dr. Bourgeault conducted a post-mortem examination, but there was nothing to support the theory of foul play, and a verdict of accidental drowning was returned. The journey in had occupied 32 days. The return trip, by dog train, was made in 25 days. The weather was intensely cold, and the journey very disagreeable. At one stage Constable Walker contracted a bad cold, and spat blood.

Otherwise, the party arrived home in good shape.

The following extracts from Inspector Genereux's diary show the nature of the country through which they passed:

Saskatchewan River, high banks, poplar and fir trees, heavy timber in places.

Sturgeon River and Beaver Lake, limestone bottom on Sturgeon River, rocky islands on Beaver Lake, birch, poplar and fir trees.

Churchill River, large fir trees in places, birch and small poplar.

Reindeer Lake, rocky and sandy islands, south end good-sized poplar and fir trees, north end, swampy, scrubby timber, jack pine, poplar and birch.

Reindeer Lake, north end, A. M. McDermott, in charge of Hudson's Bay Company's post, known by the company as Lac du Brochet Post.

Indians Dying Off.

There are about 250 Chipweyan Indians, known as "Caribou Eaters," who are decreasing yearly from scrofula and consumption. About twenty-five Esquimaux trade at the Company's post, bringing musk ox, white fox, wolf, and fawn skins; fur plentiful, beaver, otter, mink, bear, marten, ermine and fox. There are not enough Indians to hunt the fur. They are by far the best-off Indians I have ever seen.

It is a wonderful sight to see the reindeer coming down from the Barren Lands in the fall of the year. I have seen them passing the Hudson's Bay Company's Post for days by thousands. They come down and winter in the islands in the vicinity of the post, going back north to the Barren Lands in the latter part of May and beginning of June, just before the breaking up of the ice.

Hunters Wanted.

North end of Reindeer Lake, known by the name of "Deer Lake" post, John Thomas trading for the Hudson's Bay Company. Population, all told, 52. Indians not increasing. Fur plentiful, but not enough hunters. Fish very plentiful, herring, whitefish, and trout. Moose and wood deer plentiful.

Pelican Narrows, in charge of Hudson's Bay Company's Post. A. A. Halcrow in chage of Revillion Freres' Trading Post. Fur plentiful and Indians in good circumstances, not requiring any assistance.

Moose and wood deer plentiful, also whitefish and trout. Fur consists of otter, mink, marten, lynx, wolf, rat, and ermine.

Cumberland House, Mr. Belanger in charge of Hudson's Bay Company's Post: Jones Bros.' Trading Post. Fur plentiful, rat, mink, marten and otter.

"Bobs'" Message to Canada.

A letter written by Lady Minto to a friend in Ottawa refers to a meeting with Lord Roberts at Windsor Castle. Her Ladyship says: "I was sitting next to Lord Roberts to-night at dinner, and he told me much of his South African experiences. I am sure it will please all Canadians, and especially anyone connected with the South Africa Memorial Association, to know that Lord Roberts noticed especially the Canadian tombstones, with their distinguishing emblem. He told me they had been erected in a most satisfactory manner, and were being very well looked after."

Retirement of Sir Evelyn Wood.

The close of the year saw the retirement from the southern command of Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, V. C., says The London Star. Like Sir John French, Sir Evelyn Wood began his career in the navy, entering that service in 1852. While still a lad, he served in the Crimea, and at the unsuccessful assault on the Redan on June 18, 1855, while carrying one of the scaling ladders, he was severely wounded. He was mentioned with praise by Lord Raglan in his despatches, and was awarded the Crimean medal with two clasps, the fifth class of the Order of the Medjidieh and the Turkish medal, and was also made a Knight of the Legion of Honor. In 1855 Wood joined the army as a cornet in the 13th Light Dragoons, and six years later we find him promoted to be captain in the famous "Death or Glory Boys." In the Indian Mutiny campaign he was awarded the Victoria Cross for having, during the action at Sindwaho, attacked with much gallantry, and routed almost single-handed a body of rebels, and also for having subsequently, near Sindhorh, gallantly rescued a Potail from a band of robbers, who were carrying him off to the jungle, where they intended to hang him.

A Strange Guide.

During the recent fog a military man, advanced in years, lost his way completely in the nocturnal vapor. Bumping against a stranger, he explained his misfortune and gave his address.

"I know it quite well," said the stranger, "and I will take you there."

It was some distance, but the guide never hesitated for a moment on the whole route.

"This is your door," he said at last, as a house loomed dimly before them.

"Bless my soul," said the old gentleman, "so it is. But how on earth have you been able to make your way through such a fog?"

"I know every stick and stone in this part of London," said the stranger, quietly. "for I am blind."—London Chronicle.

WILL IT CURE ME?

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cures of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Why shouldn't it cure her?

Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription." Is it a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thousands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"I commenced taking your medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,' nearly a year ago for chronic inflammation of womb, and can truly say it is the only thing that ever did me any good," writes Mrs. L. C. Wagner, of Elk Edwin Street, Kingston, Ontario, Canada. "I could not walk one quarter before using it. After taking six bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I find I can walk without difficulty and am greatly benefited in general health. Would advise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets. These are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce. They've been sugar-coated, but never superseded. Smallest, easiest to take and best. They're tiny, pellet-shaped, anti-bilious granules. A combination of refined and concentrated vegetable extracts. Without disturbance or trouble, sometimes none, they operate on the liver, stomach, and bowels. Biliousness, sick and bilious headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved and cured. Permanently cured, too. By mild but sure and natural action, these little Pellets gently lead the system into natural ways again. Their influence lasts.

"PURELY VEGETABLE"

Look out for these "purely vegetable" medicines. Aconite, Belladonna, Digitalis, Morphine, Strychnine—all violent poisons—are vegetable. You see the term means nothing, as regards safety.

Fruit-a-tives
or Fruit Liver Tablets

Apples, oranges, figs and prunes make them. The juices are combined by our secret process, which intensifies their medicinal action, and pressed into tablets. These are "FRUIT-A-TIVES"—nature's tonic and laxative—the only certain cure for Indigestion, Headaches, Constipation, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

They look like fruit—taste like fruit—smell like fruit—ARE fruit. 50c. a box. At druggists everywhere.

DISRAELI'S LAST NOVEL.

Was Composed During the Last Year of His Life.

"Of all the pretty suburbs that still adorn our metropolis, there are few that exceed in charm Clapham Common."

These are the opening words of an unfinished novel by Benjamin Disraeli, Earl of Beaconsfield, the publication of which has been commenced by The London Times. It was found amongst the many documents left by the great Tory statesman on his death in April, 1881. It consists of nine completed chapters and a fragment of a tenth. The book was composed during the last year of his life, and the introductory words of the tenth chapter must have been amongst the last that came from his pen. The whole, we are told, is carefully written on both sides of large note paper, with few erasures or additions.

So far as can be judged from the early chapters, the novel centres round the person of a prospective statesman, to whom, even now, some have not hesitated to attach a name. "His memory was vigorous, ready and retentive, but his chief peculiarity was his disputatious temper, and the flow of language, which, even as a child, was ever at command to express his argument"—a descriptive sentence, which has found repetition, some would urge, in a notorious speech once delivered over the walnuts and the wine of Guildhall.

It was agreed, in due course, that Joseph Toplady Falconet should study for the bar—he having "left the university in a blaze of glory as senior wrangler, and recognized as the unrivaled orator of its mimic Parliament."

A public meeting on the revival of the slave trade in the Red Sea having been arranged, Mr. Joseph Toplady Falconet had the opportunity of making a speech, which literally electrified the audience.

The speech, indeed, became not only famous in the place where it was delivered; it was reported in the London papers, and leading articles were written, attesting its commanding eloquence, and announcing the advent of a new and powerful candidate for the honors of public life. True it was that it subsequently appeared that there had been no revival of the slave trade in the Red Sea, but that the misapprehension had occurred from a mistake in the telegraph, manipulated by a functionary suffering from a coup de soleil, or delirium tremens. But this did not signify, and made no difference whatever in the eloquence of Mr. Joseph Toplady Falconet, or the result which that eloquence was to accomplish.

Later, we are promised that his rapid success in Parliament will be described. Members from both sides of the House rallied round him.

Another character is a mysterious figure, of a well-known Disraelian type, who has just come to London. "I have no name," said the unknown." His desire is "to terminate the misery of man" by "the destruction of the species." A fourth is a friend of his, a German banker and philosopher, of advanced opinions.

Curiosity is only whetted by the two chapters and a half published.

Why "Thackeray and Dickens?"

The names of Thackeray and Dickens are often, if not almost always, coupled in some way in reference to English authors or literature of their period. It is probably because they were countrymen and contemporaries, for there was nothing in common between them personally or in their careers or their inspirations. Said an enthusiast who was proposing a toast at a literary dinner: "I drink to the health of two of the greatest forces in fiction in the nineteenth century—Dackens and Thickeray—no, no, I mean Dackeray and Thickens." With a mighty effort he pulled himself together and began again, "Gentlemen, I drink to the health of Thackens and Dickeray." Then he sat down, pleased at having extricated himself from the muddle.

There was probably as much real discretion behind those words as could be found in the average association of the two names. Thackeray and Dickens were by on means "heavenly twins" in their lifetime, or inseparable in that paradise where literary genius is supposed to disport itself for inspiration. Thackeray envied Dickens' popularity and bank account, and Dickens envied Thackeray's style and literary eminence.

Speaking of "David Copperfield" when it was the talk of London, Thackeray confessed, "It has put me on my mettle, and made me feel I must do something; that I have fame and name and a family to support." On another occasion Thackeray remarked of Dickens, "He knows my books are a protest against his—that if one set are true the other must be false." James Russell Lowell pronounced Dickens a satirizer and Thackeray a satirist. One appeals to the multitude; the other to the few.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Poor on £10,000 a Year.

The poor clergymen throughout the province struggling along on an income that would be scorned by the multitude of mechanics, or even day laborers, have envied the lot of the Bishop of London with his allowance of £10,000 a year—roughly speaking $50,000, almost equal to the salary of the Governor-General of Canada. Still the Bishop of London is unable to make his income meet his expenditures, and reports a deficit in his accounts for the last twelve months of nearly $4,000. Yet of this $50,000 only about $1,700 was for personal expenses outside of food, lights, etc. That amount covered books, newspapers and petty cash items. The Bishop has recently published an elaborate balance sheet to show where the money went. Turning pounds into dollars on the rough $5 rate, his figures show that he had to borrow $25,000 to furnish two houses—one with thirty-two bedrooms—which he was obliged to keep open. The interest charges, including the insurance premium and depreciation, etc., used up $10,600. He keeps eleven house servants and food and wages called for $9,000. This was in part accounted for by the fact that the candidates for ordination boarded with him, and on Saturdays he gave entertainments to working people. Repairs on the houses and his light and fuel bill required $8,000. For the use of four horses, repairs on carriages, etc., almost $8,000 more was consumed. An English paper commenting on His Lordship's balance sheet says: "There is a good deal of waste dripping in this fat living, and the whole statement is amazing." If a bachelor bishop was thus unable to make both ends meet, what would a married man with a family do in the same circumstances? Presumably, in such a case there would be less waste in the household expenses, though there would be more persons to feed and clothe. The Glasgow Herald in noting the statement said: "It is not for us to suggest a cure, but it is conceivable, in view of the stories about the hard labor done by this industrious prelate, that episcopal functions in the Church of England might be better performed if the work and pay were distributed over more, if less dignified, heads."

Palpitation of the Heart—Nervous Prostration—Cured by

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make weak hearts strong. They make shaky nerves firm.

Mr. Ray V. Cormier had a very trying experience while at College; but, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, he has been restored to health. He tells his experience in the following letter to us:—

"Wellington Station, P.E.I., Dec. 3rd, 1903.
"Messrs. The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
"Toronto, Ontario.

"Gentlemen,—Having been cured of a very troublesome disease, I find it my duty to write you a few lines. I was troubled with a very great palpitation of the heart and nervous prostration. I was attacked with it at College, and could not follow up the games of the University without being overcome with faintness. I could not descend the stairs without resting half-way. I have left College, and am working in a general store where I found your famous pills. I used six boxes, and am now completely cured; I cannot thank you enough. You may use this letter for the purpose of benefiting anyone who is suffering as I did. My home is in Sackville, N.B., but at present I am on Prince Edward Island.

"I remain, dear sirs, RAY V. CORMIER."

EVANGELIST MAY'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

Will be Given at the Gospel Hall To-night.

Evangelist May gives his farewell address to-night in the Gospel Hall. The many friends who have been listening to Mr. May's nightly addresses in the Gospel Hall will learn with regret that he will give his last address to-night of this series of the special meetings which are now going on, as he will be leaving town to-morrow for other scenes of labour. However, they will also be pleased to learn that Mr. Irving will continue for the rest of the week his addresses on his dispensational chart showing the seven dispensations of the world from Eternity to Eternity. These lectures are proving a source of blessing to all Bible students who have had the privilege of listening to them.

PARLOURS OPENED THIS MORNING

M. Pappas Greek Shoe-shine Establishment now Open for Business.

The Greek firm of M. Pappas opened to the public this morning their handsome new shoe-shine parlour on George street. The necessary alterations to, and fitting up of the premises, which have been in progress for some time, have been completed, and this establishment now presents one of the most bright and attractive interiors in town. Combined with the shoe-shoo parlour is a shooting gallery, situated at the rear. An attractive case containing cigars and tobaccos, is also a feature.

The shoe-shine department is fitted up most handsomely, everything being bright, clean and attractive, and will compare favourably with those in any establishment of the kind in Canada.

The handsome large mirrors add materially to the appearance of the place, which contains in all ten chairs.

The enterprise, which is an entirely new one in Peterborough, and is one the necessity for which has been much felt for some time. There is every reason to believe that the firm will receive a liberal patronage.

A SUMPTUOUS GIFT TO BISHOP SCOLLARD

A Cappa Magna or Robe of State Presented by Friends.

His Cappa Magna, or Robe of State, was awaiting Dr. Scollard on his return to North Bay as Bishop of the diocese. It is made of royal Russian ermine, and is the work of Robertson & Co., the famous furriers of St. James street, Montreal. It is "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." It will last a lifetime and his friends will everywhere pray that he will wear it for more than 50 years at least—ad multos annos. Its cost was $400. It is the joint gift to the young Bishop of Hon. Wm. Harty, Kingston; W. J. Pearce, Esq., Montreal; and M. P. Davis, Esq., Ottawa.

GAME DECIDED GUILD CHAMPIONSHIP

George Street Guild Team Defeated All Saints—Score was 3-1.

The Methodists will soon begin to think they are "it" in athletics. Last summer the Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild team won the Guild Baseball League championship and the Examiner Cup, and last night the George Street Guild Hockey team won the Guild Hockey League championship, defeating All Saints' by 3-1 in the Brock street rink before a good crowd of supporters of both teams. Each had defeated the two other teams in the league and were tied for the championship. It was decided to play off the tie on the Brock street rink, which was done with the above result.

The game was of the strenuous variety and Capt. Cavanah of the seniors who refereed, had his work cut out to make them play hockey. He succeeded well, however, and punished with a period of inactivity any attempts at rough house tactics. Rush, of the All Saints' team was the most frequent offender, and his playing was of the Ottawa variety.

The Anglicans seemed to have the better of the play throughout the game, but could not seem to locate the nets Metheral in goal for the Methodists playing a splendid game, and really eyed the day for his team, who were weakened by the loss of Wood off the defence. The three goals credited to the winners were scored as the result of good combination work, of which, however, there was very little in the game.

The contest started off at a fast pace, but the players were not able to stand it, and towards the close it became slower. In the second half Robertson was hit in the face with a stick and had to retire, Cranfield going off to even matters up. Mann, the diminutive centre of the Methodist team was perhaps the most plucky player on the ice. He seemed to be particularly unlucky in being made the object of numerous bodychecks, the majority of which, however, were legitimate, but was always on the puck, and played a splendid game. Dusty who played rover for the All Saints' seven was probably the most effective man for his team, as he was also the fastest.

The teams were:—

TEN GAMES WERE PLAYED LAST NIGHT

In the First Round of the Club Bonspeil —Play Will Be Continued To-night.

The curling bonspiel opened last night with some splendid games in the first round and the members are taking a deep interes in this event. Ten games were played last night and some great finishes were seen on the different ices.

The following is the result of the first night's play:—

Greer won from Medd.
Hall won from Davidson.
Frost won from Clerr.
Ferguson won from Matthews.
Cameron won from Aylmer.
Rutherford won from Stanger.
Winch won from Connal.
Edwards won from Morrow.
Brown won from Brightman.
Frost won from Hall.

Play will be continued to-night at 7.30 when the following games will be played:—

Ferguson vs. Cameron.
Rutherford vs. Winch.
Edwards vs. Giroux.
Brown vs. Waddell.
Kerr vs. Neill.
Thompson vs. Dickson.

BASEBALL.

To-morrow night the annual meeting of the T. A. S. Baseball Club will be held and officers elected.

* * *

The annual organization meeting of the Auburn Baseball Club will be held at the Y.M.C.A. parlours on Friday night at 8 o'clock. All last year's players and all others interested will please attend this meeting.

BASKET-BALL.

Basketball is without doubt the best game that is played on a floor and indoors, and now as the skating is over, those who enjoy fast games should lend their interest to the Y.M.C.A. basketball games. There will be a good game on Friday, March 17th, between Port Hope and Peterborough. The first game will be between the Jr. School Boys' teams. This should be very interesting, as both teams play splendidly for for boys so young. The second game will be between the seniors. This will be the first opportunity to see our senior team play together.

THE REASON IS A GOOD ONE.

This is the Opinion of "Skater" Regarding Mr. Poole's Letter.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In answer to Mr. E. G. Poole's letter will you kindly insert the following:—

The reason for them closing their rink with regard to it being Lent is quite excusable, but no reason whatever was given to skaters. Skaters do not want their money back, but want fair play and good conduct. Those whom Mr. Poole calls young fellows of the Canadian General Electric Company, are those who along with the young ladies have supported the rink more than their own.

Thanking you for your valuable space, we remain,

Yours truly,

SKATERS.

To-night the 57th Regt. Band will be at the Brock Street Rink. The ice is as hard as it has been all season. Go to the Brock street rink to-night.

INDIAN RIVER.

Indian River, March 9. — Many of the sports of this village witnessed the game of hockey on Tuesday last in Peterborough; some of whom paid one dollar and a half for a seat.

Maurice O'Leary, of this vicinity says that if we can rely upon our forefather's prophesy, spring is nigh at hand, for while driving down east last week he heard the famished raven and saw the hedge hog whistle spring.

Mr. P. G. Walker had a narrow escape last week while working with a saw. One of his fingers was scratched by his teeth.

The many friends of Mr. Thos. Nelson will regret the absence of the young man from amongst them. Mr. Nelson has moved to Westwood, where he will continue farming among some of his old friends.

Mr. Wm. Walsh, one of our old pioneers, has been ill for some time and it is hoped that he will be spared to remain with us for many years, to relate the old yule-log stories.

Mr. David Devlin is painting his new house for the coming season.

LOCAL STOCK MARKETS.

Messrs. J. R. Heintz & Co., stock and grain brokers, Buffalo, wired Messrs. Nelson, Clarry & Co., ('phone 235) at noon, as follows:—

New York, March 15th.—We have positive and direct information that the Interboro directors will declare a quarterly dividend of 1 3-4, marking it a 7 p.c. stock. There has been aggressive buying of Ontario & Western this morning which carried the price above 43, the movement having been stimulated by a repetion of the reports that a dividend of 2 1-2 on the stock would be granted. Earnings of the company are increasing at a rate that would justify it paying 6 p.c. We look for higher prices for A.C.P. later on. No serious attention has been paid to the report that A.C.P. interests would acquire control of Smelting and no such reports was necessary to explain the movement upward in Smelting stocks. Earnings of the Company are largely in excess of dividend requirement. There has been considerable activity in the Equipment stocks this morning at advancing prices especially for A.P. and P.R.S. A.L.Q has ruled firm but this stock will also move up. J. R. Heintz & Co.

CUTICURA

Soap, Ointment and Pills the World's Greatest Skin Cures.

COMPLETE TREATMENT

For Every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humor remedies of the civilized world.

YEARS OF TORTURE

Itching and Painful Sores Covering Head and Body Cured By Cuticura.

"For fifteen years my scalp and forehead was one mass of scabs, and my body was covered with sores. Words cannot express how I suffered from the itching and pain. I had given up hope when a friend told me to get Cuticura. After bathing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment for three days, my head was as clear as ever, and to my surprise and joy, one cake of soap and one box of ointment made a complete cure in one week. (signed) H. B. Franklin, 727 Washington St., Allegheny, Pa."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props.

ROYAL TEMPLARS OPEN MEETING

An Enjoyable Evening Was Spent in Their Hall.

Report of the Work of the Local Council—A Good Progress.

Last night the members of Dan Spence Council R. T. of T. held an open meeting, which was largely attended and a most enjoyable evening was spent in addition to the members of the council a large number of friends were present, and a good programme was rendered. A feature of the evening which was most gratifying to the members was the reading of the report of the work by Mrs. Gurney. This report called forth warm applause, showing as it did, that the council is in a flourishing condition.

The chairman of the evening was Mr. J. W. Carey, past councillor, and in opening the meeting, in a short speech he expressed his pleasure at seeing so many persons present, and hoped that they would spend an enjoyable evening. The Royal Templars were a progressive body and those who were in sympathy with the objects of the Order could not do better than associate themselves as members with the local council.

The George Street Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. W. Cunningham, rendered a selection, which was highly appreciated, and encored.

The next number was a vocal solo by Miss Roxy Edmondson, which also well received and she was compelled to respond with a recall number.

Mrs. Gurney then presented the report of the work during the last fifteen months by the Royal Templars in Peterborough. The report follows:—

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:—Our object in presenting this report tonight is not to boast of the great things which we, as a society, have accomplished, but for the benefit and encouragement of our members, or any others who may not know just what has been done to promote the cause of temperance in Peterborough, during the last 15 months, hoping that it may prove an incentive to greater activity, and more faithful service for the future.

In June, 1903, a local organizer was appointed by the Dominion Council, but for several reasons did not begin aggressive work until the following October. Then from October, 1903, until May, 1904, with the united efforts of the members and organizer 45 new members were added to our roll, and many old members were revived, also several were transferred to us from other Councils. A good percentage of the new members have taken either insurance or sick benefits.

During May, June and July, 1904, three silver medal contests were held under the auspices of the Council, one in St. Andrew's Church, one in Park Street and one at Auburn. For the last six months the work has moved more slowly but steadily. Within the last year several of the resident clergymen have united with us, as Honourary members, and we hope in the very near future to secure all the city pastors as honourary members.

We also had some losses. 16 members having removed to other parts, but still retain their membership with us. Death has claimed one of our number, and we deeply deplore the loss of our late brother, Harold P. Pite. The society's medical examiners are Drs. McClelland and McFall, and the officers for the present term are:—

Past Councillor—Bro. J. W. Carey.
Select Councillor—Bro. T. Pite.
Vice Councillor—Sis. L. Smith.
Ben. Sec. and Treas.—Bro. J. R. Bell.
Rec. Secy.—Sis. Ella Mathison.
Herald—Sister Bennett.
Chaplain—Bro. Peters.
I. Guard—Bro. Braden Bell.
Sentinel—Bro. Norman Bell.
Organist—Sister Ena Bennett.
Asst. Organist—Sister Carey.
Local Organizer—Sister Gurney.

The Misses Cleasby were then heard in a delightful vocal duet which the audience evidently appreciated, judging by the applause with which its presentation was greeted.

Rev. T. J. Scott, pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church was present and gave a short address in which he expressed his sympathy with the members of the Order in their good work, which he hoped would prosper.

A cornet solo was rendered by Mr. Trethway and was much enjoyed. A reading by Miss Lizzie Smith was the next number and was one of the most enjoyable numbers on an excellent programme.

Mr. Milner, organist of George Street church, favoured the audience with an instrumental solo, after which Mrs. Tilley gave a reading, "Them Oxen" and was encored. The closing number was a selection by the Orchestra after which refreshments were served by the ladies.

Correspondent Little of Chicago and 80 Others at Mukden.

Santoupou, March 16.—A sanguinary combat occurred on March 14 on the centre advanced line of the Russian army eight miles south of Tie Pass. The Russians repulsed the attack and even made a small advance through a thousand corpses of Japanese, and advancing a large force on the right flank, where Gen. Mistchenko, who has taken command of his detachment, though his wound has not yet healed, is holding the Japanese in check. The Russian troops have regained their normal spirits and fought cheerfully.

It is rumored that Chinese killed eighty foreigners in Mukden after the Russian evacuation of that place, including, it is said, Correspondent Little of The Chicago Daily News. The fate of M. Nadeau, a French newspaper correspondent, who lived with Mr. Little, is not known.

Little Cabled From Yinkow.

Chicago, Ill., March 16.—Mr. Little cabled direct from Yinkow Tuesday to The Chicago Daily News. He said he had been captured by the Japanese and was being taken to Kobe. The cablegram contained references which demonstrated that the message was from Mr. Little personally, and that he was alive and well.

SUCCEEDS KUROPATKIN.

Czar Will Send Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch to the Front.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—It is now definitely stated that Emperor Nicholas has approved the decision of the council of war to send Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch to replace Gen. Kuropatkin as the best means of putting a stop to the intrigues and jealousies among the generals of the army, both at St. Petersburg and at the front. Gen. Souknomlinoff will be chief of staff.

SUMMONED BY CZAR.

Admiral Alexieff Goes to Tsarskoe-Selo—Peace Impossible.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—A noticeable fact is that Admiral Alexieff, head of the war party, has been summoned to Tsarskoe-Selo. Only yesterday had the fullness of the disaster which has befallen the Russian forces become known.—The universal opinion among the dominating classes is that the reverse suffered makes any question of peace impossible.

Japs of Same Mind.

London, March 16.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister, in an interview yesterday on the subject of peace, said that all suggestions to the effect that Japan had officially or unofficially put forward feelers looking to the conclusion of peace were absolutely unfounded.

"Whatever individuals may say hereafter," he added, "you may regard it as certain that Japan does not mean to put forward peace terms. When Russia acknowledges that she is beaten or expresses her willingness to discuss peace we shall be ready. Until then we shall continue to fight."

Reservists Against War.

Warsaw, March 16.—Reservists who were waiting in the barracks at Wolkowsk, Government of Grodno, formed a conspiracy to foment organized disturbances among the troops, in order to avoid being sent to Manchuria. The offenders were court-martialed; five of them were condemned to death and executed on March 13, and four were sentenced for life and eight to twenty years of penal servitude.

The Captured Attaches.

Tokio, March 16.—British Attache Capt. C. J. Aires and American Attaches Capt. J. V. Hudson and Col. V. Harard, who were with the Russian army, and who were captured at the battle of Mukden, left Liaoyang for Japan yesterday.

American Steamer Captured.

Tokio, March 16.—The American steamer Tacoma was seized by the Japanese guardship March 15th. She was carrying barrel beef for Vladivostock.

The Japs May Catch Her.

Portland, Ore., March 16.—The British steamship Ras Elba left here yesterday for Tsingtau, China, with 9,588 bales of hay and 21,000 bushels of oats. While the steamer is going to Tsingtau, there is little doubt that the forage she carries is intended for the Russian forces.

THE CONSPIRACY CASES.

True Bills Brought in Against Reilly and Ruttan.

Belleville, March 16.—The conspiracy charge against F. J. Reilly, of Kingston, will be commenced this morning. That was decided yesterday afternoon at 3.30, when a grand jury brought in a true bill against him. Two hours later they brought in a true bill against Ed. G. Ruttan, of Harrowsmith. All the other cases on the docket, with the exception of the ballot box cases, have been disposed of or postponed.

Won't Ratify Treaty.

Washington, March 16.—Hope has been abandoned of ratifying the Santo Domingo treaty at the present session of the Senate.

No Bills.

Winnipeg, Man., March 14.—At the Winnipeg assizes to-day the grand jury returned "no bills" on the charges against Liberal Organizer Leech and Returning Officers Ayotte, Adolph and Jickling for alleged tampering with voters' lists at the last Dominion elections.

Lucania Resumes Voyage.

Queenstown, March 15.—The Cunard Line steamer Lucania resumed her voyage at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, after having effected repairs.

2,000 Armenians Killed.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—Private mail advices from the Caucasus indicate that the situation there has not been exaggerated. According to one letter, the Armenians estimate the number of their dead at 2,000.

MRS. BROUGH'S SUDDEN DEATH

Expired Yesterday Afternoon the Cause Being Paralysis.

Was in Her Usual Good Health up to the Time of Her Death.

Dr. Grey was called yesterday afternoon to investigate a sudden death which occurred at 141 George street, at the home of Mr. Wm. Brough. It appears that Mrs. Margaret Brough, the mother of Wm. Brough, was visiting at her son's home yesterday and during the afternoon fell to the floor, and died after calling for help, without speaking again.

The deceased had been in her usual good health up to the time of her death, and had eaten a hearty dinner. She was a strong, robust woman of 72 years, and had been in splendid health. This fact made the circumstances connected with her death, mysterious, and Dr. Grey, County Coroner, was called, but he found that death had been caused by paralysis.

The deceased was the widow of the late James Brough, who was killed seven years ago, while driving to Lakefield in Craig's 'bus. She lived with her daughter, Mrs. Sidney Crouter, 172 Antrim street, and with Mrs. Crouter she was spending the day at the residence of her son.

She leaves two married daughters, Mrs. Sidney Crouter and Mrs. H. Butcher, both of town, five unmarried daughters, Maude, Gertrude, Minnie, Rose and Madeline, in town, and two sons, William and Alexander, also of town. Three other children reside out of town.

Dr. Grey after investigating the circumstances connected with the decease of Mrs. Brough, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, and the funeral will take place on Friday afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

ADDRESS TO MR. J. W. CAREY

Presented by Members of Dan Spence Council R. T. of T.

Past Councillor was Honoured—Services were Appreciated.

A pleasing feature of the open meeting held by Dan Spence Council R.T. of T., on Tuesday night was the presentation of an address to Mr. J. W. Carey, who at present occupies the position of Past Councillor, of the local Council, and for a number of years was Select Councillor, and as such was the mainstay of the Order here.

At an appropriate stage of the proceedings on Tuesday night the following address was read to Mr. Carey:—

Peterborough,
March 14th, 1905.

Mr. J. W. Carey,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Brother Carey,—The members of Dan Spence Council, R. T. of T., cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing their appreciation of the valuable services which you have rendered to the cause of temperance.

For some years you have been an enthusiastic temperance worker, doing your utmost to reclaim the drunkard, and increase temperance sentiment in the community. You have stood faithfully by our society in times of trial and discouragement and to you largely is due the position which we occupy at the present time.

We are but voicing the sentiment of the entire membership when we say that this address very inadequately expresses the very high esteem in which you are held by each member of the council.

With every good wish for yourself and family, we are,

Yours in Hope, Love and Truth,

Signed on behalf of Dan Spence Council, James R. Bell, Miss Nellie Smith, Mrs. I. M. Gurney.

Mr. Carey in response to the kindly expressions of the address thanked the members for the many flattering thing which had been said of him in the address. He had tried to do his duty to the council, and rejoiced in its progress and success. He assured them of his continued interest in the Order and hoped that the local Council would continue to make progress in the future as it had done in the past.

IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT

Head of that Part of S. A. Work Will be Here on Sunday.

Brigadier and Mrs. Howell of Toronto, will conduct special meetings in the Salvation Army barracks on Saturday and Sunday next, assisted by Captain Debow. The Brigadier is the head of the Army Immigration Department, in Canada, he is an interesting speaker, a good singer, and a first class concertina player. He has visited Peterborough several times before, and his many friends will be glad to see him again. Capt. DeBow, of the Commissioner's office, is a good singer. The Brigadier and Captain will sing together in all the meetings. Mrs. Howell is an able speaker, and will give a short address at each of the meetings. A hearty invitation is extended to all to come and hear these specialists.

An evening with Dickens. Rev. Mr. Ketchen and Sheriff Hall at St. Paul's Mission on Thursday, March 30th.

Constructional Alterations in a Suit Will Never Make it Fit. . . . . .

When a tailor makes a misfit—as he often does—alterations cannot make it right.

To change the inside skeleton of a suit ruins it.

Semi-ready suits are built on a plan of physique types, in which there are 105 variations. One of these type variations is made to fit your figure exactly—or you don't buy it.

The inside staying and frame-work of Semi-ready tailoring is never altered—that is what holds the garment in perfect shape until worn out.

If you require a longer sleeve or other variation, Semi-ready can make it by its system of seam outlets without disturbing the permanent shape.

CONSPIRACY CASE OPENED TO-DAY

F. J. Reilly When Called Upon Could not be Found

Bondsmen Ordered to Produce Body or Pay—Ruttan Case up Next.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Belleville, March 16th. — The trial of F. J. Reilly, for conspiracy, was opened this morning. The accused's counsel were E. F. B. Johnston, K. C., Toronto, and W. C. McCammon, of this city. Mr. Johnston objected to several clauses of the indictment. His objections were replied to by the prosecuting attorney, and over-ruled by the judge. Reilly was called to plead but could not be found. The judge said in the event of Reilly not turning up by 12 o'clock the case against Ruttan must go on. Reilly's bondsmen were called upon to produce his body or forfeit their recognizance. The judge then ordered a bench warrant to be issued for Reilly. It looks now as if there will be no trial to-day in the conspiracy case. Ruttan's case will come up to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The petit jurors have been dismissed for the day.

Belleville, March 16. — Later. — A true bill was found against Sam Harreyett.

LET US BE SELF-RELIANT.

At the meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, in Toronto, Rev. Dr. Milligan stated that he would like to have an opportunity of stumping the Old Land in the interests of Canadian missions. While this position represents a very laudable spirit of zeal, it is to be hoped that neither Dr. Milligan, nor any other minister of any other denomination, will go begging to the old country, which, in the past, has been sucked dry in the way of contributions to missions. The feeling has grown up in the old country, that Canada is somewhat of a "sponge," seeking all and undesirous of giving anything in return. This feeling finds expression in uncomplimentary contrasts of Australia's liberality in contributing to the Imperial navy, with Canada's do-nothing attitude. In the past any big disaster has been the Canadian excuse for soliciting charitable contributions from the mother land, and altogether Canada has got rather a bad name in regard to unselfish self-reliance. Now, this is injurious to this country, and humiliating to our self respect. True, this feeling has been somewhat allayed by the action of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in giving a preference to British products, by the recent action of Canada in regard to military interests at Halifax, and by the fine proportions of the Globe fund for the London poor. We must preserve and strengthen this new spirit of independance of the Motherland. No one for a moment thinks of political independence, but it is to Canada's interest to show to the Mother Country to the fullest possible extent that in material resources we are self-contained and in all ways self-reliant. In the old days when Canada's condition was not far removed from that of a Crown Colony, it was not so much amiss to go to Great Britain, hat in hand to solicit help for missions and other purposes. But we have out-grown all that. It was stated at the meeting at which Rev. Dr. Milligan expressed his wish that the North-west—till recently a mission field—was itself contributing to missions. True the rapid growth of the North-west indicates the necessity of church activity, but settlement is so closely followed by competency that church enterprises from the beginning assume very largely a self-sustaining condition. We should not encourage a revival of the British idea that Canada's relation to the Mother-land is in forma pauperis.

MENACE OF MORMONISM.

It may seem a hardship to the persons directly concerned that Mormon immigrants to the Canadian Northwest are to be prosecuted for bigamy because they have brought with them more than one wife from Utah, where it is claimed such a condition was legal. No quarter should be given in this matter. The Canadian law that makes plural marriages illegal should be rigidly enforced. The sanctity of the marriage tie, is the basis of virtuous society and inseparably associated with "the righteousness which exalteth a nation. Whatever the extent to which the general people may dissent from the doctrines and ritual of the Roman Catholic and English Churches, the manner in which they especially set their faces against divorce and maintain the inviolability of the marriage tie cannot but be regarded with favour, as a restraining influence in an age of laxity of moral ideals. We must fight against the introduction of polygamy into Canada. While we welcome immigrants from the United States—and it is said the Mormans in many respects make good settlers—it must be understood from the beginning that we want and will have no Mormonism in Canada. If we pollute the stream of national morality at the fountain-head—the home — we must expect an inundation of national corruption, and that is the beginning of the end. Much is written and said against other alleged evils that threaten the North-west Territories, but if these, perhaaece, should have all the undesirable features extremists impart to them, and even many others, they are as nothing to the danger—nay certainty—of evil or, rather, disaster which would follow the introduction of Mormonism or anything of a cognate nature that would detract one iota, from the sacredness and stability of the home ruled by one wife.

SPRINGVILLE PEOPLE BEHAVE THEMSELVES

This is What a Correspondent Says in Answer to Former Letter

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reply to a part of the Springville news of your issue of March 2nd, headed "Pleasing Social Event", I can inform your correspondent that while he has got a considerable amount of truth therein, he has also considerable false as well, and as it was an invited party and no person came who was uninvited or acted disrespectfully after their arrival, I do not think it called for or deserved any sluring criticism by singling out a few names and spreading them broadcast through the community in such a sluring manner. And if Mr. Harold Hapkie has treated your correspondent's best girl in such an ungentlemanly or unkind manner, he must have had good reasons for so doing as he is considered one of our most refined and up-to-date ladies' men of the locality.

But if your correspondent has done it to gratify his criticising nature; he should have started some short time ago when there was an event of some importance to chronicale, when a company of young men assembled within the pales of the church during time of service to carry on a series of athletic sports, and, judging from the position he held and the very pleasant appearance he exhibited one might come to the conclusion that he was acting as umpire of the sports.

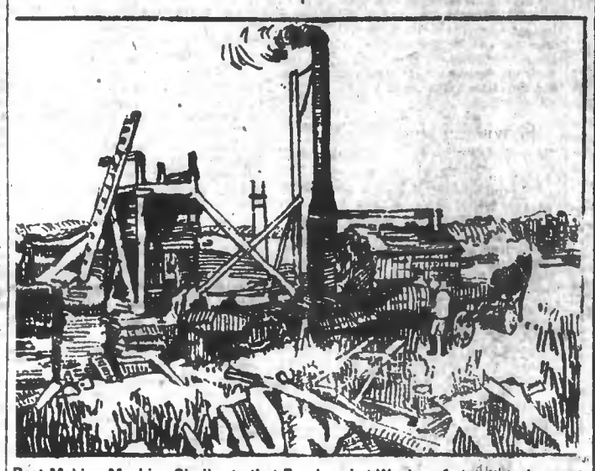
EXTENT OF THE PEAT FUEL INDUSTRY

A Review of the Different Stages Through Which the Industry Has Passed in This Country—Mr. W. E. H. Carter of the Ontario Bureau of Mines Gives an Exhaustive Resume of the Subject---Special Reference to the Plant and Process Employed by the Peterborough Condensed Peat Fuel Company at Victoria Road---Preliminary Stages of Experimentation in England, Scotland and Ireland---Great Future for the Industry Here.

In view of the fact that a number of Peterborough capitalists are financially interested in the problem of peat fuel, and that the Peterborough Condensed Peat Company has been formed to operate a peat plant at Victoria Road, the facts contained in an article prepared by Mr. W. E. H. Carter, of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, will be read with interest. Mr. Carter refers to the process of manufacturing peat employed by Mr. E. V. Moore, Manager of the Peterborough Condensed Fuel Company, in these terms:—

During the past year the problem of manufacturing peat fuel from the very many bogs found all over Ontario into merchantable fuel has received more earnest attention than at any period probably since the boom about a decade ago, when so many entered with zest into the undertaking knowing little or nothing about it and unfortunately losing all their money.



Peat Making Machine Similar to that Employed at Works of the Peterborough Condensed Peat Fuel Co.

AVAILABLE PEAT AREAS.

Much has already been written of the history of the industry in Ontario, and in fact in the whole Dominion and the adjoining territory of the United States, in Government reports and elsewhere, which need not be touched on again. Those interested in the question are probably conversant with the facts.

An additional source of information can be got to December of last year in the form of a bulletin from the Geological Survey of Canada, Ottawa, written by Dr. Chalmers, touching on the different processes of manufacture that have been tried in the Dominion and describing some of the best known peat bogs. It gives some interesting figures on the amount of peat lands in the Dominion, placing the total area at 37,000 square miles. It is well to note, however, that no one has as yet determined how much of that vast area west of James and Hudson Bays, known as the Barren Lands, is really peat. From the careful exploration of the southern portion of it by the writer the conclusion was reached that a large portion is nothing better than light moss. However, the day when that source of supply will be drawn on is long way off yet, and we need concern ourselves at the present time only with those suitable deposits lying close to a railway or other means of transportation, or in the heart of some fairly thickly populated country section where other fuels are scarce.

SUCCESS OF PEAT AS A FUEL.

It is a noticeable fact that nearly every article that appears nowadays on peat deals at great length with the success of the fuel wherever and however it has been used and the satisfactory stand it takes when compared with either wood or coal. There is no question about this. We have seen in our own province of Ontario how eagerly peat fuel is sought by all who find it difficult to get an adequate or cheap supply of coal. It is preferred to wood. The problem the peat engineers are up against is not a weak or uncertain market, but as to how that market can be supplied. That it is being supplied in other countries is well known. Last year over 4,000,000 tons of machine-peat" was made and sold in European countries. This is not a compressed article in the ordinary sense of the word, but the air-dried bricks formed from the masticated wet peat as it comes from the bog. It contains about 25 per cent. water, but in spite of this is remarkably dense and hard and capable of being transported in all kinds of conveyances without much loss in crumbling; neither will it absorb moisture to any appreciable extent, and when burning it retains its shape without serious disintegration, much the same as coal. It makes an excellent fuel, is simple to manufacture and has the great advantage of low first cost in plant. The more elaborate and expensive processes by which the compressed peat briquettes are made us in Ontario have not as yet found favour there. For various reasons it has been supposed that the manufacture of machine-peat could not be commercially undertaken in Canada on account of the higher labour cost and the greater distances of transportation and practically all efforts have been confined until the present year to the manufacture of a compressed article from the prepared dry peat. The degree of success with which this first attempt has been attended will be mentioned below.

For the past four or five years a commercial article of fuel made from peat has been sold in Ontario the product in small lots of a number of plants, but only from one on a continuous commercial scale that one plant is at Beaverton. The season's output from it has latterly amounted to between 1,000 and 1,500 tons of peat briquettes. A new plan of double the capacity of this, and employing the same machinery, was last summer completed on a large bog at Caledonia Springs, which lies about half way between Ottawa and Montreal. Preparations have been made to run day and night during the open months of the year, so that it should manufacture over 50 tons a day or between 6,000 and 8,000 tons during the season. Machinery and supplies are also being taken to an extensive area of bog land in the neighbourhood of Port Frances, Western Ontario, to erect a third factory of the same design and capacity as this last one; but it will be a year before this one can be placed in operation. This will supply the Winnipeg market.

At the numerous other peat factories in Ontario, where machines and processes differing more or less from each other have been employed, very little has been accomplished during the past year. With the success of the Dobson factory at Beaverton the companies interested in those other plants appear loath to continue experimenting on their own initiative. As their machinery and methods have not proved commercially successful as yet their determination to sit by for a while and see what the other fellow can accomplish is probably a wise one for themselves. However, out of much experimenting comes some good, and no doubt some of these plants with more or less alterations could be now turning out peat fuel at a profit, if the money and the brains were obtained and applied.

A WORD OF CAUTION TO INVESTORS.

In many European countries where peat fuel is manufactured, the industry is being fostered by the Governments by the subsidizing of national peat societies for the collection and distribution of all possible data relative to the subject. One of the main functions of the engineers employed by each is to examine into the new patented processes, and unless these appear quite feasible to caution the people against investing their money in them. A very wise movement. Did such obtain in this country it would have saved much money to investors, as well as have placed the industry in a more favourable light. Knowing the peculiarities and the difficulties in handling it a word here may not be out of place to caution capital against investing in untried processes. This subject is quite as technical as mining, for instance, and in the same way the ordinary public require the expert advice of an experienced, unbiassed engineer. Let this be preliminary to the formation of a company for the manufacture of peat by new, untried processes.

During the past summer tests were made of peat fuel on locomotives on a railway in Nova Scotia, and as a result it is proposed to establish a factory for the production of the fuel at Tusket, N. S. It is apparently to be a machine-peat.

In England, Scotland and Ireland, they are passing through much the same preliminary stages of experimentation that we have already been through, and like us they are religiously relying on their own ingenuity from the start, instead of making use of what has been done in other lands, to profit by those achievements and begin where they left off. They also have their quota of new inventions of peat processes, amongst which is one to make electric peat fuel. It is not certain how the electricity is going to be used, but the result is apparently a carbonized fuel or coal, which is then to be formed into briquettes. The use of electricity as a means of heating and drying is altogether too costly to be practicable. One article speaking of either this same process, or another in which electricity is employed, gives the idea that by passing a current of electricity through the peat the cells or fibre of the moss will be shattered and the evaporation of the contained moisture rendered more quick and complete. Just why the electric current, even if it would pass through such a poor conductor as peat, should shatter the fibre, is far from apparent. In Scotland it is proposed to manufacture fuel from the bogs of excellent peat to be found in the island of Skye. A new process and machine are to be tried, the details of which have not yet been made public. The undertaking, however, is in the hands of an English engineer.

MACHINE PEAT.

To return to Ontario, which has always been the centre of the peat industry in this country, a short detailed reference to the operations of the two processes which give promise of success will be warranted.

One of these is the above-mentioned first attempt of adopting the European practice of making machine peat fuel. Mr. E. V. Moore, of Peterborough, Ont., is engineering the work, and during the last season installed a plant which turned out about 25 tons of excellent fuel. Of course a good deal of time was taken to do this, and the test was not therefore on a commercial scale.

The peat is dug by hand with spades, thrown into cars, then hauled on portable tracks to a large hopper from which it drops between a pair of close-set rolls, one roll revolving twice as fast as the other, so that the fibre of the peat is almost completely destroyed, for the better elimination of the water and the formation of a dense product when dried. From there it passes through a machine much like an ordinary brick machine, where it is thoroughly mixed and thereby somewhat reduced in volume, and squeezed out in continuous, rectangular strings, which are cut up to regular lengths of about a foot. These are placed automatically on wooden pallets and hence conveyed automatically to drying racks, where they are exposed to the sun and wind until dry, that is, until the moisture has been reduced to about 25 per cent. In this condition they have become very hard, having shrunk to a quarter or less the original dimensions, and are apparently quite dry. This drying operation will require probably five weeks, at least, which, for a large output, will necessitate many racks, and a large proportion of the capital lying idle. Mr. Moore intends if possible to air-dry only to 35 or 40 per cent. water on these racks, and afterwards complete the process by artificial means. Whether this can be done commercially remains to be seen. If so there need be no doubt of the success of the whole process, or with it, as well as all others, the key to success lies in the economic removal of the water from the peat. All other processes fade into insignificance before this one. However, even with 25 per cent. water the blocks make an excellent fuel. This plant of Mr. Moore's is installed on a peat bog at Victoria Road, about 50 miles north east of Toronto, and practically on the line of the Trent Valley Canal.

Canadian Castles.

To Canadians castles are associated with the storied Rhine, picturesque England or France and Spain, but it is interesting to remember that there are a number of ancient Canadian castles still existing, the chief ones being St. Ours, Rimouski, St. Eustache, Lotbiniere, Montibello, Ste. Marie de la Beauce, Vaudreil, Rouville, and, most interesting of all, the Chateau de Ramesay at Montreal. The latter was built in 1665 by Gertrude de Ramezay, at that time Governor of the District of Montreal and Knight of the Royal and Military Order of St. Louis. From him was descended the last French Governor of Quebec, at the time of the capitulation in 1759. From that time to 1840 the castle remained in the possession of the Government, and was the residence of the French and English Governors until the capital was transferred from Montreal to Quebec. It is now owned by the Antiquarian Society, which has made of it a museum for historical relics of the old regime, and as such it possesses much interest for visitors to the one-time capital of New France.

EVANGELIST MAY'S LAST ADDRESS

Was Delivered to Good Congregation Last Night

The Explanation of the Word Water—A Successful Series of Meetings.

Evangelist May who has been labouring with good success in the Gospel Hall during the last few weeks left town today, and last night he held his farewell meeting, which was attended by a large number of persons, who heard a splendid address.

Mr. May spoke very forcibly from John 3:5, "Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God". Mr May said there was no word in the whole Bible that had been so misunderstood as the word water in this verse, but when looked at from the word of God it was very clear that the word water meant Christ as from 1st Peter 1-23, Here Peter declares to the strangers scattered throughout "Pontius, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bythynia that they were born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever. Here the Word of God was Christ as in the first chapter of John's Gospel", In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God and the word was God," and the word was God" and in the 14th verse "And the Word was made flesh and dwelt amongst us" also in James 1-21, "And receive with meekness the engrafted words which is able to save your souls." The speaker went on to show how the engrafted word brought a new life, as in a bad tree the farmer engrafts a new living branch and the two natures live together in one tree. Just so receiving of Christ in the heart brought a new life, called the second birth, which everyone must have in order to be fit for the presence of a thrice Holy God.

In Jeremiah 2-13, God says, "They have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters," also. John 4-10, "Jesus said, "If thou knowest the gift of God . . . . thou wouldst have asked of Him, and He would have given thee living water", John 7-37, further shows the water of John 4-5 to mean Christ. when Jesus said, "If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink"; and in Rev. 22-17, said, "And whosoever will let him take of the water of life (which is Christ) freely. The Gift of God is Eternal Life through Jesus Christ our Lord".

Mr. Irving took the latter part of the meeting with the dispensation of Law and showed that the ten tribes that were lost had never since been heard of but the two tribes went on till they rejected Christ and now the Jew is without a king and without a sacrifice till the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. Mr. Irving will continue the dispensational Chart to-night and Friday night every Bible Student should hear the addresses. It clears up many Scriptures and shows the mighty hand of God in dealing with the nations.—Com.

BUSY KEENE CARPENTERS

Will be Plenty of Work There This Spring.

Presentation to Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison—The Week's Rush on.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Keene, March 15th. — Mr. Vincent McCarthy is visiting relatives in Rochester for a couple of weeks.

Mr. C. Blewett of Peterborough was in the village on business on Monday.

Mr. R. H. Campbell was in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Mr. L. Foley of Hastings, is the guest of Keene friends.

Miss L. Bell, the talented young vocalist of this village, will assist at the T.A.S. concert in Peterborough on the 17th.

Mrs. Dr. McWilliams is visiting her parents in Toronto this week.

Mr. Will Walters, who spent a week with friends here, left for his home at Courtice, Ont., on Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Boyd of Queen's College, is visiting Rev. D. D. McDonald.

The local carpenters report that business will be very brisk during the coming summer. Several new buildings will be erected in the village and a large number of barns will be built by farmers who are finding that the old style of barn is not up to modern requirements.

Friends of the Examiner in Keene and vicinity note with pleasure the increased size of the paper, which has a large circulation among the farmers of Otonabee. Its popularity and usefulness are acknowledged by all and its appearance each week is welcomed by all who are fortunate enough to be subscribers.

The local branch of the Bank of Toronto is proving to be a great convenience to the business men, and it will no doubt prove to be a paying venture for the bank.

Members of the congregation of the Keene Methodist church presented Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison, who is retiring from the leadership of the choir, with a beautiful silver fruit dish. Mrs. Harrison, who was taken entirely by surprise, thanked the members for the beautiful gift, and said the remembrance of the pleasant associations formed during her leadership, would always remain with her.

Messrs. Frank Walsh and J. Quinn spent Sunday with Peterborough friends.

Mrs. Robinson of Peterborough, is visiting at the home of Mrs. W. Howson.

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mr. W. D. Laing, who was attacked with pneumonia a few days ago. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. W. Wedlock gave the very pleasant dancing party on Friday evening last.

Helpless with Salt Rheum

RECONSIDER THE BILLS.

An Important Statement By Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

BITTER FEELING AROUSED

The Difference With Premier Haultain Was Clearly Defined Before the Bills Were Introduced — How Charles Fitzpatrick States the Intention of the Government—Exciting Scene in House of Commons.

Ottawa, March 16.—New light of much importance was thrown on the Northwest school controversy yesterday by statements by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick. The former intimated that there would be amendments to the bill to try and satisfy the country, and the latter stated with great emphasis that the clause as now drafted was never intended to go one inch farther than the provisions regarding education, which are embodied in the existing legislation of the Northwest. These announcements, separated by several hours of desultory discussion on the same matter by Opposition members, go far to clear the air and to reassure the Liberal members of the House. The point was raised by Mr. R. L. Borden, on the motion to go into supply, when he referred to Premier Haultain's letter, and interrogated the Prime Minister on various points connected with the bill. One of Mr. Borden's questions was whether the Government intended to refer the question to the Supreme Court, but to this Sir Wilfrid did not reply. The Premier stated that the conferences on the educational clauses, which Mr. Haultain had regarded as casual, took place on two separate occasions, and that those interviews revealed the fact that there was a distinct difference of opinion between him and the Government.

Differences With Mr. Haultain.

Mr. Haultain had contended that section 93 of the British North America Act should apply automatically, while the Government insisted it should be made applicable legislatively, and subject to such modifications as were called for by the present condition of the people. Sir Wilfrid asked if, in view of all the petitions that had been presented to the House, it would be wrong if the Government would say, "We will reconsider our position, and see whether or not we can satisfy this country?" The subject, the Premier admitted, had given him a great deal to think about, and if it were possible to amend the bill the Government did not fear to consider the matter. Sir Wilfrid also pointed out that whereas Mr. Haultain's letter had taken exception to almost every clause in the bill, public opinion, as it found expression in the petitions, only objected to the education clause. The declaration of the Minister of Justice, at a late hour last evening, was preceded by the most angry discussion of the session, in which Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Borden crossed swords on the former's declaration that the Opposition were raising sectarian animosity in both Ontario and Quebec by opposite appeals. Mr. Fitzpatrick, once the air was cleared, gave details of the interview with Mr. Haultain on the educational clauses, and closed with the statement that the Government never intended going farther than the present legislation provided for. The discussion occupied the entire day, and no other business beyond the opening routine was transacted. The debate had been anticipated, and the galleries were filled to overflowing.

Mr. Borden's Speech.

Mr. Borden said he proposed to discuss certain passages of the letter written by Premier Haultain to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Haultain's letter would of course be laid on the table, together with other documents bearing on the bill. The situation which had developed between the month of October last and the present was, Mr. Borden said, a very peculiar one. The question of provincial autonomy for the Territories had been discussed in 1901 and 1902 and again in 1903. A formal resolution had been moved in the House, declaring that the time had arrived when autonomy should be granted to the Territories.

Mr. Borden said he distinctly stated when the resolution was introduced that it would take some time to arrange the details of autonomy. He realized that there should be no haste.

The Government benches voted solidly against the resolution, but on Oct. 4 last, the Prime Minister, in the midst of an election campaign, awoke to the gravity of the situation. He suddenly concluded that the question must be taken up, and wrote Premier Haultain accordingly. The former Minister of the Interior, Mr. Borden said, had also pursued a peculiar course. When the resolution favoring autonomy was before the House, Mr. Sifton spoke against it, described it as mischievous and said serious results might follow from it. Mr. Sifton had also explained that the question could not be taken up while the Minister of Finance was in Europe. Yet two years later, in the absence of both the Minister of Finance and the Minister of the Interior, the presence of whom had been declared absolutely necessary, the measure was brought down on Feb. 23 last. In spite of that indecent haste, not a single step had since been taken to advance the bill.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Borden said, had shown a profound contempt for constitutional precedent. He brought the bill before the House, supposedly as the product of the collection of wisdom of the Cabinet, yet, soon transpired that two of his colleagues had not even been consulted in the preparation of the bill. That circumstance the Premier had not yet explained.

More extraordinary still was the treatment accorded the representatives of the Northwest Territories. The Government of the Territories was summoned to Ottawa to discuss with a sub-committee of the Federal Cabinet the terms of the autonomy bill. It would naturally be supposed that the territorial representatives would be consulted on the important question of education, but they were not consulted. The exponent of liberty of 1896 was the tyrant of to-day.

From Premier Haultain's letter it appeared that he had not seen the educational clauses of the bill until noon of the day upon which it was introduced in the House. The net result was that the Minister of the Interior was not consulted, the Minister of Finance was not consulted and the Premier of the Territories was not consulted.

"The question naturally arises," said Mr. Borden, "whom did the Prime Minister consult?"

Mr. Borden said he would like to know of any amendments to the bills that were under the consideration of the Government. He would like also to know the personnel of the sub-committee of the Cabinet that dealt with the question. Was one of its members charged with special guardianship of the interests of the Territories? Mr. Borden referred to a paragraph published in the Government organ here, to the effect that some questions arising out of the autonomy bill were to be referred to the Supreme Court. If, he said, the bill was properly prepared in the first place, there would be no necessity for such a reference.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was encouraged by loud applause from the Government benches as he rose to reply. He referred to Mr. Borden's suggestion that the autonomy bill had been hastily prepared. His heart sank when he reflected that in the sight of the Leader of the Opposition he was always approaching questions in the wrong way. As to the delay in proceeding with the bill, Sir Wilfrid pointed out that the member for East Grey had specially requested the second reading to be deferred for some time, so that the west could be heard from. He thought he was pleasing Dr. Sproule as well as his leader by putting this matter off. He wouldn't try to please them again.

Sir Wilfrid denied that the bill bore evidence of hasty preparation. Mr. Haultain objected to every clause in the bill, but petitions from all over the Dominion showed that the only objection to the bill brought out in the country was to the educational clauses. He admitted that in attempting to deal with the educational question he was treading on tender grounds, and he knew that if this clause was eliminated there would be no objection to the bill.

As to Mr. Haultain's charge, that he had not been consulted in regard to it, Sir Wilfrid repeated that the conferences were confidential, that no record was kept, and he still thought he, himself, had no right to give his version of what had taken place. It was a somewhat risky thing to do in the absence of a written record. Sir Wilfrid read the concluding sentence of Mr. Haultain's letter, in which he thanked the Government for their "courtesy and consideration," and another paragraph in which he said Mr. Haultain admitted the educational clauses had twice been discussed with him, once on the Friday preceeding the introduction of the bill, and again on Feb. 21, the day the bill was introduced.

"Not considered," interrupted Mr. Lennox.

"Well, Mr. Haultain called it a casual reference," the Prime Minister answered, but what might have seemed to Mr. Haultain a casual reference might have been sufficient for somebody else. That was a result of having no record."

"The discussion of the 21st," Sir Wilfrid continued, "disclosed the fact that Mr. Haultain and he differed on the educational clause. Mr. Haultain took the ground that section 93 of the British North America Act applied mechanically to the new Provinces, and there was no necessity of going beyond section 2 of the bill. But the Government said, "No, we don't agree with you and will prepare a clause and submit it to you." That was done, and, of course, the clause, as submitted being the view of the Government, there then was no practical use in Mr. Haultain's further discussing it."

Sir Wilfrid declared, amidst Opposition laughter, that he was not called on to give Mr. Borden any more information than he had already given him.

"My hon. friend has asked me if we contemplate amendments to the bill," continued the Prime Minister. "I do not know, sir, that any wrong will be done to anybody if we are contemplating amendments. Would it be the first time for a Government, after introducing a measure, to endeavor to see whether it is possible or not to satisfy all sections of the country in that measure?"

I am sorry my hon. friend has treated this subject to-day a little more lightly than I would have expected of him on an occasion of this kind. What is the spectacle we have to-day? We have the spectacle of numerous petitions being presented, asking that the educational clauses should be withdrawn from the bill, and numerous other petitions asking that the bill should be passed as it is. This is a very delicate subject. It is not the first time this question of education has come before the House. In 1872-3, with regard to the New Brunswick school question, and in 1875 and 1896 there was an exhibition of sentiment and of contrary opinions.

"Sir, under such circumstances, if the Government so thinks and resolves to reconsider the position we have taken, and again to look at what we are going to do, is there any man on either side of the House or throughout this broad country who will say the Government is not doing right in thinking twice before taking a final step upon this question? Sir, I claim that I have some sense of the responsibility that attaches to the Government and to those who are entrusted with the administration of the affairs of the country, and in a question of this kind, especially. When such a matter is brought up and the Government is faced with a difficulty, or, perhaps, finds difficulties which no man could have foreseen, and looking also to the violence of the sentiments which are entertained, perhaps, sir, there is some reason why a Government should be slow to take any action and should hesitate in coming to a final decision.

I have spoken of the violence of the sentiments exhibited—I do not say that offensively. I would not do so; I know that public passions, strong passions, are not always ignoble, sometimes, on the contrary, they are only the exaggeration of a noble sentiment, but even the exaggeration of a noble sentiment may lead to outbursts of public passion. I say to my hon. friend, if he wants to know, that this subject gives me a great deal to think about, and if it be possible to amend this bill the Government need not fear to consider the matter. We are thinking upon these matters, it is our duty to do so, and the result of our deliberations shall be given in due time to the House, but at the present moment I think I have given to my hon. friend all the answer to which he is entitled."

Other Speakers.

The debate was continued by W. B. Northrup, E. B. Osler, McCarthy (Calgary), Lake (Qu' Appelle), Dr. Roche (Marquette), Schaffner (Souris), Herron (Alberta), Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick (who declared the Government had consulted the westerners on every phase of the bills except the autonomy clauses, and that the bill was prepared to give the people of the Northwest what they have and nothing more), Bennett, Boyce (Algoma), and Dr. Sproule.

Identity of Senators.

Ottawa, March 16.—Senator Casgrain yesterday moved the second reading of his bill requiring railways to carry members of Parliament free on the production of a card of identity. He argued that so long as the Railway Companies issued passes, members were made to feel a certain obligation, and this was not in accordance with the spirit of the act of Parliament which compels the railways to carry members of Parliament free. Although there was some opposition, the bill received its second reading on a vote of 36 to 16.

JURY SAYS SHE IS INSANE.

Mrs. Dee Will Be Committed to the London Asylum.

Woodstock, March 16.—At 7 o'clock last evening the jury in the Dee case, after being out one hour, returned a verdict that the accused Mrs. Lena Dee, was insane, and therefore unfit to receive her trial at the present time. She will accordingly be committed to London Asylum.

If she ever regains her reason, the charge of murder will be proceeded with, as she is not discharged. The decision to try Mrs. Dee solely on the question of her mental fitness to receive her trial at the present time was decided upon after Mr. Blackstock had made application for the same, and the medical expert testimony indicated that there was great doubt as to her mental capacity.

For the defence, Rev. Mr. McArthur and Rev. Mr. Kelly, former pastors of the accused, declared their belief that she was not responsible for her actions. The addresses of Crown Prosecutor Wilson and Mr. Blackstock followed. The former stated that if the jury found the prisoner sane her trial could not take place at the present court, as another jury was not secured. If declared insane, she would be committed to an asylum, and if at any time in the future she regained her reason, she would be put upon trial on the charge of murder.

Chief Justice Falconbridge addressed the jury at some length. His remarks were slightly in favor of the contention that Mrs. Dee was insane.

BLAMES HIMSELF ONLY.

C. W. Mariatt of St. Thomas Attempts Suicide in Toronto.

Toronto, March 16.—At the Daly House in this city C. W. Mariatt, a St. Thomas bookkeeper, waited until his wife slept after they had retired last night when he rose and shot himself in the right temple. He was living early this morning, but can scarcely recover. He left a note saying no one was to blame but himself. Mrs. Mariatt says she knows no reason why he should desire to take his life.

Railway Engine Explodes.

Johnstown, Pa., March 16.—While going west past Bolivar Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, yesterday, a locomotive hauling a long train of empty cars blew up, killing Engineer George Ribblett, probably fatally scalding Fireman George Hysong and Conductor Griffith Hare and injuring a dozen of a crew of 20 trackmen, who were working at the place.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS QUARTER OF MILLION

It is Expected That They Will Total That Amount This Year at the Peterborough Customs Office--Present Receipts are in the Neighborhood of $1000.00 per Day--By Far the Best Year in the History of Peterborough--An Indication of the Industrial Progress and Prosperity of the Town.

The present reign of industrial prosperity, and the constant expansion in the volume of business of the town, as demonstrated by the large daily receipts at the Customs House, justify the expectation that the total receipts for the current year, will be the largest in the history of the town.

From an estimate made this morning, based upon the present daily receipts, as compared with those of previous years, it is expected that the customs receipts for the present year will aggregate a quarter of a million dollars, which is away in avance of that of all previous years. The receipts at present are in the neighbourhood of $1,000 per day, though, of course, this is accounted for by the fact that large spring importations are being passed through the Customs daily, and are being taken into stock by the firms to whom they are consigned.

When the receipts amounted to $222,751 last year, it was thought that the record was a remarkable one, and that a splendid record had been made, but this year's receipts eclipse completely all past records at the local Custom Office, and it is doubtful if another town or city in Canada can equal the proportionate record of Peterborough.

LOCAL MAN'S CLEVER NEPHEW

Mr. E. J. Kylie B. A. Candidate for Office at Toronto University

Standard Bearer of the "Old Lit." Party —A Brilliant Career.

The Toronto News contains an appreciative reference to Mr. E. J. Kylie, B.A., who is a nephew of Mr. John Kylie, Hunter street, and a native of Lindsay. He is one of the most clever young men in Canada. The News says:—

Mr. E. J. Kylie, B.A., who is the standard-bearer of the "Old Lit." party in the coming elections, is one of the most distinguished graduates of Toronto University. As an undergraduate his career was brilliant, and in his post graduate work abroad he not only added honour to his own name, but shed an additional lustre on his university. Mr. Kylie in his double course of classics, and English and history, took a very high stand, carrying off the Mary Mulock Scholarship, the McCaul medal, and also the Flavelle travelling scholarship.

His course at Oxford, from which he graduated in 1904 with honours in history, was exceedingly creditable to him. During the last year he has been lecturing with great acceptance in the department of history, and is deservedly popular with the student body. During his stay at Oxford he was a member of the Executive Committee of the "Union," and won distinction as a debater. Mr. Kylie's knowledge of the Oxford union would be of especial benefit to the society at the present time, as some change in the methods of carrying on the meetings of the society is being contemplated. As the candidate of the "Old Lit." party, Mr. Kylie represents the progressive element in university politics. In its manifesto some important measures are promised for the student consideration. The residence question is to be taken up and pressed with all possible speed, and the Cambridge system is to be introduced, occasionally in the regular meetings of the society.

DR. R. W. BELL IN NORTH ONTARIO

Returns From Inspecting Lumber and Mining Camps.

Dr. R. W. Bell, Inspector of the Provincial Board of Health, has returned from a six-week's tour of the lumber, mining and railway construction camps of New Ontario. He found, on the whole, and the employees were carrying out the regulations in regard to sanitary arrangements and were quite willing to adopt any suggestions. When he left for Toronto there was only one case of small-pox, and that was at the farthest point reached by the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway. All precautions had been taken, however, and there was no danger from this source. Cases in several other camps had all recovered. The greatest difficulty in regard to sanitary regulations was found in railway construction camps, owing to the manner in which the gangs divide into little camps along the lines. It was found, however, that most of the foreigners engaged in that work had been vaccinated before coming to Canada, or shortly afterwards, so that they were not particularly subject to contagious diseases.—Globe.

GOOD MUSIC AT CHORUS CLASS

Some Promising Musicians Were Heard Last Night.

Lectures on Music Will be Given in the Near Future.

The weariness, or ennui, caused by the routine sameness in the performance of a work, will never find a place in the chorus class which is held weekly in the T. A. S. Hall. Vocal numbers, contributed by certain pupils of the class serve to break the monotony that might otherwise occur. But even if this advantage did not exist the rapid progress made by the sight-reading pupils and the increasing facility with which the various parts of the chorus harmonize, would dispel all danger of a cessation in the interest taken in the work. Miss Ruth Dawson and Mr. Thomas Dawson contributed vocal numbers during the class which was held last evening. Miss Dawson has a strong, rich soprano voice, one which musical critics would term a dramatic soprano. She sang two solos, "Village Wedding Song," by Rose M. Eversale, and "Mighty Lak a Rose," by E. Nevin. There was certainly no division of opinion as to the merit of her singing. All her hearers were greatly pleased, and showed by their applause that they fully appreciated the perfection with which she sang these solos.

A duet was afterwards sung by Miss Dawson and her brother, and this was followed by a solo given by Mr. Dawson. The duet, "Father in Heaven all Glorious," by E. H. Falley, was well chosen for the purpose of bringing out the qualities of the two voices. The solo, contributed by Mr. Dawson, was entitled "Admiral Tom." He sang in a spirited manner, and with good articulation. His tones, over a certain compass, are now well developed, and it is certain that in a short time he will have a pleasing baritone with an exceptionally good range.

Henceforth the class will meet on Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. Short lectures will be given from time to time on the musical art. These should serve as another reason for the faithful attendance and active support of every member of the class.

PRESENTATION TO MR. R. EVANS

Was Honoured on Occasion of his Birthday.

A large number of the friends of Mr. N. Evans gathered at the home of Mr. Booth, Chamberlen street, on Tuesday to spend a social evening and also to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Evans. A pleasant time was spent by singing and instrumental music and both were much enjoyed by all present. The most important feature of the evening was a birthday gift from all present. Mr. S. Thomas read the address and Mr. B. Stevens made the presentation which consisted of a half a dozen dining chairs a rattan rocker and a parlour table. The address was as follows:—

Peterborough,
March 14th, 1905.

To Mr. Evans:

Dear Richard,—This is the first time we have had a chance in celebrating a birthday of yours and we sincerely hope it will not be the last. We are delighted to avail ourselves of an opportunity to prove our friendships by honouring your birthday with the household articles you will receive. We trust they will be acceptable and all join hands in wishing you a bumping success through the remainder of your life. We all know or at least we understand "Dick" that your wife will not be long before she is here.

We will all be sorry to see you leave this place indeed we will, as really your company will be greatly missed at Mrs. Booth's. Your voice has helped to pass away many an enjoyable evening. Though you will leave, your love shall remain warm in all our hearts and your name shall forever be on our tongues.

Signed on behalf of your friends.

Mr. Evans made a very suitable reply and thanked them all for their kindness to him.

The evening was then brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.—Com.

SISTER OF MRS. D. KNOX DEAD

Mrs. Joseph Fisher was a Highly Respected Resident of Bailieboro.

The death of Mrs. Joseph Fisher occurred on Sunday, March 12th, at her home, Bailieboro. She was well known and respected throughout the community. Her death is mourned by a husband and two children — Master Douglas, and Miss Florence — who have the sympathy of a host of friends in their bereavement. Not only her home but the church also, looses a faithful member, as she took a deep interest in all church work.

The funeral took place Tuesday, March 14th, from her late residence, to St. Paul's cemetery, Cavan, and was largely attended. Mrs. David Knox, Queen street, is a sister of the deceased.

DONATION WAS SENT BY SUNDAY SCHOOL

George Street Sunday School's Generous Contribution to Hospital Funds.

At a meeting of the teachers of the George street Sunday school, held on Tuesday evening, a communication, which was received by the secretary, Mr. A. E. Dixon, was presented. This was the acknowledgment by Mr. Douglas Davidson, the treasurer of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, of the donation of $25.00 to the funds of that institution, by the George street Sunday school. Too much cannot be said in commendation of the excellent work, of true Christian charity in its highest form, which is being performed by the Sick Children's Hospital, and it is an object of such undoubted worthiness, that other religious bodies of the town may well take into consideration the matter of rendering further financial assistance.

THE CONGRESS AND WATERLOO

Two Interesting Addresses in S. A. Last Night

Bandmaster Greene and Sergt.-Major Braund the Speakers.

In the Salvation Army Hall last night a large audience listened to two very able and interesting addresses, on the great International Congress held in London, Eng., last summer, which was attended by Bandmaster Greene and Sergt.-Major Braund, of the local corps. The meeting was a decidedly interesting one, and the descriptions given by the two speakers were listened to with pleasure.

Canadian Lady Officer at S. A. Congress

Bandmaster Greene was the first speaker. He described the Canadian contingent meeting at Montreal, their trip across the Atlantic, arrival in the Old Land, the welcome meeting in the Royal Albert Hall, reception of General Booth by His Majesty, with some very interesting facts about British and Foreign Bands.

Sergt.-Major Braund interested the audience with an account of his trip to the Continent. Paris was the first place visited, thence to Cologne, Germany and to Brussels. His visit to the historic battle-ground of Waterloo was described with great interest. The speaker illustrated his address by drawing a diagram of the battle on the blackboard, and exhibited some curios purchased while there.

LAST NIGHT'S LENTEN LECTURES

Rev. R. Seaborn of Toronto on Christian Example

Rev. Geo. Warren, of Lakefield, Says Worship Should be a Part of our Daily Life.

At St. John's Church.

A large congregation attended the second of the series of Wednesday night Lenten services at St. John's church last night. The sermon was delivered by Rev. R. Seaborn, M.A., of Toronto, who took as his text St. Matthew, 5th chapter, 14th verse, "Ye are the Light of the World". The Apostles were truly the light of the world, notwithstanding the lowly condition of their birth and their various sins, as are all men and women who are staunch to the cause of Christ and follow in His footsteps. In speaking these words Christ referred to the mission of the Church, as well as to that of the individual Christian,—their conditions being identical in the respect that both were forced to live a life in the open subjected to the criticism of the world. This is specially so of the Holy Catholic Church as it is situated to-day in the midst of diversity of creeds and sects, and we must hold firm to the ordinances of the church, forming as they do the reason of of the Church's existence. The life of the individual is like a city set upon a hill, whose light cannot be hid. So, too, as the light of the Church is the light shed by the individual Christian. Our light is one that comes from Christ, and we must reflect it throughout our lives. In illustration the borrowed light of the moon was instanced. This we do not despise, as it lights us on our journeys, even though it be but reflected from a greater body. One person who, is faithful to the cause of Jesus Christ, may, when situated in the most depraved society, even if they do not succeed in dispelling the darkness, be able to check its influence. Nothing can free us from the obligation of letting our light shine though many attempt to do so. All should remember the tremendous influences which attend their conversation and actions, and should shed the light of truth of love and of sweetness throughout their lives. Each individual is responsible for his own surroundings, each must light up his own spot. The preacher closed by submitting one personal question which each should ask himself—"Is the place I occupy in life any better for my being there and am I letting my light shine as I ought?"

At St. Luke's Church.

The second of a series of Lenten addresses was delivered last night at St. Luke's Church by Rev. Geo. Warren, of Lakefield. There was a large congregation present and Mr. Warren proved a most vigorous and instructive speaker.

He chose as his text the fourth, fifth and sixth verses of the eleventh chapter of Exodus. These were very familiar words. They were first addressed to the ancient Israelites and especially forbade them to make any symbol or representation of God. There are some people who ask why should this be so?

There are people who represent God by pictures, images and symbols, all of which the commandment forbids. The making of an image was the outward sign of a kind of worship which to-day goes under the name of nature worship. Its traces are to be found all over the world. Among the Syrians this worship was represented by the figure of an ox. The people were devoted to the worship of animal force. That was the thing that absorbed the thoughts of the Syrians. That is why God laid the commandment upon the people that they should not have anything to do with images and nature worship.

The Israelites were a long time in learning the lesson that God is a God of moral government, a God who orders that He shall be obeyed in righteousness.

God first sent to them preachers who urged upon the people the sins of idolatry and nature worship. But they continued in their own way, worshipping the idols and images they had fashioned then God swept upon them with war and plague and famine and almost destroyed them. From that time the Jews have never had a political standing but became a church of God. The people were joined together under the basis of God's eternal law in righteousness.

In this instance we see God revealed in judgment, but this is not the highest revelation of God that we have. It remains for the New Testament to reveal us the greatest and most perfect truths about God. We see that he is perfect goodness, love and life.

The speaker then touched upon the many instances of false worships to be found in the world, such as the worship of business and so forth. Many thought they were worshipping when they came to church on Sunday, but there were no worshippers worthy of the name that was not part of our daily life.

WINDING UP THE SUGAR COMPANY

Meeting Will be Held in the Judge's Chambers on March 29th.

Judge Weller has issued notices to the creditors, contributors and shareholders, of the Peterborough Sugar Company, Limited, calling attention to the fact that on Wednesday, March 29th, at 11 o'clock, a meeting will be held in the Judge's Chambers, for the purpose of appointing a permanent liquidator of the company, and fixing the security to be given by him. All interested in the affairs of the company are asked to be present.

THE OPTIMISTS CARRIED THE DAY

That the World is Growing Better was Decided Last Night

At the Meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Debating Society—An Interesting Programme.

Last night the meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Literary and Debating Society, proved to be the most interesting yet held.

In the absence of the president, who, it is suspected, was worshipping at the shrine of things Tennysonian, the vice-president, occupied the chair.

Thirteen members answered the roll call with quotations from prose and poetry.

A two-minute impromptu on Spring left little time for Mr. W. C. Downie to fully embrace the subject of the singing and mating of birds, and the tendency of young men's fancy to "turn lightly to thoughts of love."

"Current events" was treated very concisely by Mr. Orr, and in local events, he showed that the destruction of the pines at Hilliard's would be detrimental to the country, as they have been in part a source of romance to lovers on moonlight drives, and therefore a factor in speeding happy unions.

Mr. Dormer's five minute talk on "Favourite Authors," proved to be of Milton.

The subject of debate — "Resolved, —That the world is growing better," was keenly contested, and the laurels went to the gentleman who viewed the world through rose-coloured glasses. William McLaren and Mr. Voelz for the affirmative and Messrs H. V. Snook and C. Hardwicke for the negative.

In the general discussion that followed the thought was on the whole optimistic, notwithstanding the arguments that the robber barons of old were to be considered petty thieves, as contrasted with the oil, beef, steel barons, et al., of to-day.

In the absence of Mr. Kenner, who services as critic are highly appreciated by the society, Mr. Williamson gave a brief review of the evening and expressed his delight with the way the programme was carried out, and of the educational value of the society.

The next debate, for March 29th, will be: "Resolved, — That billiards is beneficial to the social life of religious institutions."

DEATH YESTERDAY OF THOS. W. GILLIES

Passed Away at his Residence Corner George and Perry Streets.

After a protracted illness from Bright's disease, during which he was confined to the house for about four weeks, Thomas William Gillies passed passed away about four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, at his residence, corner of Perry and George streets.

The deceased was 35 years of age, and was born in Manvers township, removing to Peterborough about seven years ago, and has resided here ever since, being employed in the C. G. E. Works. His wife, who was Miss Emma Gillespie, of Cavan, is left to mourn his demise. Also surviving him are one brother, Robert, of Port Hope, and one sister, Mrs. Henders, of Manvers.

Both parents of the deceased are still living, having resided with him for some years.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, corner of Perry and George streets, to the Little Lake cemetery.

RETURNED MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK HERE

Rev. H. E. Stillwell to Address Meeting in Murray Street Church.

At the Murray street Baptist on Tuesday evening next, at eight o'clock, Rev. H. E. Stillwell will deliver an address on the work in India. No one is better qualified to speak on this subject than is Mr. Stillwell. During the last seven years he has been in charge of the Vuyyuru field, and during that time has baptised over one thousand native converts. He came home on furlough last May. Mrs. Stillwell, his wife, comes of good missionary stock, being a daughter of the first Canadian missionary to India, Rev. A. V. Timpany.

While it is expected that there will be a good turnout of the members of the church on Tuesday evening, members of other churches who are interested in missions, will be heartily welcome. A great treat may be expected.

THE "GUILLOTINE"

Imperial House Sanctions Closure to Save Dignity.

HOW BALFOUR SEES MEMBERS

Mr. Asquith Accuses Premier of Encroaching on the Powers and Privileges of the House—Closure Motion Marked Epoch in the Degradation of the Commons—The Votes Taken.

London, March 15.—Premier Balfour introduced the "guillotine" in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, with the object of securing the sanctioning of the estimates before March 31. In moving the closure of the proceedings on supply, the Premier declared that it was necessary in order to secure the requisite votes before the close of the financial year. The step taken was for the credit of the House and not to extricate the Government from difficulty. Prolonged debates delayed business, and closuring was more in consonance with the dignity of the House than the suspension of 12 o'clock rule, the vision of bedraggled members of Parliament going home at 10 o'clock in the morning not being calculated to raise the reputation of the House of Commons.

Mr. Asquith (Liberal), in a few caustic sentences, moved the adjournment. He declared Mr. Balfour's motion was a parliamentary scandal, the greatest outrage ever offered by a "nominally" responsible minister to a "nominally" liberative assembly. He accused the Government of mismanagement and the Premier of encroaching on the powers and privileges of the house, and said the motion marked an epoch in the degradation of the House of Commons from a deliberative to a dependant body, and transformed it into a mere automatic machine to register the will of the executive.

The motion to adjourn was defeated by 266 votes to 204.

Mr. Redmond moved an amendment that the House decline to sanction any proposals for further curtailing discussion of the supply.

The amendment was debated up to 7.30 o'clock, when Mr. Balfour moved closure, which was carried by 249 to 213.

Mr. Redmond's motion was then defeated by a majority of 40.

The debate on Mr. Balfour's "guillotine" motion will be resumed to-day.

APPOINTED CHAIRMAN.

Mr. Smith Will Give Expert Attention to Temiskaming Railway.

Toronto, March 16.—Cecil B. Smith, C. E., of Toronto, is the chairman of the new Temiskaming Commission. The appointment was announced yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of the conference with the Government. The members spent yesterday at the offices in Manning Arcade, taking over the books, etc. Mr. Smith's salary will be $3,000 per annum, and those of Messrs. Eaglehart and Murphy $1,000 each. Formerly each of the five Commissioners were paid $1,000.

New Housekeeper.

The appointment of Frederick George Lee, of Toronto, as housekeeper at the Parliament Buildings was made Tuesday. He has had experience as butler and steward in England. Since coming to Canada he has been engaged in furniture and real estate businesses.

Amendments to Game Laws.

OLIVE STERNAMAN WINS.

U. S. Court of Appeals Gives Her Insurance on Husband.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 16.—Mrs. Oliver G. Sternaman, whose trial in Haldimand County, Ontario, on a charge of murdering her husband attracted much attention some time ago, has won her suit which she brought against the Metropolitan Insurance Company to recover $1,000, the amount of insurance on the life of her husband.

The Court of Appeals, the highest tribunal in the State, Tuesday affirmed the findings of the lower courts, which decided without execution in favor of Mrs. Sternaman.

Just what the full amount of the interest and costs will be does not transpire, but the original judgment has been multiplied by half a dozen times, which will make a neat sum for both the plaintiff and her lawyers.

FRANK MATTHEWS SUICIDES.

Oakville Man, Weary of Domestic Unhappiness, Takes His Life.

Oakville, March 16.—Frank Matthews, soda water manufacturer, committed suicide yesterday by shooting.

He had been dissipating for some years, more or less, his wife and family being obliged to leave him last summer. Since then he was greatly worried and seemed to feel his position keenly.

He died shortly after the shooting, without having regained consciousness. The funeral takes place on Friday afternoon. He leaves a widow, two daughters and one son, who live in Toronto.

Lobster Trust a Certainty.

Portland, Me., March 16.—The Portland Lobster Company, J. W. Trefethen Company, J. N. Trefethen Company and F. S. Willard, all big Portland wholesale lobster dealers, controlling half the lobster output of the United States, were persuaded yesterday by James W. Leslie, agent for a proposed lobster trust, to enter the combine. This means that the lobster trust is a certainty. It will reach Canada also.

BIG SHIPMENTS OF LIVE HOGS

176 Shipped to Toronto Yesterday--Advance in the Price

Grain Market Features--Wheat Lower--Probability of Large Acreage This Year.

On Wednesday, 176 hogs were shipped from Peterborough stock yards to Toronto, the largest number that has gone out of this town in one day for some time. Yesterday morning the market presented a busy scene when the deliveries were being made. The price has taken a slight rise, $5.75 being paid, which is the highest that has been paid here for some time. There is no indication, however, that this increase will be permanent, the Toronto market suddenly developed a demand, which may or may not continue. The 176 hogs weighed 29,760 pounds, an average weight of 165 1-2 pounds, which is about 15 pounds per hog lighter than the market wants, 180 pound hogs will bring a higher price, but the farmers no doubt preferred to sell them on the rise in price to feeding them any longer.

There is little offering in the way of beef cattle and the quality is not good. The farmers of this district are paying more attention to dairying than to stock-raising, and the result is that cattle of dairy breed instead of beef qualities, are raised, and the calves do not get the milk necessary to make good sturdy animals.

The fact that $180 was paid for four two year old fat steers for export, should prove that it pays to raise beef cattle.

The only material change in the grain market was the drop in the price of wheat. Mr. George Mather the Charlotte street grain dealer was seen yesterday afternoon, and stated that white wheat had dropped to $1 and spring wheat to 95c., a drop of five cents in each case from the prices of last week. There is considerable wheat offering and the quality is generally good. Mr. Mather is of the opinion that the acreage in wheat this year will be large, induced no doubt by the high prices of that cereal for the last year's crop. Oats have taken a drop of one cent and are now quoted at 40c. The same was said of oats as Mr. Mather remarked about wheat. The good prices of oats for the last few months as a result of the small crop in the eastern provinces, where oats were almost a failure, will result in a very large acreage for 1905.

Red clover is in good demand and the price is from $7 to $7.60 with very little offering. Alsike is slow, and the market dull.

With the approach of Easter eggs are lower, the prices to-day being from 17 to 18 cents. Butter goes up a cent.

THEY HEARD THREATS.

Crown Continues its Evidence in King Township Arson Case.

Toronto, March 16.—The King Township arson case is dragging along in the Criminal Sessions before Judge Morgan. The Crown has not yet concluded its evidence for the prosecution. A number of witnesses testified they heard Godson make threats against Bell, but they thought it was all idle talk. They would have thought no more about the matter had there not been any fires. Mrs. Elizabeth Hunter saw two people running from the fire towards and into the swamp. One was a man, but could not tell whether the other was a man in a long coat or a woman.

Neil Campbell said he met Godson after the suit in the Division Court had been decided in Bell's favor. Godson told him he "would have satisfaction."

A Peter Pan Story.

While Mr. Barrie was composing his delightful "Peter Pan" he went to a children's supper party, says The London Chronicle. Among the guests was a little boy whose healthy appetite provoked from his mother the pleading threat: "You will be ill to-night." "No, mother, not till to-morrow," was the calm response of the contented creature of the moment. It caught and pleased the ear of Mr. Barrie, who put it into his play, and promised to the juvenile joint-author a halfpenny royalty upon every performance. In the case of so prosperous a piece, this payment should Peter-pan out to a little fortune for a little boy.

Children Are Underfed

THE RESULT IS WEAKNESS, RICKETS, ST. VITUS' DANCE AND MANY ILLS OF CHILDHOOD —THE CURE IS

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

"Nine-tenths of children are underfed," writes a great English scientist who made an exhaustive study of the subject.

Children require double nourishment—to enable them to grow as well as to repair the wear and tear consequent on living.

Active exercise of mind and body, together with growth of physiological changes, consume nerve force at a tremendous rate, exhaust the supply of rich blood, and leave the body weak and liable to disease.

Pallor and weakness, weak eyes, nervousness, skin disease, rickets, St. Vitus' dance and constant debility to catch cold and to contract the disease of childhood are the result.

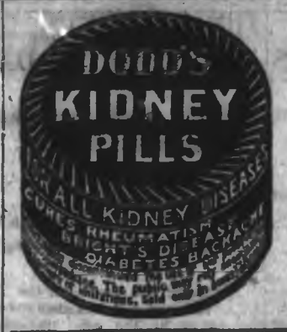
As a means of restoring the vitality of weak, puny children, there is no preparation so effective as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Being mild and gentle in action and powerful as a creator of new, rich blood and nerve force, this great food cure is admirably suited to the needs of children, soon adds new, firm flesh, and tissues to the weak and emaciated body and restores the vigour of robust childhood.

There is no means by which nourishment is so directly applied to the blood and nerves as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, because this preparation is composed entirely of the elements of nature which are required to build up and restore strength to the system.

Mrs. R. Warnham, 257 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., states—"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, and in fact, was all run down, pale and laggard. These troubles we attributed to over-study and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say I have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her, as the colour is returning to her face, and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 3



STORM ON BRITISH COASTS.

Twenty-Three of the Crew of the Khyber Drowned When the Vessel Was Wrecked.

London, March 16.—A storm of hurricane force burst over the Irish and English coasts during the night, and it is feared that many disasters have occurred. The telegraph lines are broken at many points.

The British ship Khyber has been totally wrecked off the Cornish coast. Twenty-three of her crew were drowned and three were saved. The Khyber was on her way home from Melbourne, Australia.

The storm swept over the north of Ireland early yesterday morning and did great damage to propery. Fears are entertained for the safety of the fishing fleets.

Havoc Along Coasts.

The high winds have caused considerable havoc along the coasts of the United Kingdom. Telegraphic communication between London and many points is cut off. The lifeboat stations are busy and shipping everywhere is seeking shelter. Numbers of minor wrecks accompanied by losses of life have been reported. Terrific seas are running.

The departure of Queen Alexandra Princess Victoria and other members of the Royal family from Portsmouth for Lisbon to return the visit of the King and Queen of Portugal, which was to have occurred Tuesday, and which was prevented by the weather, was again postponed, this time until to-day.

Iron Vessel Ashore.

Queenstown, March 16.—A large iron vessel, the British ship Wray Castle, from Portland, Ore., which arrived at Queenstown Tuesday, has been driven ashore and several others have dragged their anchors, owing to the severity of the gale off this coast. The Wray Castle lies on the eastern bank in Whitegate roads. Seas are breaking over her, but possibly she may be towed off after being lightened.

Permanent Cure for Bronchitis

"My second daughter was troubled with bronchitis from the age of three weeks. Oftentimes I thought that she would choke to death. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine brought relief and further treatment made a thorough cure. This trouble used to come back from time to time, but the cure is now permanent."—Mrs. Richmond Withrow, Shubenacadie, Hants County, N. S.

Farmers Holding Wheat.

Montreal, March 16.—The Lake of the Woods Milling Company estimates the deliverable wheat in farmers' hands in Manitoba and the Territories at 5,000,000 bushels at least, and the company is of the opinions that it may run up to 6,000,000 bushels.

BILIOUSNESS.

Biliousness means that your liver is sick and out of order, and you are cross and cranky, can't eat, have a bad, nasty tasting mouth, and are sick all over. To neglect biliousness will result in constipation, loss of appetite, toothache and bad feelings. Restore the liver to health by using Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, which cure biliousness in one night, give your liver healthy action, assist digestion, clean up your furred and coated tongue, and give new life and energy to tired nerves. These little pills will accomplish more in a few days toward making you feel better than a bushel of nerve pills. They restore the liver and stomach to normal activity, and they positively cure constipation, biliousness, headache in one night. Price 25 cents at dealers.

A NEW YORK HORROR

Tenement Burns and Inmates Trapped On Fire Escapes.

THE DEAD NUMBER TWENTY

Heart-Rending Scenes Appal Spectators at Burning of a Five-Storey House—Rubbish Choked Fire Escapes and Skylights Were Blocked—Heroic Work by Rescuers.

New York, March 15.—At least a score of people were burned to death, several were so badly hurt that they may die, and forty others received slight hurts in a fire that practically destroyed a five-storey tenement house in Allen Street early yesterday. The fire had gained great headway before it became known to most of the tenants, and the escape of many of them was cut off until too late to save themselves. Thrilling rescues and daring leaps for life marked the fire. Scores were carried from the blazing building. Firemen climbed the walls on their scaling ladders, braved the flames and reached the imperilled tenants. Of the badly injured several may die, as they are terribly burned.

Fire Escape Death Traps.

Of the bodies thus far recovered only the following have been identified: Rachael Solomon, 45; Jacob Solomon, 16; Isaac Solomon, 13; Jessie Cohen, 15; Rose Wiener, 23; Sander Weiner, 4; Ida Muskowitz, 10; Harry Kauffman, 10; Rose Miller, 4; Morris Miller, 5

Crowded fire escapes in the rear of the tenement house were largely responsible for so many deaths in injuries among its population, which approached 200 souls. The scenes about the building after the fire was over and when the search for the dead was begun were heartrending. Nothing so pitiful of such proportions has been seen in New York City since the Slocum disaster.

A Lamp Exploded.

The fire started in the basement, occupied by Isaac Davis, his wife and three children. Davis had been out last night, and returning to his home early yesterday morning, went into his store on the same floor just in time to see a kerosene lamp in the rear explode. He awoke his wife, and both tried to put out the flaming lamp, but without success, and then gave all their attention to getting their children out of the burning building. A young man passing the house at the time saw the flames and gave the alarm.

Coroner Goldenkrans declared after an investigation that he had reason to believe the blaze was the work of an incendiary. He issued subpoenas for the fire marshal, tenement house and building inspectors, and health and police officials to appear before him at the inquest Thursday.

The fire started in the basement and spread with frightful rapidity to the roof. The victims were caught in traps of flames, the halls and exits being rendered impassable in a few minutes after the blaze started. The building was one of the usual crowded tenements, and the disaster was the worst in the history of the east side.

The district attorney has begun an investigation to place the blame for the great loss of life. Chief Croker of the fire department asserts that the police and tenement house departments are to blame for disregard of the fire escape law. The tenement house department officials, however, say that the blame is on the shoulders of the fire commissioner. Of the nineteen dead three bodies, those of a boy and two girls, remain unidentified.

Chicago Tack Plant Burnt.

Chicago, March 15.—Fire, which broke out yesterday in the printing and box department of the Grand Crossing Tack Company's plant, caused a loss of about $300,000. The entire plant, valued at $1,000,000, employed 800 persons, many of them women and children.

Half a Town Destroyed.

Winnipeg, Man., March 15.—Half the Town of Ponoka, Northwest Territories, was destroyed by fire Monday night, including Fairly's big store and the Bank of Commerce. Loss is $100,000.

Too Heavy.

"He's a very tiresome talker. He weighs his words so."

"Yes, and he has another fault sometimes peculiar to people who weigh their words. He gives too generous measure."—Philadelphia Press.

DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit for a your medicines am glad to say a few words that you may use for publication." Writes Mrs. J. R. Dowsee, Crystal Lake, Conn. "Had been troubled with a complication of diseases for over two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst attacks were headache, frequent pains through chest and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chilliness between shoulders. Some days cared but little for food; I was weak; but so tired and miserable it seemed I couldn't do any housework. Took medicine from my physician, but received no benefit. Bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after taking it felt so much better was determined to keep it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared and now I am well."

ESQUIMALT AND HALIFAX.

British House of Commons Discusses the Question Tuesday.

London, March 14.—In the discussion on the navy estimates, in the house of commons, Gen. Laurie referred to Esquimalt and Halifax and asked what was the use of the British government keeping on yards stripped of stores and with buildings in the hands of caretakers. The only object in maintaining garrisons and fortifications at Esquimalt and Halifax was to protect them as naval bases. Instead of putting these yards in charge of caretakers, the government should hand them over to the Canadian government on condition that they should be made available for the navy whenever they were required.

Mr. Pretyman, secretary to the admiralty, in reply, said the point made by Gen. Laurie in regard to the Canadian government taking charge of the naval bases had not been lost sight of. There were two parties to bargain with, but the admiralty would be willing to negotiate with regard to the North Pacific. The immediate local danger to be guarded against did not appear to warrant the maintenance of a naval base at Esquimalt.

The problem of the distribution of the fleet, like the construction problem, was a shifting one, and when the presence of a stronger force in the Pacific was required the admiralty was perfectly free to arrange accordingly.

EARL ROBERTS AT THE FAIR.

King Commands Abbey's Coronation Picture to Be Sent to Toronto.

London, March 15.—By command of King Edward, Abbey's coronation picture will be exhibited at this year's Canadian National Exhibition.

Four pictures from the Louvre, Paris, will be exhibited at the Toronto Exhibition.

The Canadian Associated Press has learned that at a dinner on Saturday night in one of the London clubs, the Colonial Secretary mentioned to Lord Roberts that in a Provincial newspaper he had seen a cable from Canada that Lord Roberts intended visiting Canada. Roberts replied: "Yes, yes, I am going to Canada, and I think I am to open the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto."

Hon. Clifford Sifton Declines.

Toronto, March 15.—Hon. Clifford Sifton and Hon. F. G. Haultain have been written to in regard to addressing an indignation meeting in this city. Hon. Clifford Sifton declined to speak on the autonomy bill in Toronto, and Hon. F. G. Haultain has not replied; but it is not anticipated that he will accept.

Two More Protests.

Toronto, March 15.—At Osgoode Hall yesterday petitions were filed against the election of Richard Harcourt in Monck and Dr. Currie in Prince Edward. The defeated candidate in each case is the petitioner. The list of petitions against members-elect now totals ten.

Locomotive Explodes.

Schenectady, N. Y., March 15.—By an explosion on an engine on the N. Y. C. Railroad, near this city, yesterday, the engineer, Elmer E. Allen of Albany, was burned in a frightful manner, and death resulted in a few hours. No cause for the explosion can be assigned.

Novelist Kerby Ill.

Niagara Falls, March 15.—William Kerby, the aged Canadian novelist and historian, is seriously ill at his home at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

The King Fire Cases.

Toronto, March 15.—One of the most important cases that will be tried at this sitting of the Criminal Sessions was commenced yesterday before Judge Morgan and a jury. Thomas Godson, his son Joseph, his daughter Susan Bateman, and her husband, Hamilton Bateman, are on trial, charged with setting fire to the buildings, hay and straw stacks of James Bell. All the parties live in the Township of King. The actual value of the property destroyed was nearly $6,000. The case will last all week.

Says She Is 172.

Montreal, March 15.—A remarkable figure at the Windsor Station this morning was a venerable Chinese lady named Ah Ling Ching, who accompanied a party of Chinese relatives, who were traveling by the G. T. R. from Halifax, en route from Demarara to China. She claimed to be 172 years old, and looked it.

Commission at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, March 15.—The Railway Commission of the Dominion Government arrived here yesterday to consider the applications for the various level crossings and subways applied for in St. Thomas. It was decided to drive to the various crossings concerned. The Commission sat at the City Hall at 2.30 and Solicitor Doherty made a forcible presentation of the case for the city. The Commissioners took the evidence very fully and reserved judgment.

BIG HARVEST OF PEARLS.

In Ceylon Three Thousand Divers Secure Forty-One Million Oysters in Thirty-Eight Days.

Few Crown colonies, says The London Standard, are blessed with as business-like and enterprising an administration as Ceylon, and year by year the surplus revenue increases. One source of income is the pearl, and last year, after an interval of twelve years, a fishery was held at Marichchikaddi, on the northwest coast, and in thirty-eight working days 41,180,127 oysters were fished. Though the Government is supposed to have two-thirds of the harvest, the divers and merchants derived great profit. Divers come from Tuticorin, Keelakart, Mandapam and Paumben, in India, and from Erukelampidi, in the Mannar District, and a few men from Galle and Jaffna. There were 360 boats and about 3,000 divers at Marichchikaddi. The merchants come from all parts of India and Ceylon, and from Arabia, Persia and Cashmir. According to a Colonial Office report, the trade in pearls was very brisk, and the prices paid were unprecedented. This is chiefly owing to the fact that no fishery had been held in Ceylon since 1891, and to the demand in the Indian and British markets.

Although the profit accruing to the Government from these pearl fisheries is large, it has been urged that it might be considerably enhanced if the present stereotyped methods of fishing and washing the pearls were superseded by a far more modern system. At present the native divers, having got their oysters, weigh anchor, and after a run of some hours' duration reach the shore, where their loads—theoretically the whole of their loads—are divided into three equal shares, of which they take one and the Government takes two. Theoretically, therefore, the Government gets two-thirds of a share of the profits of the fishery, and the natives get one-third. But, as a matter of fact, it is known that during the hours of the run in from the banks to shore the divers and crews of their boats are busily engaged in extricating as many pearls as time permits, and even when the shore is reached, and these opportunities for extraction come to an end, the crowd and bustle are so great that, despite every precaution, it is certain that a few entire boat loads, or parts of others, escape being submitted to partition.

Consequently, in the opinion of the most experienced Government officials the actual share of profit on the fishery obtained by the Government is not two-thirds but one-half. Even this half is, however, only the gross profit, as from it has to be deducted the cost of the construction and upkeep of the very extensive camp. It is, therefore, obvious that a system which would leave all the oysters in the hands of the Government would be greatly to the advantage of the revenue.

King Honors Hero.

The King has conferred the Albert Medal of the first-class upon Mr. Albert V. Hardwick of Muswell Hill, for exceptional bravery displayed at Finsbury Park Railway Station on December 21, says The Daily Express.

The deed for which Mr. Hardwick is thus honored occurred during the dense fog which lasted for some days before Christmas.

He was one of a large crowd of passengers waiting for a much-delayed train at Finsbury Park Station. The train was just drawing up in the station when a woman was seen to fall on the line. The engine was only 20 yards away.

Without a moment's hesitation Mr. Hardwick jumped on the line. With extraordinary presence of mind, he pulled the woman between the rails, and then, holding her down by the head, threw himself flat beside her.

The train passed over both without inflicting any injury to either the man or the woman.

An effort was made by the Hornsey Borough Council to obtain the Royal Human Society's Medal for Mr. Hardwick, but this was refused. Then the Council petitioned the King, asking His Majesty to bestow the Albert Medal—the "V. C." of private life—upon Mr. Hardwick. The Mayor of Hornsey has announced that he had received a letter from the Home Secretary, stating that the King had acceded to the request.

Love Laughed at Distances.

A few months ago the parents of a young lady, living near Llanelly, Carmarthenshire, resented very much the fact that a young officer intended to become their son-in-law, and appealed in vain to their daughter to break off the engagement. Failing in this they sent her to America, hoping that the separation would have the desired effect. It has since transpired that the circumstances were entirely reversed. The young lady returned to Wales a few days ago, and, meeting her lover, they were married by special license at the Llanelly Registrar's office.

British Oratorical Slips.

Mr. Balfour, in a recent speech, spoke of "an empty theatre of unsympathetic auditors." Lord Curzon has remarked that "though not out of the wood we have a good ship." Sir William Hart Dyke has told how Mr. Lowther "has caught a big fish in his net—and went to the top of the tree for it." Mr. Asquith has lately remarked that "redistribution is a thorny subject, which requires delicate handling or it will tread on some people's toes."

Mr. Brodrick told the Commons, says The London Daily Graphic, that "among the many jarring notes heard in this House on military affairs this subject at least must be regarded as an oasis." But, General Buller evidently thinks there is little to be gained by so-called army reform for he declares that "the army is honeycombed with cliques, and kisses go by favor in this web of ax-grinders."

In the debate on the London education bill Mr. Walter Long said: "We are told that by such legislation the heart of the country has been shaken to its very foundations." Before Mr. Winston Churchill opposed the present Government he, at a meeting of the Bow and Bromley Conservative Association, commended certain utterances of Lord Rosebery, but said Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman "had sat so long on the fence that the iron had entered into his soul."

A financial minister has assured the Commons that "the steps of the Government would go hand in hand with the interests of the manufacturer." It was in the Lords that the Government was warned that the constitutional rights of the people were being "trampled upon by the mailed hand of authority."

It was the late Sir George Campbell who said, "the pale face of the British soldier is the backbone of the British Empire," and who said certain abuses in India were but "a mere flea bite in the ocean" as compared with others he could name. It was another friend of India who said: "Pass the measure and the barren wells will become fertile valleys." He was a loyal member who said: "When I go wrong I look round and see our chief leading and I soon get right again."

Where Men Are Scarce.

In Paraguay the women are in the proportion of seven to one as compared with the men. The consequence is that the men are taken the greatest care of, and everything which is unpleasant or might be risky to the life of a man is done by the woman. The streets are cleaned, ships are loaded and oxen are driven by them.

It Settled In The Kidneys.
Pain In The Back The Result.
Catching cold and having it settle in the back is often the cause of Backache—the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected.
Heed the warning: check the Backache, and dispose of any chance of further trouble.
If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise. Mrs. B. Williams, Hamilton, Ont., caught cold, and it settled in her kidneys. She used and is thankful for the immediate relief they gave her. She writes us as follows:
DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS,
"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The soreness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings.
Doan's Kidney Pills may be procured at all dealers, or will be sent direct by mail on receipt of price—
50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

THE OLD FOGY DOCTOR

FAMILY Doctors are all right as general practitioners, but they are not specialists. The sexual organs comprise the most intricate and important system in the human body and require the most skilful treatment. You might as well expect a blacksmith to repair your watch, as a family physician to cure Sexual complaints. We have made a specialty of these diseases for over 30 years, have invested tens of thousands of dollars and have every facility known to medical science to cure them. Every case is taken with a positive guarantee of No Cure—No Pay.
BLOOD POISON—Whether inherited or acquired, is positively cured forever. The virus is eliminated from the system so no danger of return. Hundreds of cases cured by us 25 years ago and no return; best evidence of a cure.
NERVOUS DEBILITY—and other complications, such as emissions, drains in the urine, varicocele, sexual weakness, etc., are cured by our New Method Treatment under a positive guarantee—NO CURE—NO PAY.
WE CURE ALL DISEASES OF MEN AND WOMEN.

GUILD TEAMS AFTER THE EXAMINER TROPHY

Charlotte Street Baseball Club Organized for the Coming Season--Prospects for Guild Baseball are Bright--Some Good Contests for Examiner Cup will be Seen--Annual Meeting of Guild League will be Held Shortly.

The first Guild baseball club has been organized for the year.

Last night the Charlotte street club, winners of the championship in 1904, held their annual organization meeting and elected officers. The Methodists are not satisfied with having won the Examiner cup last year, but have designs on it again for 1905, and they will put a strong aggregation on the field when the season opens.

The officers elected last night were:

Hon. Pres.—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.
President—Mr. Alden Bookhout.
Vice-President—M. W. Galbraith.
Manager—Mr. Nelson McWilliams.
Sec.-Treasurer—Mr. Ed. Carr.
Chairman of Sports Committee—Mr. Nelson McWilliams.

A closet will be constructed in the Guild room for the storing of the paraphalenia of the Baseball Club, and the other sporting organizations in connection with the Guild.

The attendance last night was large and the enthusiasm shown augured well for the success of the team this year.

The present prospects are that the contest for the Examiner trophy this year, emblematic of the League championship, will be even more keen than it was last season, and the quality of baseball will in all probability be much better, and the best players in town will no doubt be found in the Guild teams.

H. Roddy, Last Year's Captain and Pitcher of Charlotte Street Team.

The fact that the clubs are organizing so early in the season may be taken as an indication of the fact that they are alive to the situation, and that there will be an interest in the contests this year which will make Guild League baseball the most popular pastime of the coming season.

The other Guilds will probably organize in the near future, and the annual meeting of the League will be called shortly.

HOCKEY PLAYERS TO BE BANQUETED

Mr. G. N. Graham's Invitation was Accepted—The Seasons Record.

Last night the executive committee, and players, of the Peterborough Hockey Club, met in the Oriental Hotel, to wind up the business of the season. Mr. A. A. Hollingshead, the president, was in the chair, and reports of the season's work were presented.

It was found that the season had been a most satisfactory one, the finances of the club being in good shape, and the team had made a good playing record for itself, having gone into the semi-finals, a fact which no one thought at the beginning of the season would be accomplished.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to Mr. F. A. Clarke and Mr. G. N. Graham for kindnesses shown the club. It was also decided to purchase souvenirs for the members of the team as a mark of appreciation of the work they had done during the season.

An invitation was received from Mr. G. N. Graham, to the team, to an informal supper to take place on the night of March 23rd.

The team is to be congratulated upon the splendid showing made for the season, and the fact that a number of the players went into the game at considerable personal inconvenience, is not lost sight of in the appreciation which the citizens feel towards them for their work.

FIREMEN'S GREAT ANNUAL MATCH

Firemen Will Play Hockey To-night at Brock Street.

The Firemen's game which arouses a general public interest annually at the close of the season, will be played to-night at the Brock street rink, and should draw a good attendance.

The game to-night will take the form of a contest between the inside and the outside departments, and fire-fighters will, it is expected, finish one of the most closely contested matches of the season.

The fire-men very kindly offered the use of the rink to the Review and Examiner teams to play off the game to which the public have so long and anxiously looked forward. The Examiner manager called upon the would-be Kuropatkin of the Review aggregation and made a determined effort to arrange for the contest but with their usual ability in the art of "flum-dinr" the Review again beat a hasty retreat to the region of the "balsamic ether". The Examiner, however, with its usual solicitude for the rights of a patiently waiting public has still another proposition to make in the hope that the latter may not be defrauded of a view of the usual scene of carnage.

This is a generous offer to our contemporary to make a diligent search of the Directory, and secure the assistance of any person ever connected with a newspaper in town, and also if by any artful devices any members of The Times staff may be inveigled into service, to notify The Examiner, who will be pleased to "sign articles."

HOCKEY

A meeting of the Karnot Hockey Club will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested as business of importance will be discussed.

* * * *

The night of the Church Guilds' hockey match a stranger, apparently in a hurry, asked a citizen standing on the corner of George and Brock streets, "What's the quickest way to get to the hospital?" The citizen replied, pointing to-wards the rink, "Go round the corner and take a hand in the hockey match."

* * * *

A double-header is announced for to-night. Immediately following the scene of carnage which will doubtless be presented when the firemen "mix it" at 8 o'clock, will be another equally sanguinary struggle between the Peterboros and the Biggins' Hardware Co's. Spectators are warned to glue their hair down, as deeds of daring of the most thrilling character will undoubtedly be enacted. The attendance promises to be a record-breaker. Mr. Harry Morgan will referee.

CURLING.

In the second day of the big bonspiel the following games were played:—

Cameron won from Ferguson.
Rutherford won from Winch.
Edwards won from Giroux.
Brown won from Waddell.
Dixon won from Thompson.

Play continues to-night at 8 o'clock, the draw for the games being:—

Frost vs. Greer.
Cameron vs. Rutherford.
Edwards vs. Brown.
Dixon vs. Kerr or Neill.

CRICKET.

The cricket enthusiasts in town will meet on Monday next to organize the Colts Cricket Club for the season. There are a number of promising young cricketers in town and already some games are practically arranged.

BASEBALL.

The anaual meeting of the T. A. & B. Baseball Club will be held on Monday night next.

BASKET-BALL.

The games arranged with the junior and senior Port Hope Basketball teams will take place on Friday, March 24th, instead of the 17th, as incorrectly stated.

OUR NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE BUILDINGS

Ratepayer Has Something to Say About Their External Appearance.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The cut printed yesterday in the Examiner, of St. Thomas Collegiate Institute, set me thinking. To my eye it presents a decidedly superior appearance to our own proposed building, judging by the pictures of the elevations of the latter recently printed. The St. Thomas building is given dignity and imposing appearance by its prominent tower in contrast with the flat appearance of our new building. If the proposed building seems low and squat standing perse, what will be the effect when it is dwarfed by the towering armoury buildings which will rise beside it? I hope the plans are so arranged—that the architect's hands have not been tied—that they cannot be modified so as to permit of the addition of a tower which could be so arranged as to serve as a belfry. We should have a bell to summon classes to study instead of a teacher breaking a pane of glass with a ruler to signify that school is "in". We are building for posterity—and for the credit of the town. I hope the School Board will look into this matter and bring themselves to look upon it as I do. We want our new collegiate to be a credit to the town, both as a centre of education and as one of our public buildings to which we may point with pride, not with apology.

Yours, etc.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Omemee, March 15. — The weather and roads are very favourable at present for completing the winter's work and preparing for spring.

Mrs. Dr. Yelland's mother died on Saturday, the 11th of March. The funeral on Monday to the Emily cemetery was largely attended. The deceased leaves two daughters, Mrs. Yelland and Mrs. Bradburn, and three sons, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate mother.

Mr. Cavanagh of Peterborough was here yesterday buying horses.

A large number of visitors attended the Peterborough market on Saturday last.

Jas. Graham, one of our oldest citizens, is at the point of death with lung trouble.

We have had forty funerals pass through here since Christmas, chiefly old people from the prevalent diseases, pneumonia and heart trouble.

Major Neill leaves on his return trip to England and South Africa, next week, after three months visit.

Mr. Potter, father of Rev. J. G. Potter of Peterborough, will be again heard in his interesting account of his missionary work among the sailors and lumbermen. We hope to amen as he has been favored with ones as he has been favored with on former occasions.

Mr. McDonald was in Peterborough last season and is always a favourite. Plan open at Lynch's Drug Store

OTONABEE.

A correspondent reports that a young man while out driving with two young ladies, met with a mishap in which one of the numerous and officially neglected pitch-holes played a prominent part, and it was only good luck that serious results did not follow. The situation was so serious that one of the young ladies refused to be the third party in a cutter under pitch-hole conditions, but returned home with another gentlemen. Pathmasters the correspondent opines, should make some successful effort to deal with the dangerous pitch-hole problem. Smith township is referred to as one which has dealt with pitch holes in a satisfactory manner.

At no time in the history of the shoe trade in Peterborough have the buying public been offered such a chance for money saving and worthful merchandise for the season as this opportunity presents. We well know that in order to reduce this immense stock to the minimum point just before inventory, cost cannot be taken into consideration and nothing will so quickly convert merchandise into cash as decimated prices. You and I have often read newspaper advertisements announcing great things, but when the searchlight of investigation has been turned on the facts of these so-called great bargain sales, have any of us ever found them to be true in detail? We say no, most decidedly no. It may be they will show you a certain line at a bargain, but if you desire to buy, it will just be discovered, and with much sorrow expressed, that they are out of the size wanted.

A KEEN WAR RACE IS NOW ON

Jap and Russ Making For Railway Bridge Over Sungeri--On! On to Vladivostock!---Russians After Being Driven Out of Tie Pass Are Being Pursued in the Direction of Kirin---Kuropatkin Retreating Not to Harbin But to Vladivostock--Linovitch is Chief.

London, March 17.—An unconfirmed report from St. Petersburg states that General Kuropatkin will retreat, not to Harbin, but to Kirin and Vladivostock. This, however, is regarded as quite impossible, and the ensuing fortnight is expected to witness a keen race between the Russians and Japanese for the great railway bridge over the Sungari River, as it is believed that after Tie Pass there is no fortified place of sufficient strength at which to make a stand until the Russians reach Harbin, if Kuropatkin should be able to make a successful retirement thither. The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph learns that the Japanese left army advanced towards Mukden at flying speed, and the last four days covered 30, 35, 20 and 15 miles. One force was sent specially to search for General Kuropatkin and his staff, but they had already gone.

Enveloping the Russians.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—With the evacuation of Tie Pass Wednesday night, the Russian army abandoned the last stronghold in Southern Manchuria and definitely turned over the section to the Japanese for the campaign of 1905. At least no other strategy is possible for General Kuropatkin, in view of his scanty supplies of ammunition and stores, the shattered condition of his army and the wide enveloping movements which the Japanese have continued almost without a stop since the Russian defeat at Mukden.

Japs in Hot Pursuit.

Tokio, March 17.—The Japanese occupied Tie Pass at midnight, March 15. Details of the occupation have not yet been received at imperial army headquarters. An official bulletin reports the action, and that the Japanese are in hot pursuit of the retreating Russians, but it does not mention any particulars about the fight.

Bloody Battle Waging.

Santoupu, Eight Miles North of Tie Pass, Manchuria, Wednesday, March 15.—(Evening)—The Russians have abandoned their advanced positions on the Fan River, where the desperate attack of the Japanese Tuesday was repulsed, and have fallen back upon the defences at Tie Pass. Previous to the retirement, the supplies of wood, etc., collected there were set on fire. A desperate bloody battle is now waging north of Tie Pass.

Japs Occupy Singching.

Tokio, March 17.—The Japanese occupied Singching (Singking) March 13.—Singking (or Yenden) is situated about 30 miles almost due east of Mukden. A report received in Tokio on March 14 from the Japanese headquarters in the field said: "In the direction of Singking our forces have been dislodging the enemy from Yingpu, eighteen miles east of Fushan, and on March 11 occupied that place."

Why Newchwang is Glad.

Newchwang, March 17.—Traffic on the Yinkow-Koupantse-Sinmintin Railroad was opened yesterday. It is probable that merchants' shipments of provisions will be unquestioned in the future. The inhabitants of Newchwang are jubilant over the capture of Tie Pass, which will release, when the river becomes free of ice, a thousand junks, which have long been detained in the upper Liao River, having on board vast accumulations of beans and bean cake.

Before the Japs Get In.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—The following despatch has been received by Emperor Nicholas from Gen. Kuropatkin, dated March 15: "The troops are traversing Tie Pass in good order. I have inspected the fourteenth division of infantry. The men seemed in good spirits. Up to the time of my departure from Tie Pass fighting had not commenced. During my progress northward I saw many troops and trains in good order. I also inspected the regiments recently from Russia, who presented an excellent appearance."

Train Service Partially Restored.

A telegram from the Command-in-Chief, dated March 14, said: "I received no further reports of fighting after the repulse of the Japanese at the Fan River. Individual soldiers and bodies of men have been rejoining their commands during the past two days. The train service is partly restored to order, the troops have been provisioned again and are ready for fighting." The Commander-in-Chief concluded with saying he had not received exact reports of the number of killed, wounded and missing, or of the losses in artillery and trains.

Linevitch Succeeds Kuropatkin.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—It is officially announced that Gen. Kuropatkin will be replaced by Gen. Linevitch as Commander-in-Chief of the Manchurian army.

Gen. Kazibee has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the forces at Vladivostock.

The Russians sustained a severe reverse at Tie Pass, involving the abandonment of their remaining artillery, and the Japanese have cut the railway north of Changtutu, forty miles above the Pass.

Mikado to His Soldiers.

Tokio, March 17.—The Emperor of Japan has sent the following message to his victorious Manchurian armies:

"Since autumn the enemy erected strong defences around Mukden, held the district with a superior force and were confident of victory. Our Manchurian armies, however, forestalling the enemy, boldly and vigorously assumed the offensive, and after strenuously fighting for more than 10 days and nights through snow and bitter rain defeated their strong foe, driving them to Tie Pass, taking tens of thousands of prisoners and otherwise inflicting serious injuries. By this signal victory, our Manchurian armies have enhanced the military prestige of our country at home and abroad. We are deeply gratified by the courage and endurance with which our officers and men have been able to achieve such a great success, and we look to you for even greater exertions in the future."

Mobilization Means Revolt.

Warsaw, March 17.—One of the highest officials in Poland said yesterday: "It is all very well to talk of continuing the war; but with no leaders, no generals, no soldiers, no guns, and the theatre of war so far away, we are unable to transport troops quickly, and the war now appears to be ended. It is true we have soldiers in the empire, but it is impossible to withdraw them from Central and Southern Russia to Manchuria while the disturbances continue. All is quiet in Poland now, but let orders for mobilization be given, and we will have a revolution."

A Prince for Peace.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—Prince Mestchersky, in an article in The Grashadanin, advises the Government to promptly conclude peace, and says:

"Let us have the heroic strength to confess defeat before the world. Better conditions will be obtainable now than later, when Vladivostock and Sakhalin have fallen into the hands of the Japanese, and the conclusion of peace will prove the salvation of the country by averting internal shipwreck."

These words from such an influential reactionary as Prince Mestchersky have caused a sensation.

Japs Want German Loan.

Berlin, March 17.—The Lokal Anzeiger says Japan is sounding German financiers with reference to the placing of a Japanese loan on the German market. The results of the interchange of views are not yet known, but it is not improbable. The Lokal Anzeiger says that bankers will agree to accept Japan's offer. The conferences thus far have been merely preliminary.

BLOW UP ARMY STORES.

Alarm Caused at St. Petersburg and Moscow by Threats.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—Considerable alarm has been caused here and at Moscow by the receipt of anonymous letters announcing the intention to blow up buildings. The threat as to Moscow applied particularly to the depots of army stores destined for Manchuria.

The action of the Moscow Corn Exchange in voting an address to the Emperor on the subject of his recent rescript shows the extent of the liberal movement, only two of forty-six members present raising a timid voice against the address, which contained a reference to "liberating the people," even these two later signing the address.

Another Russian Bomb.

London, March 17.—A despatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency reports that late last night a bomb exploded on the tramway line close to the residence of M. Pobdenostseff, Procurator-General of the Holy Synod. Nobody was injured.

More Martial Law.

Tiflis, Trans-Caucasia, March 17.—Martial law has been declared in the Ozurgeti and Sanahk districts, in the Government of Kutais, and also at Kantryschi, in the Government of Batoum.

IS GERMANY PRO-RUSS?

Chancellor Von Buelow and Socialist Chief Cross Bitter Wordy Swords in the Reichstag Thursday.

Berlin, March 17.—Chancellor von Buelow and Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, engaged in a bitter discussion in the Reichstag yesterday over Germany's Russian policy. The Chancellor's usual composure and good humor in debate were disturbed by the almost savage criticisms of the Socialist chief, who said that Germany's "Creeping before Russia had humiliated her in the eyes of the world, and had brought her to shame." He held Von Buelow responsible for Prussia's "Engaging in the nasty work of catching fugitives from Russian military service and turning them over to agents of the autocrat and for forcing men and women whose only offence was love of liberty to leave Prussian territory at the instance of Russian spies."

LIFE SAVED WITH GREAT DIFFICULTY

Residence of Mr. Edward McCarthy Douro Township Destroyed by Fire

Mrs. McCarthy, who was Confined to her Room, Carried to Place of Safety.

A disstrous fire, in which fatal results were only averted by the narrowest possible margin, occurred at the home of Mr. Edward McCarthy, Douro Township, on Wednesday morning at about 11 o'clock.

The fire originated from the burning out of a stove pipe, and as nothing towards checking it could be accomplished, the house and contents were entirely destroyed.

Mrs. McCarthy was confined to her room by a serious illness, and had to be carried to a place of safety, and it was only by the utmost difficulty that this was accomplished.

Mr. McCarthy lived about one mile north of the Douro town hall.

London, March 17.—A despatch from Gen. Oku's head-quarters announces that the pursuit of the Russians is being kept up with the same vigour which has marked all the Japanese efforts to overtake the enemy.

ART EXHIBITION FREE TO-NIGHT

Many Likely to Avail Themselves of Last Opportunity to Visit it.

It was stated in yesterday's issue that the Fine Art Exhibition, being held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, under the auspices of the Woman's Art Association, would be closed on Friday evening at six o'clock.

By special request, it will be thrown open to the public to-night. There will be no admission fee, and it is hoped that many will take advantage of this last opportunity of seeing the exhibit.

ASSAULT CASE AT POLICE COURT

Samuel Murphy Fined $5.00 and Costs This Morning.

At the police court this morning Samuel Murphy was convicted on a charge of assault, in which Samuel Irmess was complainant. The offence was committed in the C.P.R. hotel, on March 16th. Defendant was assessed $5 and costs, amounting altogether to $7.00, which he paid.

The case of a young man for obtaining money under false pretences from Mr. Cook, the well known horse dealer, was enlarged until to-morrow on the request of Crown Prosecutor Wood.

Timothy Kearns did not respond when called. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Health is too valuable to risk in experiments with unknown and untried medicines or methods of treatment. Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

The Farmers' Sun might easily defend popular rights and, at times, without dropping into demagogism. In its last issue it depicts Sir Wm. Mulock as thrusting the farmers aside on the question of rural mail delivery to give preference to corporations. This is misleading. In the first place the experience of the United States with rural mail delivery shows that it is cumbersome and expensive, out of all proportion to the benefits received. Such a system of delivery is practicable in countries of congested population like Great Britain, and might be practicable in some parts of the United States and Canada, especially in the vicinity of cities where farm holdings are smaller and population more concentrated. If rural mail delivery were introduced in such districts, the farmers of remoter districts who, under no conceivable condition could reasonably expect free delivery, would have reason to complain that they were discriminated against. There is free delivery in towns and cities because it is quite practicable, and, also, necessary. To the business man the delay of a few hours in the delivery or receipt of a letter is an important matter, much more than to the average farmer whose business correspondence bears a small proportion to his social letter writing, which, as a rule can wait without injury to anybody. The Farmers' Sun, seems to wish to convey the idea that the Postmaster-General makes class distinctions in the administration of his department, which is not the case. If it were possible for our farmers to dwell in cities and business men to live on widely scattered farms, the farmers would get free postal delivery and the business men would have to depend on the mail carrier. The time is past when in this country, where democracy with large general culture prevails, to make appeals to prejudice. The Ontario farmer is so far advanced, so intelligent and so justifiably self-respecting, that any patronizing suggestion that he is the object of disrespect from any source, or in need of a champion, will be resented.

IN MOMORIAM.

To Mr. and Mrs. James Condon on the death of their beloved son Dennis, who departed this life November 11, 1904, aged 23 years.

Death has called another loved one,
Left another vacant chair,
Sent another bud to blossom,
Within Heaven's garden fair.

Dear parents, why do you weep,
When you saw his hands crossed on his breast,
As his soul it soared to Heaven,
And his body went to rest.

Death to us seems so much sadder,
When it claims one of our own,
But why sad when we remember,
He dwells in his happy home.

Dear parents, brother and sisters,
Little did you think,
That soon the chain it would be broken,
By the loss of one golden link.

A mother's joy, a father's pride,
A brother kind and dear,
Has bid farewell to all his friends,
And left this world of care.

No more we'll hear his footsteps here
Among the other ones,
No more we'll hear his merry voice,
Which was enjoyed by all.

Now dear friends, dry up your tears,
And let them fall no more,
For we allow that Dennis is safe forever
On God's eternal shores.

A NEW TERMINAL.

Mr. Dunlop of Allan Company Makes An Important Statement.

London, March 17.—(C.A.P.)—Though designed for a speed of seventeen and a half knots, the new Allan liner Victorian attained nearly twenty knots at her trials on the Clyde yesterday. At the luncheon on board, Mr. N. Dunlop, Chairman of the Allan Company, said he believed the Grand Trunk Railway contemplated having a great terminal point nearer the ocean than the St. Lawrence. Then the Canadian route would be the great waterway to the American continent, with steamers running at unequalled speed and safety.

The Victorian left for Liverpool on Thursday with 1,300 passengers and mails for the other side.

Parsonage Burns Down.

Wheatley, Man., March 17.—Early yesterday morning the Baptist parsonage here was found to be on fire. Mr. Davies, the minister, immediately gave the alarm but before a sufficient number of people arrived on the scene the fire had gained such headway that all efforts to put it out were abandoned. Most of the furniture was saved, but a valuable set of dishes, a century old, was lost. No insurance on the contents. The cause of the fire is unknown. Loss on the building about $1,500; insurance $950 in the Commercial Union.

Guillotine Passes.

London, March 17.—The House of Commons last night adopted Premier Balfour's "Guillotine" motion, 208 to 129. What is designated as the guillotine motion was introduced in the House of Commons on March 15, with the purpose of securing the sanctioning of the estimates before the close of the fiscal year, March 31. It is another term for closure.

MRS. LANCASTER LAID TO REST

Deceased Lady Mourned by Many Friends.

The Latest News From Havelock—Annual Meeting of Electric Light Company.

From our Own Correspondent.

Havelock, March 13th.—Mrs. H. Joyce, of Peterborough, formerly of here, spent Friday and Saturday in town.

Mr. George Backus and wife are spending a few days with friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Alex. Innis, who has been very ill for the past few weeks, is a little better.

Mr. Harry Roche, of Bobcaygeon, is relieving Mr. George Backus as despatcher at this point for a few days.

Our stabbit hunters find it not a very good sport in this locality as they start out with good intentions, but return with nothing but an empty game bag and wet feet.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane Knox Lancaster, took place on Friday, March 10th, from the family residence, George street, at 1.30 o'clock, p. m. Services were held in the church of St. John's when the remains were laid at rest in the Maple Grove Cemetery.

Numerous friends and acquaintances of the deceased attended from different towns. The following is a few of the friends:—Mrs. J. Cooper, widow of the late Rev. J. Cooper, of Toronto; Edward Christie, brother of the deceased, of Westwood; Mr. and Mrs. John Lancaster, sister of the deceased, of Blizzards; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lancaster, brother, of Hastings; Mr. John and Miss Flo, of Hastings, nephew and niece of deceased; Mr. George and Hugh Gillespie, nephew, of Peterborough; Mr. P. Gillespie, of Hastings, nephew; George and Thomas Lancaster, of Birdsall's, nephews; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Christie, of Peterborough, nephew; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Kidd, of Young's Point, sister; Mrs. Newton, of Lakefield, niece; Miss Maggie Christie, of Owen Sound, niece; the latter will remain, the guest of Miss Eva Lancaster for the next week or more; Mr. and Mrs. R. Thompson, of Westwood, niece, and numerous other acquaintances. Deceased lady died at the age of 56 years, 8 months, 2 days.

Mr. John Ballou, of Toronto, spent Sunday in town renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. R. E. White and F. Ballou, spent Sunday in Bellevills.

The Havelock Standard, on account of the sad death of the editor's mother, last week, was not printed.

Miss Elgin Watson has been laid up with an attack of La Grippe for the past few days.

A very sad event occurred on Saturday morning when the infant twin sisters Flora and Lulu, of Mr. and Mrs. John Rothwell, of town, passed away at the age of 8 months. The funeral took place from their home on Ottawa street on Monday morning to the Presbyterian Cemetery in Norwood. Our deepest sympathy is felt for the parents in their sad bereavement.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by a sleighing party to Norwood by a number of young people of town last Friday evening.

Mr. John Wright who has been laid up for some time with an injured back is up and back to work again.

Miss B. Campbell spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Norwood.

The annual meeting of the Havelock Electric Light and Power Co. will be held in the council chamber on Friday the 17th inst., at 2 p.m. The general business, etc., of the company will be attended to.

Mr. J. M. Watson returned from an extended visit to friends in Orangeville on Friday last.

The new Armstrong House will be opened for the first time the latter part of the week. Everything is now ready for the business to open. All the furniture is of the latest pattern, supplied by Mr. T. Curtis, the electrical fixtures being placed by Alexander & Miller, of Peterborough. The painting is now all complete. The house is up-to-date in every respect.

Mr. Wm. Matheson has been laid up with a severe attack of grip for the past few days.

An enjoyable time was spent at a party and dance at the residence of Mr. Wm. Johnston on the Trent Bridge Road on Monday evening.

Miss Edith McDonald, of Bellevills, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. A. McGuire of town.

Mr. J. Houstman, of Smith's Falls, has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. R. Nolan, for the past week.

The air brake instruction car of the C. P. R. is now stationed at Havelock, giving instructions to all the road men in the operating of the Westinghouse Air Brake and Steam Heater. Mr. E. Walton and C. Carey are instructors.

Mr. W. Rantonle laid up on account of having his leg and ankle jammed last Wednesday.

The fine weather we have been enjoying for the past few days has made everybody brace up and are beginning to believe that we will get spring some time, even if they all can not express their feelings on account of every nine cases out of ten having colds so bad they cannot talk. An indication of spring is the fact that a golf enthusiast was seen getting his driver into shape, so there must be something doing.

Mr. Spurgeon's Dream.

Mr. Spurgeon had a dream. He thought he went up to the gates of Heaven and there he saw a great company of men marching through the gates into the city. On enquiring who they were that received such plaudits of welcome he was told that they were the Apostles and their successors.

"But," said Spurgeon, "I never was an apostle or a martyr."

Soon there was another vast procession that passed through the gates. Then he was informed that vast multitude led by Zaccheus and Mary Magdalene were the sinners that had confessed the name of Jesus.

The great preacher said that in his dream he exclaimed to the angel:

"Thank God, I can enter Heaven with the sinners!"

DR. SYMONDS' CLEVER SERMON

Spoke on Underlying Spirit of the Reformation

Montreal Herald Says Dr. Symonds Preaches for People who Think.

The Montreal Herald, of Monday contains an appreciative reference to Rev. Dr. Symonds, formerly Rector of St. Luke's Church, and a man well known and much beloved here. It says:—

It would be hard to find a more significant and encouraging commentary on the current wail that people will not go to church than the congregation which assembled last night to hear the sixth of the Rev. Dr. Symonds' University sermons. Dr. Symonds is an almost purely intellectual preacher. He tells no anecdotes and seeks no thrills; and he is more at home with a congregation of university students than any other. And he gets them. Every type of the genus McGill man was represented last night at the Cathedral, from the long-haired football player to the over-worked grind," with his pale face and high-convex glasses, and between these extremes a much more numerous group of the ordinary 'Varsity man, the man who works in the time to work, plays in the time to play, and is ready to do a little thinking on his own account at any minute. For who do not think do not attend Dr. Symonds' sermons. Beside the McGill men the congregation was very democratic, and apparently consisted very largely of visitors and not of regular members. The attractive power of Dr. Symonds preaching is the more significant when one considers the extreme leisureliness of the Cathedral services, it was just 7.45 when the final response of the choir floated into the church from the robing-room, and the fact that the choir's architectural detachment puts the congregation practically in the position of simple auditors. Every effort is made to promote congregational interest in the service, and the complete words of the psalms, canticles and hymns of the evening are printed in a pamphlet given to every worshipper, but it is impossible to overcome the great distance between the choir and the congregation.

DEVELOPMENT OF CHRISTIANITY

"Wherefore the law was our school-master to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a school-master." These words, from Galatians III., were the text from which Dr. Symonds approached the discussion of the Reformation, the movement which brought about the third of the great eras of the nineteen centuries of Christianity. What were the causes of the Reformation? Many historians had been unjust to the Catholic Church of the Middle Ages. They did not see the movement of those days in the light of the conditions and circumstances of the time. They did not ask what was the great plan the church put before it. In his last sermon of the series he had shown that the Roman creed and service forms were the means of preserving Christianity through the great crash of the fall of the Roman Empire, and propagating it among the new nations of Europe. The real cause of the Reformation was not the corruption, real and lamentable as it was, of the Roman Church, it was the fact that the framework of society was broken down, that the political and social ideas of the Holy Roman Empire and the feudal system were passing away for ever. The invention of printing had disseminated new thoughts among men, a new wine that would not go into the old wineskins of the established forms. The Catholic Church could not adapt itself to the new situation; it sought to repress rather than to understand the new ideas of men.

The fundamental principle of the Reformation was justification by faith. But below the legal phraseology of this doctrine was a deeper doctrine, that of man's sonship to God, as expressed by the life of Jesus Christ. The foundation of this doctrine could be found in the writings of Paul and of John, but most strikingly in the second epistle of Peter: "Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises, that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature."

THE LAW AND THE CHURCH.

Dr. Symonds drew a parallel between the justification exacted by the Jewish theologians, through obedience to "the law," and that exacted by the Catholic Church through practice of the rites and prescriptions of the church. Paul and Luther each found the answer of the contemporary authority to their question, "How shall I be justified?" unsatisfactory. The church had taught that God's grace was in charge of the officials of the Church. It could not be denied now that God's grace had truly been imparted through the Roman system, but that the Church was its exclusive banker was false. As a son of God man had the right to immediate and personal access to his Father. From this doctrine was developed the kindred one of man's personal liberty—"All things are lawful, but not all things are expedient." Dr. Symonds developed this doctrine at length, and showed that the root thought of the reformation, thus lay at the bottom of the whole fabric of modern civilization. Protestantism was the true successor to-day of the Catholicism of the Middle Ages. It was in the main line of development of Christianity. But the historical development of Christianity was not complete. He hoped in his next sermon to study the present with a view to what was in the future. In the meantime there was strong need to stand fast in the truth. Protestantism had not been long in forging for itself the chains of a new traditionalism to replace that from which it broke free. It, too, had issued its ban against freedom of research. We had not understood the necessity of harmony between knowledge and faith, and spirit had not been the spirit that sets men free. We had adopted an ignoble attitude towards research, though at the same time let us remember that research too was capable of narrowness and bigotry. We believed that the world was intelligible, and that it was founded on reason and love. Men who believed this had nothing to fear from research.

Funeral of Late Miss Strickland—Meeting of Village Council.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Lakefield, March 14.—A gloom was cast over the community when the news arrived in the village of the death of Miss K. Strickland, in Toronto, where she had been under the care of Dr. Walker for the past three weeks. On Saturday evenings last Mr. J. P. Strickland, her father, received a telegram stating that she was in a critical condition and he immediately started for the city, but before he could reach her side she passed away, having died at 1.30 Sunday morning. The remains were brought to Lakefield on Monday, and the funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to the Hill Side Cemetery. The large number of floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by her large circle of friends, who sympathize with the bereaved family in their sorrow.

Miss Quinn sang "The Home Land" very acceptably in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening.

Mr. Robt. Casement, of Madoc, spent Monday in the village, visiting his brother, Mr. W. H. Casement.

Mr. Avery, who has been employed with the Dickson Company, at Peterborough, during the winter, was home for Sunday.

Miss Kindred, of Peterborough, is the guest of the Misses Fitzgerald of the village.

Mr. M. Quigley, who has been attending Business College, in Peterborough, has returned home, having completed his course.

Mr. J. Kennedy, who is attending Collegiate Institute in Peterborough spent Sunday at his home in the village.

Mr. W. D. S. Strickland, of Toronto, was in the village Tuesday, attending the funeral of his sister.

Miss Bella Ridpath, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Ridpath.

Miss Munro, of Toronto, who has been visiting her grand-mother, Mrs. Forsythe, returned to her home in the city on Monday.

Miss Lottie Kearney, of Young's Point, is visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Phalen.

Mr. Joe Hunter, who has been visiting his brother, Wm., in the village, left for his home in the West on Monday.

It is expected the property owners of Lakefield will be asked to vote about the first week in April on a bylaw to aid the Standard Art Manufacturing Company to locate here.

Lakefield's population was increased by ten able bodied men on Tuesday. These men are in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company, and are busily engaged in putting in new long distance instruments, metallic lines, cables, etc., and generally putting things in good condition. It is expected that when completed Lakefield exchange will be second to none in the Province of Ontario.

COUNCIL MEETING.

A regular monthly meeting of the Lakefield Council was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, March 13th.

Present, Reeve Tanner, in chair, and Councillors Burgess, Cornish, Kidd and Lennox.

The minutes of the last regular meeting read and approved.

Moved by Councillors Cornish and Burgess, that the communication from the Muskoka Free Hospital be received and that this Council do hereby authorise the treasurer to forward the sum of $5.00 from this corporation.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Kidd and Lennox, that this Council give the usual grant of one hundred dollars to the Public Library Board for the year 1905, and that the Reeve and Clerk be authorized to issue orders for the same.—Carried.

The following report from the Finance Committee was read:—

To the Reeve and Council of Village of Lakefield:

Gentlemen,—We, your Finance Committee having examined the following accounts, would recommend the payment of the same:—

School Board	$900 00
Lakefield News	9 00
Samuel Pearson	56 00
Pay sheet No. 2.....	13 57
Lakefield Light & Power Co.	41 97
	$720 54

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. J. BURGESS,
Chairman.

Moved by Councillors Burgess and Cornish, that the report of the Finance Committee be received and adopted.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Cornish and Burgess, when vote is taken on bylaw, re furniture factory, that a plebiscite be taken to see if ratepayers are in favour of the council passing a bylaw prohibiting horses, cattle, hogs, etc., running at large in this corporation.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned to meet at the call of the Reeve.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years or more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Glasgow, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." For sale by all druggists.

LENTEN SERVICE AT ALL SAINTS

Rev. W. Major Spoke Last Night on "Zacharish's" Vision of the Golden Candlestick.

A large congregation was present last night at All Saints Church when the first of a series of Lenten addresses on "Zacharish's Vision of the Golden Candlestick" was delivered by the Rector, Rev. W. Major.

Mr. Major took as the subject of his discourse Zacharish, 4th Chapter. He first pointed out the difficulties which had to be surmounted by Zorubabel and Joshua and showed that the same conditions prevail now, and to the call from God to His people that they should shine as lights in the world. Ye are the light of the world. A description of the candlestick was given, and explained its spiritual symbolism. After showing what it was, the meaning of it was emphasized. The work to be done, as pointed out in this chapter, is to be done, not by power, or by might, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord. The Christian calling may be summed up in one word—shine. The circumstances under which lamps are used was spoken of, being of course, only during the night. The word night as used, was symbolic of the present time and the word as used by St. Paul—"the night is far spent," shows that this short experience of ours in the world is the only opportunity we have for shining. Bye-and-bye the opportunity will be gone from us. St. John tells us that there will be no night there and we will require no light or candle for "the Lord God is the light thereof." Different ways in which we may shine are indicated by the different purposes for which lamps are used, and whether it is a lamp in a room, a house, a street or a lighthouse, to be of any service the light must be burning. So it is with the Christian. If he is to be of any service in the world his light must must shine. We do not put a light under a bushel, but set it upon a candlestick that all may see. "Even so, let your light so shine that all may see your good works, and glorify your Father, which is in Heaven." The effect of the shining light on our own surroundings is manifest, not only being a light to our feet, but is also a light to others, showing them where the snares and the pitfalls of the devil are situated. Are we thus letting our light shine?

The next thought was regarding the process or method of shining. All power to shine is derived from Christ. This was symbolized by the bowl containing the oil. The wick is simply the means of conveying the oil to the flame. The preacher emphasized the fact that apart from Christ we can do nothing. The wick has no self-contained power for shining. This is derived from the bowl, teaching us the entire and complete dependence there must be on Christ to maintain the light, and there must be a continuous drawing from that source. The wick does not bring oil into the lamp to provide it a stock to last some time, but it must be in constant touch with the bowl. This contradicts the prevalent idea that man can get enough grace by attending the services on Sunday to last him throughout the week. He cannot lay in a stock of grace to tarry him on. There must be a continuous drawing from the source. While recognizing the call to shine and admitting the truth of the method of shining, very many are discouraged by the possibility of failure, but constant failure is not necessary. There are possible causes of failure, and they are found in the wick. The first is, in not being in touch with the oil. This may be either from never having been in touch with Christ. The remedy for which is: "Come unto Me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Or it may be a temporary suspension, acting independently, the remedy for which is: "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins." Another possible cause of failure is the accumulation at the top of the wick, which has to be removed. That is the truth taught by our Lord, when He said: "He that is washed needeth not, save to wash his feet." There must be a daily cleansing in order to keep the light bright and clear. The third possible cause of failure might be a knot in the wick inside the burner, which would stop the flow of the oil. Some secret or hidden sin which we are nourishing; as David says: "If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me." This sin must be judged and put away before the oil can flow, which causes the light to burn. Such is the high calling of God to His people. Let us see to it that we follow out our Lord's injunction and "Let our light so shine before men that they may see our good works and glorify our Father which is in Heaven."

NIECE OF THE MISSES NICHOLLS DEAD

Her Death Occurred in La Porte, Texas

The La Porte Chronicle contains the account of the death of Mrs. Raymond B. Nicholls a daughter-in-law of the late Mr. J. B. Nicholls one niece of the Misses Nicholls, McDonel street. The Chronicle says:—

"Nora Lucretia Bare was born in Pawnee Co., Beatrice, Neb., may 21, 1874, in which place she grew to womanhood, surrounded by a host of friends. She graduating from the Beatrice High School in 1894, after which she taught school for a length of times. She was united in marriage to Raymond B. Nicholls of La Porte, Texas, Oct. 16, 1900, in which place she spent the past four years, and during which time she made many friends, being universally loved and respected by all who knew her. She died at her home Feb. 24, 1905, aged 30 years, 9 months, 8 days. She leaves behind to mourn her untimely demise, a husband and one little son, baby Harold, also an aged mother and two sterring step sisters were with her the last few days of her sickness. She was a member of the Baptist church of La Porte, and took an active part, and will be sorely missed. But why should we mourn for her when she has gained such a beautiful crown in Heaven."

On February 24th her remains were carried to the Baptist Church were a large gathering of sorrowing friends were waiting to pay homage to the one much beloved. The funeral services conducted by Pastor J. H. H. Ellis, assisted by Rev. Rugg of the Methodist church and Rev. Hall of the Presbyterian church. The song service by several friends was pathetic and comforting. The remains were borne to the cemetery and laid to rest.

Helpless with Salt Rheum

"For many months my wife was unable to serve herself with her hands because of salt rheum. Dr. Chase's Ointment has entirely cured her, and we strongly recommend it to others who suffer from similar ailments, believing that it has no equal."—Mr. Ledger Duguay, Pigeon Hill, Miscouche Co., Quebec.

Friends Take Body Home.

Toronto, March 17.—C. W. Mariatt, who shot himself in the Daly House early yesterday morning, died in the Emergency Hospital at 6.45. Friends arrived from St. Thomas later in the day and took the body home. The woman, Edna Williams, (not Mrs. wife as stated yesterday), who was with him when he suicided, was questioned by Crown Attorney Curry and allowed to go her way. The note left by the dead man was considered sufficient to exonerate her from all blame.

"DANIEL" REPLIES TO REV. E. A. LANGFELDT

He Criticises the Spirit of his Letter.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — I noticed in a recent issue of your paper a letter from Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, purporting to be an answer to the communication of "Daniel." What most struck me was its illogical and intemperate character, but I did not follow the momentary impulse to write something in reference to it. However, as St. Patrick's Day came, and I saw all classes of the community — independently of race or religious distinction — uniting to recognise the national day of a very important section of our population, and as this action emphasized the peaceful and harmonious relations in which we Canadians live, it struck me that a word of reproof to a plain attempt to stir up rancour and hard feeling, should not be withheld. The reverend gentleman's "reply" was no answer to my criticisms. It seemed to me to be simply a vehicle for the expression of sectarian rancour and abuse of a church and religion, which, though we may not agree with its doctrine, and religious methods, is entitled to the respect which the genius of our institutions extends to all classes, together with the utmost liberty of thought and conscience. Such denunciations conceived and expressed in the "Me and Gott" spirit of the Emperor of Germany, are quite inconsistent with the free spirit of Canadian institutions, as understood by Canadians, and harmoniously expressed in their social, commercial and civic relations. The reverend gentleman seems to be acting as a free lance — "I introduced," he says, in his letter, "the resolution as an individual, and as rector of St. Luke's church," — there it is, Imperium in imperio, a power within the church, which speaks for the church, and yet the church is not responsible. If the Ministerial Association does not represent the churches it represents, then it is existing under false pretences. If it does not speak for the several churches, its resolutions and diete have no more authority and title to respect than would have those of any half dozen Christian laymen, who might band themselves together and call the organization a Ministerial Association. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt says in his reply that "Daniel" "can't hold the Ministerial Association responsible for the action of the churches to which they belong." Why not? They are the leaders and make the church and its policy. The law holds a man responsible for having possession of stolen goods though purloined by another. If the churches which, I pointed out in my first letter, are to-day enjoying state aid for church and school purposes, it is the duty of the ministers of such churches, if they honestly believe in the resolutions they move and vote for, to make them disgorge. Repentance without restitution is a mockery.

However I am not so much concerned in canvassing the weakness of the reverend gentlemen's logic, as in calling attention to the offensive vigilance of his denunciation of a very large class of our fellow citizens. It is not argument it is only evil in its results—it convinces nobody, but harms and wounds many, destroys the harmony of society. A farmer with neglected fields does not improve them by discrediting his neighbour's well-ordered farm. If the zeal of Protestant ministers were directed to unifying the warring elements of the many sects into which the Protestant religious bodies are split, and organizing them into one grand army against evil, Ministerial Associations would find far more profitable employment than parrying revolutionary brick-bats at their neighbours. It is our duty to stand by our religious principles, and if we wish to impress the superiority we claim for them, we should do so by our lives and actions, not by slandering other communions. St. Paul's Cathedral was not built by tearing down St. Peter's.

Yours, etc.,
"DANIEL."

Where is Mamie Kelly?

Weston, March 17.—J. Gilchrist, a shoemaker, living on Main-street, a veteran of the Indian mutiny of 1857-58, and who served more than 21 years in the famous 56th Royal County Down Regiment of Ireland, is mourning the disappearance of his adopted child, Mamie, whose mother's name is Kelly. Mamie is 9 years old, and has been attending the Weston Public School. On Tuesday, after dinner, she left for school and has not been seen or heard from since. She has been one of his family since she was six weeks old, and her loss is greatly mourned. The child's mother is a domestic, and stayed with the Gilchrists until Tuesday. It is believed that she took the child with her.

Permanent Cure for Bronchitis

"My second daughter was troubled with bronchitis from the age of three weeks. Oftentimes I thought that she would choke to death. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine brought relief and further treatment made a thorough cure. This trouble used to come back from time to time, but the cure is now permanent." — Mrs. Richmond Withrow, Shubenacadie, Hants County, N. S.

THE CELEBRATION OF THE SANCTUARY

St. Patrick's Day at St. Peter's Cathedral—Special Festival Services—Sermon by Rev. Father Galvin.

Reasons Why Ireland's Patron Saint Should be Honoured —His Great Spirit of Humility.

Story of His Life--Glorious Record of St. Patrick and the Irish Nation was Reviewed.

This morning at St. Peter's Cathedral there were masses at 8 and 9 o'clock, and both were very largely attended. At the latter the special St. Patrick's Day sermon was preached by Rev. Father Galvin, who treated the subject in a masterly manner. The High Mass at 9 o'clock was said by Rev. Father McCoil. The offertory solo was sung by Miss Lewis, while before and after the mass the Irish airs were played by Miss Doherty and Miss Lewis.

Under the leadership of Sister M. St. Fergus, the Convent School children sang, a number of St. Patrick's Day hymns, including "Hibernia's Champion Saint, All Hail."

The sermon, in honour of the Patron Saint of Ireland was preached to a large congregation by Rev. Father Galvin, and was one most appropriate to the occasion.

The text upon which the reverend Father based his eloquent sermon was Psalm CXI; 7.—"The just shall be in everlasting remembrance." The speaker said that it would seem that the honour which the Irish people have paid to the memory of the great St. Patrick for the last fifteen hundred years is out of all proportions with the claims which any single man could have to the gratitude of a nation. Noble cathedrals are erected year after year and dedicated to him. Irish fathers and mothers are eager to give his name to their sons and when the 17th of March comes around Irish men and women, at home and abroad, assemble in churches and halls to sound the praises of this great Saint, and to rehearse the glories of the nation that is proud to call him father.

Is not this an exaggerated honour? Is not this a devotion, a national pride carried to excess? No, the speaker said, Catholic friends will never say so. They will never tire in their devotion to St. Patrick, and the story of his labours in their behalf will be ever present to their minds. Remembering these facts they will always be eager to celebrate with the utmost enthusiasm, the 17th of March, the feast of the apostle of their nation.

St. Patrick is deserving of the honour paid him, first because of the grandeur of his own individual character, and secondly because of the glorious history of the people to whom he preached the doctrines of Christianity. The fact that St. Patrick is a Saint, canonized by the Church of Christ is sufficient claim to our admiration and respect.

St. Patrick was great Saint. He spent many sleepless nights in prayer, and many long days in severe labour and wore himself out in winning souls for Christ. When we reflect that all his labours were in the land of our forefathers and that his most fervent prayers were poured forth from the hillsides of old Ireland something more than admiration is exated in our bosoms.

The speaker then reviewed briefly the life of this Saint. His birthplace is, as all are aware, still a matter of uncertainty. The most probable account says that he was born in Scotland, in a small village situated on the spot now occupied by the town of Killpatrick. Rev. Father Galvin then referred to his earlier life, which was spent in preparation for the after life-work of the great Saint. During his captivity in Ireland he learned the value of suffering, and these days were productive of many blessings for Ireland. His stay in Ireland had been short, but he had learned to love the people. They had not received the light of Christianity, and to adore the true God, and he pitied their blindness. Later when God informed him that He wished him to go to the relief of the Irish people he responded to the call, and spent some years in preparation for his mission. He studied in Gaul and Italy, was ordained priest and consecrated Bishop, and in the year 432 received from His Holiness Celestine I. his mission to the Irish people. He was then forty years of age and was far advanced in the path of virtue, and well instructed in the ecclesiastical studies.

St. Patrick's progress through Ireland was a triumphal march. He subjoted Kings and Queens, Princes and Princesses, the nobility and the common people. Monastries and convents were founded and filled with devoted men and women. The reason for his wonderful success was the fact that he gave himself up entirely to the accomplishment of his great work, and his virtues were such as to draw down the blessings of God.

The reverend speaker referred to the great humility of St. Patrick and recalled a pretty legend which illustrated this quality in the Saint. Not only was his humility great, but his spirit of penance was also great. It is learned that he suffered many things all that he might accomplish his great work, and he says himself that frost and rain did him no harm during his years of captivity, for God's love burned in his heart.

Nor did his penitential life remain confined to the years of his novitiate. He withstood the opposition of his relatives who tried to deter him from undertaking a mission to a country where he had spent years of slavery, but he entered joyfully on his apostolic career, and gladly accepted all the privations and trials which fell to his lot. In fact his earnest desire was to suffer, and he wished to close his earthly life by dying a martyr's death. He died, peacefully, however, on the shore of the island spreading sea, on the spot where sixty years before, he had begun his labours.

The speaker said that when we considered these great virtues, and the minor ones which he possessed, we cannot be too enthusiastic in our devotion to St. Patrick. The same sentiments towards him should be excited towards him when we examine the glorious record of the Irish people, and the consideration of this point would constitute the second part of his sermon.

The glories of Ireland have been scattered over a long course of years. From the time of its settlement by the Milesians its sons may well be proud of its history. A high degree of civilization had been attained in the island about 2900 years ago. The country had her parliament and her code of laws.

It is to the Christian era, however, to the time of St. Patrick, and his successors must we look for the greatest glories, and to St. Patrick must we rightly attribute these glories. In the three centuries which followed St. Patrick's time, schools and churches, monasteries and convents, were founded throughout the land. Father Galvin here quoted from a noted historian to show the great progress the island made in the years which followed the work of the patron saint.

The aspect which Ireland presents to the world is indeed a beautiful one. She occupies the very foremost place in the Christian world, nor is her supremacy a mere passing one. For three long centuries her saints and her scholars were the admiration of the world, but in the ninth and tenth centuries Danish incursions disturbed the peace of the nation, and for a while checked its progress. Order was restored, however, in 1014, and after a few years all traces of the depredations committed were wiped away.

The unrest which resulted from the dispute between two of the native princes was touched upon by the reverend gentleman and incidents of that period briefly reviewed. But in spite of all the hardships and unrest, Ireland preserved the Catholic faith through all the oppression.

The speaker counselled his hearers to do all in their power to show due honour to St. Patrick. Ample reason has been found for gratitude to God and St. Patrick. They should thank God for the glorious destiny of their race and should honour the great saint who has been instrumental in obtaining from God such blessings for them. He asked them not simply to honour him by wearing a shamrock on their breasts, but by sincere attachment to all that was dear to him.

The whole universal Church should this day rejoice, for St. Patrick was a man who brought glory to the Church, who won a whole nation from paganism, and who was a vessel of election for the spreading of the true faith of Christ. As such, we honour him, and beg of him this day to obtain for us the grace to be faithful to the doctrines he imparted to our forefathers, and thus aid us to win a crown of everlasting glory in heaven.

OLD IRELAND'S PATRON SAINT

erce and awe took the place of anger and resentment. St. Patrick demanded to be allowed to preach at Tara. The king was afraid to refuse and so St. Patrick presented himself at the great court of the kingdom, and declared the message of Love. Insisting on the great truth of God the Creator, he led them from their nature worship to the worship of Nature's God. He who made the sun, he said, must be greater than the sun. The Druid priests may have had power to bring evil, but they could not take it away. God was the God of Love. He alone could do that. His preaching here was very successful, and he founded the great church of Donaga Patrick—Donagh signifying that on Sunday that ground was consecrated. The Tara palace is gone, but the church's ruins remain. So earthly kingdoms wane but the Church of Christ endures.

The royal daughters of King Leogaire questioned St. Patrick, "Your God is He in heaven or in earth, in the sea or in the river? How is He to be seen? How is He to be loved? Where is He to be found?" To these questions St. Patrick answered:

"Our God is the God of all men. The God of the heaven and the earth, of the sea and rivers. The God of the sun, the moon, and all the stars. The God of the mountains, the lowly villages; the God who is above heaven, in heaven and under heaven. He hath an habitation in the heavens and in the earth, and in the sea, and in all that are therein. He inspireth all things; He quickeneth all things; He governeth all things. He giveth light to the sun; He hath made springs in the dry ground, and dry islands in the sea. He hath appointed the stars to serve the greater lights; He hath a Son co-equal and co-eternal with Himself. The Son is not younger than the Father, nor is the Father older than the Son; and the Holy Ghost breatheth in them both. The Father and the Son, and the Holy Ghost are not divided. Inasmuch as ye are the daughters of an earthly king I invite you to the Heavenly King. Believe in Him." Then they said: "Teach us how we may believe in Heavenly King?" Then St. Patrick said, "Believe ye in repentance after sin?" They said, "We believe." "Believe ye in life after death? Believe ye in the resurrection at the day of Judgment? Believe ye in the unity of the church?" To all these they assented, and they were baptized.

After this St. Patrick preached in Donegal and Antrim, founded the See of Armagh and Cashel, spending seven years in Munster, and as some say, having crossed over to Isle of Man and preached the Gospel there so that the Manx men claim St. Patrick as their apostle as well as the Irish. He died after having founded 365 churches. The exact year of his death and the place of his burial are as uncertain as the year he began his ministry, but A.D. 463 seems to be the most probable date.

MEETINGS CONTINUED AT GOSPEL HALL

Mr. Irving Addressed Large Congregation Last Night.

Last night again, to a very interested audience, Mr. Irving spoke at the Gospel Hall from the text 2nd Tim. 2-15, "Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." The word has been divided into seven dispensations and to rightly divide the word of truth it is necessary to understand to which dispensation certain Scriptures apply. First was the dispensation of innocency of creation; then dispensation of conscience from the fall of man till the law given to Moses; then law from Moses to John Baptist, Matt. 11-12-13; then God manifest in the flesh from John till the day of Pentecost; then the dispensation of Grace (or the Spirit) in which we live; then after this the Great tribulation, lasting about seven years; then the Millineum, one thousand years; then the end. To-night Mr. Irving will speak on the time from John till Pentecost. Every Bible student welcome.

TO-NIGHT—17th of March, T. A. S. Annual Concert in the Opera House. George Ellis Fax, Humorist; H. Huthven McDonald, Baritone; two of Canada's best artists, assisted by splendid local talent. Admission only 25c and 35c. If you miss it you will miss a treat.

FENELON FALLS HAVE ACCEPTED

Game Between That Team and Peterborough Will Be Played in Port Hope on Friday, March 24th, in all Probability--Mr. Moore, the Fall's Team Manager Expressed Himself to the Examiner To-day as Willing to Play on That Date.

Fenelon Falls will have to "put up or shut up" now. Last night the following despatch was sent to the Toronto Globe, in which paper the challenge of the Fenelon Falls team appeared yesterday:

"Mr. T. J. McCabe, manager of the Peterborough Hockey Club, authorizes the Globe to publish the following acceptance of the Fenelon Falls' Hockey Club:

"The Peterborough Hockey Club hereby accepts the challenge of the Fenelon Falls' Hockey Team to a game to be played in Port Hope on any date mutually agreed upon by the two teams, each team to pay its own expenses, and the losers to pay the referee's expenses, and the cost of the rink, and the net receipts to go to any charitable institution. The appointment of the referee to be left with the secretary of the O.H.A., and two referees may be appointed, if it is so desired.

"J. T. McCabe."

This morning the Sporting Editor of the Examiner communicated by 'phone with Mr. Moore, manager of the Fenelon Falls team, who stated that while his team would prefer to play the game in Lindsay, they would go to Port Hope, as they are bound to do by the terms of their own challenge, to play in Lindsay, or any other neutral ice.

Mr. Moore explained to the Examiner that his team had two games to play in the near future, and consequently they cannot settle on the date of their game with the Peterboroughs, but it will probably be on Friday, March 24th. They have to play off with Cobourg for the Trent Valley League championship, and after that they play with Victoria Harbour, at the Falls, in the return game. After these games have been worked off, the game between the Falls and Peterborough teams will be played, Mr. Moore agreeing by 'phone with the proposal of Mr. McCabe, as expressed by the Examiner.

HOCKEY

The attendance at the annual carnival of destruction presented at the Brock street rink last night by the Gladiators from the fire hall would have gladdened the heart of the box-office man at an ancient Roman amphitheatre. One feature of the evening was the large preponderance of the fair sex in the audience, who witnessed the fearful scenes presented without a shudder. The play throughout was of a nature to keep the audience in a constant state of expectation and not a dull moment elapsed from start to finish. Additional excitement was lent to the game by an alarm which was sent in about half-time and which caused an interruption of the game by the speedy exit of the players. The game was concluded later in the evening the brigade in the mean time having made a quick run to the alleged scene of the blaze on Hunter street. In the interim the game announced to take place between the Peterooro' Hardware Co. team and Higgins' Favourites was proceeded with. The second half of the Firemen's game was then concluded the Inside Department succeeding in crushing the championship aspirations of the Outsiders by a score of 8-6.

If variety is the "spice" of a hockey match, the spectators were certainly treated to it in the weird array of costumes worn by the participants in the game. Many of these passed the power of verbal description.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Outsiders.		Insiders.
Will. Metheral	Goal	Wallie Parnell
Sam Sharpe	Point.	Sam Wainright
Wallie Evans	Cover Point	Dick Parnell
Billy Turner	Rover	Al. Mitchell
Fred. Parnell	Centre	Billy Tremaine
Archie Moore	Right Wing.	Charlie Butcher
Jim Haggart	Left Wing.	Arthur Ringer

Referee—Harry Morgan.

The game started off at a furious clip Archie Moore being the first to come under the referee's notice. He was given a chance to lead a quiet life for one minute on the boards. The first goal went to the Outsiders after some truly bloodcurdling work and many hair-raising incidents.

Butcher's rushes were as great a feature as his costume, which was a dazzling combination of all the colours of the rainbow, in addition to which stood out prominently a nasal appendage of such a vivid hue that it would attract notice even in Lindsay. Ringer, who did some notable "stunts" throughout the evening was responsible for the next, evening the score. Things were by this time in a state of chaos, from which Mitchell would emerge occasionally on a like-hating rush which terminated—no one knew where. Tremaine was guilty of the next score, finding the nets after a series of exciting adventures. Archie Moore appeared to suddenly realize that it was "up to him" to even matters once more, and he got off on a dash down the ice and succeeded in "doing the necessary", though at a terrible cost to all who opposed. The Insiders secured the next. Wallie Parnell for some unaccountable reason having left his nets and become entangled in the corner. Wainright then gave an exhibition of stick-handling as it should be done. Butcher worked laboriously and secured a goal but unfortunately an offside had been called a few moments before. He, however, was "not happy till he got it", and after a number of intricate gyrations—a la Edgar Farley—he again found an opening and scored. Dick Parnell had a few minutes of a busy time and made a most determined effort to defend his nets, going to any lengths when necessary—even to "looping-the-loop" or "Shooting the Chutes" on skates. Wallie Parnell came under the ban and took a short siesta upon the fence-top. Archie Moore again made his presence felt, placing the rubber in his opponents' nets by somewhat questionable tactics, leaving the score 4-3 in favour of the Outsiders, when the alarm was sent in.

When the players lined-up to conclude the game intense excitement prevailed amongst the spectators. For the Outsiders some examples of hockey as it should be played were given by Evans and Sharpe (Outsiders), whose skating and stick-handling were of a nature seldom witnessed in town. Haggart was also always there with the goods,—though the exact manner in which he got there on many occasions will ever remain a mystery. Turner's dashes down the ice were marvellous to behold. Metheral in goal for the Outsiders did some splendid work and cannot be blamed for failing to connect with some of the shots sent in by a right-wing player of Archie Moore's reputation. Fred. Parnell's work was the subject of many admiring comments among the fair sex. Wainright's lifting—whether of the opposing players or of the puck was a feature of the game. He never failed to find something when he went after the elusive rubber.

The summary of scores in the second half, which left the total score 8-6 in favour of the Insiders, was as follows:—

Insiders,— Wainright, 1.
Dick Parnell, 1.
Butcher, 2.

Outsiders,—
Fred. Parnell, 1.
A. Moore, 1.
J. Haggart, 1.

The game between the Peterboro' and the Higgins' Hardware teams, which took place in the interim between the two halves of the Firemen's game, was a brilliant exhibition of fast hockey and resulted in a win for the Peterboros by a score of 3-1. A noticeable feature of the game was the fact that no player was penalized, and another thing which gave rise to considerable comment, because of its extraordinary nature, was the manner in which the referee, Mr. Archie Moore, conducted the face-off. It may safely be stated that never before in the annals of hockey has a referee conducted these by throwing in the puck from a seat on the fence. The line-up was as follows:—

Peterboro'.		Higgins'.
Morgan	Goal.	Wilson
Blewett	Point.	Trollope
Squires	Cover Point.	Curtis
Moore	Rover	McMillen
Fitzpatrick	Centre	Delany
Williams	Right Wing.	Kendry
Alford	Left Wing.	Hill

Mr. Frank Nelson, Vice-President of the O. H. A. in an address at Berlin, said:—

"On the question of rough play he pointed out that the association had always taken the strongest stand. Referees were supported to any extreme in the exercise of their authority. When a player was debarred from the O.H.A. for rough work he never got back again. The result of this policy was that the season just closed was one which would repay a moment's consideration. In the three championship series some 700 games were played, engaging 4,200 players, and in all the season the association had complaints of rough and foul play in only two matches. Hockey being a game of personal contact, played on unyielding ice, on skates, and by artificial light, might easily result in accidental injury.

LACROSSE.

The Globe says of Mr. Frank Babcock, who is a brother of Mr. G. N. Babcock, of town:—"London now proposes to butt into the senior C. L. A. Frank Babcock, who last year managed a team in Chatham, and who was very successful is now in London, and proposes to have senior lacrosse in the Forest City. Mr. Babcock is a member of the C. L. A. Executive. In this connection The Free Press says:—"He is confident that a winning team in London would be a success, financially and otherwise. Mr. Babcock stands for amateur sport pure and simple, and his connection with the Chatham Club, the 1904 intermediate C. L. A. championship, would be a guarantee to the lovers of the sport in this city of clean, and at the same time winning lacrosse."

CALM AFTER STORM

Mr. Foster and Mr. Borden Revise Their Share of Hansard.

P. E. ISLAND'S GRIEVANCE

Question of Winter Communication Again Brought Up—No Claims Remaining—Mr. Fielding Says the Island Has Been Treated Generously—Presentation of Petitions—Marine Estimates.

Ottawa, March 17.—The proceedings in the House yesterday were as the calm which follows the storm. Considerable time was required by such men as Mr. Foster and Mr. Borden to revise their share of Hansard, and the day passed without the remotest reference to the school question, except the presentation of a host of petitions. Items in the estimates for the Marine and Fisheries Department were passed to the amount of $639,750, the only incident of importance being a discussion on the inadequate steamer service to Prince Edward Island during the winter, a subject which the Island representatives never fail to bring before the power which is supposed to remove all difficulties.

Presentation of Petitions.

Some ten minutes were occupied at the opening yesterday in the presentation of petitions relating to the autonomy bills. A few of those presented favored the bills remaining in their present form. The members presenting petitions were as follows:—Messrs. Alcorn, 3; Bourassa, 10; R. L. Borden, 2; Barr, 2; Ward, 1; A. Lavergne (Montmagny), 1; McColl, 3; Lawrence, 3; Alex. Johnston (Cape Breton), 1; Lennox, 2; Fisher, 6; Guthrie, 3; Clarke (Essex), 3; Boyce, 1; Schaffner, 1; Ames, 1; Bzabason, 2; Macdonell, 1; Taylor, 1; Osler, 3; Sproule, 4; Parmalee, 4.

Mr. Gervais introduced a bill to incorporate the Crown Casualty & Assurance Company.

After a few reminders of belated returns the House went into Committee of Supply without a struggle at 3.30, and took up the items for ocean and river service, $490,400.

Prince Edward Island's Grievance.

The item of $9,000 for winter mail service afforded the representatives of the Province of Prince Edward Island another opportunity to press upon the Government the necessity for improving the winter communication between the Island and the mainland. Mr. Maclean, of Queen's, P. E. I., introduced the subject and intimated that the agreement to keep up communication had not been fulfilled, and that the people of the Island were not coming to Ottawa for many more years asking for that to which they were entitled.

Hon. W. S. Fielding.

Hon. Mr. Fielding repudiated the suggestion that the Dominion had not done everything it was called upon to do by the contract with Prince Edward Island, and recalled the fact that some seven years ago an extra subsidy was given to the Island in final settlement of all claims under the Confederation act. No portion of the Dominion has been more liberally treated in recent years than Prince Edward Island. At the same time, if the question was placed upon the broad basis of improving transportation between different portions of the Dominion it was worthy of consideration.

Mr. McIsaac (Antigonish) suggested a safer and surer route between Georgetown and Cape George. The item passed after some further discussion.

The House adjourned at 11.15.

The Canada Atlantic.

Ottawa, March 17.—The conditions under which the Grand Trunk Railway Company is to take over the Canada Atlantic were the subject of a brisk discussion in the railway committee today. Two bills were before the committee, both having the one object of facilitating the transfer. The bill was passed, but the other was held over to enable the Government to make a statement in connection with running rights for the Intercolonial over the Canada Atlantic Railway.

Constable Shoots Laborer.

Ottawa, March 17.—Bernard Britton, a laborer, 29 years of age, was shot in the leg early yesterday morning by Constable Graham of the Ottawa Improvement Commission. Britton and his brother were engaged in what Graham and another constable believed to be an attempt to steal lumber for firewood. The prisoner made a break for liberty, and when recaptured struck Constable Blanchfield with a hatchet he had intended to use in prying off the boards. Crown Attorney Ritchie is investigating the case.

Paralytic Burns to Death.

Chatham, March 17.—Jean Peltier, an aged fisherman, who lived alone in a little shanty near Jeannette's Creek, a hamlet about 17 miles from the city, was burned to a cinder before he could escape from his abode, which was in flames. Peltier was afflicted with a paralytic stroke some days ago, and it is supposed that he was taken with another Wednesday night while carrying a lighted lamp, and thus came to his frightful end.

The Lathe.

Nature as well as necessity mothered the invention of the lathe, the first of machine tools. It was built originally between two adjacent large trees near which grew a springy sapling. Lathes like it are used today in some of the Asiatic countries.

Traced by Tooth Marks.

Traced by the impression of his teeth left in a half eaten apple in a house at Basle, Switzerland, a burglar confessed to breaking into the building.

Butter Steak.

Cut one pound of steak into small pieces and put into a well buttered baking dish, season to taste, make a batter of one egg, one cup of flour and one pint of milk. Beat the egg light, add the milk and a little salt and beat up light and pour over the meat. Bake about one hour.

Murder In France.

There is no punishment for murder in France if the murderer is not arrested within fifteen years of the time of his crime.

NO RELIEF FOR CANADA.

Lord Stanley Replies to Deputation re British Postage.

London, March 17.—(C. A. P.)—Replying to the deputation of members of Parliament yesterday afternoon, introduced by Sir Gilbert Parker, Lord Stanley disposed of the hope of a reduction of postage on British newspapers and magazines to Canada, at least while he remained Postmaster-General.

Sir Gilbert said the deluge of American magazines, many containing 50 to 75 per cent. of advertisements, did a great deal to divert trade from Great Britain to the States. He referred to the resolutions passed in Canada, and read a petition signed by the President of the Press Association, the President of the British Empire League, and the late Premier of Ontario, amongst others; and also commented upon the people becoming imbued with American ideas, and asked, that the rate should be reduced from four pence to a penny a pound.

Lord Stanley had great sympathy with the sentimental side of the question, but his business was to run his department on a business basis. The only method by which the matter could be remedied would be to equalize the British rates with those of the United States, and that, he calculated, would mean a loss of revenue to the amount of three millions sterling.

FORGERY CHARGED.

Three Young Men at Petrolea to Be Tried for Bold Work.

Petrolea, March 17.—A bold piece of work was attempted here Wednesday, when three young men, whose names are Porter, Seymour and Humford, secured some blank cheque forms and forged the name of John Kerr to them.

They went to the store of Mr. McDermaid and bought a pair of boots and handed one of the cheques in payment. Mr. McDermaid, thinking the cheque was perfectly good, took it, giving them their change. They then proceeded to the Ford's millinery and dry-goods store and tried to pass another for the amount of $19.50, but the clerk did not think the cheque was good and had it taken to Mr. Kerr, who said it was not his.

The police were quickly notified and succeeded in getting Seymour easily. Porter and Humford tried to escape, but Chief of Police Ferguson arrested them. Their trial comes off this morning.

HORRIBLE TESTIMONY.

Inquiry Into Finding Child's Body at Millgrove at Dundas.

Hamilton, March 17.—At the enquiry held by Coroner Ross at Dundas last evening on the body of the infant dug up under the barn of William Marshall, Millgrove, the evidence was of a shocking nature.

Martha Roberts, the mother of the child, is only 16 years of age, and is a step-daughter of Marshall. She took the stand against him. She swore that he was the father of the child. She said it was born on Friday, and died the following day.

Testimony was given by a little girl that the family were looking for laudanum, but she thought Marshall wanted it for himself. The enquiry lasted until about midnight, and was adjourned until next Monday.

THE ASSEMBLY.

Premier and the University—No Cannon For the Opening.

Toronto, March 17.—Premier Whitney promises to outline the Government's intentions towards the University in the speech from the Throne.

The guns of the Field Battery being unavailable, there will be no Royal salute at the opening of Parliament. The Grenadiers will furnish a Guard of Honor and the R. C. D. the escort for the Lieutenant-Governor.

The Temiskaming Railway Commissioners met yesterday for routine business.

Col. Clarke, clerk of the Legislature, has received 64 applications for private bills. The necessary $100 fee was sent with 38 of the applications.

Favors the Yankees.

London, March 17.—W. Gilbert, Son & Co., Limited, of Swansea, writing to the Canadian Press, say the action of the Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway, charging two cents per 100 pounds more for goods destined for all points beyond Montreal, has the effect of discriminating in favor of American manufacturers.

Felt Weak and Nervous.

Had Faint and Dizzy Spells.

These symptoms arise from a weak condition of the heart and nerves. Wherever there are sickly people with weak hearts and deranged nerves, will be found an effectual remedy.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

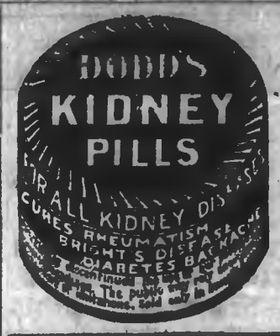
Through the medium of the nervous system, they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body.

They restore enfeebled, enervated, exhausted, devitalized, or overworked men and women to perfect constitutional power.

Miss Maggie L. Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., tells how she was cured in the following words:—

"I was sick for the past year, and became thoroughly run down. I had faint and dizzy spells, and felt weak and nervous all the time. I tried numerous remedies, but could get no help. I then read in the paper about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and got a box of them. Before I had used one-half the box I began to get better, so got another one, and by the time the two were finished I was as well as ever."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.



POLICING THE PLAINS.

How Canada's Vast Empire of the Plains Is Governed.

The duties of the Northwest Mounted Policeman are perhaps more varied than that of any other officer in the world of like position. The little force of which he forms a part, numbering scarcely more than 500 men, have to police a vast area, almost an empire in extent, extending from the international boundary to the Arctic Ocean. His scarlet uniform is a synonym for law and order. Wherever he rides lawlessness is kept in check, criminals are pursued and brought to justice, the predatory instincts of the Indian tribes are repressed, and the settler sleeps in perfect security, though his nearest neighbor may be miles away.

The Northwest Mounted Policeman's lithe, active figure is the very embodiment of Canadian justice, swift and unerring, a veritable terror to evil-doers. Whether engaged in tracking a murderer, rounding up horse or cattle thieves, pursuing a redskin into the very heart of an Indian reserve, dominating the mining camps of the Yukon or paddling his lonely canoe on the borders of the Arctic Sea, his conduct is always the same, cool, fearless and indomitable. There is a good deal of human interest in the reports of the men of the Mounted Police. Cattle-stealing is a crime they have frequent experience with, and it is often a difficult thing to prove. Sometimes, however, the perpetrators are caught red-handed.

Here, for example, is an account of how three alleged cattle-thieves were rounded up near MacLeod, Alberta. It is taken from the report of Sergeant Piper of "D" division: "On the 13th of September, accompanied by Constable Pennycuick, I left MacLeod for Rocky Coulee to investigate cattle-stealing, which has been reported to have been carried on for several months. I visited the place of R. N. Train, a butcher, formerly of Morris, Man., and afterwards of MacLeod, but now residing on section 8, township 11, range 24, about 16 miles from the town of MacLeod, and about 150 yards from his house towards a coulee found all appliances for butchering cattle. Noticing several hides in the corral, and not wishing to throw any suspicion, I watched the place carefully on the evenings of the 13th and 14th. Nothing happened, and no cattle were butchered. On the 15th we went about seven miles north of Train's place and received information that Train's boy was seen that day driving three steers, brands unknown, towards the home. I determined to keep a close watch on his corral that night. Reaching, at about 7.15 p. m., a butte about 800 yards from his corral, we waited. At 7.19 p.m. we heard a rifle shot, sounding as if it had come from the corral. At 7.30 p.m. another rifle shot and a groan from an animal. We immediately made for Train's corral, it being dark when we reached there. I heard the voices of two or three men, and at once ordered them to throw up their hands, which they did. I asked who was boss, and Train replied that he was. Obtaining a lantern, I inspected the place and found three men there—Train, Bram and Carr—also the carcasses of two three-year-old steers that had just been shot. I asked Train what brands were on the cattle, meaning the two just shot. He replied: 'No brands at all. I bought them from a man two or three months ago.' I then told him to go ahead and to take the hides off without injury and dress them properly. He said: 'If I have made a mistake I wish to pay for them.' I then sent for the assistance of three farmers, who lived near the place, meaning to hold the three prisoners at all costs, the night being very dark, and knowing that I had a good case. On the hides being taken off the carcasses they were both found to have the brands Y. T. on the left ribs and the wattle brand on the lower right neck. I then recognized them as the property of George Lane of Calgary. I at once placed Train, Bram and Carr under arrest, and handcuffed and cautioned them."

A Royal Accomplice.

One day when Francis I. was in his chapel attending mass with several of his noblemen a well dressed pickpocket went and stood behind the cardinal of Lorraine and abstracted his purse, but unable to do this without the king perceiving it he put up his finger to intimate that the latter should keep silence. The king took it for a practical joke and said never a word. But after the service he asked the cardinal what he had done with his purse. The prelate, not being able to find it, was very much annoyed and took the king to task, who greatly enjoyed the fun, and at length ordered the purse to be restored to the cardinal. The thief did not, however, come forward, and the king discovered too late that he had been tricked.

Life on the Moon?

Professor Max Hanstedter of the University of Berlin believes that life, animal and vegetable, is not extinct on the moon. Water probably exists underground, and the last of the Selenites may dwell in pits, craters and caverns, fly or move by means of wings and live upon worms. They dare not face the sunlight as we do, and their eyes are like those of bats or owls. It would be interesting to know their ideas about themselves.—London Globe.

MENTAL FULL DRESS.

The Reason Why One Woman Is Always a Welcome Guest.

A young girl joining a group of waiting friends on their way to a dinner party apologized for a moment's delay by explaining that she had stopped to reread a letter for an amusing story. "You know how the dear old colonel relishes a joke, and it is sure to fit in somewhere during the dinner. I am not brilliant or original myself, but I can borrow from those who are," she finished laughingly.

We understood then why this comparatively plain woman is a welcome guest. As a friend said to her, "Alice dresses her mind with as much care as she does her body when she goes into company." But the point is not merely in the accumulation of good stories. It is the taste and tact which discern exactly where they will fit in. Stories succeed only when we make them our own and fit them to their new environment. But the habit of preparing the mind for company is one which will certainly aid both to social charm and ease.

The preparation for social gatherings should not all be made by the entertainer and the dressmaker. No form of entertainment takes the place of the fine art of conversation.—Congregationalist.

A Clever Toronto Girl.

A young Toronto verse-writer, Miss Josephine Potter Davis, aged 16, of 67 Pembroke Street, won the prize given by St. Nicholas for the best verses entered in competition for the March number. The verses, under the title, "The Song of the Heroes of Greece," are distinctly meritorious:

We are the heroes of Greece—
We, the immortal dead.
We sit with the gods on Olympus,
With dew and ambrosia fed.
We stormed the heights of Troy,
We sought for the Golden Fleece—
We, the immortal dead—
We, the heroes of Greece!

We have sailed over unknown seas,
And defied the seasons and times,
To the far Hesperides,
To the shores of the northern climes.
We have lived life gloriously,
And for us it shall never cease—
For us, the immortal dead—
For us, the heroes of Greece!

But we would give up with joy
Our fame and our deity
For the stormy plains of Troy,
For our ship on the boundless sea,
For the joy of the mad, glad strife,
The rest in the sweet surcease—
We, the immortal dead—
We, the heroes of Greece!

The pure blood in the sire is the readiest means at hand for the farmer to improve all classes of farm animals.

NO SUBSTITUTE

has yet been found for cod liver oil. There are so-called extracts, wines and cordials of cod liver oil that are said to contain the active principles but not the oil itself. This is absurd on its face. You might as well extract the active principles of wheat and make bread with them. The best form of cod liver oil, that can be digested and assimilated most easily, is Scott's Emulsion.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Hogs 5c to 15c Higher at Buffalo.

London, March 16.—Live cattle are quoted at 10¾c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8½c to 9c per lb.; sheep, 12c to 13c per lb.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were 77 car loads, composed of 814 cattle, 3020 hogs, 245 sheep and yearling lambs and about 75 calves.

A limited number of shipping cattle sold all the way from $4.50 to $4.90 per cwt. and one choice pair sold at $5 per cwt.; the bulk of export steers sold at $4.60 to $4.80 per cwt.

There was a fair demand for the best cattle. Choice picked lots of butchers and steers sold at $4.25 to $4.40, and one or two lots good enough for export sold at $4.50 to $4.90; loads of good at $3.75 to $4; fair to good, $3.50 to $3.75; medium, $3.25 to $3.40; common, $3.12½ to $3.25; good cows at $3.25 to $3.50; common cows at $2.50 to $3; canners, $1.50 to $2.

There was a good demand for well-bred steers. The farmers of Ontario are more interested in improved stock than ever before. Feed is too high to waste upon common scrub stock. The demand is for the high-class cattle at the highest price, yet there are a large number of the cheap inferior kind coming forward. Well-bred steers, 1100 to 1200 lbs. each, sold at $4.25 to $4.50; steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, sold at $4 to $4.25; light steers, 800 to 950 lbs. each, at $3.35 to $3.65 per cwt.

About 30 milch cows and springers sold all the way from $22 to $53 each. Trade in milch cows is not as good as a couple of weeks ago. One dealer was offering two cows that cost $80 in the country, and the best bid he got was $50 for the pair, altho he offered to take $55. The cows were unsold at the close of the market.

The bulk of the calves offered were of common to medium quality. Wesley Dunn quotes prices from $3.50 to $6 per cwt., but something of choice quality would bring $6.50 per cwt.

On account of light deliveries and a good demand prices were firmer. Export ewes sold at $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt.; bucks, $3.50 to $4.25 per cwt.; yearling lambs grain-fed ewes and wethers, $6.75 to $7.25 per cwt.; barnyard lambs, $5.50 to $6.50; spring lambs, $4 to $8 each, according to quality.

Receipts were large, 3020, all of which were bought by Mr. Harris, at unchanged quotations. Selects $6, light and fats at $5.75 per cwt., fed and watered.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, March 16.—Cattle—Receipts light; steady; unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 100 head; active, $4.50 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2800 head; active, 5c to 15c higher; heavy and mixed, $5.60 to $5.65; Yorkers, $5.45 to $5.65; pigs, $5.25 to $5.30; rough, $4.75 to $4.95; stags, $3.25 to $3.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6000 head; slow and steady; native lambs, $6.50 to $6.60; western, $6 to $6.25; wethers, $6 to $6.25; ewes, $5.75 to $6; sheep, mixed, $5.90 to $6.

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for medicine and trust to luck for results. She "doctors" month after month, often year after year, in this aimless, blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity. It dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"In the year 1892 my health was poor," writes Mrs. J. Black, of 262 Broadway, Buffalo, N. Y. "I suffered from falling of womb, a disagreeable discharge, painful monthly periods, headache, backache and pains in the limbs. Every month was confined to bed for two or three days. Was weak, nervous and hysterical; life was a burden to myself and I made every one in the family unhappy because I was so irritable. My husband got me four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and before I had taken the first bottle I was feeling some relief. The medicine made me well and strong, free from nervousness, aches and pain, and I felt like a new woman. Before I used the 'Favorite Prescription' I had been taking another physician's medicine for nearly three months, but had received no benefit. Your medicine is certainly the best in the world."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Don't let a selfish seller over-persuade you to accept a substitute for these Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated but never equaled.

Was Not Able To Walk For Three Months.

Was Given Up to Die. The Doctor Said So.

Burdock Blood Bitters Saved Her Life.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Castilloux, Newport, Quebec, has to say about Burdock Blood Bitters:—"Last December I fell very sick after confinement. I was not able to walk for three months, and was given up to die by the doctor. My husband read of the many wonderful cures made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so procured me two bottles. After using it for about ten days, I was able to get around, and could mind my baby without help from anyone, and am now well, and able to do my own work. I told a lady friend of mine who was troubled in the same way, and she used it with equal success. I cannot too highly recommend your medicine, for I know just how good it is, and hope and wish that anyone suffering as I did will give it a trial."

Marconi Married.

London, March 17.—The marriage of Guglielmo Marconi to the Honorable Beatrice O'Brien, half sister of Lord Inchiquin, took place yesterday at St. George's Church, Hanover-square. Signor Marconi's mother and brother, the latter being best man, came from Italy for the ceremony. Lord Inchiquin gave away the bride, who was attended by four bridesmaids. The couple afterwards started on their honeymoon, which will be spent in Ireland. They expect to sail for New York March 25. Later, they will be the guests of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena at the Quirinal.

Old Cabinet Returns.

Rome, March 17.—After two weeks of fruitless attempt to form a new Cabinet, Deputy Fortis yesterday declined the task, and the members of the old Giolitti Cabinet held a council under the presidency of King Victor Emmanuel, who decided that they should all return to office.

Safer With the Indians.

"I would rather trust my life and property with the Indians of Port Simpson than with the men of Toronto or Vancouver," said Rev. Dr. Whittington, Superintendent of Missions for the Methodist Church in British Columbia, when asked recently in the mission rooms at Toronto if the Indians were being civilized and Christianized.

Dr. Whittington, who has been out west among the Indians for thirteen years, has been over the continent 20 times during that period. When asked if the Indians were deteriorating or dying out, he replied no, that they were progressing and increasing, that it was only in heathen villages where the race was becoming extinct, several villages having become entirely wiped out. He said the bad Indian drank just as the bad white man, but it was only when whiskey peddlers managed to get into the villages. It was against the law, however, and they had on several occasions been caught and heavily fined.

At Port Simpson the Indians were continually advancing. Twenty-five years ago it was a barricaded place, and to-day there is not one heathen there.

Sam Costs Money.

When Fanny Kemble spent her summers in Massachusetts she engaged a neighbor to drive her regularly about the country. On their first excursion he began to discuss the crops and the history of the people, when Mrs. Kemble said in her dramatic fashion, "Sir, I have engaged you to drive, not talk." The farmer kept his peace and when the vacation was over sent in his bill. "What is this item, sir?" she asked. "I do not understand it." With equal gravity he rejoined: "Sam, $5. I don't often take it, but when I do I charge!" The bill was paid, and it made a firm friend of Mrs. Kemble ever after.

LOVE AMONG SAVAGES.

Ability to Stand Torture a Test of Masculine Devotion.

Among the Arabs of upper Egypt the youth who proposes to a girl must submit to a whipping at the hands of all her male relatives, and, says a dry narrator, "if he wishes to be considered worth having he must receive the chastisement, which is sometimes exceedingly severe, with an expression of enjoyment."

Not infrequently it is the maiden herself who imposes the test. The Sakalava girls of Madagascar make their lovers stand at a short distance from a clever spear thrower and catch between the arm and side every weapon flung at them. If the youth "displays fear or fails to catch the spear, he is ignominiously rejected, but if there be no flinching and the spears are caught he is at once proclaimed an accepted lover."

Worse than this is the trial enforced upon their suitors by the Dongolowee girls. When in doubt as to the respective merits of two rivals, the young lady fastens a sharply pointed knife to each elbow; then, seating herself between her lovers, she drives the blades slowly into their thighs, and the hero who takes the greatest length of steel without a murmur wins the bride.

Major Mitchell in his "Expeditions Into the Interior of Eastern Australia" says of the natives on the river Darling that all their ideas of fighting are associated with the possession of gins or wives and that after a battle the wives "do not always follow their fugitive husbands from the field, but frequently go over, as a matter of course, to the victors." "None but the brave deserve the fair" is a maxim well understood of most barbaric races.

Competition on Love.

Love is a thing that makes people think each other pretty when nobody else does.

It causes two persons to be awful quiet when you're round and also quiet when you're not round—only in a different way.

It also causes people to sit together on one end of a bench when there's heaps of room on the other end.

Nurses has it and sometimes policemen. That's when they don't know where you are, and you have lots of fun playing on the grass.

Husbands and wives has it, but most generally only lovers.

Old people don't have much, 'cause it has to be about dimples and red cheeks and fluffy curls and lots of things which old people don't ever have.

When I grow up, I'll have to go and love some one, I suppose. Only she'll have to let me say what to do.

I've written all I know about it till I do grow up.

Burns as a Poet of Life.

The birthday anniversary of Robert Burns calls forth in some quarters the usual critical remarks as to Burns' true place in the ranks of the world's poets. Among other things, it is said that his view of life was defective. He sang of life as he knew it, and his view finds an echo wherever his verse is read, and that means in almost half of the civilized world. A "feature of nature" is what a critic of past years called the Ayrshire singer, and his very naturalness makes him great. Nature is the one great fact of the universe, and the pen of Burns speaks for man what man feels about nature and cannot himself express.

Verses which come to the mind in the everyday wear and tear of life as pat as the well-worn texts of the Bible or the aphorisms of popular folklore cannot be set down as second rate unless there are grades in truth, which is impossible. Burns' epigrams and full-fledged sentiments well up from the heart to the brain—are felt before they are spoken. If life is a normal and true manifestation of nature's forces, then Burns' view of it is not defective, since his utterance rings true to what the millions feel and think.

FLAME AND AIR.

A Simple Experiment That Illustrates a Scientific Principle.

A simple but interesting experiment may be made with a lighted candle by one who holds it near the door connecting two rooms, one warm, the other cool.

The windows in both rooms should be shut, so that there will be no draft, and the door between them should be kept closed until the moment of the experiment.

When the candle has been lighted, open the door ever so little, so that there may be only a narrow crack for the air to pass through. Now, if you hold the candle at the upper part of the door the flame will be blown in the direction of the cooler room, but move it down the crack to the bottom of the door and the flame will be blown toward the warmer room.

Move the candle slowly up from the bottom and a place will be found about midway between the top and the bottom of the door where the flame will be almost stationary.

This seems like a very simple thing, but it illustrates the scientific principle that warm air, being light, rises and flows through the top of the door into the cooler room, while cold air, being heavier, stays near the floor and seeks its entrance into the warm room at the bottom of the door.

Hence the blowing of the flame in different directions at the top and the bottom of the same door.—New York Mail.

Blue Jays.

Blue jays never go south, but stay north during the coldest winters. It is said they live to be a hundred years old. Very few people have ever seen their nests or young. They can sing a dozen different tunes. I never kill them, for they once saved my life. I had been lost in the woods for two days. Night was coming, and it began to snow. I built a bough camp, and while cutting wood cut a hollow stub. When I split it open I found four blue jays and about a bushel of bread and meat. I built a fire and ate about a peck of the provisions. The jays did not go away, but came up to the fire and appeared to enjoy the heat. My feet were cold, and I commenced to dance to warm them. Then the birds sang the prettiest jig tune I ever heard. The storm lasted twenty-four hours. When it was over I climbed a tall pine, but I came down mad as a wet hen. I had discovered the lumber camp about fifteen rods distant.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

OLD IRELAND'S PATRON SAINT.

The Venerable and Pious Missionary to the Emerald Isle and What is Known Concerning His Life and Work—His Conversion and the Story of His Labours in Reclaiming Ireland From Paganism to Christianity—Where he was, What he did and His Remarkable Self-sacrifice for the People he Loved so Dearly—Some Incidents in his Eventful Life.

Few saints have had more written about them than the patron saint of Old Ireland. The difficulty for the historic student is therefore not the lack of material but the selection of that which is trustworthy. This difficulty was so great in St. Patrick's case that the student of times past gave up in despair the hope of ever solving it. A cloud of debate surrounded the saint. Many learned men of the last generation were inclined to deny altogether his very existence. But the most modern historic student is not so easily disheartened, and by his labours a sifting process has begun, and the later "Lives," written some 700 years after St. Patrick's time, have been practically left out of consideration, as any trustworthy information contained in them is also found in the earlier sources.

"The Confessions of St. Patrick," copied into the Book of Armagh, in the year A.D., 807, and preserved in the Library of Trinity College, Dublin, professes to be written by himself, and about himself. All learned men accept this confession as genuine, and it is from this source that much of our information about St. Patrick is derived. But there is preserved in the Bodleian library a letter written by St. Patrick to a Welsh Prince Coroticus, who had taken captive and slain some Irish Christians. This letter is in the form of a remonstrance, and being also considered genuine, gives us some information about St. Patrick. St. Patrick's "Breastplate," being a hymn written in Irish, and translated by Mrs. Alexander, although not giving biographical facts, yet is useful as showing us what his creed was. When we add to these two documents the hymn of Secundinus, or Sechnall, we have all the contemporaneous writings at present available. No doubt exists as to the genuineness of these works. They are published in Dr. Whitley Stokes' Tripartite, vol. I, page 48, II, p.p. 357-359.

Next in authority to these contemporaneous documents, is the Hymn of Fiace, "Genair Patraic," as Fiace, who was consecrated by St. Patrick to be Bishop of Sleibte. It is however of later date, for the hymn-writer speaks of St. Patrick, not as personally known to him, but as one who was known to him only through books and stories. As a short sketch of St. Patrick's life, it has much merit, and its style and reticence shows it to be of early date, probably sometime in the 6th century.

But there are two other writings,

"THE LIFE OF ST. PATRICK,"

by Muirchu, and the memoranda of Tirechan, from which some materials are obtained. These latter writings belong to the latter half of the 7th century, and some very interesting information has been gathered from them by J. B. Bury, and published over his name in the Guardian, Nov. 20-27, 1901. He shows that Muirchu's Life was of slightly later date than Tirechan's, but that the two works were independent of each other. They were copied into the Book of Armagh in the year A.D. 807, but "Muirchu knew nothing of Tirechan, and Tirechan nothing of Muirchu."

The main source of Muirchu's information is St. Patrick's confession, "the first three sections and a half are simply an abbreviation of the narrative portion of the confession." Muirchu indicates his source by the reference "ut ipse ait." Muirchu gives us five feats that are not to be found in the confession. That Patrick a nationality was Brythonic; that he was born in Britain; that his original name was Sochet; that his mother's name was Conchessa, and that the vicus Banavem Taburniæ, mentioned in the confession, is not far from the Irish Channel, and is "centric" (what ever this may be.) His information on these points we are given to understand, depended on a consensus of authorities (whether oral or written we are left to conjecture.) Mr. Bury points out that Muirchu is responsible for some blunders and indiscretions, in some cases seriously misinterpreting St. Patrick's words, and in others making unwarrantable inferences. His method, he says himself, was eclectic (carptim.) He does not set down every incident he selects; but he fails to tell us what principle guided him in his selection. He seems to have taken his information from whatever source was before him, piecemeal, as it were, now one source, now another. He did not fuse his materials into a unity, so we naturally find many incongruities. But apart from these inconsistencies this life of St. Patrick, as well as the are valuable sources for the formation of a formal biography of the Saint.

From these manuscripts the following information is derived and from them it is certain that St. Patrick was not a visionary personage, but a real missionary by whom Ireland was converted to Christianity.

St. Patrick tells us that he was the child of Christian parents, the son of a deacon in the church, Calpurnius, and the grandson of a priest, named Odissus. He adds that he was born at Bannaven Taburiæ. There is some difficulty in locating this place now, Muirchu, as we saw, says it is not far from the Irish channel. Professor Stokes thinks it must be Dumbarton on the Clyde, near Glasgow, others that it is in France, near Bologne. St. Patrick speaks of his home being in the Britannias—if this means his native place then it was either in England, which is Britannia, Brema, or Wales, which is Britannia, Secunda, but of course he may only mean by 'home,' his place of residence, or the place of residence of his parents. Besides being a deacon, he says that his father was also a 'decurio,' which was a Roman officer of either a civil nature, corresponding to our 'Town Councillor,' or a military name. In either case it is plain that the office of the deaconate was not in those days inconsistent with civil or military duties. His name Patricius points to his Roman nationality—it not being a real name but the name of a rank of nobility. Bearing this out he tells us in another place that he bartered his noble birth by coming to Ireland as a missionary. We shall not be far astray if we register him as the son of Roman parents, who were Christians, and settled in Great Britain, either in England or Wales. The Roman army having been withdrawn from England, the country was exposed to the attacks and inroads of the Picts and Scots. The Picts from Scotland, and the Scots, from Ireland. In one of these expeditions, St. Patrick tells us he was taken prisoner, being a boy of 16, and carried off to Ireland. He was sold as a slave to Milchu, a chief in county Antrim, and for six years of his life he toiled as a slave in that valley, near Ballymena, his chief occupation being to herd swine on the hill side. He tells us that up to this time, though a nominal Christian, he had given but little thought to serious matters, but his occupation furnished him with this opportunity. He looked on the bitter experience of his exile as a dispensation of Providence his careless life and to arouse him to a more earnest seeking after God. He says that he frequently got up at night and went to the woods and the hills to pray. He devoted himself to fasting and "the love and the fear of God grew in me and by mortification faith became stronger. Then the Lord brought me," he says, "to a sense of my unbelief, that I might even at a late period call my sins to remembrance and turn with all my heart unto the Lord, my God."

After a time he had a dream in which a voice seemed to come to him saying, "You have well done in fasting and you will soon return to your own country." He received this as a divine intimation that he would be delivered from captivity and when, some few days later, he had another vision, telling him that the ship was ready, and the port from which it was to sail was mentioned, he hesitated no longer, but fled from his master and made for the shore. For a long time he wandered over the country, traversing fully 200 miles before he found a vessel sailing from Ireland. The vessel sailed and after some three days they reached some part of France described as a desert. In the course of their journey through the desert they were reduced to great extremities from hunger, and the head of the party appealed to Patrick as a Christian to appeal for help to his God, and from this circumstance we may gather that already the missionary spirit was awakened in his heart, and that he had been trying to convert his companions to Christianity.

St. Patrick does not tell us in his confession where his journey ended. He says that after 60 days he made his escape from the party, but in another place he seems to imply that for some time he was on the most famous there seems no improbability in the supposition that he spent some time there. It was an age of turmoil and bloodshed, and it seemed as if the only resource for one who wished to live a holy life was to separate himself from the world and commune only with those who were similarly disposed as himself. After remaining only a few years in France, St. Patrick made his way to Britain where his parents were still living. They received him with great joy and besought him not to leave them again. An irresistible conviction was however rising in his mind that he should return again to Ireland as a preacher of the Gospel. He encountered much opposition to his project from his friends, and they offered him every worldly inducement to still remain with them, but without effect. A man whose soul was on fire with missionary zeal would not put off his departure till his enthusiasm cooled. However his determination prevailed; he was duly ordained and commissioned and set forth on his great enterprise. He landed at Wicklow with a few companions, but meeting nothing but opposition there he did not remain long in that neighbourhood. Naturally turning to the part of the island he knew best, and wishing to compensate his master for the loss of his slave, he sailed northward and coasted along until he came to Strangford, and disembarked.

IRELAND'S PATRON SAINT

Whose Memory is Being Honoured in Many Lands To-day.

Anxious to go to the friends of his youth he set out thence. Then Milchu, his former master, hearing of his approach, and thinking he came to be revenged on him, gathered all his substance into his house, and burned himself to death. His family; however, afterwards received the faith and were baptised.

St. Patrick's real mission was to Tara. Tara was then the Irish capital—the seat of Ireland's greatness. As Moore says:—

"The harp that once through Tara's Halls the soul of music shed,
Now hangs as mute on Tara's walls,
As if that soul were fled."

It was Easter Eve when St. Patrick arrived at Slane, in sight of Tara. King Laoghaire and his courtiers were celebrating a great pagan feast and had issued an order that no fire should be lit but his. St. Patrick, however, preparing to celebrate Easter, lit his fires. The King seeing them in the distance, was greatly angered, and had his council summoned. The Druid priests declared that the fire lighted before the royal fire would never be extinguished unless it were extinguished that night. The King, therefore, set out with his magicians in his chariots to punish the intruders. Certain death seemed to threaten St. Patrick and his companions. However, they came out unarmed to meet the King, chanting the Psalm, "Some put their trust in chariots and some in horses, but we will remember the Lord our God." The superstition of the people protected him—if he had shown the slightest fear his fate would have been sealed.

When the king and his magicians were about to fall on St. Patrick, he and his companions began again chanting, "Let God arise and let His enemies be scattered, let them also that hate Him flee before Him." They drew back with fear and rever-

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

To-day is, according to the best Irish hagiographic authorities, the 1532nd anniversary of St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, dear to every Irish heart, and to none dearer than to the son or daughter of Ireland living far from its shores. It is, therefore, no surprise that the day and the memories it wakens, the associations it suggests, and the things it represents, should be sacredly and fondly cherished by every Irishman and Irish woman. This observation is natural, indeed, laudable, and quite consistent with the most patriotic loyalty to the land which, for the time-being, is home and dwelling place. A man's affection and love for his dear old mother, does not antagonize the love springing from any other tie, even that of husband and wife. It only ennobles and sanctifies it. While Canada, the best home under the eye of the sun is dear to those whose native or adoptive home it is, still Ireland is dear to Irishmen as the land of their birth or ancestry. It is dear, for the memory of its fertile soil, its landscape green as the primal slopes of Eden, its waters bright as crystal. It is dear to the Irish heart for its history — the land where the standard of the Cross was planted, with no stain of blood, save that of the Divine Atonement; as the centre of missionary enterprise, whence radiated the light of Christianity, illuminating not only the British Isles, but many of the dark places of Europe, and with a persistent and potent influence which has made Ireland, its centre, one of the most religious countries of the world, whether one has regard to the stern Presbyterianism of the North, or the more warm and soul-steeping piety of the South. Though the streams from the central fount have widely diverged in form if not in broad, vital essentials, it does not seem extravagant to ascribe the deeply religious character of the Irish race as a whole to the plain, primitive Gospel planted by the first Bishop of Ireland.

It may be regarded as unwarrantable to say that no section of Ireland territorially or otherwise has a monopoly of interest in St. Patrick, as Ireland's Patron Saint; but who in view of what St. Patrick has done to make Ireland what it is, will deny to every Irishman, whether he be of Antrim or Cork, a right to claim an interest in St. Patrick. In no country in the world outside the bounds of Erin, can Irishmen, though different creeds and religious impulses warm the same blood, unite more justly in celebrating Ireland's natal day, than in Canada, where the most flourishing material conditions obtain and the most perfect equality of civil and religious liberty exists. "All praise to St. Patrick" and "Erin go Bragh!"

THE CZAR CANNOT RAISE THE MONEY

Russia's Position So Desperate She May Have to Stop War--May Cease Within a Month --Meanwhile There is No Pause in Jap Advance, and Russians Lose Heavily in Rear-guard Action---Bulletin That Japs Have Cut Russ Railway and That It Is Surrender or Death.

London, March 18.—The correspondent of The Times at St. Petersburg cables:—Yesterday was in many respects one of the most important days of the war. The sudden departure of General Kuropatkin from Manchuria and the appointment of General Linevitch as his successor, coupled with the failure of the Russian loan in France and the growing internal unrest, continue to give an impetus to the peace movement. The conviction is quickly spreading that victory is impossible, the war useless and ruinous, and that peace is indispensable.

May Be Suspension of Hostilities.

According to a well-informed personage the suspension of hostilities may be expected within a month to permit of a consultation between representatives of the Russian nation regarding the terms of peace. For the first time since the outbreak of the war the rate of exchange distinctly declined and the Bourse is agitated by the rumors that the Government, having failed to raise money in France, is appealing to local bankers for a 5 per cent. loan of 150,000,000 roubles at 95, and intends in the case of failure in this direction to resort to an issue of lottery bonds.

RAILWAY CUT BEHIND ARMY.

Surrender or Death Choice Presented the Manchurian Army.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—There is a persistent report that railroad communications have been cut behind the Russian army. No official despatches have been given out up to this hour, and no private or Press despatches have been received. News is awaited with intense anxiety.

Fleet Sails Away.

Antananarivo, Madagascar, March 18.—The Russians second Pacific squadron left Nossi Be, the afternoon of March 16. Its destination is not known.

How He Got It.

London, March 18.—The Times' St. Petersburg despatch says: "Gen. Linevitch's appointment to succeed Gen. Kuropatkin was decided upon at the last moment, because all the generals Emperor Nicholas consulted, including Grand Duke Nicholas, Soukhomlinoff, Grodekoff, and Roop, declined to assume the heavy burden."

JAPS KEEP GOING.

Pushing Northward to Complete the Enveloping of Russians.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—No pause in the apanese advance is possible for some time. The Russians are losing heavily in the rearguard action, and the Japanese columns are reported to be pushing northward as fast as possible to complete the envelopment of the Russian forces. Gen. Linevitch, however, will have a considerable accession of fresh troops in a day or two, the fourth European corps being now at Harbin and departing southward.

Military Officials Here Declare

There are now 268,000 men at Gen. Linevitch's disposal in Manchuria, and it is supposed this force will be sufficient to cause the Japanese to exercise greater caution in their pursuit.

Anxiety at St. Petersburg.

Decided anxiety is felt here regarding the fate of the army in Manchuria under its new commander, no news of military development the last two days having been received here. Only despatches from the front are the brief announcement yesterday that Gen. Linevitch had assumed command, and that Gen. Kuropatkin was departing for St. Petersburg, which disposes of a rumor that the latter had committed suicide. He left Changtufu last night.

Although Gen. Kuropatkin's downfall was inevitable from the military standpoint, nevertheless it arouses sympathy in circles familiar with the long campaign that has been waged against him by the general staff. Gen. Sakharoff was his open enemy, and Gen. Dragomiroff his most severe critic, and many of his own subordinates were jealous and grudgingly obedient.

Duel Awaits Kuropatkin.

Gen. Linevitch is distinctly a line officer, with a long record as a fighter. He is almost as cordially disliked by the general staff as is his predecessor, and there also is bad blood between Kuropatkin and Linevitch dating from a personal quarrel in the days when Kuropatkin was commander of the Transbaikal army, which led Linevitch to demand satisfaction, Kuropatkin assumed the position that he could not fight an officer of inferior rank. The succession of this officer will naturally increase Gen. Kuropatkin's discomfiture.

Fight North of Tie Pass.

Changtufu, March 16.—(4 a. m., delayed.)—The rear guard action is continuing almost uninterruptedly.

Soldiers wounded in the last fight, to the number of 1,700, were despatched north from Tie Pass on March 15. The morning of March 15 the Japanese made their principal attack on the Russian left, and in the evening attacked the right also.

It is reported that several columns of Japanese infantry with cavalry, are moving north a considerable distance west of the railway, with the intention of cutting the Russians from their base. It seems evident that the advance movement of the Japanese has continued for a long time, and perhaps uninterruptedly.

The Russians, though fatigued with three weeks of constant fighting, are offering a stubborn resistance in their withdrawal, though not attempting to hold a position, which is naturally open to a turning movement.

The wagon trains are gradually being brought into order, but many carts are missing, including those carrying private supplies of food. The distributing depot, which has done much good work at Kaiyuan, will leave today for the north.

Chinese Welcome Oyama.

General Oku's headquarters, March 15.—Field Marshal Oyama and staff entered Mukden this afternoon. They were met at the south gate by many troops encamping near Mukden, who lined the streets, displaying tattered battle flags. The Chinese officials welcomed Field Marshal Oyama and thousands of Chinese congregated in the streets to witness his entry. The buildings and streets were decorated, and thousands of Japanese flags were exhibited.

Tie Pass Tenable.

Paris, March 18.—The correspondent at Harbin of The Matin telegraphs a graphic description of the scenes of disorganization witnessed during the railroad journey from Tie Pass to Harbin. The wounded, the correspondent says, were lying exposed and unattended everywhere, and the soldiers were unable to obtain provisions. Hundreds of stragglers cannot find their regiments. The trains hastening to Harbin were frequently attacked by Chinese bandits, who at several places displaced rails. Russian officers are indignant, stating that the retreat was ordered when the position at Tie Pass was tenable.

London, March 18.—The greatest sympathy is expressed by the British Press and public for General Kuropatkin, and there is strong criticism for the court manner of his dismissal, without a word of thanks for past services. Gen. Kuropatkin is considered to have been to a large extent a victim. Little or nothing is hoped for from the appointment of General Linevitch, whose task is admitted to be almost superhuman.

ANGLERS' PROTEST TO GOVERNMENT

C. G. E. Angling Club Sends Petition to Hon. J. J. Foy

Want Fishing Privileges in Rice Lake Open to All.

Last night the members of the Executive of the C. G. E. Angling Club met and ratified a petition which will be sent to Hon. J. J. Foy in the near future, with reference to the question of fishing privileges in Rice Lake.

A letter will be sent to Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. to whom the presenting of the petition to the Commissioner of Crown Lands will be entrusted.

The letter and petition follow:—

Peterborough,
March 16th, 1905.

T. E. Bradburn:

Sir,—The Canadian General Electric Angling Club, having been urged by its members and other working men of our town, to take some action in regard to the unjust granting of part of Rice Lake as a fishing reserve, called a meeting on Tuesday, March 14th, and instructed a committee to petition the Minister of Crown Lands, the Hon. J. J. Foy, praying that he and his colleagues may at the first opportunity rectify what we believe to be a grave mistake of his predecessors in office.

We ask you as our worthy representative to kindly favour us by officially presenting our petition.

JOSEPH BEGLEY,
Chairman of Committee.

The petition which is signed by the members of the Executive Committee is as follows:—

Peterborough,
March 16th, 1905.

Hon. J. J. Foy,
Minister of Crown Lands,

Sir,—We, the Canadian General Electric Angling Club along with a great number of other working men of this locality, believe that the action of the late Government in granting to a party an exclusive right to part of the waters of Rice Lake, was legislation in favour of the classes and detrimental to our interests, the masses of the people.

Now we hope that it will not be considered presumptuousness on our part, if we believe that the interests of the working men who enjoy angling should be considered.

We would call your and your colleagues attention to the unsatisfactory state of affairs that the granting of fishing and shooting reserves has caused in the Eastern States those exclusive rights stand out very prominently against these proud boasts of a free country. We wish to assure you that the working men are decidedly opposed to the granting of any such privileges. We believe that the present government is in a position to act in an independent manner for the best interests of the people, and we also believe that you will make use of that independence to make right many wrongs and this one in particular.

Signed on behalf of the Club:—

J. Wilson, A. Sharpe, J. McCabe, R. H. Shepherd, T. Molden, A. W. Patterson, J. Begley, W. Johnston, N. Munroe,

HONESTY FOR HONESTY'S SAKE

How Two Boys Proved That There are Honest People Yet

Some of the Peculiarities of Advertising for Lost Articles.

There is a prospect of there being at least two honest men in town, at least there are two boys here who, if they continue in the way they have begun will be classed with the world's honest men.

One of these is Orville King, and his home is at the corner of London and Donegal streets, town. The other day this lad found a purse of money on the street. It contained the sum of $25, and he took it to the Chief of Police to find an owner. Yesterday the person who lost the money turned up at the station, and proved to the satisfaction of the Chief that the money was his. To show his appreciation of the boy's honesty he gave him $5.00.

Another evidence of juvenile honesty is recorded from this office. Another boy found the sum of $7 on the street and brought it to the Examiner office, where he knew an owner could be found for it. It is still here, and the person who lots it may have their property on application to the business office of the Examiner.

There are some people who evidently have not much faith in the ability of a newspaper to find articles that are lost. A lady advertised in these columns some weeks ago for a metal girdle which she had lost on the street. The next day the girdle was left in the office and the owner has not yet sent or called for her property.

The other day a parcel containing a whole dress was lost and the same day that the notice was inserted in the Examiner, a boy brought into this office the identical parcel.

New York Millinery Parlours 431 George Street.

The fashionable millinery establishment to be opened by Miss Costello, late of New York, in the north store now occupied by E. F. Mason & Co., will have one of the most complete stocks of stylish millinery that has been shown in Peterborough. The fact that Easter comes so late this year is making it possible that only the very latest and most varied styles will be placed in stock. Miss Costello's experience and training in some of the largest American cities is a guarantee of her thoroughness in this department of work. Opening announcement later.

Style in the Semi-Ready Sack Suit

¶ These are the chief style points in the Semi-ready three-button Sack Suit for Spring, 1905.

¶ The coats are cut somewhat longer, with a longer roll to the lapel to harmonize with it. It is not cut away quite so much.

¶ The centre seam at the back has a six-inch vent. It is not close-fitting, but defines the figure.

¶ It has the broad natural shoulder, with the extreme point squarer, the collar sitting up closely to shirt collar, giving appearance of broad shoulders.

We would like you to see how stylish these suits are. You can go to your tailor and tell him about it after, if you wish.

NEW FIRE HALL TO BE BUILT

The Fire Water and Light Committee Will so Recommend

Held Meeting Last Night—New Hall and New Engine.

Last night the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the Council met and considered the question of a fire hall, and it is probable that in the near future a definite proposition will be made to the council on this question by the committee.

The members of the council present last night seemed to be of the opinion that it was advisable to erect a new fire hall, and also to purchase a new and more powerful engine.

The matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee by the Committee of the Whole, and it is probable that at the next meeting of the council a report will be presented.

SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1905.

HARMONIOUS RELATIONS.

St. Patrick's Day has come and gone, and its celebration this year has been marked with features—perhaps more pronounced than on any other similar occasion—indicating the gratifying degree of harmony that prevails among our mixed population. Yesterday was a day supposed to be specially sacred to the people of the Irish race, but its observance was universal. Last night there were three concerts in town in celebration of St. Patrick's Day—that given by the "Daughters of Erin" in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the "Shamrock" entertainment held under the auspices of the Girls Guild at the George street Methodist Church, and what was naturally to be expected, the grand concert in the Opera House, under the auspices of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society. The point to be noted is that all these concerts were attended by overflowing audiences showing that all classes harmoniously co-operate to celebrate the day of Ireland's Patron Saint. This illustrates the true Christian spirit and the true spirit of citizenship which comes of a practical observance of the sacred sentiment—to weep with them who weep and rejoice with them that rejoice. As a result of the observance of this sentiment St. Patrick's day passed with pleasing harmony and mutual good will, very happily in contrast with former occasions, which can easily be recalled, when religious rancour was rampant, and personal hostility to the fore. This condition of harmony is as it should be. We shall not have a robust Canadianism, unless this spirit becomes universal, as it promises to be in Peterough. No doubt the same spirit of harmonious co-operation would have been exhibited, and our Irish citizens would as actively co-operate, with the celebration of St. George's, or St. Andrew's Days, if these days were more systematically observed. Here it may be pointed out, that it seems anomolous, that with so many Englishmen and Scotchmen in town, we have not strong and energetic St. George's and St. Andrew's Societies in existence. True we have the organizations, the Sons of England and Sons of Scotland, but they are largely beneficiary societies, not specially adapted to fostering the national spirit they should represent. Loyalty to the home land is in no way inconsistent with loyalty to the best home land of all — Canada, where all nationalities enjoy privileges and opportunities without superior in any country in the world. A proper celebration of the several national days of the leading elements of our population would each enlist the sympathy of each, and tend to unify our people, and give a new significance to the observance of Canada's great national day, in which all Canadians have a common interest.

IN AND OUT OF POWER.

"Now, Mr. Whitney, says the Stratford Beacon, be candid. With all your pre-election pledges about non-partizan boards of license commissioners, what improvement have you shown over the selections of your predecessors? Take this riding. Are Messrs. Read, Cleland and Siebert — all worthy men — any less partizan than the old board, Messrs. McLagan, Way and Sulvring, equally worthy men? Up and up, now, wasn't there a little bit of hypocrisy in your "holier than thou" attitude on this question?

The same enquiry regarding the license board in West Peterborough, seems to be pertinent. Though there is not to be a word personally urged against the local license commissioners, as men and citizens, for they are deservedly held in high respect, yet as to non-partizanism, are they any less consistent 'partizans than the old board, which, by implication, are charged with being partizans, who would exercise their office in a way to favour their political friends. Mr. Whitney is discovering every day that it is a far different thing to be an Opposition free lance, ready to tilt against every political windmill, which comes into his range of vision, from being a responsible Minister of the Crown. If Mr. Whitney and his political associates carried out in power all the wild vagaries they advocated and stood for, when in Opposition, he would be in hot water that would take the skin off.

Apropos of St. Patrick's Day, the Brantford Expositor says:—"Canada owes much to the sons of Erin, to men like Guy Carleton (Lord Dorchester) Robert Baldwin, Thomas D'Arcy McGee, Sir Francis Hincks, the Blakes, the Merediths, the Lynches and the Walshs. Nor should Lord Dufferin, probably the most brilliant of British diplomatists, be forgotten. The marvel of it is that his tactful and conciliatory ways ways were never employed in Ireland herself."

The Conservatives, remarks the Brantford Expositor, when in opposition in Ontario made great professions of economy and loudly charged the Liberals with extravagance. Now they are promising increased grants to agriculture and to higher education, more factory inspectors, and have increased the remuneration of the chairman of the Temiskaming railway commission from $1,000 to $8,000. Verily, there is often a wide difference between profession and practice.

CONGRESS WILL BE REVIEWED

Great International S. A. Event Shown in the Moving Pictures

Staff Captain McLean of the S. A. Headquarters, Toronto, to Show Views.

The great International Congress, held in London, Eng., last July, and which was attended by over 100,000 delegates from all parts of the world, will be recalled on Wednesday, March 22nd, when Staff-Capt. McLean of the Salvation Army Headquarters, Toronto, will visit Peterborough and exhibit 3,000 feet of moving pictures in which will be shown views of this great Congress with pictures of a number of the representatives of the different nations present at the Congress. The officers of the Army throughout the world were gathered for council, and no religious gathering in years has created the interest which that aroused, in London, and the entire country in fact, consequently a recital of its chief features will be most interesting. Staff-Capt. McLean was one of the Canadian party that attended the Congress, and he is therefore familiar with all the details of the meetings. A synopsis of the exhibition and some of the pictures shown are as follows:—

Delegations from all parts of the globe; native dances; military manoeuvres; the Army's finest bands; Commissioner Coombs and the British Staff; General Booth reviewing 25,000 Salvationists at the great Crystal Palace; the General in his motor car; Commissioner Eva Booth and march of the Canadian contingent, including Indians from Alaska, cow boys, Klondyke delegates, the renowned Canadian Staff Band, the coloured band and pickaninnies from Bermuda, etc., etc.

In addition to the views themselves a number of illustrated songs will be given.

Tickets for the exhibition are on sale at the following stores:—H. C. Braund, Park street; C. S. Greene, Charlotte street; J. T. Braund, George street; Thomas Brooks, Smith street; or from officers and soldiers.

Missionary Dies in China.

Cornwall, March 18.—News has reached Ontario friends of the death at Chanteh, Hunan, China, on Jan. 18, of A. B. Vancamp, a missionary of the holiness movement, aged 30 years. Mr. Vancamp was born at Vancamp, Ont., and was at one time a teacher in the South Mountain Public School.

HE MEANT EVERY WORD HE SAID

Ex-reeve's Rheumatism Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Was so Crippled that He Could Hardly Get Around and Could Get No Relief From Doctors or Medicines.

Dresden, Ont., March 17th. (Special.) — "Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Rheumatism, slick and clean." Mr. W. G. Cragg, the well known merchant and ex-reeve of this place, was the speaker, and he evidently meant every word he said.

"It was the inflammatory kind of rheumatism I had and it crippled me up so that I could hardly get around to do my work in my store. I had the best doctors and everything in the line of medicine I could hear of, but nothing even gave me relief.

"Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and six boxes cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Rheumatism by curing the Kidneys. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. If the kidneys are right they will strain all the uric acid out of the blood and the rheumatism will go with it.

Tried to Kill Himself.

Chatham, March 18.—Billy Quesnell, who played lacrosse here last season, attempted suicide last night at Park House by cutting his throat. The knife did not prove sharp enough. He was arrested and taken to the lockup.

Twentieth Victim.

New York, March 18.—The twentieth victim of the Allen street tenement house fire of Tuesday morning died yesterday. She was Clara Ginsberg, 17 years old, one of the 13 persons rescued.

Honor for Two.

Toronto, March 18.—W. H. Hoyle is slated to move the address in reply to the Ontario speech from the Throne, and J. P. Downing to second it.

Sparkling, bright eyes indicate vigor and health. Drooping, weak and watery eyes show some internal ailment which in ninety cases out of one hundred is a weak heart. When the heart becomes weak, the blood thickens and moves sluggishly and the organs become diseased for want of a proper stimulant. So we invariablytrace these ills to a weak heart.

has saved the lives of many heart troubled people. It gives strength and health to the body through its action on the heart and relieves the severest attacks in thirty minutes.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, Georgiana Island, Ont. writes:—"Send a bottle of Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure as quickly as possible. I have used it before and it is the best Heart Cure I ever tried. It gives relief in ten minutes and is excellent for Stomach and Nerves."

Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills 40 doses 10 cents, are not only the cheapest, but best pills made.

To Stop Sunday Cars.

Toronto, March 18.—A large deputation representing the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance waited on Premier Whitney and the Cabinet yesterday afternoon to ask for legislation regarding the running of electric railways on Sunday and for the protection of the Sabbath in general. Special request was made for a measure that would enable the alliance to make a test case in the Supreme Court and Privy Council. The Premier, in his reply, said: "You may be assured we look upon the question with a sympathetic eye, and in due time we will give it the attention it deserves. Then we will announce a distinct decision upon the matter."

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured, and have returned to work well and strong. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Alarming.

New York, March 18.—Deadly cerebro-spinal meningitis is claiming scores of victims in New York. Children are killed swiftly by it, and adults are not escaping. The medical profession is aghast at its almost epidemic spread, for there is no known cure. Only a few of those stricken survive.

The Way to Entente Cordial.

Berlin, March 18.—Emperor William dined with M. Birhoud, the French Ambassador, last night. As this is the first time since the war with France that a Prussian Sovereign has eaten at the French embassy a certain political interest attaches to the incident.

Lifebuoy Soap—disinfectant—is strongly recommended by the medical profession as a safeguard against infectious diseases.

23rd Annual Report and Financial Statement

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31st, 1904

The twenty-third annual meeting of the shareholders of this Company was held at the head office of the Company, in Hamilton, on Tuesday, March 7, 1905, the President, Mr. David Dexter, in the chair. The following reports and financial statement were submitted:

DIRECTORS' REPORT

Your Directors have the honour to present the report and financial statement of the Company for the year which closed on the 31st December, 1904, duly vouched for by the auditors.

The new business of the year consisted of two thousand two hundred and fifty applications for insurance, aggregating $3,146,500, of which two thousand one hundred and seventy-seven applications for $3,010,498.50 were accepted.

As in previous years, the income of the Company shows a gratifying increase, and the assets of the Company have been increased by $285,979.82, and have now reached $2,148,773.37, exclusive of guarantee capital.

The security for Policyholders, including guarantee capital, amounted at the close of the year to $3,818,773.37, and the liabilities for reserves and all outstanding claims, $1,982,935.56, showing a surplus of $1,056,837.81. Exclusive of uncalled guarantee capital, the surplus to Policyholders was $135,837.81.

Policies on eighty-two lives became claims through death, to the amount of $157,240.00, of which $12,555 was re-insured in other companies.

Including cash dividends and dividends applied to the reduction of premiums, with annuities, the total payment to Policyholders amounted to $198,-311.34.

Careful attention has been given to the investment of the Company's funds, in first-class bonds, mortgage securities, and loans on the Company's policies amply secured by reserves. Our investments have yielded a very satisfactory rate of interest.

Expenses have been confined to a reasonable limit, consistent with due efforts for new business.

The results of the year indicate a most gratifying progress. Compared with the preceding year, the figures submitted by the Directors for your approval show an increase of thirteen and a half per cent. in assets.

The assurances carried by the Company new amount to $16,647,866.23, upon which the Company holds reserves to the full amount required by law, and, in addition thereto, a considerable surplus.

The field officers and agents of the Company are intelligent and loyal, and are entitled to much credit for their able representation of the Company's interests. The members of the office staff have also proved faithful to the Company's service.

Your Directors are pleased to be able to state that the business of the Company for the past two months of the current year has been better than in the corresponding months of last year, and that the outlook for the future is very bright.

DAVID DEXTER, President and Managing Director.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the President and Directors of the Federal Life Assurance Company:

Gentlemen,—We have carefully audited the books and records of your Company for the year ending 31st December last, and have certified to their accuracy.

The Cash and Journal Vouchers have been closely examined and agree with the entries recorded.

The Debentures, Bonds, etc., in the possession of the Company, have been inspected, whilst those deposited with the Government or Banks have been certified by certificate; the total agreeing with the amount as shown in the Statement of Assets.

The accompanying Statements, viz., Revenue, Assets and Liabilities, show the result of the year's operations, and, also, the financial position of the Company.

Respectfully submitted,

H. S. STEPHENS,
CHARLES STIFF, Auditors.

WEEK'S SERVICES FITTING CLOSE

Evangelist Irving Addresses a Large Congregation at Gospel Hall

Private Life of Jesus was Dealt With—An Eloquent Address.

Mr. Irving's address at the Gospel Hall last night was a fitting climax to a grand week's work. He took up first the private life of Jesus for some thirty years, from John 1, 18, "No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son.....He hath declared Him." The speaker showed how Jesus had lived a dual life, very God and very man; thirty years private and about three years of public ministry, beginning with His baptism. John did not know Jesus to be the Son of God till after his baptism. John 1, 31, "And I knew him not, but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water." At Jesus' baptism the Holy Spirit of God descended on Him, and all His subsequent life was governed by that Spirit, and by that Spirit all the miracles were accomplished. Jesus was man weary at Jacob's well; He was man weary as He slept in the hinder part of the ship. He was God when He arose and rebuked the wind and the sea. He was man, perfect, innocent, when God laid on Him the sins of every child of Adam's race, and He was judged as guilty, although innocent, for in no other way could man get back to God but by death, and Jesus became the substitute, and became obedient to the death of the cross. But God raised him from the dead, and gave ample proof of His resurrection. He was seen of the twelve, then of Peter, then of five hundred brethren at once, and last of all by Paul himself. After Christ's resurrection He was raised up into glory and sat down at the right hand of God — all the work of redemption, completed, with this the dispensation of God manifest in the flesh closed, and the descent of the Holy Ghost on the day of Pentecost ushered in the day of grace or dispensation of the Spirit, whose work down here in this ungodly world is to convince the world of sin and gather out of it a church not made up of brick and stone, but of living stones. Whensoever a soul is born again they become members of that church. There never was any church in the Old Testament, for Christ told Peter, "On this rock (Christ) I will build," — not have built, but something in the future. The church was at this time still a mystery, (a secret) with Christ and this dispensation will close with the resurrection of the just (or justified), and the living members of the church will be changed, and caught up in the air. I. Thes. 4, 17, "Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord." Then will take place the first judgment, at the judgment seat of Christ, not to find out who are fit for heaven, but to give to every man his reward. No unsaved person will appear at this judgment seat, but the rest of the dead will not be judged till after the thousand years have expired. Rev 20, 5, "Then they all, small and great, will appear before the great white throne, and everyone whose's name was not found written in the Lamb's book of life, was cast into the lake of fire, which is the second death."

After the taking away of the church, Jewish testimony will be resumed. Luke 15, 14, 15, 16, "After this I will return and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down, etc." Then during that period after the rapture of the saints, the Gospel of the Kingdom will be taken up by the Jews and preached unto all nations. This is not the Gospel of the Grace of God — that will stop at the end of this dispensation, and Jewish testimony will go forth, at which time Anti-Christ will appear. His marks are to be found in II Thes. 2, 2-4, and in John 5, 43. Christ said, "I am come in My Father's name and ye receive me not; if another shall come in My Father's name him shall ye receive." This man, called the Beast in Revelations, will be destroyed when Christ comes the second time with all His saints.

Many other things were explained by Mr. Irving concerning the millennium and the end of the world. These series of evangelistic services will close with a farewell on Sunday evening. All will be made welcome.

AUDITOR'S REPORT WAS PRESENTED

At the Meeting of the North Monaghan Council.

A Number of Business Matters Disposed of—The Communications.

North Monaghan, March 14th.— The council met in the town hall on Monday, March 13th at 2 p. m. There were present Messrs. Holmes, Morrow, Brown and Fowler.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Madill, the Reeve, Mr. Brown was elected chairman pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. The following communications were presented and read.

From the Township Treasurer, enclosing copy of returns from the Collector's roll, 1904, and having the necessary declarations of the Collector attached thereto. This was received.

From Messrs. Hall, Madd & Davidson, of Peterborough, claiming damages for Dr. Poole, from an accident to him alleged to have been caused by the non-repair of the roadway on Lock street.—Received and no action taken.

From the Clerk of the County of York, asking the council to endorse the proposed legislation to place the regulating of the speed of motor carriages in the hands of the municipal authorities.—Received and the Clerk instructed to write endorsing the proposed measure.

From R. M. Dennistoun, stating that the sum of $15 fine paid in error to the County Treasurer, had been placed to the credit of the Township Treasurer.—Received.

From H. A. Robertson, resigning as a member of the local Board of Health.—Received and accepted.

The Clerk reported that there was an unpaid balance of the sum of $20 due from the Ontario Government on the grant made by the Public Works Department in 1904 for repairing highways on the roads in N. Monaghan.—This was referred to Mr. T. E. Bradburn for investigation.

The committee on returns of uncollected taxes reported, having met on Jan. 7th and received a return from the Collector of taxes for 1904 as follows:—

The amount of roll, 1904	$4,926 97
By amount collected	4,832 41
By amount remitted	3 36
By amount Peterborough Sugar Co.	75 50
By amount Geo. Clarke	15 50

This being the total amount for the year 1904, the returns were satisfactory and were accepted and the salary of the Collector had been paid. This report was received and adopted.

The Clerk reported having investigated the account of the M. H. O. as to services rendered the late Wm. Kerr and found that these services had been found necessary on complaint of residents and others near this place; also that Mr. Wm. —— had been appointed administrator and had this winding-up the affairs of the estate on his hands. This report was received and the Clerk was instructed to render the account for sanitary work done to the estate of the late Wm. Kerr.

Accounts were handed in as follows:—

Geo. H. May, use of school house for Provincial Election	$ 4 50
Peterborough Review Printing Co., printing and supplies 1904	38 49
J. E. Fitzgerald, wood for Mrs. Close	5 00
G. H. May, Sanitary Inspector, 1904	10 00
Peterborough Hardware Co., cement, etc.	7 20

It was moved by Messrs. Holmes and Fowler that the accounts of J. E. Fitzgerald, $5.00; G. H. May, $4.00; Canadian Novelty Co., $4.50; Peterborough Review Printing Co., $38.49, being properly certified to be passed and paid and that the accounts of G. H. May, $10.00, be referred to the local Board of Health and Peterborough Hardware Co., to Mr. McIntosh for proper confirmation.—This was carried.

The Auditors' statement from the Treasurer's Books was printed and read. This statement was classified in detail and abstract; also a statement of assets and liabilities for the year 1904.

The abstract of the statement is as follows:—

It was moved by Messrs. Holmes and Morrow that the Auditors' statement as presented and fairly audited be received and adopted and the clerk is hereby instructed to have the same published according to law with the addition of an account current with each Road Division of the expenditures of the commutation of the Statute Labour Tax in detail also a statement of assets and liabilities.—This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Fowler and Morrow that the salary of the auditors for 1904 be paid.—This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Fowler and Morrow that the Reeve and Councillors Brown and Holmes be a consulting committee in relation to the carrying out of the changes in the new assessment act in so far as such changes affect the township.—This was carried.

The Clerk presented by-laws prepared as instructed for this purpose of regulating and licensing skating rinks etc. in this municipality; also authorizing the Reeve and Treasurer to borrow money to meet the current expenses of the Township until the taxes can be collected. These by-laws were regularly introduced, given the necessary consideration and finally passed.

Council then adjourned until the second Monday in April at 1.30 p. m. in the town hall.

CATARRH THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL CHRONIC DISEASES.

"Pe-ru-na Is a Blessing to Those Troubled With Catarrh," Says United States Senator Corbin.

Ex U.S. Senator D.Y. Corbin

Gentlemen—"The use of Peruna has been a blessing to those troubled with catarrh. So many of my acquaintances have been cured and benefited by its use that its curative qualities should be generally known. I do not hesitate to recommend it as the best remedy yet discovered for that disease."—D. Y. Corbin, 916 Chicago Opera House, Chicago, Ill.

Colds Not Promptly Cured Are Sure to Cause Catarrh.

Catarrh Improperly Treated Is Sure to Make Life Short and Miserable.

Many Wonderful Cures Are Made by Pe-ru-na.

CATARRH spares no organ or function of the body. It is capable of destroying sight, taste, smell, hearing, digestion, secretion, assimilation and excretion. It pervades every part of the human body.

Peruna also cures bronchitis, coughs, and consumption in the first stages with unfailing certainty.

Hon. D. Y. Corbin, is ex-United States Senator and cousin of Adjutant General Corbin of the United States Army. Judge Corbin is one of the best known lawyers in Chicago and stands high professionally and socially. The above endorsement coming from such a man cannot help but add weight and importance to the thousands of testimonials from the humbler walks of life.

Catarrh is the cause of at least one-half of the ills to which the human family is subject. Is there no way to escape from it? There is.

Peruna never fails to cure a cold. Peruna never fails to cure catarrh in the first stage. Peruna cures catarrh in the second stage, nine cases out of ten. Peruna cures catarrh in its last and worst stages in the majority of cases, and never fails to benefit every case, however bad.

"My Life Hung by a Mere Thread, Peru-na Cured Me."

Mrs. Sarah Smart, 270 Hayward St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I can't tell in words how low I was. My life hung by a mere thread. I was waiting for months to die.

"My trouble was consumption or bronchitis. I suffered no pain when I was low, but coughing and breathing kept sapping what little strength I had. I could not eat, sleep or even lean back on a chair. I was a mere skeleton. I said to my husband, 'I can't last much longer.' My neighbors say they do not know how I ever recovered. It was almost a miracle.

"I took your medicine but three months, when I could do my housework and washing, and have been doing it ever since. Now I am able to do anything. You would never think I had been troubled with such a serious illness. I shall always keep your medicine in my house."—Mrs. Sarah Smart.

Deserved of Recovery.

Mrs. R. L. Aulich, Vice President American Genealogical Association, 604 H street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I know whereof I speak when I say that Peruna is a wonderful remedy for colds and catarrhal trouble. Last fall I was very much debilitated from the effect of a cold contracted early in the summer and which I neglected. I knew that my system was in need of medicine and rest, but to find the right thing was the problem. Happily I gave Peruna a trial first and have no reason to complain of the results. Within a month I had entirely recovered my strength and good health and really felt better and stronger than before."—Mrs. R. L. Aulich.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

MOUNT IRWIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mount Irwin, March 17th. — The weather here is getting warmer, and more spring-like. The crews are fluttering about, and the snow is beginning to sink a little.

Mr. John Dalton and Mr. James Sheahan left here to-day for Peterborough.

Mr. Mathew Hickey left last week for Chicago.

Mr. Michael O'Brien of Mount Irwin sold a deposit of brick making material located here, last week for four hundred dollars. It is a brick mine and we all hope it will be a success. He shipped a ton of it to Toronto.

Mr. Gilles, who has the portable mill on the Reid road has started to work day and night.

We are all glad to see Mr. James McGuire around again. He has been ailing for about a month.

Pills and Piles.

A prolific cause of Piles is the use of cathartics and pills of a drastic, violent nature, which is always followed by a reaction on account of the resinous, drying properties they contain.

There are other causes, but no matter what the cause or what the kind of Piles, Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid can be relied upon to cure—to stay cured.

It's an internal remedy that removes the causes of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Suppurating Piles.

WEIGHT OF SNOW CAUSED COLLAPSE

Many Buggies Damaged at R. Gibb's Livery Stable To-day.

Damage to the extent of between $400 and $500 resulted from the breaking in down of a shed under the weight of snow at R. Gibbs' Livery Stables, Chambers street, at about noon to-day.

In the shed at the time of the crash were five rubber-tired and three steel-tired buggies, as well as a two-seated carriage, which are, as a result, in a more or less damaged condition. Amongst these was a buggy belonging to Dr. Morgan, which is badly wrecked. The tops of all the vehicles, are, of course, irreparably damaged, while shafts, dashboards and boxes were broken in great numbers.

The crash occurred at noon to-day, the roof giving way with a rush, without the slightest previous warning.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN PETERBOROUGH

All Nationalities Unite in Showing Honour to Ireland's Patron Saint---Three Most Successful Concerts Were Held and All Were Largely Attended--The Annual T. A. S. Concert--Presentation of the Examiner Lockets to Members of T. A. S. Hockey Team--Daughters of Erin Hold Concert in St. Andrews--Harmony Male Quartette's Bow to the Public--George Street Girl's Guild Gave "Shamrock Entertainment."

Last night all classes of the community joined in doing honour to St. Patrick, and three concerts, arranged by, and held under the auspices of three different churches, were held, and all were most successful, evidencing the fact that irrespective of nationality, or creeds, all the citizens joined in celebrating the natal day of Ireland's patron saint. The annual T.A.S. concert was held in the opera house, which was crowded to the doors, and was a great success. A feature of the concert was the presentation to the T.A.S. hockey team, champions of the City League, of the Examiner lockets.

At the Daughters of Erin concert in St. Andrew's church, the artists were Miss Pearl O'Neill, of Toronto, elocutionist, and the Harmony Male Quartette, a new local organization, which made its first appearance last night, and scored a success.

The Shamrock entertainment given by the Girls' Guild of the George street church, was also a gratifying success, and full justice was done to the spirit of the day.

IN HONOUR OF ST. PATRICK

A Delightful "Shamrock Entertainment" at George Street Church

Girls' Guild Gave a Most Successful and Enjoyable Entertainment—The Programme.

Of all the St. Patrick's Day concerts held last night, none were more successful or more thoroughly enjoyed than that held in the George street Methodist church Sunday room, under the auspices of the Girl's Guild of that church, an organization which has achieved a reputation for giving successful entertainments which probably accounts for the large attendance at that of last night, the rooms being crowded, and it is certain that the enviable reputation which the Girls Guild has hitherto enjoyed, was well sustained last night, for the entire evening's programme was one which was thoroughly enjoyable, and was a credit to the young ladies under whose auspices it was given.

The "Shamrock Social," for this is what it was called, was planned and carried out admirably. The rooms were decorated in true Irish fashion, the shamrock, of course, predominating in the decoration schemes, and the room presented a very pleasing appearance and particularly so to the many persons present who claimed the Emerald Isle as their native home. On the platform a profusion of handsome flowers added to the attractiveness of the room.

Not only were the decorations distinctively Irish, and suggestive of the shamrock, but the programme, too, was in keeping with the other features, the great majority of the numbers on a more than ordinarily attractive programme were of a character which made them in keeping with the spirit of the day, and added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Two large candy tables in charge of Misses Ackerman and Warne, who were assisted in their labours by a number of young ladies, were laden with choice candy, which found a ready sale, and formed one of the chief financial augumentations to the already extensive treasury fund of the organization. These, too, were most artistically decorated, and showed evidences of good taste in their preparation. During the early part of the evening and in fact until the supply of sweet goods had disappeared, the tables and their fair attendants were surrounded by numerous purchasers.

The chairman of the evening was Rev. Dr. Crothers, and, after the opening selection, which was a very much enjoyed piano duet, rendered by Misses English and Mulholland, both of whom gave evidences of the possession of good musical ability, the chairman gave a short address in which, on behalf of the young ladies of the Guild, he thanked those present for their practical expression of sympathy with the objects of the Society, and the evidences of their desire to support its interests. He made a fitting reference to the Patron Saint of the country represented so prettily last night by the shamrock, and thought that it was very proper and appropriate that the memory of the good man should be honoured. His address was of a character which suggested that he had become possessed, either by birth or acquirement, of the proverbial Irish wit.

Miss Gertrude Keaday was next heard in a vocal solo, which delighted the audience, both by its appropriateness, and the manner of its rendition. An Irish reading, by Mr. C. N. Brown, was, as usual, well received, and the reader seemed to be in particularly good form in the selection which he gave last night, the next number and was well received. After a violin solo, by Mr. G. W. Jones, leader of the Y.M.C.A. orchestra, which was highly appreciated by the audience, an evidence of which was the applause with which it was received, Miss Clara Belleghem closed the first part of the programme with a vocal solo. Miss Belleghem is a favourite with George street church audiences, and in her selection of last night she was heard to good advantage, and her singing was much enjoyed.

During the intermission, which was taken advantage of by many persons present to visit the candy tables, a number of piano solos were given by Prof. Milner.

The second part opened with a piano solo, given by Miss Susie Campbell, and enthusiastically received by the audience, and was followed by a recitation given by little Miss Christie, who gave the most enjoyed number on the programme. This young elocutionist took the hearts of the audience by storm with her entrancing elocutionary abilities, and she was enthusiastically encored, an honour, however, which fell to no one else during the evening. Mr. Jones followed with a selection from the writings of "Mr. Dooley," which was intensely humorous in itself, and the manner of its deliverance made it all the more enjoyable. A particularly pleasing number was a vocal solo by Miss Mary Rush, who was heard in a selection which suited her voice well, and to which she did full justice. Misses Grey and Bellegrem and Messrs. Brown and Jones were heard in a quartette in which the ladies sang duet and the male voices joined in at appropriate intervals. Miss Thomas contributed a delightful number in a reading, which depicted the troubles of a lady whose daughter persisted in playing "Lang Denis," and the last number on the programme, a vocal solo, rendered by Mr. Jas. Browne was an Irish song, which pleased the audience.

The evening's programme was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

The accompanists were Mrs. Cunningham, Miss Florence Bell, Miss Clarry, Miss Dobbin and Prof. Milner.

From every point of view, the "grand concert" held in the Opera House, last night, under the auspices of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society, in honour of St. Patrick's Day, was a grand success.

The audience, which filled the Opera House in every part, was an audience which did its part in contributing to the success of the concert, for it was appreciative and sympathetic, and thus encouraged the artists, who contributed the excellent programme presented.

Our Opera House is ordinarily neither a luxurious nor an attractive place, but last night, especially, as regards the stage, it was transformed. The stage and boxes were beautifully and tastefully hung with the national flag, interwoven with bunting of the Irish national colour. The back of the stage was filled in with a large extended Union Jack, bearing the initials, "T.A.S." This was flanked by the Union Jack, with

BUSINESS MEN FOR THE POSITIONS

Government's Good Sense in Placing Canals Under Business Men

A Slander on Present Superintendent of Trent Valley Canal is Refuted—A Manufacturer's View.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—An article entitled "The Reign of the Business Man":—

"A local merchant in charge of the Trent Canal.

"A tailor in charge of the Cornwall Canal.

"A plumber in charge of the Grenville Canal.

There's a record for business men in the higher flights of political graft position and emolument. Truly the Liberal Government at Ottawa is caring for its friends", etc., etc.

I would like to ask the editor of The Review, why this complaint? Now if my memory serves me right the present government is simply carrying out in the same department and under the same Deputy, Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, the policy inaugurated by Sir John A. MacDonald's government, in the appointment of business men to look after the business interests of the canals. The Conservative Government appointed Mr. Conway as superintendent of the Lachine Canal—formerly a bridge tender. John Conway was in the Electric Light business before his appointment. Mr. MacDonald's late Superintendent of the Cornwall Canal was a merchant before his appointment. Mr. R. se, the late superintendent of the Morrisburg Canal was a farmer and merchant before his appointment. Surely the Conservative Government took care care of its friends, I will not say in the higher flights of political graft, but in the ordinary course of party government. A business man as superintendent of canals is what is essential in the best interests of the country, and it unquestionably was needed in Peterborough The very fact that Mr. McClelland has been appointed superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal is an evidence that the present government has sized up the possibilities of the Trent Valley Canal system and the desire of the people in the county of Peterborough for the early completion of the same.

They have discarded the swaddling clothes in which it has been wrapped for years under the management of the present Minister, Mr. R. R. Rogers. So far as the Lyn the editor of The Review would like to enjoy in seeing Mr. McClellan directing the operation of the Lift Lock, he is quite welcome to it although Mr. Rogers does not stay at the Lift Lock to direct its operations. This is done by the man in charge of the lock, but Mr. McClellan as superintendent has at his command the services of Mr. Francis who after all is most conversant with both the building and operating of the Lift Lock and is quite as capable as Mr. Rogers.

Mr. McClellan is easily the equal of any of the appointees made by either government on any of the canal systems of Canada. The writer has never been a political supporter of Mr. McClellan, yet feels that it is only due to a man who so far has shown particular ability in this respect, that it be the first time in twenty years that any common sense effort has been made to handle the head waters of the canal system so that manufacturers and power users could get what Nature intended they should get, and in which the manufacturing interests of Peterborough and the working man are so vitally interested.

Mr. Roger's engineering ability and time will find full scope in looking after the building of the canal, and if he has spent his life on the canal and has given his energy and ability with unstinted hand. It be to his credit that he has tried to earn his salary, but lots of others would have gladly done the same for $3,000.00 per year.

Derangement of the stomach or bowels is responsible for most of the ailments that afflict infants and young children. For keeping the stomach and bowels in order nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets; that is why children in the homes where these Tablets are used are bright, good natured and healthy. Mrs. Joseph Wallace, Shanley, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my baby since her earliest infancy, and have found them to be a medicine that meets all the needs of little ones. They have kept my little one as bright and healthy as can be." These Tablets are sold under a guarantee to contain no opiate or poisonous "soothing" stuff. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A PLEA FOR PEACE.

A Condemnation of "Daniel" and "Consistancy"

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Being a daily reader of your paper, I have seen letters signed, "Consistancy" also, letters signed "Daniel". I don't know who Consistency can be, for who Daniel is, but I think the two are one writer, who is certainly not a Roman Catholic, nor a Presbyterian, nor an Anglican. I suppose he has no creed. He may be a politician, preparing to run for Parliament at the first chance open for him. I think it is poor policy for any politician to try to make capital out of anything that will set creed against creed, which seems to be the aim of these letters.

Yours truly,

A DAILY READER.

TAX RATE WILL BE EIGHTEEN MILLS

A Decrease of One-half Mill on the Rate Decided Upon Last Night by the Council.

In Spite of Decrease, Expenditures will be Increased in Number of Departments this Year.

"Finance Minister" Mason Brings Down His Budget Speech in Committee of the Whole Last Night.

The rate of taxation in Peterborough this year to public school supporters will be 18 mills on the dollar, a reduction of one-half mill from that of 1904.

This was decided at last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole, when Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented to the members of the council the estimates for the year. In doing this the "finance minister" of the council went into the matter in detail, and dealt with the question of the receipts and expenditures in a manner which showed that he possessed an intimate knowledge of the financial affairs of the town, as well as its financial necessities.

Ald. Mason is confident that with the rate mentioned, which, as has been stated, is a decrease from that of last year, he will be able to provide for all the needs of the town, and sufficient to meet any ordinary unforseen increase in expenditure in any of the departments, and still leave the town in as good a position financially as it is at present.

A number of increases have been made in the appropriations to the different civic departments, but perhaps the most important is that of $2,000 to the Board of Works, which has charge of the streets and bridges. The amount available this year for that purpose is $13,000, as compared with $11,000 in 1904, but it should be pointed out that the Board of Works has at the present time $2,000 worth of broken stone and other material on hand which was bought last year, so that in reality the amount at the disposal of Ald. Adams, the chairman of the Board of Works, in 1905, is $15,000, which should, and no doubt will, be enough to maintain the streets in as good a condition as they are at present, and improve their condition in a number of places.

Another increase in the expenditure is that for school purposes, $38,000 being provided this year, as compared with $30,000 in 1904. Of this increase, $2,000 is for the public schools, and $1,000 for the Collegiate Institute.

The fire department also gets an increase, the amount of the increase being $500, and this is provided to pay the cost of repairing the fire engine. The estimates provide, too, for sufficient to keep the equipment up to the usual standard.

It was decided to continue the custom adopted last year with reference to the street watering, and it will be paid for again by the frontage tax system, so that those whose property fronts on streets served with the sprinkling service, will pay 18 1-2 mills, which is one-half mill less than that paid by these persons last year.

It is pointed out in this connection that the present total debenture debt of the town is $657,156.65, divided as follows:

Public Schools, $61,900.
Water Works, $262,000.
Town's shares of Local Improvements, $56,956.81.
Frontage portion of Local Improvements, $93,099.84.
General Debenture Debt, $156,200; $30,000 will be added to the debenture debt of the Water Works Department in the near future, however. Of this amount $10,000 is for extensions to the system in 1904, and $20,000 for improvements to the system contemplated in 1905, so that the total Water Works debenture debt is $292,000.

THE DETAILS.

The estimated revenue for this year is $16,132.00, and the principal items under this head are $4,400 from licenses from the License Commissioners; $1,350 from licenses from all other sources, and $950 from Police Court.

The expenditures are estimated as follows:—

Assessment and Taxes, $2,100.00.
Charity, $2,100.00.
Chairman's expenses, $100.00.
Dog Tax, $35.00.
Elections and By-laws, $350.00.
Fire Department, $6,500.00.
Heating, $900.00.
Health, $1,200.00.
Insurance, $125.00.
Interest, $680.00.
Law, $1,400.00.
Light, $7,550.00.
Market, $100.00.
Miscellaneous, $1,300.00.
Municipal Government, $2,800.00.
Parks, $160.00.
Property, $1,000.00.
Printing and Stationery, $700.00.
Refunds, $100.00.
Sewers and Bridges, $13,000.00.
Snow-ploughing and Shoveling, $1,535.00.
Special Grants, $2,800.00.
Sewer Maintenance, $200.00.
Sidewalk Maintenance, $100.00.
Voters' Lists, $250.00.
Water Commissioners, $7,625.00.
Loss on Taxes, $3,450.00.
Total town rate, $57,910.00.
Special rate, Administration of Justice, $7,300.00.
Collegiate Institute, $9,000.00.
Public Schools, $24,600.00.
Roman Catholic Separate Schools,—The demand has not yet been made by the Separate School Board, but the amount last year was $5,410.00.
Town Trust Commissioners, Public School debentures, $3,376.13.
Town Trust Commissioners, Town debentures, $8,164.42.
Town Trust Commissioners, Water Works debentures, $16,665.35. It should be pointed out, however, that this amount does not enter into the calculation for the rate, since an equal amount is returned to the town from the Water Works.
Town Trust Commissioners, Local Improvements, $3,791.03.

The whole amount Town Trust Commissioners' expenditure for local improvements is $10,665.54, and of this $6,877.51, paid by the frontage tax, and the balance, $3,791.03, by the town for its share.

The total estimated expenditure for the town rate is $57,910.00, and deducting from this the estimated revenue of $15,132.00, leaves $42,778.00 as the town rate.

The amounts and the rates are as follows:—

Administration of Justice, $7,300; 1.27 mills.
Town Rate, $42,778; 7.56 mills.
Public Schools, $24,000; 4.80 mills.
Roman Catholic Separate Schools, not yet determined, but the rate last year was 6.66, and the amount $5,410.00.
Collegiate Institute, $9,000; 1.55 mills.
Town Trust Commissioners, town debentures, $8,164.42; 1.44 mills.
Town Trust Commissioners, School debentures, $3,376.13; .67 mills.
Town Trust Commissioners, share local improvements, $3,791.03; .67 mills.

This makes the rate 18 mills, for Public School support, and the rate for Separate Schools support cannot be determined until the amount of the expenditure is known. Last year the rate for those supporting Separate Schools was 10 1-2 mills.

POLICE COURT NOTES

The first case heard in the police court Saturday morning was that of George Stevens, the Ashburnham junk dealer, who was acquitted on a charge of cruelty to an animal on Hunter street about a week ago. The charge was preferred by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, one of the officers of which testified that he had seen a horse being driven on Hunter street by a man named Cooney in the employ of Mr. Stevens, in a condition totally unfit for active service.

After hearing evidence the Magistrate held the evidence did not establish the fact that actual cruelty had been committed, and discharged the case.

The case of Chas. Pogue, charged with unlawfully obtaining money from Mr. Cook was dismissed.

TAKING CHILDREN.

Warrant Issued in Weston Case—Farmer Arraigned at Montreal.

Weston, March 18.—The latest development in connection with the disappearance of Mary Jane Gilchrist is a warrant issued by Magistrate Cruickshank for the arrest of Julia Kelly on a charge of abducting the child. The warrant has been issued at the instance of James Gilchrist. So far there is no clue as to the location of the woman or the child.

Charged With Kidnapping.

Montreal, March 18.—Joseph Rousseau, a farmer of St. Andre Avelin, was arraigned before Judge Choquet on a charge of kidnapping an 11-years-old girl. According to Rousseau's statement, the girl is his niece. Her mother is dead, and she has been living with her father, who is very ill at present. In order to afford her protection, Rousseau came to the city to take his niece home with him. The girl was quite willing to go. Rousseau was remanded until March 21 for enquete.

Hits Turnkey With Brick.

Windsor, March 18.—Charles Jackson, a colored prisoner, confined in Sandwich Jail, made a desperate and successful break for liberty yesterday morning, but not until he had battered Turnkey Iler about the head with a brick and rendered him unconscious, thus obtaining the keys to the jail corridor. The keeper struggled bravely, but the odds were against him, and he was finally left bleeding and unconscious, lying on the stone floor of the corridor. Owing to the early hour, no other guards were on duty, and Jackson calmly made his way out into the street, and soon disappeared. So far no trace of the escaped prisoner has been found.

Hungarian Overdue.

Portland, Me., March 18.—Slight anxiety is felt for the Allan Line steamer Hungarian, which is a week overdue. Nothing has been heard since she left Glasgow, Feb. 25.

Off to Europe.

Washington, March 18.—Secretary of State Hay and Mrs. Hay left Washington yesterday to be absent about two months. They will sail to-day for Europe.

DR. MACKAY'S SPECIFIC

For the Treatment of

Alcoholism

Used in Connection with the Province of Quebec Probation System with Unvarying Success.

The City Council of Montreal has endorsed this marvellous discovery. The Finance Committee of Montreal recently voted $500 to defray the expense of placing the medicine in each of the city Police Stations, as prompt application of the Treatment to bad cases will prevent the fatalities continually occurring in the cells.

No Sanitarium is required. The treatment can be taken at home. No special diet required. The desire to reform is simply necessary and spirits avoided for a few days.

This medicine is now within the reach of all, the price having been reduced. The wonderful results obtained with the worst class of drunkards coming before the Judges of the Recorders' Courts in Quebec and Montreal warrants the statement that the disease of Drunkenness can be cured—readily and surely—under ordinary circumstances and with the reasonable desire upon the part of an inebriate.

This treatment is simply the medicine of the medical profession—the only secret is as to its administration.

Dr. Mackay's discovery is the result of 25 years of practice as a specialist and expert. He is a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec.

The Government of Quebec through the Judges ordered over 500 boxes of the medicine for prisoners appearing in the Courts in 1904—Official Reports establish 80 per cent. of cures with these cases.

With the public and official endorsation and the record of results published it is unnecessary to waste money experimenting further. All communications private.

Court Martial of Officers of Battery Concluded at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—The court-martial of officers and several men of the battery firing the salute at the blessing of the waters of the Neva on Jan. 19, which scattered bullets all around the Imperial party, participating in that ceremony, was concluded yesterday, and the verdict will be announced to-day.

During the trial the accused testified that the guns had not been inspected since the practice of two days before; that no count of cartridges had been made; that the guns were loaded in the absence of proper officers as provided by the regulations, and that no responsible officer attended to the training of the guns, and all pleaded guilty to charges of neglect of duty. No testimony, however, tending to show the existence of a plot against the Emperor was brought out.

Czar Now Held Prisoner.

London, March 18.—All the St. Petersburg correspondents of London newspapers are most pessimistic. The Daily Mail's correspondent thinks the central fact of the situation is that since the blessing of the Neva (Jan. 19), the Emperor has been a prisoner at Tsarskoe Selo, and never once has ventured to the capital. It says: "In the moment of the greatest national emergency, needing the greatest sympathy between the Government and the people, the ruler remains secluded behind triple bars and bayonets, as remote and absolutely aloof from the people as if he were in another planet."

NOTHING WORSE IN THIS LIFE

Than Headaches—They are Caused by Bad Stomachs and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure Them.

Probably nothing in life is more distressing than a headache. You can't work, you can't rest, you can only fret and suffer

But did it ever occur to you who suffer from headaches that you have yourself and no one else to blame? Nine-tenths of all headaches are caused by the stomach not working right. And if you give your stomach a chance it will work right.

Think of the quick lunches you have eaten, of the rich foods you have partaken of, and then confess that you have often overworked your stomach without ever thinking to give it any assistance.

Give it the help it needs. Give it Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They always cure all stomach ills. Mr. Joseph Leak, 194 McCaul street, Toronto, says:—

"My daughter was troubled with Headaches and Dyspepsia and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured her. I also was troubled with Dyspepsia and Biliousness and one box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me."

DESPONDENT—HE SUICIDED.

Robt. Almond, Toronto, Makes Fatal Use of a Revolver.

Toronto, March 18.—Despondent owing to long illness, Robert Almond, a former storekeeper, committed suicide by shooting himself Thursday night, in a lane in the rear of 241 Crawford street, where he resided. Mr. Almond was forced to give up his grocery business at 596 Queen street west in consequence of his ill-health. Since that time he has brooded a great deal.

Thursday, for the first time for weeks, he got out of bed and walked around the house. His daughter, with whom he was living, regarded this as a sign of improvement. He went to bed early in the evening, and shortly after the rest of the family retired, and their slumbers during the night were undisturbed.

About 6 o'clock yesterday morning Howard Ellis, who was on his way to work, passed through the lane, and found the body of Mr. Almond. In the right hand was grasped a revolver. A wound in the forehead told how he had met his death. It is supposed that some time during the night he walked out of the house and into the lane, where he committed the deed.

DAY OF ST. PATRICK.

Cardinal Moran, Proposes Home Rule Fund of $100,000 Annually.

London, March 17.—St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in Ireland and observed in England much as usual. The Irish flag was in evidence generally, while Irishmen and Englishmen in London fraternized. In Ireland, of course, celebrations were general.

Queen Alexandra gracefully recognised the day by presenting sprigs of shamrock to the entire Irish Guards stationed at Chelsea Barracks.

The Irish Industries Exhibition in London was opened yesterday afternoon by Prince Christian of Schleswelg-Holstein, who was accompanied by the Duchess of Marlborough and other notable personages. The exhibition remains open two days.

John E. Redmond, the Irish Parliamentary leader, received a cablegram from Cardinal Moran, of Sydney, Australia, proposing a home rule fund of $100,000 annually, and guaranteeing Australia's share.

The weather was miserable in England, and generally fine in Ireland, where a few disturbances were reported, but none more serious than the usual "celebration" fight.

Five Years for Counterfeiter.

Halifax, March 17.—James Tutty, of Glace Bay, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Rudd to five years in Dorchester, for uttering counterfeit money as one of a gang of three or four that were arrested at Glace Bay last year, on a charge of counterfeiting Bank of Montreal bills. Proctor, one of the counterfeiters, was sentenced last week to five years, and Strange is still out on bail awaiting his trial in the same connection.

Bank Robbers Get $7,000.

Petersburg, Tenn., March 17.—The vault in the Bank of Petersburg was blown open yesterday and all the cash was taken. The officials say the thieves secured $7,000. The bank is a State institution.

Trial Postponed.

Toronto, March 17.—The trial of Lack Kennedy in connection with the Soo election irregularities is postponed until May 13.

Bedfast for Three Years With Inflammatory Rheumatism

Helpless as an Infant—Now Walks Without Crutches

Wonderful Recovery of Mr. John McCullough, of Oxbridge, Ont.

The Claflin Chemical Co., Windsor:

Gentlemen—It is with much pleasure that I send you this testimonial regarding the wonderful benefit I have derived from the use of "Bu-Ju" Kidney Pills. Have been an invalid for nearly three years with inflammatory rheumatism, and was bedfast until about six months ago, when an old friend of the family called to see me, and left me some of your pills. I began to feel the benefit of them after taking one box. I have continued using them, and am now able to get out of bed and dress myself, and can go out without crutches. Before taking the pills I was as helpless as an infant, and had to be taken care of like one.

I honestly believe that your pills have been the cause of my getting better. I have tried about everything that could be thought of as a cure for my trouble, but feel this remedy of yours has done me more good than any of them, and I feel if I were a younger man, that by taking them for another few months I would be well and strong again; but of course I am an old man now, and have not the constitution to work on, but I hope this simple story of the way your pills have helped me will be of value to others. I remain yours truly.

MARY E. WILKINS

Copyright, 1900, by DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

CHAPTER I.

IN 1682, when I was thirty years of age and Mistress Mary Cavendish just turned of eighteen, she and I together one Sabbath morning in the month of April were riding to meeting in Jamestown. We were all alone except for the troop of black slaves straggling in the rear, blurring the road curiously with their black faces. It seldom happened that we rode in such wise, for Mistress Catherine Cavendish, the elder sister of Mistress Mary, and Madam Cavendish, her grandmother, usually rode with us—Madam Judith Cavendish, though more than seventy, sitting a horse as well as her granddaughters and looking, when viewed from the back, as young as they and being in that respect as well as others a wonder to the countryside.

But it happened today that Madam Cavendish had a touch of the rheumatics, that being an ailment to which the swampy estate of the country rendered those of advanced years somewhat liable, and had remained at home on her plantation of Drake Hill. Catherine, who was a most devoted granddaughter, had remained with her, although I suspected with some hesitation at allowing her young sister to go alone, except for me, the slaves being accounted no more company than our shadows.

Mistress Catherine Cavendish had looked at me after a fashion which I was at no loss to understand when I had stood aside to allow Mistress Mary to precede me in passing the door, but she had no cause for the look nor for the apprehension which gave rise to it. By reason of bearing always my burden upon my own back I was even more mindful of it than others were who had only the sight of it, whereas I had the sore weight and the evil aspect in my inmost soul. But it was to be borne easily enough by virtue of that natural resolution of a man which can make but a featherweight of the sorest ills if it be but put in the balance against them. I was tutor to Mistress Mary Cavendish, and I had sailed from England to Virginia under circumstances of disgrace—being, indeed, a convict.

I knew exceedingly well what was my befitting deportment when I set out that Sabbath morning with Mistress Mary Cavendish, and not only upon that Sabbath morning, but at all other times. Still I can well understand that my appearance may have belied me, since when I looked in a glass I would often wonder at the sight of my own face, which seemed younger than my years and was strangely free from any recording lines of experiences which might have been esteemed bitter by any one who had not the pride of bearing them.

When my black eyes, which had a bold daring in them, looked forth at me from the glass and my lips smiled with a gay confidence at me, I could not but surmise that my whole face was as a mask worn unwittingly over a grave spirit.

I rode a pace behind Mary Cavendish and never glanced her way, not needing to do so in order to see her, for I seemed to see her with a superior sort of vision, compounded partly of memory and partly of imagination. Of the latter I had, not to boast, though it may perchance be naught to boast of, being simply a kind of higher folly, a somewhat large allowance from my childhood. But that was not to be wondered at, whether it were to my credit or otherwise, since it was inherited from ancestors of much nobler fame and worthier parts than I, one of whom, though not in the direct line, the great Edward Maria Wingfield, the president of the first council of the Dominion of Virginia having written a book which was held to be notable.

This imagination for the setting forth and adorning of all common things and happenings and my woman's name of Maria, my whole name being Harry Maria Wingfield, through my ancestor having been a favorite of a great queen and so called for her honor, were all my inheritance at that date, all the estates belonging to the family having become the property of my younger brother John.

But when I speak of my possessing an imagination which could gild all the common things of life I meant not to include Mistress Mary Cavendish therein, for she needed not such gilding, being one of the most uncommon things in the earth, as uncommon as a great diamond which is rumored to have been seen by travelers in far India. My imagination when directed toward her was exercised only with the comparing and combining of various and especial beauties of different times and circumstances, when she was attired this way or that way, or was grave or gay, or sweetly helpless and clinging or full of daring. When, riding near her, I did not look at her, she seemed all of these in one, and I was conscious of such a great dazzle forcing my averted eyes that I seemed to be riding behind a star.

That morning Mistress Mary glowed and glittered and flamed in gorgeous apparel until she seemed to fairly overreach all the innocent young flowery beauties of the spring with one rich trill of color, like a high note of a bird above a wide chorus of others. Mistress Mary that morning wore a tabby petticoat of a crimson color, and a crimson satin bodice shining over her arms and shoulders like the plumage of a bird, and down her back streamed her curls, shining like gold under her gauze love hood.

Mistress Mary wore a mask of black velvet to screen her face from the sun, and only her sweet forehead and her great blue eyes and the rose leaf tip of her chin showed.

The road was miry in places, and then I would fall behind her farther still that the water and red mud splashing from beneath my horse's hoofs might not reach her. Then, finally, after I had done thus some few times, she reined in her Merry Roger and looked over her shoulder with a flash of her blue eyes which compelled mine.

"Why do you ride so far away, Master Wingfield?" said she.

I lifted my hat and bent so low in my saddle that the feather on it grazed the red mud.

"Because I fear to splash your fine tabby petticoat, madam," I answered.

"I care not for my fine petticoat," said she in a petulant way, like that of a spoiled child who is forbidden sweets and the moon and questions love in consequence, yet still there was some little fear and hesitation in her tone. Mistress Mary was a most docile pupil, seeming to have great respect for my years and my learning, and was as gentle under my hand as was her Merry Roger under hers, and yet with the same sort of gentleness which is as the pupil and not as the master decides and lets the pull of the other will be felt.

I answered not, yet kept at my distance, but at the next miry place she held in Merry Roger until I was forced to come up, and then she spoke again, and as she spoke a mockbird was singing somewhere over on the bank of the river.

"Did you ever hear a sweeter bird's song than that, Master Wingfield?" said she, and I answered that it was very sweet, as indeed it was.

"What do you think the bird is mocking, Master Wingfield?" she said, and then I answered like a fool, for the man who meets sweetness with his own bitterness and keeps it not locked in his own soul is a fool.

"I hope not," said I, "but he may be mocking the hope of the spring and he may be mocking the hope in the heart of man. The song seems too sweet for a mock of any bird which has no thought beyond this year's nest."

Mistress Mary's blue eyes, as helpless of comprehension as a flower, looked in mine.

"But there will be another spring, Master Wingfield," she said somewhat timidly, and then she added, and I knew that she was blushing under her mask at her own tenderness, "and sometimes the hopes of the heart come true."

She rode on with her head bent as one who considers deeply, but I, knowing her well, knew that the mood would soon pass, as it did. Suddenly she tossed her head and flung out her curls to the breeze and swung Merry Roger's bridle rein and was away at a gallop, and I after her, measuring the ground with wide paces on my tall thoroughbred. In this fashion we soon left the plodding blacks so far behind that they became a part of the distance shadows.

Then all at once Mistress Mary swerved off from the main road and was riding down the track leading to the plantation wharf, whence all the tobacco was shipped for England and all the merchandise imported for household use unladen. There the way was very wet, and the mire was splashed high up on Mistress Mary's fine tabby skirt, but she rode on at a reckless pace, and I, also, much at a loss to know what had come to her, yet not venturing, or rather, perhaps, deigning, to inquire. And then I saw what she had doubtless seen before, the mast of a ship rising straightly among the trees.

When I saw the mast I knew that the ship belonging to Madam Cavendish, which was called the Golden Horn and had upon the bow the likeness of a gilt horn, running over with fruit and flowers, had arrived. It was by this ship that Madam Cavendish sent the tobacco raised upon the plantation of Drake Hill to England.

But even then I knew not what had so stirred Mistress Mary that she had left her sober churchward road upon the Sabbath day, and judged that it must be the desire to see the Golden Horn, fresh from her voyage; nor did I dream what she proposed doing.

As we came up to the ship lying in her dock we saw sailors on deck grouped around a cask of that same wine which they had taken the freedom to broach in order to celebrate their safe arrival in port, though it was none of theirs. The sight aroused my anger, but Mary Cavendish did not seem to see any occasion for wrath. She sat her prancing horse, her head up and her curls streaming like a flag of gold, and there was a blue flash in her eyes of which I knew the meaning. The blood of her great ancestor, the sea king, Thomas Cavendish, who was second only to Sir Francis Drake, was astir within her.

She sat there with the salt sea wind in her nostrils and her hair flung upon it like a pennant of victory and looked at the ship wet with the ocean surges, the sails stiff with the rime of salt and the group of English sailors on the deck, and those old ancestral instincts which constitute the memory of the blood awoke.

Then as suddenly that mood left her, as she sat there, the sailors having risen and standing staring with shamefaced respect and covertly wiping, with the hairy backs of hands, their mouths red with wine. But the captain, one Calvin Tabor, stood before them with more assurance, as if he had some warrant for allowing such license among his men. He himself seemed not to have been drinking. Mistress Mary regarded them, holding in Merry Roger with her firm little hand, with the calm grace of a queen, although she was so young, and all the wild fire was gone from her blue eyes.

The sailors had ceased their song and stood with heavy eyes sheepishly averted in their honest red English faces, but Captain Calvin Tabor spoke, bowing low, yet, as I said before, with assured eyes.

Captain Calvin Tabor

"I have the honor to salute you, mistress." He spoke with a grace somewhat beyond his calling. He was a young man, as fair as a Dutchman and a giant in stature. He bore himself also curiously for one of his calling, bowing as steadily as a cavalier, with no trembling of the knees when he recovered and carrying his right arm as if it would grasp sword rather than cutlass if the need arose.

"God be praised! I see that you have brought the Golden Horn safely to port," said Mistress Mary, with a stately sweetness that covered to me, who knew her voice and its every note so well, an exultant ring.

"Yes, praised be God, Mistress Cavendish," answered Captain Tabor, "and with fine winds to swell the sails and no pirates."

"And is my new scarlet cloak safe?" cried Mistress Mary, "and my tabby petticoats, and my blue brocade bodice, and my stockings, and my satin shoes and laces?"

I wondered somewhat at the length of the list, as not only Mistress Mary's wardrobe, but those of her grandmother and sister and many of the household supplies had to be purchased with the proceeds of the tobacco, and that brought but scanty returns owing to the navigation act, and scrupled not to say so, being secure in the new world, where disloyalty against kings could flourish without so much danger of the daring tongue being silenced at Tyburn.

Let go or die. That's the alternative of the shipwrecked man with the money bags. A great many people have a like alternative before them. Business men come to a point where the doctor tells them that they must "let go or die." Probably he advised a sea voyage or mountain air. There's an obstinate cough that won't be shaken off. The lungs are weak and perhaps bleeding. There is emaciation and other symptoms of disease, which if unskilfully or improperly treated terminate in consumption.

Thousands of men and women in a like condition have found complete healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"It gives me pleasure to send you this testimonial so that some other poor sufferer may be saved, as I was, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Geo. A. Thompson, of Sheldon Ave., Chatham, Ont., Canada. "I had a cough for years, expectorated a great deal, and was slowly failing. Was losing flesh every day. Lost in weight from 180 pounds down to 138. My flesh got soft and I had no strength. Did not say anything to any one but made up my mind that the end was not far off. One day my wife was reading in the 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I said that sounds more like common sense than anything else that I had heard. I at once bought a bottle of your famous Remedy and before I had taken half of one bottle I felt better. Took thirteen bottles and it made a new man of me. I gained fifteen pounds and never have had a cough since. I feel grateful and give all the credit to your medicine."

Given away. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 10 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure bad, foul stomach and constipation. Sugar coated and tasteless. Easy to take as candy. Do not gripe. Two regulate. Ten are an active cathartic. Nearly every disease of stomach, Liver and Bowels.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old form" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Basic Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take at stated intervals.

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well, and am effectually cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN PETERBORO.

the green ground, symbolizing Ireland's share in the empire, and other flags bore the harp of Erin, and other symbols suggestive of the Hibernian character of the day. In a word, the stage was beautifully transformed, and in a manner to reflect much credit on those responsible for the arrangement.

The victorious City League T. A. S. Hockey Champions occupied one of the boxes, and Rev. Dr. O'Brien — the patron of the society—and party, the other.

The programme opened with a selection performed in a very spirited manner by the T.A.S. Band, under the leadership of Mr. L. A. Halley. This was followed by a splendid Irish patriotic song, "There never was a Coward where the Shamrock Grows," sung with splendid voice, expression and spirit, by Mr. Ruthven McDonald, the great Toronto baritone. He was compelled to respond to an encore, as was Mrs. McAllister, who achieved a great success in her presentation of St. Patrick's Day, and her appreciated assistance in the musical part of the programme, was emphasized by the excellence of the performance of her happily sung number. Mr. Fax's recitation, "Mose Grigg's Christmas Present," caught the fancy of the audience furiously, and he gave an extra number. Too much praise can hardly be given to Miss Lavina Halliban, who sang "The Harp that once through Tara's Hall," with charming sweetness, taste and dramatic temper. This young lady has a very promising future; to the charm of her voice and vocal skill, is added a charming and modest personal presence. She was very deservedly recalled, and presented with a magnificent shower bouquet of roses. Miss Lillian Bell, a charming young vocalist from Keene, with a fine contralto voice, sang with excellent taste and spirit, "The Minstrel Boy," and had to respond to an encore, well deserved.

This concluded the first part of the programme, and in the interval the presentation of the "Examiner" lockets, won by the T. A. S. hockey team, as champions of the City League, was made. In the absence of Hon. Mr. Stratton, the donor of the lockets, who was detained in Toronto, the little ceremony was performed by Mr. Yokome, editor of the Examiner, who after a few remarks complimentary of the work of the winning team and a tribute to the great work of the Total Abstinence Society under the leadership of Rev. Dr. O'Brien, presented the lockets with an appropriate circumscribed. The members of the team were ranged on the stage and as each man advanced to receive the locket which bore his name he was personally addressed with the following formula:—

In nomine Jacobi Roberti Stratton, honorabilis, ei donor, hoc tropaeum pro merito tibi do.—

"In the name of Hon. J. R. Stratton, the donor, I present you with this trophy worthily won."

The applause with which the boys were received indicated both their personal popularity and the popularity of their victory.

Mr. McDonald opened the second part of the programme with a splendid presentation of "Old Erin Isle" and responded to an encore and later he sang with grand spirit and effect a delightful sea song "Three for Jack," by Squires. His singing of "Galway" was also admirably inspiring. Mr. Fax contributed several other numbers scoring a particular triumph with his song "When Maggie Learned to Sing." Miss Nellie Halliban's song, "An Irish Lullaby," was one of the tidbits of the evening. For so young a performer she sings with remarkable taste and effect and her future in the sphere of vocalism promises to be very bright. A programme well balanced and of general artistic and entertainment excellence, was concluded by the singing of God Save the King, which was sung in a style of unusual musicianally excellence by an improvised quintette—Mr. Ruthven McDonald, Mr. Fax, Mrs. McAllister and Misses Halliban and Bell.

The accompanists of the evening were Mrs. McDonald, Miss Doherty and Mrs. Morrow. The latter has great reason to be pleased with her share in the concert. Three of the lady singers are under her instruction, and the manner in which they acquitted themselves and the improvement they are making are a strong tribute to the excellence of the vocal instruction she imparts and the voice training she gives.

The concert was arranged and conducted under the management of the Literary Committee of the T.A.S., Mr. J. Henrahan, chairman, and Mr. J. King, secretary. They are to be congratulated upon the splendid success of the concert. The committee wish to acknowledge favours from the following citizens:—Messrs. Lane & Eano, J. C. Turnbull & Co., Tully, Merrell & Meredith and Thos. Barrie & Co.

ST. PATRICK'S AT ST. ANDREWS

Emerald Isle's Patron Saint Honoured by Daughters of Erin

Concert Was Thoroughly Enjoyed—Harmony Quartette's First Appearance.

Amongst the many counter-attractions presented last night throughout the town in honour of the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, that given in St. Andrew's Lecture Hall, was accorded a deservedly large place in the popular favour. The hall was filled by a thoroughly delighted audience, which during the excellent programme, gave frequent manifestations of its pleasure by the hearty reception with which every number was received.

The "Daughters of Erin," who are to be congratulated upon the splendid success which they achieved, is composed of the young lady members of Mrs. Waddell's Sunday school class, and the 17th of March is, of course, "the day they celebrate;" a concert is given annually upon this date, and last night's was fully up to the high standard of excellence which has been maintained during previous years. The Society is engaged in a work of which too much cannot be said in commendation — that of maintaining a pupil in the Pointe Aux Trembles school, to which purpose the proceeds of the concerts are devoted.

Last evening the Harmony Male Quartette, which is composed of Messrs. Jos. Legg, first tenor; Mark Wilson, second tenor; R. N. Jolliffe, baritone; and R. H. Shepherd, bass, made its first public appearance, which may be termed a distinct success. The voices blended in unusual sympathy, the expression and shading were delightful, and the general effect of the singing was very pleasing.

The humorous numbers were given very effectively, and were most heartily received. The quartette also possesses soloists of more than usual merit, and from their singing last evening, whether in ensemble or solo work, it may safely be said that they will take a high place in musical circles in Peterborough, and undoubtedly be a credit to the town.

The chair was taken by Rev. J. G. Potter, who after the opening number, made a few remarks pertinent to the day and the occasion, also speaking briefly of the splendid work of the young ladies composing the society.

The initial number was a piano duet, composed of operatic selections contributed by Mrs. Kerr and Miss Ethel Tully, which thoroughly pleased the audience.

This was followed by a vocal number by the Harmony Male Quartette, entitled "Love's Old Sweet Song," which was received with a perfect storm of applause, to which they were forced to respond.

Miss Pearl O'Neill, the clever Toronto elocutionist, then made her initial appearance in a comic reading — "At the Pantomine" — which was a most laughable portrayal of a scene at an English theatre, at a Christmas pantomine performance. Miss O'Neill's popularity with Peterborough audiences is too well known to require comment, though it may be said her reputation was further enhanced by the charming versatility displayed in her numbers last night. The clever rendition of various dialect numbers was especially pleasing and thoroughly captivated the audience. The first number was greeted by a hearty recall, to which she responded with "Uncle Moses Counts Eggs."

Mr. Jos. Legge followed in "Come Back to Erin," in which the soft melodious passages of this old Irish favourite were brought out in a manner which was simply irresistible.

The Harmony Quartette then rendered "The City Choir," which was accorded an encore to which they were forced to respond with the "Story of a Busy Bee," which also gave great pleasure.

Miss O'Neill then gave "A Song of the Camp," with true dramatic power, to which was added an effective introduction of "Annie Laurie," by male voices. In response to a recall she gave "Coax Me."

Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe's numerous past successes as a soloist were still further augmented by his beautiful singing last night of "The True Briton." The popularity of his numbers was amply demonstrated by the tumultuous recall with which this was greeted. As an encore he sang "Killarney."

A piano duet was next given by Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. McClelland which was thoroughly enjoyed.

"Scots Wha Hae" as rendered by the quartette delighted every Scottish heart in the audience.

Miss O'Neill was particularly effective in her delineations of children's character, and her reading "How a Little Girl Entertains," was most realistic, as well as laughable.

Mr. Mark Wilson's rendition of "The Low Thatched Roof" appealed to the audience and was greeted by much applause.

The duet by Messrs. Jolliffe and Legg, "The Bottle Eve," which followed, also delighted all present.

Miss O'Neill as her next number gave by request her favourite Irish number, "The Names of the Dead," by our gifted Canadian author, W. A. Fraser. In response to a merited recall she gave a pathetically-humourous adaption "A Little Girl to Her Dead Pussy Cat."

The closing number "Good Night" was sung in a most effective manner by the quartette.

The accompaniments of the evening were played in a sympathetic and most artistic manner by Miss Edith Jolliffe and Mrs. McClelland.

AUBURN BALL CLUB ORGANIZED

Officers Were Elected—Prospects for a City League.

The prospects are that baseball will flourish in Peterborough this summer. The Guild Leagues will be stronger than it was last year, and in addition to this, there is a probability of a City League being formed. Initial steps were taken in this direction last night by the reorganized Auburn Club at its annual meeting, which was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, and was attended by a large number of the players and supporters of that team in former years.

The first business was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:—

Hon. President—J. Kauffman.
President—W. Hartley.
Secretary-Treas.—Howard Clegg.
Manager—E. Bellegham.
Assistant Manager—D. McCarry.

Messrs. Bellegham and Shaw were appointed delegates to the meeting to be called for the purpose of forming a City League, which it is expected will be held in the near future, and, which, from present prospects will be successful.

The club starts out this season with good promise of a successful career during the coming summer, and the team will be strengthened and prepared to put up a good fight for the City League Championship against all comers.

DEATH OCCURRED IN GRANITEVILLE VT.

Mother of Rev. Geo. McLennan of Presbyterian Church, Norwood.

Norwood, March 17th.—At Graniteville, Vermont, on Wednesday 15th, Mary Currie, beloved wife of Rev. Geo. McLennan, Graniteville, and mother of Rev. Geo. McLennan, of Norwood, died at the age of 65 years.

She leaves a family of seven children, Rev. Geo. A., Norwood; Mrs. (Rev.) P. A. Walker, Montreal; Rev. M. C. McLennan; Prof. S. F. McLenhan, M. O., Berlin College, Ohio; Mrs. Albert Pinkerton and Archibald H. McLennan, teacher at Constable, N. Y. Interment at Pinkerton, Ont., on Saturday. Rev. G. A. McLennan left on 4.40 train Thursday, to attend the funeral.

Union services will be held on Sunday, March 19th, in the Methodist Church in Norwood at 10.30 and in the evening in the Presbyterian Church at 7.00 o'clock. Methodist minister will conduct both services.

BABY COVERED WITH HUMOUR

Ears Looked as if They Would Drop Off—Body Entirely Covered with Sores—Three Doctors Could Not Cure—Child Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS

Mrs. George J. Steese, of 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, tells in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humours daily made by Cuticura, after physicians and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. A humour broke out all over her body, and we used everything recommended, but without results. Three doctors all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, her little face was being eaten away, and her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbours advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Cuticura Soap and the box of Cuticura Ointment, the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost a fortune instead of the small sum it did cost us to cure our baby, after spending much money on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

Rest for Tired, Fretted Mothers in Cuticura.

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, and purest of emollients. A single set of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is often sufficient to cure the most distressing cases.

WOMAN DRESSED AS MAN.

Chased by Victim of Incendiary Fires Who Identifies Clothing.

Toronto, March 16.—Four days' work and the King arson case is not half over. The expense to the County is about $200 a day.

Lincoln Bell, son of Jas. Bell, whose houses, goods and chattels went up in smoke, swore that immediately after the fire started in the hay-stack he chased Mrs. Hamilton Bateman, one of the prisoners, across the field until she disappeared in the swamp.

She was wearing a man's coat and hat, a red skirt with white dots, and man's shoes, similar to those which were subsequently fitted to the foot-marks discovered afterwards. Under her skirt she wore blue overalls. All this wearing apparell was brought into the court-room and identified by witness. They were found in Bateman's house after the arrest.

The case will be resumed Monday.

PICKERAL FRY IN THE LAKES

2,000,000 Pickerel Will be Placed in Round and Belmont Lakes

An Effort to Maintain the Fishing in Peterborough County Waters.

Through the energetic efforts of local anglers, assisted by the local member of the Dominion House, Mr. John Finley, M.P., word has been received from the fisheries department, that 2,000,000 pickerel fry will be allotted for deposit in Round Lake and Belmont Lake this spring.

Last spring 500,000 fry were placed in Round Lake, and the good work will be kept up for three years, by which time the pickerel will be sufficiently numerous to keep the waters stocked with this very edible variety and afford excellent sport for all anglers in these waters, which are already noted as affording one of the best resorts in the country for black bass fishing.

WOMAN'S GREATEST ENEMY.

Constipation the Cause of Most Women's Troubles—An Easy Way to Permanently Cure This Painful Condition.

There are few women indeed who do not suffer with chronic constipation. Nearly all are slaves to some kind of medicine to correct this trouble, and yet they get nothing but temporary relief. One period of constipation is followed by another, and it's physic, physic, physic, year in and year out, till life becomes a burden.

There is now a sure cure for this condition and a cure that does not have to be repeated. It is Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill.

Dr. Leonhardt, of Lincoln, Neb., is the author of this prescription. He used it for years with wonderful success in his own large practice as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation.

Many ladies who have suffered for years are now enjoying good health and a perfect freedom from the old constipation through the use of Anti-Pill.

Mrs. Tabb, 237 Emerald St. North, Hamilton, Ont., says:—

"I am no longer troubled with constipation. I cannot praise Anti-Pill too highly."

IN HARBIN BY APRIL THE TENTH

Japs Harassing Linevitch's Flying Army Flank And Rear---Kamamura on Kirin Road---Japanese Moving With Wonderful Rapidity---First Objective Point of Race to Harbin is Sungari Railway Bridge---Czar Notified That His Orders Deposing Kuropatkin Are Carried Out.

Harbin, March 20.—The Chinese here are in an excited state and say notifications has been received that the Japanese will enter Harbin April 10.

With the many wounded who are arriving at Harbin from the southward are crowds of Russian inhabitants of the region evacuated and employes of the railroad.

On To Harbin.

With the Japanese Army in the Field, via Fusan, March 16.—(Delayed.)—The Russian army continues its northern retreat, the Japanese following. The latter have occupied Fakoman, to the northwest of Tie Pass. Yesterday evening the Russian cavalry camped three miles south of Kaiyuen. Large Russian columns are retreating towards this place from the southwest. The natives report that they are not stopping there, where the hills make a defence possible. If the retreat is forced it probably will be continued to Harbin. The Russians are reported to be badly disorganized.

Japs Moving Rapidly.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—The best military opinion here on the situation is that the rival forces are engaged in a grand race to Harbin. Kamamura is hastening along the Kirin road, while Nogi, Oku and Kuroki are harassing Gen. Linevitch's army on the flanks and in the rear. A flying column has been sent to Taitikar to cut the railroad in the rear of Harbin, the Japanese moving with wonderful rapidity. The Sungari bridge across the Sungari river near Harbin is the first objective point of the race. The bridge is nearly a mile long and is the greatest span on the Trans-Siberian Railway.

NEWS FROM GUNSHU PASS.

Chinese Asking Exorbitant Wages for Aiding the Russians.

Gunshu Pass, March 20.—The first army, which has been covering the retreat of the Russian forces from the south, is withdrawing slowly, checking comparatively light attacks by the Japanese. The Japanese are conducting a flanking operation on the right, and from the Russian column Japanese batteries are visible, keeping pace a short distance away.

The Red Cross detachments at all of the intermediate stations to Harbin are working night and day, operating, bandaging and feeding the wounded. The Chinese are leaving Gunshu Pass for Kirwin, and the labor question is therefore growing critical, though Chinese receive the unprecedentedly high wages of 40 to 50 cents a day.

20 Miles North of Tie Pass.

Tokio, March 19.—Headquarters of the Japanese armies in the field, reporting under to-day's date, says:

"Our detachment continuing its advance north pursued the enemy to Kaiyuan, some twenty miles north of Tie Pass. Kaiyuan was evacuated by the enemy on Saturday, after he had set fire to the railroad station."

Japs Occupy Fakoman.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—Commander-in-Chief Linevitch, in a telegram dated Saturday, says:

"On March 17 Japanese batteries bombarded our divisions in the valleys of Tavanpun and Yanpu. The enemy appeared near Taotaitse (on the railroad about 22 miles north of Tie), and their cavalry has occupied Fakoman. Our armies continue their concentration."

In Rear of Russians.

Tokio, March 20.—In a report to the war department Field Marshal Oyama says that the Japanese right army, under Gen. Kuroki, is proceeding rapidly along the Kirin road, above Peling.

Press Czar to Make Peace.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—While Emperor Nicholas, whose word is final, still declines to abandon the prosecution of the war, and the Government maintains its ability to continue the conflict, the Associated Press is in a position to state that powerful influences, including several of the Emperor's own ministers, are now strongly urging that the time has come to indicate to Japan Russia's desire for peace upon a reasonable basis.

Jap Torpedo Boat Lost.

London, March 20.—The Daily Telegraph's Yokohama correspondent says that during a storm a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer was lost off the Indo-China coast.

LINEVITCH AND KUROPATKIN.

Send Formal Messages to the Czar From the Front.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—A telegram from Gen. Kuropatkin to Emperor Nicholas, dated March 17, says:

"In accordance with the orders of Your Majesty, received March 16, I handed over to Gen. Linevitch to-day the command of the land and sea forces operating against the Japanese."

Gen. Linevitch, in a telegram to the Emperor, under the same date, says: "In pursuance of the orders of Your Majesty, I assumed command to-day (March 17) of all our forces, military and naval, operating against the Japanese."

Kuropatkin Not in Disgrace.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—It is stated on high authority that at Gen. Linevitch's request, the Emperor has appointed Gen. Kuropatkin commander of the first army, and that he assumed command yesterday. This cannot be confirmed. An earlier report said he left Saturday for St. Petersburg.

Kuropatkin Wounded.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, March 16, by way of Fusan.—Gen. Kuroki's army continues to lead the Japanese force, which have not been engaged for nine days in a hard pursuit, and they have covered a distance of more than ninety-five miles with frequent fighting. A few prisoners are secured daily. It is reported that during Gen. Kuropatkin's resistance at Tower Hill on the first day's battle, he was slightly wounded by fragments of an 11-inch shell which fell near him.

J. SUTCLIFFE & SONS

Regret Kuropatkin's Dismissal.

Paris, March 20.—The French Press yesterday morning devoted eulogistic articles to Gen. Kuropatkin, expressing regret at the Emperor's abrupt recall of the Commander-in-Chief. The Echo De Paris says that Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch has been ordered to start for Manchuria to investigate the situation there, and that his report will result in a decision as to a continuation of the war or peace.

Kuropatkin Commanded.

Tokio, March 20.—A despatch from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in the field, dated Friday, says:

"According to statements made by prisoners, the force of the enemy resisting us south of Tie Pass on Wednesday, March 15, consisted of three divisions, Gen. Kuropatkin personally commanded during the battle in the neighborhood of Tie Pass, Tuesday, March 14."

Inspection of Horses Ordered.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—In connection with the mobilization of a new army, an Imperial decree orders an inspection of horses in 22 districts of the military divisions of Odessa, Warsaw and Moscow.

British Steamer Stranded.

Tokio, March 20.—The British steamer Mars, while attempting the passage of Soya Straits, bound for Vladivostock, was caught in the ice and is stranded off Surui promontory. The crew abandoned the vessel and landed on the Island Hokkaido. The Mars sailed from Barry, Wales, on November 26.

ARREST THREE HUNDRED.

Moscow Revolutionists Have a Branch in London — Infernal Machines, Weapons and Presses Found.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—The secret police of Moscow have discovered an organizating section in conjunction with the revolutionary party in London, and three hundred persons already have been arrested. The police found in a store infernal machines, hand bombs, and a quantity of explosives and weapons, together with printing presses and revolutionary documents, included among the latter being letters to the central committee and correspondence relating to the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius.

STABBED THEIR FOREMAN.

Warsaw Workmen Carrying Out Their Threats of Revenge.

Warsaw, March 20.—Now that most of the strikes are ended, the workmen are beginning to carry out the threat of revenge on such of their fellows as refused to quit work with them. On Saturday a foreman who had refused to join the strikers was fatally stabbed, and yesterday a workman who had refused to walk out was shot and severely wounded. The authorities fear that these incidents are only the beginning of a series of such outrages. The working classes are greatly excited in anticipation of orders for mobilization. The men are determined to offer violent opposition. Scarcely a day passes without the appearance of seditious literature.

School Strike Acute.

The school strike at Warsaw is reaching an acute stage. The authorities issued a final order that boys not returning to school before Wednesday will be expelled, regardless of their number. The Polish educational committee, which recently went to St. Petersburg, is angered at the Government's non-conciliatory attitude, and met here yesterday and resolved to support the boys in striking.

Peasant Disorders Grow.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—The peasant disorders are growing rapidly in the black soil belt and other districts of Southern Russia. Provincial journals bring alarming reports, showing that an actual reign of terror already exists in some districts. Not only are estates plundered and buildings burned, but landlords are brutally murdered.

ARMY MEN DISGRACED.

Result of the Court Martial Held on Russian Officers.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—The verdict of the court martial which tried the officers and men of the several batteries of artillery from one of which a shell was fired during the blessing of the waters of the Neva on Jan. 19, scattering missiles in the vicinity of the imperial pavilion, was announced Saturday. Capt. Davidoff and Sub-Lieut. Kurseff, of the 17th Battery, First Regiment Horse Artillery of the Guard, were found guilty of neglect of duty and sentenced to be dismissed from the army and to imprisonment in a fortress, Davidoff to a year and a half and Kurseff to a year and five months. Sub-Lieut. Roth, Jr., was sentenced to imprisonment for a year and four months. Lieut. Roth, Sr., to detention in quarters for three months, and two gunners to detention with disciplinary battalions for two years. Lieut.-Col. Polvzeff and Gunner Patrikeff were acquitted. The court found there was no connection on the part of any of those on trial with a plot to assassinate the Emperor.

Cremation in Canada.

Montreal, March 20.—Adolph Davis, formerly superintendent of the old North Shore Railway, and eminent engineer, died here, and his body was cremated Saturday, according to his will.

County Constable's Crime.

London, March 20.—John T. Westcott, a County constable of Huron and Middlesex, Saturday pleaded guilty to fraud and blackmail and was sentenced to nine months in the Central Prison.

Stabbed in Hotel Fight.

Toronto, March 20.—Louis Dimerio and Frank Ross, Italians, used a razor and a knife on Henry Pinkerton, William Prince and Edward Crawford in a fight in the New Century Hotel, Queen and Esther streets, on Saturday. After the two men had been arrested Arthur Algate, 14 Maplewood Place, struck one of the prisoners. He was also locked up on a charge of assault.

FIRE DESTROYED SHOE FACTORY

Fifty Employees Missing as a Result of Explosion

Terrible Catastrophe at Brockton, Mass.—Boiler Exploded.

Special to The Examiner.

Brockton, Mass., March 20. — A boiler exploded at the R. B. Grover shoe factory here to-day. Before 9 o'clock the entire plant had been destroyed and the fire had spread to adjoining business structures and private residences. At 9.20 o'clock fifty employees were missing, and the fire was still burning fiercely and not under control, though it had not spread within the previous 15 minutes.

Brockton, Mass, March 20: — 1.30 p.m.—It was said the fire was under control. The number of missing was still estimated at 50. Twenty-five bodies up to 11.30 o'clock had been taken from the ruins. Identification in many cases was impossible.

JAPANESE NOW OCCUPY KIYUAN

A Russian Counter Attack Was Also Repulsed.

Buried Guns Found Near Mukden—Bridges and Railway Destroyed.

Special to the Examiner.

Washington, March 20. — The Japanese Legation to-day received the following cablegram from Tokio: "At 4 a.m., on March 19th our detachments occupied Kiyuan, 20 miles north of Tie Pass. The enemy afterwards attempted a counter attack, but were repulsed. The enemy burned bridges on the Main Road south of Kayuan, and also destroyed part of a railway bridge. A number of Russian guns were found buried near Mukden."

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use.

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had an acrid discharge and pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

LICENSE LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Hon. Mr. Whitney was so anxious to gain office that he was willing to promise almost anything. Now he finds it a little difficult to implement his promises. In his pre-election speeches he pledged himself to remove the license commissioners and license inspectors from political and party influences. How has he gone about doing this? By removing the existing officials and appointing Conservative partizans, nominated, no doubt, by the Conservative representative. That brings matters just where they were before, that is from Hon Mr. Whitney's stand-point. He denounced the Ross Government's partisan administration of the License Act by the employment of partisan officials. What improvement is he making in this regard? None whatever. As a class his license officials being human, will be more or less subservient to the political power, or pull, that secured their appointment. If Hon. Mr. Whitney had been as anxious, after he came to power as he professed to be in opposition, to get non-partisan enforcement of the license law, he would have retained the old officials who would have no party ends to serve, or have appointed others not actively associated with party politics. But in almost every case he has appointed out and out partizans. Of course any other procedure would have been party heresy. The fact remains that Mr. Whitney's first step in the direction of enforcing the license law is no advance upon the methods of his predecessors. In this as in many other things, Mr. Whitney is finding that there's a tremendous difference between preaching and practice.

THE FEDERAL LIFE.

The great growth and expansion of the Federal Life Assurance Company, to a level line with the great life assurance corporations of the country is a source of gratification both to the directors and shareholders, and to every patriotic Canadian, who sees in such growth evidence of the increasing intelligence, wealth and importance of the country. The facts disclosed at the annual meeting of the company, held at the head office, Hamilton, a few days ago, show that the Federal Life has certainly grown to large proportions in the last few years, and the year just closed was the most successful in its history. Its assets were increased by $285,979.52, and have now reached the total of $2,148,773.37, exclusive of the guarantee capital. The receipts of the year reached $628,718.34, and there was a balance of $238,186.50, on the year's operations. The company has security for its policy holders to the amount of $3,018,773.37. New assurance to the amount of $3,010,490.50 was written, bringing the total amount in force up to $16,047,309.23, upon which the Federal Life holds reserves to the full amount required by law, and a considerable surplus.

The annual report and financial statement, which were printed in Saturday's issue of the Examiner, show that the company has been carefully and wisely managed. Mr. David Dexter, President and General Manager, and his co-directors have reason to feel gratified when they see the results of their labours shown by figures which place the Federal Life among the big institutions of the land.

A reference to the local offices of the company will be found in another column.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Detective Murray, in his book of memoirs of his eventful life, says that crime is a hereditary disease. It now becomes the duty of some great scientist to discover the crime microbe, and for some other scientist to invent an anti-toxin. Dr. Osler who has made the discovery that man ceases to be much good in the world after forty, and that at sixty a man is meet meat for the undertaker, might bend his genius in this direction.

It appears that the authorities are investigating the circumstances connected with the action, or, rather, inaction, of the jail authorities of Brantford, in permitting Kennedy, the child murderer, to take his life. It does not seem necessary to spend much time or money in such a research. In taking his life, Kennedy did the best act of his life. Nothing in life became him half so well as the manner of his death. A criminal from his cradle, a thorn in the side of authority, a pest to society all his years, he relieved the state of the expense of maintaining him in prison the remainder of the wasted years of worse than useless life. Kennedy was apparently one of Detective Murray's hereditary criminals, whose path was from one crime to another, and hopeless of reclamation. Under such a circumstance he did the only benefit to society by effacing himself.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN DOURO

Rev. Father Keilty Said Mass and Preached Sermon

The Great Love of the Irish People for Learning was Emphasized.

Douro, March 17.—In St. Joseph's Church this morning a very large congregation attended mass, which was said by the Parish Priest, Rev. Father Keilty, who afterwards read and commented upon the address reported below, which emphasizes the fact that the Irish always loved learning with a phenomenal love, and was particularly appropriate to St. St. Patrick's Day:—

In the course of a very eloquent address on the "Historical Aspect of Irish Universities," delivered in Dublin on Friday of last week, under the auspices of the Catholic Graduates and Undergraduates' Association, Dr. Sigerson, F.R.U.I., said:—"For four luminous centuries Ireland controlled the intellectual destiny of Europe. This is no mere native vaunt, but the deliberate and grateful testimony of scholars of several lands. None gave more liberal evidence than Saxon authors. Aldhelm refers to the troops of students daily borne off to Ireland, which, rich and flourishing in scholars, was adorned like the poles of the world by innumerable brilliant stars. Others called it 'New Rome' the 'School of the West.' Venerable Bede observed that it was customary for the English, from the highest to the lowest, to resort to Ireland for study and devotion, and testifies that she received all comers with a liberal welcome, and hospitably entertained them, giving them books to read, instructions in arts and sciences, food and shelter, and all gratuitously. The State system of Hospices for travellers had clearly been marvellously enlarged for the benefit of foreigners—for students from not one, but many countries, so that streets in the University cities bore the names of their respective nations. How noble was that hospitality which, in a time of fierce wars, effaced the limits of race prejudice to welcome all lovers of learning. Of what other country—or of Rome or of Athens itself—could such munificence in the cause of learning have been recorded? Of what country in the world, rich with the accumulated civilization of a thousand added years, can it be spoken now? The Irish Universities, in those happier centuries, were great, populous, and many. The University of Armagh is stated to have had 7,000 students in the year 513, that of Cashel 5,000 students, and 600 conventual monks. Besides there were the famed Universities of Clonmacnois, Glendalough, Lismore, Ross, Bangor, and others. Indeed, the island was a full hive of learning, where the golden honeycomb of knowledge was offered to every guest. But this nation has ever been as adventurous in peace as in war. Now, from this University Island swarmed off, generation after generation, a multitude of scholars to all accessible regions of Europe and beyond, to re-light the dark, dead pharos with a pure flame, where too often the wrecker's torch had flared, to found, not only churches and monasteries, but to create or assist in establishing the universities of Paris, Luxueil, Arbon, (now St. Gall), Bobbio, Pavia, Lindisferne, Malmesbury, and, through Erigena, even Oxford. Does this claim seem extravagant? Remember, then, that "noster Sedulius" (our own Sedulius) as Dicuil called him, was master of a school in Athens, and in Rome, in the fifth century, and that every four years from the invention of printing until recently there has been a new edition of his great Christian Epic. Remember that St. Columbanus, in the sixth, revived the lost art of classic letters; that St. Gall in the seventh founded a school which became so celebrated that the surrounding region assumed his name, that in the eighth St. Virgil of Strasburg taught the sphericity of the earth; that Dungal was consulted by Charlemange on difficult questions of astronomy; whilst Clemept, because of his superior learning displaced Alcuin as master of the school of the palace where Charlemagne, his family, and his paladins sat as pupils. Remember again, that in the ninth century Dicuil was foremost in his science, and that Johannes Scotus Erigena, the friend of King Charles the Bald, was the most celebrated scholar of his time; with him, according to Lewes, that great era of scholasticism began which dominated the middle ages, until it closed in the thirteenth century with Duns Scotus — the Doctor Subtilissimus—who was received in Cologne with the pomp of a monarch, whose lectures in Oxford attracted, it is said, 30,000 students, and whom Paris set over her schools of Divinity. The traditions of our country," concluded Dr. Sigerson, "have guided us towards our goal through sacrifices to success, from repulse to recognition. It is not in nature to cease to advance, or to arrest now, when so much has been gained, that passion for learning which vibrates in every fibre of our people—which has been its honour when prosperous, and the ennobling glory of this true liberal land—this indomitable nation."—Celtic.

Treated by Three Doctors for a Severe Attack of Dyspepsia, Got No Relief From Medicines, But Found It At Last in Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Frank Hutt, Morrisburg, Ont., was one of those troubled with this most common of stomach troubles. She writes:—"After being treated by three doctors, and using many advertised medicines, for a severe attack of Dyspepsia, and receiving no benefit, I gave up all hope of ever being cured. Hearing Burdock Blood Bitters so highly spoken of, I decided to get a bottle, and give it a trial. Before I had taken it I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken the second one I was completely cured. I cannot recommend Burdock Blood Bitters too highly, and would advise all sufferers from dyspepsia to give it a trial."

MISSIONS TO THE INDIANS

Rev. G. H. Raley Recounts his Interesting Experiences

Preached two Good Sermons Yesterday in George Street Church.

Yesterday in George street Methodist church two most interesting sermons were preached by Rev. Geo. H. Raley, Methodist Missionary to the Indians at Kalamaat, B.C.

His sermons were preached under the auspices of the local branch of the Woman's Missionary Society in whose interests he was here, and both sermons were instructive and helpful, giving as they did a clearer insight into the work of the missionary to the Indians, especially to those in British Columbia, where Mr. Raley has spent a number of years in work among the Indians.

That there is need of missionaries among these inhabitants of our own Dominion was amply evidenced by Mr. Raley's addresses yesterday, as was also the fact that already much lasting good had been accomplished by the churches there. In the morning he spoke of the general features of the work, while at night he dealt with the condition of women in pagan countries, and at both services, his audiences were deeply moved by his words. A missionary's life, while it is one of trial, is also enlivened by some incidents which relieve the monotony and hardships of the life which he is oftentimes forced to lead. This fact was evidenced yesterday by some incidents recounted by Mr. Raley. One of these was his experience as a physician in which he treated some members of the tribes to which he was ministering in spiritual matters.

The principal portions of his address was that in which he told of the success with which a threatened tribal war was averted, and this he attributed to the influence of the Gospel.

Preceding the address of Mr. Raley, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers, gave some interesting facts concerning the work of the Woman's Missionary Society, and the great progress it had made in the thirty-three years of its existence. In 1881 the income of the Society was $2,916, and in 1904, it had grown to $65,515, and during that interval of time $724,803 has been raised. Last year in the Bay of Quinte Conference $7,700, was raised by this Society. At the present time there are 54 lady missionaries working under the auspices of the society, and of these 50 are actively engaged at the present time, four being home on furlough.

There are 847 Auxiliaries, and of these 45 were organized last year. The present active membership of the Society is 20,950, and with the life members 23,487, and in the Bay of Quinte Conference there are 408 auxiliaries, which is a greater number than there are in any other Conference in the Dominion. There are in addition 429 Mission Bands and Circles composed of the younger girls.

The membership of the local branch is 50, and 10 life members. Last year $154.70 was raised by the branch.

Rev. Mr. Raley, who was then introduced, said it was a pleasure to him to speak in the interests of the Women's Missionary Society. This was the first opportunity he had had of speaking under their auspices, and he appreciated it very highly. Speaking generally of the relations of the Women's Missionary Society to the General Society, he said that while the funds of the former had increased rapidly year by year, it had not had the effect of lessening the income of the General Society, and as proof of this, he said that while in 1818, the year in which the Woman's Missionary Society was formed, the income of the General Society was about $100,000, at the present time it was over $300,000, and he thought that this increase might be traced to the influence of the ladies, who through this society had distributed literature, and had educated the people along missionary lines.

The missionary cause was one which deserved support, and he could not conceive of a church that was not a missionary church. The missionary enterprise was a business which everyone should be a partner in, since there is no such thing as a solitary Christianity. Christ has given the command: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

The work among the coast Indians in which he was engaged, was varied and was of a different nature from that among the Indians of the plains since the natives in their habits of life were different. Those at the Coast did not receive support from the Government which the treaty Indians do, and as a consequence have to depend on their own industry for maintenance. They are children of the sea, and live very close to nature. The great majority are superstitious in their belief, and the work of the missionary is made doubly hard on this account.

Mr. Riley here recounted some of his experiences among those with whom he worked, the object being to illustrate the truth that the influence of the Gospel was being exerted upon the Indians and that they were gradually becoming civilized.

Both the morning and evening addresses of the missionary were deeply interesting and very much enjoyed.

SAFETY OF ENGLISH RAILWAYS

Operated in Interest of the Safety of Life and Limb.

That English railroads are safe, that they are operated at minimum risk to life and limb of passengers, employees and others who cross or frequent the tracks is proven by statistics. In 1903 there were 3,167 collisions and 4,416 derailments on the American railroads, in the same year in England there were 111 collisions and 90 derailments. The American railroads carried 655,000,000 passengers on a track mileage of 200,000, while the English carried 1,200,000,000 on a track mileage of 22,132. The comparison is indeed startling. The secret of the difference in the results of the operations is that in England the "human factor" is reduced to a minimum, and the least possible dependence is placed upon the judgment of employees and passengers. The American roads employ 1,139,315 persons, the English roads 575,834. Mechanical devices are used in England wherever possible to do so, and every provision is taken for the safety of trains, employees and the travelling public.

$1,000 Pile Cure.

A thousand dollar guarantee goes with every bottle of Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, the only certain cure for every form of Piles.

Geo. Cook, St. Thomas, Ont., writes:

"Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cured me of a very bad case of Piles of over ten years' standing. I had tried everything but could get no permanent cure until I had used Hem-Roid. I had Blind and Bleeding Piles and suffered everything. Ointments and local treatments failed but Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cured me perfectly."

Hem-Roid is a Tablet taken internally which removes the cause of Piles. $1 at all druggists, or the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

JULY 1 AT REGINA.

Invitations Extended to Sir Wilfrid and Earl Grey.

Ottawa, March 20.—Walter Scott, M. P., on behalf of Mayor Laird, of Regina, has presented a preliminary invitation to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, suggesting the presence of His Excellency and the Prime Minister at Regina on July 1 next, as the civic authorities have in contemplation a fitting celebration of next Dominion Day, which will be the birthday of the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

In order to make the celebration worthy of such an historic occasion, it is proposed the Lieut.-Governors of the two new provinces should be sworn in on that day at Regina in the presence of the Vice-Royalty.

The Prime Minister is not yet able to make definite acceptance of the invitation, but Mr. Scott and Mayor Laird trust to obtain the consent of both His Excellency and Sir Wilfrid to attend the ceremonies.

Father Lawler Dead.

Toronto, March 20.—Rev. Father Edmund Burke Lawler, one of the pioneer Roman Catholic missionaries in Ontario, and one of the best known and best loved clergymen in the province, died yesterday in his 80th year. Father Lawlor was born of good old Irish family in 1818. Although American born, Father Lawler was British at heart. His lifelong wish that he be buried under the British flag will be honored. Requiem mass will be sung in St. Michael's Cathedral to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, after which the body will be laid in the family mausoleum.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years or more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." For sale by all druggists.

Canada's Trail to Dawson.

Ottawa, March 18.—Yesterday a Northwest police detachment of 30 men, with 60 packhorses, left Edmonton for the Peace River, to cut a trail to Dawson City, entirely on Canadian territory. The trail will be over a thousand miles long, and will be provided with shelter huts at the end of each day's march, 20 or 30 miles apart. Parliament voted $25,000 last session for the work, and it is expected to ask for a similar additional sum this season. It is hoped to complete the work this season.

Permanent Cure for Bronchitis

"My second daughter was troubled with bronchitis from the age of three weeks. Oftentimes I thought that she would choke to death. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine brought relief and further treatment made a thorough cure. This trouble used to come back from time to time, but the cure is now permanent." — Mrs. Richmond Withrow, Shubenacadie, Hants County, N. S.

24 KILLED IN A MINE.

Ten By Explosion Saturday and 14 Rescuers On Sunday.

FATAL RESULT OF A WAR PLAY

Hamilton Boy Shot — James Porter Discharges a Gun He Did Not Know Was Loaded, and His Comrade Fell Shot Through the Head—An Inquest To Be Held.

Charleston, W. Va., March 20.—An explosion occurred at the mines of the New River Smokeless Coal and Coke Co., at Rushrun, last night, in which 10 men were killed.

The explosion was in the Rushrun mine, and extended through to the Red Ash mine, nearly two miles away, and great flames of fire burst out of the mouths of both mines.

There were about five men in each mine who stayed there at night to take care of the mines, and all were killed. The interior of the mines is in such a state at this hour that it is impossible for anyone to enter to investigate.

As the result of the explosion in the Bushrun and Red Ash mines, near Thurmond, last night, 24 men are dead in the two mines. Ten of these were killed in the explosion Saturday, and the other fourteen were a rescuing party, who entered the mine yesterday.

HAMILTON BOY KILLED.

Raphael Bezanson Shot by His Comrade While at Play.

Hamilton, March 20.—Raphael Bezanson, 25 North Macnab street, was shot dead by James Potter, 13 Crooks street, Saturday afternoon. Bezanson was 19 years of age, and Potter 15 years.

They, with another lad named Arthur Langton, 84 North Carolina street, rented small rifles from a shooting gallery on North James street Saturday afternoon and went to the bay hunting. Sport was not very good and on the way home near the cemetery chapel they began to play war. Potter aimed up in the air and pulled the trigger of his rifle twice without results.

He thought it could not be loaded and pointed at Bezanson and pulled the trigger for the third time. This time it did go off and a bullet entered the centre of Bezanson's forehead. He fell to the ground unconscious.

Dr. Anderson and the ambulance were called, and the wounded boy was hustled off. At the corner of Catharine and Barton streets on the way to the City Hospital he died.

Coroner McNichol was notified and opened an inquest at 9.30 Saturday night. Potter was placed under arrest after he had been questioned by the police. He was taken to the jail, where he is being held on a charge of manslaughter.

The authorities believe that it was, as Potter claims, a pure accident, but they will hold him until after the inquest.

BROCKVILLE BOY KILLED.

Edward Bedlow Loses an Arm and Then His Life.

Brockville, March 20.—In a mangled condition, the body of Edward Bedlow, a Brockville boy, aged about 20 years, was brought here yesterday afternoon on the 2.15 express from Prescott.

In company with a number of other boys he left here at noon for Morrisburg stealing a ride on a fast freight train. His body was picked up just outside Prescott alongside the track.

The supposition is that in attempting to jump off his clothing became entangled and he was drawn under the wheels which passed over his right arm, severing it at the socket.

The body showed marks of having been dragged. Bedlow lived three-quarters of an hour after being removed to the hospital. The Coroner opened an inquest, which was adjourned until Tuesday night.

Killed at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, March 20.—Fred Salisbury, about 14 years of age, belonging to Waterford, Ont., was found dead in the east end of the Michigan Central yards this yesterday morning. The body, which was badly mangled, was taken to Williams' undertaking rooms, and will be sent to his home. The man was well dressed, and is said to be well connected.

Gas Stove Exploded.

London, March 20.—Mrs. Lilas Finch, 547 Talbot street, had a narrow escape from being burned to death Saturday morning. A gas stove which she was attending exploded, setting fire to her hair and clothing. She was rescued by a neighbor. The explosion wrecked three bicycles and the kitchen was gutted; loss $500.

Fatal Head-on Collision.

Owosso, Mich., March 20.—A northbound Ann Arbor passenger train collided head on Saturday with a southbound freight engine, running light, north of Mesick. John Doyle, fireman of the passenger train, was instantly killed. Three trainmen were fatally injured, another trainman lost a leg and four passenger and three sectionmen suffered less serious injuries.

Two Killed in Tornado.

Hobart, Okla., March 20.—A tornado Saturday struck Porch, a small town near here, killing one man, whose name is not given. J. E. and Charles Jones were fatally injured and 16 others hurt. Sixteen houses were demolished.

Thrown 50 Yards by Explosion.

Newburgh, N. Y., March 20.—Edward Leonard and James Craig, two employes of the Fabrikoid Co. near Newburgh, were killed Saturday by an explosion of soluble cotton at the mills. Craig's body was thrown 150 feet by the concussion.

Canadian Brakeman Dies.

Rutland, Vt., March 20.—According to advices received in this city, Andy Schutts, brakeman of a west-bound freight train which was ditched one mile east of Malone, N. Y., yesterday, died late last night at the Ogdensburg City Hospital. Schutts, whose home was in Canada, was badly cut about the head and face and injured internally.

Facial Paralysis

Mr. W. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My face was all twisted out of shape with facial paralysis, and five doctors failed to cure or even relieve. By the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been entirely cured; and have returned to work well and strong. I have gained in weight, and feel that I have a new lease of life."

Commercial Traveler Stricken.

London, March 20.—Murdoch McLennan, commercial traveler of this city, was stricken with paralysis Saturday morning while on a trip to Thamesville. He was brought home.

Insurgents Take Capital.

Aden, Arabia, March 20.—It is reported that Sanaa, the capital of the Province of Yemen, with its garrison of 5,000 men, has fallen into the hands of the Arab insurgents.

Bruchesi Home Again.

Montreal, March 20.—His Grace the Archbishop of Montreal reached home Saturday morning and received a hearty welcome from clergy and people.

James Laidlaw Dead.

Guelph, March 20.—James Laidlaw, ex-M.P.P., died yesterday morning. Deceased represented South Wellington in the Legislature for many years.

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

E. G. RUTTAN ACQUITTED.

Belleville Ballot-Box Jury Returns Verdict "Not Guilty."

CONTRADICT PHILIP LOTT

Some Ballots Missing—Evidence of the Use of a False Box by Hawkey—Ruttan Enquired for Ballot Boxes Addressed to Kerfoot — Judge Congratulates Defendant Upon His Narrow Escape.

Belleville, March 20.—The trial of Ed. G. Ruttan for conspiracy in connection with bogus ballot boxes went on Saturday. Pretty much the same evidence as that given at the preliminary investigation was presented, but a few new points came out.

Charles Cochrane, proprietor of the Albion Hotel, Kingston, testified that certain boxes addressed to one Kerfoot had come to his place last October, and had been taken away by Ruttan, who had told him the boxes were expected before they came.

Layton Guess, liveryman, of Kingston, swore to driving Ruttan and some boxes of literature from the Albion Hotel to Shibley's house at Harrowsmith.

Hawkey and Ballot Papers.

Evidence entirely new was given by Returning Officer Franklin, of Frontenac, who swore that he had given 125 ballots to Deputy Returning Officer Hawkey, and the latter had denied receiving more than 100. The returning officer had then consented to credit Hawkey with 100, and had changed the figures in his sheet to correspond. Patrick Shortell, the returning officer's clerk, corroborated that official's testimony.

Col. Percy Sherwood swore to examining the ballots cast in the riding of Frontenac, and finding that 25 ballots were unaccounted for. Messrs. Tapping and McDonald swore that a bogus ballot box was used by Hawkey on Nov. 3 at Clarendon and Miller poll. Robert Emmet Harpell told the story of the drowning of the boxes in Sydenham Lake.

Ruttan in the Box.

In the afternoon Ed. G. Ruttan took the witness stand in his own behalf. His evidence was practically a blank denial of nearly all Phil Lott and Harpell had said. He said he was working for Shibley copying circulars the day he was asked to drive Phil Lott to Kingston. He was sent for a livery rig, and when he came back Phil Lott was there. He drove Phil Lott to Kingston, but did not get a letter from Shibley to Reilly, as Phil Lott said. They did not discuss election matters, and never mentioned ballot boxes at all. Phil Lott, Ruttan said, pulled the letter to Reilly out of his pocket, and asked Ruttan to show him where Reilly lived. Ruttan again denied that he carried the letter from Shibley to Reilly. Ruttan also denied that Reilly drew diagrams of the boxes, as sworn to by Phil Lott. Ruttan said he had been approached by Shibley to go to Whitney's Hotel and call for a couple of boxes of literature in company with Mr. Guess, the liveryman. He did not remember that Shibley told him the boxes were addressed to anyone in particular. He did not know where the boxes came from or any more about them. There was nothing about the boxes which would lead him to think they did not contain literature. He had never told Harpell that the boxes rattled on the drive to Shibley's house. He directly contradicted the statements of Harpell and Phil Lott.

A Slick Rig.

Ruttan told that one day Shibley had taken him into a room in his house and showed him a bogus ballot box, saying, "Don't you think that a slick rig?"

He (Ruttan) said: "Well, a man would be a fool to try to use a thing like that." That, Ruttan said, was the first he saw or heard of the bogus boxes.

This was on the Saturday before the election. Ruttan related how Harpell came to his house and told him Shibley wanted to see him. He (Ruttan) said he told Harpell he didn't know how he could go, as his wife had a headache. His wife, however, told him to go, and he went.

A Different Version.

Ruttan then denied that Shibley had said to him: "We must get rid of them." What did happen, Ruttan said, was that Shibley took him into the house and asked him to help get rid of the bogus boxes. Ruttan said Harpell made the remark: "We'll put them where the devil couldn't find them," and not he. Shibley suggested that the boxes should be put into Sydenham Lake. Harpell, Ruttan said, knew from the first that he was to go and help drown the boxes.

Cross-examined by Mr. Helmuth, Ruttan again denied that he had carried the letter from Shibley to Reilly, and when confronted with the proof that he had sworn to having done so at the preliminary investigation, said he swore falsely then. Several other inaccuracies in his evidence were pointed out.

It was 5 o'clock when all the evidence was declared closed, and Mr. Mabee, of Toronto, began his address to the jury.

At 7 o'clock the Crown Prosecutor, Mr. Helmuth, began his address to the jury.

The Judge's Charge.

The judge charged strongly against the prisoner. He reviewed the evidence. Ruttan's change of memory in regard to the letter to Reilly was almost unaccountable. The jury was not called on to believe all the witnesses who had appeared in the box, for it was a daily occurrence that statements were made by witnesses which were entirely foundationless. They must take into consideration the accompanying circumstances. Politics had nothing to do with the present case, which was inaugurated for the protection of society, for the sanctity of the ballot, and for the common weal.

As to the punishment, neither judge nor jury were concerned in that. The law provided that. If a man committed a crime, he knew, that if detected and found guilty, the law provided an adequate punishment for him. They must judge by the evidence adduced. If they were satisfied that Ruttan was in Reilly's room that night and was at Cochrane's Hotel in connection with the boxes, then they must find that he was connected with the conspiracy.

In conclusion the judge said that it did not matter how small a part a man played in a conspiracy, if it were proved that he was connected with it at all, he was equally guilty in the eyes of the law with those who took a leading part.

"Not Guilty."

The jury retired at 8.55 and were out till 11.05, when they returned with a verdict of "Not guilty."

Judge MacMahon said, "Stand up, Edward G. Ruttan. The jury have taken a lenient view of your case. You are fortunate. You have had a narrow escape, and I would advise you to be more careful hereafter. As a good citizen you should have brought the matter to the attention of the authorities when you first heard of it. You may go."

It is understood that the next case called will be that of the King v. F. J. Reilly.

A MONTREAL MURDER.

Father Kills His Son With a Heavy Iron Poker.

Montreal, March 20.—Murder was committed early Saturday morning at 42 Dorion street, when William Phelan, 55 years of age, struck his son, William Phelan, 17 years of age, with a heavy iron poker.

About 10.30 o'clock a woman by the name of Mrs Kate Phelan came over to No. 2 station, which is just around the corner, and said that a young man was lying in the house in a dying condition, covered with blood.

Two constables immediately went to the house and found young Phelan lying on the bed at the point of death. A heavy iron poker, covered with hair and blood, was on the floor.

The boy's forehead was crushed.

Mrs. Phelan said to the police that William Phelan, the father of the boy, came to her and said that he had killed his son while he lay in bed.

Young Phelan was taken to Notre Dame Hospital, and it was at once seen that he had but a few moments to live. Hardly had the priest reached his bedside to administer the last rites of the church when the young man died.

No reason for the crime has yet been ascertained, but Mrs. Phelan told the police that since the death of his wife, some months ago, the man Phelan had been acting strangely, although he had never been known to threaten violence to any one.

The man was immediately placed under arrest, and taken to police headquarters.

Didn't Kill His Wife.

Montreal, March 20.—Napoleon Laporte, charged with having killed his wife, was acquitted late Saturday evening, as it was proved that the woman had been drinking with another man and had fallen downstairs.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says, "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by all druggists.

$20,000 Fire at Orillia.

Orillia, March 20.—At 9 o'clock yesterday morning St. James' Episcopal Church, the finest church here, was destroyed by fire, the walls alone remaining. The loss will total $20,000, which is partly covered by insurance. The pipes of the organ were saved, but the instrument sustained damage to the extent of $1,000.

Military Changes.

Ottawa, March 20.—Captain F. D. Lafferty, Royal Canadian Artillery, is gazetted staff adjutant Royal Military College, vice Major Panet, appointed assistant adjutant-general at headquarters. Lieut.-Col. C. C. Sewell, of the permanent corps, Quebec, has been retired on a pension, having reached the age limit.

Edinburgh Church Seized.

London, March 20.—The Free Church attacked the Scottish capital on Saturday and seized the High Church at Edinburgh. The United Free congregation, which numbers 1,000, made no resistance.

The Wheat Left.

Chicago, March 20.—Reserves of wheat on the farm March 1, as given by the department of agriculture, were 111,000,000 bushels.

E. F. Clarke Testimonial.

Toronto, March 20.—Saturday H. B. Osler acknowledged the receipt of $18,100, subscriptions to the E. F. Clarke testimonial fund.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquozone and Give it to You to Try.

We want you to know about Liquozone, and the product itself can tell you more than we. So we ask you to let us buy you a bottle—a full-size bottle—to try. Let it prove that it does what medicine cannot do. See what a tonic it is. Learn that it does kill germs. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do.

This offer itself should convince you that Liquozone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you if there was any doubt of results. You want those results; you want to be well and to keep well. And you can't do that—nobody can—without Liquozone.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a Liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you.

Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

FIRE BRIGADE HAD TWO RUNS

Electric Wires Cause Two Small Blazes on Saturday—No Damage Done.

Two small blazes were started on Saturday by electric wires, and resulted in two runs by the brigade whose services, however, happily, were not required. The first took place at Dr. Robinson's livery barn, Charlotte street, at about 4.30 o'clock, p.m., but was extinguished by the prompt and effective use of a Babcock fire extinguisher.

About 10.30 o'clock considerable excitement was occasioned from a similar cause at Maitland's restaurant, George street, but nothing serious, however, resulted, owing to the prompt measures taken.

AN ANXIOUS RELATIVE WRITES

Asking for News of the Late Mr. William James

Letter to the Editor Asking for Information—Sad News to Communicate.

On Saturday night the editor of the Examiner received a letter from Enfield, England, and the object of the letter was to discover the whereabouts of the late William James, a former resident of Peterborough.

The letter is as follows:

7—3—'05. 23 Halstead Road,
Enfield Town,
Middlesex W.,
England.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — I should be greatly obliged if you could assist me by any means to find the address of my uncle, William James, whose place of residence, until two years ago, was 225 Stewart street, Peterborough. I wrote to that address early this year but have had the letter returned, "not known at that address." I have a cutting of a paper from Peterborough, with an account of my aunt's death, dated March 2nd, 1903, but not the name of the paper it was cut from, my uncle only stating that it was the local paper, so I thought perhaps by this you would be able to trace him for me, as my mother, Charlotte James, is very anxious to hear from him, as his wife was her sister, and Mr. James being my father's cousin. I have put in what was in the clipping word for word. Hoping this is not too great a favour to ask you to do for a stranger, you have never seen, but I think of coming out to Canada next year, and would be glad to have news of him.

I remain, yours respectfully,
Charles Henry James.

Mr. James encloses a clipping from the Examiner of March 3rd, 1903, which reports the death of his aunt.

In response to the request contained in the letter the address mentioned was visited, and it was found that the house was occupied by Mr. O. S. Noyes, who, on being interviewed, stated that the gentleman of whom the letter inquired was dead, as well as his wife, the former having died about a year and a half ago, in the house which he owned, 225 Stewart street.

Previous to his death Mr. James was employed by the G.T.R., and was bridgetender at the Locks bridge on that railway.

After his death Mr. James' estate was administered by Messrs. Howden and C. James, the latter a brother of the deceased, and is held in trust by them for an adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. James, who had no children of their own.

The news which will have to be communicated to the writer of the above letter will not be very pleasing, since he, evidently, is not prepared to learn that his uncle, too, has passed away.

PRETTY WEDDING IN OTONABEE

Miss Lizzie Girvin Married to Mr. Robt. Rutherford.

On Wednesday evening, March 15, the home of Mr. William Girven, of Salem, Otonabee, was the scene of a very pretty and interesting event, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Lizzie, to Mr. Robert Rutherford, of Brandon, Manitoba.

The rooms were very tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers, but the point which seemed to magnetize all eyes was a beautiful arch, from the centre of which hung a marriage bell. As the hour of 7 drew near, the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. G. Lewis, B. A., of Mark street church, Peterborough, took his place. Then, as the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Maggie Girvin, pealed forth, all eyes were turned towards the hall way. Very soon the groom appeared, attended by Mr. Harry Mitchell, of Peterborough, and took their place beneath the arch. They were followed shortly by the bride, escorted by her father, and attended by her sister, Miss Bella.

The bride looked charming indeed, dressed in cream voile, with chiffon trimmings, wearing the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid also wore cream voile, and carried pink carnations.

After congratulations had been tendered, the guests, numbering about fifty, found satisfaction in the abundance of good things provided at the supper table. The evening was then very pleasantly spent in games, conversation and plenty of good music.

A number of very useful and handsome presents were on view, among them a beautiful gold watch and chain, the gift of the groom to the bride. He also gave the bridesmaid a gold bracelet and the groomsman a pearl pin.

The bride's going-away dress was of navy blue voile with silk trimmings. After spending a few weeks with friends here Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford intend going to Brandon, Man., where their future home awaits them, to which they will carry with them the hearty congratulations and best wishes of a great many friends.

TOWN BRANCH OFFICE OF THE FEDERAL LIFE

Another Great Local Life Assurance Company's Local Habitation.

The local branch office of the Federal Life Assurance Company, whose annual report was published on Saturday is to be found at 406 George street, in charge of Mr. Geo. G. Pope. The district of which this office is a centre, has amply justified its establishment. The offices which are well furnished and situated conveniently in the business centre of the town, are remarkably adapted to promoting the business interests of the Company and meeting the convenience of the public.

THE WINDOW WAS UNVEILED

Mrs. Nicholls' Memory Suitably Honoured at St. John's Yesterday

Ceremony Took Place at 4 O'clock in the Presence of a Large Gathering.

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, a memorial window to the memory of Mrs. Charlotte Nicholls, was unveiled at St. John's school house, in the presence of a large gathering. On the platform were Mayor Best, Messrs Richard Hall, Adam Dawson, Rev. J. G. Potter, D. Hughes Charles, and others.

In a few opening remarks, Rev. J. C. Davidson explained that this ceremony was more than a congregational one, owing to Mrs. Nicholls' public bequests to the town, which the school desired to help in recognizing.

After an appropriate hymn, and prayer, Mrs. J. C. Davidson drew aside the temporary curtain, revealing the new window, which Rev. J. C. Davidson pronounced to be dedicated to the glory of God, and to the memory of Mrs. Charlotte Nicholls, a public benefactress to the town. He also referred to the fact that probably no other town in the province had received such large public bequests as Peterborough had done from Mrs. Nicholls.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, leader of the Young Men's Bible Class, then gave a short address. Mrs. Nicholls' $500, which had been donated by Mrs. Nicholls' to aid St. John's Sunday school, had been allowed to grow till it had formed a handsome nest-egg, to which $3,000 was added by the congregation, which enabled them to build the present handsome addition to the school house.

The Young Men's Bible Class had a large share in these benefits, and desired to show its appreciation of services rendered.

Mr. Dennistoun went on to explain the emblems upon the window which were especially suited to the Sunday School. These included the dove, representing the Holy Spirit; the Font, the Sacramental Chalice; the Lamb and the Pelican, feeding her young. The Lamb is representative of our Lord, and the Pelican, of the Church.

Mr. Richard Hall on behalf of the Trustees of the Nicholls Estate, expressed their grateful appreciation of the act of the day.

Mr. McGill, owing to his unavoidable absence from town could not be present.

Rev. J. G. Potter was then called upon as representing Mrs. Nicholls old congregation, St. Andrew's. He made a few pleasing remarks, expressing the hope that Mrs. Nicholls example might have the effect of causing many young people to emulate it as they looked upon her name.

The proceedings then terminated with the doxology.

The window is in the north end of the school house and was put in by McCausland Bros., of Toronto.

REV. CANON DIXON PREACHED TWICE

Took Both Services at St. John's Yesterday.

Rev. Canon Dixon of Toronto, preached two powerful evangelistic sermons at St. John's church yesterday, in the morning dealing with Nineveh's repentance, and in the evening with the parable of the lost coin.

At the conclusion of the morning sermon, Canon Dixon warmly congratulated the congregation on the liberal response made on behalf of missions, both in the Northwest and abroad, and also in the Diocesan field, which he specially represented. In both cases the apportionments have been largely exceeded. The congregation, perhaps, did not comprehend how much St. John's is looked up to throughout the Diocese.

The appointment of Rev. J. C. Davidson as Rural Dean, gave the congregation another chance to render valuable services to mission parishes, several of which were in this Rural Deanery. The work of a Rural Dean occupied much time, but was very valuable to the Church. He hoped that in every splendid enterprise this old mother parish might lead the way.

GREAT DAY AT S. A. BARRACKS

Special Services are Most Successful—A Splendid Musical Service.

Brigadier and Mrs. Howell, of Toronto, assisted by Captain DeBow, conducted very successful meetings in the Salvation Army barracks yesterday. At 11 a.m., Captain DeBow sang, "I'll go where you want me to go, Dear Lord." The Brigadier sang "None of Self, and all of Thee." The Brigadier spoke from I Sam. 15, 12-14, "I have performed the commandment of the Lord." Twelve came forward for consecration. In the afternoon the Brigadier and the Captain sang a duet, "Some day the Silver Cord will Break." Mrs. Howell gave an address on Isa. 9, 6, "Wonderful Councillor." A number in the audience were moved to tears.

At the night meeting a very large number attended and an impressive service was held. Thirteen came forward seeking salvation at the close. Captain DeBow sang, "Don't turn Him Away." Brigadier Howell sang, "The Bird with the Broken Plumage." The Brigadier gave a very able address on Romans 1, 16, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation."

NEW SHAPES AND STYLES

The success of this exhibition of clever artistic headwear, alone depends upon the public.

Each year, while we are taking advantage of each and every opportunity to keep in closest touch with foreign fashion centres, we are asked to draw upon the originality of our own Millinery artists, Our trimmers have visited the various centres of style and are modelling after the arts of Paris and New York, creating the daintiest and most catchy designs.

Ladies love exclusiveness and individuality, in fact, are yearly becoming more insistent in those respects, which accounts greatly for our increased prestige in the Millinery trade.

We're nothing, if not up-to-date, and it is not how much we can value a Hat but the value we can give you at the Price.

We extend an invitation to each Lady to visit our Millinery Display Room on the 2nd Floor, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Store open Thursday evening from 7 to 9.30 p. m.

P. S.—Each Department will take on their Spring appearance. A display of Novelties in Dress Goods, Linens, Wash Fabrics. Hosiery and Gloves on the main floor. 2nd floor Display of Spring Jackets, Shirt Waist Suits, Skirts, Waists, Carpets and Curtains.

UNTIMELY DEATH OF YOUNG LADY

Miss Helen Burnham Passed Away Yesterday of Pneumonia

After an illness of about six weeks duration from a pulmonary affection which later developed into pneumonia, Miss Helen Burnham, youngest daughter of the late John Burnham, M.P., passed away at the family residence, Fifth Ward, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The late Miss Burnham was 25 years of age, and her untimely demise has occasioned widespread grief amongst her large circle of friends.

Of the family, besides her mother, following members still survive:—Miss Burnham, who resides at home; Mrs. Gasks, of Toronto; Harold, of St. Catharines, and Frank at home.

The funeral, which is announced as private, will take place from the family residence, Fifth Ward, on Wednesday at two o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

RESPECTED RESIDENT OF OTONABEE DEAD

Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald Passed Away at Age of 89 Years.

The death of an old and highly respected resident of Otonabee occurred this morning, when Mr. William Fitzgerald passed away at the advanced age of 89 years at the residence of his son, Edward, lot 30, concession 8, after about a year's illness, death being due to a general weakness of the system, and not to any particular disease.

The deceased was born in County Limerick, Ireland, in 1816, and in 1847 came to Canada. He lived in Peterborough for eight years, being employed with Mr. Thos. Chambers, and afterwards moved to Otonabee, where he has since resided, an honoured and respected gentleman. His wife died 17 years ago, since which time he has lived with his son. He leaves eight sons to mourn his loss: Patrick, John, Edward, Michael, Thomas, Otonabee; Maurice and William, Indian River, and Francis, of Peterborough; James Joseph, another son, died some years ago.

The late Mr. Fitzgerald was a member of Father Matthew's Total Abstainers.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 8.30 to St. Peter's Cathedral and the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

DEATH OCCURRED IN MONAGHAN

Thomas Wilson Passed Away at Ripe Old Age.

The death occurred in Monaghan on Saturday night of an old and highly esteemed resident of that township in the person of Thomas Wilson.

Deceased was 84 years of age and died of senility. Left behind to mourn his loss are four daughters and one son. These are, Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Thompson, Monaghan; Mrs. Robert Chambers, Otonabee, and one other daughter, and Robert of Ashburnham. His wife pre-deceased him by some years.

The funeral took place from the residence of his son, Robert, Fifth Ward, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, interment taking place at Little Lake Cemetery.

FIFTH WARD LOSES ESTEEMED CITIZEN

Robt. Record Died Yesterday of Senility After Protracted Illness.

Robert Record one of Ashburnham's oldest and most respected residents, passed away last night at 11 o'clock, at his home, Rogers street, Fifth Ward.

Death resulted from senility, the deceased having been in poor health for some time previous to his demise. The late Mr. Record has resided in Ashburnham for about 40 years. He was a Methodist in religion and was a member of the Mark street church.

Surviving deceased are five sons: Rice, of Caledonia, Mich.; John, of Port Hope; William, of East St. Louis, Ill.; and Richard and George of the Fifth Ward. His wife predeceased him by some years.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Fifth Ward, on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery, for interment.

BOGUS BILLS FOUND TO-DAY

Two $5.00 Bank of Montreal Counterfeits Presented.

Are Good Imitations of the Genuine—Ontario Bank Declined the Counterfeits.

Some more bogus $5 Bank of Montreal Bank Notes have been found. To-day two notes of the above denomination were presented to the Ontario Bank, one of them came from Mr. W. C. Forman, and the other was deposited by Mr. J. Drain.

These bills are identically of the same batch as those taken up some time ago. They are all "series D," and are dated "January 2nd 1895." They are good imitations, and the feel, which is usually the best way to detect the counterfeit, is deceptive.

The Chief of Police now has these bills in his possession, and the matter will be investigated.

FORMER PASTOR PREACHES HERE

Rev. J.H.Locke of Omemee at Charlotte Street Yesterday

Exchanged Pulpits With Rev. W. J. Jolliffe—Spoke on Offices of the Spirit.

Yesterday in the Charlotte street church, Rev. J. H. Locke, a former pastor of the George street church, but now of Omemee, preached at both services, and many of his old friends heard him with pleasure.

At the evening service he preached on the offices of the Holy Spirit, his text being Acts 19, 2, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost?" This question he said, was one which was being asked to-day, as well as at the time the words recorded in that text were uttered.

The Holy Ghost has always been present in the world. It was present at the creation, and all down the ages since its influence has been felt for good. It has been present, however, in intensified form, since the day of Pentecost.

Speaking of the necessity of the operation of the Holy Spirit, Rev. Mr. Locke said that if it were not for the Holy Spirit, we would pass our lives away in slumber, and indifferent to our spiritual welfare, and in sin, and would only awake from this state when it was too late. Therefore the Holy Spirit is necessary to repentance. It not only awakens the sinner to the need of salvation, but it also gives effect to the power of salvation in the saving of a man.

The Christian graces cultivated by those who have been regenerated are the fruits of the Spirit, and it also helps the Christian in the enjoyment of living, which comes from a sense of having done right, so that the Spirit is a bringer of comfort to the Christian.

The sermon of the former Peterborough pastor was much enjoyed and was one which gave ample grounds for serious consideration on the parts of his hearers.

SATURDAY "POP" WAS ENJOYED

Fourth Entertainment at Y. M. C. A. Held Saturday Night.

A Splendid Programme was Rendered —A Lecture This Week.

Despite the most unfavourable weather conditions there was a fair attendance at the fourth Y.M.C.A. Pop on Saturday night. Those present greatly enjoyed the programme.

Mr. Holmes presided in his usual capable manner. Prof. Milner opened the programme with a piano solo, exhibiting the skill he possesses as a musician.

Enjoyable solos were given by Messrs. J. R. Sproule and N. Hidpath and little Miss Pringle's recitations were very cleverly given, and encores were demanded by the audience.

Mr. E. C. Scrigley, Commercial Master of the P. C. I. gave his interesting lecture on "A Trip by Wheel and Trolley to Historic Spots in York County, to the Home of the Children of Peace." Mr. Scrigley had his matter well in hand and kept his audience interested from start to finish. The lecture was illustrated by a series of splendid slides, prepared by Mr. Scrigley himself.

The hope is expressed that the lecture will be repeated again in the near future, when more may have an opportunity to hear it.

The next Pop will be on Saturday night of this week.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., will give his lecture on "Life in the German Army. An appropriate musical programme will be given also.

THE CHURCHES.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

The music in Charlotte street church yesterday was of a pleasing nature. In the morning the anthem was "Jesus My Saviour," with a soprano solo by Miss Bellegham, and at the offertory, the Male Quartette sang "Rock of Ages, with a solo by Mr. R. N. Jolliffe. At the evening service, the anthem was "The Radiant Morn has Passed Away," and after the lesson Miss Bellegham and Mr. Jolliffe sang very effectively "Sweet Hour of Prayer," and Miss Bellegham at the offertory sang "With Broken Heart and Contrite Sigh."

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At St. John's yesterday Rev. Canon Dixon, of Toronto, preached at both services. The sermons were earnest and in their devotional character and influence quite in keeping with the solemnity of the season. The anthem at the offertory, "At Evening Ere the Sun Has Set," was exquisitely given. Miss Marguerite Sawers and Mr. H. Morphet sang the incidental solos admirably.

How's Your Roof?

This is the kind of weather to test whether your roof is watertight. Who wouldn't like to have a roofing that would last a lifetime? It is made of a solid flexible body of Asphalt and wears like slate. "All trials have been failures until we struck the Carey Roofing," says one building supply company. PLACED ORDER FOR ROLLING MILL

Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company Buys One

Capital Increased to $50,000—Will Commence Manufacturing in May.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company was held this morning when an order was placed with the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company for a large rolling mill plant to be completed at the earliest possible date.

The erection of new storehouses and a large building for a handle factory was authorized, and the specifications are being prepared.

The remainder of the machinery has arrived and the company is rushing matters with a view to commencing manufacturing early in May.

A meeting of the shareholders has been called for April 3rd to authorize the increasing of the paid-up capital stock from $30,000 to $50,000.

The position of general manager of the Company was considered by the Board, and was offered to a Peterborough man, who has the matter under consideration, and an announcement will probably be made in the near future.

A NATIONAL SYSTEM

Sir William Mulock's Motion For a Telephone Committee.

FAVORS PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

To Secure the Best Service For the People to Be Object of Committee Appointed — Postmaster-General Expressed His Preference for Telephone Department, as Was the Post Office.

Ottawa, March 18.—The House yesterday unanimously adopted Sir Wm. Mulock's resolution to appoint a special committee to investigate the telephone problem, with a view to recommending a means of securing the best service for the public. The Postmaster-General, while retaining an open mind, unhesitatingly expressed his own preference for a publicly owned telephone system, saying he saw no reason why it should not be a department of the Government, as was the Post Office. The step was commended by such Conservatives as Mr. W. F. Maclean and Dr. Barr.

The remainder of the day was spent in supply on the marine estimates, items to the amount of $898,700 being passed.

Bills Read a First Time.

The following bills were introduced and read a first time:

Respecting the Grand River and Western Power Company—Mr. Zimmerman.

Respecting the Presbyterian College of Halifax—Mr. Lancaster.

Respecting the Farmers' Bank of Canada—Mr. Miller.

Select Phone Committee.

Sir William Mulock moved the following resolution:

"That a select committee, composed of Messrs. Burrows, Smith (Nanaimo), Johnston (Cape Breton, South), Grant, Demers (St. John and Iberville), Monk, Maclean (York), Boyce, Roche (Marquette), and the mover, be appointed to inquire into and report regarding the various public telephone systems in operation in Canada and elsewhere, as the committee shall determine; and to consider and report what changes, if any, are advisable in respect of the methods at present in force for furnishing telephone service to the public. Such committee have power to send for persons and papers, to examine persons under oath, to engage stenographers, clerical and other assistance, and to report from time to time."

Adjunct of the Post Office.

The Postmaster-General said that the wide extent to which the telephone was used demanded from Parliament considerations of the means by which its use might be still further extended. Next to the Post Office, the telephone was of the greatest use to the people. In a few years the telephone system in England would have passed under Government control, and without prejudicing the future destiny of the telephone in Canada, the result of the committee's enquiry would at least enable the House to reach the safest conclusion as to the best means of dealing with this important question.

"If I were to confess to a bias upon this subject," added Sir William, "It would be this, that I cannot see why it is not as much the duty of the State to take charge of the telephone system as it is to conduct the Post Office."

The Postmaster-General moved to add the name of Mr. Zimmerman, of Hamilton to the committee.

Congratulates Sir William.

W. F. Maclean, Mr. Logan, of Hants, and Dr. Barr congratulated the Minister on his motion, which was unanimously adopted.

In reply to Mr. Haggart, the Minister of Railways said he would make a ministerial announcement in reference to the Canada Atlantic Railway when the Grand Trunk Railway bill came up for its third reading.

In Committee of Supply.

The House then went into committee of supply on maritime and fisheries estimates.

Items amounting to $898,700 were passed and the House adjourned at 11.30 p. m.

Hands Across the Border.

Ottawa, March 18.—Hon. Senators Dandurand, Speaker of the Senate; Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Senator McSweeney, of Moncton, attended the inaugural ceremonies at Washington last month, and were royally received. In recognition of the courtesies shown them, official cognisance of the friendly act towards the Canadian chamber was duly recorded in the proceedings of the Senate yesterday.

Montreal, March 18.—There is no probability of the Grand Trunk Pacific creating a new winter port on the Atlantic. A choice will be made between either St. John or Halifax. Possibly both may be used. That was the information given in the president's office yesterday morning, apropos of a speech made by Nathan Dunlop, the chairman of the Allan Company, during a luncheon on board the Victorian, while on a trial trip on the Clyde.

REILLY DID RETURN

Trial of the Ballot Box Cases At Belleville Proceeds.

THE INDICTMENTS QUASHED

But the Grand Jury Returned New Bills in the Cases of Reilly, Ruttan and Harryett—Philip Lott Gives Evidence in the Ruttan Case—Reilly Will Not Testify.

Belleville, March 18.—Another surprise took place in the ballot box case yesterday when Frank J. Reilly, who, on Wednesday night left for parts unknown, returned and was arraigned in court. It was stated by some of Reilly's friends that he was coming back, but most people refused to believe it until they saw him. He came in at 2.30 from the east, accompanied by his Kingston lawyer, Mr. Ridley.

Reilly in Jail.

Shortly afterwards Reilly was arraigned in court and pleaded not guilty. His counsel, Mr. Johnston, asked that Reilly's bail be continued. Judge McMahon said he had no objection, if the Crown Prosecutor was willing. Mr. Hellmuth, however, was not, the consequence being that Reilly departed in custody of Jailor Appleby, and is now in jail.

When Ruttan's trial started yesterday morning, Mr. Riddell, his counsel, objected to the indictment and claimed that his client should have been tried at the sessions last December. The Crown Prosecutor, he contended, had no right to try conspiracy cases at the present court.

Indictments Quashed.

After much legal argument, the three indictments were resubmitted to the Grand Jury, and again true bills were returned in the cases of Messrs. Ruttan, Reilly and Harryett. The trial of Ruttan was then proceed with.

The Crown Prosecutor addressed the jury, placing before them the principal parts he proposed to try to prove, and called Phil Lott as the first witness. Phil's story was substantially the same as at the preliminary investigation. Mr. Riddell, Ruttan's counsel, raised many objections, but the judge overruled them. Mr. Maybee, of Toronto, gave Phil a trying examination, but he quite held his own.

Philip Lott Testifies.

About the only new point brought out was when Phil said in answer to a question by Mr. Maybee that he had intended at the start to expose the matter, and had secured the letters written by Reilly, Shibley and his brother to protect himself. The court adjourned at 6 o'clock to 7.30, the judge announcing that hereafter he will hold night sittings.

In court yesterday afternoon Mr. Johnston called the judge's attention to the fact that certain papers had commented on Reilly's leaving the city. If there was any repetition, he said he would ask the court to punish them. The judge said that if Mr. Reilly had not left the country, and had stayed to face his trial, it was altogether likely that the papers would have made no comment on him.

Ballot Boxes There.

The court convened again at 7.40 p. m., and all the famous ballot boxes which had been rescued from Sydenham Lake and elsewhere were in evidence.

The cross-examination of Phil Lott was continued by Mr. Maybee. Nothing new was brought out. He said he had acted under advice the best part of the time.

The Tinsmith's Evidence.

H. M. Carscallen, a Watertown tinsmith, was the next witness. He told how a man, who he since learned was named Reilly, had visited him in Watertown in regard to the manufacture of bogus ballot boxes. Reilly had given him a paper which was the design for a bogus box. The witness told how he had been approached to manufacture boxes with false sides. He had turned over the matter to a Mr. Roof.

Reilly as a Witness.

An argument then ensued as to whether or not Reilly should be called as a witness. The Crown Prosecutor wanted to call him, and the lawyers quoted authorities by the yard. Mr. Johnston argued that it was not fair to try the defendants severally, and thus try to use their evidence one against the other. The court, he said, had no right to make Reilly give evidence which would tend to incriminate himself.

Mr. Hellmuth argued that the statutes did not uphold Mr. Johnston's view, and quoted authorities.

After a long discussion, the judge decided that Reilly could be called.

Mr. Johnston said he was compelled to say that, if his client, Reilly, was called, he must advise him not to answer.

The judge said it would mean in that case that Reilly would be sent back to jail.

Mr. Hellmuth said that under the circumstances he would not call Reilly.

Patrick Cotter, the Watertown lad, who gave evidence at the preliminary investigation, told practically the same story as he told then, incriminating Reilly.

Thomas Whelan was next called. He told the same story as at the preliminary investigation. He thought at the time that the boxes he brought over from Ogdensburg contained something necessary to Mr. Reilly's studies.

The court adjourned at 9.20 till 9.30 Saturday morning.

Engine Drops Into River.

Buffalo, March 18.—An engine and one car, part of a train of fifteen cars of dressed beef, plunged into the Niagara river about 7.30 o'clock Friday night close to the Canadian end of the International bridge. The train was on the Michigan Central tracks and was a Michigan Central train. Engineer Delaney stuck to his post to the last, thinking to check the speed of his engine, but when he saw he could not he yelled to his fireman to jump, and then jumped himself. The engine and one car jumped the snubbing block at the foot of the decline and plunged into the river.

Cabman Takes Poison

Brockville, March 18.—In the General Hospital Saturday night Samuel Wilson died from the effects of drinking Paris green. For the past few weeks he had been acting strangely. Over an imaginary illness. Saturday about noon he mixed a teaspoonful and a half of Paris green in a cup and drank it. Several hours later he showed evidence of the poison. He acknowledged his act. Nothing could be done for him. Wilson was 60 years of age, and a cabman. He married Mrs. Jas. McCallum, who with two step-daughters, survive.

Mr. Upper's Narrow Escape.

St. Catharines, March 18.—Walter Upper, of Allanburg, who was the Conservative candidate against W. M. German in Welland in the Dominion elections, had a narrow escape from drowning in the old canal at Merritton yesterday afternoon. He was returning from St. Catharines, and, when near the cotton mills, a G. T. R. train came along and frightened his horses. Mr. Upper lost control and the team dashed down the bank of the waste weir of the old canal. On the ice there was open water 100 feet out. A short distance from the open water they broke through the ice and disappeared from view, pulling the sleigh after them. The box of the sleigh floated, and Mr. Upper found himself standing up to his knees in ice-cold water. Men on the banks made a raft of some logs and Mr. Upper, half frozen, crawled out on it. The team was worth $300.

Icefloes Prevent Sealing.

St. John's, Nfld., March 18.—The sealing fleet along the northern coast has not been reported since leaving Monday at daylight, but the steamers Viking and Alegrine, operating in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, are unable to reach the sealing grounds, owing to immense ice fields. No sailing vessels attempted to engage in the gulf seal fishery this year, owing to the unusual extent of the ice fields.

The Heart's Highway

... By ...

MARY E. WILKINS

Copyright, 1900, by DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

It had been a hard task for many planters to purchase the necessaries of life with the profits of their tobacco crop, since the trade with the Netherlands was prohibited by his most gracious majesty, King Charles II., for the supply, being limited to the English market, had so exceeded the demand that it brought but a beggarly price per pound.

Therefore I wondered, knowing that many of those articles of women's attire mentioned by Mistress Mary were of great value and brought great sums in London, and knowing, too, that the maid, though innocently fond of such things, to which she had, moreover, the natural right of youth and beauty such as hers, which should have all the silks and jewels of earth, and no questioning, for its adorning, was not given to selfish appropriation for her own needs, but rather considered those of others first.

However, Mistress Mary had some property in her own right, she being the daughter of a second wife who had died possessed of a small plantation called Laurel Creek, which was a mile distant from Drake Hill, further inland, having no ship dock and employing this. Mistress Mary might have sent some of her own tobacco crop to England wherewith to purchase finery for herself.

Still I wondered, and I wondered still more when Mistress Mary, albeit the Lord's day and the penalty for such labor being even for them of high degree not light, should propose as she did that the goods be then and there unladen. Then I ventured to address her, riding close to her side, that the captain and the sailors should not hear and think that I held her in slight respect and treated her like a child, since I presumed to call her to account for aught she chose to do.

"Madam," said I as low as might be, "do you remember the day?"

"And wherefore should I not?" asked she, with a toss of her gold locks and a pout of her red lips which was childishness and willfulness itself; but there went along with it a glance of her eyes which puzzled me, for suddenly a sterner and older spirit of resolve seemed to look out of them into mine. "Think you I am in my dotage, Master Wingfield, that I remember not the day?" she said. "And think you that I am going deaf that I hear not the church bells?"

"If we miss the service for the unlading of the goods, and it be discovered, it may go amiss with us," said I.

"Are you then afraid, Master Wingfield?" asked she, with a glance of scorn and a blush of shame at her own words, for she knew that they were false.

I felt the blood rush to my face, and I reined back my horse and said no more.

"I pray you have the goods that you know of unladen at once, Captain Tabor," said she, and she made a motion that would have been a stamp had she stood.

Calvin Tabor laughed and cast a glance of merry malice at me and bowed low as he replied:

"The goods shall be unladen within the hour mistress," said he, "and if you and the gentleman would rather not tarry to see them for fear of discovery"—

"We shall remain," said Mistress Mary. "I pray you order the goods unladen at once, Captain Tabor." Then the captain laughed again in his dare-devil fashion as he turned to the sailors and shouted out the order, and straightway the sailors so swarmed hither and thither upon the deck that they seemed five times as many as before, and then we heard the hatches flung back with claps like guns.

We sat there and waited, and the bell over in Jamestown rang and the long notes died away with sweet echoes as if from distant heights.

I waited and listened while the sailors unloaded the goods with many a shout and repeated loud commands from the captain, and Mistress Mary kept her eyes turned away from my face and watched persistently the unlading and had seemingly no more thought of me than of one of the swamp trees for some time. Then all at once she turned toward me, though still her eyes evaded mine.

"Why do you not go to church, Master Wingfield?" she said in a sweet, sharp voice.

"I go when you go, madam," said I.

"You have no need to wait for me," said she. "I prefer that you should not wait for me."

I made no reply, but reined in my horse, which was somewhat restive, with his head in a cloud of early flies.

"Do you not hear me, Master Wingfield?" said she. "Why do you not proceed to church and leave me to follow when I am ready?"

She had never spoken to me in such manner before, and she dared not look at me as she spoke.

"I go when you go, madam," said I again.

Then suddenly, with an impulse half of mischief and half of anger, she lashed out with her riding whip at my restive horse, and he sprang, and I had much ado to keep him from bolting. He danced to all the trees and bushes, and she had to pull Merry Roger sharply to one side, but finally I got the mastery of him and rode close to her again.

"Madam," said I, "I forbid you to do that again," and as I spoke I saw her little fingers twitch on her whip, but she dared not raise it. She laughed as a child will who knows she is at fault and is scared by her consciousness of guilt and would conceal it by a bravado of merriment. Then she said in the sweetest, wheedling tone that I had ever heard from her, and I had known her from childhood:

"But, Master Wingfield, 'tis broad daylight and there are no Indians hereabouts, and if there were, here are all these English sailors and Captain Tabor. Why need you stay? Indeed, I shall be quite safe—and hear, that must be the last stroke of the bell."

Harry's horse resents Mary's lash

But I was not to be moved by wheedling. I repeated again that I should remain where she was. Then she, grown suddenly stern again, withdrew a little from me, but sat still, watching the unlading with a gravity which gave me a vague uneasiness. I began to have a feeling that here was more than appeared on the surface, and my suspicions grew as I watched the sailors lift those boxes which were supposed to contain Mistress Mary's finery. In the first place, there were enough of them to contain the wardrobe of a lady in waiting; in the second place, they were of curious shape for such purposes; in the third place, 'twas all those lusty English sailors could do to lift them.

"They be the heaviest furbelows that ever maiden wore," I thought as I watched them strain at the cases, both hauling and pulling, with many men to the ends to get them through the hatch, then ease them to the deck, with regard to the nipping of fingers. I noted, too, an order given somewhat privately by Captain Tabor to put out the pipes, and noted that not one man but had stowed his away.

There was a bridle path leading through the woods to Laurel Creek, and by that way, to my consternation, Mistress Mary ordered the sailors to carry the cases. 'Twas two miles inland, and I marveled much to hear her, for even should nearly all the crew go, the load would be a grievous one, it seemed to me. But to my mind Captain Calvin Tabor behaved as if the order was one which he expected. Neither did the sailors grumble, but straightway loaded themselves with the cases raised upon a species of hurdles which must have been provided for the purpose and proceeded down the bridle path, singing to keep up their hearts another song even more at odds with the day than the first.

The captain marched at the head of the sailors, and Mistress Mary and I followed slowly through the narrow aisle of green. I rode ahead, and often pulled my horse to one side, pressing his body hard against the trees thus I might hold back a branch which would have caught her headgear. All the way we never spoke. When we reached Laurel Creek, Mistress Mary drew the key from her pocket, which showed to me that the visit had been planned should the ship have arrived. She unlocked the door, and the sailors, no longer singing, for they were well nigh spent by the journey under the heavy burdens, deposited the cases in the great room. Laurel Creek had belonged to Mistress Mary's maternal grandfather, Colonel Edmond Lane, and had not been inhabited this many a year, not since Mary was a baby in arms.

The old furniture still stood in the accustomed places, looking desolate with that peculiar desolateness of lifeless things which have been associated with man. The house at Laurel Creek was a fine mansion, finer than Drake Hill, and the hall made me think of England. Great oak chests stood against the walls, hung with rusting swords and armor and empty powder horns. A carved seat was beside the cold hearth, and in a corner was a tall spinning wheel, and the carved stair led in a spiral ascent of mystery to the shadows above.

When the cases were all deposited in the great room Mistress Mary held a short conference apart with Captain Calvin Tabor, and I saw some gold pass from her hand to his. Then she thanked him and the sailors for their trouble very prettily in that way she had which would have made every one as willing to die for her as to carry heavy weights. Then we all filed out from the house and Mistress Mary locked the door and bade goodby to Captain Tabor; then he and his men took again the bridle path back to the ship, and she and I proceeded churchward on the highway.

When we were once alone together I spurred my horse up to hers and caught her bridle and rode alongside and spoke to her as if all the past were naught, and I with the right to which I had been born. It had come to that pass with me in those days that all the pride I had left was that of humility, but even that I was ready to give up for her if necessary.

"Tell me, madam," said I, "what was in those cases?"

"Have I not told you?" she said, and I knew that she whitened under her mask.

"There is more than woman's finery in those cases, which weigh like lead," said I. "What do they contain?"

Mistress Mary had, after all, little of the feminine power of subterfuge in her. If she tried it it was, as in this case, too transparent. Straight to the point she went with perfect frankness of daring and rebellion as a boy might.

"It requires not much wit, methinks, Master Wingfield, to see that," said she. Then she laughed. "Lord, how the poor sailor men toiled to lift my gauzes and feathers and ribbons!" said she. Then her blue eyes looked at me through her mask with indescribable daring and defiance.

"Well, and what will you do?" said she. "You are a gentleman in spite—you are a gentleman, you cannot betray me to my hurt and you cannot command me like a child, for I am a child no longer, and I will not tell you what those cases contain."

"You shall tell me," said I.

"Make me if you can," said she.

"Tell me what those cases contain," said I.

Then she collapsed all at once, as only the citadel of a woman's will can do through some inner weakness.

"Guns and powder and shot and partisans," said she. Then she added, like one who would fain readjust herself upon the heights of her own resolution by a good excuse for having fallen: "Fie, why should I not have told you, Master Wingfield? You cannot betray me, for you are a gentleman, and I am not a child."

"Why have you had guns and ammunition brought from England?" I asked. But in the shock of the discovery I had loosened my grasp of her bridle and she was off, and in a minute we were in Jamestown and could not disturb the Sabbath quiet by talk or ride too fast.

We were a good hour and a half late, but there was to my mind enough of preaching yet for my soul's good, for I thought not much of Parson Downs nor his sermons. But I dreaded for Mistress Mary that which might come from her tardiness and her Sabbath breaking, if that were discovered. I dismounted and assisted Mistress Mary to the horse block, and off came her black velvet mask, and she clapped a pretty hand to her hair and shook her skirts and wiped off a mud splash. Then up the aisle she went, and I after her, and all the people staring.

I can see that church as well today as if I were this moment there. Heavily sweet with honey and almond scent it was, as well as sweet herbs and musk which the ladies had on their handkerchiefs, for it was like a bower with flowers. Great pink boughs arched overhead, and the altar was as white as snow with blossoms. Up the aisle she flashed, and none but Mary Cavendish could have made that little journey under the eyes of the governor in his pew and the governor's lady and all the burgesses and the churchwarden half starting up as if to exercise his authority and the parson swelling with a vast expanse of sable robes over the book, with no abashedness and yet no boldness nor unmaidenly forwardness.

There was an innocent gayety on her face like a child's and an entire confidence in good will and loving charity for her tardiness which disarmed all. She looked out from that gauze love hood of hers as she came up the aisle, and the governor, who had a harsh face enough ordinarily, beamed mildly indulgent. His lady eyed her with a sort of pleasant and reminiscent wonder, though she was a haughty dame.

Mary and Harry Wingfield walking up the aisle

The churchwarden settled back, and as for Parson Downs, his great, red face curved in a smile and his eyes twinkled under their heavy overhang of florid brow, and then he declaimed in a hoarser and louder shout than ever to cover the fact of his wandering attention. And young Sir Humphrey Hyde, sitting between his mother, Lady Betty, and his sister, Cicely, turned as pale as death when he saw her enter, and kept so, with frequent covert glances at her from time to time, and I saw him and knew that he knew about Mistress Mary's furbelow boxes.

Dilation of the Stomach

The gravity of enlargement of the stomach cannot be overestimated. One of the principal causes that produces this distressed condition is inordinate eating and drinking. Weakness of the muscles that propel the food to the intestines is also a factor in allowing the food to accumulate in the stomach, and thus stretching it to enormous size. Constipation and inactivity of the liver is also a prominent cause.

In this condition you usually find a coated tongue, thirst, loss of appetite, emaciation, oppression at the pit of the stomach, belching of fetid gas and vomiting of sour liquid, varying in amount. Weakness, paleness and want of energy are usually present.

Now, to overcome this distressing and dangerous enlargement of the stomach and all its symptoms, take Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills today. They will give tone to the weak propelling muscles of the stomach and intestines. They produce a natural movement of the contents of the bowels and avoid the formation of gas, which if retained produces symptoms of self-poisoning. Food long retained in the stomach and matter in the bowels show all the signs of putrefaction, when examined after the stomach pump is used, viz: sour odor, bacteria, yeast, saccharine and organic acid, which are deleterious to the entire system.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation as if by magic. They regulate the functions of the liver, cleanse the poisons from the blood, remove the bilious elements from the circulation and strengthen the nerves. If your eyes are clouded without an appreciable cause, if you have specks and floating objects before your vision, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and get the poisonous elements out of your blood. Remember, they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

Unhappy Women!

No woman can be happy when her health is undermined. No woman can have good health while she suffers from female weakness, inflammation, ulceration or any disease of the delicate womanly organs. Nervous, sleepless, fretful, suffering in body and mind, she does not live but only exists.

More than a half a million such women have found a perfect and permanent cure for their diseased condition in the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Women cured by this remedy say it is a "wonderful medicine," so perfectly does it restore them to health and comeliness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other harmful drug. It is in the strictest sense, an honest, temperance medicine. Its ingredients are purely vegetable, and it will agree with the most delicate constitution.

☞ Don't be hypnotized, or over persuaded, into accepting a substitute. This medicine has a record that's worth far more than any difference in price.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, either personally or by letter, absolutely without charge or fee, thus avoiding the unpleasant questionings, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments considered necessary by many local practitioners. All correspondence treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE MARKET

Price of Butter has Advanced—No Other Marked Variations.

The attendance on the market Saturday morning was quite large considering the inclement state of the weather. The only noticeable variation from the prices ruling last week was that of butter, which advanced 2c to 25c, the supply being readily disposed of at that figure. Eggs, however, took a proportionate drop, selling at 17c. About the only poultry in sight was chickens, which were quite plentiful and brought about 80c. Honey was 10c lb. In the outside market prices were almost without exception, similar to those of last week. Beef was plentiful, bringing 5c and 6c. Pork still remains 8c and 9c. The supply of potatoes was large, the usual price being 70c to 75c per bag. Apples were 40c for Russets, though some other choice varieties were disposed of at a higher price.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS

A MOVEMENT IN BASEBALL

Three Annual Meetings Will be Held To-night.

To-night three annual meetings will be held. In the Oriental Motel the Peterborough Baseball Club will hold its organization meeting, when it is expected that a team will be formed to enter the Midland League under the management of Mr. Robt. McEwen, who is a baseball manager of considerable experience, and who is confident that he can put a strong team in the field.

In the T. A. S. rooms the annual meeting of the T. A. S. Baseball Club will be held and the probabilities are that this team will enter the City League, if one is formed, and it looks now as if there would be a City League this year. The T.A.S. team will also go after more extensive honours this season. They have challenged any baseball team in the T. A. U. of America, and the team will go to the town in Pennsylvania in which the annual convention of the T. A. U. will be held to defend the challenge they have issued.

The Young Quakers will also meet to-night in their annual meeting and the Quakers will no doubt be as strong if not a little stronger than last year.

KIND WORDS FOR MIDLAND LEAGUE

Secretary of Deseronto Club Praises its Spirit of Fairness.

The secretary of the Midland Football League has received a letter from Mr. F. H. Richardson, secretary of the Deseronto Football Club in which he acknowledges receipt of a copy of the Examiner "containing such a well written article on the Midland Football League". He regrets, however, that the Deseronto Club will not be able to enter the League this year, the principal reason for this being that there are no other teams in that district which will enter the league, and it is hard to work up enthusiasm in the game with no teams to go up against until the semi-finals as was the case last year.

Mr. Richardson says, "We enjoyed the two games we engaged in last season very much, and were pleased with the spirit of fairness which the Executive showed on every occasion and exceedingly regret that we will not be with you this season, but perhaps by another by another season we will be in a position to join again. We will follow with interest the series of games this season and trust that it will be a very successful one for the M. F. B. L."

The Deseronto team were up against hard luck last season, since their efforts to induce other teams from that district to join the league, were unavailing, and they only played two games, winning one and losing one. They showed themselves good sports, however, and the fact that the team will not be in the league this season will be regretted by the other teams.

HOCKEY

Regarding the challenge appearing in last night's Examiner, of St. St. John's Guild Hockey team, to play the George Street team, champions of the Guild League, the latter team wish to state that they will not consider the challenge of the Anglicans, whom they have defeated on two occasions this winter by the scores of 7-1 and 4-3. The Guild League champions will play no more games this year with the exception of a possible return match with the B. A. C. team.

• • • •

The final game for the championship of the Trent Valley League will be played in Lindsay to-night, Cobourg and Fenelon Falls have each won two games in the final round which has, therefore, left them a tie. Much interest is centred in the match for this evening as the Fenelon team has a Provincial reputation and the Cobourg team will be considerably strengthened for the occasion. The Fenelon team intend running a large excursion from the village to Lindsay.

The great Russo-Japanese hockey war is getting pretty even. The armies have now got to a Tie Pass.

• • • •

The Toronto Telegram throws the following bouquet at a Peterborough boy:—"Bert Armstrong was the Marlboro star. He shot down the ice time and again, beating the whole forward line, and getting in close for shots. His speed was as great as any of the visitors', and his work was most effective, excepting only that of Bellefeuille. Not only was Armstrong's work brilliant, but it was all the time, and not in fits and starts. And he played with his team. Back from a rush he was down to his place in a twinkling, ready to stave off counter-rushes, and he did it well. They could not stop him, and he played the boards beautifully. Indeed in that particular the home team did much better work than the Rats."

• • • •

Speaking of the Rat Portage-Marlboro game, the Star says:—"Harold Armstrong played a dashing game for the winners and clearly demonstrated that the company was none too fast for him. He checked splendidly, and scintillated in brilliant rushes on the Rat Portage goal."

• • • •

A close game is expected to-night at the Brock street rink when All Saints' Guild team meet the St. John's aggregation, Mr. R. M. Glover will likely referee.

• • • •

Chaucer Elliott, of Kingston, will referee the final game in the Trent Valley League to-night at Lindsay, between Fenelon Falls and Cobourg.

CURLING

Through a leak in the roof considerable of the ice at the curling rink has been put "out of business for the balance of the season. However, two sheets of ice on the west side were not destroyed and are in excellent shape for the finals in the Bonspiel, which will be played to-night between Messrs. Dixon and Rutherford.

The ice at the rink throughout the season has been of a splendid quality thiough the untiring efforts of Mr. Angus McIntosh, whose past reputation as one of the best ice-makers in the business has been fully maintained during the present season.

• • • •

The Young Electrics defeated the Junior All Saints' on Brock street rink Saturday by a score of 6 to 2. The line-up was as follows:—

Electrics.		All Saints.
Halpin	Goal	Webb
H. Miller	Point	E. Hillier
W. Miller	Cover Point	Ryan
Leplante	Rover	Barclay
Doris	Centre	Tucker
Seymour	Wings	Simmons
Holland		H. Hillier

• • • •

The Young Electrics challenge the West Ends to a return game as soon as Brock street rink is available.

• • • •

The last game of the season in Toronto was played on Saturday night between the Rat Portage team and a selected Toronto team, the score being a tie, seven all.

• • • •

The Marlboros went to Winnipeg yesterday expecting to play a series of games with the Rowing Club.

• • • •

The Firemen wish to challenge Higgins' Favourites to a game of hockey in the Brock street rink on Wednesday evening, if the ice can be secured.

CURLING.

The semi-finals in the bonspiel were played Friday night with the following result:—

Rutherford won from Greer.
Dixon won from Edwards.

• • • •

It is reported that the match between Lieutenant Best's rink of B. A. C. curlers and Mr. Winch's rink of veterans will not materialize, because of an attack of "cold feet" which the latter are experiencing.

BASEBALL.

Peterborough is commencing to talk baseball, and say they will have a strong team. Robt. McEwen, formerly manager of the Night Owls, of Toronto, is to run the team, which will be entered in the Midland league, if there is one.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

• • • •

The organization meeting of the Peterborough Baseball Club will be held to-night at 8 o'clock in the Oriental Hotel parlours. A full attendance is requested.

• • • •

Two applications have been received from Bowmanville for positions on the Lindsay team this year. One was from Hooper, their last year's pitcher, and the other from an outfielder. These applications from outside places for positions on the Lindsay baseball team were received by Manager Simpson, two applying for second base and one for the pitching box. The secretary has replied "nothing doing", but will file the applications for future reference.—Lindsay Post.

On Tuesday night a meeting of all the members of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild who are interested in the formation of a baseball team will be held in the T.M.C.A. and it is hoped that all interested will be present.

FOOTBALL.

There is some talk of forming a football league amongst the different teams in this vicinity. The Cobourg club are going to take the lead in this matter, and intend offering the silver cup won by them last year at the Central Exhibition as a trophy. Such a league would do a lot toward increasing the popularity of football around here.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

BASKET-BALL.

Don't forget that there will be two good fast games of basketball played in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium next Friday evening at 7.30 between the teams of Port Hope and Peterborough.

This will be the first game for the regular senior team and will be fast. Also the Port Hope Jr. School Boys will play our boys team. We have got a very good boys' team and these games will be very interesting to the parents of the boys.

The first game will be played with the senior team at 7.30 after which the boys will play. Admission 15c.

CRICKET.

To-night the annual meeting of the Colts Cricket Club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

BOYS PELTED THE SLEIGH PARTY

An Experience Which Befell a Party of Girls Friday.

On the 17th March a fourth-book class of girls were out for a sleigh ride. They were driven by Mr. Fitzsimmons, and as they were turning off Smith street to go down the Boundary Line, they were suddenly met with a volley of snowballs from four boys who were out for the afternoon's fun.

Mr. Fitzsimmons, who was watching the sport, turned too short and immediately the contents of the sleigh were piled, like cord wood, in the snow bank.

After they got the sleigh up and contents back in again, the teamster gave the boys "blind beat" with the horsewhip, but the boys jumped upon their bob-sleigh and rode down the hill, leaving the teamster and his party at the top.—Com.

DURHAM STILL WANTS DIVORCE

Unless a Satisfactory Arrangement is Made

Meeting to Discuss the Matter Held in Port Hope.

The meeting of the Mayors, Reeves and County Councillors of the County of Durham was held in the Council Chamber Friday afternoon and various opinions given as to the advisability of separation, says the Port Hope Guide. Everyone present was given an opportunity to speak and there were numerous good points brought out, but we are still closely united to Northumberland and it all depends upon this special meeting of the County Council, to be called by Warden Kennedy, whether we receive a divorce and commence house keeping for ourselves.

The following resolution was carried:—

"That the Reeves, Mayors and members of the minor Municipal Councils and County Councillors from the County of Durham be an organization to take action to bring about the separation of the County of Durham from the County of Northumberland."

Moved by Mr. Donaldson and seconded by Mr. Preston,—That the Warden is hereby requested to call a special meeting of the Counties Council at as early a day as convenient, and that a committee consisting of the Reeves and Mayors of the Municipalities present to the Council the terms upon which Durham County is willing to accept the present Municipal Federation. In the event of failure to arrive at a satisfactory agreement, we declare ourselves in favour of separation, and call upon said committees to take immediate action to bring about this result; and in the meantime take all necessary preliminary steps to procure separation.

MR. HAWTHORNE MADE SALESMAN

Elected to Succeed Mr. Smith of the Warsaw Factory.

The annual patrons meeting of the Warsaw factory was held in the factory Saturday, March 18, when it was decided that the business would be conducted for 1905 on a basis similar to that of last season.

Mr. Henry Smith, who has been salesman and Treasurer since 1896 to the utmost satisfaction of all concerned, handed in his resignation from that office owing to pressure of other business. Mr. R. Hawthorne was appointed to the salesmanship and made treasurer for the season of 1905.

A resolution was unanimously carried by the patrons thanking Mr. Smith for his valuable services during the ten seasons that he occupied the position of salesman and treasurer of the factory and during that time all found him gentlemanly and obliging at every call of that office.

MRS. CHAPMAN'S LAMENTED DEATH

Occurred Last Night After Nine Day's Illness.

The death occurred last night at 9.45 o'clock, of Mrs. Sarah Chapman, widow of the late William Chapman, as a result of an attack of la grippe. She was seriously ill for only nine days, although she had not been in good health for some time past. Her death will be learned with regret by her many friends, as she was a lady who was highly respected. Her husband died about eighteen years ago.

The deceased was born in Perth, Lanark county, and was 55 years of age. She has lived in Peterborough for fifteen years.

She leaves to mourn her loss, three daughters, Mrs. Benj. Johnston, of town, Mrs. Fred Taylor, of Regina, N.W.T., and Mrs. George Meyers, of Buffalo, N.Y.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Johnston, 156 London street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Rev. F. J. Scott, pastor of the Murray street church, will conduct the service. The funeral will be private. No flowers.

DISASTROUS FIRE ON LAKE STREET

Double House Almost Completely Destroyed.

James Tranter and Robert Watt Suffer Heavy Loss—Adjoining Property Saved by Heroic Exertions.

About 10 o'clock this morning a double house at 96 and 96 1-2 Lake street, occupied by James Tranter and Robert Watt, and his son-in-law, Jas. Akey, was almost totally destroyed by fire.

The origin of the conflagration has not been ascertained, but is probably the result of either defective electric light wiring or from a stove-pipe.

It started apparently in the vicinity of the wall between the two houses in one of the back rooms on the second flat.

The house occupied by Mr. Watt is an almost total wreck, and nothing, it is thought, can be done in the way of repairs. Mr. Tranter's part suffered more severely in the rear end, the kitchen and upper bedrooms being irreparably damaged, though the damage to the front part is principally from water. Considerable of the furniture was saved, and about one half of Mr. Tranter's was removed to the street, though Mr. Watt's loss is somewhat heavier.

The brigade made a remarkably quick run, and it was only by most strenuous efforts on their part that the adjoining house was saved. They are deserving of the highest credit for their splendid work.

Mr. Watt's loss on his furniture will be total, as it was uninsured Mr. Tranter's loss, as nearly as can be estimated, will approximate $500, upon which the insurance was $300. The building, which is the property of Mr. A. Lefellier, was insured with Messrs. Davis and Thompson, in the Royal, for $800.

MR. E. J. KYLE B. A. WAS SUCCESSFUL

Elected President of Toronto University Literary Society.

The "Old Lit." party were again successful in the Universal College Literary and Scientific Society's elections. Out of a total vote for president of 545, Mr. E. J. Kylie, B.A., nephew of Mr. John Kylie, of town, had a majority of 145. The entire "Old Lit." ticket had an average majority of 45. The polls were open all Friday night and until 5 o'clock on Saturday morning.

RUSSIANS ARE IMPEDING PURSUIT

Russians Throwing Obstacles in the Way of Japanese---The Weary Way to Harbin---Rearguard Retreating Slowly and Engaged in Occasional Skirmishes--Twenty-seven Miles North of Tie Pass---Japs Slowly Advancing Without Pressing Russians--Troops and Kuropatkin.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—The latest despatches from Manchuria indicate that the retreat of the Russian army is being conducted uneventfully. The last few days were unmarked by fighting of a serious nature. The Russians, however, are neglecting no precautions to impede pursuit, and hamper the construction of permanent Japanese lines of supply.

Retreating Slowly.

Gunshu Pass, March 21.—The last two days have been utterly without incident, except for the removal of the censor to Kudzu Pass. The Russian rearguard is retreating slowly and engaging in occasional skirmishes. It has now reached a position twenty-seven miles north of Tie Pass. The Japanese are slowly advancing, without pressing the Russians.

The Russians are destroying bridges, the railways, roadbeds and highways and carrying off stores and demolishing buildings and everything not portable. Reports of a wide turning movement by the Japanese are no longer being received.

The troops parted in sadness with Gen. Kuropatkin, whose labors in shaping the army are recognized, and who was ever attentive to the wants of the soldiers. Regardless of the fact that he had been commander-in-chief, Gen. Kuropatkin offered to remain here as a subordinate to Gen. Linevitch, and as commander of a corps.

Whence Came Those Troops?

London, March 21.—Gen. Linevitch's report to the Emperor, that he had inspected newly-arrived troops, causes considerable speculation in London, indicating that the commander-in-chief of the Russian army in Manchuria either has gone much farther north than had been supposed or that Russian reinforcements are still being sent south from Harbin. The latter hypothesis is considered hardly likely in view of the fact that the Russians are trying to effect the speediest possible retirement to Harbin.

Russ Admits 120,000 Lost.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—Complete details of the losses at the battle of Mukden, are not yet available at the war office, but the reports thus far received indicate that 120,000 men were killed, wounded or made prisoners and that about eighty field guns were captured. Almost every siege gun, it is affirmed, was removed.

No Further Fights.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—A despatch from Gen. Linevitch, dated March 19, 9 p. m., says:

"The commander of the second army reports that he has had no further fighting. No reports have been received from the first or third armies. I have inspected the troops which have arrived from Russia. They are in excellent spirits and good health."

Kuropatkin Goes Home.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—The story that Gen. Kuropatkin remained at the front in command of Gen. Linevitch's old first army is untrue. He is proceeding to Chita, where he may stop a short time to recuperate before returning to St. Petersburg. His nerves are said to be badly shattered. It is again being positively affirmed that Kuropatkin requested the Emperor to relieve him.

Fighting Heard Of.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—A despatch from Gunshu Pass, dated yesterday, says that since yesterday morning artillery fire has been going on about seven miles south of Tie Pass.

Strike on Railway.

Chita, Eastern Siberia, March 21.—Though the railroad men's strike on the section of the Siberian line east of Lake Baikal has ceased the telegraph operators have now stopped work, demanding an increase of wages. Policemen and other state employes are being engaged to replace the strikers.

BOY SHOOTS GOVERNOR.

When Captured Said Police Knew His Name, His Motive and the Governor's Record.

Viborg, European Russia, March 21.—Gov. Miasorodoff was shot and seriously wounded yesterday by a lad. The assassin, who is about 15 years old, obtained an entrance to the governor's office and fire three times at him, one bullet inflicting a serious wound and the others slightly wounding the governor's legs. The governor's clerks and secretary were unable to stop the would-be assassin, who reached the street where, however, he was arrested without a struggle. The governor's condition is critical.

The youth who shot the governor has been identified as Matti Hjalmar Reinikke, who admits that he is a revolutionist. Gov. Miasorodoff has been most energetic in the Russification of Finland.

Reinikke, who had lost one of his arms recently in a railway accident, when asked if his name was Reinikke, replied, "The police of Helsingfors know me, my motive and the governor's record."

Jews Kill Police Chief.

Boriso, European Russia, March 21.—Three squadrons of dragoons have started for Berezina, where armed Jews are reported to have killed the chief of police and a number of his assistants.

OPENING OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Premier Whitney Confers With the Lieutenant-Governor About Speech.

Toronto, March 21.—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Premier Whitney were in consultation for a short time yesterday in regard to the speech from the Throne, and other matters connected with the opening of the Legislature on Wednesday afternoon. The preparations in the Chamber itself are rapidly nearing completion, and nothing will be lacking in this regard.

Election of Speaker.

Additional interest will be given to the ceremony by the election of a Speaker. This will be Mr. J. W. St. John, the member for West York, who has for some weeks been busily engaged in the duties devolving upon the Speaker at the opening of the House. His election will be moved by Premier Whitney, and seconded by Mr. Harcourt, who will lead the Opposition until the arrival of Mr. Ross.

Monday, April 3, has been set as the last day for the presentation of petitions for private bills. The bills themselves must be introduced by April 10, and the committee on private bills must report by April 24. These dates will be strictly adhered to, which has not always been the custom. Col. Clarke, Clerk of the House, has already received a number of petitions for private bills. Chief of these are for new railways, and one asks for the incorporation of a new telephone company in Ontario.

T. P. Langworthy, of Fort Arthur, has been appointed Crown Attorney for the District of Thunder Bay, succeeding D. Mills, son of Hon. David Mills, who held the position pro-tem since the elevation of the former encumbent, T. A. Gorham, to a judgeship.

IDEALS ARE TAKING SHAPE

Sir Wm. Mulock's Plan For Nationalization of 'Phones.

A COMBINATION SCHEME

By Which Dominion and Municipalities Would Co-operate for Telephonic Service—A Telephone for Every Farmer in the Land If He Wants It—Sir William Mulock is Chairman.

Ottawa, March 21.—The special committee appointed to enquire into the telephone question held its first meeting yesterday morning, with eight of the eleven members present. It began work as if it meant business. Sir William Mulock, who was unanimously voted into the chair, outlined the scope of the committee. He had arranged with an officer of the Department of Justice to prepare for the committee a summary of all the legislation bearing on Canadian telephone companies. In addition to this the committee expressed a desire for information as to the operation of telephone systems in the United States, Australia, Scandinavia and Denmark.

He intimated to a member of the committee that the question of phone patents was not worth consideration, since the Government could override any patent. Sir William promised to furnish the committee with a report obtained by one of his officers some years ago.

W. F. Maclean suggested that some one should be employed to make special enquiry into the phone situation in the United Kingdom. It was necessary, he said, that the committee should have facts as to the working of the different systems.

Sir William Mulock said he intended to summon officers of the Bell Telephone Co. and get from them all available information as to the working of their system and the capital invested.

Sir William spoke of the importance of the phone to the rural districts. He thought no scheme would be satisfactory which did not provide for the serving of isolated individuals in the country with telephones at reasonable rates. The farmer, he thought, was chiefly interested in getting phone communication with his neighbor and his market town. The long-distance was less important to the farming community. The success of rural phones depended largely on the development of the automatic service system. Sir William said he had heard of systems where a dozen subscribers could have phone communication without a central station.

Sir William suggested that rural phones might be brought within reach of rural residents through machinery provided by the municipality. By co-operation, the municipalities could create municipal services and place the charges in the tax bills, assessing, of course, only phone subscribers. This would save the Government a lot of trouble. The municipality could apply to the Government to establish a system in a certain district and the municipality could deal with the individual.

Mr. Maclean said the phone and the telegraph and the parcel post should be centred in the post office, and the municipal services should be connected one group with another and also the trunk lines.

Sir William Mulock said he desired it to be known that any evidence or information the public could furnish the committee would be gladly accepted.

The committee decided to call Mr. Dagger, of Toronto, to appear before the committee at its next meeting, which will be held next Wednesday.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS.

Premier Announces Change in the Educational Clauses—Second Reading Set for Wednesday.

Ottawa, March 21.—The entire day yesterday in the House was consumed in the consideration of private legislation and disposing of a couple of motions upon controversial subjects. The difficulties of maintaining winter navigation between the mainland and Prince Edward Island may always be relied upon for a protracted debate. Yesterday afternoon and evening the members representing the Island Province gave the House further evidence of their talent as debaters, and Mr. Hyman promised to consider the whole question for a tunnel at an estimated cost of $12,000,000.

Plans for Terminals.

The Minister of Railways again declined, on the ground of public policy, to bring down the plans submitted for terminals at Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg and the Pacific coast. He reiterated his denial on a previous occasion that there had been "leakage" in his office regarding the plans.

Another large batch of petitions respecting the autonomy bills were presented at the opening of the House today.

Amendment to Section 16.

On the orders of the day being called Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that the Government intended to proceed with the autonomy bills on Wednesday as first order. He also informed the House that an amendment was contemplated to section 16, and that the contemplated amendment would be brought before the House before the close of the day's sitting, together with some papers which had been asked for by the leader of the Opposition. Mr. Borden asked that the papers be presented in printed or some form available to the members.

The Proposed Amendment.

Section 93 of the B. N. A. Act, 1867, shall apply to the said province, with a substitution for sub-section 1 of said section 93 of the following sub-section:

(1) Nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to separate schools which any class of persons have at the date of the passing of this act, under the terms of chapters 29 and 30 of the ordinances of the Northwest Territories, passed in the year 1901.

(2) In the appropriation by the Legislature or distribution by the Government of the province of any money for the support of schools organized and carried on in accordance with said chapter 29 or any act passed in amendment thereof or in substitution therefor, there shall be no discrimination against schools of any class described in the said chapter 29.

(3) Where the expression "by law" is employed in sub-section 3 of the said section 93, it shall be held to mean the law as set out in the said chapters 29 and 30, and where the expression "at the union" is employed in said sub-section 3 it shall be held to mean the date at which this act comes into force.

Have You a Reason for not Wearing Semi-Ready?

¶ There is only one reason we know of why some men do not wear Semi-ready tailored garments. That is that they don't think we can satisfy them in fit, style or quality.

¶ We have only one answer to this, and that is try the clothes, don't condemn them without reason.

¶ It will cost you nothing but a few minutes' time.

¶ Call in at one of four wardrobes, and see for yourself what Semi-ready tailoring is.

¶ If we can't satisfy you on every count there is no harm done.

¶ Your money is not ours till you're satisfied in every particular.

ENTERPRISING BOGUS $5 BILLS

Seem Bound to Keep in the Swim of Circulation

Another Counterfeit $5 Bank Note Discovered This Morning.

Another counterfeit $5 Bank of Montreal note, came to light to-day, and is in possession of Chief Rousel. An evidence of the excellence of the counterfeit is the fact that it was yesterday accepted by a local bank, and was not detected till this morning, when it was transferred to the Bank of Montreal. It is not strange therefore that the bills have passed current amongst the public without detection.

The bank note discovered this morning is dated Jan. 2, 1905, and countersigned Plunkett, and like those mentioned yesterday its number commences with a 0. All the counterfeits so far found are somewhat longer and narrower than the ordinary.

In respect of the bills mentioned yesterday, investigation has been made which has resulted in tracing them through the hands of several parties, and in every case, but possibly one, which is now being investigated—and perhaps also in this—they have been passed innocently and in good faith.

TRADES BASEBALL LEAGUE SUGGESTED

Probability of one Being Formed in Near Future.

A proposal has been made that a baseball league should be formed among the different trades in the local Trades and Labour Council, and it is probable that at the meeting of the Council to be held to-morrow night the matter will be discussed.

It is thought that there could be eight or nine teams in such a league, if one were formed, and considerable interest could thus be aroused.

The Trades and Labour Council might see fit to put up a trophy for competition among the teams representing the different trades comprising the Council.

Food that Builds

Some folk never think of Mooney's Crackers as food. They class them as delicacies, because they are so dainty and delicious. Wrong!

'Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas

are made of Canada's finest wheat, rich in strength and muscle-building properties. Then, too, they're so light that even frail digestions readily assimilate them.

Certainly more of a food than bread, because made more carefully of finer wheat.

EIGHTEEN MILLS RATE.

There is naturally a feeling of satisfaction that the rate of taxation in Peterborough this year is to be 18 mills instead of 18 1-2 mills as [illegible]. This is very gratifying on the face of the matter, but it is affected by two considerations. First is the rate high enough to meet the requirements of satisfactory civic administration? We want enough money to provide adequately for the performance of the several public services of the town, without any essential interest being neglected and without a deficit. If the people have to pay taxes they don't want to have work scamped or neglected for the sake of a half mill or mill on the dollar. The second consideration is that some ratepayers will at the lowered rate pay less taxes and some will pay a good deal more. It may be remembered—and many are only too well aware of it—that in a very large number of cases there was a large advance in assessment, so that it is quite possible, and quite probable, and, even, quite certain, that with a lowered rate there will in the cases mentioned be a larger tax bill. It makes no difference to a ratepayer's pocket or cash account, whether the net rate of taxation is arrived at by an increased or diminished tax rate or by an increased or diminished assessment levy. He is affected all the same whether a ten per cent. reduction in his tax bill is brought about by a ten per cent. reduction of the tax rate, or a ten per cent. increase of the tax rate. The chief point to be considered is, after all, that we require to raise by proper means sufficient money to, if properly, carefully and not wastefully, expended meet the public requirements. The average citizen does not object to paying taxes to meet legitimate civic expenditures, but it galls him to see the public money wasted or frittered away in make-shift and slop-work corporation operations.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Paragraphs often appear in our exchanges relating to the uses that can be made of cement concrete in building. In Peterborough we use it, and don't talk about it much. We have concrete bricks, and concrete building blocks, put down foundations of it, and, indeed, build whole houses of it. Its use is growing, too.

Mr. W. H. Hoyle and Mr. J. P Downing, are booked to move and second the address at the opening of the Legislature. They are old-timers, and heretofore the practice has been to assign these purely formal and perfunctory duties to new members. But so anxious is Mr. Whitney to show that he has a capacity for reform, that he makes an innovation in such a comparatively trifling matter as the moving of an address. Anyway, we are reasonably sure of one, or perhaps, two good speeches on the occasion.

Sir William Macdonald has done much to advance the cause of education, and his activity in this direction has not ceased. He has advanced a scheme for the promotion of educational interests in Quebec. He is providing funds for the establishing of normal schools to provide duly qualified teachers. This is a most essential requisite to good educational results. But unless provision is made to provide better remuneration than teachers, as a class, receive in Ontario, the results will not be permanent. A good teacher cannot be made in a normal school. To be the best, a teacher must have experience, and an enthusiasm and an interest in his work. This he or she cannot have unless the salaries to be paid are sufficient to induce teachers to make teaching a life profession.

MILKING BY MACHINERY

Milking Machines an Actual Fact not a Mechanical Dream

Live Stock Commissioner Hodson Says They Have Come to Stay.

One by one this practical utilitarian age crowds out the poetry and romance of life. Co-operative dairying with its big herds, making the work of milking labourous, has relegated the milk maid to the drawing room, the piano and the shade slung hammock, and replaced her dainty manipulation of the bovine dugs by the muscular grip of the "hired man." Now the hired man will have to go to the tread mill. A milking machine, operated by a treadle, that will milk, has been invented and is being manufactured for actual use. The following statement by Mr. F. W. Hodson, Canadian Live Stock Commissioner, may be regarded as official information on the subject:—

At the annual convention of the Manitoba Dairyman's Association, held at Winnipeg last week, Mr. F. W. Hodson, Canadian Live Stock Commissioner, said that the milking machine had come to stay. In opening his address Mr. Hodson said that in several provinces of the Dominion the travelling dairies are doing good work. Sometimes they took a tent along and worked in that; sometimes they took a covered wagon and a team with their outfit in it and they had done and were doing excellent work in showing the farmers how to take care of their cream, and to test their milk. The department of agriculture was trying to find out what the cows of Canada were doing, and they found that when the output of the cows was all reduced to butter and averaged, that the average production of each cow in Canada was only 115 pounds of butter year and the average production of the cows of Manitoba was only 96. They had averaged the value of this product at 18c. and had placed the cost of the cows' keep and attendance at $17. This was not profitable dairying. "I believe we are on the eve of a great change in dairy work," said Mr. Hodson. "The milking machine has come to stay.

"I am careful about my statements, and I say that I am not afraid to stake my reputation on it. We have had experiments going on in Scotland for five years, and Clement, the cheese king of Scotland, is ready and willing to stake his reputation on the milking machine. It is not going to be so very costly either. I have tried it myself, and milking eight cows at a time I found that right through stables, taking half dry cows, strippers and fresh cows, I averaged five minutes per cow. You can milk a cow better by machinery, just as you can bind wheat better with a machine. It is in the memory of all here when the building of the C.P.R. drew the young men away from Ontario and we could not get men to reap our harvests. Then the binder came along and we went miles to see one work. No one is surprised at a binder in these days, and it will be the same with the milkers. The difficulty with dairying to-day is the difficulty of handling the cows properly and economically, and this will in a great measure be overcome by the milkers. Each pail will milk two cows, and with a single-tread power you can manage a herd of fifty. 'Lawrence Improved,' Mr. Hodson explained in answer to a question, was the machine that is most perfected at the present. The cost was $75 per pail, and there would be the cost of piping and tread power. A gasoline engine would do for milking, but I have never found them satisfactory for separating."

Farmers will naturally be greatly interested in the new departure and they will likely hear more about it the coming season from Mr. Geo. Gillespie, of Messrs. White & Gillespie, Peterborough, who interests himself so much in the promotion of the interests of the dairying industry.

Fishing Vessels Ashore.

Highland Light, Mass., March 21.—Ten fishing vessels, most of them belonging to the local haddock fleet, were driven ashore on the flats in the harbor during Sunday night, and early yesterday were being forced still farther up by the gale blowing from the northeast.

HAVELOCK GETS AN EXTENSION

Town Limits Will Be Extended to Take in "Old Havelock."

Annual Meeting of Electric Light Company—Other Late News from Havelock.

From our Own Correspondent.

Havelock, March 20. — Miss A. Bryans spent Tuesday last in Norwood.

Mr. Harry Falkner left for Grand Valley, Ont., on Tuesday to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. A. Bourn, late of Cobourg, Ont.

Mr. Jas Campney, of town, accompanied by his wife and daughter, attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the A.O.U.W., in Toronto last Wednesday.

Mr. Henry Williams, contractor for the painting of the new Armstrong House, left for his home, after completing his work here on Wednesday last.

Mr. William Mathison spent Saturday in Peterborough on business.

Mrs. S. Barlow spent a few days with friends last week in Norwood.

Mr. Geo. D. Taylor, of Manmora, and Rev. A. Goodwill, of Cordova, were the guests of the Rev. A. E. Camp a few days last week.

A very exciting time was experienced in the neighbourhood of the residence of Mr. Burt Eastons, last Thursday evening. Some person or persons, unknown, amused themselves by throwing a cord wood stick through the door. Although nothing was found to convict the parties suspected, a close watch will be kept on them in future.

Master Darcy Sommerville is laid up with a severe attack of grip.

Mr. Fred Barlow and William Tubb drove to Springbrook to enjoy a dance given in the Town Hall of that place last Friday evening.

Miss Maggie Dorricott, of Toronto, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dorricott, of town.

A very pleasant time was experienced at a dance given on Whytes' Island at Trent Bridge, on Thursday evening.

Miss M. Moffat, of Manmora, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. N C. Stibbs, who was formerly storekeeper here, has returned from Toronto Junction to take up the same position again. Mr. A. Higgs will now take the night storeman's duties and Mr. W. Griffin returns to Toronto Junction to take a position there as time keeper.

Although there has been considerable of a thaw the past few days it has not made much difference in the water on the lakes north. The latest news from the back lakes reports only one and one-half inches of a rise in the past few days. But if this weather keeps on we will soon see the electric lights brighten up, as the water will, as soon as it comes up, never be so low again.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buchannan and daughter left for a short visit to friends in Peterborough on Monday.

Miss E. Weir, formerly school teacher at Havelock, spent a few days the guest of Mrs. Jos. Rose, of town, on her way after visiting her sister, Mrs. W. E. Young, of Cordova, to Redvers, Man., where she has accepted a position as teacher.

Miss I Puffer, of Hastings, is the guest of Miss Eva Lancaster, of town.

The Rev. W. H. Tandy, M.A., will preach his farewell sermon to his congregation here on Sunday evening next before he leaves for his new appointment as Assistant Priest in St. John's Church, Peterborough. It is not yet known who will fill the place that will be left vacant, but we are sure that it will be a considerable time before another like him will be seen here.

Mr. R. A. Williams, manager of Sovereign Bank at this point, will be leaving next week to take up the same position in Stirling, Ont. His successor will be Mr. Boyd, of St. Catharines.

The first general meeting of the Havelock Electric Light and Power Company was held on Friday, March 17th, in the Council Chambers, Town Hall. The President, Dr. J. Holdcroft, was in the chair. The secretary, A. Ross, presented the report of the business of the company for the past two years, which was most encouraging to the shareholders. From the showing presented it is quite probable that the small allotment of unsold stock will soon be snapped up as it bids fair to be a most profitable investment. The directors of the company were then elected for the ensuing year. Those elected were as follows: Dr. J. Holdcroft, Mr. George Young, Mr. W. Webb, Mr. Wm. Fairman, Mr. Alex. Rose. The officers were then elected as follows:

President and manager — Dr. J. Holdcroft.
Vice-President — Geo. Young.
2nd Vice-President — W. Fairman.
3rd Vice-President — W. Webb.
Secretary—Alex. Rose.
Auditors — P. Lancaster and W. Patterson.

Mr. Jas. W. Rose was appointed resident electrician of the company.

Mr. Jas. Thompson is laid up with an attack of appendicitis.

Some time ago a petition was laid before the council by a number of the "old Havelock" section people to be brought into the town, as the township council could not afford to give them the improvements necessary for this portion lying so close to the village. In the meantime the town had dropped the north section and were now able to take the matter into consideration. A deputation was appointed to circulate a petition to be signed by the people in the "old Havelock" district, and find out those who did and those who did not want to come in. After this was done the deputation interviewed the Provincial Secretary, but in the meantime parties had gotten up another petition, after misrepresenting it, to keep this part out of the village, and when the deputation waited on the Provincial Secretary he claimed that there were too many petitioners, as on the last list parties who had applied to come into the town had signed the other way. The Provincial Secretary then put both parties on their word of honour not to influence the people in either way, but to go around together with a petition. Reeve J. Thompson of town, and Reeve J. Johnston of the township were appointed, and after all had signed, it was found that those wishing to come into the village had won by a majority of 5. The vote stood 6 to 11. The parties who waited on the Provincial Secretary were, for the town: Village solicitor Sherry, and Reeve, J. Thompson; for the township, R. M. Dennistoun, solicitor, Peterborough, Reeve. J. Johnston and Clerk Wm Johnston. The new part takes in what is known as "old Havelock" corners, east as far as the boundary fence owned by Mr. Wm. Mathieson, and includes in all about 360 acres.

What is now a public nuisance, and before the warm weather sets in should be stopped, is the killing of hogs and lambs, etc., in the small sized slaughter house or stable at the back of Mr. Elias Williams' former residence. This is against the law, and a public nuisance like this ought to be stopped at once.

We are pleased to see that Mr. Jos. Knox of this place, has been named as one of the license commissioners of East Peterborough. We are sure that a more capable man for this position it would be hard to find. Those appointed were as follows: Mr. John Rose, Warsaw; Mr. J. Smithson, Otonabee; and Mr. Jos. Knox, Havelock.

Mr. E. Murphy of Toronto Junction, spent Sunday and Monday at his home in town.

ONE BOX OF DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED DROPSY.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, as many people believe, but is an evidence of very severe kidney trouble. Dropsy is caused by watery particles oozing through the walls of the arteries when they are distended by unusual pressure, which can only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.

The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithville, N.S., says of them:—"I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and turned to dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet became bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had any trouble with it since.

Price 50 cents. per box, or 3 for $1.25.

Cured Kidney Disease

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton street, Port Hope, Ont., states: — "I was troubled for some time with kidney disease, and though I tried a great many different medicines never succeeded in obtaining relief until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease."

TO JOIN DEAD MOTHER.

Ethel Bell, Formerly of Hamilton, Takes Carbolic Acid.

Windsor, March 21.—Lonely and brooding over the death of her mother, which occurred at the family home in Hamilton nearly two years ago, Ethel Bell, aged 16 years, a pretty brunette, attempted suicide at the home of her sister, Mrs. Merchant, 419 McClellan avenue, Detroit, Sunday night by swallowing carbolic acid.

Prompt medical attention may save her life, although her mouth and stomach are burned.

"I dreamed I saw my mother," said the girl, "and then I was so lonely and unhappy I wanted to go to her. She stood with her arms outstretched calling me just as she used to do, and I tried to put my arms around her neck and then I knew it was only a horrid dream and swallowed the poison."

Last night the nurses at St. Mary's Hospital says Miss Bell is very low, and her death may come at any moment. In her delirium, the girl calls pathetically for her mother, and assures her that she will soon be with her.

The Indians of Canada.

The Indian population in Canada last year, according to figures from the Indian Department report, numbered 107,978, a net decrease of 253 as compared with the year 1903. The report points out that it is a fallacy to suppose that the Indians are a dying race, doomed to extinction before the advance of civilization. Facts and statistics fail to support this view. In every province except British Columbia the birth rate exceeds the death rate.

SPRING.

The Examiner has received the first burst of spring poetry. It is printed under protest and in the hope that, as no worse poetry can be written—nobody will try:—

O the spring is on the spring
There is softness in the air,
Sparrows gray are on the wing,
Seeking straws and strings their nests to prepare.

The little brooks are turning
In their ice-bound beds,
Waiting till the sun,
His full influence sheds.

Then they will burst their bonds,
And travel towards the sea;
While in the adjacent ponds
Frogs will jump and croak with glee.

Geese are building downy nests
In the corner of the fence.
Whereupon the she-bird rests—
And to no one she pays the rents.

Horses in the stable stall
Hang their sorrowful heads,
For soon they'll have to meet the call
To plough and harrow the seed beds.

Soon the men will be at work
Scraping up the muddy street's,
And these heaps will lie a long time
Till tramped out of shape of heaps.

Cleaning house is all the rage—
Chairs and tables on the lawn,
And the canary in its cage,
On the outside it will hang.

Hail, all hail then, gentle spring,
Can it be you've come at last,
With coal bills and cold feet,
A thing or things of the past?

REASON No 21

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because it is perfectly clean.

Wouldn't you like to know that the tea you drink has not been touched by human hand since it was plucked on the plantation?

This is what you get in Red Rose Tea. The old method of rolling and packing tea by hand has been entirely done away with on the tea estates where Red Rose Tea is produced. There, as well as in the blending and packing rooms, machinery — scrupulously clean machinery—is used exclusively.

Red Rose Tea is never touched by hand after being plucked.

This fact alone will help you enjoy drinking it.

The Blue Label is recommended.

LIVES BLOTTED OUT

Sixty Shoe Factory Employes Killed Or Burned to Death.

EXPLOSION OF THE BOILER

Burning Building Emitted the Heat of an Inferno—Instant Death Was the Fate of Many, But Others, Pinned Beneath Timbers, Were Roasted to Death — Heroes and Heroines Still Live.

Brockton, Mass., March 21.—The city is in mourning for at least three score of her citizens, whose lives were blotted out last night by the explosion of a boiler in a large shoe manufacturing establishment in the Campello district, conducted by the R. G. Grover Co.

The explosion was immediately followed by a fire, which consumed the factory, a long four-storey structure, as if it were a house of cards and incinerated an unknown number of men and women, who were unable to extricate themselves from a mass of tangled wreckage formed by the terrific upheaval in the boiler-room. More than half a hundred of the employes in the building were maimed, burned or bruised by the time they reached safe ground.

Some had jumped in the mad rush to escape from the doomed factory, which from all parts emitted the intense, awful heat of an inferno, driving back the rescuers, who in a few moments had performed gallant service.

When Boiler Exploded.

The explosion, which was followed by such a sacrifice of life and appalling instances of human suffering, occurred shortly after the operatives had settled down to the work of the day. Suddenly the air vibrated with the roar of an explosion. At the same moment the larger wooden frame of the factory, a four-storey structure, quivered and then the rear portion of it collapsed. In a fraction of a second this section of the great building was transformed into a mass of iron and wood wreckage, in the midst of which human beings were pinioned. In another moment flames broke out in the debris and death by fire and suffocation became the fate of scores of the operatives.

When the boiler exploded it passed upward almost perpendicularly, tearing a passage as it went, and killing many on the way. After rising high in the air, it descended half the distance, and, swerving northerly, cut its way like some huge projectile, through a dwelling 50 feet away and another dwelling farther on, demolishing the latter structure. Here its course was stopped.

Had Narrow Escape.

The house to the north of the factory, through which the exploded boiler crashed, was owned and occupied by David W. Rockwell, the engineer in charge of the boiler, who was among the killed. Mrs. Rockwell, who was sitting by the kitchen stove, had a miraculous escape from death, receiving many cuts from flying bits of timber. Crawling through the mass, Mrs. Rockwell snatched up her two children, who were uninjured, and started for the home of the nearest neighbor, Mrs Etta Hood. She found this cottage had been rent asunder by the boiler, the head of which was buried in the middle of the structure. Miss Ella Pratt, 78 years old, who was in the house, was knocked down and stunned, but recovered.

Veritable Fiery Furnace.

Scenes of horror followed the rending apart of the factory building. Many fell into a veritable fiery furnace. In the sections of the factory which remained standing the operatives were panic-stricken as they sought escape.

Many fled down the stairways and reached the street, others ran to the windows, the fire escapes in many cases having been torn away by the explosion. In desperation many jumped from the second and third storey windows to the ground and were dangerously injured. The crush on the stairways resulted in numerous minor injuries.

Scarcely had the rear portion of the structure collapsed when a tongue of flame started up from the boiler pit, communicating with the splintered wreckage, and soon the entire factory was in flames. Instant death was the fate of many who went down with the floors that collapsed. Many pinned beneath the timbers were roasted to death.

Acts of Heroism.

By this time nearby citizens had arrived to assist the employes who aided in the rescue of their fellows. The task became momentarily more difficult and perilous, for the heat from the fire was almost unbearable.

Then it was that acts of sacrifice and heroism were seen. One man, whose legs were caught under an iron beam, cried to the rescuers that they could not extricate him and to help the girls behind him. Stretching out his arms, he lifted several girls, one by one and passed them to the rescuers. Then the fire reached him and he died.

Begged to Be Shot.

A woman who was entangled in a shoe machine cried out that she was dying and commanded the rescuers to attend to others who might live. She begged to be shot. Soon the flames enveloped her.

Treasurer C. O. Woerson, of the Grover Company estimated the loss of the factory at $200,000, and the aggregate of loss on the burned structures was placed at about $50,000. The Grover factory, machinery and stock were insured for $200,000.

POISONED BY CARBOLIC ACID.

Emma Heath, Aged 14, Dies in Kingston Hospital.

Kingston, March 21.—An unfortunate accident took place at the General Hospital. Emma Heath, aged 14, was being treated for anaemia and was also troubled with vermin. A nurse had taken her over to the sink to bathe her head and had poured out some carbolic acid in a dish intending to dilute it. While she was putting the bottle back on the shelf, the girl took the dish and poured the pure acid over her head, probably thinking it was diluted, as the same treatment had been given before. The nurse at once applied the antidote, alcohol. But all efforts were unavailing, and the child soon after became unconscious and died within two hours, with all the symptoms of poisoning. Coroner Mundell made an investigation and declared death was due to shock and carbolic poisoning, and decided an inquest was unnecessary. The family are in destitute circumstances, both parents being in the hospital, and the children cared for at the Orphans' Home.

Swept Over the Falls.

Niagara Falls, March 21.—An Italian called Frenchy, while shoving ice out of the entrance to the Canadian Niagara Power Co.'s forebay, lost his balance and slipped into the rushing waters of the main river, and was swept over the falls about 10.30 yesterday morning.

Dead Bodies Recovered.

Fire Creek, W. V., March 21.—The second rescuing party, which was organized Sunday, to enter the Rushrun and Red Ash mines to recover the bodies of the 24 men who are believed to have been killed by the explosions Saturday and Sunday, were able to enter the mine yesterday.

Deaths in the Flood.

Elmira, N. Y., March 21.—The Chemung River and its smaller tributary streams, which went on a rampage and did considerable damage Sunday, all receded yesterday, owing to the sudden drop in temperature. Three deaths, two in nearby villages and one in this city, resulted from the flood Sunday.

Forced to Leave Homes.

Meadville, Pa., March 21.—The streets in the southern and western portions of the city are inundated and scores of families have been forced to leave their homes. Many people are homeless and considerable property has been destroyed at South Sharon by a sudden rise in the Shenango Ri—

TRIAL OF F. J. REILLY.

Prosecution Surprises the Defence and Gets Reilly's Former Evidence Read in Court.

Belleville, March 21.—The trial of Frank J. Reilly for conspiracy in connection with the bogus ballot boxes was commenced yesterday morning. The prosecution placed the official stenographer at the preliminary investigation in the box, and had her swear to the evidence given by Reilly before Magistrate Wood.

Then the Crown Prosecutor started to read Reilly's evidence to the jury. E. F. B. Johnston, counsel for Reilly, objected strenuously, but the judge allowed the evidence to be read. Reilly's evidence at the preliminary investigation was practically a confession.

The jury was selected after the Crown had challenged 16 and the defence 11. The reading of Reilly's evidence took all the morning and until 3 in the afternoon.

Col. Sherwood told of arresting Reilly in Kingston, and getting a statement from him for Mr. Shepley, K. C., who was acting for the Dominion Government.

Phil Lott's Evidence.

Next came the evidence of Phil Lott, who told practically the same story that he did in the case of King v. Ruttan. Mr. Johnston's cross-examination of Phil was very fierce. For over two hours he had Phil on the rack, making many insinuations, and asking all sorts of awkward questions, but the brother of Byron manfully stood to his guns and rather more than held his own.

Phil refused to admit that he entered the conspiracy to try to ruin his brother. His brother, he said, was quite willing to ruin him if he could get into Parliament. Phil said his whole idea in exposing the case was to stop a wrong. At 6.15 the cross-examination was concluded and the judge adjourned court till 9.30 Tuesday morning.

It is expected that the case will be finished to-day.

ORDER WARSHIPS SOUTH.

The French-Venezuelan Complications Have Reached Crisis.

Washington, March 21.—The French cable complication have reached a crisis and U. S. Minister Bowen has informed the State department that the French minister at Caracas, by instructions of his Government, has notified the Venezuelan Government that there must be no further proceedings on its part toward the cancellation of the company's franchise or interference with its property. Further, Mr. Bowen reports that two French warships have been ordered, post haste, to Venezuela, to act in accordance with the instructions of the French minister.

DR. PITCHER CURES A PETROLIA MAN

A Splendid Tribute From Mr. G. F. Stone of That Town.

Backache and Bladder Trouble Made Him Unfit for Work—Now He is Splendid

In the town of Petrolia there are many people who have a good word to say for Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets as being the best remedy for backache, kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

Mr. G. F. Stone, when spoken to a short time ago, related his experience as follows:

"I had been having so much lameness in the small of my back, constant dull aching over my kidneys, that I was depressed and unfit for anything. It did not pass off as formerly, but began to affect my kidneys; the bladder was also affected, causing frequent inclination to urinate. After I began using Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets, all those troubles disappeared. I have had no remedy that acted so promptly before. They caused no inconvenience whatever. I would not have known that I was taking medicine where it not for the beneficial effects.

In purchasing Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets see that Dr. Pitcher's portrait and signature are on the package.

Andrew Carnegie Not Her Father.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 21.—"It has been said repeatedly that I asserted that Andrew Carnegie was my father. I deny that, and I deny it absolutely." The foregoing statement was made by Mrs. Camie L. Chadwick yesterday to a representative of the Associated Press in the first authorized interview since her trial.

OVERCOAT TAKEN ON SATURDAY

Chief Wishes to Arrange an Exchange.

On Saturday evening at the Munro House an overcoat belonging to Mr. Arthur Morgan was taken while the latter was at supper, and another left in its place. This contains three letters addressed to Wilmot Peacock—two from his wife in Rockdale, and one from Bhilrton signed "Cousin."

The coat is now in possession of Chief Bagot, who wishes to negotiate an exchange.

QUIET WEDDING IN ASHBURNHAM

Miss Maggie Record Married to Mr. Geo. Wheeler.

A very quiet wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. Richard Record, when his daughter, Maggie, was married to Mr. Geo. Wheeler, Jr., son of Mr. Geo. Wheeler, of Fifth Ward. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Lewis, B.A., in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties, on account of the recent bereavement in the family of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler will reside at Auburn, and went to their new home last night.

NEW LICENSE BOARD ELECTED CHAIRMAN

First Meeting of West Peterborough Board of License Commissioners was Held This Morning--Dr. M. A. Morrison was Elected Chairman---Mr. Geo. Cochrane Again Elected Secretary of the Board---One Request for a Transfer was Granted.

This morning the new Board of License Commissioners for West Peterborough met in the office of the Inspector, Mr. Geo. Cochrane, Water street, when Dr. M. A. Morrison was elected to the chairmanship of the Board, the choice being an unanimous one.

The members of the new Board present were:—

Dr. M. A. Morrison, Peterborough.
H. LeBrun, Peterborough.
Johnathan Griffin, Lakefield.

The first business claiming the attention of the members of the Board was the selection of a chairman, which resulted as stated above.

The transfer of the license of the C.P.R. Hotel from James Allen to Rickerby Brothers, left over by the old Board for the new appointees to deal with, was taken up, and the transfer requested was granted.

April 19th was fixed as the day for receiving applications for licenses from all those at present holding licenses and who wish them renewed as well as from any new applicants.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane was again appointed secretary of the Board, in addition to the position which he held under the old Board.

Dr. Morrison, who was to-day elected chairman of the Board of License Commissioners, has been a resident of the town for fifteen years and has identified himself with the promotion of its interests in a more energetic, effective and public-spirited way, than many of twice his length of residence. His relations to the town, and his interest in its progress, his devotion to, and his success in, his profession, have made him one of our substantial citizens.

Entering the council in 1901, he was three years a member, and his abilities were recognized by his fellow aldermen. In his first year in the council, he was made a member of the Joint Town and County Committee. The second year he occupied the position of chairman of the Franchise Committee, and the third year he was chairman of the amalgamated Franchise and Manufacturers Committee. He was especially associated with the work which resulted in the resuscitation on so strong a basis, of the street railway.

Dr. Morrison is an influential member of the Charlotte street Methodist church, in which he takes a deep interest, and is one of its best supporters.

DR. M. A. MORRISON,
Elected Chairman of the License Commissioners for West Peterborough.

BREWERY CO. ENLARGES PLANT

Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company Making Improvements.

Business Extension Demands Increased Facilities—Good Business Prospects.

Expansion seems to be the watchword of all the Peterborough industries, and almost every day there comes news of some one or the other enlarging their present premises, or building new ones.

Last year the Examiner had the pleasure of noting some improvements which the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company had made to its plant, one of the chief of these being the addition of a story to the main building to provide for new equipment which was then placed in the brewery to meet the requirements of the rapidly growing trade of the company.

It appears, however, that the business expansion which made the enlargement referred to a necessity, did not stop last year, and the improvements and additions made then were outgrown by the increasing demands, and this spring the company has found it necessary to add still further to its equipment, which it has done, and a great change has been noticed around the brewery since these changes were made.

The main floors of the large brewery building have been raised about two feet, which will enable the workmen to handle to better advantage the machinery and plant.

The wooden boiling tank, which has hitherto done service in the brewery, has been replaced by a large steel receptacle, manufactured for the company by the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company. It will contain 2,000 gallons.

In addition to the other improvements in the plant that to cool the product has been replaced by a new cooling plant, manufactured especially for the company by Messrs Booth and Company, of Toronto.

With these improvements to the brewery, the company will be in a better position than ever to manufacture a first class product. It is learned on enquiry at the office of the company that prospects for business were never better. Last year was a most successful one and from present indications the business of 1905 will surpass that of last year.

Improvements have also been made to the office which has been thoroughly renovated and is now much more convenient and comfortable.

POLICE COURT NOTES

A charge against a young man in the employ of a leading hotel for having caused a false fire alarm to be sent in on the evening of March 16th, was this morning dismissed at Police Court.

The evidence adduced went to show that defendant who had been misinformed as to the fire, had acted in good faith. His prompt action was warmly commended by the Magistrate, who while he expressed the opinion that wilful offenses of this nature were altogether too common, and were deserving of the most severe punishment, the sending in of an alarm under necessary conditions is an act of citizenship worthy of the highest commendation.

Large Contract for Fire Hose Awarded.

At the last regular meeting of the Montreal Municipal Council, a large contract for fire hose was awarded to The Canadian Rubber Company, of Montreal. This Company tendered for the full requirements of the municipality in the matter of fire hose, viz:—5,000 ft., and were successful in being awarded the whole contract. The hose this Company tendered to supply was "Keystone" wax and gum treated, of which they are the exclusive manufacturers for the Dominion. A feature worthy of note in this matter, was that the contract was awarded to the highest tenderer, although the price of "Keystone" hose was five cents per foot higher than any other make of hose offered to the municipality, but the Council justified their action in paying the highest price, by explaining that the superior quality of "Keystone" hose over other makes, justified the extra expenditure.

SALVATION ARMY IN NEW POLICY

Conducts an Assurance Society With Success

Present Income is $725,000—304,127 Policy Holders.

The issue of the War Cry, the official organ of the Salvation Army, of March 25th, will say:—

An assurance society is probably one of the last things the average business man would desire to manage, and to find a religious organization managing one may occasion some amount of surprise, not unmixed with questionings as to whether such management is successful. In fact, such a host of queries may naturally occur to one on the subject that we have thought it advisable to write this article.

The Society is a properly-organized Assurance Company, registered under the Companies Act, and is managed by well-known International Headquarters officers, the Chairman of Directors being Mr. Bramwell Booth, the Chief of the Staff, and the Managing Director, Commissioner John A. Carleton. It commenced active assurance business under Army direction in 1894. For that year its surprising growth we have but to mention that at the present time its premium income amounts to £145,000 per annum.

Probably it will surprise some to know that the Society has over 1,500 outdoor representatives, comprised for the most part of Agents, Assistant-Superintendents, and Superintendents, and that every one of these is a teetotaler and non-smoker. With a few exceptions amongst the Agents, all are Salvationists. Every servant of the Society understands that he is also a representative of the Salvation Army. The whole of the officials and a great majority of the agents go about their business in full Salvation Army uniform.

Commissioner Carleton is the present Managing Director of the Salvation Army Life Assurance Department, in connection with the Methodist and General Assurance Society, of which Mr. Bramwell Booth, the Chief of Staff, is the chairman.

In 1901 he took over the direction of the above Society, since which time the number of policies issued has risen from 2,400 to 104,127, and the premium income from £420 to £145,000.

Spring Millinery Opening
Thursday, Friday, Saturday—March 23rd, 24th, 25th

NEW SHAPES AND STYLES

The success of this exhibition of clever artistic headwear, alone depends upon the public.

Each year, while we are taking advantage of each and every opportunity to keep in closest touch with foreign fashion centres, we are asked to draw upon the originality of our own Millinery artists, Our trimmers have visited the various centres of style and are modelling after the arts of Paris and New York, creating the daintiest and most catchy designs.

Ladies love exclusiveness and individuality, in fact, are yearly becoming more insistent in those respects, which accounts greatly for our increased prestige in the Millinery trade.

We're nothing, if not up-to-date, and it is not how much we can value a Hat but the value we can give you at the Price.

We extend an invitation to each Lady to visit our Millinery Display Room on the 2nd Floor, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Store open Thursday evening from 7 to 9.30 p. m.

P. S.—Each Department will take on their Spring appearance. A display of Novelties in Dress Goods, Linens, Wash Fabrics. Hosiery and Gloves on the main floor. and floor Display of Spring Jackets, Shirt Waist Suits, Skirts, Waists, Carpets and Curtains.

An opportunity to see the Furnished Bedroom illuminated—every lady delighted who sees it.

AN EVENING WITH WESTERN INDIANS

Rev. G. H. Raley Speaks on the Kitimaat B. C. Aborigines

Interesting Description of Their Manners and Customs.

The address given in the George street Sunday school room last night by Rev. G. H. Raley, on "The Hiawatha of the Pacific Coast," was attended by a large audience, who throughout were held fascinated and spell-bound by the graphic and picturesque descriptions of Indian life and character, as narrated by the speaker.

Rev. Mr. Raley is a missionary, who has been labouring for some years among the Kittimaat tribes of the Pacific coast, his address last night being under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society.

After offering the opening prayer, the chairman, Rev. Dr. Crothers, made a few opening remarks, expressive of congratulation to the Women's Missionary Society upon having been instrumental in bringing about the present visit of Rev. Mr. Raley to Peterborough, and spoke of the immense profit to all who had heard him, which had resulted. The splendid work which had been accomplished in the mission fields of British Columbia, was also referred to.

Rev. Mr. Raley in opening, gave a graphic and beautiful description of the scene of the story which was related. An Indian village and the glory of the surrounding landscape were vividly pictured, and many fantastical Indian legends narrated in a manner which kept his auditors intensely interested.

The main character of the story, Wahkeumaahiyou — the Hiawatha of the Pacific Coast — was then introduced, and the story of his life, a story at once strangely weird and fascinating, narrated. The early influences of his younger days, spent in the midst of the native tribes — the Kitamaats, and his love for his young Indian sweetheart, who was accused of witchcraft, were vividly described, as was also his later installation amongst the medicine men of his tribe, with its accompanying strange customs and ceremonies. The details of his perilous trip to Victoria, in immense canoes, laden with furs, was then described, and his conversion there by Rev. William Pollard.

After this followed the return, and the accompanying persecution at the hands of the Kitamaats, during which he remained firm in his newly found Christianity. Threats and persecution failing he still remained steadfast in the faith, even when he was threatened with death, when summoned before a council of the chieftains of the tribe. The pathetic story of his death, completed a narrative which throughout held his hearers spell-bound.

At the close of the address the speaker exhibited an interesting collection of Indian curios, and relics, and gave a brief description of each. These included a medicine man's rattle, soul trap, mask belonging to a man eater, whistle, dead box, hairpins, spoons and many beautiful examples of carving and woven work.

A vote of thanks was passed to the speaker on motion of Mr. D. W. Dumble, seconded by Mr. Richard Winch.

LECTURE WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Rev. Canon Dixon Gave Illustrated Letter on Life of Christ.

The illustrated lecture given in St. John's school hall last evening by the Rev. Canon Dixon, of Toronto, was very largely attended and proved of great interest. The lecturer threw upon canvass, by means of an excellent limelight apparatus, about one hundred and seventy magnificent slides illustrative of the events leading up to the Crucifixion of Christ, and the divine tragedy itself was impressively portrayed. The views were facsimiles of pictures by famous artists, and all that was necessary, by way of description, were verses taken from those portions of the Gospels which were immediately explanatory of the events depicted. The lecture, it such it can be called, was particularly adapted to the Lenten season, and calculated to impress its significance. The large gathering of people maintained a reverent silence throughout the hour-and-a-half's sacred panorama. A number of appropriate hymns were thrown upon the canvass during the evening, and the singing of these tended to intensify the solemnity of the occasion.

FENELON FALLS THE CHAMPIONS

Defeated Cobourg in Lindsay Last Night

Are now Holders of the Trent Valley League Championship.

Lindsay, March 20.—Fenelon Falls hockey team won the championship of the Trent Valley and the Stratton Cup here to-night by defeating Cobourg, 13 to 1. There was a large crowd and the ice was in perfect condition. Though too one-sided to be exciting, the match was a fast, clean exhibition of the game, only two men being sent to the boards, and for trifling offences. Chaucer Elliott of Kingston, was referee, and satisfied everybody. The game started at a whirlwind pace, that was maintained throughout the first half; and, although a fair share of the playing was in Fenelon territory, yet the Cobourg team was able to score only once while their opponents reached the net half a dozen times, several of them on individual rushes.

The second half started out well and Cobourg scored early, but soon after they were seriously weakened by the loss of Bentley, their star player, who sprained his leg and was out for the balance of the game. Ouliette of the Falls went off to even up. Paton, Cobourg's goal-tender, had his work cut out and did it well. Once he was temporarily disabled by stopping a hit with his head. The Falls outclassed their opponents in every way. The individual work was superb, and the combination playing about perfect. Scoring from the left wing is a pet performance with the boys from the cataract burg.

The line-up was as follows:—

Fenelon Falls (13)—Goal, Gould; point, Davey; cover point, Burgess; rover, Deyman; centre, Sandford; left, Ouliette; right, Boyce.

BONSPEIL ENDED LAST NIGHT

Mr. F. H. Dixon Won Final Game From Mr. T. Rutherford—Score 11-8.

The finals in the bonspiel were played last night at the curling rink. Mr. F. H. Dixon's rink carrying off the honours by defeating Mr. T. Rutherford by a majority of three shots, the score being 11-8. The bonspiel, which has been most successful in the closing event of the most successful season in the history of curling in Peterborough.

The rinks of last night were comprised as follows:—

R. E. Hardinge	J. A. Lawless
Wm. Smith	J. Bogue
J. McClung	H. Snowdon
F. H. Dixon, sk 11.	T. Rutherford, sk 8.

HOCKEY.

A fast and interesting game was played at the Brock street rink last night when St. John's Guild team defeated All Saints by a score of 8-6. All Saints were weakened by the absence of several of their best players, which doubtless affected the score considerably.

The teams lined up as follows:—

St. John's.		All Saints.
Staunton	Goal.	McCabe
Comstock	Point	Rush
Seymour	Cover Point.	Hopkins
Weller	Centre.	Adams
Weir	Left Wing.	R. Hillier
Ray	Right Wing.	Barclay

Referee—E. Wasson.

• • • •

The Aberdeens hereby challenge any junior team in town. They are now in the best of condition.

• • • •

It is reported that Fred. Whitcroft will play with Houghton next season. He is in that city now and this fact lends colour to this report.

LACROSSE.

The Young Peterborough Lacrosse Club is the first of the season to organize and this is a promising young aggregation which should be heard of before the season is over. The officers elected were:—

Hon. President—Jas. Maher.
President—M. J. Hickey.
First Vice-President—Dr. Wightman.
Second Vice-President—Chris. Graham.
Secretary-Treasurer—C. Clark.
Manager—Fred. McGrath.
Captain—Jos. Devlin.
Executive Committee — Captain, Manager, Secretary-Treasurer, M. Whaley, J. Seymour.
Mascot—"Hobbin" Holland.

The colours of the new club will be green and white. Already twenty players have signified their intention of turning out with the Young Peterboroughs.

CURLING

The curling rink will remain open every night during the balance of this week, and the prospects are that three sheets of ice, at least, will be in good condition. It is expected that this week will see the end of the curling season as the rink will in all probability be closed after this.

BASEBALL.

All young men connected with St. Paul's Young Men's Guild, and interested in baseball are reminded of the meeting to be held in the Y.M.C.A. to-night to organize for the season.

FATHER KILLED SON.

Coroner's Jury's Verdict on the Death of William Phelan.

Montreal, March 21.—"We the members of the jury, after having heard the evidence, declare that William Phelan died in Montreal on Saturday morning, March 18th, from a fracture of the skull, caused by blows administered by the father of the deceased."

The above is the verdict which was given by the jury at the inquest held yesterday morning over the body of William Phelan, 17 years of age, who died shortly before noon on Saturday, of injuries inflicted by his father, while lying asleep in bed at his home, 62 Dorion street.

Coroner McMaster, before the commencement of the inquest, instructed the jury to render a verdict according to the facts disclosed by the evidence. It might appear certain that the elder Phelan was insane at the time of the tragedy.

Blake Makes Speech.

London, March 21.—(C. A. P.)—Edward Blake made his first considerable speech of the session in proposing to reduce the civil service estimates by several hundred pounds, on the ground that the report of the land commissioners, relating to the administration of the Irish Land Act, had not been made public. The Government, however, obtained a majority of 74.

Nine Months in Central.

Windsor, March 21.—Magistrate Bartlett yesterday sentenced Gordon Fleming, Toronto, to a nine months' term in the Toronto Central Prison. He was charged with having attempted to perpetrate a swindle upon the dry-goods firm of J. W. Peddle & Co. of this city. Fleming pleaded guilty.

Helpless with Salt Rheum

"For many months my wife was unable to serve herself with her hands because of salt rheum. Dr. Chase's Ointment has entirely cured her entirely, and we strongly recommend it to any who suffer from similar ailments, believing that it has no equal."—Mr. Ludger Duguay, Pigeon Hill, Missisquoi Co., Que.

Hungarian in Port.

Portland, Me., March 20.—The steamship Hungarian of the Allan Line, about which there has been some anxiety arrived yesterday. She was delayed by bad weather.

With 1,380 New Comers.

Halifax, N. S., March 20.—The Allan steamer Tunisian arrived yesterday morning with 1,380 passengers on board, principally from the British Isles.

Princess Victoria Leaves for London.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—Princess Victoria, of Battenburg, left last night for London. Emperor Nicholas and the Empress accompanied her to the station at Tsarskoe Selo.

Sells Mrs. Chadwick's Effects.

Cleveland, O., March 18.—The household property of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was sold at auction yesterday to A. D. Nelson, of New York, for $35,000. There was 20 bidders.

Have You One of Those Can't Taste, Can't Smell Colds?

If you have you had better get rid of it immediately. If you don't, that terrible and disgusting malady, Catarrh, is sure to take hold of you and make you miserable, and an object of repugnance to your friends. The best and quickest cure for your cold is

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

It contains all the virtues of the Norway Pine Tree, combined with Wild Cherry Bark and the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Mr. Harry Mosher, Mosher's Island, N.S., writes:—"We have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in our family for the past six years, and have always found it a reliable remedy for the cure of coughs and colds."

Many cases of substitution have been brought to our notice. Do not be humbugged into taking any other pine syrup which unscrupulous dealers say is just as good.

Dr. Wood's is the original, put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark, and the price 25 cents.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Easier for Cattle—U. S. Markets Show a Firmer Tone.

London, March 20.—Live cattle are quoted at 10½c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8½c to 8¾c per lb.; sheep, 12c to 13c per lb.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 42 carloads, composed of 795 cattle, 9 hogs, 9 sheep and 18 calves.

Shipping cattle sold all the way from $4.25 to $5, with one or two lots at a little more money, but the bulk sold at $4.70 to $4.90. Export bulls sold at from $3.50 to $4, with one or two of extra choice quality at $4.10 per cwt.

Only a limited number were offered, a very few of which could be classed as good. A few odd lots sold at $4.25 to $4.50; medium mixed loads sold at $3.85 to $4.12½; common at $3.25 to $3.65; rough and inferior at $2.50 to $3.25.

A few milch cows sold at $30 to $48 each. Thirteen calves sold at $4 to $6 per cwt.

Nine sheep sold at $4.75 to $5 per cwt.

Prices for hogs have again advanced 25c per cwt. There were only nine hogs on the market. H. P. Kennedy stated that he had contracted for several loads to arrive on Tuesday at following quotations: Off cars, selects at $5.50; off cars, lights and fats, $5.25; fed and watered, selects, $5.25; fed and watered, lights and fats, $5.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, March 20.—(Special.)—Cable advices came weak and prices slow, a decline of ½c to 1c per lb., with Canadian cattle in London quoted at 12c and in Liverpool at 10½c to 10¾c, while American cattle in Glasgow sold at 11¼c to 12c. The demand for ocean freight has been good, and all the space from West St. John to Liverpool London and Glasgow was well engaged for April at 37s 6d, with the Glasgow space for May and June from this port let at 40s, and the same Liverpool at the same figure. There were about 600 head cattle, 50 milch cows, 100 calves and 30 sheep and lambs offered at the East End Abattoir. The butchers were present in large numbers, but trade was slow, as higher prices were being asked all round. Prime beeves sold at 4½c to 5c per lb.; good cattle, 3½c to 4¾c, and the common stock 2½c to 3½c per lb. There were several very fine milch cows offered, but there seemed to be little demand for them. Prices ranged from $25 to $60 each. Calves sold at from $2 to $6 each. Sheep were scarce; prices were from 2½c to 5c per lb. There were a dozen spring lambs on the market; prices were from $3.50 to $6.50 each. The demand for calves was good at $2 to $10 each. The market for hogs was strong under an active demand, and prices show an advance of 40c to 50c per 100 lbs. Selected lots sold at $5.75, fed and watered.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

Veals—Receipts, 1100 head; slow; 50c lower; $4.50 to $8.

Hogs—Receipts, 14,000 head; active; 5c to 10c higher; heavy, $5.05 to $5.75; mixed, $5.05 to $5.70; yorkers, $5.50 to $5.70; pigs, $5.30 to $5.35; roughs, $4.90 to $5.05; stags, $3.25 to $4.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 14,000 head; slow; native lambs, $6.50 to $8.40; western, $6 to $8.25; yearlings, $7 to $7.35; wethers, $6.25 to $6.50; ewes, $5.75 to $6.15; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $6.15.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, March 20.—Beeves—Receipts, 31,785; steers in very light supply and unevenly higher; fat bulls strong; others steady; choice fat cows, 10c to 15c higher; others steady; steers, $5.15 to $6; bulls, $3.25 to $4.80; cows, $1.50 to $4. Exports tomorrow, 800 cattle, 1171 sheep and 3400 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 2240; active and strong; 25c higher; veals, $5 to $9; tops, $9.25; culls, $4 to $4.50; little calves and barnyard stock nominal.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4423; sheep strong on light supply and top grades 10c to 15c higher; lambs opened slow, but were active later, and all sold at steady prices; sheep, $4.50 to $6; choice wethers, $6.75; culls, $3.50 to $4.25; clipped culls, $2; lambs, $7.25 to $8.40; no prime lambs here; culls, $6.

A Rare Genealogy.

A few months ago, in looking up his genealogy, a Londoner discovered that a woman he did not know was using a crest he had regarded as his own. He found she was a cousin. They became friends, and when she died recently she bequeathed her estate, more than $500,000, to him. That was certainly rich fruit to find on the branches of the family tree.

SIGNAL HILL GUNS.

An Addition to the Esquimalt Fort of Great Importance.

Few of the residents of Victoria, B. C., or for that matter, of Canada, realize the magnitude of the task undertaken by the Imperial authorities, when it was decided to augment the Esquimalt fortifications by mining Signal Hill, and placing there two immense guns of 9.2 calibre. This work was started two years ago, and it will be another year before it is completed. After it had been agreed that Signal Hill was the most advantageous position for the required purposes, huge excavations had to be blasted into the solid rock. Then the whole interior had to be concreted, and the positions of the guns selected on either side of the magazine.

A large force of Royal Garrison Artillery now stationed at Work Point, have been busy during the past few weeks drawing pedestals up the hill and placing them in readiness for mounting. These pedestals are to be held by bolts, 56 in each emplacement, and every one weighs about 120 pounds, being 11 feet in length. Each series of four bolts is held together by an immense iron shoe, weighing approximately 400 pounds. The pedestals are in two parts, and one complete tips the scales at ten tons.

Hydraulic engines will be installed at Signal Hill for hoisting shells from the magazine and loading the guns. One of these will perform the former operation, and deposit the shell upon a truck, from where it will be run to the breech by another engine. Practically speaking, the shot is not handled by the gunners, the loading being performed by machinery.

By this means, although each shell weighs 300 pounds, it is possible to fire three rounds per minute. Regarding roof construction, it will be necessary after placing the steel girders covered with concrete to conceal this work with at least ten feet of earth. When the latter is finished the fort will be absolutely shell proof. With the addition of strong emplacements for protection of each gun, the fortress should be able to participate in an engagement with an attacking naval force without fear of damage from the opponent's missiles.

Danger in Celluloid Combs.

Lally Bernard, The Globe's London correspondent, says: I wonder if there is as great a percentage of accidents in Canada from using celluloid combs for the hair as there is in England. There are thousands and thousands of imitation tortoise-shell combs sold at this moment, some studded with imitation jewels, and some of them are what are known as "round combs" for young girls, and constantly one reads of these combs igniting when a girl is sitting reading or before an open fire, or close to a lamp or candle, and the results in nearly ever case have been fatal. There are even cases where heat, without flame, has caused the material to ignite, and the warnings issued by The Lancet and other papers of the same character seem to have but little effect among the people, who will buy what is fashionable, in spite of all the risk their purchases may entail.

Colds Become Pneumonia

AND BRING FATAL RESULTS IN A REMARKABLY SHORT TIME—THE SAFEGUARD IS

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE.

Nearly everybody knows that pneumonia results from neglected colds and yet there is scarcely a newspaper you pick up these days but contains the report of some fatality from this deadly disease.

Colds are so common that the danger they carry with them is overlooked.

In Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine you have a positive cure for colds and a complete safeguard against such serious developments as pneumonia and consumption.

The exceptional curative properties of turpentine and linseed are well known, and in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine they are combined with half a dozen other ingredients in such a way as to be pleasant to the taste, and wonderfully powerful in the cure of throat and lung diseases.

Such ailments as croup bronchitis and asthma are quickly relieved and entirely cured by this treatment.

There is, we believe, no medicine so well suited for family use as a cure for coughs and colds, and as a safe-guard against the deadly ailments which so frequently arise from them.

Mrs. J. Provost, Renfrew, Ont., states:—"My fourteen-year-old boy had a very severe cold in the chest last winter and I really thought he was going to die. He coughed nearly all the time and sometimes would spit up blood. We had about given up all hopes of his recovery when I heard of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. After using one bottle there was a great change in his condition, and I can positively say that he was completely cured by two bottles and he has not been troubled since. I never saw medicine take such quick effect and can sincerely recommend it."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

The Heart's Highway

By MARY E. WILKINS

Copyright, 1900, by DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

CHAPTER II.

I KNOW not how it may be with other men, but of one branch of knowledge, which pertains directly to the human heart, and, when it be what its name indicates, to its eternal life, I gained no insight whatever from my books and my lessons, nor from my observance of its workings in those around me, and that was the passion of love. Of that I truly could learn naught except by turning my reflections toward my own heart.

I had loved Mary Cavendish like a father and like a lover, like a friend and a brother, like a slave and like a master, and it had been thus with me near sixteen years, since I was fourteen and she was a little maid of two, and I lived neighbor to her in Suffolkshire.

At fourteen I was as ungainly a lad, with as helpless a sprawl of legs and arms and as staring and shamefaced a surprise at my suddenly realized height of growth when jostled by a girl or a younger lad, and utter discomfiture before an unexpected deepness of tone when essaying a polite response to an inquiry of his elders, as was ever seen in England.

And I remember that I bore myself with a wary outlook for affronts to my newly fledging dignity and concealed all that was stirring in me to new life, whether of nobility or natural emotion, as if it were a dire shame, and whenever I had it in my heart to be tender was so brusque that I seemed to have been provided by nature with an armor of roughness like a hedgehog. But perhaps I had some small excuse for this, though, after all, it is a question in my mind as to what excuse there may be for any man outside the motives of his own deeds, and I care not to dwell unduly, even to my own consideration, upon those disadvantages of life which may come to a man without his cognizance and are to be borne like any fortune of war.

But I had a mother who had small affection for me, and that was not so unnatural nor so much to her discredit as it may sound, since she, poor thing, had been forced into a marriage with my father when she was long in love with her cousin. Then, my father having died at sea the year after I was born, and her cousin, who was a younger son, having come into the estates through the deaths of both his brothers of smallpox in one week, she married her first love in less than six months, and no discredit to her, for women are weak when they love, and she had doubtless been sorely tried.

They told me that my poor father was a true man and gallant soldier, and my old nurse used to talk to me of him, and I used to go by myself to think of him, and my eyes would get red when I was but a little boy with reflecting upon my mother with her new husband and her beautiful little boy, my brother John, a year and a half younger than I, and how my own poor father was forgotten. But there was no discredit to my mother, who was only a weak and gentle woman and was tasting happiness after disappointment and sorrow in being borne so far out by the tide of it that she lost sight, as it were, of her old shores.

My mind was never against my mother for her lack of love for me. But it is not hard to be lenient toward a lack of love toward oneself, especially remembering, as I do, myself and my fine ruddy faced, loud voiced stepfather and my brother John.

A woman, by reason of her great tenderness of heart, which makes her suffer overmuch for those she loves, has not the strength to bear the pain of loving more than one or two so entirely, and my mother's whole heart was fixed with an anxious strain of loving care upon my stepfather and my brother. I have seen her sit hours by a window as pale as a statue while my stepfather was away, for those were troublous times in England and he in the thick of it. When I was a lad of six or thereabouts they were bringing the king back to his own, and some of the loyal ones were in danger of losing their heads along his proposed line of march. And I have known her to hang whole nights over my brother's bed if he had but a tickling in the throat, and what could one poor woman do more?

My brother John looked like my mother, being, in fact, almost feminine in his appearance, though not in his character. He had the same fair face, perhaps more clearly and less softly cut, and the same long, silky wave of fair hair, but the expression of his eyes was different, and in character he was different. As for me, I was like my poor father, so like that, as I grew older, I seemed his very double, as my old nurse used to tell me. Perhaps that may have accounted for the quick glance, which seemed almost of fear, which my mother used to give me sometimes when I entered a room where she sat at her embroidery work.

I used to slink away as soon as possible when my mother turned her startled blue eyes upon me in such wise, that she might regain her peace, and sometimes I used to send my brother John to her on some errand, if I could manage it, knowing that he could soon drive me from her mind. One learns early such little tricks with women. They are such tender things, and it stirs one's heart to impatience to see them troubled. However, I will not deny that I may have been at times disturbed with some bitterness and jealousy at the sight of my brother and my stepfather having that which I naturally craved, for the heart of a little lad is a hungry thing for love, and has pangs of nature which will not be stilled, though they are to be borne like all else of pain on earth.

But after I saw Mary Cavendish all that passed, for I got, through loving so entirely, such knowledge of love in others that I saw that the excuse of love, for its weaknesses and its own crimes even, is such as to pass understanding. Looking at my mother caressing my brother instead of myself, I entered so fully into her own spirit of tenderness that I no longer rebelled nor wondered. The knowledge of the weakness of one's own heart goes far to set one at rights with all others.

When I first saw Mary Cavendish she was, as I said before, a little baby maid of two and I a loutish lad of fourteen, and I was going through the park of Cavendish Hall, which lay next ours, one morning in May, when all the hedges were white and pink and the blue was full of wings and songs. Cavendish Hall had been vacant, save for a caretaker, that many a day. Francis Cavendish, the owner, had been for years in India, but he had lately died, and now the younger brother, Geoffry, Mary's father, had come home from America to take possession of the estate, and he brought with him his daughter Catherine by a former marriage, a maid a year older than I; his second wife, a delicate lady scarce more than a girl, and his little daughter Mary.

And they had left to come thither two fine estates in Virginia—namely, these two, Laurel Creek, which was Mary's mother's in her own right, and Drake Hill—and the second wife had come with some misgiving and attended by a whole troop of black slaves, which made all our country fall agog at once with awe and ridicule and admiration. I was myself full of interest in this unwonted folk and prone to linger about the park for a sight and maybe a chance word with them, having ever from a child had a desire to look further into that which has been hitherto unknown, whether it be in books or in the world at large.

So I, with my book lesson done, but my mind still athirst for more knowledge, and maybe curious, for all thirst is not for the noblest ends, crawled through a gap in the snowy May hedge and was slinking across the park of Cavendish Hall with long, loose jointed lopes like a stray puppy, and maybe with some sense of being where I should not, though I could not have rightly told why, since there were no warnings up against trespassers and I had no designs upon any hare or deer.

Be that as it may, I was going along in such fashion through the greenness of the park, so deep with rich lights and shadows on it that May morning that is seemed like plunging thought-high in a green sea, when suddenly I stopped and my heart leaped, for there sat in the grass before me, clutching some of it with a tiny hand like a pink pearl, the sweetest little maid that ever this world held.

All in white she was and of a stuff so thin that her baby curves of innocence showed through it, and the little smock slipped low down over her rosy shoulders, and her little toes curled pink in the green grass, for she had no shoes on, having run away before she was dressed by some oversight of her black nurse, and down from her head, over all her tiny body, hiding all save the merest glimmer of the loveliness of her face, fell the most wonderful shower of gold locks that ever a baby of only two years possessed. She sat there with the sunlight glancing on her through a rift in the trees, all in a web of gold, floating and flying on the May wind, and for a minute I, being well instructed in such lore, thought she was no mortal child, but something more, as she was indeed, but in another sense.

I stood there and looked and looked, and she still pulled up tiny handfuls of the green grass and never turned nor knew me near, when suddenly there burst with a speed like a storm, and a storm indeed it was of brute life, with loud stamps of a very fury of sound which shook the earth as with a mighty tread of thunder, out of a thicker part of the wood, a great black stallion on a morning gallop with all the freedom of the spring and youth firing his blood, and one step more and his iron hoofs would have crushed the child. But I was first. I flung myself upon her and threw her like a feather to one side, and that was the last I knew for awhile.

When I knew myself again there was a mighty pain in my shoulder, which seemed to be the center of my whole existence by reason of it, and there was the feel of baby kisses on my lips. The courage of her blood was in that tiny maid. She had no thought of flight nor tears, though she knew not but that black thunderbolt would return, and she knew not what my ghastly silence meant. She had crept close to me, though she might well have been bruised, such a tender thing she was, by the rough fling I had given her, and was trying to know me awake as she did her father. And I, rude boy, all unversed in grace and tenderness and hitherto all unsought of love, felt her soft lips on mine and looking saw that baby face all clouded about with gold, and I loved her forever.

I knew not how to talk to a little petted treasure of life like that, and I dared not speak, but I looked at her, and she seemed not to be afraid, but laughed with a merriment of triumph at seeing me awake, and something she said in the sweetest tongue of the world, which I yet made poor shift to understand, for her baby speech, besides its incompleteness, had also a long drawn sweetness like the slow trickle of honey, which she had caught from those black people which she had about her since her birth.

I had great ado to move, though my shoulder was not disjointed, only sorely bruised, but finally I was on my feet again, though standing rather weakly, and with an ear alert for the return of that wild, careering brute, and the little maid was close at my side, with one rosy set of fingers clinging around two of my rough brown ones with that sweet tenacity of a baby grasp which can hold the strongest thing on earth.

And she kept on jabbering with that slow murmur of sweetness, and I stood looking down at her, catching my breath with the pain in my shoulder, though it was out of my thoughts with this new love of her, and then came my father, Colonel John Chelmsford, and Captain Geoffry Cavendish, waxing through the park in deep converse, and came upon us, and stopped and stared, as well they might.

Captain Geoffry Cavendish was a gaunt man with the hectic color of a fever, which he had caught in the new country, still in the hollows of his cheeks. He was quite young, with sudden alertness of glances in bright black eyes like the new color in jewels when the light shifts. His daughter has the same, though her eyes are blue. Moreover, through having been in the royal navy before he got a wound which incapacitated him from further service, and was indeed in time the cause of his death, he had acquired a swift suppleness of silent movement, which his daughter has inherited also.

The baby that caused the accident

When he came upon us he stared for but one second, then came that black flash into his eyes, and out curved an arm, and the little maid was on her father's shoulder, and he was questioning me with something of mistrust. I was a gentleman born and bred, but my clothes sat but roughly and indifferently on me, partly through lack of oversight and partly from that rude tumble I had gotten. Indeed, my breeches and my coat were something torn by it.

Then, too, I had doubtless a look of ghastliness and astonishment that might well have awaked suspicion, and Captain Geoffry Cavendish had never spoken with me in the short time since his return. "Who may you be?" he asked, and his voice hesitated between hostility and friendliness, and my stepfather answered for me with a slight forward thrust of his shoulders which might have indicated shame, or impatience, or both. "'Tis Master Harry Maria Wingfield," answered he; then in the same breath, "How came you here, sir?"

I answered, seeing no reason why I should not, though I felt my voice shake, being still unsteady with the pain, and told the truth, that I had come thither to see if perchance I could get a glimpse of some of the black folk. At that Captain Cavendish laughed good humoredly, being used to the excitement his black troop caused and amused at it, and called out merrily that I was about to be gratified, and indeed at that moment came running, with fat lunges, as it were, of tremulous speed, a great black woman in pursuit of the little maid and heaved her high to her dark wave of bosom with hoarse chuckles and coolings of love and delight and white rollings of terrified eyes at her master if perchance he might be wroth at her carelessness.

He only laughed and brushed his dark beard against the tender roses of the little maid as he gave her up, but my stepfather, who, though not ill natured, often conceived the necessity of ill nature, was not so easily satisfied. He stood looking sternly at my white face and my weak yielding of body at the bend of the knees, and suddenly he caught me heavily by my bruised shoulder. "What means all this, sirrah?" he cried out, but then I sank away before him, for the pain was greater than I could bear.

you feel the good that's done by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cleanses, regulates and invigorates Stomach, Liver and Bowels and so purifies the blood. And through the blood, it cleanses, repairs, and invigorates the whole system.

In recovering from "grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other exhausting diseases, nothing can equal it as an appetizing, restorative tonic to build up needed flesh and strength. It rouses every organ into natural action, promotes all the bodily functions, and restores health and vigor.

For every disease that comes from foul or Weak Stomach, a torpid Liver or impure Blood, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and the most stubborn Skin, Scalp, or Scrofulous affections, the "Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Don't be hypnotized, wheedled, or over persuaded into accepting a substitute only that some selfish medicine seller may make a greater profit on the inferior article. The "Discovery" has a great record of nearly forty years with thousands of cures behind it.

Dear Sir—Several years ago my blood became impoverished and I became run down in health. I had no appetite, could not sleep, and was practically unfitted for work. Suffered from innumerable boils and was in bad shape. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery relieved me of my wretched condition. The medicine built up my system and restored me to a normal condition of health. I can speak most highly also of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as it has been used in my family for years in cases of female trouble.

NEVER NEGLECT EVERY-DAY ILLS.

A cold is one of the everyday ills of life. People of all ages, in summer and in winter, are liable to catch cold, and a cold is always dangerous, because a cold is but the beginning of catarrh of some internal organ—head, lungs, stomach or pelvic organs. Any remedy that will cure a cold should cure the many effects of a cold. That's why Smith's Triple Cure is so popular, why people are so enthusiastic after experiencing its wonderful curative power. Smith's Triple Cure promptly cures colds and catarrh wherever located, because it acts directly on the depressed nerve centres, giving strength and vigor to tired nerves, removing the congestion of the circulation and imparting renewed vitality to the mucous membranes.

Picture to yourself the horrors of bronchial catarrh—the terrible cough, disgusting expectoration, wheezy breath and loss of strength, or the tortures of female catarrh—the swollen bowels, shooting pains, offensive discharges, displacements and burning distress, and then realize, if you can, how thankful these sufferers are for Smith's Triple Cure which has delivered them out of their troubles. Is it any wonder that Smith's Triple Cure is rapidly displacing all other catarrh treatments in hospitals and sanitariums and is prescribed by the medical profession generally? It meets a want felt for centuries, yet felt now in this strenuous life of ours as never before. Smith's Triple Cure cures catarrh sufferers of all ages, makes the sick well and the weak strong; it builds up healthy digestion, makes strong nerves and enriches the blood. That's why all the world is praising it, why its magical curative power is talked about in the homes and on the streets.

Smith's Triple Cure consists of four separate preparations, three remedies taken internally acting on the mucous membranes, stomach, liver and digestive organs, purifying and enriching the blood, and a catarrh cream used locally in allaying all inflammation and killing all disease germs in the nasal passages, throat and lungs, a full two weeks' treatment of combined remedies, sold for only 50 cents by all dealers, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send 25 two-cent stamps by mail today, and we will send it postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James St., Montreal.

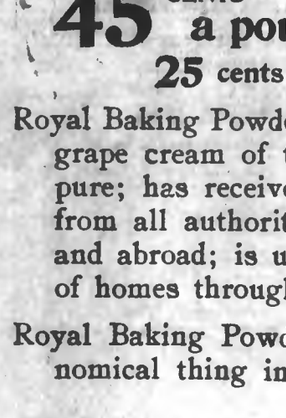
COLTS CRICKET CLUB READY FOR SEASON 1905

Organization Meeting Was Held Last Night---A Most Enthusiastic Gathering---Prospects for the Coming Season are Bright--The Officers Elected--Last Year's Good Record to be Repeated.

Seldom has a more enthusiastic bunch of cricketers gathered together than the crowd which graced the Colts' annual meeting in the Y. M. C. A., last evening. From start to finish things went with a vim and swing which promises well for the success of the coming season; in fact the wise ones are already prophesying the strongest team and the most successful year in the club's history.

After a brief speech on the part of the chairman the election of officers was proceeded with and the



MR. HARRY HALL,

The Newly Elected Captain of the Colts Cricket Club.

destinies of the club for the ensuing year will be in the hands of the following:—

Patrons and Patronesses—Hon. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hughes Charles.

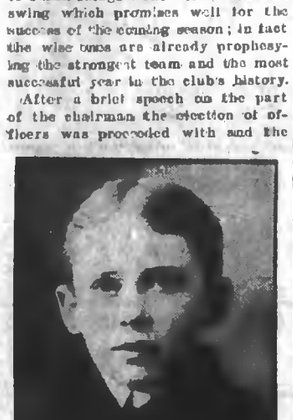
Hon. President — K. Eardley-Wilmot.

President—Mr D. H. Burritt.

Vice Presidents — A. A. Hollingshead.

Captain—Harry Hall.

Secretary-Treasurer— G. Greer.



MR. G. GREER,

Last Night Elected Secretary-Treasurer for the Third Successive Year.

Executive—B. Laing, B. Carmichael, W. Sheffield.

The Secretary-Treasurer presented a most satisfactory report.

The fact that Mr. Greer has been elected for his third successive term is the highest possible eulogy, and the report was adopted without discussion. Informal discussion followed on topics of universal interest, such as practices, fees, games, etc., and from the tenor of everyone's remarks the Club's prospects have never been brighter.

Last season it will be remembered, the Colts suffered but one defeat, and this year every possible effort will be made to show a clean sheet. True several of the "old guard" have fallen by the way, but with the abundance of new material on hand it should be a comparatively easy matter to put a first-class eleven in the field.

It was suggested that a tour-days tour, embracing games with Toron-

MR. G. L. MAIN,

Winner of the Hollingshead Bat Last Year for the Best Batting Average.

to, Port Hope, Lindsay and Millbrook, be arranged and the scheme seems a very plausible one. In the meantime home games will be arranged with surrounding teams and the Colts will thus be in the best possible shape should they decide to go farther afield.

The management clearly recognizes what an important factor the frequent systematic practices of last year were, in the season's success, and it is particularly desired that all cricketers turn out as soon as the weather permits. It is desired that this years team embrace the best talent in Peterborough and a most cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the game.

PROSPECTS FOR BASEBALL GOOD

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Baseball Club Held Last Night.

Officers Were Elected—A Good Team Will be Placed in the Field This Year.

The present prospects for baseball in Peterborough for 1905 are very promising. Last night the annual meeting of the Peterborough Baseball Club was held in the Oriental Hotel, when the officers were elected for the season and plans discussed.

Boiled down to the essential facts, the result was there will, in all probability, be a team representing the town in the Midland League, providing that league is conducted upon a business basis, and, furthermore, the team will be one which will bring credit to the town it represents.

The club this year will be under good management, and with a good team, in a good league, the season should be a most satisfactory one.

Mr. R. MacEwen, a baseball manager of considerable experience has been elected to that office in the newly organized Peterborough club, and promises that if the club is supported he will place a nine in the field which will do the town credit.

These present at last night's meeting were:—Messrs. A. A. Hollingshead, M. Connors, A. Gillespie, R. Gibbs, M. McWilliams, E. Belleghem, G. Scott, J. Sheridan, B. Hutchinson, H. Morgan, J. Cookson, T. Glover, R. MacEwen, R. E. Layfield, Jas. Hamilton, C. G. Graham, H. Clegg.

Mr. C. G. Graham was voted to the chair and in opening the meeting explained the objects for which it was called. Peterborough, in the past, had he said, had a good baseball team, and there was no reason why this year should be any exception. He called for the election of officers which resulted as follows:—

President—R. E. Layfield.
Vice-President—J. W. Kelly.
Secretary—T. Glover.
Treasurer—M. J. Hutchinson.
Manager—Robt. MacEwan.
Board of Managers—Messrs. M. Connors, A. J. Olle, G. Scott, C. G. Graham.

An informal discussion took place as to the policy to be adopted by the club this year, and as to whether the Midland League would be entered. It was suggested by the president that it would be advisable to make each club deposit, say $50, as a guarantee that they would finish the season, and if this were done, and the league conducted upon a business-like basis, the Peterboroughs might enter. The supporters of the club would then be reasonably sure that the schedule would be played out, and the games advertised would be seen. The ground was taken that since the club was to be conducted according to the best business methods, the league in which it entered would also have to adopt that policy.

The question of grounds was discussed informally, and Mr. Connors stated that the Turf Club's grounds had been rolled and placed into shape, and that they would be available for the baseball club this year. Final arrangements as to this, as well as other matters, will be left to the Board of Managers, which will meet on Friday, when the team will probably be announced. It is learned, however, that there is a likelihood of Parker, who was last year with Oshawa, coming to Peterborough to twirl this season. Parker was the best pitcher in the league last season, and would like to come here to live. No further announcements have been made as yet, but the team will be a good one, Mr. MacEwen promises this, and his promises will be fulfilled.

Mr. MacEwen, on being interviewed after last night's meeting, as to his baseball experience, and the prospects for a team here, he said:—

"I have been connected with baseball for the last ten years as Manager of Wellingtons and Night Owls of Toronto, having won four championships with the Wellingtons in five years. Organized the famous Night Owls and won championship of Toronto the first year; came second twice and once in third in the Toronto senior league. Death of my wife was the cause of my moving to Peterborough with my girl and boy two years ago last January. I will give Peterborough the best baseball I know of. The game will be played as it should be played—clean and true and up to the handle. There is some good baseball material in town. No favours will be shown. Every player will be justly dealt with as far as given a trial is concerned. Jack Pilling and Sheridan are promising players that should play better this year than ever before. In my connection with baseball the following players who are making their mark in the baseball world, played in the Wellingtons and Night Owls:—Hanrahan, Dunlop, Wallace, Robertson, and Eddie Taylor of the Northern League; Bill Pearson, of Dayton, Ohio; Blakey, of Wheeling; Hardy, of Atlanta; Lee, of Concord; Hickey, of Columbus, who was drafted by Cleveland; of the A. A. League; Jimmy Arcnet, of Pittsburg National League; Bill O'Hara and Simon Gerdon, of the California League; McGuire, of Boone, and Billy Reid, who has just signed a Toronto contract. Have always been supported by Billy Blewett, of the Star, and Billy Goode, of the Globe and A. N. Garrett, of the World."

Mr. MacEwen expressed the hope that he would be given the support of the baseball lovers in town and assured them that the confidence so given would not be misplaced.

RE-ORGANIZED T. A. S. CLUB

Will Go After International Honours This Year.

Officers Elected at Last Night's Annual Meeting—The Club's Plans.

The annual re-organization meeting of the T.A.S. Baseball Club, was held last night at the society's rooms. There was a large attendance, and much enthusiasm was displayed. The prospects for a successful season are very bright, and the Abstainers should be near the top of whatever league they enter.

The president, Mr. P. Simons, jr., being absent, Mr. Jos. Maher, Hon. President last year, occupied the chair. The Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Godfrey Coughlin, presented his report, which indicated a very successful season, as far as victories were concerned, but showed that the entrance into the Kawartha League had not been a success financially.

In the Kawartha League the T. A. S. had defeated the Auburns by 6—4, and 5—4, won twice from Lindsay, once by default, and on the other occasion by 20—6; trimmed Fenelon Falls at the Falls by 6—4, and also won from the Cataract bunch by default. At Bobcaygeon they had met their first defeat of the season in a league contest by 6—4. On the return game the Abstainers won by 8—6, but the game was protested because of the fact that Manager Grady had participated in two Midland League games. The game was ordered to be played off at Lindsay, and the T.A.S. lost by 8 runs to 6. The Abstainers also during the season won exhibition games from Orillia, Auburn and Y.M.C.A., and lost to Peterborough and Lindsay Midland League teams.

The total deficit is about $75, but it must be remembered that the T. A. S. had to face comparatively heavy travelling expenses, while the home gates were very small.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien was present, and gave the meeting an interesting address on athletic sports, and hoped the team would prove a credit to itself and the society.

The election of officers then took place and resulted as follows:

Hon. President—Rev. Dr. O'Brien.
President—Mr. Jos. Maher.
Vice-President—Mr. Fred Craig.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. E. W. Argus.
Manager—Mr. W. Grady.
Executive — Messrs. Maher, Argus, Grady and Craig.

The question as to what league the team would play in was not definitely decided, but Messrs. Grady and Argus were appointed delegates to attend the City League meeting when called.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien informed the meeting of the resolution passed by the society in reference to sports. This enacted that the society would not finance a team entered in a League in which outside teams would have to be met.

Mr. Fred Cook reported to the meeting that at the annual T.A.S. convention, held in St. Louis, last fall, he had challenged any T.A.S. team in America to a game of baseball or lacrosse. The lacrosse challenge had not been accepted, but the baseball offer had been. The convention will be held this year at Wilkesbarre, Penn. The meeting discussed the trip and it seemed to be the general opinion that the team should visit Wilkesbarre. The society will not finance the undertaking, but Rev. Dr. O'Brien was of the opinion that with the very cheap rate that would prevail for delegates to the convention, it would not be difficult to secure the necessary funds. The club will work with that object in view.

Judging by the enthusiasm displayed last night, the T.A.S. should have a successful season, at least all indications point that way.

That Well Dressed Feeling

is something that most men appreciate. Some of them pay pretty high to secure it; others wear our Ready-to-wear and get it for half the money. We don't ask you to take our word for the excellence of our clothing, but it would please us immensely if you would come in and look at the new spring styles. If you are a merchant tailor man we will guarantee to surprise you.

Paying too much and waiting too long is the "Made-to-order" way. Paying just enough and getting perfect satisfaction is our way. We fit all shapes. We've a cordial welcome for you.

Reception Days
AT THE Golden Lion

On Thursday, March 23rd, and following days, Dame Fashion holds court at ROBT. FAIR & Co's, presenting all the wonders, all the beauties of the new styles for Spring.

The Millinery Opening

Will be a showing of unusually elegant pattern Hats, Bonnets and the correct novelties represented by creations from famous London, Paris and New York designers.

Our Miss Armstrong purposely deferred her usual visit to New York this season in order to secure the very newest styles, not shown at the earlier wholesale Millinery Openings.

This opening event will also include the season's first display of Spring Styles in—

Women's Suits, Skirts, Silk Shirt Waist Dresses, Costumes, Raincoats, etc.
Misses' Coats, Reefers.
Children's Coats, Reefers, etc.
Dress Goods, Trimmings, etc.

As a style spectacle this will be a display that has never before been equalled by us.

We extend a cordial invitation to every lady to inspect this magnificent opening exhibition.

Store open Thursday evening.

THE JAPANESE PURSUIT FAILS

Continue to Follow Closely Gen. Linevitch's Rearguard--In Command of First Army --Gen. Kuropatkin's Services Volunteered and Gratefully Retained by the Czar --Tears Streamed Down His Face As His Loving Soldiers Cheered Him on His Way From Harbin South.

Tokio, March 22.—No reports of the Russian retreat or Japanese pursuit were received yesterday, which is strengthening the belief that the Russian plan to hold the line from Changchun to Kirin.

The Japanese continue to follow closely Gen. Linevitch's rearguard, but the damaged bridges impede their progress and possibly will create sufficient delay to permit the Russians to reconcentrate, reinforce, partially reorganize, and construct works at Changchun and Kirin.

It is reported that a portion of the Vladivostock garrison has been withdrawn and sent to Harbin, but no confirmation of the rumor is obtainable.

Revised figures of the Japanese losses at the battle of Mukden place the number at 80,000, and revised estimates of the Russian losses from the commencement of the battle of Mukden and ending with the fighting at Tie Pass place the total at 175,000 killed, wounded or captured.

Third Pacific Squadron.

London, March 22.—A despatch from Canea, Island of Crete, says that the Russian third Pacific squadron, under Admiral Nebogatoff, has left Suda Bay for Port Said.

The correspondent at Aden of The Daily Mail reports that 34 steamers laden with 100,000 tons of coal were waiting at Jibutil for the Russian fleet, which is expected there at the end of the month.

SOLDIER OF THE CZAR.

Gen. Kuropatkin Given the Command of the First Army.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—The Russian army in Manchuria is still to have the services of Gen. Kuropatkin. Sinking all feeling of personal bitterness and all the old-time enmity between himself and Gen. Linevitch the former commander-in-chief volunteered to remain in any capacity with the army which he had so long commanded. The tender has been accepted by Emperor Nicholas and gratefully received by the new leader of the army. He is made commander of the First Manchurian army.

Authoritative news of this remarkable step was known in Manchuria, much earlier than in St. Petersburg. Gen. Kuropatkin, having paused on his homeward journey at Harbin, started southward the afternoon of March 20 amidst a most remarkable farewell from the residents of Harbin and soldiers who are on the way to fill out the ranks of the depleted army. The send-off was a mere foretaste of what awaits Gen. Kuropatkin at the front.

When Kuropatkin Wept.

Harbin, March 22.—At the departure southward of Gen. Kuropatkin crowds of thousands of civilians and soldiers gathered at the station and gave him a great ovation. Above thundering hurrahs were heard cries of "God send you happiness," "Good-by, brother." "Good-by, father." As the train started soldiers rushed forward in a surging crowd and grasped the handrail of the general's car, throwing their fur caps in the air and running some distance with the car. The scene made a deep impression on Gen. Kuropatkin, down whose face tears streamed. Removing his cap, he saluted again and again, and stood bareheaded on the platform of the car as long as the train was in sight.

GEN. KUROPATKIN.

LINEVITCH'S POLICY.

Masses Russian Armies on the Sungari and Directs Retreat of the Three Armies.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—Gen. Linevitch's headquarters has been established for the present at Chenchiawatsu, situated at the crossing of the Sungari River, whence he is directing the retreat of the three armies and disposing of the fresh troops of the fourth corps just arriving from European Russia. The protection of the Sungari bridge is vital to the salvation of the army, as the river is not fordable below Kirin, and once the line of the river is passed and the bridge blown up the Japanese pursuit will be effectually checked. At the same time, the second army is falling back of the line of the railroad, while the first and third, with the transports, are retreating along the Mandarin road to Kirin, both destroying bridges and roads and denuding the country behind them, and making it impossible for the Japanese to live in the immediate wake of the retreat without their own commissariat.

Japs West of Railway.

The Japanese are advancing over the Grand Trade route, 20 miles west of the railroad. However, they could probably live on the country, the road just before the opening of the navigation of the Liao River being crowded with Chinese provisions on the way to market southward. Apparently it is a question as to which army will outmarch the other, although the General Staff seriously doubts the ability of Field Marshal Oyama's fatigued soldiers, with the difficulties of getting up guns, ammunition and provisions over the ruined roads, to continue the pursuit energetically. No information is available regarding the strength of the Japanese column advancing along the Grand Trade route, but the War Office says it is hardly large enough to constitute a menace, with the dispositions Gen. Linevitch is able to make of fresh troops. Nevertheless, St. Petersburg is in the dark as to the exact situation, and, considering the resourcefulness of the Japanese, there is constant fear that they may managed to get astride of the railroad and bar the Russians' retreat.

Retreated in Five Columns.

Kaopentse, March 22.—The Russians left Mukden with five columns of infantry, in the centre of which were two lines of commissariat, with artillery flanking the body, and cavalry acting as screens, farther afield. The demoralized troops discarded their boots and equipments and abandoned their transport carts, left guns and carriages, using the horses to save as many as possible.

All the last day at Tie Pass the Cossacks looted the booths of traders, sold champagne at a rouble a bottle, and smashed and burned everything unsalable. They caught a Japanese spy, who, upon resisting, was killed. The guilty Cossacks were shot a quarter of an hour later.

Rennenkampff Surrounded.

London, March 22.—Russian official circles in London are inclined to credit a Harbin story published in Paris, connecting the firing reported to have been heard Monday about seven miles south of Tie Pass with Gen. Rennenkampff's division. The despatch from Harbin points out that the only explanation of a cannonade in that locality is that Rennenkampff has at length arrived at Tie Pass, where the Russian armies were ordered to rendezvous in case of retreat, only to find the place occupied by the Japanese. Consequently it is feared that Rennenkampff is surrounded.

Russians Destroying Bridges.

Tokio, March 22.—The following announcement has been made: "Our detachment entered and occupied Kaiyuan Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. On the same day at 10.30 o'clock the enemy's cavalry, about 60 strong, with three companies of infantry, attempted a counter-attack, but was repulsed. Toward the northeast the bridges on the main road south of Kaiyuan has been burned by the enemy. The railway bridges have been partly destroyed. The number of guns captured near Mukden is increasing, owing to discoveries of those buried by the enemy before retreating."

Coal Carrier Captured.

Tokio, March 22.—The British steamer Harbarton, carrying coal to Vladivostock, was seized on Saturday by the Japanese.

WARSAW BOMB EXPLODED.

Six Soldiers and Two Policemen Are Dangerously Wounded.

Warsaw, March 22.—A bomb thrown from the window of a house in Volsk street, at 9 o'clock last evening, exploded in the midst of a passing patrol, composed of police and infantry. Six soldiers and two policemen were dangerously wounded. They were removed to the military hospital. The assailant escaped.

Scores of Boys Arrested.

Warsaw, March 22.—One hundred and twenty-eight striking schoolboys were arrested here in the course of yesterday morning for picketing school buildings and preventing other boys from entering.

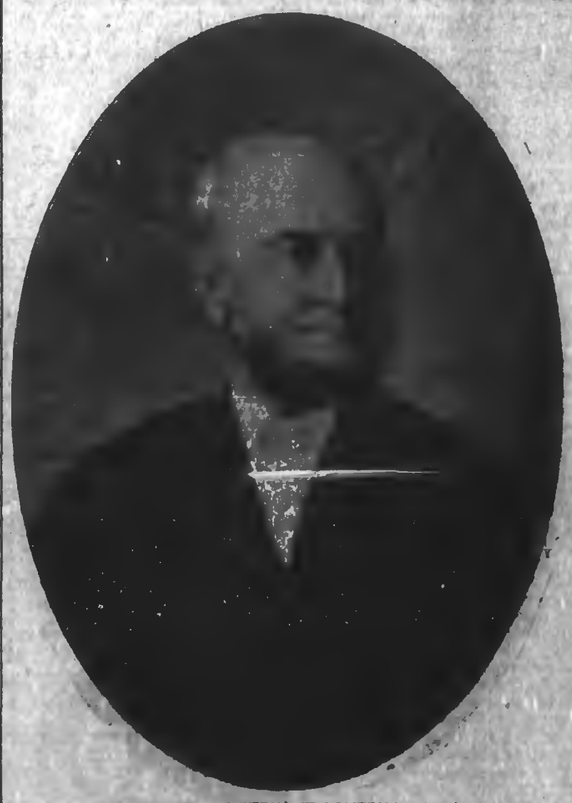
THE LEGISLATURE'S BRILLIANT OPENING

First Session of Eleventh Parliament of Ontario Opened This Afternoon by His Honour Lieutenant-Governor Clarke--The Social and Military Features.

Toronto, March 22. — At 3 o'clock this afternoon the eleventh Parliament of Ontario, was formally opened by Lieut.-Governor Clarke, amid much ceremony. A mounted escort from the Royal Canadian Dragoons, accompanied His Honour from Government House to the Parliament Buildings, where a guard of honour of one hundred men, from the Royal Grenadiers, received him, and a salute was fired by a detachment from the Royal Field Battery of Hamilton. On ascending the throne the Lieut-Governor called on the assembly to elect a speaker, and then withdrew to allow of this being done. The nomination of Mr. J. W. St. John was then made by Premier Whitney, seconded by Hon. Mr. Harcourt, acting leader of the Opposition. After the new Speaker had been formally installed, Lieut.-Governor Clarke re-entered the chamber, and read the speech from the throne.

The ceremony was attended by a large and brilliant assembly of people from the city and outside points.



HIS HONOUR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR CLARKE
Who Opened the First Session of the Eleventh Parliament To-day in Toronto.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Uterine Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that Canadian women are nervous?

How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly;" or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and between the shoulders. Loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Lelah Stowell, of 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Your medicine is indeed a Godsend to suffering women, and I only wish that they all knew what it can do for them and there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony. I suffered for years with bearing-down pains, extreme nervousness and excruciating headaches, but a few bottles of your Vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy and I do not know what sickness is, and I have enjoyed the best of health now for over four years. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has sent sunshine into thousands of homes and hearts."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRING.

We have recently had many incipient fires, fortunately few of a serious character, thanks to prompt steps taken by those on the spot, or by the fire brigade. In many of these the cause has been attributed to defective or impaired electric wiring. In some cases the fire is so palpably and directly the result of improperly diverted electric current that no doubt exists. Those who do electric wiring deny that the fires attributed to bad wiring thus result. What are the authorities doing to investigate these matters, and fix the cause, and responsibility for these outbreaks of fire where they exist and belong? The time to do so is at once such an outbreak occurs, so that conditions will not change in such a way as to make investigation futile, or discovery difficult. If, on examination, it is found that defective electric wiring is the cause of a fire, the person, or firm, who did the wiring should be called to account. Why not have official inspection of electric wiring? — that is as important as inspection of plumbing. Bad wiring and bad plumbing both represent hidden dangers against which householders have no protection except good plumbing and good wiring. In one case bad plumbing permits noxious gases to plant the poison and seeds of disease in our bodies, as we sleep, and in the other bad electric wiring exposes us to be burnt in our beds. It is hoped the authorities will become aroused to the importance of taking such action as will demonstrate once and for all, to what extent electric wiring is done in the town of such a character as to be dangerous. There is no necessity for waiting till some terrible fatality compels action.

MILKING BY STEAM.

Wonders never cease. In yesterday's Examiner was printed an article detailing the success of a machine for milking cows. This was not a "story", concocted as a space-filler by some enterprising newspaper scribe, but a solemn official statement made by an important and well-known Dominion Government officer. He stakes his reputation on the assurance he gives us that "the milking machine has come to stay." And his reputation means something, for Commissioner Hodson's name stands high as an authority on dairying. Therefore before long we may expect the milking machine to be in general use. "And what for not?" A few years ago, only, the electric telegraph was scoffed at and all the mechanical wonders that are in common use and operation to-day—the sewing machine, the reaping log machine, etc., etc., ad infinitum, were regarded as impossibilities. But to the firmest believer in mechanical possibilities, the milking machine furnishes conundrums. What provision is made for circumventing the activities of the kicking cow? Is there not danger of her disarranging the machine? Is there some provision for hypnotising her? Is she to be slung in a suspensory bandage as oxen were in the days when they were shod, or how is the thing managed? It is also a pertinent enquiry as to whether the quality of the milk will be as good. According to popular ideas the average milkman dilutes his lacteal product with pure water. We have got used to that, and will not take kindly to any other diluting medium. Dilution by water is all right, but will it be satisfactory to have our milk diluted with steam—for it is possible with large herds to drive the milking machine with a gasoline engine. But we must have patience. We shall doubtless have Mr. Gillespie exploiting the milking machine throughout the county before the summer is over.

CORPSE CONVEYED IN A BOX SLEIGH

Hearse Could not Reach the House for the Funeral

An Uninavailable Experience of a Port Hope Undertaker.

The Port Hope Guide of Monday, had the following account of the experiences of an undertaker in that town:

Mr. Thomas Walker, undertaker, had an experience yesterday that he will not soon forget. It was while attending the funeral of the late Alexander Elliott, at Perrytown, and the impassible condition of the roads was the cause of all the trouble. Mr. Walker left here with the hearse about 10.30 yesterday morning, and while the drive to Canton compared with the "rocky roads to Dublin," he got along without any mishap. But from Canton to Perrytown he had a picnic. The snow was mountains high, and the rain of Saturday had placed them in such shape that every step the horses took they sank. Several times Mr. Walker was obliged to get in water to his knees to keep the hearse balanced, but just before reaching Perrytown it overturned.

The further north he went the worse the roads were and on reaching Mr. H. Caldwell's near the Perrytown church Mr. Walker was obliged to cease his journey. The whiffletrees of the hearse was broken and the horses badly cut up. Mr. Caldwell drove Mr. Walker to the deceased's home which was a distance of two and a half miles and it was then twenty minutes after two when they reached there. The funeral service was over and the remains had to be taken to the cemetery in a bob sleigh. Mr. Walker was driven to town by Mr. Caldwell and reached here about 6.30 last evening. Mr. George Walker remained at Caldwell's over night and came in this morning with the horses and hearse about 11.30.

Mr. Alfred George had a similar experience while attending the funeral of the late James Dunbar, having to travel over the same road. The remains were to be interred at Welcome Cemetery, but it being after 6.30 o'clock when they reached there, he was obliged to bring them to his undertaking establishment, from which place they were buried this afternoon.

AN ACCIDENT AT NORWOOD

Horse Frightened by Train Injures his Driver

Union Services on Sunday—Some Real Estate Sales—The Weeks News From Norwood.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Norwood, March 20. — Mr. Thomas E. Lobb and family of Asphodel, left here on Tuesday morning for Metford, Sask., taking with them three car loads of settlers' effects, consisting of horses, cattle, implements and household effects. Mr. Lobb and family have 1120 acres of land in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Mathieson of Havelock, was in town on Thursday on business.

Mr. Charles McNicholl is visiting is parents in Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Waters are visiting with friends in Toronto this week.

Rev. Richard Lobb, Baptist minister, and Mrs. Lobb, who have been residents in Norwood for the past year, left last week to take up residence in Woodstock.

What might have terminated in a very serious accident occurred here on Friday afternoon, about four o'clock, when Messrs. Hugh and John Robb were driving out of Norwood with a horse and cutter. They were just opposite the cemetery, on the south side of the railway track, when the horses took fright at a train shunting in the yards. The horse started to run and turned very sharply, upsetting the occupants, and in the scramble to stop the beast, it stepped on Mr. Hugh Robb's foot, tearing his rubber and sinking the caulk of the shoe into his foot. The horse ran with the cutter upside down until it was stopped in front of Dr. Ford's. The horse was none the worse but the cutter was in a sad condition.

Mr. John Newell, of Clarina, has purchased Mr. Stewart Scott's farm, lot 19, concession 4, Asphodel, consisting of one hundred acres. Price paid $3500.

Messrs. Charles and Fred Woods, have sold their house and lot on Belmont street, to Mr. E. Kelly.

Maitland Grover, of the Montmorency Cotton Mills, Quebec, is home for a vacation.

Mr. Harry Patterson, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Patterson, formerly of Norwood, now of Vermont, U. S., is visiting friends in town.

Miss Bessie Pearce and Miss Lucile Hubble of Marmora, are staying at the home of Mr. J. B. Pearce.

On account of the absence of Rev. Geo. McLennan, Presbyterian minister, who was called away on Thursday to attend his mother's funeral, union services were held. The morning services were held in the Methodist church, and the Methodists worshipped in the Presbyterian church in the evening. Rev. C. Parker, the Methodist minister, conducted both services.

The funeral of the late Jacob Brown, who died at his residence in the township of Percy, on Saturday, March 18th, at the age of 60 years, took place on Monday afternoon at 12.30 o'clock, the place of interment being the Norwood cemetery. Rev. C. Parker conducted the funeral service.

Rev. Dr. Henderson, the associate General Secretary of the Methodist Church, is to preach missionary sermons in the Methodist church here next Sunday.

GRAIN MARKET IS QUITE DULL

Very Little Offering and the Demand Too is Small.

Seed Grain Only Kind Selling—Fancy Peas Will be Small Crop this Year.

The grain market in Peterborough in common with that in other market centres in Ontario, is dull just now, the reason being that the state of the roads makes delivery by farmers impossible. The prices are the same as last week, and there is little, or no, grain of any kind offering. This is the information furnished the Examiner by Mr. George Mather, the Charlotte street grain-dealer.

His opinion regarding fancy peas this year, is that there will be very little sown. There is at present a large stock of peas in the market, and very little seed will be issued this spring to the farmers. A year with a small crop will clean out all that at present is in the storehouses, and the prospects are that next year the acreage will be increased.

About the only grain moving now is that sold for seed, and those farmers who have clean farms can sell all the grain they wish for seed, provided of course that the grain is of good quality.

It is becoming increasingly difficult to procure pure seed, and there is apparently a need of a pure seed campaign, in which the farmers will be impressed with the desirability of sowing only pure and clean grain. The prospects are that for the next few weeks the grain market will be dull, and there will be only small offerings.

NEW RAILWAY FOR PETERBORUOGH

Proposed New Railway From Toronto to Ottawa to Pass Through Peterborough.

Notice of application has been filed in Toronto for a charter for the construction of a railway from a point near Toronto, to a point near Ottawa, passing through the counties of York, Ontario, Durham, Northumberland, Peterborough, Hastings, Lennox, Addington, Frontenac, Lanark and Carleton, there from Hawkesbury in Prescott county, and from Ottawa to a point near the French River on Georgian Bay. It was rumoured that this is one of Mackenzie and Mann's projects, but the rumour has been denied.

CONGREGATION IS PROGRESSIVE

Springville Presbyterian Contemplate Improvements to Church

Shipping Facilities are Appreciated—Latest Springville News.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Springville, March 21st. — The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was held on Thursday afternoon in the church. An important item of business was the placing of the proceeds of the late entertainment at the control of the Board of Management. This band of willing workers is proving a most important ally in advancing the interests of the congregation.

At a recent meeting of the Board of management and Session, plans for the improvement of the church property, necessitating an outlay of between four and five hundred dollars, were discussed. The enterprise of this congregation, which was an augmented charge three years ago, is worthy of note. The induction of the present pastor, Rev. G. Yule, on May 27, 1902, was the beginning of a new era of forward movement. The charge is now self-sustaining, and it has been found necessary to add twice to the seating accommodation. The manse, erected at a cost of about $2000, is fully paid for, and the schemes of the church receive liberal support. Good attendance at the various services prove the popularity of Rev. G. Yule.

The facilities for shipping via the C.P.R. at this point, is being taken advantage of. Mr. F. E. Wilson has loaded two cars with potatoes, which he shipped to Toronto; he expects to load several more. The convenience is appreciated, and considerable business is certain to follow the completion of plans now issued for loading stock, etc.

Mr. Thos. Brown, our enterprising drover, has returned from Montreal, where he shipped two carloads of prime cattle last week. He is in the market for the purchase of good stock and intends to ship again at an early date.

Mr. Alex. Laing is in quest of good work horses, suitable for Manitoba.

Those harbingers of spring, the robins and grey birds, made the first public announcement of their arrival at the scenes of their adoption, in Mr. David Wilson's orchard on Saturday last.

Rev. Mr. Ketchen of St. Paul's church, Peterborough, accompanied by Mr. D. H. Moore, attended service at this place on Sunday.

Mr. George Gibson, of Peterborough, spent Sunday with his mother.

Mr. John Fowler, who has been ill for some time, is somewhat better.

Mrs. David Wilson, who has been confined to her room for fourteen weeks with general prostration, is regaining her former strength with the return of spring.

Ruby Graham is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Miss Noble of Cobourg, and Miss Grandy of Millbrook, spent a few days in our village as the guests of the Misses Cathcart.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sanderson entertained a number of their friends on Friday evening last at their beautiful home. A most enjoyable evening was spent in games and social intercourse, but much too short for the guests or to exhaust the hospitality of the host and hostess, who are adepts at entertaining.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years or more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." For sale by all druggists.

Hon. Lomer Gouin Called.

Quebec, Ques March 23.—After going through routine proceedings in the Legislature yesterday afternoon, Hon. Mr. Turgeon moved, seconded by Hon. Mr. McCorkill, that the House adjourn until the 23rd inst., in order to give Hon. Mr. Gouin, who has been sworn in as Prime Minister, time to construct his new Cabinet, which motion was adopted. Hon. S. N. Parent, ex-Prime Minister of the Province of Quebec, will leave for the United States to undergo expert medical treatment for his throat trouble.

LARGE EXODUS TO NORTH-WEST

Large Number Will Leave on April Excursions.

C. P. R. Passenger Traffic Heavy—300 Old Country Immigrants Pass Through on Special Yesterday.

The number of settlers removing to the Northwest on the Spring excursions, has so far been about the same as last year. The time when the largest exodus is expected, has not yet arrived, however. Two families left by the C. P. R. yesterday, each taking with them a car of stock and effects. These were Mr. Deck, and family, who will reside at Weyburn, and Mr. Downer and family, who are destined for Forbisher. Besides these families, about fifteen people left by the local, proposing to take the excursion train at Toronto.

From the reports given by the railway officials it is expected that during the first weeks of April, which is always the busiest season in the transportation of settlers, this year will see an unprecedented exodus. Inquiries have been coming in from many points throughout the country as to rates and accommodation.

The excursion on Tuesday, March 14th, was taken advantage of by a large number of people. It is reported that the 7.12 a.m. local was crowded to such an extent that standing room on the platforms was at a premium, and that it was necessary to secure an additional coach at Burketon.

A special C. P. R. train passed through town at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon with 300 Old Country immigrants on board; 211 of the passengers went to Toronto, while the remainder will be distributed between Hamilton, Brantford, and other points in Western Ontario, while a few will go through to Chicago.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN ENNISMORE

Comprehensive Celebration of the Festival

New T. A. S. Officers Elected—Splendidly Successful Dramatic Entertainment and Concert.

St. Patrick's day was celebrated in Enismore, in a manner most suitable to a people most of whom are Irish, and some of whom were born in the green isle of the West. At 9 o'clock Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. M. F. Fitzpatrick, at which upwards of one hundred and fifty received Holy Communion. During the Mass, the Senior Choir sang hymns appropriate to the occasion. After reading the announcements, the pastor called upon the members of the T. A. S. to come forward, and renew their pledge against intoxicating liquors, for another year. A very large number responded to the request, and the society is once more on a sure and solid basis. Preparations had been made for the annual election by ballot, of a T. A. S. Committee, but the members of last year, had given such excellent satisfaction, and shown such earnestness and fidelity in everything they had been called upon to do, that the members decided to return them by acclamation, as a proof of their appreciation of their work, and especially for the active manner in which they aided in providing the township with a new and well equipped hall.

The officers for 1905 are as follows:—

Peter F. Flood—President.

Jas. Mahoney—Vice-President.

John O'Reilly—Treasurer.

P. J. Scollard—Secretary.

Committee—Paul Costello, Dan Crough, Stephen O'Reilly, Wm. Sullivan, Eugene Murphy, David Quinlan, Michael Crough, Sr.

In the afternoon a matinee was put on, for the benefit of the children of those who did not care to be out at night.

The following programme was presented both in the afternoon and evening:—

PART I.

St. Patrick's Day, ...By the Orchestra
Opening Chorus ... By the Junior Choir
Drill, New T.A.S. Band, by 25 little boys
Quartette, Kerry Dance, by Misses Fanny and Ettie Scollard, Cecil Twomey and Zeta Galvin.
Irish Jig ... ...by Michael English
Song, The Exile's Return, by Celia Twomey.
1st act of the Irish drama, "Robert Emmet, or the Martyr of Irish Liberty"

PART II.

Irish Airs, ... By Orchestra
Little Soldiers ... ...Boys of Junior Choir
Song, "She is Far from the Land" by Teresa Guiry.
Recitations, "Exile's Wishes" and "Seeing Things by Night" by Miss Lily Simons.
Banjo Solo, "Why Don't the Men Propose", ...by Jas. J. K. Galvin
Song, "The Green Isle" by Mary Ann Crough.
Trio, "In Sweet Killarney" by Misses Zeta Galvin, Celia Twomey and Ettie Scollard.
Second act of the drama.

PART III.

Orchestra .... British Airs
Song, "Killarney" by Gertie Moloney
Recitation, "Goblins will Catch You" by Miss Lily Simons.
Clog dance, ... by Pat. M. Twomey
Song, "The Old Plaid Shawl" by Miss L. Guiry.
Quartette, "In the Valley of Kentucky" By J. K. Galvin, Frank Scollard, and Misses Lottie and Lizzie Scollard.
Song, "The Swallows" by Ida Galvin
The last act of the drama.

The following is a list of those who took part in the play of Robert Emmet, Robert Emmett .... P. J. Scollard
Darby O'Gaff ....Peter Galvin
O'Leary .... Frank Scollard
Dawdall (Emmet's friend) ...Jas Sullivan
Kerman, (Traitor) ... ... Pat. Sullivan
Sergeant Topfall .... Frank Crough
Lord Norbury ....Jos. Carroll
Maria, Emmet's wife, Miss L. Scollard
Judy O'Dougherty .... Fanny Scollard
Corporal Thomas ... ... Jas. Mahoney

Besides peasants, soldiers, colleagues of Emmet, constabics and Grand Jury.

The whole programme was excellent in material and well put on—not a single hitch occurring in any part. Rev. M. F. Fitzpatrick acted as chairman, and merely announced the items as above, without any comment.

The orchestra enlivened the evening by their excellent rendition of the Irish Airs, and under the able direction of Mr. John P. Flood, is keeping pace with ever increasing popularity of St. Patrick's Day Celebration in Enniskmore. The Junior Choir, some forty-five members in all, gave proof of careful training, in their opening chorus, "Welcome to our Friends", and in their drill and band practice showed a knowledge of marching to music which many a well-trained soldier might envy. To Miss Ida Galvin and Mrs. Dan Crough, much praise is due, for the admirable manner in which the children acquitted themselves.

The singing of Misses Celia Twomey, Mary Ann Crough, Zeta Galvin, Fanny Scollard, all members of the Junior Choir, was as expected, well received and heartily applauded.

Miss Lily Simons appeared for the first time before an Ennismore audience and had to respond no less than three times. Lily can entertain an audience as well as soothe the pains of the sick and infirm. Michael English and P. M. Twomey brought the audience to their feet, in their anxiety to note the various movements in the light faantastic. Four of Ennismore's best vocalists were present. Miss Ida Galvin, Miss Gertie Moloney and Misses Loretta and Teresa Guiry, and each in turn won golden opinions by their clever singing. The banjo solo, "Why don't the Men Propose", or the Young Lady's Lament to Her Mamma", by J. K. Galvin, brought down the house, and he was obliged to respond with one of his old time favourites of the sunny south.

The drama, Robert Emmet, was the chief source of attraction, and brought spectators from all sides. Judging from receipts, and the packed condition of the hall, upwards of seven hundred must have been witnesses of this soul-stirring drama.

Townsend's revised edition of this historical play, makes it one of the most appropriate that could be presented before an Irish audience. With one or two slight changes it would be perfectly true to history, and a most faithful portrayal of Ireland's efforts to shake off the fetters that have well-night robbed her of everything save he undying faith and love of freedom and country. P. J. Scollard, as Robert Emmet, was in look, word, and act, just such a character, as the student of history would form in his own mind of the young Irish Patriot—the moving spirit in a desperate undertaking—trusted by his friends hounded down by the enemies of Ireland, but admired by all, friend and foe alike. Throughout the whole play, the manly, honest, fearless, young Irish soldier, appeared at every turn in the rigid conception and clever actinv of P. J. Scollard. His closing address, (before the disgraceful sentence was imposed upon him), probably the most pathetic, man ever uttered, was given in manner, such as might well reflect credit on the efforts of any actor.

The personation of Maria, Emmet's young and beautiful wife, was ably taken by Miss Lizzie Scollard, and to her personal efforts much of the success of the whole play, is due, as she was sole directress in the work of preparation and staging. Peter Galvin, as usual, kept the house in roars. As Darby O'Gaff, a sprig of the Emerald Isle, he was always on hand and ready for anything—full of good humour—the soul of the hour—and a great admirer of Emmet, for whose safety, "he would murder the whole world, and then smother himself afterwards". His sweetheart, Judy O'Doherty, "always as good as a mother to Darby" and who, in turn, promised "to be as good as two or three fathers to Judy," was that bewitching young actress, Fanny Scollard, whose rich Irish brogue, native wit, and ready answer, captivated the house. Darby and Judy are a rich pair, and their appearance on the stage was the signal for peals of laughter.

Frank Scollard, as the old soldier, was all that could be expected of him, while the traitor, Kerman, was well represented by Patrick Sullivan. Jas. Sullivan did honour to the character of Dowdall. Emmet's great friend and companion in his moments of greatest peril. Frank Crough took the part of Sergeant Topfall, in very creditable manner, and although his first appearance on the stage, was perfectly natural and clear in his delivery. We hope to hear Frank again. Joseph Carroll had rather a difficult role to fill, in that of Lord Norbury, "the brutal judge, who sent so many brave lads to death," but Joe was equal to the occasion, and with all the pomp and majesty of his office, he conducted the trial of Emmet, and pronounced the final sentence in a stern, unfaltering tone, that left no doubt of his determination to exterminate rebels against the King's authority.

The entertainment on the whole, was one of the best ever witnessed by an Ennismore audience, and reflects great credit on all who took part, but especially upon Miss Lizzie Scollard who looked after the play, Mrs. Dan Crough, who had charge of the small boys and Miss Ida Galvin, to whose lot felt the music vocal and instrumental.

The evening's programme closed by the orchestra playing the National Anthem.

Fruit is Nature's Laxative.

Fruit contains certain principles which act like a charm on the liver—and keep the whole system well and strong. But these principles in the fruit juices are too weak to have any marked effect on the internal organs. The value of lies in the secret process by which they are made. The fruit juices are so combined that they have an entirely different effect from fresh fruit. Their action is the action of fruit greatly intensified. They have a marked effect on the liver—toning it up—making it active. "Fruit-a-tives" are, without doubt, the only complete cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets

A SPRING DANGER

Many People Weaken Their System by the Use of Purgative Medicines.

Ask any doctor and he will tell you that the use of purgative medicines weakens the system, and cannot possibly cure disease. Thousands of people take purgative medicines in the spring, and make a most serious mistake in doing so. People who feel tired and depressed, who find the appetite variable, who have occasional headaches and backaches, or whose blood shows impurities through pimples and eruptions, need a spring medicine. But they should not dose themselves with harsh griping purgatives that gallop through the bowels, tearing the tissues and weakening the system. A tonic medicine is what is needed in the spring and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the best tonic that science has yet discovered. They are quickly absorbed into the system filling the veins with pure rich, red blood that carries health and strength to every part of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure skin eruptions, indigestion, headaches, nervousness, rheumatism and all blood troubles. They improve the appetite, and make depressed, easily tired men and women cheerful, active and strong. Mr. James McDougall, Little Shippegan, N.B., says:—"I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and blood purifier and have found them superior to all other medicines."

If you need a medicine this spring—and who would not be the better of a tonic after the long dreary in-door months — give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. They will send rich, red blood coursing through your veins and give you the buoyancy of perfect health. See that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around each box. All dealers in medicine sell these pills or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hanged Himself at Galt.

Galt, March 22.—William Buchanan, a widower, 70 years of age, committed suicide by hanging himself in the stable about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Deceased, who retired from his farm near Glenmorris about fifteen years ago, was a very highly respected and most popular citizen. No reason for his suicide can be entertained, except worry. A grown-up family of sons and daughters survive. Dr. John Buchanan, the well-known medical missionary of India, whose wife is at present here; Dr. Dan Buchanan, of Galt, and Dr. Washington Buchanan, of St. Catharines, are sons of deceased.

Ethel Bell Dies.

Detroit, March 22.—Ethel Bell, a 15-year-old girl, who came here some time ago from Hamilton, Ont., upon the death of her mother, and who drank carbolic acid with suicidal intent last Frida, at the home of her mistress, because she was lonely and unwell, died suddenly at St. Mary's Hospital yesterday.

F. J. REILLEY PROVED GUILTY

Judge McMahon Sentences Him to One Year in Jail.

PRISONER MAKES A PLEA

Tried to Discourage Other Parties to the Plot—Was Actuated by Friendship—His Lordship Enlarges Upon the Enormity of the Offence, and Charges the Jury Against Him.

Belleville, March 22.—The case of Rex v. Frank J. Reilly came to an end last night, the jury returning a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to one year in jail at hard labor. With the conclusion of Reilly's case, the present series of ballot-box trials came to an end, as the case of Rex v. Police Magistrate Harryett and the criminal libel case of Rex v. Carman were traversed to the fall Assizes. The grand jury this afternoon brought in a true bill against S. Carman.

In Reilly's case yesterday morning Patrick Cotter, a lad from Watertown, swore he had seen Reilly there in connection with the bogus boxes on two occasions. The other witnesses to prove the existence of a conspiracy were the same as those in the Ruttan case.

The only new evidence was that of John McDonald, a scrutineer at the Clarendon and Miller poll, where Hawkey officiated. He said after the poll closed the ballots were turned out into a cheese box, counted and then put back into the ballot box. Then they made up their returns. The ballots were opened out then, of course. Then the ballots were taken out and put in envelopes.

When the box was apparently empty, Hawkey turned it upside down and struck it with his hand, when a ballot which had not been unfolded fell out. The witness asked Hawkey how it came that that ballot had not been unfolded, and Hawkey said they sometimes got overlooked in that way.

Only One Witness.

The defence only put in one witness, Dr. Arthur Williamson, of Kingston, who was connected with the Hotel Dieu in that city, said when Reilly was in the Hotel Dieu he was suffering from nervous exhaustion. A man in that condition was unable to think consecutively or coherently. In an advanced condition there might be delusions. The witness said that, considering Reilly's condition last November he should have remained in hospital at least a week longer. He advised Reilly not to go to Belleville, but did not forbid his going. The doctor said he was of the opinion that Reilly, at the time of his arrest last November, would be liable to imagine things after reading about the case. To Mr. Hellmuth he said he would not consider that Reilly would do more than exaggerate incidents. He would not be liable to mis-state facts.

At 11.45 E. F. B. Johnston began his address to the jury. In effect, he claimed that Reilly was the victim and tool of Shibley, who had cleverly contrived to keep out of the matter himself.

Mr. Hellmtuh, the Crown Counsel, delivered a trenchant indictment of Reilly. He was the prime mover in the conspiracy. Without Reilly, judging by the evidence, there would have been no conspiracy and no bogus ballot boxes.

Charged Against Prisoner.

The judge charged directly and strongly against the prisoner. It was proven, he said, that Reilly had knowledge that there was a scheme on for nearly two years. His frequent trips to Watertown were strongly against him. Referring to Shibley and Lott, the judge said they had left their country for their country's good. The chief point against Reilly was that he gave the Watertown tinsmith, Roof, the order for the boxes, knowing the use to which Shibley wished to put them.

The case was given to the jury at 4.55, and at 7.05 they announced that they had agreed on a verdict, but the judge and the officials were then at the hotel. At ten minutes to eight the court opened again, and the jury came in and announced that they found the prisoner guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy.

What Reilly Says.

The judge asked Reilly if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced on him. Reilly, in a steady and firm voice, said that, while he took part in the ballot box matter, he had tried to discourage it, and was not guilty of entering into it in the same spirit as the principals. He had hoped the jury would have taken these circumstances into account.

The judge said the penalty for this offence was a very severe one. He might give Reilly as high as seven years in the penitentiary, and had the principals in the case come before him he certainly would have given them the full sentence without any hesitation.

It is a Pity.

It was a pity to see a young man like Reilly in a conspiracy of this kind, which aimed to rob honest voters of their franchise. The prisoner seemed to have been blind to the true facts of the case. He was not disposed to deal severely with him, but would give him a chance to redeem himself in the days to come. The sentence of the court was that he be confined in jail at hard labor for 12 months.

E. F. B. Johnston, the prisoner's counsel, asked for a reserve case.

The recent flight of Reilly to the United States was not mentioned at all during the trial.

From Thunder Bay West.

Montreal, March 22.—It can now be stated authoritatively that the Grand Trunk Pacific will commence to build in the early spring from Thunder Bay west to the Pacific coast. It was for this purpose that the bonds to the amount of five million dollars were issued. This is the first work that will engage the attention of the company.

Falls From Ferry Boat.

Windsor, March 22.—Joseph Langlois, a carpenter, aged 70 years, fell off the Grand Trunk ferry Lansdowne in the Detroit River yesterday morning and was drowned. He was employed on the boat doing repair work. In attempting to draw a bucket of water he lost his balance and dropped into the river. He sank before aid reached him.

HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh---Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh.

Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Mrs. Leone Dolehan, in a letter from the Commercial Hotel, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen: "For two months my physician experimented with me trying to cure a hard cold which settled in my stomach, causing inflammation and catarrh. I then made up my mind he was simply unable to help me, and reading some of the flattering testimonials as to the value of Peruna in such cases, I thought I would try it.

"It was six weeks before I could eat a meal without unpleasant effects, but I have now been well for six months, and I give all the credit to Peruna."—Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Miss Helen Whitman.

Miss Helen Whitman, 503½ Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"There is nothing like Peruna for that tired feeling, which gives you no ambition for work or play. After a prolonged illness, about a year ago I felt unable to regain my health, but four bottles of Peruna made a wonderful change and restored me to perfect health. As long as you keep your blood in a good condition you are all right, and Peruna seems to fill the veins with pure, healthful blood. I thoroughly endorse it."—Miss Helen Whitman.

How to Get Strong Nerves.

First, repair the injury already done to your nerves. The way to do this is to do exactly as did Mr. Hal. P. Denton, Chief Department Publicity and Promotion of National Export Exposition.

He writes: "Toward the latter part of August I found myself in a very much run-down condition. My family physician, said I had nervous prostration and recommended a sea voyage. I gradually grew worse. A kind friend whom I had known in Ohio recommended Peruna. Though skeptical, I finally yielded to his advice. After using one bottle I was much improved and with the fifth bottle came complete recovery. I am in perfect health today and owe everything to Peruna."—Hal. P. Denton.

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."—Mrs. D. W. Timberlake.

Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

OF INTEREST TO SUGAR-MAKERS

New Competition Has Been Instituted—The Examiner Always Leads.

—In consequence of the keen rivalry amongst agriculturists as to the production of the biggest turnips, the largest corn stalks and many varieties of vegetables, the Examiner has in times past, in response to requests, instituted competitions which gave rise to a lively public interest. It is now proposed to vary the form of the competitions by introducing a maple sugar contest. Exhibits of one pound and over will be received, and it is expected that many contributions of this nature will be placed on the editor's desk in the near future.

It is expressly stipulated that no contributions containing flies' legs will be received.

Note from the Newsroom. — If the editor has any doubt as to the genuineness or otherwise of the samples presented, the staff of the newsroom is prepared to give judgment, if specimens are provided.

TO DRIVING PARK BY JULY FIRST

George Street Will be Opened and Street Railway Will Reach Main Entrance of Exhibition Grounds During the Summer--Options on Properties Expire in a Short Time--Mayor and Council are Determined to Open Street.

The probabilities are that in the near future active steps will be taken to secure the opening up of George street to the Exhibition Grounds, and it is stated that by July 1st, the street railway will be running direct to the Exhibition Grounds' main gates.

The options which the town now holds on the properties through which the new part of the street will pass, expire in a short time and the deals will have to be made before the expiration of those options or another long delay will be necessitated.

Options have been secured on all the properties except one, and in case a satisfactory settlement cannot be effected with that person expropriation proceedings will be taken. The Mayor and Council are determined that the street shall be opened and that without any further delay.

WILL PETERBORO' LOSE INDUSTRY?

Report That Colonial Ink Company Will Go to Hamilton.

No Decision has yet Been Reached, However—Meeting on March 28th.

An instance of the desire of the Hamilton papers to bring industries to that burg, whether they want to come or not, is the following paragraph which appeared in the Times of that city last night, under a double column heading:—

Another manufacturing concern is coming to Hamilton, and that without and flourish of trumpets and without asking any favours. It is the Colonial Ink Company, now doing business in Peterborough. The Company has acquired a suitable manufacturing building on Wellington street north, between King and King William streets, from the Hamilton Distillery Company. The building is the one formerly used as a vinegar factory, but which is not now required for the company's purposes, as its large new building gives it all the accommodation required. The Colonial Ink Company is a young but prosperous concern and those interested in it are confident that it will continue to grow and become more important. Several Hamilton men of prominence are on its Board of Directors. The Company manufactures writing and other inks, carbon papers, etc.

The officers of the company were communicated with this morning in reference to the above statement, and said that there was no decision yet made to move from Peterborough, although it was stated that overtures had been made by a number of Hamilton men, who were anxious to have the company locate the factory in the Ambitious City. It appears that a majority of the shareholders in the Company are Hamilton men, and naturally desirous that the plant should be located in that city.

The building mentioned in the Times, is one owned by a company of which a large shareholder in the Colonial Ink Company is general manager, and he has offered it to the local company at an extremely low rental, and another advantage would be in the fact that the rent would also include power, furnished by the Hamilton Distillery Company, and the rent and power would come cheaper than these two items are costing at present. This should not be taken however as an indication that under normal conditions power in Hamilton is cheaper than it is in Peterborough, because such is not the case, and it is only because of the peculiar circumstances of the case that makes it cheaper in this particular instance.

The Hamilton paper state that no bonus is to be given, but in this case a price for power is quoted which is equivalent to a bonus.

It is also pointed out that since the bulk of the company's trade is with Toronto and western Ontario, a location in Hamilton would put them nearer the markets and would place them in a better position to compete with the other ink makers.

However, no decision has as yet been arrived at, and to say that the company has decided to remove from Peterborough is simply speculation on the part of those making the statement.

A meeting of the shareholders is called for the 28th of March, when the question will be discussed, and a decision arrived at. If the majority of the shareholders are in favour of the move there is no doubt but that it will be made, and the question of business policy will decide it.

If the shareholders decide that the plant shall be moved, it is probable that its removal will take place in the near future, for after April 1st, the company will be engaged in the full manufacture of writing inks and they will want to get the plant moved so as not to interfere with the delivery of their goods.

SUGAR COMPANY CASE IN COURT

Stay of Winding-up Order Continued on Payment of $150

In the legal column of the Gl be today, the following notice appears:—

Howden vs. Peterborough Sugar Co.—C. W. Kerr, for plaintiff, moved for order removing stay imposed by winding-up order, and allowing action to proceed. W. R. Middleton, for liquidator, contra. Order made that upon payment of $150 as bonus within a week to plaintiff, stay be continued until 1st May, 1905. If money not paid plaintiff may proceed.

NEW OFFICERS OF ST. JOHN'S W. A.

Were Elected Yesterday at the Annual Meeting.

A Successful Year Just Closed—The Future Prospects Good.

The 18th annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church of England, in Canada, was held yesterday in St. John's school room.

The retiring president, Mrs. Nesbitt, occupied the chair, and conducted the opening exercises.

The treasurer, Mrs. Peter Campbell, then presented her yearly report, which was very satisfactory, showing receipts of nearly $390.

Miss Daisy Mills, superintendent of the Mission Band, reported a membership of 61, with an average attendance of 30.

The members of this society are very enthusiastic young workers, and have accomplished a splendid work during the past year. The society, which meets every Friday afternoon, is now arranging for an entertainment immediately after Easter.

The report of Miss Errett, the secretary, was also very gratifying. A bale is now in preparation for the Fort Chippewyan Mission.

The Branch has had a most successful year, and has increased numerically in numbers, having now a membership of 67.

A regrettable feature of yesterday's meeting was the resignation of Mrs. Nesbitt from the Presidency. The Branch feels that her untiring energy is largely responsible for the splendid work accomplished during the year.

The society now contributes to six Diocesan pledges, which are as follows: Blackfeet Home, $12; Missionary at Temiscamingue, $8; Education fund, $5; Training Home at Matsumoto, Japan, $5; Missionary at Tarn Taran, India, $2. This with an additional pledge of $10 for the school in Metlakatla, makes a total contribution of $42. Aid is also given to the Chinese in British Columbia.

The election of a new president in the place of Mrs. Nesbitt, then took place, Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot being elected to the position.

The following officers of last year were then re-elected:—

Hon. President—Mrs. Vernon.
Hon. Vice-Presidents—Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Davidson, Mrs. Archer.
Vice-Presidents — Mrs. Bennett, Mrs Dutton, Mrs. J. Bell.
Treasurer—Mrs. P. Campbell.
P.M.C. Treasurer—Miss M. E. Peck.
Secretary—Miss Errett.
Dorcas Committee—Mrs. Fest, Mrs. Comstock, Mrs. Seward, Mrs. Mulkins, Miss Hall, Miss English.
Superintendent of Mission Band—Miss Mills.
Assistant Supt. Mission Band—Miss Amy McKee.

The meeting then closed with prayer.

ST. PAUL'S GUILD WILL ENTER TEAM

Decided at Last Night's Organization Meeting to Enter Guild League.

An enthusiastic meeting of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild baseball team was held last night at the Y. M.C.A., at which it was decided to enter a team in the Guild League. The prospects are very bright and it is expected that St. Paul's will have a team which will be in the running all the way through.

Two delegates, Messrs. R. Watt and R. Cameron were appointed as representatives to attend the League organization meeting.

The Committee of Management was appointed as follows: Messrs. R. Watt, J. H. Connel, M. Rosenburg.

REGIMENT WILL BE POPULAR

Considerable Interest in Military Matters is Aroused.

Trip This Year Will be to Ottawa—Change in System of Pay.

With the approach of spring, and the gazetting of a number of new to officers' positions in the local regiment, the interest in military matters becomes intensified, and from present prospects the coming summer will be a successful one for the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

Already a large number of young men, who are inclined to a military life, have signified their intention of becoming associated with the local military organizations, and the indications are the strength of the regiment will be greater than it has been for some time, if not the greatest in its history.

This year some changes will be made in the system of paying the men, and there will be for those who qualify themselves, and are faithful in attendance on drill, an efficiency pay, which will go to the men themselves.

In the past the entire pay of the members of the regiment has gone into a regimental fund, which is used to defray the expenses of the annual trip of the regiment. But in future, only the regular pay will go into this fund, and the amount received as efficiency pay will go to the men earning it.

The effect of this policy will be to make membership in the Regiment more popular, and there will be a greater incentive to the men to give the Regiment faithful service and attend drill regularly.

This year the Regiment has accepted the invitation of the Governor-General's Foot Guards to visit Ottawa, and the trip will be made on July 1st.

The holiday comes on Saturday, but it is possible that it may be observed on Monday, in which case the Regiment will leave here on Saturday night, spending Sunday and Monday in Ottawa. They will participate in a church parade on Sunday, and there will be sports on Monday.

Should the day be celebrated on Saturday, the local men will leave here on Friday night and will return Sunday night, spending Saturday and Sunday in the Capital.

The School of Instruction which will be established here in a short time for the benefit of the officers and non-commissioned officers will likely be largely attended, and its good effects will doubtless be noticed in the improvement of the military efficiency of the men.

Spring Millinery Opening

Thursday, Friday, Saturday—March 23rd, 24th, 25th

NEW SHAPES AND STYLES

The success of this exhibition of clever artistic headwear, alone depends upon the public.

Each year, while we are taking advantage of each and every opportunity to keep in closest touch with foreign fashion centres, we are asked to draw upon the originality of our own Millinery artists, Our trimmers have visited the various centres of style and are modelling after the arts of Paris and New York, creating the daintiest and most catchy designs.

Ladies love exclusiveness and individuality, in fact, are yearly becoming more insistent in those respects, which accounts greatly for our increased prestige in the Millinery trade.

We're nothing, if not up-to-date, and it is not how much we can value a Hat but the value we can give you at the Price.

We extend an invitation to each Lady to visit our Millinery Display Room on the 2nd Floor, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Store open Thursday evening from 7 to 9.30 p. m.

P. S.—Each Department will take on their Spring appearance. A display of Novelties in Dress Goods, Linens, Wash Fabrics, Hosiery and Gloves on the main floor. 2nd floor Display of Spring Jackets, Shirt Waist Suits, Skirts, Waists, Carpets and Curtains.

An opportunity to see the Furnished Bedroom illuminated—every lady delighted who sees it.

GOOD ADDRESS ON INDIAN MISSIONS

Rev. Mr. Stillwell in Murray Street Baptist Church.

The Moral Needs of India — Three Things to be Overcome.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Woman's Home Mission Circle in connection with the Murray street Baptist Church last night, and a most enjoyable and profitable time was spent. The chief event of the evening was an address by Rev. H. E. Stillwell, a missionary who is home from India on furlough.

The meeting was opened with devotional services conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Scott, who was assisted by Rev. Mr. McKinnon, of Gilmour Memorial Church. Reports were received from the secretary of the Circle and from the Mission Band. These have recently been published. The total amount raised for Home Mission purposes was $103.30 and for Foreign Missions, $121.10. The amount raised by monthly collection was $9.00.

Mr. Stillwell was then introduced. He was encouraged to see such a large gathering present and to listen to such inspiring reports. It has been said that from time immemorial heathenism has been cursed with three evils,—civil war, slavery and degradation of women. He was thankful to be able to say that since since India had come under the curb and bit of British control civil war has been such a stranger that it was but a fast fading memory.

A Hindoo gentleman had been asked what would happen if the British control over India was suddenly relaxed, replied that it would be similar to removing the bars and bolts of a menagerie and turning loose the animals. The different tribes would almost immediately plunge into civil war, just as the wild animals would begin quarrelling as soon as liberated. As in the case of the animals the Royal Bengal Tiger would probably be the victor, so the fierce Mohammedans would be conquerors in the struggle amongst the tribes.

Also under the British Government the curse of slavery had been almost obliterated, so that there was no longer a law in India by which a man might torture and abuse his servant wherever he felt the inclination.

He wished that he could report such a good condition of affairs in connection with the third curse that of the degradation of women. But good progress has been made. The speaker referred to the heathenish and unhuman cruel custom of the natives of India of burning of widows upon the funeral pyres of their dead husbands. It was nearly two hundred years ago that the movement against the practice was begun and it took twenty-five years to accomplish the work. During that time no less than 70,000 wailing women had gone up to meet their God in agonizing death. Thanks to the work of the missionaries this vile practice has been almost entirely done away with it. At present in India there are 2,000,000 people who bow down to Jesus and of these one half are women.

But this was the bright side of the case, the dark and troubled aspect had yet to be given. Mr. Stillwell here told several incidents witnessed by himself illustrative of the superstitions and heathen beliefs of many of the people of India, such as the propitiation of cobras by native women with milk, and grated cocoanut. The natives held those serpents in veneration as gods, and worship them accordingly. Many who can read and are intelligent do such things.

Mr. Stillwell also gave many touching and astonishing incidents in connection with the degradation of Indian women, which showed the most deplorable state of affairs in existence. The treatment of a young Indian girl, who was betrothed when about four years old to a boy of tender years, who subsequently died was vividly described. She was regarded as a widow and received the treatment accorded to Indian widows. Her hair was shaven off by the parents, her jewelry and fine clothes taken away, and she was clothed in a garment of sackcloth. On the road she was greeted by cries of "Harlot," "Baldhead," etc., and treatment would continue for the remainder of her life, her parents being powerless to save her from the persecution.

The chief check to the attempt to make happy the lives of the Indian women is because of the fact that the Hindoo men are extremely jealous of any effort to place women on a comparatively equal footing them.

Mr. Stillwell said that if the lot of the Indian women was to be made brighter it must be by Christian prayer and Christian liberality.

At the conclusion of the address a vote of thanks, moved by Col. E. B. Edwards, and seconded by Mr. Frank Matthews, was tendered the speaker for his most interesting and profitable lecture.

A duet by Mrs. Miller and Miss Kidd was delightfully rendered, after which several representatives of other churches expressed sympathy and good will towards the Women's Home Mission Circle of the Murray street Baptist church.

The meeting was closed with devotional exercises.

PROFITS WERE OVER HALF A MILLION

C. G. E. Company's Annual Meeting—Good Prospects for Local Concern—Contract Now for over $4,000,000 Worth of Work —Will Issue New Stock for $900,000.00 —First Two Months' Business in 1905 Best in History of Company.

The annual statement of the Canadian General Electric Company, made public at the annual meeting held yesterday, states that profits for the year were $582,519.60, or $70,288.81 in excess of profits in the previous year. Out of the four quarterly dividends at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum upon the common stock, two half-yearly dividends at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum upon the preferred stock and bank interest amounting in the aggregate to $392,743.52 have been paid. Of the balance the sum of $113,612.37 has been been written for depreciation, $75,000.00 transferred to reserve, and $1,143.71 added to the credit of profit and loss account, which now stands at $31,913.42. The reserve fund is now $1,2?9,770.00 plus $100,000.00 at credit of Contingent Account, and $31,913.42 balance at credit of profit and loss, making the total surplus $1,421,683.42.

Part of the Canadian General Electric Company's Plant at Peterborough.

At the last annual meeting reference was made to the very decided growth in the company's business, in both the electric and foundry departments, and it was intimated that owing to the fact that some especially large contracts were secured during that year, notably in connection with Niagara Power development, there might be some falling off in the volume of business during 1904. The directors report, however, that instead of falling off the business of the company carried over to 1905 uncompleted contracts amounting to $1,385,000.00 in the electrical department and $345,000.00 in the Foundry department, or $?,?30,000.00 in all. The business of the company materially increased and the company carried over to rent year is the largest in the history of the company for any similar period. From 1st January to 5th March, contracts to the amount of $1,007,000.00 have been closed by the electrical department and $345,000.00 in the foundry department. These amounts, added to the total unfinished business carried forward from 1904, make a gross total of $4,118,000.00, or over 35 per cent. more than the capital of the company.

An interesting feature of the report deals with a new stock issue. The directors say: In view of the fact that the company has no bonded indebtedness, its credit has enabled us to borrow money for the purchase of raw materials required for contracts, etc., at a less rate of interest than would be paid in dividends on new capital. Owing to the great and continued growth of the business, however, the working capital required must necessarily increase, and your directors will recommend at a meeting of shareholders to be called for the purpose that application be made for supplementary letters patent increasing the capital stock of the company, and that of such increase new shares, to the par value of $900,000.00 being at the rate of one new share to three old shares of the common stock, be offered, subject to the discretion of the directors to the shareholders at a premium price to be considered later.

The following table shows the steady progress of the company since 1897:—

	Profits.	Dividends.	Surplus over divs.
1897	188,403	71,330	47,073
1898	182,756	81,000	101,726
1899	291,996	108,000	183,996
1900	262,903	127,623	135,280
1901	345,990	156,730	189,240
1902	456,862	213,735	228,124
1903	512,210	269,477	242,933

REV. DR. CROTHERS ANSWERS DANIEL

And Calls Him to Repentance.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In your issues of 11th and 17th inst., appeared letters in which I am much interested, and with your permission I will offer a few comments on "Daniel." With the introduction to the first letter I fully agree, viz., that no state aid be given to denominational teaching. The reasoning of "Daniel" by which he tries to prove that the members of the Ministerial Association, with the exception of the Baptists, are inconsistent, is surely at fault. I submit that as members of the Association we are certainly not responsible for the offenses of our forefathers. Even supposing that the church in former days made mistakes, surely "Daniel" is not going to hold the ministers of to-day responsible. If so, he has a large contract on his hands. This is an age of progress and the world is growing better and wiser, and it would be well to follow the advice of a late eminent authority in politics, and seal the past with seven seals. However I leave the Presbyterians and Anglicans to settle their difficulties with "Daniel," and would call attention to his criticism on the Methodists.

He charges first that the Corporation of St. Thomas took stock in Alma College, a Methodist institution. Now the Methodist Church as a Church is no more responsible for this than is "Daniel." As a matter of fact I suppose few of the Methodists know anything about it. It was a matter between the Corporation of the City and the College Board. I do not agree with it, nor would I defend it, but I am not responsible. He further states that the Government of Ontario bought the Victoria College property at Cobourg. Now if the Province wished buildings for an Asylum and saw that these buildings would answer, where was the wrong? Would any sane person accuse the Corporation of Peterborough of favouring the Roman Catholics if they found it expedient to purchase a Separate School property for corporation purposes? Surely not.

Again I question the propriety of trying to show that St. Patrick belongs exclusively to one section of the church. St. Patrick is dear to all Irishmen and belongs to the Church universal. Concerning the so-called divisions that exist to-day in Protestantism, "Daniel" is much in error. There are minor divisions, it is true, but upon the great verities Protestantism is united and never more than to-day.

The Ministerial Association is not a legislative body and it does not profess to represent the various Churches. It is, however, composed of pastors who are trying to work for the welfare of the community and country, and among them there is no more high-souled, liberty-loving and broad-minded man than Rev. E. A. Langfeldt. Would that we had more men of his courage in the community. I protest against being classed among those "having possession of stolen goods," and I trust that "Daniel" will follow the suggestion he so wisely makes for others, viz., repent and make restitution in the form of an apology.

Yours, etc.,

W. J. CROTHERS.

HAPPY EVENT IN SMITH TOWNSHIP

Miss Edith Tindle Married to Mr. Thomas Curtis.

On Wednesday evening, March 15th, a very interesting and happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Tindle, of Smith, when in the presence of a sympathetic company of well-wishers, their youngest daughter, Edith, was united in marriage to Thos. Curtis, of Verulam. The ceremony was performed by Pastor L. McKinnon, the groom being supported by Mr. Wm. Graham, of Fenelon, and the bride by her niece, Miss Gertrude Tindle. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis bear with them to their home in Verulam beautiful and useful tokens of the good will of their friends.

CHAIRMAN MORRISON

To the Editor of the Examiner:

In your appreciative reference yesterday to Dr. Morrison's qualifications for the Chairmanship of the Board of Licence Commissioners, you omitted to mention that he is a total abstainer. As such he will have no partiality to the tipple of any particular hotel and have no motive for showing favours.

Yours truly,

BONIFACE.

SHE GAINED Fifteen Pounds

A young woman in New York wrote us that she had lost twenty-five pounds in four months and her lungs were seriously affected. She had to give up her position as a stenographer. Someone told her to try Scott's Emulsion. She took three bottles and gained fifteen pounds. Her general health was so improved that she resumed her work. Such cases are not the exception, but the rule. We have known persons to gain an average of a pound a day by taking an ounce of

Scott's Emulsion

It seems hardly possible, yet we have received thousands of letters telling of almost similar results. It's not so strange when one is familiar with Scott's Emulsion. It sets the digestion right and furnishes rich nourishment that is easily absorbed by the system. Good food does good when it can be digested. Scott's Emulsion is a food itself, but it helps other food do good and so the gains in flesh are made quickly and easily.

FIRE AT ORILLIA.

One Man Seriously Burned While Removing Carriages.

Orillia, March 21.—At 12.35 p. m. yesterday fire broke out in Tudhope & Co's carriage showrooms and implement emporium and did several thousand dollars worth of damage before extinguished. The loss is covered by insurance.

Albert Rahmer, while assisting in removing carriages, was enveloped in flames in a position unable to help himself, and before extricated was seriously burned.

Flour Mill Gutted.

Beaverton, March 21.—About 9 o'clock Sunday night a fire broke out in the large brick flour mill owned by Alexander Dobson, caused by an overheated journal of the electric light plant. The mill is completely gutted, leaving only the walls standing. About 20,000 bushels of wheat and flour were destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $40,000. The total insurance is about $14,000, insured in several companies.

Fire at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 21.—Early yesterday morning the Field Block, occupied by the Banker's Restaurant and Miss Wallis' store, was destroyed by fire. Loss on building and stock $8,500; insured for $5,000, carried mostly by Liverpool, London and Globe and Phoenix of London.

MR. HILL HAS PROVED IT.

Toronto Man Explains How he Gained Thirty Pounds in a Few Weeks. Remarkable Statement.

At 89 Fuller street, Toronto, lives a man who claims to have proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill is the most wonderful remedy ever introduced. His name is W. A. Hill, and he makes the following statement:—

"I was very much run down, and had a constant pain in my side, which made life a drag to me. I fully believed my days were numbered, but I was induced to try a treatment of Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and the results were marvellous.

"After a short time I found myself restored to perfect health and strength, which I am thankful to say I have enjoyed ever since.

"I have gained thirty pounds in weight since I commenced to use Anti-Pill."

Mr. Hill's statement is only one of many. No one has ever used Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill without benefit.

To Try Stoessel.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—A commission has been appointed under the presidency of Gen. Roopaw, of the Council of the Empire, to investigate the surrender of Port Arthur and act as a court to determine the responsibility of Gen. Stoessel.

Peace With Mad Mullah.

Rome, March 21.—In concluding peace with Great Britain, through the mediation of Italy, the Mad Mullah has obtained permission definitely to occupy Illig, a village on Italian territory 160 miles from Obbia, which was the base of operations in the last campaign led by Gen. Manning. Coast rights are granted the Mullah, qualified by an prohibition of trade in arms and slaves.

Helpless with Salt Rheum

"For many months my wife was unable to serve herself with her hands because of salt rheum. Dr. Chase's Ointment has entirely cured her entirely, and we strongly recommend it to any who suffer from similar ailments, believing that it has no equal."—Mr. Ludger Dugnay, Pigeon Hill, Missisquoi Co., Que.

Command of the Vigilant.

Captain J. Dunn, who for twelve years commanded the fisheries protection cruiser Petrel, and who now has command of the cruiser Vigilant has had an increase in salary to $1,250 per year, with an additional annual increase of $50 until he has reached the age limit. The Vigilant will carry a crew of 55 men. She will shortly be fitted up with four rapid-fire guns, one machine gun, a one-pounder and two four-pounders. The headquarters of the Vigilant will be at Windsor. Over 40,000 rounds of ball cartridges will be kept aboard the boat and the strictest discipline maintained.

FLOODS AT PITTSBURG.

Mills Shutting Down and Over 20,000 Men Are Idle.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 22.—Pittsburg is threatened with one of the worst floods in years. Forecaster Ridgeway predicts over 30 feet. During the early hours yesterday, the water began to recede from the rise in the Allegheny, but a fresh impetus was given by a rainfall of nearly two inches over the entire watershed of the Monagahela River.

Last night about 50 miles above Pittsburg the Monagahela is rising 8 inches an hour, and at the harbor here the gauges show a rise of nearly 3 inches per hour.

Already a number of mills have shut down, the water putting out the fires. from three to five feet of water is expected up the valley and a total of 30,000 men are likely to be idle to-day.

Hundreds of houses in Allegheny, on the south side, and in McKeesport and other suburbs are surrounded by from two to eight feet of water.

The crest of the flood is expected about 9 p. m. Wednesday. It is threatening rain again to-day.

About 20 milch cows and springers sold at $35 to $45 each.

About 50 veal calves sold at $3.50 to $6 per cwt., with something choice at $6.25 per cwt.

The run of sheep and lambs being light, prices were firm. Export ewes, $4.50 to $5.25; bucks, $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt.; yearling lambs, grain-fed, $6.50 to $7.35 per cwt.; barnyard lambs, $5.50 to $6.50 per cwt.; spring lambs, $4 to $8 each.

Receipts of hogs were light—547, all told. Drovers report country roads as so bad that farmers cannot in some districts get their hogs to the station for delivery. Mr. Harris advanced prices 25c per cwt., paying for selects $5.25 per cwt., and lights and fats $4 per cwt., fed and watered.

It will be seen that prices are $1 per cwt. better than a month ago. Toronto prices are $1 per cwt., higher than on Chicago market.

THEY WILL LIE LOW

Opposition Developes Differences On Autonomy Bills.

ST. LAWRENCE IMPROVEMENT

Important Announcement by Hon. Mr. Prefontaine—Will Be Finished Shortly—$2,000,000 Spent on Them—Standard Fruit Boxes—Mr. Fisher Has Fruit-Growers' Resolutions in Favor of Them.

Ottawa, March 22.—It turns out that the Opposition are by no means unanimous as to the best course to pursue in regard to the educational provisions of the autonomy bills. The fact developed at a caucus of the party held yesterday afternoon. Several members urged a tooth and nail fight against the clause, but others foresaw breakers ahead if such were determined upon, and counselled delay. The latter section of the party thought, if nothing was done, divisions would develop in the ranks of the Ministerialists by which the Opposition would profit. So it is likely that the Opposition will lie low for the present, and not show their hand until the debate is well advanced. Dr. Sproule, of course as the head of the Orange Society, may be expected to speak in the strongest manner against anything relating to separate schools.

IN THE HOUSE.

Important Announcement Made by Hon. Mr. Prefontaine.

Ottawa, March 22.—With a very slim attendance, the House spent the whole of yesterday's session in Committee of Supply; but little interest was taken, the members having their minds fixed in anticipation on the debate of to-day, when the second reading of the Northwest autonomy bill will be moved. About $750,000 was voted for the Marine and Fisheries Department. Hon. Mr. Prefontaine announced that the improvements and the aids to navigation on the St. Lawrence, upon which some $2,000,000 has been spent, would shortly be finished, and the fact was incidentally developed that during the past ten years, as a result of the expenditure on that work, the insurance rates had been reduced by 50 per cent.

Messrs. Bergeron and Geoffrion were added to Sir Wm. Mulock's Committee on the Telephone Question.

Object to Fruit Boxes.

In committee on Mr. Fishers bill to amend the act respecting the packing and sale of staple commodities, Mr. Henderson (Halton) expressed the hope that the House would not pass the measure at this time. It was strange, if there was a strong demand for the bill, as stated by the Minister of Agriculture, that resolutions from some organised association of fruit growers had not been laid on the table. In his district, Mr. Henderson asserted, the fruit growers were opposed to the size of the box specified, which, he contended, was a nondescript, being neither one-fourth nor one-third of a barrel.

Mr. Arch Campbell advocated the boxes, and said the fruit growers of his district would prefer them to the barrel. There had been a good deal of loss through the making of barrels from gum wood or through exposing properly made barrels to moisture, so that the staves swelled, the hoops broke, and the package would not stand shipment. The present box was a third of a barrel, and would hold one bushel. It seemed a suitable size.

Mr. Fisher Has the Resolutions.

Hon. Mr. Fisher said that there were resolutions of fruit growers to support the proposed bill. He read resolutions passed by the Fruit Growers' Associations of Ontario, of Quebec, of Nova Scotia, and of British Columbia. They all ask for the standardization of an export box of the size specified in the bill. Mr. Fisher also read letters from Canadian apple buyers and packers and English importers favoring the size specified in the bill. At Mr. Fisher's suggestion, the operation of the bill was postponed until June, 1906, in order to allow shippers to get rid of this year's crop, and the bill was given third reading and passed.

One Came Out After The Other.

Suffered with Boils for Six Months.

Mr. Elie Braizeau, Meadowside Station, Ont., tells of his experience with Boils and Burdock Blood Bitters.

He says:—"In the Spring of 1899 I was continually troubled with boils—one coming after another for about six months. I suffered terribly, and was in a very bad condition. In August I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and began to feel better after taking it. I kept on until I had used five bottles, and can truthfully say that I was cured, and have remained so ever since. I have not had the least sign of a boil."

There is nothing like Burdock Blood Bitters for bad blood, boils, pimples, dyspepsia, indigestion, or any trouble arising from the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood.

THAT BOY OF YOURS.

A Little Advice About His Home and His Companions.

We chaperon our girls and carefully guard them against unworthy boys, but we leave the boy to choose for himself his associates and his achievements.

Girls are naturally winsome, gentle, companionable. They win their way in homes and hearts. But the boy, noisy, awkward, mischievous, is invited into few homes and feels none too much at home in his own.

About the only door that swings with sure welcome to the boy, about the only chair that is shoved near the fire especially for the boy, about the only place where he is sure of cordial greeting, is where he ought not to go.

It is one of the hardest things in the world to get hold of a boy—to get a sure grip on him.

He is hungry for companionship, and he will have it. You can't chain him away from it. He wants the companionship of boys, and nothing will take its place.

If the crime of selfishness has so increased your heart that the joys and hopes of your boy cannot enter into it the boy is to be pitied, but so are you.—Milwaukee Journal.

The Heart's Highway

MARY E. WILKINS

Copyright, 1900, by DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

When I came to myself my waistcoat was off, and both men looking at my shoulder, which the horse's hoof must have barely grazed, though no more, or I should have been in a worse plight. Still the shoulder was a sorry sight enough, and the great black woman with the little fair baby in her arms stood aloof looking at it with ready tears, and the baby herself made round eyes like stars, though she knew not half what it meant. I felt the hot red of shame go over me at my weakness at a little pain, after the first shock was over, and I, presumably steeled to bear it like a man, and I struggled to my feet, pulling my waistcoat together and looking, I will venture, much like a sulky and ill conditioned lad.

"What means that hurt on your shoulder, Harry?" asked my stepfather, Colonel John Chelmsford, and his voice was kind enough then. "I would not have laid such a heavy hand on thy shoulder had I known of it," he added. My stepfather had never aught against me that I wot of, having simply naught for me, and a man cannot in justice be held to account for the limitations of his affections, especially toward a rival's son. He spoke with all kindness, and his great ruddy face had a heavy gleam of pity for my hurt, but I answered not one word. "How came it so, Harry?" he asked again, with growing wonder at my silence, but I would not reply.

Then Captain Cavendish addressed me. "You need have no fear, however you came by the hurt, my lad," he said, and I verily believe he thought I had somehow caught the hurt while poaching on his preserves. I stood before them quite still, with my knees stiff enough now, and I think the color came back in my face by reason of the resistance of my spirit.

"Harry, how got you that wound on your shoulder? Answer me, sir," said Colonel Chelmsford, his voice gathering wrath anew. But I remained silent.

Then my stepfather's face blazed high and his mouth straightened and widened and his grasp tightened on a riding whip which he carried, for he had left his horse grazing a few yards away. "How came you by it, sir?" he demanded, and his voice was thick. Then, when I would not reply, he raised the whip and swung it over my shoulders, but I caught it with my sound arm ere it fell and at the same time the little maid, Mary Cavendish, set up a piteous wail of fear in her nurse's arms.

"I pray you, sir, do not frighten her," I said, "but wait till she be gone." And then I waved the black woman to carry her away, and with my lame arm. When she had fled with the child's soft wail floating back I turned to my stepfather, Colonel John Chelmsford, and he, holding fiercely to the whip which I relinquished, still eyed me with doubt.

"Harry, why will you not tell?" he said, but I shook my head, waiting for him to strike me, for I was but a boy, and it had been so before, and perhaps more justly.

"Let the lad go, Chelmsford," cried Captain Cavendish. "I'll warrant he has done no harm." But my stepfather would not heed him.

"Answer me, Harry," said he. Then, when I would not, down came the riding whip, but only thrice and not hard. "Now go you home," said my stepfather, "and show your mother the hurt, however you came by it, and have her put some of the cooling lotion on a linen cloth to it." Then he and Captain Cavendish went their ways, and I went toward home, creeping through the gap in the May hedge. But I did not go far, having no mind to show my hurt, though I knew well that my mother, being a woman and soft toward all wounds, would make much of it and maybe of me on its account.

But I was not of a mind to purchase affection by complaints of bodily ills, so I lay down under the hedge in the soft grass, keeping my bruised shoulder uppermost, and remained there thinking of the little maid, till finally, the pain easing somewhat, I fell asleep and was presently awakened by a soft touch on my sore shoulder which caused me to wince and start up with wide eyes, and there was Catherine Cavendish.

Catherine Cavendish I had seen afar, though not to speak with her, and she being a year my senior and not then a beauty, and I being, moreover, of an age to look at a girl and look away again to my own affairs, I had thought no more of her, but I knew her at once. She was, as I said before, not a beauty at that time, being one of those maids which, like some flowers, are slow of bloom. She had grown so fast and far that she had outspeeded her grace.

The Song of the Cradle.

Bye, bye! Hope rises high:
There's a sweet little cradle hung up in the sky;
A dear little life that is coming to bless;
Two soft chubby hands that will pat and caress;
A pure little soul winging down from above;
A darling to care for, a baby to love.

One of the grandest agencies which enlightened Science has discovered to relieve motherhood from excessive suffering is the "Favorite Prescription" devised by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.

This wonderful "Prescription" imbues the entire nervous system with natural, healthy vitality; gives elastic vigor to the delicate organism specially concerned in motherhood, and makes the coming of baby entirely free from danger and almost free from pain.

"I wish to state that I have used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with very good results," writes Mrs. Katie M. Annis, of Hudson, New Hampshire. "Had been in poor health for over four years and had been twice in the hospital. My husband brought some of your 'Favorite Prescription,' and it has carried me easily through my last two confinements. We are now blessed with two healthy children, and I am sure your medicine has done me more good than all the other treatment I have ever received."

BAD HEADACHES generally arise from bad stomachs. Foul breath, bitter taste, coated tongue, sour eructations or belching of gas, are common symptoms though not all present in every case. To cure, take small doses, only one or two each day, of old Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by him over 40 years ago. One or two a laxative, three or four cathartic.

For the Treatment of

Alcoholism

Used in Connection with the Province of Quebec Probation System with Unvarying Success.

The City Council of Montreal has endorsed this marvellous discovery. The Finance Committee of Montreal recently voted $500 to defray the expense of placing the medicine in each of the city Police Stations, as prompt application of the Treatment to bad cases will prevent the fatalities continually occurring in the cells.

No Sanitarium is required. The treatment can be taken at home. No special diet required. The desire to reform is simply necessary and spirits avoided for a few days.

This medicine is now within the reach of all, the price having been reduced. The wonderful results obtained with the worst class of drunkards coming before the Judges of the Recorders' Courts in Quebec and Montreal warrants the statement that the disease of Drunkenness can be cured—readily and surely—under ordinary circumstances and with the reasonable desire upon the part of an inebriate.

This treatment is simply the medicine of the medical profession—the only secret is as to its administration.

Dr. Mackay's discovery is the result of 25 years of practice as a specialist and expert. He is a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec.

The Government of Quebec through the Judges ordered over 500 boxes of the medicine for prisoners appearing in the Courts in 1904—Official Reports establish 80 per cent. of cures with these cases.

With the public and official endorsation and the record of results published it is unnecessary to waste money experimenting further. All communications private.

"Why did you not tell?" said she sharply, and I stared up at her speechless, for I saw that she knew.

"Why did you not tell, and why were you whipped for it?" she demanded again. Then, when I did not answer: "I saw it all. I hid behind a tree for fear of the stallion. The child would have been killed but for you. Why were you whipped for a thing like that?" Then all at once, before I could answer had I been minded to do so, she burst out almost with violence, with a brilliant red surging up from the cords of her thin neck, over her whole face: "Never mind, I like you for it. I would not have told. I will never tell as long as I live, and I have brought some lotion of cream and healing herbs and a linen cloth, and I will bind up your shoulder for you."

Catherine Cavendish

With that, down she was on her knees, though I strove half rudely to prevent her, and was binding up my shoulder with a wonderful deftness of her long fingers.

I thanked her, or tried to thank her, I dare say, in such surly fashion that it was like a rebuff. Then I was off, but I felt her standing there close to the white blooming hedge, staring at me with that inscrutable look of an immature girl who questions doubly all she sees, beginning with herself.

CHAPTER III.

ALTHOUGH I was heir to a large estate, I had not much gold and silver nor many treasures in my possession. I never knew rightly why, but my mother, having control until I was come of age and having indeed the whole property at her disposal, doubtless considered it best that the wealth should accumulate rather than be frittered away in trifles which could be of but passing moment to a boy. But I was well equipped enough as regarded comforts, and, as I said before, my education was well looked after.

Though never having much regard for such small matters, it used to gall me not at all that my half brother, who was younger and such a fair lad that he became them like a girl, should go clad in silks and velvets and laces, with a ready jingle of money in his purse and plenty of sweets and trinkets to command. But after I saw that little maid it went somewhat hard with me that I had no bravery of apparel to catch her sweet eyes and cause her to laugh and point with delight, as I have often seen her do, at the glitter of a loop of gold or a jeweled button or a flash of crimson sheen from a fold of velvet, or the wherewithal to sometimes purchase a comfit to thrust into her little hand, reaching of her nature for sweets like the hands of all young things.

Having no ribbons nor sweets nor silver buttons to give her, I was fain to search the woods and fields and the seashore for those small treasures, without money and without price, with which nature is lavish toward the poor who love her and attend her carefully, such as the first flowers of the season, nuts and seed vessels and sometimes an empty bird's nest and a stray bright feather and bits of bright stones, which might, for her baby fancy, be as good as my brother's gold and silver and shells and red and russet moss.

Her father, Captain Geoffry Cavendish, seemed to regard my devotion to his daughter with a certain amusement and good will. Indeed, I used to fancy that he had a liking for me and would go out of his way to say a pleasant word, but once it happened that I took his kindness in ill part, and still consider that I was justified in so doing.

I was already, although young, as sensitive to all slights upon my dignity as any full grown man. So when one day, lying at full length upon the grass under a reddening oak with a book under my eyes and my pocket full of nuts if perchance my little sweetheart should come that way with her black nurse, I heard suddenly Captain Cavendish's voice ring out loud and clear, as it always did from his practice on the quarter deck, with something like an oath as of righteous indignation to the effect that it was a shame for the heir and the eldest son, and a lad with a head of a scholar and the arm of a soldier, to be thrust aside so and made so little of.

Then another voice, smoothly sliding, as if to make no friction with the other's opinions, asked of whom he spoke, and that smoothly sliding voice I recognized as Mr. Abbot's, the attorney's, and Captain Cavendish replied in a fashion which astonished me, for I had no idea to whom he had referred—"Harry Maria Wingfield, the eldest son and heir of as fine and gallant a gentleman as ever trod English soil, who is treated like the son of a scullion by those who owe him most, and 'tis a shame, and I care not who hears me."

Then, before I had as yet fairly my wits about me, Mr. Abbot spoke again in that voice of his which I so hated in my boyish downrightness and scorn of all policy that it may have led me to an unjust estimate of all men of his profession. "But Colonel John Chelmsford hath no meaning to deal otherwise than fairly by the boy, and neither, unless I greatly mistake, hath his wife." And this he said as if both Colonel Chelmsford and my mother were at his elbow, and for that manner of speaking I have ever had contempt, preferring downright scurrility, and Captain Cavendish replied with his quick agility of wrath, as precipitate toward judgment as a sailor to the masthead in a storm:

"And what if she be? The more shame to them that they have not enough wit to see what they do! I tell thee this poor Harry hath a harder time of it than any slave on my plantation in Virginia, I"—

But then I was on my feet and, facing them both with my head flung back and my face, I dare say, red and white with wrath and demanding hotly what that might be to them, and if my treatment at the hands of my stepfather and my own mother was not between them and me and none else, and, boy as I was, I felt as tall as Captain Cavendish as I stood there. Captain Cavendish stared a moment and reddened and frowned, and then his gaunt face widened with his ever ready laugh which made it passing sweet for a man.

"Tush, lad," he cried out. "And had I known how fit thou were to fight thy own battles I had not taken up the cudgels for thee, and I crave thy pardon. I had not perceived that thy sword arm was grown, and henceforth thou shalt cross with thy adversaries for all me." Then he laughed again, and I stared at him grimly, but softened, and he and Mr. Abbot moved on, but the attorney in passing laid his great white hand on my black mane of hair as if he would bless me, and I shrank away from under it, and when he said in that voice of his, "'Tis a gallant lad, and one to do good service for his king and country," I would that he had struck me that I might have justly hit back.

It was both a great and a sad day for me when I came to go to Cambridge—great because of my desire for knowledge and the sight of the world which has ever been strong within me, and sad because of my leaving the little maid without a chance of seeing her for so long a time. She was then six years old, and a wonder both in beauty and mind to all who beheld her. I saw much more of her in those days, for my mother, whose heart had always been sore for a little girl, was often with Captain Cavendish's wife, for the sake of the child, though the two women were not of the best accord one with another.

Madam Rosamond Cavendish was, I suppose, a beauty, though after a strange and curious fashion, being seemingly dependent upon those around her for it, as a chameleon is dependent for his color upon his surroundings. I have seen Madam Cavendish, when praised by one she loved or approached by the little maid, her daughter, with an outstretch of fair little arms and a coercion of dimples toward kisses, flush into such a radiance of loveliness that, boy as I was, I was dazzled by her.

Harry Wingfield facing Captain Cavendish and Mr. Abbot

Then, on the other hand, I have seen her as dully opaque of any meaning of beauty as one could well be. But she loved Captain Cavendish well, and I wot he never saw her but with that wondrous charm, since whenever he cast his eyes upon her it must have been to awaken both reflection and true life of joy in her face. She was so small and exceeding slim that she seemed no more than a child, and she was not strong, having a quick cough ready at every breath of wind, and she rode nor walked like our Englishwomen, but lay about on cushions in the sun. Still, when she moved it was with such a vitality of grace and such readiness that no one, I suspect, knew how frail she was until she sickened and died the second year of my stay in Cambridge.

When I returned home I found in her stead Madam Judith Cavendish, the mother of Captain Cavendish, who had come from Huntingdonshire. She was at that time well turned of threescore, but a woman who was, as she had always been, a power over those about her. She looked her age, too, except for her figure, for her hair was snowy white and the lines of her face fixed beyond influence of further smiles or tears.

Suffered Intense Pain Around The Heart For Four Years.

Was Very Dizzy.

Four Boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Effected a Complete Cure.

They are a specific for all troubles arising from a weak condition of the heart or from the nervous system. For troubles such as Palpitation of the Heart, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Faint or Dizzy Spells, Shortness of Breath, Starting in the Sleep; Cold, Clammy Hands or Feet, Brain Fag, etc., we would strongly advise the early use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as this remedy, taken in time, has been the means of saving many a life, and restoring strength to those who were weak, nervous, health-shattered invalids.

Mrs. R. Kilmer, Humberstone, Ont., writes:—"Allow me to tell you of the great results I have derived from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. For four years I suffered intense pain around the heart, and was very dizzy. After using four boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I was completely cured."

Y. P. S. C. E. MEETING AFTER SERVICE

Instructive Meeting at St. Andrew's on Sunday Evening.

St. Andrews Y.P.S.C.E. held their meeting Sunday evening at the close of the service, at which there was quite a large attendance. The chair was taken by Mr. Gerrard, who, after the usual exercises, took the topic "Glorifying God in our daily work" Matt. 5-13-16, Rom. 12-11, and gave a very thoughtful address on the subject. The speaker said, that in looking over this very important topic, a great many thoughts flashed through his mind as to how we might glorify God in our daily work. No man does his full duty unless he makes all life about him the better for his living, recalling how our Master glorified God in His daily work as a carpenter. All of us, in our several places, have daily opportunities of adorning the Gospel making the Christian life beautiful in the eyes of our fellow men. If we try to glorify God in our daily tasks, he believed God would glorify us. God wants us to be successful in our work; and He will make us successful if that work is for Him, and under His guidance. What an inspiring thought that every day's work well done for God is helping to prepare us to be one of His assistants throughout eternity. After the address the meeting was thrown open for discussion in which several took part. Mr. Potter spoke, impressing some important thoughts brought out in open meeting. After a season of sentence prayers, the meeting closed by singing and all repeating the Mizpah benediction. All young people are heartily invited to those meetings.

LATEST SPORT

"UPSTART" RINK DEFEATED "VETERANS"

D. Hall's Aggregation Goes Down to Defeat by 7—8.

The end of the curling season is disclosing some remarkable facts. Last night the famous B.A.C.-Veterans game was pulled off, though not altogether according to the plans that had been laid. The original intention was that the Veterans should be skipped by Mr. R. J. Winch, but that gentleman evidently believing that discretion was the better part of valour, sent his regrets, as did Mr. Knapman, who was also to have been on the Veterans. Their places, however, were filled by good men, and the rink was skipped by Mr. D. Hall, the skip whose rink defeated Lindsay's crack rink in the recent Peterborough bonspiel.

The score last night at the close of 10 ends' play was B.A.C., 8; Veterans, 7; and the youngsters, two of whom had never participated in a match before, will now begin to think that they can curl some.

In the first end the "Upstarts" got three and their lead was pulled down by two after the next end, but they were never headed and finished one up.

Their inks were:—

Veterans.	B. A. C.
A. McIntosh	R. N. Jolliffe
W. Smith	M. J. Hutchinson
Jas. Bogue	S. S. Moore
D. Hall, sk. 7.	E. M. Best, sk. 8

The score by ends was:—

Veterans	2x2x2xxx111—7
B. A. C.	3x2x111xxx—8

At the conclusion of the game, the skip of the winning rink, to atone for the number of "hogs" which he threw during the game, intertained the members of his rink to an oyster supper at McCallums.

NAT RAY'S SALARY $15,000 FOR YEAR

Toronto Steeplechase Jockey to Receive Largest Retainer Ever Paid in the U. S.

The Toronto Star has the following reference to a relative of Mr. S. Ray, of town:—

Steeplechase Jockey Nat Ray, who left for Washington last week, will ride for Thos. Hitchcock the coming season and will receive $15,000 for first call by Mr. Hitchcock, the largest salary ever known to have been paid a steeplechase rider.

Before leaving Toronto Nat received a letter from J. T. Gwathemly, the millionaire American, asking him to go to England and ride for him in the Grand National, but this he declined to do, as he had already signed with Mr. Hitchcock.

Nat has held the record for the last three years for winning the most races. Among his many successful rides have been three successive wins o' the Grand National and the Champion Steeplechases, the two richest stakes in the country. Last year every stake race in New York was won by him with one exception, when he would certainly have won had not his horse fallen.

Among the horses in Mr. Hitchcock's stable are Foxhunter, Good and Plenty, Fred Askerman, and seven other new ones, which are expected to make good from the work they have been doing this winter at Mr. Hitchcock's farm in the South.

BASKET-BALL AT Y. M. C. A. ON FRIDAY

CHORUS CLASS MAKES PROGRESS

Good Attendance Last Night at Mrs. Morrow's Class.

A Good Programme Last Night—Bass Voices Added Make an Improvement.

The members of Mrs. Morrow's Chorus Class deserve special commendation for the progress which they have made in the reading of music. Many of them are now able to read at sight, and, as a result, the chorus work is being rendered a comparatively easy matter. There are, of course, some who have not attained the same perfection as others, but a slight drill is all that is necessary for them. These pupils may apply to themselves the words which certain musicians used in reply to the celebrated Handel, who questioned them regarding their ability to read music:—"We can read music at sight, but not at first sight." With a few more practices, however, even reading music at first sight will not be considered by them as an impossible acquirement.

The addition of new bass voices to the class has strengthened the choruses to a considerable extent.

During the class which was held on Monday night, Miss Hackett contributed a vocal solo, entitled "Life's Lullaby," by Gerald Lane. Miss Hackett's voice showed careful training of good natural qualities. It may be termed a soprano, with some of the properties of a contralto. The pupils were greatly pleased, and eagerly look forward to the occasion when Miss Hackett will again contribute vocal numbers.

A reference might here be made to the late arrival of some members of the class. Lack of punctuality in this, as in other matters of like, retards progress, and doubles the work of those who are most deeply interested. The class begins at 8 o'clock, and all the members should be in the room at the first stroke of the hour.

A RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

County Orange Lodge Passes one to Family of Late E. F. Clarke, M. P.

Protest Against the Educational Clause of the Automony Bill—Provinces Should Legislate for Themselves.

Last night the County Orange Lodge held a special session, which was attended by a full representation of the members. Mr. J. W. Stuart, County Master, presided, and the following resolution was introduced, and after some discussion on the subject contained in it was adopted:—

Whereas, the spirit and intention of the British North American Act, concede to the Provincial Legislatures full control of their educational affairs, subject to the right of the Federal Parliament, in a specified case, to enact remedial legislation,

And, whereas, the Dominion legislation of 1875 securing the establishment of Separate Schools in the Territories, does not make it obligatory on Parliament, now that a Provincial constitution, is being granted, to enact that the establishment of Separate Schools shall be a permanent obligation on the new Provincial Legislatures. So long as these communities remained under territorial government the Dominion Parliament had the right to dictate their educational policy, but when a Provincial constitution is granted it must conform to the provisions of the British North American Act, regardless of any preliminary enactments during territorial status.

And, whereas, the educational clause of the Autonomy Bill now before Parliament, is ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament, and is, therefore, a violation of the fundamental constitutional principle of Provincial autonomy, and a scheme fraught with danger to the assimilation and unification of the divers races and classes composing our population. Be it therefore,

Resolved,—That this County Orange Lodge of West Peterborough, in special session assembled, respectfully request that the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan be given full control over education within their respective jurisdictions without any restrictions whatever.

Be it further Resolved,—That we call upon the member of Parliament for this Constituency to oppose the Bill, unless the educational clause be expunged therefrom, and the educational policy of the proposed new Provinces be left to themselves to determine, who are more particularly concerned in it.

Whereas, it has pleased the great "I Am," in His Heavenly wisdom to remove from our midst by death, our esteemed and worthy Brother, E. F. Clarke, M.P., P.D.G.M., B.A. thus reminding us of the uncertainty of this life. Be it

Resolved,— That this County Orange Lodge of West Peterborough, at the earliest opportunity, hereby expresss our sympathy with the widow and family of our late brother in the great loss which they have sustained.

Although personally unknown to many of our members, yet their feelings bear witness to the high esteem and affection in which he was held by them.

His death is an irreparable loss to the Orange Association and to the whole Dominion of Canada, which especially at the present time, stands in need of men of his ability and fidelity.

We realize how helpless human sympathy is to bring relief to the stricken heart, and we, therefore, commend the bereaved family to Him who shares all our affliction and sorrows, praying that He may strengthen and sustain them until the day of the happy reunion in a better and brighter world.

Signed on behalf of the County Lodge,

J. W. STUART,
County Master.
W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
Recording Secretary.

This was practically all the business transacted at this meeting last night since it was called for this purpose.

WERE WEDDED IN KINLOSS

Miss Mary Ross Married to Mr. John A. Reid.

At the home of Mrs. Ross, Kinloss, on March 15th, at six o'clock in the evening by the Rev. E. Wallace, of "White Church", the marriage of her daughter Mary, to John A. Reid, of Cairnduff, Assiniboia, was solemnized. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Wallace Ross, was charmingly attired in a white silk gown, with handsome lace bertha and carried lovely white carnations. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Dick, of Teeswater, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. H. J. Reid, of Gananoque. The groom's present to the bride was a pearl sunburst and to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent. After the ceremony a delicious supper was served, the table decorations were pink and white carnations. Friends were there from Teeswater, Port Stanley and Port Elgin, and many good wishes follow Mr. and Mrs. Reid, to their home in Cairnduff.

MR. GILMAN AGAIN SECURES LEASE

Will Conduct Popular Hotel at Jubilee Point During Coming Season.

Mr. J. J. Gilman, who last season conducted the Jubilee point summer hotel, was in town this morning and stated to the Examiner that he has again secured a lease of the property for the coming season. This popular resort will no doubt be extensively patronized, as Mr. Gilman's experience during the past season will be of very great assistance to him in catering to the necessities of his guests during the coming summer.

PARK STREET ANNIVERSARY

Sunday School Anniversary Will be Held on Thursday.

Park Street Baptist Sunday School anniversary will be held on Thursday. The children will be given supper at six o'clock. The programme will be of unusual interest. A young ladies in blue, white, red and yellow costumes, with girdles made for the occasion is very pretty. A Japanese fan drill with white costumes by smaller girls. This will be followed by a group of young men in gymnasium dress giving a complete set of dumb-bell exercises, with choruses, readings, and recitations. This anniversary promises to be very popular. The friends of the children should be on hand early to get a good seat. Programme commences at 8 o'clock.

INTERESTING VIEWS WILL BE SHOWN

is something that most men appreciate. Some of them pay pretty high to secure it; others wear our Ready-to-wear and get it for half the money. We don't ask you to take our word for the excellence of our clothing, but it would please us immensely if you would come in and look at the new spring styles. If you are a merchant tailor man we will guarantee to surprise you.

Paying too much and waiting too long is the "Made-to-order" way. Paying just enough and getting perfect satisfaction is our way. We fit all shapes. We've a cordial welcome for you.

Wall Paper Excitement Continues at Routley's

Never in our history have we had such a clearing. We expect the end of this month will finish up the enormous

1-2 Price and Less

Wall Paper Sale that has engaged our energy and attention. Our output during the year from March 1st, 1904, to March 1st, 1905, fell little short of forty thousand dollars in the wall paper line. We know the public appreciate our value giving and we intend to push on, and, if possible, to even march ahead of our present achievements. We now sell Wall Papers from our Toronto Store from coast to coast, as we have agents in every principal place in the Dominion selling for us. Many were disappointed at not being in to get a room

Paper and Border for the Price of the Border

So that all may be satisfied, I will throw out 1500 Rolls more of the newest stripe, 5 colourings.

The Border will cost you per Yard 2 CENTS—PAPER NOTHING

I hope now that all who fell short will now avail themselves of this opportunity. We can now truthfully say that we are offering papers from nothing to any price your pocket-book can stand. Look at North Window at

RUSSIANS NOW TALK OF PEACE

War Party Still Bitterly Opposed to the Idea ---Other Ministers in Favour---What Russia May and May Not Do---Will Not Grant Any Cession of Territory or Indemnity to Japan, But May Offer Liberal Compensatory Considerations---From the Front.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—The party within the Government which is urging the Emperor to indicate to Japan Russia's willingness to end the war if a reasonable basis can be reached, has been greatly encouraged the last few days, and an actual pacific proposal may be just ahead. The subject has occupied much of the attention of the conferences at Tsarskoe Selo.

Certain grand dukes, supported by Gen. Sakharoff, the Minister of War, Admiral Vellon, the head of the Admiralty, and what is known as the war party, are still bitterly opposed to the idea of peace under present circumstances; but with the exception of war and marine, the Emperor's ministers, headed by M. Witte, solidly favor the course, and the convincing arguments they offer are telling.

Will Go Through France.

French influences in the same direction are now being supported by German opinion. The rumor noted by the Associated Press last week that Emperor William had tendered his good offices now seems to be confirmed. The Associated Press is in a position to assert, however, that if Emperor Nicholas decides to approach Japan it will be through France, and that negotiations will be conducted either between M. Delcasse, the French Foreign Minister, Mr. Delong, the Japanese Minister at Paris, or M. Harmand, the French Minister to Japan, and Count Katsura, the Japanese Premier at Tokio.

The Russian Government now feels certain that Japan will not make the first move, nor disclose her position until overtures are made authoritatively in the Russian Emperor's name, on the ground that he alone is capable of binding Russia.

No Cession or Indemnity.

The conferences concerning the question whether Russia should now indicate her willingness for peace, all agreed, firstly, that preparations to continue the war shall not be relaxed and incidentally to reject humiliating terms. There would probably be two points on which Russia would be found implacable, namely, cession of territory and indemnity, to neither of which, it is said, would Emperor Nicholas ever agree.

It is pointed out, however, that after Japan seriously desires enduring peace on collateral questions, Russia might be ready to offer liberal compensatory considerations.

Away North of Tie Pass.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, 108 miles north of Tie Pass, Monday, March 20.—The Russian rearguard is now at Sipinghai, 70 miles north of Tie Pass. The Japanese are slowly pursuing, but are not energetically pressing the rear. Apparently Field Marshal Oyama is holding his main army at Tie Pass. When the Russians evacuated Tie Pass March 15 one span of the five span bridge over the Tehai River, which falls into the Liao River just north of the town, was destroyed by dynamite immediately after the last train had been despatched northward. As the army moved northward the bridges of the railroad were disabled and every thing in the shape of stores, etc., which could not be taken was burned.

The Russian Retreat.

Tokio, March 23.—It is reported that the rearguard of the retreating Russians was 20 miles north of Kaiyuan (about 20 miles north of Tie Pass) Tuesday, the Japanese vanguard following closely. The Russians are retreating along the three main roadways, their destinations being Kirin and Changchun.

Jap Cavalry Appeared.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—A despatch from Gen. Linevitch, dated March 21, says: "Yesterday Japanese cavalry detachments appeared in front of one of our advance posts. Behind the cavalry were infantry, who halted at the Village of Machantsy."

Will Go to Meet Togo.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—At the Admiralty it is strongly intimated that Admiral Rojestvensky will effect a juncture with Admiral Nebogatoff within ten days and then proceed to meet Admiral Togo. The third division of the Russian second Pacific squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Nebogatoff, left Suda Bay, Island of Crete, Tuesday for Port Said.

RUSSIA'S POLISH POLICY.

Compulsory Use of the Language May Be Abandoned.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—The abandonment of the compulsory use of the Russian language in the schools of Poland, one of the main features of the Government's Polish policy of the last thirty years, and the substitution therefor of Polish was discussed at a special meeting of the committee of ministers yesterday, a large majority headed by President Witte favoring a discontinuance of the attempt to Russify Poland by this method.

At another meeting of the ministers it was decided that it was inadvisable to attempt to resume work at the universities and other closed places of instruction until September 14.

The impatience at the delay in the realization of all the projected reforms is having an exceedingly bad effect. The various commissions are making little progress.

Military Fires on Peasants.

Warsaw, March 23.—Serious agrarian disturbances occurred yesterday at Kutno. It is reported that the military fired on peasant rioters and many were killed and wounded. There were similar riots at Ostrov, in the same district. The Governor of Warsaw, with the public prosecutor, has gone to investigate the affair.

Six Miners Killed.

Princeton, Ind., March 23.—Six miners were killed and four injured, two fatally, by an explosion in the mine of the Princeton Coal and Mining Co. yesterday.

500 Arrests Made.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—In connection with the peasant revolts there have been 500 arrests in the Dvinsk district, where, besides sacking and burning properties and compelling the owners to seek refuge in the towns, the rioters are killing cattle and felling trees.

Attempt to Assassinate.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—At Dvinsk yesterday afternoon an attempt was made to assassinate Assistant Commissioner of Police Degtereff. He assailant, who escaped, fired several shots at Degtereff and wounded him in the head.

BRAVE WOMAN DEAD.

The Heroine of Long Point in 1854 Passes Away.

Langton, March 23.—Mrs. Rober, familiarly known as Abigail Becker, the heroine of Long Point, died suddenly yesterday at her late home in Walsingham Centre. She it was who on a stormy wintry night in November, 1854, risked her life to save Capt. Packett and crew of the three-masted schooner Conductor, which was wrecked on Long Point.

For her bravery the Government gave her a farm of one hundred acres. A purse of one thousand dollars was given her by Buffalo shipowners. The New York Life Saving Association decorated her with a handsome gold medal. She received letters from Queen Victoria.

OPENING OF THE HOUSE

First Conservative Speaker Elected in Ontario.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Eleventh Legislature Opened With Ceremony — Feature of the Speech From the Throne is the Announcement That Ontario Will Get a Slice of Northern Lands—Electing the Speaker.

Toronto, March 23.—The fact that for the first time in Ontario an out-and-out Conservative Government is in power, and that the first Conservative Speaker, Mr. J. W. St. John, was elected, added interest to the opening by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Clark yesterday afternoon of the first session of the eleventh Legislature of Ontario. The attendance was unprecedently large.

Lieutenant-Governor Arrives.

The arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor was timed for 3 o'clock, and a few minutes before the hour the booming of the guns of the Hamilton Field Battery announced that His Honor, escorted by a squadron of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, commanded by Lieut. Young, was coming up "the avenue." The guard of honor was composed of 100 men of the Royal Grenadiers, under the command of Capt. Brooke. When the Lieutenant-Governor arrived he was accorded military honors.

Lieutenant-Governor Clark was preceded on his way to the chamber by his military secretaries. By his side walked the Premier, wearing a fresh white rose.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, the Provincial Secretary, announced that it was the desire of His Honor that the Assembly proceed to the election of a Speaker. The Lieutenant-Governor then withdrew to enable the Assembly to proceed to the business before it.

New Speaker Proposed.

Premier Whitney, in an appropriate speech, nominated Mr. St. John for Speaker. "No man hates him," Mr. Whitney said in conclusion. "Most men love him, and all men respect him. We believe he will rise above party prejudices and maintain the best traditions of the chamber."

In seconding the nomination, Hon. J. J. Foy said Mr. St. John was a fair-minded man, who would act impartially, and see that every man received fair treatment.

Mr. Harcourt concurred on behalf of the Opposition. He was sure that Mr. St. John would add to the dignity, the prestige and the honor of the chamber. Mr. Harcourt concluded by assuring the new Speaker that he would be loyally supported by "those who sit in this corner of this side of the House."

Speaker Gives Thanks.

After the election of Mr. St. John had been declared, he mounted the dais and acknowledged his thanks. He said he felt his inability and the weight of responsibility, but he would endeavor to preserve the rights of the members, and if at any time he should err, he hoped that they would not impute improper motives. The chamber had achieved a reputation for the high standard of debate, and he would endeavor to preserve it.

The Lieutenant-Governor returned to the chamber, and was informed by the Provincial Secretary that a Speaker had been elected. He then read the following:

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It affords me great pleasure to welcome you to the performance of your duties at this the first session of the eleventh Legislature of this Province.

As the result of the labors of the husbandman affords the foundation on which the prosperity of the Province mainly rests, our earnest thanks are due to Almighty God for the bounteous harvest of the past year.

In all sections of the Province are to be seen evidences of steadily increasing activity and enterprise on the part of our people, which constitute cause for hearty congratulation.

The Governor-General.

Since the last meeting of the Legislature the term of the Earl of Minto as Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada came to a close. The severance of the relations which had existed between the retiring Governor-General and the people of Canada was sincerely regretted by the people of this Province. During his term of office Lord Minto strengthened the attachment of the Canadian people to the Empire, and to the principles of Constitutional Government under which we live, and which we so highly prise, alike by the great interest which he manifested in everything relating to and affecting the progress and development of the Dominion, and by the wisdom and statesmanship which distinguished his administration of public affairs.

The part taken by the Countess of Minto, and the interest which she displayed in philanthropic movements, as well as her evident concern for the happiness and comfort of the people, were sources of great satisfaction. Her departure was, therefore, a matter of sincere regret.

A hearty welcome has been extended by the people of Canada to Earl Grey as the successor of the Earl of Minto, and I have every confidence that he will represent His Majesty the King with ability and dignity in every duty that pertains to his great office.

The T. and N. O. Railway.

You will be pleased to learn that the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, as originally planned, has been practically completed, and has for some time been carrying passengers and freight. Owing to the uncertainty of the location of the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and for other reasons, further legislation will be required with reference to this important Provincial work.

The Semi-Ready Sack Suit for Tall Men.

¶ The Semi-ready four-button sack suit is particularly adapted to tall men.

¶ It has the same graceful lines as the three-button sack—the broad natural shoulder, with the collar fitting closely to the shirt collar, and the extreme point practically square, giving a broad-shouldered effect.

¶ The roll of the collar is not quite so long as in the three-button, and the buttons are closer together.

¶ It is an education in men's styles to look over the Spring models now on view at the Semi-ready wardrobes. You are always welcome to look as much as you wish.

Semi-ready Tailoring

Cressman

Among the measures to be submitted for your consideration are: A bill making certain amendments to the education act; a bill relating to the forest reserves act; bills changing the designation respectively of the heads of the Crown Lands Department and the Public Works Department from Commissioner to Minister; a bill to create a Department of Mines, with a Minister at its head; a bill relating to the County Councils act; and a bill amending the Ontario elections act and abolishing the numbering of the ballot.

To Extend Ontario's Boundaries.

A short time ago it was brought to the notice of my Ministers that the Government of the Province of Manitoba had made application to the Dominion Government for the extension of the boundaries of that Province northward to the shore of Hudson Bay, and also that the Federal Government might possibly be willing to divide between and transfer to the contiguous Provinces the territory lying west, south and east of Hudson Bay and James Bay. My Ministers at once put themselves in communication with the Federal Government, and respectfully urged that before the details of any such division of territory should be decided upon, or even considered, the Government of this Province should be allowed to submit for consideration, with reference to such proposed division, its claim to that portion of the territory which the Province might fairly urge should be allotted to it. I am pleased to inform you that a satisfactory answer has been received from the Premier of Canada, and that we are now, perhaps, entitled to hope and expect that a very large portion of the vast territory lying north of the present northern boundary of Ontario, believed to be rich in minerals, and extending to the southerly and westerly shore of Hudson Bay, will be included within the boundaries of our Province.

Electrical Power and Railway Taxation.

The extraordinary possibilities which the future may have in store with reference to electric power are attracting increased attention on the part of both scientific and practical men. The resources of the Province in this respect at Niagara Falls and elsewhere should be carefully husbanded in the interests of the people of Ontario.

The report of the Commission on Railway Taxation will be laid before you. It is to be hoped that, from information derived from this report, and from other sources, the very important matter of railway taxation will receive your attention in the near future.

The public accounts will be laid before you for your consideration at the earliest moment, and the estimates for the coming year will also be submitted to you for your approval at an early date.

TRADE FEDERATION: LABOUR INTERESTS

An Interesting Address by Mr. John A. Flett, General Organizer of American Federation of Labour.

Spoke to Members of Local Trades Unions Last Night —Labour Question Dealt With.

The Question Can be Solved —Necessity for Unions to Promote Interest of Employer and Employee.

A meeting of great interest was held last evening by the Trades and Labour Council in the Foresters' Hall, George street. Word was received yesterday afternoon, that Mr. John A. Flett, general organizer of the American Federation of Labour, would be present to address the meeting. There was not sufficient time to summon a large attendance but there was, nevertheless, a fair representation of the different trades of the town present.

Mr. Flett's address dealt broadly with the labour question, and he emphasized the great necessity for energetic efforts on the part of the central body in creating such conditions as would make the effort of unionism felt, and its beneficial efforts recognized by employers and employees.

Mr. Charles P. Murty, president, was in the chair, and after the business of the council had been concluded he called upon Mr. Flett, at the same time expressing regret that announcement of his arrival could not have been made in time to secure a large attendance.

CAN BE SOLVED.

Mr. Flett considered it a great courtesy to be requested to address the Peterborough Federation on the all absorbing question of labour. For people to say that it could not be solved, was to say that they were growing into savagery. He impressed the need for the greatest possible co-operation among officers and members. He said he had taken an active interest in the building up of federal unions; he had seen some dwindle and become disorganized, and therefore he thought that a practical talk to representative labour men, would be beneficial. During the past twenty-six years he had seen great progress in labour organizations, and had observed where it was possible to improve. It should be thoroughly impressed upon members that the union is not a mutual admiration society, but the business organization of this or that particular craft. By adherence to business principles success would soon be obtained. The lack of thorough organization created many pitfalls, and this had accounted for some defeats in contact with united capital interests. Even though a strike prove unsuccessful, it should have its moral force, which would be undoubtedly appreciated by those brought face to face with it.

AMERICAN FEDERATION.

The national organization practically started with the abolition of slavery, and the international movement had gradually been quickened. The American Federation stood today for the vast body of toilers on the continent, and its influence was world-wide. There were 118 national bodies affiliated with it. Knowing well the causes that led to failure the Federation's policy was such that every organization within it had complete control and autonomy over its trade, and rival organizations and seceders found little encouragement. In short the aim was to protect the different crafts by bringing them under one sound body, and to cement together for effectiveness those organizations which might otherwise tend to injurious rivalry or secession. There was a time when the single employer or corporation had to be faced, and this an easy task compared with the front presented by forces arrayed under modern industrial conditions—such, for instance, as the combination of trusts and corporations, of which Lawson, of "Frenzied Finance" fame, had said, "Within a few years ten men will control all of the industries of the United States." The President, Theodore Roosevelt, in his inaugural address had said, "Jail these men of the Beef Trust, of the Standard Oil Trust, and other concerns!" The nation had, therefore, taken alarm, and the speaker expressed the opinion that the growing tendency was towards the stamping out of this menace to society. The comparison of the forces engaged at the present time was that of a single stalwart against a bank vault. The conditions in some states appeared to be such as to make it a crime for a man to belong to a labour union, and the only aim of some capitalists was the disruption of labour organizations, and the work of Parry and company, was particularly referred to.

CAPITALISTIC TRUST.

The widest difference in the world existed between the objects of the capitalistic trust and the labour organizations. The latter was not a trust in any particular, but sought to benefit mankind. There was no such thing as cornering labour, in the sense used by the trust. There never was an instance where a labour organization denied any man the right to go into a shop declared fair, and there follow his trade. How could there be discipline, how could contracts be performed and pledges kept, if the men were not all members of the organization? If the employers of labour were wise, they would favour trade unions in order that they might obtain the very best class of workmen. Trades unionism had come to stay. It had its beneficial influences, and every member hoped to see his children obtain a better education than he had probably received, and to rear them in good citizenship. To denounce unionism was to denounce the greatest portion of skilled labour in the country.

CHANGE BEING EVOLVED.

The trades unionism of to-day was not the trades unionism of half a century ago. A change was being evolved in industrial and economic conditions. Time was when shoe-makers were a 10-cent-a-week organization; now they were a 25-cent-a-week organization, and their policy was one that stood for the open consideration of questions and arbitration in case of dead-lock. This was an improvement on striking first and arbitrating afterwards, and the speaker looked for the time when these conditions would permeate all organizations.

UNION LABEL.

Trades Unions did not always live up to their standards, and aspersions cast against such inconsistency was not to be wondered at. Instead of the boycott, there was the union label, which was the olive branch between the employer and employee. For years and years a Factories Act had been asked for in order that people working in factories might be protected against sweat-shop conditions, and the existence of the label was evidence to the fact that an article had not been made in a tenement. Patronage should be given to the fair employer rather than to the unscrupulous man. The speaker denounced those concerns which resorted to falsehood in endeavouring to demonstrate that trades unions promoted lawlessness. Such men were villifying good citizens who were only seeking to improve the conditions of labour and ready to give every consideration to the claim of the employer. All this friction might be avoided if men saw eye to eye with each other and were inclined to friendly reasoning. A better feeling and understanding was, however, being brought about and the speaker stated that the accidental meeting of trades organizations and manufacturers in Montreal last summer had given birth to the suggestion, "Come, let us reason together." The invitation had been accepted by the manufacturers and very shortly such a convention as was there proposed would be held. The conviction seemed to be enforcing itself in the States and elsewhere that industrial wars should cease.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP.

Referring to the benefits of labour organization, Mr. Flett pointed to the very large sum expended last year in sick and death claims and asked: "Is it right for any man to deny an employee the privilege of becoming a member?" It was yet to be known where the reduction of labouring hours, effected under organization, had been a hardship to anyone. The workingman needed rest and recreation to bring out the best that is in him. There was no investment that paid as well in dollars as membership with a trades organization, but the trouble with a great many of the latter was that they did not look upon it as a business institution, and hence men did not see that it was of any particular value to them. Education along these lines was necessary and although the number to be educated was large, the policy and platform were progressive. There never was another organization that advocated for the female equal pay for equal work performed. Legislation obtained as applied for had always been for the benefit of non-union as well as union men and the charge of selfishness could not be successfully brought to bear. By heart-to-heart talks among representatives of labour, it was sought to arouse enthusiasm in realizing the importance of the position which they occupied. The best means of exercising such influence was through the Trades and Labour Council, which the speaker styled the Labourers' Board of Trade, interested in the welfare of the entire community.

REASONABLE MEASURES.

The speaker referred to the action whereby the Dominion Congress to secure necessary legislation giving protection to the union label and expressed the hope that the object desired would be obtained. It was not unreasonable to ask that some means of protection of fair employers against unscrupulous ones should have sanction by the Government. Bills in the interests of labour were very often strangled because of the indifference and apathy on the part of labour organizations. The idolatrous worship of party was depicted as one of the influences which hindered the effect of efforts made on behalf of labour. There was no danger from without—the increase in membership last year was 200,000—but the danger was from within. The watchword was Educate! Educate! Educate! For if a man thought right he would act right. Splendid progress was being made all over the country, but a lot remained to be done. Mr. Flett impressed the necessity for greater activity on the part of central bodies, in committee work and otherwise, in order to bring about the most effective organization and knowledge.

An appreciative vote of thanks, moved by Ald. Johnston and seconded by Mr. N. Trombley, was tendered the speaker. The press was the recipient of a similar expression.

THE OPENING WAS A BRILLIANT ONE

Ladies Assert Their "Rights" For One Brief Hour.

Scenes and Personages in Connection with the Opening of the Legislature.

Under our system of Government in the vulgar prosaic work-a-day realm of government and legislature the ladies have no direct share, but their time for shining comes when the pomp of great state ceremonials inaugurate the era of work. For the moment the ladies take the social precedence which courtesy accords them in every day intercourse. This is illustrated strikingly at the opening of the legislature. Anyone who has witnessed one of these brilliant occasions will recollect that the brilliancy proceeds from the prominent share the ladies have in the function. For the hour the ladies hold "Sovereign sway and masterdom." This is illustrated by the following reference to the opening of the Legislature yesterday, made in the Toronto World:—

Nearly all rightful rulers of the people lost their seats to the fair sex. And there were no protests, either. Wives and daughters of Cabinet Ministers pre-empted the swivel chairs of their distinguished partners, and in the space between the right and left sat judges of the high court, foreign consuls, ministers of the Gospel and men learned in the law. The only uniformed representative of a foreign land was Samuel Nordheimer, consul of Germany, resplendent in his uniform. In the place of honour was Mrs. Mortimer Clark, who was as usual accompanied by her two charming daughters. Next sat Mrs. J. P. Whitney. The leader of the "opposition" of the day was Mrs. J. R. Stratton, and on the "left" with her were several of the ladies of the opposition members.

One of the noticeable incidents of the day occurred immediately on the departure of the Lieutenant-Governor and his military attendants. Mrs. Clark rose and crossed before the speaker's dais to grasp the hand of Mrs. Stratton, and the two remained in conversation for several minutes, when Mrs. Clark returned to her place. The example having been set, the ladies and gentlemen mingled in friendly intercourse, the strife and clamour of party politics being forgotten as "Grits" and "Tories" fraternized. During the somewhat drawn out ceremonies the members of the House grouped themselves about the throne.

Even some ex-members, reluctant to withdraw from former haunts, took advantage of the opportunity afforded of once more testing the joy of gathering at the place of the elect. Hon. J. R. Stratton, former Provincial Secretary, smiling and bland, was most conspicuous by his whereabouts, and Hon. N. A. Charlton, former Commissioner of Public Works, but not now a member, effaced from his memory or one brief spell the recollection of his defeat and joined the merry throng. In the little Opposition group were also seen William Rickard, whose jokes will be missed, and J. L. Pardo, who voluntarily retired from politics before the landslide of January 25th. At least one defeated Conservative member was in the Chamber, Mcleod, of Glengarry, who is just now "the man" from that historic riding.

The scene in the chamber was a fit subject for the painter's brush. There has never been so much magnificence on any similar occasion in Ontario.

FIRE YESTERDAY AT DR. ROBINSON'S

Resulted From Spontaneous Combustion—Damage Covered by Insurance

The Fire Brigade's new team has had ample chance to demonstrate their speed during the past few days. They were given two runs yesterday in quick succession. The first was at about 5.15 o'clock when they were called to extinguish a burning chimney at the residence of Mr. Michael Lavery, King street. No damage resulted.

The second summons came about half an hour later when passers-by noticed smoke coming from the upper story of the residence of Dr. Johnson, V.S., Charlotte street, and upon examination the cause was ascertained to be a blaze in the attic which has been in a state of disuse for some time. The blaze was probably caused by spontaneous combustion, as it can be accounted for in no other way.

The brigade arrived on the scene in very quick time and after some little difficulty through the bursting of a section of hose, the brigade soon had the fire under control.

The damage by fire is confined to the upper story though some damage by smoke and water resulted in the rooms below. The loss is estimated at between $400 and $500, fully covered by insurance. This is the doctor's second experience with fire inside of a week's time, having had a small blaze at his livery premises the street on Saturday last.

LENTEN ADDRESSES IN ANGLICAN CHURCHES

Rev. J. S. Broughall and Rev. Wm. C. Allen were the Special Preachers.

ABLE SERMON BY REV. WM. C. ALLEN

Preached at St. Luke's Lenten Service Last Night.

A large congregation attended the third Wednesday evening Lenten service at St. Luke's church, last night. Rev. William Allen, M.A., of Millbrook, preached, taking as his text, St. Matthew ix, 27, 28, and 29.

In opening the speaker spoke of the necessity of following the command given to the young man by our Saviour, in the passages preceding his text. Many of us in the present day, if asked to give up our riches, would turn away as he did. An illustration was then given of the manner in which the books of a mercantile establishment are kept, and the lesson brought home that, in the same manner in which the profits are balanced against the losses, so should we balance the gains in taking up the cross, and denying ourselves against the trials and sufferings entailed. The latter will be trivial indeed when compared with the great gain and glory which come to those who take up the cross, and follow the Master. The reason for the large number of comparatively deserted churches in the present day, is the fact that so many men are unwilling to leave all and follow Christ.

Let us, the preacher exclaimed, in this practical age, examine the gains and losses by studying the examples of all earnest Christians. The life of St. Paul was then mentioned in illustration, and after commenting upon his early life he spoke of the manner in which he gave up all when he became a Christian Apostle. Some of the inestimable benefits which, down to the present day, had resulted from his work, were spoken of. Surely in the case of this Apostle the Scriptural promise of a hundred fold reward was fulfilled!

The preacher then paid a high tribute to a recently departed Canadian—the late E. F. Clarke, whom he described as having not only been every inch a man, but a true and earnest Christian as well. While we reserve his memory because of his eminent intellectual ability, we think still more highly of his high moral characteristics. Wherever there was need of true Christian charity and self-denial he was ever ready to assist and at the end gave his life for the benefit of his fellowmen. What was the inspiration of that grand and self-denying life? It was from the same source from which came the inspiration of the Apostles—it came from the Cross of Jesus Christ.

The same call which went out to St. Paul comes to us in this season of Lent. "Take up your cross and follow Christ." God grant that it may not fall on dull ears and that we may come to the same conclusion as did all the Saints of God, from personal experience, that the losses are insignificant in comparison with the gain.

The preacher closed with a few remarks upon the immeasurable power of our Christian influence.

REV. J. S. BROUGAHLL AT ST. JOHN'S

Lenten Service Last Night Was Largely Attended.

Rev. J. S. Brougahll, M.A., of Toronto, gave the regular Wednesday evening Lenten address in St. John's church last night, a large congregation being in attendance.

He spoke from St. John, 16th chapter, verses 15 and 16: — "All things that the Father hath are mine; therefore, said I, that he shall take of mine and shall show it unto you."

"A little while and ye shall not see me; and again a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father."

The speaker said he desired to say something of real help to all in their daily religious life, and as they did their work in the world. In the understanding of any subject, if we would comprehend it thoroughly, we must understand something of its relationship to the whole. God's plan of redemption was in His mind. His purpose was clear and His work definite. The coming of the Holy Ghost to earth was always in God's mind and part of His plan. All true work has to be done in God and for God by the man who calls himself a Christian. The day of Pentecost had its importance relatively in the divine plan. Think what the physical presence of Christ meant to those around Him on earth—to His disciples—Christ, to whom they could appeal in every doubt and could turn to in their trials and difficulties. He had been labouring among them three and a half years, and to every one of the apostles he had become a dear, close and true friend. These words of sheer uttered by Christ help us through the dark periods of doubt and to bear our daily burden. What has Christ done for us? He has revealed to us our God; He has told us who and what God is. Jesus Christ brings us back to our true relationship, to the atonement, to our Father's home and restores the relationship between God and man.

Christ stands forever as the pattern man. He restores his true relationship, shows us what man really is, and that He is the ideal one. Man is not master of himself, and only has perfect freedom so far as he lives under the great law of his being—yes, in Jesus Christ. Man should try to reach an ideal—to get into right relationship with central truth—with God, and to glorify Him in his daily walk and conversation. Christ was the ideal, the pattern, the true man. Let us become more and more like Him.

BROCK STREET RINK CLOSED

Most Successful Season closed Last Night

A Dividend of Five Per Cent. Has Been Declared—The Mortgage Reduced.

Last night the Brock street rink closed its doors for the season, which has been the most successful in the history of the rink. The rink was open for skaters 124 times during the season, and the receipts were considerably in excess of those of 1903-4. The rink opened on Dec. 12th, the same day it was opened the preceding year, and closed one day earlier. The weather during the past winter has been most satisfactory for making ice, and the occasions have been very rare during the season when there was not good ice for skating.

Mr. Thornbeck, who has been in charge at the rink, has proven himself a most capable man, and was very popular with the rink patrons.

At a recent meeting of the directors a dividend of five per cent. on the capital stock was declared, and is payable on April 1st. In addition to this $1500 was paid off the mortgage, which is $500 more than was paid last year, and the mortgage has now been cut in two.

The lovers of hockey this year have also seen a large number of games, with a double schedule in the three team group, and the three series of games in the first, second and third round in the semi-finals. The Directors also encouraged the establishment of the city league, and granted the teams the use of the rink on advantageous terms.

Mr. Thornbeck will be at the rink until Saturday night at 10 o'clock, to allow those who have skates, etc., there, to take their property away, and also to settle up any small indebtedness that may exist.

During the season a number of improvements have been made to the rink which increases very materially the comfort of its patrons.

THREE CASES AT POLICE COURT

Walter Guy Charged with Non-support of His Family.

Three cases were dealt with this morning at the police court.

Timothy Daly, who was charged with being drunk and disorderly, was discharged.

Thomas Henderson was given six months in gaol for vagrancy.

Walter Guy, who was charged with non-support of his family, was allowed to depart upon condition that he would not thrust his presence upon them during the coming month. The case has been in the hands of the Children's Aid Society for some time. The family, which consists of three little children, two boys and one girl, together with the wife of the prisoner, it appears from the evidence, would have been on many occasions, entirely destitute of provisions if it had not been for the kindness of the neighbours, in supplying food and cash. The prisoner had been engaged in shovelling snow for the corporation, but stated in his evidence that he had resigned from the staff of the city officials in consequence of a generally debilitated physical condition. This, however, did not prevent him coming down town and indulging in the inebriating bowl on several occasions. He was allowed to go on the conditions mentioned above, his wife undertaking to support the children.

Mr. George Cochrane, agent of the Children's Aid Society, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, were present on behalf of the society.

OBITUARY.

Lamented Death of Mrs. McCarthy Which Occurred This Morning.

The death of Mrs. William McCarthy occurred this morning at 12.30, and will be regretted by a large number of friends and acquaintances, by whom she was so favourably known. Many will remember her aid in sickness, her sympathy in trouble, and her kindness to the poor. The funeral will take place from the family residence, 292 Simcoe street, at 9 a.m., on Saturday, 25th inst, to St. Peter's cathedral, and to the Roman Catholic cemetery for interment. No flowers.

SIR WILFRID'S ARGUMENT

Separate Schools in the Territories Should Be Continued Under the Constitution—Hon. W. S. Fielding Discusses the Educational Questions Raised by the Bills—Opposition is Not United.

Ottawa, March 23.—In the House yesterday half an hour was occupied in the presentation of petitions, the only variation from the monotony of "relating to the autonomy bills" being one by Mr. Bennett for an increase of pay for certain landing waiters at Midland. The subject was so foreign to the thoughts uppermost in the hearers' minds that there was a great outburst of laughter. It was not till a quarter to four that the routine business was disposed of and the Premier rose to move the main motion of the day, the second reading of the autonomy bills.

The Premier Speaks Briefly.

It was not expected that Sir Wilfrid would speak at great length, having dealt so amply with the subject when introducing the bills. This was more than realised, his address occupying but thirty-five minutes. The burden of his argument was that clause sixteen of the bill was incorporated in it in accordance with the spirit of the constitution. He denied that there was any alteration in his position on these questions. He was as warm an advocate of Provincial rights as he ever was, and quoted from his own utterances twelve years ago to show this to be the case. The definition of what Provincial rights were was to be found in the constitution and the history of the country. On the constitution he took his stand. Speaking for the party, he said that the ground upon which they stood in the present case was that wherever a system of separate schools exists that system comes into force and is constitutionally entitled to the guarantees which are embodied in section 93 of the British North America Act, and when they introduced section 16 as it is in the bill they had no other intention than to give to the minority the rights and privileges to which they were entitled under the constitution and which they have to-day. With respect to the changes affected in the clause he said they were made to make it clearer if possible that all that was contemplated was to continue the existing educational conditions in the west. He impressed on the House that confederation had only been possible by mutual concessions and compromises, conceded and yielded to achieve one great result, the unity and peace of their common country. He asked them to apply the principles of the constitution in a broad and generous spirit.

On the Constitution Also.

Mr. Borden prefaced his remarks by saying that he did not profess to speak for all the gentlemen on his side of the House. He also took his stand on the constitution. It was not a question of separate schools or no separate schools, but, wholly a constitutional question. He controverted the Premier's interpretation, declaring that the British North America Act neither obliges Parliament to deprive the people of the new Provinces of their control over their educational affairs nor justifies it in interfering. If the constitution applied to the case, what need was there of any clause in the constitutions of the Provinces touching the subject of education? He made the point that at any time during the past thirty years Parliament could have struck out the provisions respecting education, and he declined to assent to the proposition that what it could do at any time during the past thirty years it was powerless to do now. He concluded by moving in amendment to the educational clauses of the autonomy bills:

Mr. Borden's Amendment.

That all the words after the word "that" to the end of the section be left out, and the following substituted therefor:—"Upon the establishment of a Province in the Northwest Territories of Canada, as proposed by bill No. 69, the Legislature of such Province, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the British North America Act, 1867 to 1886, is entitled to and should enjoy full powers of Provincial Government, including powers to exclusively make laws in relation to education."

Mr. Fielding on the Practical Issue.

Mr. Fielding followed the Opposition leader. They would not expect him, he said, to discuss the constitutional aspect of the question. He did not think that the main question. There was a practical side to it. He asked what sort of school were they authorising by this legislation, and answered his question by declaring that the schools, whether called public or separate, were really national schools. The separate school differed not at all from the public school within strictly school hours. Was that something serious enough about which to set the whole country by the ears? He alluded to Mr. Borden twitting the Liberals in regard to their want of unity on the question. He asked were their opponents united about it. Mr. Borden admitted that he thought he could not speak for a united party. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier were defeated on this question what sort of Government could Mr. Borden form on the lines of the speech he had just made? He pictured with the utmost seriousness and even solemnity Dr. Sproule, Mr. Bergeron, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Monk coming to some agreement as to the schools of the Territories. They were dealing with the deepest feelings of 41 per cent. of the people of the Dominion. The country could not be ruled without the spirit of reasonable compromise. Even in Nova Scotia the spirit of compromise had been at work, and in practice the minority had separate schools. Mr. Fielding's speech stirred the Liberals to the utmost enthusiasm and showed the party united on the Government policy.

Dr. Sproule moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. Francis Dagger's Solution of the Telephone Problem—The Bell Rates Are Exorbitant.

Ottawa, March 23.—The special committee on telephone systems began its active work yesterday morning, and made good progress. Mr. Francis Dagger, of Toronto, telephone engineer, was present and gave evidence. The first part of the proceedings was the reading by Sir William Mulock of a report on the subject of telephones, which Mr. Dagger had made for the Postmaster-General in March, 1903.

In discussing the rates in Canada and elsewhere, Mr. Dagger declared that the rates in Canada and in the United States are the highest in the known world, being 100 per cent. higher than in Great Britain. The present rates in Canada, he said, might be cut in two and still leave a satisfactory profit on the working. Mr. Dagger's recommendation for this country were Government ownership and control of the long-distance line and Government control of the local system.

The telegraph system should also be acquired at the same time to prevent the telegraph companies entering the field of competition. He estimated the outside value of the present telegraph and telephone systems in Canada as follows: G. N. W. Telegraph Co., $1,000,000; C. P. R. Telegraph Co., $600,000; Western Union Telegraph Co., $200,000; Bell Telephone Co., $1,500,000. The total is $2,300,000. At the same time he believed the Government could duplicate those lines for much less than the amount stated. Figures were also given to show how cheaply local lines could be constructed.

Best Rule of Health

AND HOW YOU ARE AIDED IN CARRYING IT OUT BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

"A movement of the bowels every day."

This is the fundamental rule of health. The one point on which doctors are unanimous.

But what causes the bowels to become constipated?

The inactivity of the liver.

Bile is nature's own cathartic and so long as the liver is active in its work of filtering bile from the blood and passing it into the intestines, there is no trouble from constipated bowels.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure constipation by setting the liver right.

This is the only means by which the bowels can be regulated.

Salts and castor oil will effect a motion of the bowels, but, once the effects of the dose passes off, you will be more constipated than ever. They fail to set the liver right.

By regulating the liver by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you ensure a healthful action of the bowels, and so prevent and cure scores of ills, such as indigestion, biliousness, constipation, kidney disorders, colds and contagious diseases.

Mrs. H. Trollope, 850 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I have used two boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and found them an excellent medicine. I had very severe pains across the back which came from my kidneys being out of order, and after using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for a time I began to feel a wonderful improvement in my health.

"I have no more pains in my back now, and am feeling as well as ever I did. Consequently, I am glad of an opportunity to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 5

Trampled to Death.

Lindsay, March 22.—On Tuesday evening William Wherry, of Manvers Township, near Fleetwood, was trampled to death by a pair of horses. Mr. Wherry went into a box stall in which a high-spirited driver was kept. A colt followed him in. The driver kicked and knocked Mr. Wherry down, and then both animals trample him until life was extinct. His skull and ribs were broken.

SURFACE STREET DRAINAGE.

A citizen of average intelligence needs no engineering expert to tell him that thorough and efficient drainage is the first essential of permanently good streets. If surface drainage is defective, the foundation of the street becomes infiltrated with water and, of course, the first heavy traffic causes it to collapse and the street, no matter how carefully made, is ruined. This matter has been too much neglected in Peterborough, where, of all places, there is the least excuse for neglect. The natural conformation of the town's surface makes surface drainage of our streets a comparatively easy matter. It only needs a little head work supplemented by a little hand work and a little careful supervision. There are certain portions of certain streets not far from the centre of the town, where, for years, surface drainage has been deficient or totally absent. In these parts the streets are, at wet periods, invariably mudholes. The City of Brantford realizes the necessity of surface drainage, and holds that there can be no model streets till there is adequate surface drainage. The plan proposed there is to have an engineer—Mr. Chipman in this case — investigate and report, to form a basis of action. It is suggested to submit the scheme that will be proposed to the people for approval. The energy shown, if not the means adopted, by the people of Brantford, to secure effective street surface drainage, should be imitated by our own authorities. An enlarged expenditure is proposed on our street work this year, and it is hoped that the greatest care will be exercised that full value is received for any expenditure made. In the past more money has been sunk in our streets, without permanently visible good results, than in almost any other branch of the civic service, and this will continue, so long as the first principle of good street building — a good surface drainage—is neglected. To spend a thousand dollars upon building a stretch of good street, and neglecting efficient surface drainage that might be done for $10, is mighty poor economy.

WIDENING SLEIGHS.

A news paragraph says:

A communication from Mr. W. E. White, of Brockville, to the Royal Humane Society, has been forwarded to Mr. A. W. Campbell, Deputy Minister of Public Works, making complaint of the narrowness of sleighs. The reason for the objection is that horses are unable to keep in the track without crowding and injuring themselves in various ways. The statement is made that while the legal width of a sleigh is 3 feet 4 inches the manufacturers have been making them narrower year by year, until now the average width is from 2 feet 8 inches to 3 feet.

This is something quite worthy of attention. A winter with deep snow very forcibly emphasizes this. In addition to the argument that horses crowd and injure each other in a narrow track, is the fact that the narrower track, bordered by deep snow, is a far greater source of suffering and loss. There are many instances where horses have stepped from the beaten track, and plunged into the deep snow, with the result of broken legs, or frightful lacerations with the caulk of winter shoes, which came from the struggles of the animals. Several instances of this kind have this winter come to the knowledge of the Examiner. Even at this late period of the season, there are country roads where, if a horse steps from the beaten path, he sinks into deep snow, with the danger of broken legs. Last season there was a bill before the Legislature, to provide for widening sleighs, but it was not passed into law. It seems difficult to get legislators to take practical views of practical questions, especially where there is no chance for making political capital. The breaking of a horse's leg involves far more suffering than the same mishap in a man. The man has reason to lead him to keep quiet, and submit quietly to treatment, whereas a horse thrashes about, and intensifies the evil, and, in the majority of cases, after frightful suffering, has to be shot. One would think that prevention of such suffering would appeal to our law makers, but it doesn't. They will tear their hair over some question like the numbered ballot, which is a party question, and capable of yielding party capital, but something of vital importance is thrust aside.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Whitney illustrates his idea of Government ownership and operation of public utilities, by recasting the Temiscamingue Railway Commission, and constituting it of good "Tories," and his idea of economy by increasing the salary of the chairman from $1000 to $3000.

While Peterborough has, temporarily, at least, decided against the appointment of an Assessment Commissioner, Brantford is contemplating the appointment of such an official, and it is proposed to combine the new office with that of tax collector. At present Brantford has two assessors.

THE MEANING OF HIGHER SUGAR

How it Cuts Into the Housekeeper's Domestic Allowance

The Causes Behind an Advance in Sugar Prices.

Have you ever thought of what the increased price of sugar means to the people of this country? Has it not sometimes occurred to you that it is odd that while we are cheerfully taxing ourselves to protect our sugar men, and paying bounties to develop beet-growing and encourage the manufacture of beet sugar the price should go up steadily, till the 50-cent package your wife brings home appears to be very much like the 25-cent package of a few years ago?

Sugar is an article of prime household necessity. We Canadians use much sugar. Our ration is about 88 lbs. per capita, the rate is about the same as in the United States. In 1904 we consumed somewhat over 400,000,000 lbs. The increase of about 2 cents a pound in the price of the sugar cost the consumers the trifle of $8,000,000. It was so much taken out of the pockets of the earners; it was a tax no one could escape.

The people in the United States in 1902 consumed 5,132,000,000 lbs. of sugar, costing $320,940,000. Last year the consumption reached 5,500,000,000 lbs., costing $324,000,000. The increase in price cost the United States consumer something like $56,500,000.

These are large figures. They cut into the earnings of the masses. But don't blame your grocer; he can't help it. He is as much as you at the mercy of conditions—and the sugar barons.

We are not the only people who have to pay dearly for our sweets. Great Britain three years ago bought sugar at 3 cents; to-day little is sold below five cents. The sugar trade is well organized, and it takes its toll, but the increase is not all due to combines. The world's sugar supply of late year is thus stated:—

	Tons
1901-02	12,050,000
1902-03	11,958,000
1903-04	12,446,000

These are the figures of supply, not of crop; part of the crop of one year is carried into the next. At the close of the season of 1902-03 the market held a surplus stock of a little more than 2,000,000 tons. During the period 1903-03, prices fell, and the consumer got cheap sugar. Then the Brussels convention put a stop to European countries taxing their people to pay bounties on export sugar. The German beet industry suffered, home consumption in Europe increased greatly, and production of beet sugar, both by reason of adverse crop conditions and reduced area of planting, has notably lessened. Authorities on the subject state that the consumption of last year absorbed both the crop of the year and the accumulated surplus. The United States and Canadian refiners have been making money. Our Canadian beet sugar ventures, however, have not been over-prosperous—perhaps because of the high cost of labour in beet-growing. Meantime the Canadian housewife glances ruefully at her small package of sugar and vows that she does not see why Britain was so eager to make the foreigners stop taxing their own people to give us cheap sugar. She is sure it was a far more agreeable thing—to us—han to tax Canadians to make sugar dear.—Hamilton Times.

OLD RESIDENT OF DUMMER DEAD

Mr. Geo. Little Passed Away at Age of Ninety Years.

By the death of Mr. George Little, which occurred on Monday, March 6th, the Township of Dummer lost one of its oldest and most respected residents. He had lived in the township for half a century, having come there from Ireland, where he was born. He had lived in Dummer ever since his arrival in Canada, and saw this section of the County reclaimed from the virgin forest. Deceased was ailing for about two years but he was only confined to his bed for two days preceding his death, which was due to old age, as he had reached the advanced age of 90 years and seven months. His wife, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Matthew, and who, is fifteen years his junior is left to mourn his loss, as are the members of a family of two daughters and six sons, viz., Mrs. J. Wright, Young's Point, and Mrs. Jacob Sidders, Otonabee, and Messrs. William Henry, James, John George, Hugh and Robert, all being near home.

The funeral, which was attended by a large number of the friends of the deceased, took place on Wednesday, March 8th, to the Warsaw Cemetery, service being performed by the pastor of the church with which the deceased was identified, Rev. Mr. McQuade, of Warsaw Methodist Church.

Lenten Fare.

Fresh-caught trout and white fish, mountain trout, halibut, sea salmon, fresh haddock, fresh sea herring, smelts, tomcods and a full supply of smoked and salt fish. Also our popular deep sea oysters will be in stock, fresh and prime, during Lent. S. A. OKE, 376 George street. Telephone 18.

Mr. D. McFarlane, local agent for the McCormick Co., has received a stock of handsome buggies manufactured by the Palmerston Carriage Co., these rigs are all up to date, and show some of the latest wrinkles in the art of carriage building.

On Tuesday morning quite a number of young men from this locality left to try their fortunes in the Great West. Among the number were Messrs. Marsh Weir, Archie Renwick, Russel Drummond, Wm. Dixon, Wm. Hope.

We are pleased to see Mr. W. D. Laing out again after his serious illness.

Messrs. J. C. and Wm. Read went to Toronto on Tuesday.

Mr. C. Bell, Sr., is spending a few days with his father in Port Hope. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lilian.

Mr. E. Foley returned on Monday from a visit with Peterborough friends.

Mr. Wm. Cleary and family are moving from the village this week to the farm he recently purchased in Asphodel.

The township council held its regular monthly meeting on Monday.

The annual skaters' assembly in the town hall on the evening of March 17th was a very enjoyable event. There were about 60 young people present. McFarlane and Miller supplied good music and Mr. D. Kennedy was floor manager.

WARSAW CHANGES IN REAL ESTATE

Rev. C. A. Campbell Will Deliver Address at Anniversary Services of Presbyterian Church.

(Special to the Examiner).

Warsaw, March 22.—Mr. H. A. Moore was in the village on Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Gardener and daughter, of Peterborough, were visiting at the home of Mr. Joseph Edwards on Monday of last week.

Mr. John A. Lumsden, of Peterborough spent the week's end visiting friends in this vicinity.

A great many changes in real estate have taken place in this vicinity recently. Among those who have changed their place of residence are, Mr. Geo. Ray, to Lakefield; Mr. W. E. Kidd, to Peterborough; Mr. Geo. Taylor, to this village; Mr. Albert Cooper, to Mr. Ray's farm; Mr. John Rose, to Mr. Kidd's farm; Mr. John Darling, to Mr. Rose's farm; Mr. H. S. Bell, to Mr. Darling's farm; Mr. R. P. Payne, to Mr. Taylor's farm; Mr. R. H. Thompson, to the house occupied by Mr. Edward Wotley; Mr. Ed. McDonald, to the farm lately occupied by Mr. A. Cooper.

Mr. Aleck Watts, who is suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia is reported past the danger point, and progressing favourably towards recovery. The Court Warsaw C. O. F. secured the services of a trained nurse to attend him and it is thought that if nothing serious develops in the form of a relapse, he will be about again shortly. Mrs. Watts is also very ill but it is thought nothing of a serious nature.

The anniversary services of the Presbyterian Church will be held on Sunday next, March 26. Services at 11.00 a. m. and 7.00 p. m., conducted by Rev. C. A. Campbell, B. A., of Lakefield. On Monday following an oyster supper will be served in the town hall, followed by an entertainment in the church, consisting of 2 lectures "Cuba and the Cubans" by Rev. Mr. Campbell, also short addresses by J. M. Whitelaw, B. D., of Omemee, and local Ministers.

It is with many regrets that we record the demise of Ellen, a valuable dog belonging to one of our citizens. Her ancestors come from Erins Isle and owing to a shortage of Castor Isle, she has gone to the Happy Hunting Grounds.

NEW SHAPES AND STYLES

The success of this exhibition of clever artistic headwear, alone depends upon the public.

Each year, while we are taking advantage of each and every opportunity to keep in closest touch with foreign fashion centres, we are asked to draw upon the originality of our own Millinery artists, Our trimmers have visited the various centres of style and are modelling after the arts of Paris and New York, creating the daintiest and most catchy designs.

Ladies love exclusiveness and individuality, in fact, are yearly becoming more insistent in those respects, which accounts greatly for our increased prestige in the Millinery trade.

We're nothing, if not up-to-date, and it is not how much we can value a Hat but the value we can give you at the Price.

We extend an invitation to each Lady to visit our Millinery Display Room on the 2nd Floor, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Store open Thursday evening from 7 to 9.30 p. m.

P. S.—Each Department will take on their Spring appearance. A display of Novelties in Dress Goods, Linens, Wash Fabrics. Hosiery and Gloves on the main floor. 2nd floor Display of Spring Jackets, Shirt Waist Suits, Skirts, Waists, Carpets and Curtains.

An opportunity to see the Furnished Bedroom illuminated—every lady delighted who sees it.

DRAWING ROOM BIBLE READING

Third of the Series Was Held This Morning.

The third series of Drawing Room Bible readings was held this morning at the residence of Mr. D. Hughes Charles ,when Rev. E. A. Langfeldt spoke on the "Message to the Church of Pergamos." Next Thursday Rev. Dr. Crothers will give the address. The attendance at the meeting this morning was large and the interest is growing.

A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Rev. Mr. Crothers expressed a wish last evening that we had more men in the community of Rev. Mr. Langfeldt's "courage".

Would it be that the reverend gentleman became possessed of this quintessence of courage on account of his "Life in the German Army"? If "Life in the German Army" is so pregnant with courageous results, would it not be well if Mr. Langfeldt delivered his lecture "Life in the German Army" about sixteen times more and then everyone would have the courage of the man who spent his "Life in the German Army"?

Yours, etc.,

LIMBERGER.

This is Sugar Weather.

This will likely be a good season for sap running and sugar making, and it may be stated a hard time for fall wheat on account of the long-continued frosty nights and warm, sunshiny days.

MARKET TOLLS BROUGHT $1320

Highest Price Reached in a Number of Years

Mr. James B. Brown was the Successful Bidder.

This morning at 11 o'clock the market tolls for the year were sold by auction, the successful bidder being Mr. James B. Brown, who bid $1320, and had it knocked down to him at that price. This is the highest price obtained in a number of years, and is an indication that the bidders at least thought that the market was being more largely attended, and that as a consequence the tolls were a more valuable asset. The price paid was an increase of $320 over that of last year, which, however, was considered very low.

For the last four years the prices received have been:—

1901—$1300.
1902—$1270.
1903—$1020.
1904—$1000.

During the last year it has been noticed that the market was patronized by an increasing number of traders, and it is hoped that this will continue in the future, until Peterborough market regains the place which it once held.

There were three bidders this morning, viz., Messrs. J. A. Wood, James B. Brown and Thos. J. Lee, who was the successful bidder last year.

Mr. Stapleton was the auctioneer, and before the sale Mr. E. H. D. Hall explained, in answer to a question from one of the bidders, that in a conversation with Mr. J. H. Larmouth he had learned that there was only a very slight probability of the street railway running on Water street as the company recognized that it would practically ruin the market. The probability was, according to Mr. Larmouth, that if any extensions were made, the George street line would be double tracked, and this is a probability of the near future.

There was some spirited bidding among the three men who were after the privilege, the first bid being $1,000 by Mr. Brown. Mr. Lee, the owner of the tolls last year, only made one bid, $1210.

The bids made by the respective bidders were:—

Brown—$1000, $1200, $1230, $1250, $1270, $1300, $1320.
Wood—$1100, $1220, $1240, $1260, $1280, $1310.
Lee—$1210.

Mr. Brown is a farmer residing in North Monaghan, and is a man who should fill the duties of the position to general satisfaction. He will have charge of the market from April 1st.

MORE GOOD MUSIC FOR PETERBOROUGH

Mr. Walter Stocker Proposes to Bring Dale's Famous English Opera Singers Here.

Mr. Frederic Dale and his celebrated English opera singers, will, if a guarantee list, sufficient to warrant the enterprise, is secured, appear in Peterborough in the near future. This splendid high-class musical organization, which appears in a novel musical and humorous costume entertainment,and in gems from the light operas, has recently landed in Canada, and gave their first entertainment in Halifax on March 2nd where a great hit was made. Mr. W. Stocker, whose interest in providing good music has heretofore won the gratitude of the citizens, is moving in the matter.

BENEFIT SOCIETY IS SUCCESSFUL

Semi-annual Meeting of C. G. E. Benefit Society Held

Surplus of $120 on half Year's Business —Membership Now 606.

Last night the semi-annual meeting of the Canadian General Electric Employees' Mutual Benefit Society was held in the Labour Hall, Water street, when the statement of the finances for the last half year was presented, and the showing made was most satisfactory.

During the last six months the society has operated at a profit of over $120, and when the low fees and the high benefits paid are considered, this showing is a remarkably good one, and gives evidence of the fact that the affairs of the society are being managed on a business-like basis.

The meeting last night was not largely attended, but those who were present were deeply interested in the welfare of the society, and serious consideration was given to every matter effecting its interests.

Mr. W. Hill, the president of the Society, was in the chair, and after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, by the secretary, the semi-annual financial statement was presented as follows:—

(WILLIAM HILL,
President.
R. E. LAYFIELD,
Treasurer.

We have examined all books, papers and vouchers and find them correct.

R. E. HARDING,
W. S. ROBINSON,
Auditors.

The report, which was a most satisfactory one, was adopted on motion.

A motion of motion made by Mr. Joyce in the regular form a month ago to the effect that he would move at the semi-annual meeting to request the General Manager of the Company to instruct that all men upon becoming employees of the company, become members of the society automatically, but that if any persons desire to withdraw from such membership they may do so.

Mr. Joyce, who spoke on the motion at some length, pointed out that in a large department, such as that with which he was connected, it was a hardship upon the representatives to have to canvass every new employee of the company for membership, and he thought that no injury would be done by enrolling all new employees in the society and if anyone felt that he was carrying all the sick benefits he wished, he could withdraw from the society.

This motion caused considerable discussion, the opinion of several of the members being that it would be useless to ask the General Manager to take this action, since he would probably not care to make this a condition of becoming an employee.

The motion, however, was passed, and a committee was named by the president to interview the General Superintendent and present the views of the society.

Other matters affecting the society were discussed, and it was decided to pay the family of the late Mr. Gillies, the death benefit of $30.

A committee was also appointed to prepare some clauses amending the bylaws in some minor particulars, and a meeting will be called later to consider them.

The Secretary of the Society, Mr. Shannon, came in for some commendation for his splendid service, and as an evidence of the appreciation of the society his salary was raised to $60.00 per year, or at the rate of 10 cents per capita.

The total membership of the society is now 606, which is a good representation of the entire pay list of the company.

PRETTY WEDDING IN FIFTH WARD

Miss Lillie May Distin Married to Mr. George Ward.

Last night at the residence of Mr. Thomas Distin, Roger street, north, the wedding of his daughter, Lillie May, to Mr. George Ward, of Thurlow township was solemnized.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. Scott, pastor of Murray street Baptist church, in the presence of only the immediate friends of the bride and groom, who were unattended.

The wedding took place at six o'clock, and after the nuptial knot had been tied, a dainty dejeuner was served, participated in by the guests, and afterwards the happy couple left on the 9 o'clock G.T.R. train for a trip to the west, after which they will return to their new home.

"WANDERERS" ARE IN LINE

Will Again Place a Team in Midland League

This was Decided at at a Meeting Last Night—The Officers.

A very interesting meeting was held at the Y.M.C.A. last night when the Old Country Wanderers Football team reorganized for the coming season.

The prospects for this season are extremely bright and the Wanderers will be re-inforced by the addition of several new players.

The following officers were elected:—

President—William Hamilton.

Vice-President—R. H. Jackson.

Secretary-Treasurer—R. Butler.

Manager—A. Henderson.

Committee of Management—A. Henderson, H. Butler, G. Dixon, T. B. Hawkins, D. Evans.

Messrs. H. Butler and J. Lyon were appointed as representatives to attend the organization meeting of the Midland Football League on Saturday, March 25th.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday evening, March 29th, at 8 o'clock at which all old members and anyone wishing to become connected with the team are particularly requested to be present.

HOCKEY.

All the members of the West End hockey team are requested to be in uniform at Whiten's photograph studio on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A fast game of hockey was played on the Brock street rink Saturday night when the Beavers defeated the Aberdeens by the score of 5-2. We see that the Aberdeens challenge any team in town, but the opinion is expressed that they ought to organize a football team as they were beaten five times already.

GAS KILLS TWO.

One Case of Suicide; Other May Have Been an Accident.

Toronto, March 22.—When the room of George Grier at 118 D'Arcy street, was entered yesterday morning by Mrs. Gallagher, the landlady, he was found lying dead on the bed. He had not undressed. The gas was turned on, and the stovepipe hole and door cracks were plugged. Deceased was 60 years of age. At one time he was employed by the Toronto General Trust Co. Lately he has been an agent for the Royal Insurance Co. He leaves a wife, son and daughter.

At the age of 70 Thomas Reid, a well-known character, who has hung around St. Lawrence Market, was found dead in a room in the Imperial Hotel at 52 Jarvis street. The gas was on full. He had not been noticed around since Monday night.

Earthquake Stirs Vesuvius.

Naples, March 22.—Mount Vesuvius is again in eruption, and is throwing out burning lava, red-hot stones, and a high column of smoke, while detonations are heard at long distances. The eruption is attributed to an earthquake, which was felt for 80 miles.

Winnipeg Printers Strike.

Winnipeg, March 23.—The union job printers of this city, numbering over a hundred went on strike at noon yesterday. The men demanded an increase from $18 to $20 per week, which their employers refused.

Don Quixote's House Burned.

New York, March 23.—A Madrid despatch says: It is reported from Argamasilla that the house in which Cervantes wrote "Don Quixote" while he was kept in confinement has been destroyed by fire.

EFFECTS OF SUN SPOTS.

New Discovery of a Greenwich Astronomer—Magnetic Streams Travel Through Space to Us.

At a recent meeting of the British Astronomical Association, Mr. E. Walter Maunder of Greenwich Observatory described a discovery he had made with regard to the relation between sun spots and magnetic disturbances on the earth, which promises greatly to advance our knowledge of the mysterious interior of the sun, and to help in the settlement of other obscure points in solar physics.

"Magnetic storm" is a sudden disturbance in that mysterious flow of influence round the surface of our globe, which causes the mariner's compass to point north and south. Sometimes the needles all over the world seem to receive a sudden twitch or jerk, which sets them oscillating violently, and for hours, or even days, they behave in a most hysterical fashion, and swing about as if they are mad before settling down and pointing to the north again. These "invisible storms" or commotions have nothing to do with the weather, which may be fair or foul, but sometimes they make telegraphic communication impossible, and even affect our electric trams and lighting. Occasionally a brilliant display of the aurora borealis shows that something unusual is occurring in the heavens.

Effect of Sun Spots.

For long it has been more than suspected that sun spots have something to do with magnetic storms, but no one could quite trace the connection. Sometimes we had big sun spots and no magnetic storms, sometimes vice-versa. Lord Kelvin, a dozen years ago, said what looked like the last word on the subject. He declared that there could be no casual relation between the two phenomena. Reasoning a priori, he pointed out that as any magnetic influence from the sun must, in the nature of things, radiate in all directions, like light and heat, the influence of the sun spots on the magnetic needle here might wax and wane, but could not arrive with the sudden twitch characteristic of the "magnetic storm."

In substance, Mr. Maunder's theory is that the force which suddenly agitates the earth is not a radiation at all, but a stream of attenuated matter, like a comet's tail, or of electrically charged particles, shot out from the sun spot like a geyser or the water from a fireman's hose. Flying upward from the surface of the spinning sun, this "stream" rushes out into space in the form of a great Catherine wheel, or invisible watchspring spiral. When the stream happens to strike the earth, we see the aerial fireworks in the upper air overhanging the pole of this earth-magnet of ours, and our compasses and telegraph needles jump with excitement. Thus Lord Kelvin's reasoning is correct, but does not apply to the present set of phenomena.

In Regular Periods.

We have given Mr. Maunder's conclusion; now for his method. He carefully marked out the time of hundreds of magnetic storms, and found that some corresponded with big sun spots and some did not. In vain he tried to find a correspondence with the faculae, or flecks of boiling fire on the sun's surface, and with the "prominences." At last he noticed that there was frequently a series of magnetic storms at intervals of 27 1-3 days. Sometimes there was no storm at the end of this period, but the storm was repeated after exactly two or three of such intervals. Now, this time—27 1-3 days—is just the time taken for a point on the sun to go one round and appear opposite the earth again. It is the rotation period of the sun as viewed from our moving planet.

In this remarkable discovery, Mr. Maunder found explanations of many difficulties. The storm arrives generally about 26 hours after the sun spot points fairly and squarely at us. Presumably that is the time taken by the stream of uprushing particles to reach this planet. But though the storm comes again and again after the sun spot vanishes, it is generally just at the time when the place where the sun spot was is passing us. The sun spot has gone, but the stream of magnetic commotion is still flying out from the same point on the sun's surface.

More than this, and still more remarkable. There are certain favorite points on the sun for these sun spots and the magnetic streams which continue after they have vanished. A point on the 222nd degree of the sun's longitude is a centre of such disturbances, and magnetic storms constantly arrive when this point faces the earth. This fact points to definite permanent structure in the sun. It cannot be merely a churning mass of fire if it has volcanic regions which never change their situation.

Mr. Maunder concluded this most interesting and suggestive lecture by showing eclipse photographs by Mrs. Maunder and others, in which the long rays of the sun's corona and the outsweeping waves of light from whose crest they appeared to be flung off, were certainly analogous to the "stream lines" of magnetic force, or particles which he suggests as the origin of terrestrial disturbance.

Young Rescius.

One of the strangest figures of the British stage was Young Rescius. His other name was William Henry West Betty. He lived until Aug. 24, 1874, although he had made his last stage appearance on Aug. 9, 1824, at the age of thirty-two. Theatrical history has no parallel to his childhood. It was this little Irish boy who after seeing Mrs. Siddons had declared that he must die if he did not become an actor. He took Belfast by storm in 1803, when not quite twelve, and nearly stifled scores of Londoners on Dec. 1, 1804. Foot guards and officers were overpowered by the crowd, and gentlemen charged through the boxes and jumped by twenties into the "pit" for places. Master Betty brought £36,050 to Drury Lane in twenty-eight nights. William Pitt adjourned the house of commons to let members see him as Hamlet, and his boom lasted until 1808. His adult return to the stage was brief and a failure.

Buys H., G. & B. Railway.

Hamilton, March 23.—The Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway has changed hands again. The Hamilton-Cataract Power, Light and Traction Co. is the new owner. All the details have not yet been arranged, but it is only a matter of a few days. The annual meeting of the shareholders was held yesterday afternoon. At the meeting five members of the Cataract Power Co. were elected as directors.

THINGS ARE DIFFERENT.

Naval World Not Like That of Fifteen Years Ago.

London, March 23.—In the House of Lords last evening the naval expenditure was lengthily discussed on the call of the Liberal leader, Earl Spencer, for papers regarding the naval program. He said he did not desire to condemn the Government, but he wanted an explanation of the plans involving the withdrawal of such a large number of vessels from the list of those which could be commissioned for active service, and the reasons for the increased expenditure since 1894-1905.

Viscount Goschen, former first Lord of the Admiralty, justified the vast increase in the last fifteen years. He said the two power standard was no longer applicable.

Lord Selborne, the First Lord of the Admiralty, said the increased expenditure was due to the fact that the whole naval aspect of the world east and west had changed within the last 15 years. New navies had sprung up. Russia recent had suffered great losses, but the Japanese fleet and the German navy had become factors, and the great French navy maintained its efficiency. Great Britain was not forcing the pace in shipbuilding.

At Lord Selborne's request Lord Spencer withdrew his motion for papers.

AGREEMENT BY VENEZUELA.

British and German Claimants Given Substantial Guarantee.

London, March 23.—At the office of the council of foreign bondholders the Associated Press was informed yesterday that an agreement between the Venesuelan Government and the British and German bondholders adjusting and consolidating the exterior debt (about $28,600,000), will be signed to-day, the details having been concluded to the satisfaction of both parties.

The guarantees comprise considerably more than fifty per cent. of the customs duties of all ports except La Guaira and Puerto Cabella, but the officials declined to give the exact figure.

Surprise was expressed at the despatches from Washington intimating that the American minister at Caracas, was seeking to prevent the ratification of the agreement, which the council of foreign bondholders contends is entirely in accord with the Washington protocol.

The British and the German Foreign Offices have been consulted, and agree that the bondholders are entirely within their rights and the provisions of the protocol.

Railway Wreck Near Port Hope.

Port Hope, March 23.—A serious wreck on the Midland division was narrowly averted here yesterday morning. As the mixed train from Lindsay was nearing the town, a brake beam broke, throwing three cars over the embankment on to the ice in the river. Some of the grain and flour in the cars was damaged. If it had not been for the thick ice at this place, the whole train would undoubtedly have been thrown into the river.

Died From Natural Causes.

Hamilton, March 23.—The inquest on the death of the child of Martha Adams and William Marshall was concluded last evening at Dundas. This was the verdict: "From the evidence before us, there is nothing to show that the child died from any other than natural causes." Marshall will have to appear before the Mayor of Dundas to-day on a serious charge. His stepdaughter is not yet 14 years of age.

Between 60 and 75 Die.

Brockton, Mass., March 23.—City Marshal Boyden, after examining the pay-roll of the R. B. Grover shoe factory yesterday, estimated the number killed by Monday's explosion and fire at between 60 and 75. The factory books showed 460 employes enrolled, and 92 of these had not reported as having escaped up to 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Pure Bred Stock Sale.

Guelph, March 23.—The second annual pure bred stock sale under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture, the Live Stock Association of Ontario and the Guelph Fat Stock Club, was held in the Winter Fair Building yesterday and was a success. Bidding was rather slack, and prices on the whole were low. The highest price paid was $250.

Germany Wants French Friendship.

London, March 23.—The Daily Chronicle this morning claims to have the authority of the German embassy at London for stating that Germany is anxious for a reconciliation with France, and that Emperor William is desirous of getting on terms of closest friendship with the French Government.

Murder Trial On.

Ottawa, March 23.—The trial of Hugh McMillan, the young shantyman of Montmagny, Labelle County, was started at the Hull Assizes yesterday. McMillan is charged with the murder of Oscar Lausson, another shantyman, in a drunken brawl on November 23 last.

DEAD NUMBER 55.

Sixteen Identified Victims of the Brockton, Mass., Fire.

Brockton, Mass., March 23.—Fifty-five dead, sixteen identified, forty-eight missing and 356 employes of the factory accounted for, is, in brief, last night, the situation following Monday's mill catastrophe. For the first time since the fatal explosion razed the shoe factory of R. B. Grover & Co. the city seemed yesterday to fully realise the enormity of the calamity. This has been brought about by the positive identification, by bits of clothing, or otherwise, of several bodies, and the failure to return home of those who, had they survived, must have before sought their friends.

Senate and Railway Passes.

Ottawa, March 22.—For a couple of hours yesterday afternoon the Senate wrestled with the bill to amend the railway act in regard to the free transportation of members of Parliament. The object of the bill is to abolish passes and to require railways to carry members on presentation of a certificate signed by the Clerk of the House. The Senators seemed to be about evenly divided as to the merits of the bill. After a long discussion the committee rose and reported progress. The Murphy divorce bill was read a third time on division and passed.

Discussing Indian Affairs.

Mr. F. Pedley, of Ottawa, Assistant Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, was in conference with Hon. J. J. Foy yesterday morning in regard to the respective responsibilities of the Province and the Dominion of Canada toward the Indians of Ontario. The dispute is a matter of long standing, but it is hoped to reach a basis soon upon which a definite and satisfactory settlement can be arrived at.

$3,000 For Girl's Death.

Berlin, March 21.—The spring Assises opened yesterday before Justice Britton. In the case of Catherine Renwick v. the Galt, Preston & Hespeler Street Railway Co., for $5,000 damages, owing to the death of the plaintiff's daughter, Annie Renwick, in an accident at Pattinson's Cut, Preston, the jury awarded the plaintiff $3,000. George Lynch Staunton for plaintiff, E. DuVernet for the defence. In connection with this fatality, John Myers, motorman on the car which killed Annie Renwick, will be arraigned on a charge of manslaughter to-day.

Nearly Burns to Death.

Winnipeg, March 22.—The wife of Allen Holshian, a farmer of Rapid River district, was badly burned yesterday and may die of her injuries. The house took fire while Mr. Holshian was tarring the roof. He endeavored to check the flames, but could save nothing, and found his wife unconscious in one of the rooms. Her clothing was ablaze, and it was with much difficulty he rescued her.

G. T. P. Bonds.

London, March 22.—The Canadian Associated Press understands that the 3 per cent. bonds of the Grand Trunk Pacific, guaranteed by the Canadian Government, will shortly be issued in the London market, probably through Messrs. Rothschild. The amounts are to cover 75 per cent. of the cost of the line between Winnipeg and the Pacific coast, and the price of the bonds will be about 95.

KIDNEY TROUBLES OF WOMEN.

Thousands of women suffer from backache and kindred kidney ills.

There is no need for any woman to be ailing for an instant. There is a sure and positive cure in

DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE-KIDNEY TABLETS.

There is no one more to be pitied than the woman who has to drag through the day's work suffering from a terrible ache in the back, a darting pain between the shoulders, a heavy dragging pain in the loins, or a persistent headache that will not let up for an instant.

More than three-fourths of the sufferings of womankind come from disordered kidneys and poisoned blood—not from so-called "female troubles."

Get the kidneys acting right—have them filter the poisons from the blood and pains and aches flee and good health returns.

Here is a statement from Mrs. W. J. Smith, Smith's Falls, Ont., a woman who knows whereof she speaks:

"I believe Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets did me more good than any remedy I ever used. My kidneys and back caused me much misery, but the Tablets promptly relieved me. I gave them to my little girl for weakness of the kidneys and the results were satisfactory. My mother also has used them and thinks there was never a kidney medicine to equal them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets are small, chocolate-coated and easily taken. Price 50c. a bottle of 50 Tablets, at druggists or by mail. The Dr. Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Heart's Highway

... By ...

MARY E. WILKINS

Copyright, 1900, by DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

My imagination has always been a mighty factor in my estimation of the characters of others, and I have often wondered how true to facts I might be, but verily it seemed to me that after Madam Cavendish arrived at Cavendish Court the influence of that great strength of character which when it exists in a woman intimidates every man, no matter who he may be, made itself evident in the very king's highway approaching Cavendish Court, and increased as the distance diminished, according to some of my mathematical rules.

There were in her no change and shifting to new lights of beauty or otherwise at the estimation of those around her; she rather controlled, as it were, all the domestic winds. Captain Cavendish bowed before his superior on his own deck, though I believe there was much love betwixt them, and as for the little maid, she tempered the willfulness which was then growing with her growth by outward meekness at least.

I used to think her somewhat afraid of her grandmother and disposed to cling for protection and mother love to her elder sister, Catherine. Catherine in those two years had blossomed out her beauty. Her sallowness and green pallor had become bloom, though not rosy, rather an ineffable clear white like a lily. Her eyes, at once shy and antagonistic, had become as steady as stars in their estimation of self and others, and all her slender height was as well in her power of graceful guidance as the height of a young oak tree.

Catherine in those days paid very little heed to me, for her one year of superior age seemed then threefold to both of us, except as she was jealously watchful that I win not too much of the love of her little sister. I have never seen such love from elder to younger as there was from Catherine Cavendish to her half sister Mary after the little one had lost her mother. And all that the little maid did, whether of work or play, was with an eye toward the other's approbation, especially after the advent of her grandmother.

Catherine had lovers, but she would have none of them. It seemed as if the maternal love of which most maids feel the unknown and unspelled yearning, and which perchance may draw them all unwittingly to wedlock, had seized upon Catherine Cavendish, and she had, as it were, fulfilled it by proxy by this love of her young sister and so had her heart made cold toward all lovers. So that as it may, though she was much sought after by more than one of high degree, she remained as she was.

For the last part of my stay at Cambridge I saw but little of her and not so much as I would fain have done of her sister. I was past the boyish liberty of lying in wait in the park for a glimpse of her; she was not of an age for me to pay my court, and there was little intimacy between my mother and Madam Cavendish. But I can truly say that never for one minute did I lose the consciousness of her in the world with me, and that at a time when my love might well be a somewhat anomalous and sexless thing, since she was grown a little past my first conception of love toward her and had not yet reached my second.

But oh, the glimpses I used to catch of her at that time, slim legged and swift, and shrilly sweet of voice as a lark and as shyly a-flutter at the motion of a hand toward her, or else seated prim as any grown maiden, with grave eyes of attention upon her task of sampler or linen stitching!

My heart used to leap in a fashion that none would have believed nor understood at the blue gleam of her gown and the gold gleam of her little head through the trees of the park or through the oaken shadows of the hall at Cavendish Court during my scant visits there. No maid of my own age drew for one moment my heart away from her. She had no rivals except my books, for I was ever an eager scholar, though it might have been otherwise had the state of the country been different. I can imagine that I might in some severe stress have had my mind, being a hot headed youth, diverted by the feel of the sword hilt. But just then the king sat on his throne, and there was naught to disturb the public peace except his multiplicity of loves, which aroused discussion which salted society with keenest relish, but went no farther.

I took high honors at Cambridge, though no higher than I should have done, and so no pride and no modesty in the owning and telling; and then I came home, and my mother greeted me something more warmly than she was wont, and my stepfather, Colonel John Chelmsford, took me by the hand, and my brother John played me at cards that night and won, as he mostly did. John was at that time also in Cambridge, but only in his second year, being, although of quicker grasp upon circumstances to his own gain than I, yet not so alert at booklore, but he had grown a handsome man, as fair as a woman, yet bold as any cavalier that ever drew sword—the kind to win a woman by his own strength and her own arts.

The night after I returned there was a ball at Cavendish Court, the first since the death of Madam Rosamond, and my brother and I went, and my stepfather and my mother, though she loved not Madam Cavendish.

And Mary Cavendish, at that time ten years old, was standing, when I first entered, with a piece of blue-green tapestry work at her back, clad in a little straight white gown and little satin shoes and a wreath of roses on her head, from whence the golden locks flowed over her gentle cheeks, delicately rounded between the baby and maiden curves, with her little hands clasped before her, and her blue eyes, now downcast, now uplifted with utmost confidence in the love of all who saw her. And close by her stood her sister Catherine, coldly sweet in a splendid spread of glittering brocade, holding her head, crowned with flowers and plumes, as still and stately as if there were for her in all the world no wind of passion, and my brother John looked at her, and I knew he loved her, and marveled what would come of it, though they danced often together.

Mary Cavendish when ten years old

The ball went on till the east was red and the cocks crew and all the birds woke in a tumult, and then that happened which changed my whole life.

Three weeks from that day I set sail for the new world—a convict. I will not now say how nor why; and on the same ship sailed Captain Geoffry Cavendish, his mother, Madam Judith Cavendish; his daughter, Catherine, and the little maid Mary.

And on the long voyage Captain Cavendish's old wound broke out anew, and he died and was buried at sea, and I, when I arrived in this kingdom of Virginia, with the dire uncertainty and hardship of the convict before me, yet with strength and readiness to bear it, was taken as a tutor by Madam Judith Cavendish for her granddaughter Mary, being by education well fitted for such a post, and she herself knowing her other reasons for so doing. And so it happened that Mistress Mary Cavendish and I rode to meeting in Jamestown that Sabbath in April of 1682.

CHAPTER IV.

THEREFORE that April morning, though filled in my inmost heart with love and gratitude toward God, as I had always been since I had seen his handiwork in Mary Cavendish, which was my especial lesson of his grace to meward, with sweetest rhymes of joy for all my pains and reasons for all my doubts; and though she sat beside me, so near that the rich spread of her gown was over my knee and the shining of her beauty warm on my face, yet was I weary of the service and eager to be out.

As I said before, Parson Downs was not to my mind, neither he nor his discourse. Still he spoke with a mighty energy and a conviction of the truth of his own words which would have moved his hearers to better purpose had they moved himself as regarded his daily life. But beyond a great effervescence of the spirit, which produced a high mounting froth of piety like the seething top of an ale tankard, there came naught of it. Still was there in him some good, or, rather, some lack of ill; for he was no hypocrite, but preached openly against his own vices, then went forth to furnish new texts for his sermon, not caring who might see and judge him. A hearty man he was, who would lend his last shilling or borrow his neighbor's with equal readiness, forcing one to a certain angry liking for him because of his good will to do that for you which you were loth to do for him.

Yet if there ever was a man in harness to Satan as to the lusts of his flesh and his pride of life it was Parson Downs, in despite of his bold carrets and prances of exhortation, which so counterfeited freedom that I doubt not that they deceived even himself; and he felt not the while he was expanding his great front over his pulpit and waving his hands, on one of which shone a precious red stone, the strain of his own leash. But I have ever had a scorn which I could not cry down for any man who was a slave except by his own will.

Feeling thus, I was glad when Parson Downs was done and letting himself down with stately jolts of ponderosity from his pulpit, and the folk were moving out of the church in a soft press of decorously veiled eagerness, with a great rustling of silks and satin and jingling of spurs and swords and waving of plumes and shaking out of stronger odors of flowers and essences and spices.

And gladder still I was when astride my horse in the open, with the sweet broadside of the spring wind in my face and all the white flowering trees and bushes bowing and singing with a thousand bird voices, like another congregation before the Lord. I had not the honor to assist Mistress Mary to her saddle. Sir Humphrey Hyde and Ralph Drake, who was a favorite cousin of hers, and my Lord Estes, who was on a visit to his kinsman, Lord Culpeper, the governor of Virginia, and half a score of others pressed before me, who was but the tutor and had no right to do her such service except for lack of another at hand.

And a fair sight it was for one who loved her as I, with no privilege of jealousy and yet with it astir within him, like a thing made but of claws and fangs and stinging tongue, to see her with that crowd of gallants about her and the other maids going their ways unattended, with faces of averted meekness or haughty uplifts of brows and noses, as suited best their different characters.

Mistress Mary was no doubt the fairest of them all, and yet there was more than that in the cause for her advantage over them. She kept all her admirers by the very looseness of her grasp, which gave no indication of any eagerness to hold and thus aroused in them no fear of detention nor of wiles of beauty which should subvert their wills. And, furthermore, Mary Cavendish distributed her smiles as impartially as a flower its sweetness, to each the same, though but a scant allotment to each, as beseemed a maid. I could not, even with my outlook, observe that she favored one more than another, unless it might have been Sir Humphrey Hyde. I knew well that there was some confidence betwixt the two, but whether it was of the nature of love I could not tell.

Sir Humphrey kept the road with us for some distance after we had left the others, gazing beside the horse block, all equally desirous of following, but knowing well that it would not be a fair deed to the maid to attend her homeward on the Sabbath day with a whole troop of lovers. But Sir Humphrey Hyde leaped to his saddle and rode abreast with no ado, being ever minded to do what seemed good to himself, unless indeed his mother stood in the way of his pleasure. Sir Humphrey's mother, Lady Clarissa Hyde, was one of those unwitting tyrants which one sees among women, by reason of her exceeding delicacy and gentleness, which made it seem but the cruelty of a brute to cross her, and thus had her own way forever and never suspected it were not always the way of others.

Sir Humphrey was a well set young gentleman, and he was dressed in the farthest fashion. The broad back of his scarlet coat, rising to the trot of his horse, clashed through the soft gold-green mists and radiances of the spring landscape like the blare of a trumpet, his gold buttons glittered, the long plume on his hat ruffled to the wind over his fair periwig.

Behind us straggled the black slaves as on our way thither, moving unhastingly, yet with small energy, as do folk urged hither and yon only by the will of others and not by their own; but presently through them, scattering them to the left and right, galloped a black lad on a great horse after Sir Humphrey, with the word that his mother would have him return to the church and escort her homeward. Then Sir Humphrey turned, after a whispered word or two with Mistress Mary, and rode back to Jamestown, and the black lad, bounding in the saddle like a ball, after him.

I still kept my distance behind Mistress Mary, though often I saw her head turn and caught a blue flash of an eye over her mask.

Then passed us, booted and spurred, for he had gotten his priestly robes off in a hurry, Parson Downs on the fastest horse in those parts and riding like a jockey in spite of his heavy weight. His horse's head was stretched in a line with his neck, and after him rode, at near as great speed, Captain Noel Jaynes, who, as report had it, had won wealth on the high seas in unlawful fashion. He was a gray old man with the eye of a hot headed boy and a saber cut across his right cheek.

The parson saluted Mistress Mary as he passed, and so did Captain Jaynes, with a glance of his bright eyes at her that stirred my blood and made me ride up faster to her side.

But the two men left the road abruptly, plunging into a bridle path at the right, and the green walls of the wood closed behind them, though one could still hear for long the galloping splash of their horses' hoofs in the miry path.

Mistress Mary turned to me, and her voice rang sharp. "'Tis a pretty parson," said she. "He is on his way to Barry Upper Branch with Captain Jaynes, and who is there doth not know 'tis for no good, and on the Sabbath day too?"

A SUDDEN TWINGE

Of pain is generally the first warning of an attack of rheumatism. It feels as if the disease were in the bones or muscles, but the real cause of rheumatism is found in impure blood. In order to cure rheumatism the blood must be cleansed of the poisonous impurities which are the cause of the disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been very successful in the cure of rheumatism, because it entirely cleanses the blood from the poisonous uric acid which is the cause of the disease.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me of rheumatism after I had tried a dozen remedies without relief and also some West in search of health," writes Harry Kitter, of No. 1945 6th Street, Denver, Colo. "Only those who have suffered from this dread malady know the pain and misery I endured for over five years. Whenever the weather was damp or cold my troubles were increased and my joints would be so stiff and sore that I was hardly able to move about, and often unable to dress myself. I used a number of highly recommended medicines, but they had no effect whatever on me, and I came to Colorado hoping to regain my health, but failed to obtain the relief I had hoped for. A gentleman in the house where I lived advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and in four months and a half after I began using it I was a well man, and have had no touch of it for the past seven months."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or direct by mail.

AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE

Two Young Men who Passed a Restless Night

One Went to Havelock and the Other Stayed at Home.

Two young men passed through experiences last night, which neither of them wish to repeat. They both passed a very uneasy night, and were only relieved this morning when each found that the other was safe.

It appears that they were both in the southwestern part of the town making a call, and on their way home they saw the fast freight, which passed through here about 10 o'clock, for the east, approaching. It was stopped at the diamond, and the young men thinking to save time, jumped on the van, intending to ride as far as the station, but, contrary to their supposition, the train did not stop at the station, and went spinning through at the rate of 20 miles an hour.

One of the young men, who is inclined to athletics, decided to jump for it, and counselled his companion to do the same. He landed on terra firma all right, and after he had pulled himself together began to look around for his companion. He could not find him, and was afraid that he had been injured in jumping, and spent some time in searching the sides of the track for his companion, but without success. After spending some time, he went to his boarding house, but could not sleep, and got up again at three o'clock. At five o'clock he went to the station, thinking that perhaps his friend might have stayed on the train, and had been carried to the next station. When the 5.10 train arrived he was delighted to see his companion of the night before, alight, having been carried to Havelock, the first station at which the train stopped, and spend the night there.

He was just as much disturbed as the one who was left behind, because he was worrying for fear that his friend in attempting to jump, had fallen between the wheels, and had been injured.

There was a happy reunion, and they vowed there that the next time they went to call in the south end they would walk home.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT THE BARRACKS

Biograph Exhibition Last Night was Heartily Enjoyed

Scenes at Crystal Palace Demonstration Vividly Presented—Good Musical Programme.

The Biograph exhibition, at the S. A. Barracks last night, was greeted by a crowded house, and the excellent entertainment provided thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The pictures presented were largely reproductions of the scenes at the Crystal Palace demonstration in London, in July, and the opinion was expressed on every hand that the views presented were amongst the best ever exhibited in town, being unusually clear and plain.

After the opening exercises a reel of pictures which gave great delight to the children present, was presented. Amongst these were gold-mining scenes in Australia, boys in swimming and many others of great interest.

After a number of slides representing the departure of the Canadian contingent from Montreal, scenes on ship-board, and at Liverpool and London. The view of the March past the General at the demonstration was next given. Taking part in this parade were 25,000 delegates assembled from the 49 different countries represented, and were accompanied by 200 brass bands. This view was a most vivid presentation of the scenes on the route of the parade, and was intensely interesting.

Besides the 3,000 feet of moving pictures, 100 slide pictures, and a number of photographs of Army officials, including the General, the chief of staff, and various territorial leaders, were thrown on the canvas. The whole entertainment lasted about two and a half hours.

The evening's pleasure was greatly enhanced by the selections rendered by the band, as well as the marticulars played on the organ by Mrs. Green, as the view of the march past was being presented. Capt. Hurd of Midland, who came down specially for the entertainment, sang a solo which was rendered at the International Congress by the Coloured Songsters from Kentucky. Bandmaster Brown also gave the "Holy City," very sweetly and with good effect.

Detailed explanations of the views were given by Staff-Captain McLean and proved most interesting.

LIGHT SHIPMENTS OF LIVE STOCK

Very Little Ranching Stock Being Shipped to North-West This Season.

Heavy-draught Horses Sent out in large Numbers, Car Limit Being Frequently Taken.

The live stock shipments to points in the North-west so far this spring have been somewhat light and will probably not be large at any period throughout the season. This is especially the case with young cattle. Several reasons are given in explanation of this fact, the principal one being the heavy shipments to the Toronto and Montreal markets—many of these being destined for the English market. The severity of the past two winters is also doubtless responsible to a large extent as it has affected the ranching conditions materially. The difficulties experienced two years ago have had a very deterrent effect as on one occasion during the severe cold, it will be remembered, two carloads of cattle were frozen.

Many dealers and ranchers who in previous years have invariably made large shipments of cattle, have this year done nothing in this way. One old Peterborough boy who has been conducting ranching operations on a large scale, and who has for a number of years past been an extensive shipper of ranching stock, states that this year he has abandoned the idea of engaging in shipping operations of any kind.

The number of heavy draught horses sent out this year is much larger than usual. Settlers removing to the west have in many cases taken the entire number—ten head per car—to which they are limited.

PETERBOROUGH STOCK-MARKET

Sharp Advance in Price of Hogs

Dressed Hogs now $7.50 to $7.75—Other Stock Prices Steady.

The most noticeable features of stock market during the past week have been the advance in the prices of dressed hogs which have now reached $7.50 to $7.75, and the more pronounced raise in live hogs, which are now $6.25. The prices now being paid for dressed hogs in Montreal at present is $9.00. The scarcity on the Canadian market is given as the principal reason for the advance, though local conditions are doubtless affected to a large extent by the state of the roads. In spite of these however, the receipts have been quite large in Peterborough during the week.

A heavy increase in Chicago's live stock shipping trade is the feature of the year so far. Official returns show that 2,307 more carloads found their outlet in January and February than during the same period of 1904. During these months the improvement of export cattle was the largest on record. February's shipments were 720 cars in excess of those of February, 1904. Official receipts at Chicago for the expired two months of the year are 577,050 cattle, an increase of 18,940 head. This increase is wholly credited to the excessive number of short-fed cattle that were forwarded to market. The decrease of 12 lbs. in the average weight of cattle in February, compared with the same month last year, bears out the contention of the deficiency in quality. Latterly quite a number of exporters have changed hands at $4.75 to $5.25 per 100 lbs. on the Chicago market. The general quality was so poor that the proportion of the common cattle that had to sell at $3.50 to $4.25, was quite large. The idea is current in Chicago that prime and choice steers and heifers will easily maintain present prices and any change that may occur would be towards enhanced values. The exporters of life cattle so far this year have received only a small margin of profit after paying all the charges incident to the business. A sustained firm market at the ports of landing in Great Britain at a slightly higher figure would enable our experienced exporters to buy with more confidence.

London, March 22.—Live cattle are quoted at 10½c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8¼c to 8½c per lb.; sheep, 12c to 13c per lb.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, March 22.—(Special.)—The receipts of live stock were 900 cattle 50 milch cows, 100 sheep and lambs and 2000 calves. The butchers were out strongly, and there was a brisk demand for good cattle of all kinds, but the common and inferior stock were neglected. Prime beeves sold at 4½c to 5c per lb.; good cattle, 3¾c to 4¼c; the common stock, 2½c to 3½c, and bulls 2c to 2¼c; pretty good bulls, 3c to 3½c. The milch cows are an ordinary lot, and rather slow of sale; prices were from $20 to $50 each. The market was glutted with inferior calves, and good were rather scarce and high-priced. A lot of six good calves were sold for $45; a few others sold at $4 to $7 each; the inferior sold at $1 to $2.50 each. Sheep sold at 3½c to 5c per lb.; spring lambs at $3 to $6 each. The tone of the market for live hogs was strong, owing to small supplies, and prices had an upward tendency. The demand was from packers, and some sales of selected lots were made at $6.75 but the figure was refused by others as they would not accept less than $6.85, which was paid before the close.

WAS IMPRESSED BY TESTIMONY

An Interesting Letter Received by Young Lady in Peterborough.

She Asked Her Aunt to Attend a Christian Scientist Meeting—The Result.

At last night's meeting of the Christian Scientists at their church on Aylmer street, a letter received by a young lady here from her aunt in Chicago, whom she had asked to attend a meeting in a Christian Scientist Church was read. The letter fully explains itself:—

Chicago, Ill., March 16, 1905.

My Dear Niece,—I received your letter,—— I went last night to a testimony meeting at the Drexel Bolivard Church. I was strongly impressed with the spotless purity of the building both outside and in. Of course Drexel Bolivard is one of the finest streets in the city, the shrubbery, flowers, and grass and trees in the centre between the two drives are beautiful and reach over eight miles in length.

No, those people mentioned in the Journal are not friends of mine, any persons whom I know that are Scientists live in the North side and I am eleven miles south of them, but must run over some time, soon. Just think, dear Mrs. C—— asked me so many times to go with her to the meetings, when I lived on the North side, but I always seemed to have so much to do, and now she is in England. She was so kind and cheerful, I miss her so, when my dear niece asked me to go, I went all alone, and I must tell you I enjoyed it very much, such a happy, loving atmosphere seemed to pervade the whole house, when persons came in they bowed and smiled, and then going out everybody seemed to know everybody else, but no one stood at the door to welcome the strangers as they do at the Chicago churches generally; but the leader gave an invitation to visitors to visit the reading rooms at 6 Madison street, which I will do soon.

First they sang a song called "Immortal Love". I sang all the hymns as the tunes are just the same as in our church, and a lady loaned me a book. They have one of the finest pipe organs I ever heard. I stayed to hear the instrumental music after the meeting was dismissed. Well after the first song the silent prayer then the Lord's prayer in which I joined with the rest, then another song, then the scripture reading part of the 35th chapter of Isaiah, beginning at the 3rd verse and ending at 15th; then a short reading of Mrs. Eddy's works which I expect you can repeat orally. "Why malign Christian Science"—and all about not being able to mix spirit and matter, and an exortation to live in the spirit as much as possible, and get as far as we can from sickness, misery, etc., then another song then the testimony. No ladies gave testimony, only four men. One had been led as though a little child to better surroundings after he took to Christian Science, and told how he escaped being burnt to death in a barn by an enemy; another had his vocal chords paralysed and after trying several doctors (one a celebrated specialist) all failing to do him good, he started treatments of the Christian Science, and is now as well as ever and able to provide for his family, as he is a singer. Another business man claimed he had ten fold better success in business since he found the wonderful benefits of Christian Science. It seems before that he had all sorts of failures and mistakes and losses.

Another had been guiding a very spirited team of horses over a plain in Texas and they ran away and dragged him a great distance and the wheels ran over him, and as long as he was conscious he kept making use of his knowledge of Christian Science, and when he came to, he found he was unhurt and thanked God that he had ever been led to believe in Christian Science.

I must say the crowd was a very intelligent, high-class of people, and I believe they meant all they said, and I thank God that he gives so many to feel his great saving power in so many different ways that people believe on Him."

Wall Paper Excitement Continues at Routley's

Never in our history have we had such a clearing. We expect the end of this month will finish up the enormous

1-2 Price and Less

Wall Paper Sale that has engaged our energy and attention. Our output during the year from March 1st, 1904, to March 1st, 1905, fell little short of forty thousand dollars in the wall paper line. We know the public appreciate our value giving and we intend to push on, and, if possible, to even march ahead of our present achievements. We now sell Wall Papers from our Toronto Store from coast to coast, as we have agents in every principal place in the Dominion selling for us. Many were disappointed at not being in to get a room

RETREATING ALONG THE RAILWAY

Russians Are Retreating Driven by the Japanese—Russian Flanks Menaced—Women are Ordered to Leave Vladivostock—War Correspondent of Novoe Vremya Sends a Most Disheartening Report of the Causes of the Russian Defeat---Proposals Likely For Peace.

Tokio, March 24.—An official report from Imperial Army Headquarters, yesterday, says:

"Our detachment pursuing the enemy entered Changtu on March 21 at 2.30 p. m.

"A large body of the enemy, in disorder, is retreating toward the northeast, along the line of the railway.

"A part of the enemy's cavalry has halted at a point within two miles north of Changtu."

Both Russian Flanks Menaced.

Gunshu Pass, March 24.—Gen. Linevitch, the new commander-in-chief of the army, yesterday received the members of his staff. Reports persist of Japanese turning movements on both flanks of the Russian army. Chinese state that the Japanese have recruited many Chinese bandits, and that probably they are now able to count a superiority in cavalry as well as infantry.

The branch of the Russo-Chinese Bank has removed from Kirin to Harbin after an attack on the bank office, in which two of the guards were wounded with cobblestones.

Captured Japanese report that a terrible affray took place in the streets of Mukden March 10, when a big detachment of the Russians, the last to leave the city, were entrapped by Chinese bandits and a few Japanese soldiers, who closed the city gates and blocked the narrow streets. According to the report, which is not confirmed, not a Russian escaped.

Field Marshal Oyama has communicated to Gen. Linevitch the news that the entire Russian medical staff, which remained in Mukden after the evacuation, is uninjured and well.

Women Leave Port.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—It is announced here that all the women have been ordered to leave Vladivostock.

A VERY BITTER TALE.

Novoe Vremya's Manchurian Correspondent Tells Why Ruse Failed.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—The Novoe Vremya to-day will publish a remarkable despatch from a correspondent in the field, who, with the bitter taste of defeat still on his palate, discusses the causes of the Russian reverses and contrasts the spirit with which Russia and Japan are conducting the war, and with sorrow and disheartenment arraigns the elements in Russia who are nourishing their propaganda on defeats in the Far East. "Scattering in the very hour of defeat," according to the correspondent, "broadcast among the heart-sick, retreating soldiers, proclamations urging them to cease fighting and surrender."

The despatch continues: "Not even the enemy has sent up such proclamations, but has confined himself to throwing into our lines telegrams from foreign agencies about disorders in Russia. Put yourself in the place of the soldiers and officers who, returning from Mukden fatigued and heart-sore from want of success, have received from the distant home proclamations with advice to that tenor."

Setting aside the factors of a temporary nature, the correspondent enumerates four main causes of misfortune:

First.—Failure to establish before the war an adequate intelligence department in Manchuria, or to make preparations, contrasted with Japanese activity in that direction.

Second.—Russia is dependent upon a single railway, while the Japanese have many bases, with the possibility of establishing new ones at any point on the coast.

Third.—The deficiencies of many officers, whose mistakes of execution bring to naught the most carefully thought-out plans of commander, or whose technical education has not kept pace with the artillery they are required to handle.

Fourth.—That victory rests not with the army but with the nation.

The correspondent pictures the patriotism, devotion and passionate longing for victory of the Japanese, and, continuing, says:

"On the other side is a nation where part of the people misunderstand the meaning of this war, or are even inimical, taking advantage of distressing times to attain more liberty. The need of greater liberty is undoubted; but is it not possible to press the campaign after the war? The country is entirely occupied with internal affairs and disorders, turning its attention to the army only occasionally and after an unsuccessful operation, and then only to pour a flood of discouragement or abuse, or to send as a palliative to the retreating forces a heap of revolutionary proclamations."

In concluding, the correspondent pleads for a few words of encouragement, and acknowledgment that the 90,000 who fell around Mukden are not unappreciated sacrifices.

IN THE DIRECTION OF PEACE.

Active Step by Russia Imminent, If Not Already Taken.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—The ministers and supporters of the court who advocate the submission of pacific proposals to Japan, so as to ascertain whether an honorable basis of peace is possible, believe they have carried the day and the Associated Press hears on high authority that an actual step is imminent, if not already taken.

Not At All Surprising.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—The sudden growth of the sentiment in Russian official circles in favor of peace is not at all surprising to the officials here, because it is in line with the predictions of the American Embassy at St. Petersburg when last heard from on this subject.

In fact, it was gathered that the real obstacle in the way of the beginning of negotiations to this end was to be found rather in the jealousies of European powers outside of Russia than in the Czar's own court.

There is believed now, however, that the great financial interests of London, Berlin and Paris, looking to their own salvation and the security of their enormous Russian loans, have risen above national lines, and that to the exertion of their powerful influence is due the present promise of peace in the near future.

Blockade Runners Captured.

Portland, Ore., March 24.—According to advices brought by the Portland and Asiatic steamship Arabia from Yokohama there are at present about forty blockade runners of various nationalities in Japanese ports, which have been captured attempting to enter Russian ports.

Russians Raise $100,000,000.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—The internal loan of $100,000,000 was signed yesterday. The price of issue is 86 and the bonds are redeemable in fifty years.

Japs Will Borrow $150,000,000.

New York, March 24.—Negotiations for a Japanese Government loan of $150,000,000 have been successfully concluded in London.

TROOPS SHOOT PEASANTS.

Fifty Wounded in An Encounter With Russian Infantry.

Kutno, Russian Poland, March 24.—Ten peasants were killed and fifty were wounded at Lamenta March 21 as the result of the shooting of infantry sent to quell disturbances. A crowd of peasants from Benifnora, proceeded to Lamenta to induce the farm laborers to strike and rioting occurred. The chief of police with a company of soldiers went to the scene, and the troops fired two volleys at the peasants, killing two on the spot and wounding fifty. The latter were brought in carts to the hospitals here, where seven men and one woman subsequently died. Eleven others are dying.

Kutno is situated 70 miles west of Warsaw. It has a population of about 10,000.

Financial Crisis Arises.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—A financial and commercial crisis has broken out at Rostovondon.

Warned Father John.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—The revolutionary committee has warned Father John of Cronstadt to cease his anti-revolutionary propaganda either by sermons or by writings. The military Governor of Cronstadt has taken measures for Father John's protection.

DURHAM SCORCHED.

Furniture Factory Damaged to Extent of $50,000.

Durham, March 24.—Fire broke out in the finishing room of the Durham furniture factory here about 7.30 last night, and in spite of the efforts of the firemen by 9.30 had completely destroyed the building and contents. The dry-kiln and a large stock of lumber was saved, but with difficulty. The company has been six years in operation and was in a flourishing condition, employing about 60 men, paying some $16,000 in wages annually. About $10,000 worth of stored stock, ready for shipment, was destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50,000. Insurance on building and contents amounted to some $25,000, in the following companies: Northern, Queen's, Economical, Norwich Union, Western, Sun, Ottawa. The loss to the town is severe, but undoubtedly the factory will be rebuilt immediately.

Separate Church and State.

Paris, March 24.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday continued the debate on the bill providing for the separation of church and state. M. Deschanel (Republican), former president of the House, declared the debate was the most important since the revolution, as it concerned the abolition of a religious regime which had existed for five centuries. The interference of religion with politics had become intolerable, while the interference of the state with questions of conscience was equally odious. Therefore, the time had come to place each upon a separate and independent basis.

Douks To Get Money.

Montreal, March 24.—A Doukhobor delegation, headed by Peter Veregin, reached the city yesterday, and had an interview with Mr. De Struve, the Imperial Russian Consul, regarding the handing over of the moneys forwarded by the Russian Government. After the big exodus of Doukhobors from Russia, the Government confiscated the homes, and are now paying the owners for them. The Consul has decided to hand over the moneys, which now amount to several thousand dollars, to a special committee, who will distribute it to the different people now residing about Yorkton.

Armed Police Chased Them.

Winnipeg, March 24.—The two desperate highwaymen, Rogers and Horten, who held up, assaulted and robbed three Finns on Saturday night, escaped from jail at Fort Frances yesterday morning by twisting the bars of their cell with a piece of the iron bed. They started east on a railway velocipede and the police started after them on a similar conveyance, armed with Winchesters and determined to hunt them down.

Degree From Queen's.

Ottawa, March 24.—His Excellency the Governor-General goes to Kingston on April 6, where he will be the guest of Col. Reade, R. M. C. He will inspect the R. M. C. and the R. N. C. On April 7 he will have a degree conferred upon him by Queen's University and will return to Ottawa the following day. Lord Grey and party will go to Toronto for the horse show week.

Victorian's Maiden Voyage.

Liverpool, March 24.—The Allan line turbine steamer Victorian was bidden an enthusiastic farewell when she started on her maiden voyage to Montreal yesterday. Thousands of persons cheered her departure. The Victorian carries about 1,500 passengers, including a number of engineering experts.

Greeks and French Fight.

Marseilles, March 24.—The Messageries Maritimes steamer Yangtse reports that when she touched at Candia, Island of Crete, recently, a serious outbreak occurred between 15 French soldiers and twenty Greek mariner. Six Greeks and two Frenchmen were killed.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR PEACE

St. Petersburg Papers Supporting Peace Movement.

Publishing History of Intrigues in the Far East.

Special to The Examiner

St. Petersburg, March 24. — The papers are supporting the campaign for peace, and are beginning to print, quite openly, the history of the intrigues in the Far East for the protection of private interests devoting special attention to M. Besobrazoff's connection with the Yalu River concession. The publications include a secret memorandum of General Kuropatkin pointing out that war would be inevitable if Russian interests were extended into Korea.

POPULAR YOUNG MAN DEPARTS

Mr. Oscar Dumble Left To-day for Tweed.

Mr. Oscar Dumble, who has been connected with the local staff of the Ontario Bank for a number of years left at noon to-day for Tweed, where he will assume the duties of teller and accountant in the branch of the bank at that place.

Mr. Dumble, who is a son of Police Magistrate Dumble, has been prominent in athletic and social circles in Peterborough for some years. He has been connected with the local lacrosse clubs and took a leading part in boating circles at Chemong Park, Stony Lake and Peterborough. He was also a member of the C. D. A., one of Peterborough's most popular bachelor clubs, and a delegation from that club met at the station to bid him farewell.

He was the recipient of a handsome umbrella from the members of the club, all of whom joined with his numerous other friends in wishing him success in his new post of duty.

While Mr. Dumble's host of friends here are sorry to see him leave town they are glad to hear of his promotion to a more responsible position in the Bank.

Lenten Fare.

Fresh-caught trout and white fish, namaycush trout, halibut, sea salmon, fresh haddock, fresh sea herring, smelts, tomcods and a full supply of smoked and salt fish. Also our popular deep sea oysters will be in stock, fresh and prime, during Lent. S. A. OKE, 376 George street. Telephone 18.

A DEPUTATION TO VISIT PETERBOROUGH

A Number of Gentlemen Interested in Telephones Will Come Here to Inspect Plant of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company---Waterloo County Interested in the Experiment of Peterborough With Competitive 'Phones and Send Deputation to Investigate.

Yesterday in Berlin a meeting of representatives from the different parts of Waterloo County, was held to discuss the telephone situation, and an important decision was arrived at.

It appears that Peterborough, by its progressive policy in granting the franchise to the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, has aroused the admiration of other municipalities, and in the near future an influential deputation from Waterloo County will visit the town to inspect the plant of the company here.

At the meeting referred to the following resolution was introduced and passed:

"That a committee, consisting of Dr. Ochs, Hespeler, and D. Hibner, Berlin, representing Waterloo county council, go to Peterborough and inspect the Canadian Machine Telephone Company's plant, and that the various municipalities interested in cheaper and better telephone service be asked to send representatives, Dr. Ochs to notify members of the intended date of visit to Peterborough."

LENTEN SERMON AT ALL SAINT'S

Rev. Wm. Major Preaches on God's Call to His People.

Continuation of his Series of Sermons —Christian's Duty as a Witness.

Continuing his series of Lenten services in All Saint's church last evening, Rev. Wm. Major, preached from the text, Isaiah 44; 8:—"Ye are even my witnesses." The interest in the services is increasing, the congregation being larger than that of last week. The rector continued upon the subject, "God's call to His people." Last week the call was shown to consist in shining, and last night their duty as witnesses was set forth. He pointed out that God had never been without His witness from the very first, varying, of course, according to circumstances. The first witness to God was Nature—"The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork." Then, conscience bore witness. These two manifested God's power and divinity, but to show his love and salvation for man, required a fuller manifestation; hence Israel became His witness. To them was committed the "two tables for a witness," and the tabernacle of witness, the altar erected for witness, but 1500 years after a still higher form of witness was utilized. "God who at sundry times and in divers manners, spoke unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son." Heb. 1; 1. Hence St. John speaks of the Lord Jesus Christ as "the faithful witness. This thought, that Christ came to manifest God, helps us to understand the shrinking from publicity in His life, and also to realize why He did not wish those upon whom He exercised His miraculous powers to speak about it, for fear it would detract from God's glory. When His testimony was complete, and after the Ascension, the work was delegated to His disciples,—"Ye are My witnesses."

We must be witnesses, there is no option, but there is the possibility of being false or unfaithful witnesses, hence the responsibility resting upon us to see that we are faithful and true witnesses. (There are two qualifications for a witness — knowledge and speech. Both are essential; if the wisest man looses either his utility as a witness is gone, but a child having both is qualified. Everyone who knows God, is therefore qualified to speak of Him, to testify to him—not otherwise.

What we are to testify, or the subject of our testimony, was illustrated by a reference to the law court, in which it was pointed out that three things are required of a witness — to identify a person, testify of his character, and test his actions. So God's witnesses are called upon to testify of His existence and identity, His character and attributes, His actions and power. Numerous passages of Scripture were given in support of each point, and the New Testament idea of God's witnesses was given. This was summed up in the words of the second chapter of Acts, 32nd vs, "This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we are all witnesses." In a word, our duty is to witness to the resurrection of Christ."

As to how we are to bear witness, this varies according to circumstances and conditions of individuals. As our general thanksgiving says, we are to show forth his praise not only with our lips but in our lives. The preacher then pointed out how Israel bore witness to God by coming out of Egypt — "The Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord when I bring out the children of Israel from amoogt them." So with the Christian; when the persecutor, Saul of Tarsus, became the Apostle St. Paul, it bears witness to God and his power, to deliver from the bondage of sin. Israel also testified to God by entering into the promised land. When Israel sinned against God and He threatened to destroy them, Moses mediated, and his plea was that the heathen would say that God was unable to bring them in, and had therefore destroyed them. So their entering into the land was a witness of the faithfulness and love of God. We are called as God's witnesses, whatever our circumstances, to testify to Him, "whether ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." By our walk, our speech, our domestic relationships, in our dress and appearance, we must witness to God.

THREE-FOLD RESULT.

The results are of a three-fold character, 1st, God-ward, Prov. 25, 13, "As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him, for he refresheth the soul of his master." 2nd, Man-ward, Prov. 14, 25, "A true witness delivereth souls." 3rd, Towards self, Acts 4, 33, "With great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ, and great grace was upon them all." The preacher pointed out that we could not carry out this call of God in our own strength. We should claim the fulfilment of our Lord's promise, "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you."

POPULAR BAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT

Mr. Gilbert Markle, the Clever Violinist Will Assist.

At the popular concert to be given by the 57th Band to-night, Mr. Gilbert Markle, the local violinist, will play De Beriot's Military Concerto. Mr. Markle is playing in good form now, and his contributions to the programme will doubtless be much enjoyed.

The band will render a number of new numbers and the prospects are that the concert will be one of the best ever given by this popular organization. It will be held in the opera house.

THE OFFENDER WAS DISCOVERED

Young Man Convicted This Morning of Theft at Y. M. C. A.

For some months past the boys at the Y.M.C.A. have been the victims of systematic and frequently recurring thefts in consequence of which a special detective was employed by the officials of the institution to make investigation. This has been quietly prosecuted for some time past, and resulted in the discovery last night of a culprit, and his conviction this morning at Police Court.

The offender who is a young man of most respectable family connections pleaded guilty to the charge, and was allowed to go on suspended sentence with a warning from the Magistrate as to the severe penalty which will be inflicted in case any further offences of this nature are discovered.

When discovered last night the prisoner was engaged in extracting money from a pocket of the clothing of another young man, while the latter was taking a plunge in the bath. The proceeds of last night's operations were evidently not so large as those on some previous occasions, being an American dime which he secured, after an examination of the clothing of several boys. The officials to whom the thefts have been a source of much annoyance of late, had determined to make an example of the culprit when discovered, and for this purpose placed the case in the hands of the authorities.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive menstruation accompanied by unusual pain extending from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.)

"In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumor of the Uterus. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation." —Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut St., Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.)

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.

"Eighteen months ago my monthlies stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation.

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my monthlies around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor in the uterus.

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very disheartened. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

BAPTISTS SCORE GREAT SUCCESS

Sunday School Anniversary Entertainment Held Last Night.

Church was Packed to the Doors — Trustees were Treated to a Surprise.

The anniversary entertainment of the Park Street Baptist Church Sunday School held last night was an unqualified success, the church being crowded to the doors by a thoroughly delighted audience. The excellent programme presented and the delightful refreshments served were indeed matters warranting the heartiest congratulations, but in addition to these, to the energetic efforts of the Sunday School workers was due the credit for the crowning feature of the evening's pleasure, which for gold and sufficient reasons was not included in the programme. This was in the nature of a surprise which the Sunday School scholars have had in store for the trustees of the church and, which materialized last night, when at about the middle of the programme the latter, Messrs. Buntin and Kemp, were called upon the platform and presented with $100.00, which has been collected by the Sunday School workers by means of a competition now-idable has been carried on with much enthusiasm and energy during the past few weeks.

The following address was read by Miss M. Mann, Superintendent of the School:—

To the Trustees of the Park Street Baptist Church.

The Sunday School of which I have the honour to be Superintendent, rejoices in the bright prospects of a new church in the near future. We watch with unmingled pleasure your successful efforts in this direction, viz, not a dollar remaining on the new lot and the burning of the mortgage on the old building in sight.

I have therefore, much pleasure on behalf of the School in presenting you with $100.00.

With the assurance of our continual interest until the new church is completed.

Yours in His Service,

MAGGIE MANN.

Mr. Kemp made a suitable reply, thanking the donors on behalf of the congregation. He also spoke of the previous gifts of this nature, of which the church had been the recipient, through the splendid efforts and untiring zeal of the Sunday School scholars.

After the refreshments which had been provided were served and thoroughly enjoyed, a programme which was listened to with much appreciation and pleasure was presented.

The chair was occupied by Rev. A. H. Brace.

The programme was opened by the singing of a hymn which was followed by a brief address of welcome by Lewis Smith.

After this a chorus by the Primary Class was rendered in a manner which pleased everybody. The recitation given by Miss Ethel Holt was received in a hearty manner. A solo rendered by Harold Hatcher also delighted the audience and was accorded an enthusiastic recall as was also the number which followed a recitation by Miss Rena Johnson. The dialogue and Japanese fan drill by twelve little girls was beautifully presented and universally admired. A lecture which came to an abrupt and most mirth provoking stop was rendered by Oscar Williams. A recitation by Miss Loomis was given with splendid effect and captivated the audience. This was followed by another recitation delightfully given by three little girls of the Primary Class. The Young People's Chorus which rendered the next number is composed of some splendid voices and their singing throughout the evening gave great pleasure. The recitation "Asleep at the Switch" was given by Miss Edna Boys, with much power of expression and fine dramatic effect, and in response to an enthusiastic recall she gave "Little Jim"

The Treasurer's report, which was a very satisfactory financial statement indeed, was then presented by the Superintendent, Miss M. Mann.

This was followed by an interesting dumb-bell drill by eight boys whose precision of movement was much enjoyed. A motion song by the Primary Class also gave much pleasure the naivete and innocence of the little ones appealing strongly to the audience. A comic reading by Miss Thomas created much amusement and laughter. This was followed by another chorus by the Young People. Their numbers were much enhanced by an effective orchestral accompaniment. The Rainbow drill and tableau which were presented by eighteen young ladies was a charming spectacle, and one which, as the chairman remarked, was worthy of several presentations. It was greeted by a perfect storm of applause. The costumes, which were prepared by those participating at much labour and expense were artistic creations and the ensemble effect in the glow of the coloured light was exquisite. A tableau by three young men was also well received. The programme was closed by a chorus by the Young People.

The accompaniments of the evening were played with much artistic taste by Miss Gertrude Buntin.

The chairman, Rev. A. H. Brace then expressed his thanks on behalf of the congregation to the committee in charge of the arrangements and to the programme committee, Misses Edith Gillespie, Nellie Hudson, and Gertrude Buntin for their untiring efforts which had been such a large factor in the success of the affair.

The report of the secretary, Mr. W. J. Tranter, was not presented last night owing to his unavoidable absence. A sympathetic reference was made by the pastor to Mr. Tranter's recent loss of his residence on Lake street, it will be remembered having been destroyed by fire, a few days ago. The following is a summary of the Statement of Receipts and Expenditures presented by Miss Mann:—

Total expenditure, ... $253 44
Total Receipts 343 94

MR. MONCK IS AT VARIANCE

Fails to Follow His Leader On the Autonomy Bills.

93rd SECTION AUTOMATIC

Differences in the Conservative Party Accentuated by His Speech — Hon. Wm. Paterson Supports and Dr. Sproule Dissents — Hon. Clifford Sifton Next Has the Floor of the House.

Ottawa, March 24.—The feature of yesterday's session of the Commons was Mr. Monk's expression of his serious disagreement from the views of his leader on the educational clauses of the autonomy bills, which were under debate all day. He held that the new Provinces at the moment of union at once came under the 93rd section of the B. N. A. Act, which guaranteed the minority the continuation of the education rights they now enjoyed. Hon. Wm. Paterson supported and Dr. Sproule dissented in their speeches on the autonomy bills. Hon. Clifford Sifton moved the adjournment of the debate.

Questions Answered.

Replying to Mr. Sloan, Hon. Mr. Emmerson stated that there was nothing on record in his department to show that the G. T. P. has completed surveys in British Columbia, but that it was the intention of the Government to urge the early construction of the British Columbia section of the new transcontinental line.

Hon. Sydney Fisher informed Mr. Gunn that 96 convictions had been had under the Fruit Marks Act, upon information laid by the staff of the fruit division of the department. In addition, there had been at least three convictions on information laid by outside parties.

Yankee Currency Here.

The Minister of Finance stated, in reply to Mr. Bickerdike of Montreal, that the Government is aware that a very large amount of American currency is at present in circulation at par in Canada, while in most cases Canadian currency is refused in the United States or taken at a very heavy discount. The Government does not intend to introduce a measure to prevent the circulation of United States coin in the Dominion, as it believes it can make regulations that will largely displace United States coin in Canada.

Woodstock Railway.

Ottawa, March 24.—The Railway Committee yesterday took up the Brantford and Woodstock Railway Co.'s bill. The committee did not tie the road down to the use of steam. The bill was reported.

To Prevent Tuberculosis.

Ottawa, March 24.—Senator W. C. Edwards, president of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, yesterday moved in the Senate, "That in the opinion of the Senate the time has arrived when Parliament should take some active steps to lessen the widespread suffering and the great mortality among the people of Canada caused by the various forms of tuberculosis."

The motion drew from several Senator an expression of sympathy with the movement. Among those who urged action on the part of the Dominion to put down tuberculosis were Senators William Hingston, Robertson, McMillan and Lougheed. Senator McMullen adjourned the debate. There can be no doubt that the Senate will be unanimous in passing the resolution which recently received the fullest endorsation of the House of Commons.

DEBATE ON THE ADDRESS.

Oratory Did Not Rise Above Usual Official Level.

Toronto, March 24.—The speeches of Mr. W. H. Hoyle (North Ontario), the mover of the address in reply to the speech from the Throne, and of the seconder, Mr. J. P. Downey (South Wellington), in the Legislature yesterday afternoon were not distinguished by any features above the ordinary level of official oratory. Both, as was to be expected, made references to the recent victory of their party, and both, who are capable of better efforts, seemed to be handicapped by their attempts to stick to the speech from the Throne as their text. They were, of course, generously applauded by their own side of the House. Mr. Preston (South Brant) moved the adjournment of the debate, which will be resumed on Tuesday, and is expected to last several days. The galleries of the House were all filled by interested spectators.

The prayers were repeated by the Speaker from memory, and not read, as has been usual.

After the adjournment of the debate yesterday, the Provincial Treasurer introduced some resolutions, and the House went into committee on interim estimates, amounting to about $600,000. While the House was in committee, J. B. Lucas was in the chair.

In reply to Mr. Harcourt, the Premier said the committees would be formed on Tuesday, and Hon. Col. Matheson said the public accounts would probably be down next week.

Whips For the Government.

The first Conservative caucus was held yesterday morning. Major Hugh Clark presided. Dr. R. F. Preston, of North Lanark, was chosen chief whip and A. A. Mahaffy, of Muskoka, junior whip.

T. H. Preston, of Brantford, has given notice of two bills, one favoring the stamping of prison-made goods, the other amending the Municipal Act by reducing the property qualifications of mayors in cities and towns from $1,000 to $500 freehold and from $2,000 to $1,000 leasehold.

Spotted Fever Epidemic.

Dr. Hodgetts has received a report that an epidemic of spotted fever had been discovered in a western town. The technical name for this disease is cerebro-spinal meningitis.

A deputation from Haileybury will wait on the Government to-day to ask for some changes in the mining laws.

A meeting of the Railway Taxation Commission will be held this week, when it is probable the final draft of the report will be made.

Negotiations are now in progress between the Province and the Dominion respecting the respective responsibilities of each in regard to the Indians north of the height of land and east of Lake Superior.

GIRL VICTIMS OF TWO ACCIDENTS

One Injured By Trolley Car; Other Hurt By Machinery.

IN HAMILTON AND TORONTO

Miss Olive Clegg Has Her Scalp Torn Off in a Shocking Manner in Hamilton Tailoring Shop, and Lillie Mulvaney Lies Hovering Between Life and Death Through Trolley Injuries.

Toronto, March 24.—Lillie Mulvaney, aged 20, who lives with her parents at 91 East Richmond street, lies hovering between life and death in the Emergency Hospital. At 8 o'clock last night, in company with Mr. Granger, 248 West Richmond street, she alighted from a westbound Queen street car at Peter street. She walked in front of the westbound car, without noticing a Dundas car coming east. Granger shouted, but too late. She was struck by the eastbound car and knocked down. Her head, arm and foot were crushed.

SCALP TORN OFF.

Shocking Accident to Young Girl in Hamilton Tailor Shop.

Hamilton, March 24.—Yesterday morning Miss Olive Clegg, 18 Tom street, 15 years of age, was the victim of a shocking accident. She was employed at Miss Connors' tailoring shop, 14 Elizabeth street, and was sent to place a belt on the shafting that operates the machines. Her hair was caught by the belt, and before the machinery could be stopped her whole scalp, from above the eyes to the nape of the neck, was torn off. Not a hair remained on her head. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, but the doctors do not expect her to live.

Hit By An Engine.

Brantford, March 24.—Thomas Blenaing, an employe of the Pratt and Letchworth malleable works, when crossing the G. T. R. tracks yesterday morning, was struck by a yard engine and seriously injured about the head. He lies at the hospital in an unconscious condition. His recovery is doubtful.

Loses His Left Hand.

Toronto, March 24.—Norman Copping, aged 18, while working at a buss-planer in Firstbrook's box factory, had his left hand cut off at the wrist. The shock has left him in a weak condition.

Five Lives Lost by Fog.

Charleroi, Pa., March 24.—During a heavy fog yesterday William Higgin, a ferryman, attempted to ray five men across the Monogahela River in a skiff. When in midstream the ferryman lost his way and the boat with its contents was carried over the dam.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the thirty years or more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." For sale by all druggists.

Quebec Cabinet Sworn.

Quebec, March 24.—The Provincial Cabinet has been reorganised as follows: Hon. Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister and Attorney-General; Hon. Adelard Turgeon, Minister of Lands, Forests and Fisheries; Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Provincial Treasurer; Hon. Jules Allard, Minister of Colonisation and Public Works; Hon. R. Roy, Provincial Secretary; Hon. W. A. Weir, Minister without portfolio; Hon. H. Archambault will remain as President of the Legislative Council. The new Ministers were sworn in yesterday morning. The Minister of Agriculture will not be appointed before to-day.

Both Bylaws Carry.

Brockville, March 24.—Yesterday the ratepayers of Brockville voted on two money bylaws, one to authorize the council to lend $30,000 to the Canada Carriage Co. to assist in rebuilding the works destroyed by fire a few months ago; and the other to raise $1,000 with which to buy land for a site for the D. H. Burrell Co. of Little Falls, N. Y., which proposes erecting a factory here for the manufacture of dairy supplies. Both bylaws were adopted by large majorities over and above the required number.

Charles Cameron Dead.

Toronto, March 24.—One of the pioneer residents of the Town of Collingwood and one of the most prominent mercantile men in Simcoe County, passed away at the General Hospital yesterday in the person of Charles Cameron. Mr. Cameron was a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and settled in Collingwood vicinity about the year 1854.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Hogs Are Lower On American Markets.

London, March 23.—Live cattle are quoted at 10½c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8¼c to 8½c per lb.; sheep, 12 to 13c per lb.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market were 54 carloads, composed of 797 cattle, 1842 hogs, 92 sheep and lambs and 35 calves.

Shipping cattle sold from $4.80 to $4.85, the bulk going at $4.80 to $4.70 per cwt.; bulls sold at $3.50 to $4 per cwt.

Choice picked lots sold at $4.50 to $4.75; loads of good at $4.20 to $4.40; medium, $3.80 to $4; cows of good quality, $3.25 to $3.50; common cows $2.75 to $3.20; inferior rough cattle, $2.25 to $2.50; canners, $1.50 to $2.

The demand for feeders was good, all of good quality being readily bought up by farmers and dealers. Prices ranged as follows: Short-keep, 1100 to 1200 lbs, of choice quality, $4.20 to $4.70; feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs, at $4 to $4.30; feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs $3.60 to $4; steers, 750 to 900 lbs at $3.35 to $3.65; stockers, $2.75 to $3.25 per cwt.

About 25 milch cows and springers sold all the way from $25 to $62 each, but only one at the latter price.

Although there were about 100 veal calves on the market, this did not prevent prices from advancing. Prices ranged all the way from $4 to 7 per cwt, and there were few good calves on the market.

There were few offered, and prices were firm. Export ewes, $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt; bucks, $3.50 to $4.25; lambs, grain fed, $6.75 to $7.25 per cwt; barnyard lambs, at $5.50 to $6.50 per cwt; spring lambs, $4 to $8 per cwt.

Deliveries of 1242 were bought by Mr. Harris who reports prices unchanged at $6.25 for selects, and $6 for lights and fats.

St. Thomas Man Guilty.

Toronto, March 24.—The jury of the general sessions, after considering the case of J. B. Hill, the St. Thomas merchant, for an hour and a half, brought in a verdict of guilty. Hill was accused of obtaining goods by false pretences from S. F. McKinnon & Co. The other charges against him, in which John Macdonald & Co., Gordon, Mackay & Co., and the Merchants Dyeing and Finishing Co. are the complainants, were traversed to the next sessions. Hill was admitted to bail, himself in $4,000 and two others in $2,000 each. Judge Winchester will pass sentence on Wednesday. Mrs. Hill, who was in court, broke down completely when the verdict was announced. Hill's counsel, J. A. Robinson, will ask for a reserve case.

Cattle Embargo.

London, March 24.—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, replying to a letter from J. B. Greig, of Laurencedirk, said: "I have always sympathized with your opinions, but hope you appreciate the probable difficulty of reversing the mistaken legislation of the present Government in making the exclusion of Canadian cattle permanent."

Postponed One Year.

London, March 24.—Sir Henry Irving's American-Canadian tour has been postponed for one year. The reason is that Sir Henry's doctors advise that he should not have so long a tour at present. His health is, however, much improved.

Wireless on Sable Island.

London, March 24.—(C. A. P.)—The High Commissioner's Department has been notified here that the Canadian Government intend to erect a Marconi wireless station on Sable Island, to come into operation August 1.

Premises Fresh Proceedings.

Winnipeg, March 24.—Hon. Colin Campbell, Provincial Attorney-General, yesterday announced that his department would institute fresh proceedings in regard to election cases.

GAYNOR AND GREENE.

Judge Lafontaine Willing to Turn Case Over to Another.

Montreal, March 24.—Messrs. Gaynor and Greene were before Judge Lafontaine yesterday. His Honor deciding that he had jurisdiction in the matter. As soon as he had finished speaking, and while counsel were considering what steps should be taken next, His Honor, showing much emotion, said: "Notwithstanding the foregoing, as my competence has been attacked, I am willing, provided both parties agree, and it can be legally done, that this enquiry shall be held by Chief Justice Lacoste, or Acting Chief Justice Sir Melbourne Tait or any judge of the Supreme Court who may be designated by them."

This declaration certainly came as a surprise, and for some little time not a word was said.

Then Mr. MacMaster stated that as the enquiry had been commenced by Judge Lafontaine, he, Mr. MacMaster, would prefer that it should be continued by him, as his jurisdiction had been upheld time and time again.

Gives Insured Power.

Fredericton, N. B., March 24.—Attorney-General Pugsley yesterday introduced in the New Brunswick Legislature a new life and accident insurance bill, making important changes from present conditions. One provision is to allow the insured to change the beneficiary except where the financial consideration has passed; another is to provide that if the contract is made in New Brunswick, action to enforce it may be taken in this Province, no matter where the head office of the company is. Another is to make the application no longer a part of the contract, and another that statements in the application, if not corrected, shall not void the policy unless the courts hold they are material to the contract. It is intended the bill shall apply to the benefit societies as well as regular companies. It met with some opposition in the preliminary debate.

Spring in the West.

Northern Saskatchewan, March 24.—Spring has opened. Flocks of cattle have been passed the last few days. Seeding has commenced in many parts of the district and will be general within a week or so. The land is in good condition. Settlers are arriving daily. A despatch from Birtle, Man., says: Patterson Bros., large farmers, commenced seeding yesterday. Showers fell all day, with heavy rain last night.

Will Agree to Short Day.

Scranton, Pa., March 24.—It was given out officially here yesterday by the operators that they would agree to an 8-hour work day for the mine employes if an 8-hour day is demanded by the union. A condition to be imposed is that all underground mine workers are to report for work at a certain hour to be agreed upon, and that no employe shall be hoisted to the surface until eight hours have elapsed.

Sensation Smashed.

London, March 24.—(C. A. P.)—A London newspaper cabled Premier Bond regarding a despatch published in British papers to the effect that severe weather had resulted in the isolation of Newfoundland, that the inhabitants were starving. The paper received a reply to the effect that the reports were extravagantly sensational. One or two lumber camps were temporarily embarrassed.

Tenement Commission Blamed.

New York, March 24.—The tenement house commission is censured, Mrs. Celie Leiner, the lessee of the House, is declared guilty of gross negligence and the tenement house law is found to have been violated in the verdict of a coroner's jury which yesterday completed an investigation of the tenement house fire, in which 20 lives were lost about a week ago.

15 Malefactors Sentenced.

Amiens, March 24.—The Court of Assizes, after a fortnight's trial, has sentenced 15 among the notorious gang of 26 malefactors who operated as robbers in France and in foreign countries under the leadership of Marius Jacob, to terms of imprisonment ranging from lifelong at hard labor for the ringleaders to five years. The others were acquitted.

Dies at 105, When Asleep.

Toronto, March 24.—Possessed of her faculties till the last. Miss Anne G. Glenholme died at the Aged Women's Home yesterday at the age of 105. Yesterday she did not rise from her bed, and without any illness fell into a sleep from which she never awoke.

Can Eat Anything Now.

How many Dyspeptics can say that?
Or perhaps you are dyspeptic and don't know it.

Have you any of these symptoms?

Variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, rising and souring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, constipation, or are you gloomy and miserable? Then you are a dyspeptic. The cure is careful diet; avoid stimulants and narcotics, do not drink at meals, keep regular habits, and regulate the stomach and bowels with
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS,
Nature's specific for Dyspepsia.

Miss Laura Chicoine, Belle Anse, Que., says of its wonderful curative powers:—"Last winter I was very thin, and was fast losing flesh owing to the run-down state of my system. I suffered from Dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get, but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effect of the medicine, and am now feeling strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after-effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

SIR WILFRID'S SPEECH UPON SECOND READING

The Prime Minister's Argument Justifying the Contention that Separate Schools, in their Present Form, are Guaranteed Under the British North America Act—Interesting History of Legislative Events that Have Led Up to the Present Situation—Reasons for Amendments to the Bill as Originally Drafted.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved the second reading of the bill to establish the government of the Province of Saskatchewan. The motion was put by the Speaker, and both Sir Wilfrid and Mr. R. L. Borden rose at the same time. Sir Wilfrid Laurier suggested that if Mr. Borden wanted simply to put a question he would certainly give way to him, but if it was his intention to address the chair on this measure perhaps he would allow him (Sir Wilfrid) the privilege of a few remarks before he did so. Mr. Borden replied that he took it for granted, from the Premier inclining his head, that he meant he was not going to speak, and that he (Mr. Borden) was to go on.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: — I am glad that this debate is starting in such an auspicious manner, and that both sides sides are apparently in very good humour and in a very good frame of mind for the discussion. (Hear, hear.) When some time ago I presented this bill to the House I stated that there were certain questions connected with it which were of paramount importance, and which in fact were the essence of the whole measure. The first was the number of Provinces to be created; the second was the ownership of the land; the third was the financial terms to be granted, and the last was the education system. My hon. friend the leader of the Opposition rose immediately after me, but confined his remarks for the moment to two of those questions only—the ownership of the land and the school question. With regard to the ownership of the land he did not take any position, but he asserted the position he had often maintained on the floor of this House, as elsewhere, namely, that the land should go to the Provinces to be owned and managed by them. On the school question he was reserved. He did not announce any policy, but very wisely said that, in his judgment, the subject was one which ought to be approached with calmness and moderation. (Hear, hear.) But the press which follows and supports him took, notwithstanding this advice of his and the position he has taken, a very bitter attitude. On the land question it said very little, if it said anything at all, but upon the school question it offered a very violent opposition.

Inflaming the Public Mind.

Perhaps I may not be out of the way in saying that the press which supports him has spared no effort to inflame the public mind upon an ever delicate subject. (Cheers.) In the course of the years I have been in this House many have been the occasions on which Parliament has had to face and to solve questions simple enough in themselves, but complicated and rendered difficult by sudden outbursts of passion. And here again I may say what I had the opportunity of saying some few days ago, that in using this word passion I do not want to convey any offensive sense. I recognise, we all recognise, that passions are very often the outgrowth of noble sentiment; but let this sentiment be ever so meritorious, if it goes beyond a certain line it may become blind, unthinking, unreasoning passion. (Hear, hear.) In 1875 on the New Brunswick school question several parts of the country, now one part, now another, were roused to a high pitch of excitement.

The Constitution His Guide.

Since my conduct on the present occasion has been assailed, perhaps I may be pardoned if I refer for one moment to myself, and if I say that upon every one of these questions I have endeavoured so far as I knew — and successfully, I think—to act on the very principle of the constitution under which we live. (Cheers.) In 1875, being then a young member, I supported the Government of Mr. Mackenzie, who refused to interfere with certain legislation passed by the Legislature of the Province of New Brunswick, of which the Roman Catholic minority complained. (Hear, hear.) That minority complained that this legislation was an invasion of their rights, and forced an intolerable burden upon them. But as it was established that at the time of Confederation New Brunswick had no system of separate schools, it followed, as a consequence, that this Parliament had no jurisdiction in the matter, and the Government of Mr. Mackenzie very properly I think, refused to interfere and disallow the act it was asked to disallow. (Cheers.) In 1880, having become leader of the party to which I belong, I supported the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald, when they refused at the request of a section of our fellow-countrymen, who, I think, now had a majority, and who insisted on what they call Provincial rights, when he refused to disallow the act of the Legislature of the province of Quebec to settle what was known as the Jesuit estates question. In 1896, I opposed the Government of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, when they endeavoured to force upon the Province of Manitoba, a system of schools, which according to high judicial authority, the Province of Manitoba had a right to reject, and which it had rejected by action within the scope of its legitimate authority. (Cheers.) And again in the year 1905, when two provinces are to be brought into the Dominion, in which provinces there is a system of separate schools, such as we have in the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario, I stand again, as I believe, upon the rock of the constitution of Canada—(cheers)—when I say that this Parliament should, according to that constitution, give to the minority in the new provinces the same rights and privileges that are given to the minorities in the House the attempt is sometimes made to cast upon myself, who have always held these views, the charge that at one time or other I had different views. (Cheers.) The other day the member for East Hastings (Mr. Northrup) quoted some words of mine in this House, spoken on this same subject, in which I gave due praise to the Liberal party, especially of the Province of Ontario, for the stand they made in favour of Provincial rights. These are the words of mine that he quoted: — "Sir, I am to-day as firm a believer as I ever was in the doctrine of Provincial rights. I take as much pride as ever I did in belonging to the great party which in the past carried that doctrine to a successful issue, an issue, indeed, so successful that we rank among the advocates of that doctrine to-day the most prominent of the men who opposed it in the past. And when the historian of the future shall refer to the first twenty years of confederation, the brightest page he will have to record will be the page in which he will trace the efforts of the Liberal party to maintain inviolate and intact the liberties and independence of the Local Legislatures. And I am proud to say that the names which shall be revered in the hearts of their countrymen as the names of those who stood foremost in the fight will be the names of Edward Blake and Oliver Mowat."

Abbreviated by the Constitution.

My hon. friend stopped there; but had he read a little further he would have found that I qualified the statement I made by saying that in the matter of education the Provincial rights were not so supreme," but they were abbreviated by the very letter of the constitution. I continued as follows:—"I agree with the Prime Minister in this view,

RIGHT HONOURABLE SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. (Renewed cheers.)

Provincial Rights.

Sir, it seems to me this very proper legislation is opposed throughout the length and breadth of our country—no, I will not say that, but in certain portions of our country — conscientiously and in the name—I might almost say the sacred name—of Provincial rights. But it is remarkable that the men who at this day are insisting the most upon what they call Provincial rights have taken no heed of the fact that in the very letter of the constitution on which they rely there is a provision of exception to Provincial rights wherever there exists in any Province a system of separate schools. Provincial rights are the basis of our constitution. All parties now admit these rights and recognize them, whatever may have been their position in the past. But, sir, it is an old saying that there is no rule without its exception; and in the very letter of the constitution an exception has been made concerning Provincial rights wherever there is a system of separate schools in any Province. (Cheers.) Now, here is the law upon this point. The words which I use now may grate upon the feelings of some, may seem harsh to the ears of others; but, sir, here is the law. Section 93 of the constitution says, "In and for each Province the Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to education."

If the law stopped there, if there were no other words to qualify this general provision, such legislation as is now before the House would never have been introduced. But the law does not stop there; there are words which qualify the general proposition, "subject and according to the following provisions: "Nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to denominational schools which any class of persons have by law in the province at the union."

Never Expressed Different Views.

Here you have the fact proclaimed, the principle laid down, that wherever there is in any province, a system of separate schools, the Provincial rights are abbreviated, and the Legislature can do nothing to prejudicially affect the rights of the minority to have the benefit of the clause. But, though these facts are plain, and plain enough, still at the present moment they seem to be ignored; and even on the floor of this Schools, we are told that this cannot be adopted, because the Provinces referred to in this legislation are not now Provinces, but are simply Territories. If I understand that argument correctly, it means that if the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan already existed and were to come to-day and ask to enter confederation they would come with their system of schools, and that system would apply mechanically, and Parliament would be forced to give it to them; but as they come as Territories they are not to have the same privileges as if they came as Provinces. Now, in the realm of common sense, what does it matter, so far as law and order are concerned, whether these Territories are Territories or Provinces? (Hear, hear.) If by the law we gave them in 1875 they have established a system of schools, is not that system of schools as dear to them as if they had been erected in Provinces? If they have acquired rights thereby, are not these rights as sacred as if they had been erected as Provinces? (Hear, hear.)

Supremacy of Parliament.

Now, sir, it seems to me that that argument cannot bear examination. (Cheers.) But if we are to consider some of the newspaper articles and some of the speeches I have read, what is the supreme reason and argument that is advanced, why the principle of the constitution should not apply to the Territories? It is because Parliament is omnipotent, it is because Parliament is not bound to respect the acts of a former Parliament; it is because that Parliament elected in November, 1904, is not to be bound by the Parliament which sat in this House in 1875. Well, sir, if that view is to be taken, if we are to say that Parliament is supreme, I have nothing more to say. Parliament is supreme, indeed; Parliament is supreme and may even go to the length of disobeying the moral laws which bind all Governments and all men. (Hear, hear.) It is open to any man to break his word, it is open to any man to violate his engagement; it is open to any man to trample under foot his plighted troth. Now, if it is open to any man to do that, it is also open to Parliament; and if it be the view that Parliament is not bound by the acts of any preceding Parliament, that Parliament may violate its plighted troth, then we have a double opportunity on this occasion to signalize ourselves, because not only can we remove from the minority the system of separate schools which they have had for many years, but there is another invasion of Provincial rights which is more far-reaching than the violation of Provincial rights in the matter of education.

ARTISTIC WORK SHOWN AT ROY'S

Attractive Exhibit of High-class Photography.

Mention was made in a recent issue of the Examiner of the new processes in photographic work to be introduced shortly by the Roy Studio in addition to their regular lines of work.

A thorough knowledge of many new and up-to-date methods was acquired by Mr. Fred L. Roy in his recent trip during which he made a special study of the new processes in vogue in the leading American galleries.

Since his return Mr. Roy has been engaged in preparing samples of the new work which yesterday were placed on exhibition in the show cases of the studio, and present a most attractive appearance. The specimens on view embrace many varieties of work, including white ground etching, sepia-collodio-carbon.

The unmounted pictures printed on white full-size paper with plate-mark centre, are specially attractive. These are finished after the manner of the old engravings and artists' proofs. Amongst the other works are two most artistic platinum portraits one of St. Lukes good-looking rector and one of Mr. Gilddon, the popular Director of the Conservatory of Music.

The new work both in the cases and in the studio is being viewed by many delighted visitors.

"DANIEL" ANSWERS REV. DR. CROTHERS

Offers Some Observation on His Letter of Wednesday Last.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Daniel in the lions' den occupied an enviable position compared with "Daniel" between the con-centred antagonism of two of the leading members of the Ministerial Associati n. My ingnocent effort to inject a little consistency into the attitude of these two gentlemen, and others of the association, seems, contrary to my intention, to have been regarded, as a personal attack, which it was not intended to be. Neither Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, in his letter of reply, nor Rev. Dr. Crothers, in his letter, kept to the point which I had wished to impress. Both of these gentlemen made the issue a personal one—they were not individually nor officially responsible for the attitude of the Churches they represent—ominally at least—upon the subject of state aid for church purposes. Rev. Dr. Crothers takes the extraordinary position that members of the Ministerial Association are not responsible for the actions of their predecessors. If "the sins of the fathers are to be visited upon the children" does not that argue the responsibility of the children, especially if the latter still cling to the idols the fathers set up? I showed in my first letter that the Methodist Church was profiting from state (public) aid, contributed by all classes of religeux—in respect of a corporation contribution of the City of St. Thomas to Alma Ladies' College, an educational institution, Methodist in doctrinal teaching, denominational relations and management. Dr. Crothers does not deny that, but says that the "Methodist Church, as a church, is no more responsible than "Daniel"". Will Dr. Crothers deny that the matter of this "taking stock"—as he euphemishently puts it— did not form a subject of discussion in the councils—in a conference — of the Methodist Church, or that the General Superintendent and other high officials did not approvingly urge the acquisition and acceptance of the "state aid" I have mentioned. Now, as I understand it, the governing, the responsible, body of the Methodist Church, is the ministers in conference assembled. Yet, Dr. Crothers, as a member of that body, curtly says "I am not responsible". If Dr. Crothers can school his congregation to escape responsibility for their sins as easily as he throws off responsibility for the acts with which his church relations associate him, his would be a very comfortable ministry for an easy-going sinner to sit under. I adhere to the position taken in my first letter, that the Anglican, Presbyterian and Methodist churches are enjoying state (public) aid for sectarian purposes—the modified form it may assume, doesn't matter, the principle remains—then, the ministers of these communions have no right, regard being had to consistency, to pass resolutions condemnatory of any form of state aid to another communion.

Dr. Crothers says "Even supposing that the church in former days, "made mistakes", surely "Daniel" is not going to hold the ministers of to-day responsible." Certainly. The early church made the mistake of roasting the bodies of heretics for the good of their souls. The church—the clergy, who make laws for the laity, and as such, constitute the church—of latter days, would have been responsible for such a mistake if they had perpetuated it. And the ministers of the denominations which, as mentioned, are in receipt of state aid, are responsible if they do not protest against it. That's the position I took in my first letter, involving the inconsistency I pointed out, and to that position I adhere.

In regard to sectarian divisions, we are told that "upon the great verities (of the Christian religion, I suppose) Protestantism is united and never more so than to-day". Truth, but only part of the truth. If we are to judge by "the great verities", Christian unity becomes far more inclusive. The printed creed of the Methodist Church is, or was, word for word the same as the Apostles' Creed of the Anglican Church and both are literal translations of the Latin forms of the Apostles' Creed in the liturgy of the Roman Catholic Church. So that the reasoning of Dr. Crothers regarding Christian unity proves more far reaching than he perhaps intended.

"The Ministerial Association," Dr. Crothers says, "does not represent the various churches", but is composed of "pastors who are trying to work for the welfare of the community". I grant that this may be their object, in the main, but it's a poor way to effect their object, as in the case which gave rise to these letters, by tying firebrands to the tails of foxy resolutions and turning them loose into the cornfields of the community to kindle the fires of sectarian rancour and to inflame creed against creed in a community where otherwise harmony would prevail and the "welfare of the community" be promoted.

Dr. Crothers calls upon me to apologize. I do apologize—for using a strong name like Sampson to illustrate the weak positions assumed by my clerical correspondents in this little discussion.

Yours, etc.,
DANIEL.

C. P. R. SIDINGS IN COMMITTEE

Solicitor of the Company will be Here To-night

Simcoe Street and Shovel Factory Sidings will be Discussed.

To-night the Council in Committee of the Whole, will meet the solicitor of the C.P.R. to discuss the question of sidings, which that company intend putting in in the near future. One of these is the long-talked-of Simcoe street siding, and will be built primarily to serve the needs of the mill of the Peterborough Cereal Company; and the other is that to run into the works of the Shovel Company. By-laws have already been passed with reference to these sidings, but the aldermen claim that it is next to impossible to place conditions in the by-laws which will be acceptable to the company. The by-laws had been submitted to the Divisional Superintendent with the plans, before they were passed, and were apparently satisfactory, but it appears that when it was submitted to a higher authority, some things were discovered which were not satisfactory to them, and an effort will be made to have the conditions modified.

The matter will form the subject of discussion at the meeting of the committee to-night.

TOWN WON FROM THE COUNTRY

Defeated North Monaghan in Euchre Contest Last Night.

Last night the second of the series of euchre contests being conducted by the Young Conservative Club, took place in the club rooms, and was participated in with interest by those present.

The final result was a win by the players from No. 1 ward, who defeated the North Monaghan men, but the victory was only won by the narrow margin of two points, the the score being 39—41.

There were twelve tables in all, and eight representatives from each ward and North Monaghan. In the first round the score was No. 1 ward, 70; No. 3 ward, 70; No. 5 ward, 80; No. 2 ward, 53; North Monaghan, 76; No. 4 ward, 66.

In the second round the figures were North Monaghan, 92; No. 1 ward 74; No. 5 ward, 67; and in the final round No. 1 ward defeated North Monaghan by 2 points.

The games were witnessed by a large number of spectators.

A "PASSENGER" MAKES PROTEST

Objects to Being Compelled to Wait 15 Minutes in Street Car.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I would like, through your columns to enter a protest against the manner in which the street railway treats its patrons. Last night I was one of a number of passengers on a car running from Auburn to the Exhibition grounds. On the trip north the car stopped at the switch just south of the Matthews Packing House, and waited their exactly fifteen minutes before a car came from the north and it was able to proceed. A person usually takes a car in order that they may reach their destination at least in a reasonably short space of time, but in this case, at least, it was a delusion, and I had to sit in as much patience as I could command for fifteen minutes expecting, but in vain, that each succeeding minute would see the car move off. Surely there is some remedy for this state of affairs, and if there is, why does not the company apply it?

Yours,
PASSENGER.

AN ACCIDENT ON MIDLAND DIVISION

Train From Lindsay to Port Hope Wednesday in a Wreck.

Spread Rail Threw Car on the Ice Over an Embankment.

An accident, which might have been followed with serious results, befel the nine o'clock train from the north Wednesday morning at Port Hope.

The train was going along at the usual rate of speed, and just before reaching the bridge at the file factory dam, on the Midland Division, a brake beam broke, and the rails spread a distance of over six feet. The engine and four of the cars got across all right, but the fifth one was not so fortunate. It was completely overturned and thrown out on the pond a considerable distance. The roof and sides of the car were badly smashed and the contents, consisting of barrelled flour and chop were strewn in all directions. The next three cars also left the track, two of them finding their way to the ice on the pond, and the other overhung the embankment. The train tore along on the sand and ties for some time before it was stopped, and the passengers in the two rear coaches became rather excited. There was a scramble to get out but the train was brought to a sudden standstill and everyone escaped without injury. The ice on the pond is fully three feet thick and this saved the cars and contents from much further damage. The auxiliary from Lindsay was soon at work, and the track was cleared and open for traffic at 2.30 yesterday afternoon.

THE HOCKEY TEAM WAS HONOURED

Members of Peterborough Hockey Team Guests at a Banquet Given in their Honour by Mr. Geo. N. Graham Last Night—Presentation of Elegant Suit Cases by Directors of the Rink—A Team Which Has Proved Itself True Sports--Delightful Festal Gathering Last Night--An Impetus to Hockey Given by Cordial Relationship Between Team and the Directors.

The members of the Peterborough Hockey team and a few of their friends were last night the guests of Mr. Geo. N. Graham, proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, at an informal banquet, and the occasion was a most enjoyable one.

Early in the season Mr. Graham promised that if the team won the intermediate Championship he would tender them a banquet. The team did not succeed in bringing the silverware to Peterborough, but the record of the aggregation, when all the circumstances are considered, is one which reflects great credit on those comprising it and in Mr. Graham's opinion was of such a nature that the players deserved some recognition, which he showed by inviting them to be his guests last night.

That the boys fully appreciated his kindness in this respect, as they have also appreciated the many acts of kindness, which he has shown the team during the season in various ways, was amply evidenced last night.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presence at the banquet of the President and a number of the Directors of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Limited, the owners of the rink, and on behalf of whom Mr. A. H. Stratton, the President, presented all of the players on the team with a handsome leather lined suit case, as an evidence of the appreciation of the Directors, of the achievements of the team during the past season. Mr. Stratton, in making the presentation, gave a witty speech, in which he made a humorous remark concerning each member of the team as he was receiving the gift from the president's hand. All the other Directors present gave short addresses eulogistic of the work of the team during the season.

The menu, which was as below, was one which did credit to the cuisine department of the popular hotel in which it was served, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those who participated in the banquet:—

Blue Points,

Pottage Windsor
Queen Olives Salted Almonds

Fillet of Columbia River Salmon, Vin Blanc
(Pommes Duchess)

Tenderloin of Beef aux Champignons
Boiled Potatoes French Peas

Roman Punch

Roast Spring Turkey, Stuffed, Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes Asparagus on Toast

Lobster Salad

Mince Pie Apple Pie
Strawberry Jelly Walnut Ice Cream
Fruits, Nuts, Raisins, Crackers, Cheese, Cafe Noir

Those who gathered around the festive board were A. A. Hollingshead, president Peterborough Hockey Club; A. H. Stretton, president Peterborough Hockey Club, Limited; Messrs. Jos. Hamilton, T. H. G. Denne, and J. S. Knapman, directors, Peterborough Hockey Club, Limited; C. G. Graham, R. M. Glover, W. Benton, J. K. Moore, H. Sawyer, J. Comstock, F. A. Clarke, W. R. Wasson, Horace Walker, E. A. Ford, W. Meagher, Eugene Hartubise, Ed. Dillon, Geo. Lynch, W. Crowley, W. Cavanah, H. Morgan, Robt. MacEwen, and the representatives of the press.

THE TOASTS.

After full justice had been done the splendid spread, Mr. Hollingshead who acted as toastmaster, in a few words proposed the toast to the King, after referring in an appreciative manner to the fact that through the kindness of Mr. George N. Graham, they were able to gather around the festive board on this occasion. The work of the team representing the Peterborough Hockey Club this season had been most satisfactory. They began the season under great difficulties and discouragement, but they had gone into the game with the proper spirit, and he was safe in saying that the team never wound up a season, where there was a better feeling existing between the members, and when things generally were more satisfactory, than that which was drawing to a close.

"The King" was duly honoured, after which Mr. George Lynch favoured the company with a solo, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Hollingshead expressed the pleasure of the team that the directorate of the Hockey Club, Limited, was represented. The relations between the club and the directorate had been most cordial, and it was a matter for congratulation that they had gotten along so well together. He called upon Mr. Stratton as president of the Board, to address the gathering.

In response, Mr. Stratton said it was a great pleasure to him to be present to do honour to the members of the hockey club, and to partake of the hospitality of Mr. Graham. The team this year had done itself proud. They had started the season with poor prospects, but they had shown that though they might have been called "duds" they could still play the game, and their record this season was one of which they might well be proud, and they had proven that there was no team in the Intermediate O.H.A. that was any better.

Everyone in town has been pleased with the way the team has played this season, and he congratulated them upon having received, and retained, the good will of the public.

As president of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Limited, he wished to thank the members of the team for the assistance they had given to the Directors to make the rink a financial success this season. The season has been a most satisfactory one, from the standpoint of the directors, and the hockey profits this season were the largest in the history of the rink.

It is a commendable fact that the team this year is composed of home brews, and the result of the season's work should be to show that Peterborough can produce hockey players second to none anywhere.

The directors felt, Mr. Stratton said, that they would like to make some slight recognition of the services of the team this season, and with this in view had passed at a recent meeting a resolution, which Mr. Stratton read, and which was as follows:

Peterborough,
March 13th, 1905.

To the Members of the Peterborough Hockey Club,

At a meeting of the Directors of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Ltd., held today, the following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted:—

Resolved,—That we, the Directors of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Ltd., do hereby express to the players representing the Intermediate O. H. A. team, of Peterborough, our appreciation of the splendid sportsmanlike qualities which they have exhibited during this season's games, and of the record which they have achieved.

We recognize the fact that at the opening of the season, the prospects for hockey in Peterborough, were apparently none too bright, but, to the credit of the members of the team, be it said, they went into the game with vigour, and a number of them, at some considerable personal inconvenience, and the result has been far beyond the expectations of even the most optimistic of the team's supporters.

To have gone through the series of games and entered the semi-finals is a record, which, under the circumstances, is nothing short of remarkable, and we wish hereby to offer our congratulations to the team.

It is a matter of satisfaction to the Directors that throughout the entire season there was the best of good feeling between the members of the team and the Directors, and we hope that this harmony of interest will not cease with the close of this season, but that in the future the same spirit will actuate both the former and the latter.

The fact that the championship was not landed is a trifling matter. The main fact is that the team proved themselves true sports and the exponents of the idea that the central aim of sport is not necessarily to win, that is simply an incident, but to play the game for the love of it, and upon their achievement to this ideal, the Directors heartily congratulate the members of the Peterborough hockey team, of 1904-05.

Signed on behalf of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Ltd.,

A. H. STRATTON,
President.
M. J. HUTCHINSON,
Secretary.

In addition to expressing their appreciation, as embodied in the resolution, the directors also wished to give some tangible proof of that appreciation, and this was to take the form of a suit case, one of which Mr. Stretton then presented to each member of the team, with a few appropriate personal remarks to each recipient.

PLAYERS ON PETERBOROUGH HOCKEY TEAM OF 1904-05.

Mr. Hollingshead, on behalf of the Club, thanked Mr. Stratton and the Directors of the rink for the appreciation of the Club's services, which they have expressed so practically. He felt sure that it would tend to increase the cordiality which already existed between the team and the Directors.

THE PLAYING MEMBERS.

Mr. R. M. Glover, on behalf of the playing members of the club, thanked the Directors of the Rink for the way they have looked after the players this year, and he felt sure that their action this year will tend to help hockey in town in the future. In the past he said, the players had the feeling that they were being used to increase the profits of the rink, and that the money which they made for the Rink was going to some person or persons, and that there was little or no recognition being made of the work of the players. This year it has been shown that the directors appreciate the work of the players and it has also been demonstrated that hockey is one of the most profitable features of the rink. If the interest that has been displayed this season in the team, is an evidence, next season the result will be that there will be a strong team here, for many years to come.

Mr. Cavanah, as captain of the team, also gave a brief address thanking the Directors for the evidence of their appreciation of the team's services, and expressing the hope that next season there would again be a strong team.

Mr. Lynch followed with a dialect selection, "Silvillo Satviste Shamrock Sullivan," which was received with warm applause.

Mr. Benton, one of the supporters of the team, and a guest of Mr Graham, added a few words of congratulation to the team, upon the success which they had achieved this season, and added that the credit was all the greater on account of the fact that the team was a purely amateur one. It had been clearly shown, this season that there was plenty of material left to form a team which can win, and next season he hoped that not merely an intermediate but a Senior championship would come to Peterborough.

Mr. Hollingshead referred to the help that the members of the T.A.S. team had rendered the Peterboroughs this season. They had always been ready to help them, and he mentioned Mr. Meagher's name particularly, as one of the players who had helped the team to Lindsay when they were short a man. Mr. Meagher, in response, said that it had been a pleasure to him to be of any little service to the team, and assured them of his continued interest in the welfare of the Peterborough Club.

Mr. R. MacEwan, the newly elected manager of the Peterborough Baseball Club, was called upon and made a few complimentary remarks. He was highly flattered to receive an invitation to attend the banquet. This season, the team had done better by one hundred per cent., than the majority of the people expected them to do. He could not resist the temptation to offer a few remarks concerning baseball, and said that he hoped the baseball team would make as good a showing as the hockey team had made, and if they did he would be more than satisfied.

To Mr. F. A. Clarke fell the honour of proposing the toast to "Our Host," and he did the subject credit. He assured the gathering that it was a great pleasure to him to propose this toast. The Club was deeply indebted to Mr. Graham for the many kindnesses he had shown the team during the season, and he was sure the boys appreciated this kindness thoroughly.

Mr. C. G. Graham on behalf of Mr. Geo. N. Graham, responded briefly. He thanked them for the hearty manner in which they had honoured the toast, and said that anything that his father had done for the team had been a pleasure to him, and that they had accepted his invitation to gather once more in this manner, was also a pleasure to him.

Short addresses were also made by the Directors of the Rink present, Messrs. Denne, Knapman and Hamilton, all of whom congratulated the team upon their success, and assured them that they would have the best wishes of the Directors. Mr. Hamilton referred to the interest that Messrs. Hepner and Robertson had taken in the game in this past here, and thought they deserved great credit for their work. After the toasts to the ladies had been honoured, the gathering dispersed with "Auld Lang Syne."

T. A. S. LACROSSE CLUB MEETING

Plans for the Season Will be Discussed To-night

Two Teams May Amalgamate — All Interested in the Game Invited.

The annual meeting of the T. A. S. Lacrosse Club will be held to-night in the T. A. S. rooms, when plans for the season will be discussed. All interested in the game are invited to be present and those not connected with the T. A. S. team are also invited.

It has not yet been decided whether the T. A. S. will form a team and enter the Trent Valley League or amalgamate with the Athletics and place a team in the C. L. A. This will be discussed at the meeting to-night, when an interesting time is expected. The game will, no doubt, be popular this season again and there are many who would like to see one team representing this town during the coming season. There is no doubt that by an amalgamation of the two teams, a strong aggregation would be formed.

RESIGNATION OF THE SECRETARY

Mr. H. Kingscote Resigns From Office in City League.

Last night the final meeting for this season of the City Hockey League was held when the affairs of the season were wound up. The T. A. S. team were declared winners of the league and the secretary was instructed to write Messrs Lang & Maher, informing them that the the T. A. S. were entitled to the supper which they offered to the champions at the beginning of the season.

Mr. Kingscote, who has, since its inception, filled the office of secretary of the league tendered his resignation on account of the fact that he will be leaving town in the near future.

On motion the resignation was accepted, and it was decided to defer the appointment of a successor until the annual meeting of the league.

The treasurer reported that there was about $10.00 in the treasury of the league.

This was practically all the business transacted at last night's meeting.

STRATHCONAS IN THE CITY LEAGUE

Another Lacrosse Club was Organized Last Night.

The Strathcona Lacrosse Club met in the parlours of the C. P. R. hotel last night, and organized for the coming season. The meeting was splendidly attended, and was very enthusiastic. After the election of officers, and other business was transacted, refreshments were served, and a very enjoyable evening spent. The Strathconas will place a team in the city league, or in the T. V. L.

Following were the officers elected:—
Hon. Pres.—Mr. G. T. Bickerdy.
Hon. Vice.-Pres.—Mr. C. Young.
President—Mr. P. Crowe.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. F. McCarthy.
Manager—Mr. A. McAuliffe.

BASEBALL.

A meeting of the officers of the Peterborough Baseball Club will be held tonight in the Oriental Hotel at 8.15, all officers are requested to be present, and important business will be transacted.

* * * *

Baseball is played practically the world over. The latest recruits to the fame are the Japanese, who are engaging American coachers, for their university nines. A Tokio college is going to send a team to the States this summer, and, if all reports are true, the Japs will show the Americans a few tricks they never dreamed of.

FOOTBALL.

The prospects look pretty bright for the Midland Football League this season. Every day brings news of some team entering the league, and this morning word was received from Harwood that the team from that village, which will be known as the "Rice Lake Tigers" will enter again.

BASKET-BALL.

Don't forget to take in the basketball games to-night at the Y.M.C.A. There are to be two games, the first will be played by the senior team. The second by the Junior School Boys' teams. Everybody who enjoys seeing the best game that is played inside on a floor should be here to-night. Come and see the small school boys play a fast game. Our boys play well and the Port Hope boys if is said play equally as clever. The first game starts at 7.30 p. m.

LACROSSE.

The Trenton Courier says:—"Why not organize a Lacrosse Club here this summer and place a team either in the Trent Valley League or the junior series of the C. L. A.? We have lots of material if we had the proper management."

The Heart's Highway

... By ...
MARY E. WILKINS

Copyright, 1900, by DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

Now Barry Upper Branch belonged to brothers of exceeding ill repute, except for their courage, which no one doubted. They had fought well against the Indians, and also against the government with Nathaniel Bacon some half dozen years before. There had been a price on their heads, and they had been in hiding, but now lived openly on their plantation and were in full feather, and therein lay in a great measure their ill repute.

When my Lord Culpeper had arrived in Virginia, succeeding Berkeley, Jeffries and Chichely, then returned the brothers Richard and Nicholas Barry, or Dick and Nick as they were termed among the people, and as my Lord Culpeper was not averse to increasing his revenues there were those who whispered, though secretly and guardedly, that the two bold brothers purchased their safety and peaceful home dwelling.

Barry Upper Branch was a rich plantation and had come into full possession of the brothers but lately, their father, Major Barry, who had been a stanch old royalist, having died. There were acres of tobacco and whole fields of locust for the manufacture of metheglin, and apple orchards from which cider enough to slack the thirst of the colony was made. But the brothers were far from content with such homemade liquors for their own drinking, but imported from England and The Netherlands and Spain great stores of ale and rum and wines and held therewith high wassail with some choice and kindred spirits, especially on the Sabbath.

Not a woman was there at Barry Upper Branch except for slaves, and such stories were told as might cause a modest maid to hesitate to speak of the place, but Mary Cavendish was as yet but a child in her understanding of certain things. Her blue eyes fixed me with the brave indignation of a boy as she went on. "'Tis a pretty parson," said she again, "and it would be the tavern, just as openly, were it on a week day."

I put my finger to my lip and cast a glance about, for it was enjoined upon the people under penalty that they speak not ill of any minister of the gospel. While I cared not for myself, having never yet held my tongue except from my own choice, yet was I always concerned for this young thing, with her utter recklessness of candor, lest her beauty and her charm might not protect her always against undesirable results, and not only were the slaves within hearing of her voice, but none knew how many others, for those were brave days for tale bearers.

But Mary spoke again, and more sweetly and shrilly than ever. "A pretty parson, forsooth! And to keep company with a pirate captain! Fie! When he looks at me I clutch my gold chain and turn the flash of my rings from sight, and Dick and Nick Barry are the worst rakes in the colony! Naught was ever heard good of them, excepting their following of General Bacon, but a good cause makes not always worthy adherents."

This last she said with a toss of her head and a proud glance, for Nathaniel Bacon was to this maid a hero of heroes, and naught but her sex and her tender years, she being but twelve or so at the time, had kept her from joining his ranks. But indeed in this I had full sympathy with her, though chary of expressing it.

Mistress Mary Cavendish had framed in black in her chamber a silhouette of this hero, and she wore in a locket a lock of his hair, by which she had come in some girlish fashion through a young gossip of hers, a kinswoman of Bacon's, from whose head I verily believe she had pilfered it while asleep. And, more than that, I knew of her and Cicely Hyde strewing fresh blossoms on the tide of the York river, in which Bacon had been buried, on the anniversary of his death and coming home with sweet eyes red with tears of heroic sentiment, which surely be not the most ignoble shed by mankind.

"'Twas the only good ever heard of them," repeated Mistress Mary, "and even that they must need spoil by coming home and paying tithes to my Lord Culpeper that he wink at their disaffection. I trow had I been a man and fought with General Bacon, as I would have fought had I been a man, I would have paid no price therefor to the king himself, but would have stayed in hiding forever."

With that she touched Merry Roger with her whip and was off at a gallop, and I abreast, inwardly laughing, for I well understood that this persistency on other and stirring topics and sudden flight when they failed was to keep me from the subject of the powder and ammunition unladen that morning from the Golden Horn. But she need not have taken such pains, for I while in church had resolved within myself not to question her further lest she tell me something which might do her harm were I forced, for her good, to reveal it, but to demand the meaning of all this from Sir Humphrey Hyde, who I was convinced knew as much as she.

CHAPTER V.

THUS we rode homeward and presently came in sight of the Cavendish tobacco fields overlapped with the fresh green of young leaves like the bosses of a shield, and on the right waved rosy garlands of the locust grove, and such a wonderful strong sweetness of honey came from it that we seemed to breast it like a wave and caught our breaths, and there was a mighty hum of bees like a hundred spinning wheels. But Mistress Mary and I regarded mostly that green stretch of tobacco, and each of us had our thoughts, and presently out came hers. "Master Wingfield, I pray you, whose tobacco may that be?" she inquired in a sudden, fierce fashion.

"Madam Cavendish's and yours and your sister's," said I.

"Nay," said she, "'tis the king's." Then she tossed her head again and rode on and said not another word, nor I, but I knew well what she meant. Since the navigation act it was indeed small profit any one had of his own tobacco, since it all went into the exchequer of the king, and I did not gainsay her.

When we had passed the negro huts, swarming with black babies shining in the sun as sleek as mahogany and all turning toward us with a marvelous flashing of white eyeballs and opening of red mouths of smiles, all at once, like some garden bed of black flowers at the sight of our gay advance, we reached the great house, and Mistress Catherine stood in the door clad in a green satin gown which caught the light with smooth shimmers like the green sheath of a marsh lily.

Her bare, slender arms were clasped before her, and her long, white neck was bent into an arch of watchful grace. Her face was the gravest I ever saw on maid, and not to be reconciled with my first acquaintance with her, thereby giving me always a slight doubt as of a mask, but her every feature was as clear and fine as ivory, and her head proudly crowned with great wealth of hair.

Catherine Cavendish was esteemed a great beauty by both men and women, which shows perchance that her beauty availed her little in some ways, else it had not been so freely admitted by her own sex. However that may be, Catherine Cavendish had few lovers as compared with many a maid less fair and less dowered, and at this time she seemed to have settled into an expectation and contentment of singleness.

She stood looking at her sister and me as we rode toward her, and the sun was full on her face, which had the cool glimmer of a pearl in the golden light, and her wide open eyes never wavered. As she stood there she might have been the portrait of herself, such a look had she of unchanging quiet, and the wonder and incredulity which always seized me at the sight of her to reconcile what I knew with what she seemed was strong upon me.

When her young sister had dismounted and gone up the steps she kissed her, and the two entered, the nail, clinging together in a way which was pretty to see. I never saw such love betwixt two where there was not full sympathy, and that was lacking always and lacked more in the future, through the difference in their two temperaments got from different mothers.

Madam Cavendish was still in her bedchamber, and the two sisters and I dined together in the great hall. Then, after the meal was over, I went forth with my book of Sir William Davenant's plays and sought a favorite place of mine in the woods and stayed there till sundown.

Then, rising and going homeward when the mist floated over the marshlands like veils of silver gauze and the frogs chorused through it in waves of sound and birds were circling above it, calling sweetly with fluting notes or screaming with the harsh trumpet clang of the sea fowl, I heard of a sudden, just as the sun sank below the western sky, a mighty din of horns and bells and voices from the direction of Jamestown. I knew that the sports which a certain part of the community would have on a Sabbath after sundown, when they felt so inclined, had begun. Since the king had been restored such sports had been observed now and then, according to the humor of the governor and the minister and the others in authority.

Laws had been from time to time set forth that the night after the Sabbath the Sabbath being considered to cease at sundown, should be kept with decorum, but seldom were they enforced, and often, as now, a great din arose when the first gloom overspread the earth. However, that night was the 30th of April, the night before May day, and there was more merrymaking in consequence, though May was not here as in England, and even in England not what it had been in the first Charles' reign.

But they kept up their rollicking late that night, for the window of my chamber being toward Jamestown, and the wind that way, I could hear them till I fell asleep. At midnight I awakened suddenly at the sound of a light laugh, which I knew to be Mary Cavendish's. There was never in the maid any power of secrecy when her humor overcame her. She laughed again, and I heard a hushing voice, which I knew to be neither her sister's nor grandmother's, but a man's.

I was up and dressed in a trice, and sword in hand, and out of my window, which was on the first floor, and there was Mistress Mary and Sir Humphrey Hyde. I stepped between them and thrust aside Sir Humphrey, who would have opposed me. "Go into the house, madam," said I to her, and pointed to the door, which stood open.

Then, while she hesitated, half shrinking before me, with her old habit of obedience strong upon her, yet with angry willfulness urging her to rebellion, forth stepped her distant cousin Ralph Drake from behind a white flowering thicket, and demanded to know what that cursed convict fellow did there, and had he not a right to parley with his cousin, and was her honor not safe with her kinsman, and he an English gentleman? I perceived by Ralph Drake's voice that he had perchance been making gay with the revelers at Jamestown, and stood still when he came bullyingly toward me, but at that minute Mistress Mary spoke.

"I will not have such language to my tuter, Cousin Ralph," said she,

Ralph Drake and his shadow

"and I will have you to understand it. He is a gentleman as well as yourself, and you owe him an apology." So saying, she stamped her foot and looked at Ralph Drake, her eyes flashing in the moonlight. But Ralph Drake, whose face I could see was flushed, even in that whiteness of light, flung away with an oath muttered under his breath, and struck out across the lawn, his black shadow stalking before him.

Then Mistress Mary turned and bade me good night in the sweetest and most curious fashion, as if nothing unusual had happened, and yet with a softness in voice as if she would fain make amends for her cousin's rough speech, and fluttered in through the open door like a white moth, and left me alone with Sir Humphrey Hyde.

Sir Humphrey was but a lad to me, scarcely older than Mistress Mary, for all his great stature. He stood before me, scraping the shell walk with the end of his riding whip. Both men had ridden hither, and I at that moment heard Ralph Drake's horse's hard trot.

"If you come courting Mistress Mary Cavendish, 'tis for her guardians, her grandmother and elder sister to deal with you concerning the time and place you choose," said I, "but if it be on any other errand"—

"Good God, Harry," broke in Sir Humphrey, "do you think I am come to love-make in such fashion and with Ralph Drake at my heels, though I swear he fastened himself to me against my will?"

I waited a moment. Sir Humphrey had been much about the place since he was a mere lad and had had, I believe, a sort of boyish good will toward me. Not much love had he for books, but I was accounted a fair shot and had some knowledge of sports of hunting and fishing and had given him some lessons, and he had followed me about some few years before, somewhat to the uneasiness of his mother, who could not forget that I was a convict.

I cast about in my mind what to say, being resolved not to betray Mary Cavendish, even did this man know what I could betray, and yet being resolved to have some understanding of what was afoot.

"A man of honor includes not maidens in plots, Sir Humphrey," said I finally.

Sir Humphrey stammered and looked at me and looked away again. Then suddenly spake Mistress Mary from her window overhead, set in a climbing trumpet vine, and so loudly and recklessly that had not her grandmother and sister been on the farther side of the house they must have heard her. "'Tis not Sir Humphrey included the maid in the plot, but the maid who included Sir Humphrey," said she. Then she laughed, and at the same moment a mockbird trilled in a tree.

"Why do you not tell Master Wingfield that the maid and not you nor Cousin Ralph is the prime mover in this mystery of the cargo of furbelows on the Golden Horn?" said she, and laughed again.

"I shield not myself behind a maiden's skirts," said Sir Humphrey grimly.

"Then," cried Mary, "will I tell thee, Master Wingfield, what it means. He cannot betray us, Humphrey, for his tongue is tied with honor, even if he be not on our side. But he is on our side, as is every true Englishman." Then Mary Cavendish leaned far out the window, and a white lace scarf she wore floated forth, and she cried with a great burst of triumph and childish enthusiasm: "I will tell thee what it means, Master Wingfield; I will tell thee what it means. I am but a maid, but the footsteps of General Bacon be yet plain enough to follow in this soil of Virginia, and—and—the king gets not our tobacco crops!"

HOW TO CURE A TERRIFIC HEADACHE

Many people suffer with an aching head week after week, occasionally getting relief from so-called headache powders and nerve-stupefying drugs. They never get cured because they start wrong. Such people should do a little common-sense thinking. Headache is simply the result, a warning signal, of a far more serious trouble. Usually it means bad blood, poisoned by an inactive or sluggish liver. Headache sufferers are often nervous, cross and irritable. Their sleep is disturbed and digestion impaired. The liver doesn't do its work right, and the bile elements poison both nerve and brain. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure headache by removing the cause. They are Nature's true laxative, and give tone to liver activity, are a positive specific for biliousness and a torpid liver. Get your liver right by using Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and your head won't ache, your nerves won't weaken, nor your food distress you. They cure headache, constipation, and biliousness in one night. Price 25 cents at all dealers.

When life's autumn comes, women, worn out by the burdens of motherhood, yet shrink from that second "change of life" which will banish these burdens forever. They fear a change in form, in feature, in personal attractiveness. Such fears are largely warranted by the effects which this change produces in many women. But no woman need let these fears fret her.

Those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription do not suffer from the change of life either in face, form or feelings as do other women. This fact is due to the intimate connection of the general health with the health of the organs peculiarly feminine. By preserving the health of these organs, and relieving the system from the debilitating drains, ulcers and inflammations which sap its health, "Favorite Prescription" paves the way for this natural change to come in Nature's way, without the loss of capacity to please others or personal inability to enjoy life.

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' brought me safely through that difficult period, called 'change of life,'" writes Mrs. Mary Sommarstrom, of 344 E. Ankeny St., Portland, Oregon. "This change made a very unpleasant disturbance through my entire system. I had hot and cold flashes, sick headaches, became excited, flustrated, nervous and irritable. My appetite was fitful and for days I was unable to eat a fair meal. My aunt recommended me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it made a great change for the better. Within two weeks the unpleasant feelings had disappeared. I have a husband and eight children so have the care of a large family but was able to attend to my household duties without any difficulty and passed the period without any more trouble. I can recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' as a grand medicine for women."

You may be willing that somebody else shall say that their baby is "just as good" as yours, but you don't want that baby substituted for yours. Let dealers say what they like about other medicines being "just as good" but don't let them substitute anything for "Favorite Prescription." It is absolutely unequaled.

Could Not Sleep at Night.

Many people are unaware of having anything wrong with their heart or nerves till some little excitement or overwork makes them feel faint and dizzy, or perhaps simply going up or down stairs causes dizziness and specks to float before the eyes. People troubled in this way should heed the warning, and not fail to take treatment before something more serious occurs.

For all heart and nerve troubles there is nothing to equal

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

We do not claim that they will cure chronic heart disease, but we do claim that they will strengthen the weak heart, and build up the shaky nerve system.

Here is what Mrs. Sidney Hoffman, Hillside, Ont., says:—

"I was troubled greatly with my heart, and was so very nervous that the least little thing startled me.

"My appetite was very poor; I could not sleep at nights, and was dizzy most of the time. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am very pleased to say that they did me a wonderful lot of good."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All druggists, or mailed direct.

SIR WILFRID'S SPEECH UPON SECOND READING

If it be true that in 1875 Parliament introduced separate schools into the Northwest Territories, and gave to the minority the privilege of those schools, it is equally true that in the year 1881 this Parliament forever abbreviated the powers of those new Provinces in the matter of taxation; it is equally true that in 1891 this Parliament decided by an act passed here, passed against the protest of the minority in that Parliament, decreasing for all time to come—not for one year only, or ten years, or one generation, but for all time to come—that the C. P. R. and all stations, station grounds, workshops, buildings, yards and other property, rolling stock and appurtenances required and used for the construction and working thereof, and the capital stock of the company, should forever be free from the power of taxation by those provinces. It was decreed also that in the Provinces no municipal body created by the Provinces could levy taxes upon the C.P.R., its stock, its buildings, its workshops and its capital stock. (Hear, hear.) Sir, is not that an invasion of Provincial rights more far-reaching in its consequence than the invasion of Provincial rights which is complained of in the matter of education? (Cheers.) But does anybody in this House think of removing from the C.P.R. the powers and immunities which have been granted to that company? Does anybody in this House think for a moment of giving to those new Provinces the power to levy taxation upon the C.P.R.? No, we respect our engagements. Then I ask, if we respect our engagements in the one case, why should we not respect our engagements in the other case? (Hear, hear, and cheers.)

Premier Haultain's Letter.

But, sir, that is not all. I find no better testimony in favour of the principle which is embodied in this bill than the letter which was written to me some days ago by Mr Haultain, Premier of the North west Territories; I want no better testimony of the soundness of the position which we have taken than the ipsissima verba contained in Mr Haultain's letter, and which I will read to the House:—

"The territory included within the boundaries of these proposed Provinces was admitted into the union on July 15, 1870, and immediately upon the creation of these Provinces the provisions of section 93 of the British North America Act, 1867, became, as a matter of indefeasible right, a part of their constitution.'

That is to say, as a matter of "indefeasible right," the provision of section 93 of the British North America Act becomes part of the constitution of the Northwest Territories Now, let me repeat, what is the dispensation of section 93 of the British North America Act? "In and for each Province the Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to education, subject and according to the following provision:- (1) Nothing in any such law should prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to denominational schools which any class of persons have by law in the Province at the union."

Therefore, if I understand the English language, it means this, according to Mr. Haultain's own admission: that in this matter of education the rights and privileges of the minority are secured against any prejudicial legislation which might be passed.

A Different Interpretation.

Now, sir, there is this difference between Mr. Haultain and myself with regard to this point: Mr. Haultain argues that this section 93 applies automatically; that this House has nothing to do but simply admit the Province, and immediately it becomes subject to section 93, whereas the position we take is, while the provision is embodied in section 93 it has to be introduced legislatively by this Parliament into the constitution of the Northwest Territories Upon this point I might go further. On a previous occasion I spoke at some length in this House, and I will not traverse the same ground again. However, it may not be inopportune on this occasion to inquire, What is the history of clause 93 in the British North America Act? How did it come into the Canadian constitution and become a part of the British North America Act? Sir, we live in an age of such intense excitement we are moving with such rapidity our lives are so much engaged in business occupations, that history is very soon forgotten, and what was the event of to-day is forgotten history to-morrow. It may not, therefore, be inopportune to look into the causes which led to the introduction of this section 93 in the British North America Act. It was introduced on the suggestion of Sir A. T. Galt, in the interests of the Protestant minority of the Province of Quebec, at a time when Sir A. T. Galt was champion and representative of that minority in the old Parliament of Canada.

The Quebec Resolutions.

I have quoted on a former occasion, and I may be permitted to quote again, the language which formed the embryo of the Quebec resolutions. The embryo of section 93 of the British North America Act, which we find in the Quebec resolutions, was section 43 of the Quebec resolutions, which concluded as follows: "Education, saving the rights and privileges which the Protestant or Catholic minorities in both Canadas may possess as to their denominational schools at that time when the union goes into operation."

That was section 43, which guaranteed separate schools, both in Ontario and in Quebec, but did not go further. Now, sir, it is a matter of history that the Protestant minority in Quebec at that time was not altogether satisfied with the system of separate schools. They wanted the system extended and improved, and they wanted this to be done before Confederation, so that under the new constitution the rights and privileges secured to the Protestant minority could not be interfered with by the new Legislature of Quebec. Mr. Galt, who at that time, as I said was the champion of the Protestant minority in the Province of Quebec, and was also a member of the Government of that day, spoke upon that subject at a meeting held in the town of Sherbrooke, which he represented in Parliament. In the month of October, 1864, just a few months after the Quebec resolutions had been adopted by the conference, Mr. Galt used the following language: "He would now endeavour to speak somewhat fully as to one of the most important questions, perhaps the most important, that could be confided to the Legislature, the question of education. This was a question in which in Lower Canada they must all feel the greatest interest and in respect to which more misapprehension might be supposed to exist in the minds, at any rate, of the Protestant population, than in regard to anything else connected with the whole scheme of confederation. It must be clear that a measure would not be favourably entertained by the minority of Lower Canada, which would place the education of their children and the provision of their schools wholly in the hands of a majority of a different faith. It was clear that in confining the general subject of education to the Local Legislature, it was absolutely necessary it should be accompanied with such restrictions as would prevent injustice in any respect from being done to the minority. Now, this applied to Lower Canada, but it also applied, and with equal force, to Upper Canada and the other Provinces, for in Lower Canada there was a Protestant minority, and in the other Provinces a Roman Catholic minority. The same privileges belonged to the one of right here as belonged to the other of right elsewhere. There could be no greater injustice to a population than to compel them to have their children educated in a manner contrary to their own religious belief. It had been stipulated that the question was to be made subject to the rights and privileges which the minorities might have as to their Separate and Denominational Schools. There had been grave difficulties surrounding the Separate School question in Upper Canada, but they were all settled now, and with regard to the Separate School system of Lower Canada it was the determination of the Government to bring down a measure for the amendment of the school laws before confederation was allowed to go into effect. He made this statement because, as the clause was worded in the printed resolution, it would appear that the school law as it at present existed was to be continued."

Powers of the Minority Increased.

Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir Alexander Galt undertook that the school law would be amended in the following session. In the following session—that is, the session of 1865—resolutions were discussed in the Legislature of Canada, but no school bill was introduced to amend the laws of Lower Canada. Complaint was made to the House by Mr. Holton and others, and a measure was promised the following year. In the following year—that was the year before confederation—a school bill was introduced giving to the Protestant minority much more power than they had had then, and giving to them the powers which they have now, and which have been given to them by the Legislature of the Province of Quebec. Amongst the dispositions of that measure was the following:—"The superior education will comprise the universities and the classical and industrial colleges or seminaries, and the Provincial aid hereto, as well as that for academies, shall be annually divided between the Roman Catholics and Protestant institutions in proportion to the respective Roman Catholic and Protestant population, according to the three last censuses." Another section reads:—"Whenever four of the Protestant members of the Council of Public Instruction of Lower Canada shall be of opinion that the management of the Protestant schools should be distinct and separate from that of the Catholic schools they may make known that opinion under their respective signatures to the Governor through the Provincial Secretary."

Sir Alex. Galt's Bill Withdrawn.

But a strange thing happened in the Legislature of Canada. It was at the time when we had a representation from Lower Canada and a representation from Upper Canada. A similar bill was introduced immediately by Mr. Bell, the member for Russell, to give similar rights to the minority in the Province of Upper Canada. This was strongly resisted, and so strongly was it resisted that the two bills were withdrawn. Thereupon Mr. Galt resigned his position as a member of the Government of the day, because he had not been able to improve the situation of the minority to which he belonged by legislation before the act of confederation came into operation. Then what took place? Of course there was a great deal of commotion at that time, and the Protestant minority of Quebec felt disinclined to enter into confederation unless their rights were secured as they thought they ought to be secured. Mr. Galt was appointed to go to England with Sir John Macdonald, Sir George Cartier and others, to frame the act which was to be the act of confederation. At that time The Montreal Gazette was the principal, as to-day it is the most important, organ of the Conservative party. It spoke especially for Mr. Galt, and on October 24, 1866. The Montreal Gazette contained the following article:—"We have much pleasure in announcing that during the recent protracted sittings of the Cabinet at Ottawa the subject of the position of the Lower Canada educational question was very fully considered. The Ministry were, we understand, desirous that Mr. Galt should be appointed a delegate to represent the interest of the British population; but that gentleman felt that he would not accept unless he was assured as to the views of the Government on the points that so seriously concern this countrymen and co-religionists, and which so deeply roused their feelings. We are informed that the Ministry entirely satisfied Mr. Galt of their determination to give practical effect to the pledges given in Parliament, and that gentleman has in consequence accepted the appointment of delegate for the express purpose of watching over these important interests, as well as of lending his aid to the consummation of the measure of confederation. We feel that our Protestant friends may rest assured that the man who resigned the honours and emoluments of office on this question will not, as delegate, be found wanting to his trust as their representative. And we hail with great satisfaction the approaching settlement of a question which might have been fraught with so much danger to the kindly and cordial relations which have of late so happily existed between the people of different races and creeds in Canada."

His Views Embodied in B. N. A. Act.

Mr. Galt went to England as a delegate. We know as a matter of history, that he contributed to the drafting of section 93 of the B. N. A. Act, and those of us who have read Mr. Pope's book upon the debates preliminary to confederation, know that, as a matter of history, the third and fourth sub-sections of section 93, the sub-sections which give the right of appeal, are even in his own hand-writing. Therefore it is that we have section 93 in its present form. (Hear., Hear.)

Evidence of the Montreal Gazette.

As to that, let me call the attention of the House to another extract from the Montreal Gazette of March 2nd, 1867. Either that day or the day before, the Montreal Gazette had published the whole text of the bill which afterwards became the confederation act, and it accompanied it with the following comments: "Few questions have excited a more lively interest in this country than the education of children in public schools, or perhaps it would be more accurate to say the appropriation of taxes for that purpose. We need not repeat the particulars of the agitation on that subject, which commenced with the promulgation of the resolutions of the conference of Quebec and resulted in Mr. Galt resigning his seat in the Cabinet. The short of the story is, all this led to an agreement on the part of the Canadian Government to advise Her Majesty's Ministers to insert in the union bill the provisions of which the public are undoubtedly aware. That was the agreement to which we referred in October last as having been satisfactory to Mr. Galt, and on the strength of which he consented to become a delegate to London. The public may find in these provisions in the bill the proof of the statement made by us, which some of our contemporaries, without any evidence, undertook to call in question. Before the question of confederation was mooted the constant cry on the part of a portion of the Lower Canada Protestant minority was, 'Give us the same privileges as those enjoyed by the Upper Canada minority!' Well the bill, as it stands, in terms provides that the minority in Lower Canada shall have precisely the same privileges as the minority in Upper Canada. And, further, that the minority in all the provinces shall have the right of appeal to the general Parliament. The bill in this form, undoubtedly, in our opinion, will become the fundamental law of the country, forming a part of its political constitution; and as such it must be accepted. It affords guarantees as well in immediate practice, as in ultimate resort."

Other Minorities Provided for.

Well, sir, Mr. Galt was too great a man not to stipulate for other minorities than that which he was stipulating for, the minority to which he belonged. (Cheers.) Mr. Galt was not satisfied to have these guarantees under the constitution for the minority of Quebec, but he put them in the terms which have been read a moment ago, so that they could apply to any minority in any Province, under any condition under which a system of separate schools existed. It is in obedience to that order of the constitution that we have inserted the clause which I read a moment ago.

Changes in the Clause.

Now, sir, a word as to the changes we have made in that clause. I stated the other day that we propose to make a change, and we have given notice of an amendment which which we intend to move to clause 16. What is the reason of this change? It is a fair question to ask, and is a question to be answered. Sir, we have taken the ground on more than one occasion, we again take this ground, and it is the ground upon which we stand in dealing with the present case, that wherever a system of separate schools exists that system comes into force and is constitutionally entitled to the guarantees which are embodied in section 93 of the British North America Act. Be that system much, be it little, whatever it is, it is entitled to these guarantees. (Cheers.) That is the position we take, and when we introduced section 16, as it is in the bill, we had no other intention than to give to the minority the rights and privileges to which they were entitled under the law and which they have to-day. But, sir, it has been objected to us that the language used in section 16 was too broad, too vague, and that if it were adopted it would create trouble and confusion instead of certainty as to the rights of the minority. The first paragraph of section 16, as it stands in the bill is that the act of 1875 is reproduced in toto.

Act of the Territories.

But, sir, an event occurred some fourteen or fifteen years ago which has to some extent limited that act. Some fourteen years ago the Legislature of the Territories passed a law which, in the opinion of the minority, abridged the rights conveyed to them by the act of 1875. They complained to the Federal Government at Ottawa. They made representations to the Government of that day; and asked the disallowance of that act as an infringement upon their privileges as secured to them by the law of 1875. Sir John Thompson, who was then Minister of Justice, examined the question, and refused to disallow the act. (Hear, hear.) He admitted, rather, that the act was no infringement on the privileges conveyed to the minority, but he stated that, as this was a consequence only following a similar act, or rather continuing a similar act passed some three or four years before, as to which no complaint had been made, and which was, therefore, in force, he would not advise disallowance, and he allowed the act to go into force. Under such circumstances the law of the Territories went into force, and it has been in force now for thirteen or fourteen years. Section 16 is now the law of the country, which has been in force for thirteen or fourteen years, and which has given general satisfaction. (Hear, hear.)

To Make Law Clear and Certain.

Under such circumstances, if we were to re-enact section 73 of the act, it was possible that we would create confusion, and that there would be lawsuits to determine the condition of the law. Under such circumstances we thought it was preferable to have the law made absolutely certain, and in order to do that we have incorporated the ordinances under which the law as it is to-day has been established. It may be disappointing to some, but we believe that on the whole, it is preferable to have a clear understanding on this subject, so that the minority shall have the privilege of exercising control over their schools, as they have to-day, and so that it shall be absolutely clear and pronounced as to what is intended by the Parliament of Canada if it passes this legislation. (Cheers.) That is the the reason why we have done this.

The Law Adopted.

The law of the Territories on this question is established in three ordinances — chapter 29, of 1901, chapter 30, of 1901, and chapter 31 of 1901. Chapter 29 organized a system of schools, and this organization retained to the minority the privileges which they have of separate schools. Chapter 30 regulates the power of assessment over the municipalities for contributions to education, and chapter 31 regulates the aid and contributions to be made to the different schools in conforming to the law. We have introduced into the amendment chapter 29 and chapter 30. We have not introduced chapter 31, which regulates the aid and grants to be given to schools, because we have thought it preferable simply to lay down the principle, putting no burden upon the Territories, nor saying how they are to dispose of their money, not telling them what we shall do, but simply stating that when all schools conform to the law, whether they are separate schools or public schools all shall be treated equally, and there shall be no discrimination between them. That is the reason of the legislation I have introduced. (Cheers.)

Constitution a Compromise.

Upon this occasion I have nothing more to say, but in moving this bill, as I now do, for the second reading, I want to impress on the House once more that we are acting strictly in accordance with the principles involved in the constitution of Canada. I want to impress once more the fact that the constitution of Canada has been, and is, a compromise between different elements in order to produce a great result. It is a compromise in order to unite different heterogeneous elements. There are differences of power, there are exceptions, but all this diversity is intended to promote unity. (Renewed cheers.) Let me say one last word. We have done pretty well so far in the development of our national institutions, but we have not yet reached the maximum; we have not reached the end yet. We may have a great deal still to do, and I hold that we ought always to be ready for the task, and I am sure that I am not asking too much, that that it will not injure anyone, that it will not do any harm, but, on the contrary will do much good, if, wherever we are called upon to apply the principles of the constitution, we apply them, not in any carping sense, but in a broad and generous spirit. (Prolonged cheers.)

THE JAPS ARE CHANGING BASE

Kuroki Endeavouring to Cut off Russian Retreat to Harbin--Women and Children Leave--Russian Rearguard Occupies Line of Fairly Strong Natural Positions 34 Miles From Gunshue Pass--May Have Been Outflanked, But Will Attempt to Draw Russian Hand.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, (102 miles north of Tie Pass), March 25.—The women and children are reported to be leaving Harbin and the business houses are closing. The stationary hospitals are being moved back and the entire railroad east and south of Tsitsihar is being prepared for the next stage of the war.

The conviction exists that Gen. Kuroki is now directed toward the northeast for the investment of Vladivostock, changing his base for that purpose to Gensen. While the Manchurian Railway is employed to supply the main army in its advance on Harbin, the Japanese seem still partial to the plan of keeping close to their sea base, and instead of following the Russians some of the military experts are of the opinion that the Japanese may relieve the pressure upon Gen. Linevitch, and thus induce him to concentrate in the region between Santoupu and Tie Pass for another battle.

May Be Outflanked.

St. Petersburg, March 25.—The Russian rearguard is now occupying a line of fairly strong natural positions, thirty-four miles south of Gunshu Pass, the centre being the railroad village of Sipinghai, and the flanks covering the roads on either side, which apparently it is the intention to defend long enough to force the Japanese to show their hands. The Russians may, however, have been outflanked and have no intention of making a serious stand, especially as all the correspondents continué to report rumors of wide turning operations on both flanks, indicating a probable basis in fact. The correspondents believe a resumption of hostilities on a grand scale and an important battle are improbable inside of three months.

On to Vladivostock.

Port Said, March 25.—Admiral Nebogatoff's division of the Russian second Pacific squadron, consisting of a battleship, four cruisers and four transports, arrived here yesterday. The vessels are not coaling and are only taking moderate supplies on board. The transports are heavily laden with stores. The division, which is said to be bound for Jibutil and Vladivostock will probably proceed to-day.

RUSSIA IN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Will Deal Directly Through French Minister at Tokio.

Paris, March 25.—The prospects of peace between Russia and Japan assumed a more definite and almost a tangible aspect yesterday as the result of the announcement of the resumption of negotiations for a Russian loan.

Coupled with the announcement of the resumption of the loan negotiations came a strong intimation from official and diplomatic quarters that steps looking toward peace had been definitely taken by Russia. The foreign office declined to confirm a report that France was likely to be the intermediary, but the diplomats who are actively interested for the first time gave credit to the statement that Russia decided to seek peace. It was said in these quarters that Russia would deal directly with Tokio, through the French minister who has charge of the Russian interests there.

Russia's chief pre-occupation is said to be avoidance of having peace plans arouse the animosity of the powerful war element at home. The receipt of an official despatch at St. Petersburg on March 20, saying that the Japanese were approaching Vladivostock, is said to have induced the determination to seek a pacific solution. On the other hand, it is insisted that Japanese proximity to Vladivostock promises to be a chief obstacle in the way of peace, as diplomats conversant with the situation say that Japan will seek to avert peace until she possesses Russia's only outlet to the Pacific coast.

The Campaign For Peace.

St. Petersburg, March 25.—The papers are supporting the campaign for peace and are beginning to print quite openly the history of the intrigues in the Far East for the protection of private interests, devoting special attention to M. Bezobrazoff's connection with the Yalu timber concessions. The publications include a secret memorandum of Gen. Kuropatkin pointing out that war would be inevitable if Russian interests were extended into Corea. The necessity for increased taxation to meet the expenses of the war is recognised, and the Minister of Finance has submitted projects to the Council of the Empire, including taxes on beer, matches, etc., and a graduated tax on the salaries of Government officials, beginning with 1 per cent. on salaries of over $300, which altogether will realise about $11,000,000. There is also a proposition for a general income tax, which undoubtedly would prove the most popular form of raising money, as it would bear heaviest on those able to pay.

DOUBLE BURGLARY ON LONDON STREET

Residence of Mr. P. Simons Jr. and Mr. W. J. Morgan Entered

Occurred Between 7 and 9 O'clock Thursday Evening—Nothing of Value Secured.

Between seven and nine o'clock on Thursday evening, the residences of Mr. P. Simons, jr., and Mr. W. J. Morgan, London street, were entered by burglars, who thoroughly ransacked both houses, which are situated side by side.

Very little booty was secured, as fortunately no cash, which was evidently the chief object of their search, was left in an accessible place.

The members of both families were absent at the time of the occurrance, having gone out about 7 o'clock and returned about 9.30.

The only articles taken by the marauders were about forty of fifty cents in small silver, taken from a wrist bag, some old coins from Mr. Simons' collection, and a bracelet, the property of Mr. Morgan's daughter. Almost every drawer in both houses was ransacked in the search.

The houses were evidently entered through the front doors, though a window in the shed at the rear of Mr. Morgan's house was smashed. The back door, however, was locked, and, it is probable, resisted their efforts to break through.

The first evidence of the burglary was not discovered till Friday morning when it was noticed that the carpets and furniture in both houses were strewn with wax. Upon investigation it was found that a wax candle had been taken from Mr. Simon's house and was apparently used by the marauders to furnish light during their operations. The blinds on the front windows of both houses had been pulled down.

No clue as to the perpetrators has yet been discovered.

WORKMEN WANT CHEAPER FARES

Petition Presented to Street Railway Company Last Night.

Rates Cannot Be Reduced at Present—Preparations Being Made for Summer Traffic.

A petition from the working men of Peterborough was presented last night on their behalf to Mr. J. H. Larmouth, general manager of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company by Messrs. Dawson and Curtis. The petition, which was signed by 935 employees of twelve leading manufacturing establishments of the town, requested that the Company issue workingmen's tickets during limited hours at the rate of ten for 25 cents.

The petition is as follows:—

To the Peterborough Radial Railway Company:

Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned workingmen of the town of Peterborough desire to represent to you the need there is for a better rate being given to workingmen on the street cars on your lines.

A large number of employees in the different factories, and others employed in various occupations, would find it a great convenience to be able to use the cars in going to and coming from work. We appreciate the arrangements made to give good service so as to meet our needs in the regulation of the service, and this encourages us to believe that you desire to meet the requirements of the traffic in every way.

But the rate charged for fares at present are such as to prevent us from using the cars. The lowest rate we can secure is 4 cents per ticket, and that only when a dollar's worth is purchased. Otherwise we have to pay 5 cents for 3 tickets. This rate is a heavier tax than we can bear, and consequently we cannot make any regular use of the cars. We, therefore, respectfully petition you to make a rate, for working persons' tickets to be used in limited hours, of 10 tickets for 25 cents. We would suggest that the hours be from 6 to 8 a. m., 12 noon to 2 p. m. and 5 to 7 p.m. At this rate we could afford to use the cars and they would be of great service to us.

We believe that it would be of financial advantage to your company to issue such tickets, for the increased traffic would bring in much additional revenue with little or no additional expense in operating the system.

We hope that you will be able to see your way clear to grant the prayer of this petition.

Mr. Larmouth in reply did not think it would be possible to accede to the request at the present time, though the matter will receive careful consideration. The rate asked for he considered to be cheaper than that offered in any city in America, and could not be made profitable at such an early period in the Company's operations. He also pointed to the concession which had been recently made by the Company in accepting the six for twenty-five cents tickets at all hours throughout the day. The heavy expenses under which the Company has been during the winter months in the removal of snow from the tracks, was also commented upon, and the present season following upon this was one in which the possibility of instituting reduced rates was most difficult. He was hopeful that at an early day a reduction for the benefit of the working men may be made, even though not to the extent petitioned for, and the company would be pleased to do it as soon as it was found practicable.

Mr. Larmouth this morning stated to the Examiner that several improvements would be made in the company's service in order to meet the requirements of the summer traffic. The vacant lot at the end of the car tracks at Jackson Park has been purchased, and a loop will be built. An additional car will also be placed upon this line in the course of two or three weeks.

Many attractions, it is expected, will be added to the park during the summer season, and it will doubtless be a most popular resort during the hot weather. Band concerts and other entertainments will be provided.

The work of preparing the new park at the south end will be pushed forward as speedily as possible, as soon as it is rendered possible by the state of the ground.

One of the cars recently purchased by the company will be running by the end of next week.

CONSISTENCY DEMANDS CONSISTENCY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — I have been reading of late the little discussion relating to the actions of the Ministerial Association, and I was pleased to see that the correspondence has been conducted in so agreeable a spirit as was done. I quite agree with "Daniel" that the clergymen are inclined, and seemingly disposed, to rush into resolutions, with an apparent unfamiliarity with the conditions. During the past year or two I have listened to sermons or addresses from the pulpit relating to licenses, the license law and the temperance question generally. I have no fault to find with what was said, but I could easily see that the time chosen for these addresses were so selected as to show more of political interest than interest in temperance reform, for its own sake. If the Ministerial Association wants to do what Dr. Crothers says it exists for—"the public welfare"—if it wants to dabble in politics, and matters outside the Gospel nature of their calling, they might find ample room for activity in looking after the enforcement of the license law. If they want to do something of real good, let them be after the license commissioners, and the authorities, in order to see that the qualifications and equipment of hotels is up to the legal mark, that only those hotels are licensed which have the legal accommodation, and that places which provide no accommodation, except for the members of the family, and only exist to dispense drink, are dealt with according to law, and let them act in time. There might not be any party capital in such an action, but if members of the Association want to "promote the welfare of the community," here's a home chance. Come, gentlemen, as "Daniel" demands, be consistent. The people are as far into the mill-stone as the man who pricks it.

Yours, etc.,
Consistency.

THAT COLLEGIATE TOWER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Some days ago I saw in your paper a picture of the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute, and a few days after a letter of some one who thought the proposed new Institute should have a tower like the St. Thomas school—and the writer intimated that in his opinon the St. Thomas school was handsomer than our proposed Institute. Now, sir, I cannot realise that a tower is required, nor do I think a tower would add to the beauty of our new Institute. There is one on the original High School here, but I have yet to learn that it has served any useful pupose. 'Tis true that by suspending in a tower a very long pendulum the revolution of the earth on its axis may be demonstrated, but even those of the Vatican now admit that poor old Galileo was right and all the world now admits that "it do move". You remember the little girls—one boasted that her father had a verandah on his house, but the other put her to shame by showing that her father's house was embellished with a mortgage. Perhaps the writer of that letter is ambitious on that line. A tower would certainly cost much and only add to the mortgage. Some day we will have a City Hall on the Central Park; it will no doubt have a clock tower, if so, one tower on that ground will be all that good taste would call for.

I have examined Mr. Belcher's plans —they certainly disclose a very handsome and a very complete building and if constructed this town will always be justly proud of it. I think the trustees are right in erecting a new Institute and they are right in building one that fifty years from now will bring to them as much credit as the original one is now to the trustees of that early day.

Yours.
D.

BRING BACK THE DAYS OF YOUTH

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will Make You Eat Well, Feel Strong and Energetic and Gain in Weight.

When a man eats three square meals every day and enjoys them; when he is picking up in weight and feels strong and energetic: that is when life is worth living.

You hear some men say that these are days of youth. But if they are there is no excuse for anyone feeling old. If you give your stomach the attention it requires it will digest the food you eat and the rest will follow naturally. And you can easily give your stomach that attention by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are the greatest stomach helpers of the age. Hear what Mr. H. Bailey, of 256 Patrick Street, Winnipeg, says of them:—

"It is with pleasure," says Mr. Bailey, "that I inform you of the great benefit I received from Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets which I have been taking for the last few months, during which time I have gained in weight eight pounds.

"Before I began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets no matter what I ate I did not seem to gain much weight or put on any flesh, although my appetite seemed good, but with using the Tablets I think my food was properly digested and turned to flesh."

AN ESSAY ON CANADIAN POETS

Miss O'Connell's Excellent Paper at the Ladies' Literary Meeting.

T. A. S. Hall Was Crowded to the Doors —Patriotic Subject Was Much Enjoyed.

Last night the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A. S. gave a patriotic evening, when an essay, by Miss O'Connel on "Canadian Paris" was read. The large assembly room of the T. A. S. Hall was packed, and that the audience enjoyed the most excellent paper presented was amply demonstrated.

The subject of the essay and the splendid manner in which it was handled by Miss O'Connel made the evening's programme not only interesting, but instructive.

This noble and beautiful work to teach by means of the best products of master minds lessons that will guide and upraise the intellect of the present generation is certainly appreciated by the large audiences who find them a source of entertainment and culture. The essay last evening was another of the many excellent papers read at the meeting of the Association.

Miss O'Connell introduced her subject by describing in beautiful language the scenic beauties of Canada, the rich material resources of our country and the corresponding greatness in the glory and renown achieved by her authors. Canadian history is a mine of richest literary material. In reason then we may look for a distinctive Canadian literature. It should likewise be good. To infuse it there is the best tradition, to produce it there is excellent stock.

It is true the beginnings of Canadian literature were very modest, very unpretentious, neither the men nor women of Canada had much time to build sonnets, plan novels, or chronicle the stirring deeds of each patriotic pioneer. The epic, may found in laying the forest giants low, the drama in the welfare of his family, and the lyric in the smile and tear of her who braved the primeval forest with him. Still poetic spirits set in the very heart of the forest sang of the varying and shifting aspects of nature.

Canada has a good number of singers who are steadily winning the heart and ear of an increasing multitude. The note of all these singers reflects the courage, the toil, the suffering the heroic deeds that illuminate our country's history.

It is not to be wondered at that the heroism of our forefathers in the forest gave soul to a spirit of heroism in Canadian poetry. The beginning of Canadian poetry lies far back in the old French annals of discovery, travel and adventure. Special reference was made to the work of Jean Tache, Pierre Chevau, Octava Cremaziz, Dr. Louis, Frechette. A worthy tribute was paid to Sir Jas. LeMoine.

Miss O'Connel then dwelt with the early Canadian poets, Chas. Sangster, the Canadian Wordsworth, in his love of nature; Alex. McLachlan, John Reade, William Kirby, Louis Murray, were taken up, their chief works described and the work these song birds of the dawn did to cheer the fireside of the pioneer on this great Northland. The younger and later Canadian poets were contrasted with the old and honoured choir. The later poets put into their poetry, more of Keats, Tennyson and Swinburne and less of Burns, Wordsworth and Scott. Charles D. Roberts was presented as a foremost type of this band; his works were dwelt upon and likewise his influence on the times. Particular attention was paid to the writings of William Telford, our own Smith Township poet, Campbell, Scott, Bliss Carmen, Rev. A. J. Lockhart, Dr. Drummond, Thomas D'Arcy McGee, Dr. Rand, Rt. Rev. Archbishop O'Brien, D. D., of Halifax, Rev. J. B. Dollard, Evan McColl, Thomas O'Hagan and many others. Then followed a glowing tribute to many of our poetesses, Mrs. Moodie, Mrs. Traill, Isabella Valancy Crawford, Agnes Maud Machar, Mrs. Sadlier, Pauline Johnson, Agnes Wetherald, Marshal Saunders, Grace Rogers, Janet Carpochan, Lily Lefevre, Kate Hayes, who have contributed a share to the upbuilding of Canadian literature.

Miss O'Connell heightened the interest in her paper by quoting some of the choicest literary gems from the several authors' works.

Miss Mamie Comar presided at the meeting and an excellent programme was prepared.

NATIONAL GAME WILL FLOURISH

Preliminary Lacrosse Meeting Last Night at T. A. S. Rooms.

Opinion Unanimously in Favor of Amalgamation of T. A. S. and Athletics— Team Will Enter in C. L. A.

Last night's meeting at the T.A.S. rooms was the nucleus from which should grow one of the most successful seasons in the history of lacrosse in Peterborough. To judge from present prospects the town can scarcely fail to have a team in which they may take a pride and which will be certain to grab a large chunk of C.L.A. honours. The meeting last night, though not largely attended, amply fulfilled the purpose for which it was intended—that of obtaining an expression of opinion from the T. A. S. and the Athletic teams as to the desirability of amalgamating the two teams for the purpose of entering a team in the junior or intermediate C. L. A. Representatives of both teams were present and in discussing the matter the expression of opinion was unanimously in favour of the proposed arrangement.

The formal organization was, of course, left till a later date, when a full meeting of the two clubs will be held.

The question as to suitable grounds was discussed in an informal manner. It was felt that not the slightest difficulty could arise in connection with this phase of the question as there are at least three excellent athletic fields which will be available under satisfactory conditions.

In the course of a short time a meeting will be held in which this organization outlined at last night's meeting will be concluded and the people of the town may look forward to a season of lacrosse equal to the best in the palmiest days of the National game in Peterborough.

ENTERTAINED SUNDAY SCHOOL SCHOLARS

Church of Christ Scientist Sunday School Members Entertained

The Sunday School of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, were given their annual treat at the home of Mrs. R. J. Todd last night. A table well filled with dainties and fruits met with appreciation and justice at the hands of the scholars. During the evening a short programme of songs, recitations and instrumentals was given, the smallest tots of the school figuring prominently in it. After a delightfully spent evening in games and other amusements, the little band dispersed greatly pleased with their treat.

HON. W. S. FIELDING'S SPEECH UPON THE AUTONOMY BILL.

further discussions which may be acted in the same direction. I find that some years afterwards, in 1894, there was a discussion in this House with regard to some amendments of the North-west Act that were proposed. I find that Mr. McCarthy, who desired that the clause should be repealed, and who was an opponent of separate schools, in a speech at that time, laid down the principle that 'if you should continue to allow that separate school clause to remain on the statute book, if you should go on year after year allowing the North-west people to possess this system of separate schools up to the moment at which they would be brought in as a Province, then they would be in a position to come to us and say it is too late for you to change the system; you must now give us the continuation of it.' Mr. McCarthy, as an opponent of separate schools, took the ground that if the Parliament of Canada wished to destroy that system it must not now wait till it undertook to create a Province." (Hear, hear.) This argument is that if you leave these Northwestern people in possession of the separate school system, if you go on year after year permitting it, encouraging it, if you allow them to pass ordinances in accordance with it, if you have these ordinances sent to Ottawa year after year, and you approve of them, and allow them to go into operation, then you are confirming the system of separate schools to those Provinces, and when the moment should arrive that these lands should pass from the status of Territories into the larger status of Provinces, it will then be too late for you to come in and say, "We will deprive you of this system of separate schools."

Sir John Thompson's Attitude.

"The leader of the Opposition, in quoting to-day from Sir John Thompson, almost gave me the impression — he will probably say that he certainly did not so intend" — that Sir John Thompson had expressed an opinion favourable to the continuance of separate schools in the Northwest Territories. Sir John Thompson, in answer to Mr. McCarthy, did state that the Parliament of Canada could give to the Northwest Territories such a constitution as it might see fit; but in doing so, Sir John Thompson used words which unmistakably show that in his mind a moral obligation would exist. Now, can anybody point out wherein I get away from the constitutional question? Can anybody point out wherein there will be a difference in the educational needs of the Northwest on July 22, 1905, as compared with the conditions on the morning of July 1 in the same year? (Cheers.) You will have passed from the status of a Territory to the status of a Province, but will that in the slightest degree alter the needs or conditions of the Northwest with respect to education? If the schools which they have are going on happily and satisfactorily on the 30th day of June in this year, 1905, what reason will there be for making any change in the legislation on the first day of July following? (Cheers.) Surely we have to admit there is the practical question of the needs of the people of the Northwest Territories, and in that respect they will not be different on the morning of the 1st day of July from their needs on the morning of the 30th day of June, 1905. (Hear, hear.)

The Conditions are Changed.

"Now, I have not been discussing the constitutional question, as my hon. friend will observe, I have been discussing entirely what I may call the practical side of the question, I hope, and I do that with the firm conviction that most of the people of this country will not bother themselves very much about the constitutional question, but they will want to get at the actual facts of this very important question. We are proposing by this legislation to confirm certain acts of the North-west Territories. We are proposing to continue certain certain legislation, to continue for a further time and forever the school system which now exists. We are met with the statement that the position of the Liberal party in that respect is different to-day from the position which it held in the case of Manitoba. We have heard that from the leader of the Opposition. I think it will have to be admitted, after a careful examination of the situation, that conditions in respect to the North-west Territories are widely and entirely different from the conditions that existed in connection with the proposed legislation for the Province of Manitoba. It was proposed by the remedial bill of 1896 to override an act of the Legislature of Manitoba, passed with the voice of the people of that Province, and as subsequently was maintained, entirely within the legislative authority of that Province. (Hear, hear.) We do not propose to override any act of any Legislature. (Cheers.) What we propose to-day is to confirm and continue for all future time a measure which the free voice of the North-west Legislature has placed upon the statute book of the Territories. (Cheers.) So that on that point there is a wide difference between the condition of affairs in respect to Manitoba and the condition of affairs in respect to the Northwest Territories.

No Protest From Territories.

"Then, again, it was said, and with some justice, that an effort was made to coerce the Province of Manitoba because it was proposed to pass an act against which the Government of Manitoba entered a solemn protest. There is no protest from the Government of the Northwest Territories against this measure. (Cheers.) I make that statement advisedly. The Premier of the Northwest Territories, an estimable gentleman, who has been taking a part in this discussion, as he properly should, had written a letter to the Prime Minister of Canada, but I am informed and believe that that letter expresses his individual opinion, and it is not authorized by the Government of the Northwest Territories. (Hear, hear.) So, in the case of Manitoba, I repeat, that proposition was to do something against which the Government of the Northwest Territories have entered no protest whatever. (Cheers.) Then there is a further consideration

Representatives Accept it.

"I suppose the people of the Northwest Territories have the best right to speak through their acknowledged representatives. I have no right to say what will be the views expressed by my friends from the Northwest Territories on the other side of the House, but it is understood—I do not state from direct communication with my friends from the Northwest Territories—but it is understood and believed that this legislation is accepted and will be supported by seven out of ten members from the Northwest. (Cheers.) Well, if there is no great matter of principle involved, and I hope to be able to show in the few remarks with which I dress to detain the House before I close, that there is no great matter of principle involved in this measure, and if seven out of ten representatives from the Northwest are satisfied that this is a good law for the people, who would dare to say that we are coercing the people of the Northwest Territories? (Cheers.) I would say, sir, that any argument which is designed to prove that we are dealing in this matter in the way of coercion is certainly unjustifiable. What is this law which we are going to affirm, to ratify and to continue in the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan? We are told that this provides for a system of separate schools.

What are Separate Schools.

"Well, a system of separate schools may mean one thing in one quarter and another in another quarter. It may be a measure a system of separate schools. That expression in the minds of many people means a great deal. I do not think I am mistaken when I say that in the minds of a great many Protestant people in the country, when you talk about separate schools, they immediately understand that you are talking about schools that come under the control of some religious body, particularly schools which come under the control of the Roman Catholic Church. That is the common idea in many quarters of separate schools. Whatever may be said as respects other countries or other provinces, it will be utterly mistaken to say that we are giving to the Northwest Territories separate schools in that sense of the word.

A National School System.

"I am going to submit to this House that the system of separate schools which we have to-day in the Northwest Territories is a national school system—(cheers)—and if it has all the elements of a national school system, then I say there is no principle involved in this discussion which would justify us in having a quarrel over it.

A Mighty Small Difference.

Mr. Fielding read the ordinances of the Northwest Territories with respect to education, and asked, amid the enthusiastic cheers of the Government supporters, "What is there, sir, in all this, to which anybody can take exception? These details constitute the essential elements of a national school system. That system prevails to-day in the Northwest Territories, and that system we propose to continue by the legislation which we have presented in the House." When the cheering permitted he continued, "Well, there is still a shadow of difference. The difference between a minority school and a majority school in the Northwest Territories is so exceedingly small, that he who would attempt to make a definition would find himself in difficulty. The difference is with respect to one-half hour's instruction in religious matters at the close of the school. (Cheers.) The school laws of the Northwest Territories provide for religious instruction, not as a matter of obligation, but they empower the trustees to authorize religious instruction within certain limits. That authority for religious instruction is not confined to separate schools; it applies to all the schools in the Territories. Then there is a further provision that all schools may be opened with the reciting of the Lord's Prayer. Does anybody object to that? I hope not. But then there is this half hour of religious education. From the hour at which these schools open in the morning up to 3.30 in the afternoon they are absolutely alike. The teachers have the same duties, the same qualifications, the same examinations, the same course of study, the same books are prescribed by the Government, the regulations are made by the Government, the inspectors appointed by the Government, there is no shadow of difference in all these schools in the Northwest Territories. (Cheers.) So it has come to this, that we differ as respects the half hour of religious instruction from 3.30 to 4 p.m. That half hour of religious instruction is not, and should not be, a cause of conflict. (Hear, hear.) Where the majority of the people and the trustees are of the Protestant faith that half hour of religious instruction will, of course, take the form of the faith of the majority; it will be Protestant religious instruction. Where the majority of the people and the trustees are Roman Catholics that half hour of religious instruction will follow the faith of the Roman Catholic majority. I am firmly persuaded that the difference is so slight that if we reach a wise decision now, if we refrain from fanning the flame of passion, if we refrain from doing or saying anything which can fan the flame of religious excitement in the Northwest Territories now, my honest conviction is that the separate schools will diminish and the free, common public schools will increase. (Loud cheers.) I am persuaded that the difference is so small that the mass of the people in the Northwest Territories will hardly find it to their advantage to keep it up, except in a few instances. Even with respect to that half-hour, it is not a matter of obligation, but if the parents of any child disapprove of that religious instruction for that half-hour the child may withdraw. There is, therefore, liberty of conscience in the highest degree. (Hear, hear.)

Will not Hurt the Children.

"I do not hesitate to say, Protestant that I am, that I do not think that half-hour of religious instruction given by a Roman Catholic teacher will hurt the children; I think that half-hour of instruction given by a Catholic teacher to Catholic children—I think that we may reasonably feel that if there is enough of it to have an influence on the life of the child it will make a boy a better citizen, a better Canadian. (Cheers.) I want the House to consider carefully is there enough in it to quarrel about, and to have public meetings and all this agitation throughout the length and breadth of the land? (No, no.) I believe that the great mass of the people to-day who are joining in petitions and holding meetings have not had time to understand this question. When the people of Canada shall discover, as they will in the light of this debate which will take place in this House now and in the next few days, that we have in the west to-day a system which is practically a national school system, and that the only point of difference between us is with respect to that small matter of a half hour of religious instruction, I think the great mass of the Protestant people of Canada will say that they regret that there has been any agitation on the subject. (Loud cheers.)

Education in Nova Scotia.

"My hon. friend, the leader of the Opposition referred to-day to the conditions of education in the Province of Nova Scotia. We are proud to-day, sir, of the national school system of that Province. We have no separate schools by law in Nova Scotia, but I say that we could not have brought about that happy condition if we had not been disposed to meet our Roman Catholic brethren in a generous spirit, with due regard to their religious convictions. (Cheers.) There is no separate school system by law in the Province of Nova Scotia, but I tell this House to-night that the principle of separate schools in the Province of Nova Scotia is more emphatically recognized than it is to-day in the Northwest Territories." (Loud cheers.) Mr. Fielding described the happy conditions under which the Roman Catholics use the public school system in Nova Scotia, and added:—"I would have this Parliament bear in mind that if we have that happy condition of things in that fair Province, if we can be spared from time to time as models of good citizenship and toleration and moderation, it is not because we have allowed principles to be carried to dangerous extremes, but it is because we have recognized the rights and the feelings, and even the prejudices of our Roman Catholic brethren. What interest has suffered? There was a little friction years ago, but there is none to-day. The sensible people of Nova Scotia have made up their minds that this is a matter in which we can please our Roman Catholic brethren without hurting ourselves, and when we can do that why should we not make an effort to do it?"

Dr. Sproule's Question.

Dr. Sproule — "Does the Minister think that the people of the Northwest Territories would be less liberal or less generous than the people of Nova Scotia?"

Mr. Fielding—"Perhaps they would not, but if forty-one per cent. of the people of Canada think that there is a danger, we might see if some compromise, some arrangement, could not be made. (Applause.) We have to-day before us, perhaps, the most important measures that have ever engaged the attention of the Parliament of Canada. They are measures which are wide reaching in their effect, whether we have regard to the interest which is manifested by the people throughout the country to-day or whether we have regard to the future welfare of this Dominion, which all, irrespective of party, are so anxious to advance. We may feel, I am sure, that these are great measures and that we should approach them with the utmost care, with the utmost deliberation, with a desire to find a happy settlement of any difference that may arise. Let us not conceal from ourselves certain facts; let us be frank with one another.

If Laurier Were Defeated.

"Let me say that the gravity of this situation is even more serious than many think. If my Right Hon. friend, the Prime Minister, is to retire from office, as he would be obliged to do if this bill were defeated, what then? Under ordinary circumstances the retirement of a Minister or the retirement of a Government, makes very little other all. The public adapt themselves to new conditions, and one Government goes out and another comes in. Party interest may suffer, but that is not the situation to-day. There are interests involved in the question which far outweigh any mere party consideration. What matters it if one Government go out and another come in? But think for a moment what would happen under the present state of affairs. Ah, some will say, what matter if the Prime Minister goes out, someone else will come in? No Government could be formed under such circumstances, which would command the confidence of the Parliament. I make that statement after due deliberation. But somebody will say, What of that? If you Liberals cannot form a Government, we Conservatives will take charge. Will you? I doubt it. I have no right to speak for my hon. friend, the leader of the Opposition, but if I know him at all I venture to remark that he would shrink from the formation of a Government in which he would be obliged to draw religious lines. As a high minded man, with due regard to the future of his country, he would shrink from the formation of a Government under which he would be obliged to exclude from office, and vote and power forty-one per cent. of the people of this Dominion. The leader of the Opposition has acknowledged to-day that there is no union among his party on that question. He chaffed the Prime Minister for a moment; he said this question was not making for the unity of the Government. May I suggest that it is not making for the unity of the Opposition?" (Cheers.)

"The leader of the Opposition acknowledged to-day — it was right that he should acknowledge it—that he and some of the men with whom he sits were not able to see eye to eye. He warned us that he spoke to-day for himself only, and that he did not presume to speak in the name of his party. What does that show us? Does it not prove that if my Right Hon. friend should be obliged to retire from office on this question, my hon. friend, the leader of the Opposition would shrink from the formation of a Government under such conditions? (Hear, hear.) The matter is too grave to permit of

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Pe-ru-na is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy—I am as Well as Ever."

HON. DAN. A. GROSVENOR, OF THE FAMOUS OHIO FAMILY.

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."—

DAN. A. GROSVENOR.

In a recent letter he says:

"I consider Peruna really more meritorious than I did when I wrote you last. I receive numerous letters from acquaintances all over the country asking me if my certificate is genuine. I invariably answer, yes."—Dan. A. Grosvenor.

A County Commissioner's Letter.

Hon. John Williams, County Commissioner, of 517 West Second street, Duluth, Minn., says the following in regard to Peruna:

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease and I feel that it is my duty to speak a good word for the tonic that brought me immediate relief. Peruna cured me of a bad case of catarrh and I know it will cure any other sufferer from that disease."—John Williams.

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. H. W. Ogden, Congressman from Louisiana, in a letter written at Washington, D. C., says the following of Peruna, the national catarrh remedy:

"I can conscientiously recommend your Peruna as a fine tonic and all around good medicine to those who are in need of a catarrh remedy. It has been commended to me by people who have used it, as a remedy particularly effective in the cure of catarrh. For those who need a good catarrh medicine I know of nothing better."

W. E. Griffith, Comona, Texas, writes: "I suffered with chronic catarrh for many years. I took Peruna and became completely cured me. I think Peruna is the best medicine in the world for catarrh. My general health is much improved by its use, as I am much stronger than I have been for years."—W. E. Griffith.

A Congressman's Letter.

Congressman H. Bowen, Rankin, Tazewell county, Va., writes:

"I can cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy, Peruna, to any one who is suffering with catarrh, and who is in need of a permanent and effective cure."—H. Bowen.

Mr. Fred. D. Scott, Lorain, Ohio, Right Guard of Hiram Foot Ball Team, writes:

"As a specific for lung trouble I place Peruna at the head. I have used it myself for colds and catarrh of the bowels, and it is a splendid remedy. It restores vitality, increases bodily strength and makes a sick person well in a short time. I give Peruna my hearty indorsement."—Fred. D. Scott.

Gen. Ira C. Abbott, 908 M street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I am fully convinced that your remedy is an excellent tonic. Many of my friends have used it with the most beneficial results for coughs, colds and catarrhal trouble."—Ira C. Abbott.

Mrs. Elmer Fleming, orator of Reservoir Council No. 23, Northwestern Legion of Honor, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes from 2026 Polk street, N.E.:

Mrs. Elmer Fleming, Minneapolis, Minn.

"I have been troubled all my life with catarrh in my head. I took Peruna for about three months, and now think I am permanently cured. I believe that for catarrh in all its forms Peruna is the medicine of the age. It cures when all other remedies fail. I can heartily recommend Peruna as a catarrh remedy."—Mrs. Elmer Fleming Treat Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the time to treat catarrh. Cold, wet winter weather often retards a cure of catarrh. If the course of Peruna is taken during the early spring months the cure will be prompt and permanent. There can be no failure if Peruna is taken intelligently during the favorable weather of spring.

As a systemic catarrh remedy Peruna eradicates catarrh from the system wherever it may be located. It cures catarrh of the stomach or bowels with the same certainty as catarrh of the head.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

W. S. FIELDING'S SPEECH ON THE AUTONOMY BILL.

A Broad-Minded Plea for Mutual Tolerance--The Question of Moral Obligation Considered--The Practical Side of the Question Dealt With--No Parallel Between Northwest Territories and Manitoba---Northwest Territories Government Enters No Protest--Present Northwest Separate Schools Practically National Schools.

The following is the report of the speech of Hon. W. S. Fielding, delivered in the debate on the second reading of the North-west Autonomy Bill:—

Hon. W. S. Fielding was accorded an enthusiastic reception when he rose at 10 o'clock to make his first important speech of the session. He began by pointing out that the motion which Mr. Borden moved to amend was that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, that the bill "be now read a second time." Mr. Borden moved that all the words after the word "that" be struck out and to express a pious opinion on one portion of the bill. (Ministerial hear, hear.) "It seems to me," Mr. Fielding went on, "that after you have struck out all the words of the 'motion, 'that the bill be now read a second time,' there is no bill left. (Ministerial cheers.) It is certainly not the usual method whereby anybody wishes to move an amendment. If an hon. member regards the main purpose of a bill, whatever, he may be pleased to consider its main purpose, with favour and disapproves of some minor part of it, his obvious duty is to support the second reading of that bill, and when in committee we reach the clause to which he objects, then is the proper moment to move that the clause be struck out and something else be substituted. I think the method of my hon. friend is a mistaken one: however, I do not attach much importance to that, and I prefer to proceed with the discussion. I need hardly say, sir, that I do not rise with the purpose of following my hon. friend in the very lengthy argument he has addressed to this House on what he is pleased to regard as the constitutional questions involved in the consideration of this measure. If I felt as he appears to feel that the constitutional questions involved were the overshadowing questions, I need hardly say that I would not presume to address the House at this moment, but I would leave the question to be dealt with by hon. members of the legal profession, who are supposed to understand such matters better than those of us who are laymen. But it is because I do not agree with my hon. friend, that the constitutional question is the overshadowing question, that I venture to discuss the matter at the present stage. I do not believe the people of Canada will consent that any one of us shall shelter himself behind the fence of an alleged constitutional question. This school question is a vexed question, a troublesome question. We can all say with the fullest sincerity that it is a misfortune that we have to deal with it.

What the People Expect.

"But once we have it here my belief is that our constituents, the people of Canada, will expect us not to evade, but to meet it fairly, boldly, and discuss it openly, and discuss it in a generous spirit and endeavour to find some solution of the difficult problem. I do not agree with my hon. friend that we are not called upon to discuss the question of separate schools or common schools. I believe that the people of the Dominion to-day are not going to have their minds engaged with an elaborate analysis of constitutional questions which one out of ten of them will never read and which the whole ten will fail to understand. I believe that the people in Canada, since this unpleasant question is brought before us, will expect us to meet it plainly and openly and discuss it with the purpose of finding a happy solution. So I put aside the constitutional question, not for a moment undervaluing it."

Mr. R. L. Borden — The Right Hon. the First Minister, did not put it aside.

Mr. Fielding — The First Minister did not discuss it in the sense that was attributed to him by the hon. gentleman. (Voices—No.)

"I do not propose to go into that constitutional question, not because I say it should not receive any consideration, but because I say it is not the great question involved, and I prefer to go on and deal with the practical questions which are before us. If it is a constitutional question, above all others, then perhaps the best thing we can do will be to request the legal members of this House to adjourn to the Railway Committee room and thrash it out, while we who have not the good fortune to belong to that learned profession, will stay down here and discuss the practical question involved, or proceed with the ordinary business of the House. (Hear, hear.) But, if it is the case that there are questions other than the constitutional questions, and greater than the constitutional question involved, those are the matters that I may venture to proceed to discuss at least before this House."
